*—Inches and hundredths. †—Highest yesterday, lowest last night. ‡—Not included in the averages.

NOTE—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitations from the number of stations reporting 0.10 or more.

General summary, received from Chicago: Well distributed rains light to heavy over Missouri Valley from Yankton almost to St. Louis reaching east to Central Iowa and northward over Eastern South Dakota. Few unimportant showers elsewhere; heaviest by states, 1.10 inches at Omaha, Neb., .10 at Horton and Emporia, Kan., .74 at Jefferson City, Mo., .36 at Yankton, S. D and .26 at Lamoni, Iowa.

The temperature has continued to rise quite generally west of the Mississippi except in Western Montana, readings in those sections ranging from 1 deg. to 11 deg. above seasonal normal, east of Mississippi about normal.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, April 18.—Uneasiness regarding the submarine issue with Germany led to fresh breaks today in the price of wheat. Besides, the Liverpool market was reported to be tending downward, influenced by free offerings from Canada. Word was at hand also that Kansas farmers were showing no disposition to retain holdings and that for the next sixty days receipts at Kansas City would far exceed last year's figures. The opening, which ranged from ⅜c to ⅞c down with May at $1.13⅝ and July at $1.12¾, was followed by a brief rally, but then the market sank lower than before.

Subsequently reports that Germany would meet the wishes of the United States in the Sussex case helped to bring about sharp upturns. The close was firm, ⅛@⅝c net higher, with May at $1.14⅝@1.14½ and July at $1.14¼.

Corn showed relative steadiness in the face of the wheat declines. Cash interests were active buyers. After opening ⅛c off to ⅛c up, the market hardened a little, and then seased back.

Country offerings remained small,; seaboard demand and receipts light. The close was firm at ⅛@⅝c net advance.

Oats were governed by corn. Price changes were narrow and the volume of trading only fair.

Lack of support weakened provisions. Plentiful receipts of hogs throughout the west seemed to retard buying.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.1-9¼@1.20½; No. 3 red, $1.10@1.16¾; No. 2 hard, $1.11@1.12¾.

Rye, No. 2, 97½c; barley, 62@76c; timothy, $4.50@8.00; clover, $10.00@18.50.

COPPER SOARS TO RECORD PRICE

Metal Sales Reported at 30½ Cents—Highest Price in Years.

The market in mining stocks at Boston marked time today pending Mexican and German developments. Trading was the lightest in several days and price changes were fractional.

A feature in the day was the report that the Lake Copper company had sold 100,000 pounds of copper at 30½ cents, the highest figure reached in several years.

United States mining was the most active stock in the list. It sold $1.38 up at $73.38. American Zinc sold around the close 25 cents off at $92.75; Butte & Superior, 50 cents up at $93; Calumet & Arizona, 50 cents up at $73.75; Keweenaw, 62 cents up at $6.87; and North Butte fractionally up at $27.75.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from New York: "Demand for copper has taken a spurt and its activity now rivals the activity seen at any time since this buying movement began several weeks ago. Consumers are beseiging producers with bids for early and distant deliveries and as a result of the insistent demand producers are inclined to proceed slowly in regard to commitments."

* * *

Cactus Cons. attracted fair inquiry on the New York curb market today. Trading was reported in it $2.50@2.75.

* * *

London metal market: Spot copper closed up £1; futures up £1; electrolytic, up £1; tin, quiet, spot off £1; lead quiet, unchanged, and spelter firm, up £1.

* * *

Directors of American Lead & Zinc company declared a stock dividend of 50 per cent today.

London Stocks.

London, April 18.—The stock market had a cheerful tone today. American securities were neglected but the closing was steady. Money was in fair supply and discount rates were steady.

DECLINES IN SPECIALTIES

New York, April 18.—Free selling of specialties was again the chief feature of today's early trading, with 1 to 2 point declines in Crucible Steel, Baldwin and American Locomotives, Westinghouse, Mexican Petroleum, Studebaker and Industrial Alcohol. Mercantile Marines were active and strong as a result of the latest statement of the company's earnings but even those issues soon reacted. New Haven yielded a point with trivial operations in other rails, although Norfolk & Western rose 1¼. Sale of one block of $417,000 Anglo-French 5s at 95, a fractional recession, featured the bond market.

The international problem confronting the country continued to exert a restraining influence on the stock market today, advices from Mexico conveying intimations of fresh complications in that quarter. Nevertheless, most specialties made up a large part of their declines, the firmness of rails, especially coalers, imparting some confidence. Trading in Marines once more overshadowed all other shares, but the munitions group, Mexican Petroleum and United States Steel also were fairly active. A few obscure industrials were materially lower on light offerings. Extensive selling of Anglo-French 5s caused moderate irregularity in bonds.

Trade dwindled to slender proportions in the afternoon, coppers being almost the sole features at moderate advances. Rails held their gains, but specialties receded again under pressure.

Further heaviness in war stocks and strength in shipping issues were the opposing features of the final hour. The closing was irregular.

B. & S. EARNINGS ARE ENORMOUS

Gross Receipts Increase From $3,238,414 to $12,087,117.

Earnings equal to $33.47 a share were reported by the Butte & Superior Copper company for the year ended Dec. 31 last. A gross revenue of $12,087,117 was shown, compared with only $3,238,414 in the previous year. Expenses came to $3,012,964, as compared with $1,845,502 in 1914. The total net income was $9,125,947, as compared with $1,417,127 in the preceding twelve months. Dividends aggregating $4,908,115 were disbursed to stockholders during the year, as against $611,909 in 1914.

At the end of the year the company had a cash surplus of $2,128,186 on hand. It besides held investments valued at $574,295, and had shipments of ore in transit amounting to $2,908,802 in value.

Butte & Superior's position is said to have been still further improved since the beginning of the year, as a result of the higher prices realized for zinc. Its metal output for March is reported to have been the heaviest in its history.

Fire Loss of $50,000.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 18.—An explosion of unknown cause in the Heidelburg plant of the Aetna Chemical company, which has been filling war orders, today was followed by a fire which destroyed two buildings causing a $50,000 loss.

Delaware Democrats Meet.

Dover, Del., April 18.—The Democratic state convention met here today to select six delegates to the national convention of the party and six alternates. United States Senator Willard Saulsbury is a candidate for re-election as national committeeman.

NO DECREASE IN DEMAND FOR COPPER

Copper metal for April delivery was sold yesterday in New York at 29½ cents a pound, and 30 cents was asked by producers during the late trading. For May delivery copper, 29 cents is being paid whenever it can be obtained, and even June metal is being held at 29 cents.

This situation is accepted as evidence of the extraordinary current demand for copper and the shortage of supplies in spite of productions of mines in the Lake Superior district, Montana and Arizona being the heaviest in the history of the industry.

The advancing prices instead of acting as a brake on the buying are apparently stimulating the demand, consumers offering contracts calling for monthly deliveries of round blocks up to the first of next year, according to reports. Much business is being rejected by the leading selling agencies in an effort to satisfy their regular customers.

"Copper producers will soon be in the same position as steel manufacturers," said the head of one of the large agencies in the course of a recent interview in New York, "with their capacity for the balance of the year booked. We could close our books now; refuse to sell another pound of copper in 1916, and still report the largest volume of business in the history of our company."

COTTON IN DEMAND.

Prices Advancing Steadily With Record Orders Being Placed.

With record orders being placed by the mills in the New England states, cotton prices have been advancing lately despite the curtailment that has come about in exports in consequence of scarcity of ocean steamer tonnage and decreased buying by England and France.

Reports from the South all indicate that there is going to be a very large cotton acreage planted this spring. Oklahoma will probably show the greatest increase, but there will be very large increases in Texas and Arkansas, while every state east of the Mississippi river will plant a great deal more land to cotton this spring than it did last season. Some of the more prosperous planters who expect to raise a large crop this season, are saying that if prices do not suit them, they will carry their cotton until the end of the war, when they believe it will bring a fancy price. It is the confidence of the South in its ability to finance its crop and to market it as it sees fit, that is encouraging heavy planting.

Just how a large crop this year would affect prices depends in a large measure upon European conditions, experts say. If there should be a prospect of peace next fall, this would stiffen the cotton market very materially. The American public is thought to feel friendly to cotton and the North is just as ready to bull it any time there is a chance to do so as is the South.

To Investigate Wreck.

Washington, April 18.—F. A. Howard and J. P. McArdle, agents of the interstate commerce commission, have been ordered from their stations at Springfield and Worcester, Mass., to Bradford, R. I., to investigate last night's wreck on the New Haven railroad.

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF REDEMPTION—

To Geo. N. Bissell:

You are hereby notified that the following described piece or parcel of land, situated in the county of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and known and described as follows, to-wit: The Northeast quarter of the Northwest quarter, Section twenty-one, Township fifty-nine, Range fifteen, according to the government survey thereof, is now assessed in your name; that on the 9th day of May, A. D. 1910, at the sale of land pursuant to the Real Estate Tax Judgment, duly given and made in and by the district court in and for said county of St. Louis, on the 25th day of March, A. D. 1910, in proceedings to enforce the payment of taxes delinquent upon real estate for the year 1908 for the said county of St. Louis, the above described piece or parcel of land was bid in for the state for the sum of two and 2-100 dollars; that on the 4th day of August, A. D. 1910, the said piece or parcel of land not having been redeemed, the county auditor, according to the statutes in such cases provided, assigned and conveyed the same and all the rights of the state, therein acquired at such sale, for the sum of two and 8-100 dollars; that the amount required to redeem said piece or parcel of land from said sale, exclusive of the costs to accrue upon this notice, is the said sum of two and 8-100 dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, as provided by law, from said 4th day of August, A. D. 1910, to the day such redemption is made; that the tax certificate issued upon said assignment has been presented to me by the holder thereof, and the time for redemption of said piece or parcel of land from said sale will expire sixty (60) days after the service of this notice and proof thereof has been filed in my office.

Witness my hand and official seal this 18th day of April, A. D. 1916.

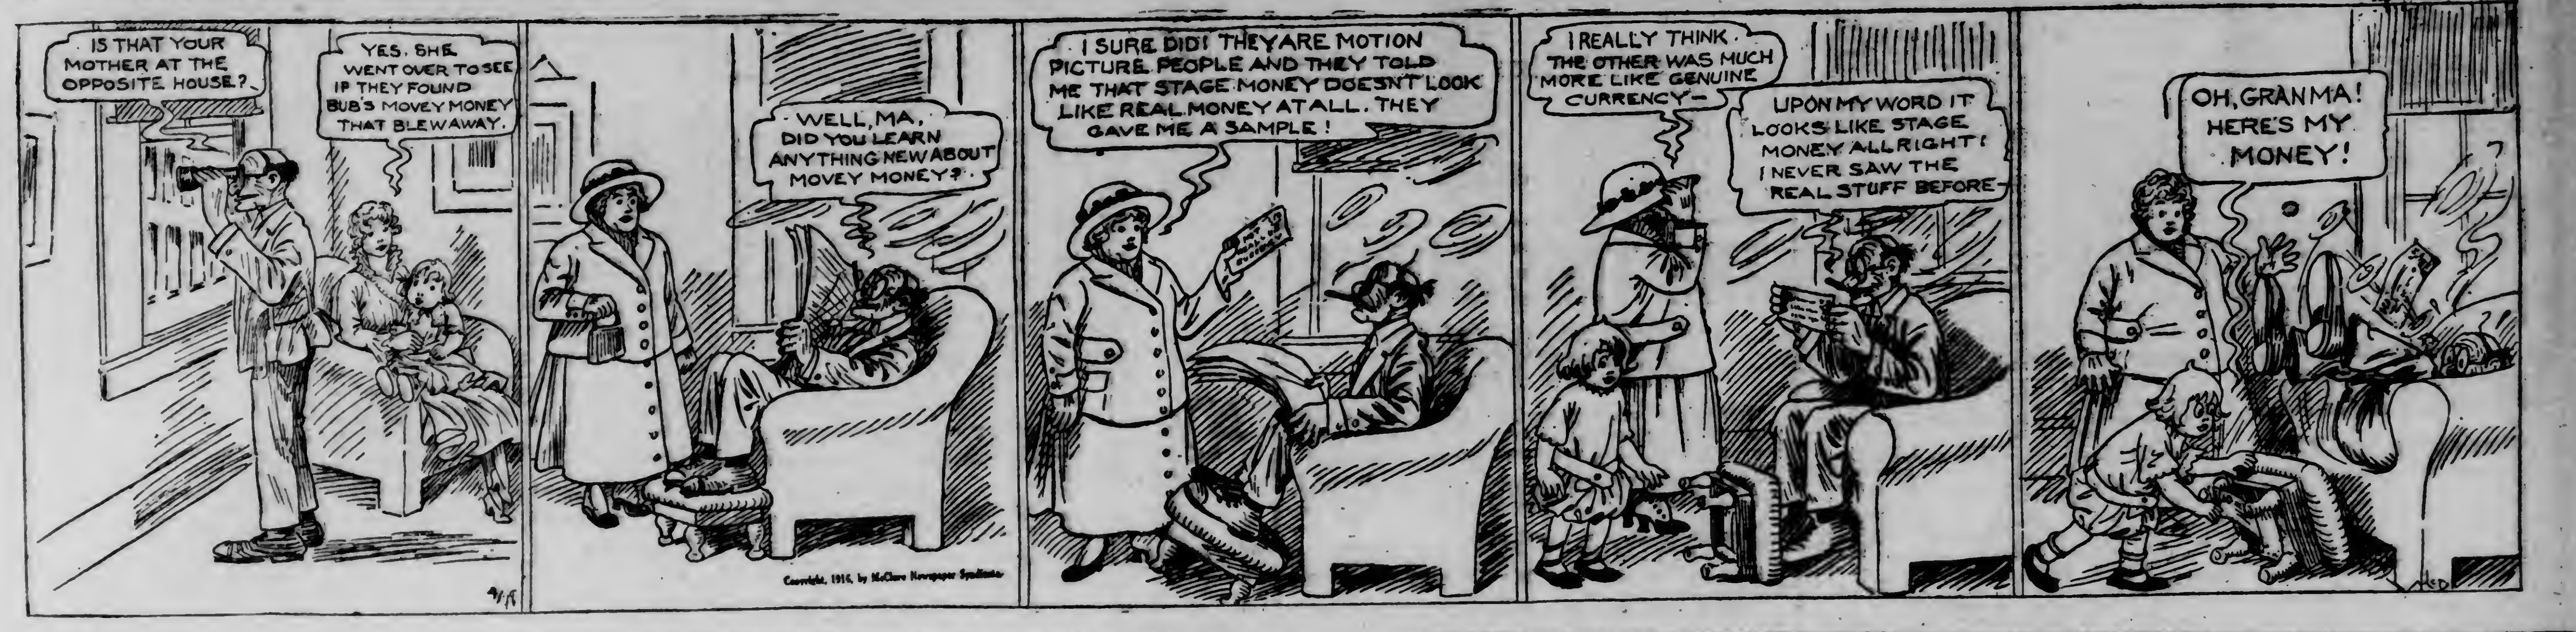
ABSENT-MINDED ABNER—That Money Is Going to Move Now All Right

By Walt McDougall



IS THAT YOUR MOTHER AT THE OPPOSITE HOUSE?
YES, SHE WENT OVER TO SEE IF THEY FOUND BUB'S MOVEY MONEY THAT BLEW AWAY.
WELL, MA, DID YOU LEARN ANYTHING NEW ABOUT MOVEY MONEY?
I SURE DID! THEY ARE MOTION PICTURE PEOPLE AND THEY TOLD ME THAT STAGE MONEY DOESN'T LOOK LIKE REAL MONEY AT ALL. THEY GAVE ME A SAMPLE!
I REALLY THINK THE OTHER WAS MUCH MORE LIKE GENUINE CURRENCY—
OH, GRANMA! HERE'S MY MONEY!

LAST WORD TO BERLIN

OFFICIALS WILL HOLD PAPERS

Neither Will Prosecution of Former Secretary Be Dropped.

New York, April 19.—The papers seized by Federal agents yesterday in the office of Wolfe von Igel, former secretary of Capt. Franz von Papen, recalled German military attache, will not be restored, neither will the prosecution of von Igel for his alleged participation in the Welland canal plot be dropped, Assistant Attorney Roger B. Wood said today.

Mr. Wood announced that he had received instructions from Washington to proceed with the case just as if no protest had been made.

Von Bernstorff Calls.

Washington, April 19.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, conferred with Secretary Lansing at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The engagement was made at the ambassador's request.

It was revealed that the ambassador went to the state department not to discuss the submarine situation, but to make a further formal demand for the return of papers which department of justice agents seized from Wolff von Igel, private secretary to Capt. von Papen, the withdrawn military attache, in New York yesterday.

The department of justice has practically decided to hold von Igel unless the state department specifically demands his release, on the ground that the crime with which he is chargee was committed a year before he became a diplomatic agent.

After a 15-minute conference with Secretary Lansing, Ambassador Bernstorff said:

"I really only called to discuss the von Igel affair and there is nothing to be said about it."

That was the only comment the ambassador would make.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR GERMAN PIRATE

Schiller Who Captured British Ship Given Severe Sentence for His Act.

Wilmington, Del., April 19.—Ernst Schiller, who forcibly took possession of the British steamer Matopho off Sandy Hook on March 29, terrorized the crew and compelled the captain to change the ship's course, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the United States district court here late yesterday. He will be taken to the Federal prison at Atlanta in a few days.

Schiller pleaded guilty to the charge of piracy. In a statement he denied that his motive was robbery. He declared that he had seized the Matopho, believing she carried munitions of war for the allies, "for the cause of Germany."

THREE EXPLOSIONS DESTROY STEAMER

London, April 19.—A Lloyds dispatch from Lisbon says the Norwegian steamship Terje Viken sank on Monday in Cascae bay, fifteen miles west of Lisbon, after three explosions on board the vessel. The crew was saved.

The Terje Viken sailed on March 16 from Galveston for Lisbon. She was 335 feet long, 3,579 tons gross, was built in Newcastle in 1903 and owned in Tonsberg.

MAY BREAK UP GOVERNMENT

Disagreement Still Continues in the English Cabinet.

Believed That Asquith Will Weather Storm as Usual.

London, April 19.—In the house of commons today Premier Asquith stated that there were still some material points of disagreement in the cabinet and if they were not settled the result must be the breakup of the government.

Interest in today's session of the house of commons was as keen as ever. Despite overnight rumors of a compromise or a patched-up truce which would temporarily avoid cabinet resignations freely predicted yesterday, political tension was still acute pending Premier Asquith's

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS GERMANY HAS TREATED LAW OF NATIONS WITH CONTEMPT

German Government Has Given Solemn Assurances Which It Has Permitted Its Under-Sea Commanders to Disregard With Entire Impunity.

Washington, April 19.—President Wilson's address to congress in joint session this afternoon was as follows:

"Gentlemen of the congress: A situation has arisen in the foreign relations of the country of which it is my plain duty to inform you very frankly.

"It will be recalled that in February, 1915, the imperial German government announced its intention to treat the waters surrounding Great Britain and Ireland as embraced within the seat of war, and to destroy all merchant ships owned by its enemies that might be found within any part of that portion of the high seas, and that it warned all vessels of neutrals as well as of belligerent ownership to keep out of the waters it had thus prescribed or else enter them at their peril.

PROTEST MADE BY UNITED STATES.

"The government of the United States earnestly protested. It took the position that such a policy could not be pursued without the practical certainty of gross and palpable violation of the law of nations, particularly if submarine craft were to be employed as its instruments, inasmuch as the rules prescribed by that law, rules founded upon principles of humanity and established for the protection of the lives of non-combatants at sea, could not in the nature of the case be observed by such vessels. It based its protest on the ground that persons of neutral nationality and vessels of neutral ownership would be exposed to extreme and intolerable risks and that no right to close any part of the high seas against their use or to expose them to such risks could lawfully be asserted by any belligerent government.

LONG ESTABLISHED LAW OF NATIONS.

"The law of nations in these matters, upon which the government of the United States based its protest is not of recent origin or founded upon merely arbitrary principles set up by convention. It is based, on the contrary, upon manifest and imperative principles of humanity and has long been established with the approval and by the express assent of all civilized nations.

"Notwithstanding the earnest protest of our government, the imperial German government at once proceeded to carry out the policy it had announced. It expressed the hope that the dangers involved, at any rate the dangers to neutral vessels, would be reduced to a minimum by the instructions which it had issued to its submarine commanders, and assured the government of the United States that it would take every possible precaution both to respect the rights of neutrals and to safeguard the lives of non-combatants.

HOPES WERE NOT JUSTIFIED.

"What has actually happened in the year which has since elapsed has shown that those hopes were not justified, those assurances insusceptible of being fulfilled. In pursuance of the policy of submarine warfare against the commerce of its adversaries, thus announced and entered upon by the imperial German government, in spite of the solemn protest of this goverment, the commanders of German under-sea vessels have attacked merchant ships with greater and greater activity, not only upon the high seas surrounding Great Britain and Ireland, but wherever they could encounter them, in a way that has grown more and more ruthless, more and more indiscriminate as the months have gone by, less and less observant of restraints of any kind; and have delivered their attacks without compunction against vessels of every nationality and bound upon every sort of errand.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS TRAGEDY.

"Vessels of neutral ownership, even vessels of neutral ownership bound from neutral port to neutral port, have been destroyed along with vessels of belligerent ownership in constantly increasing numbers. Sometimes the merchantmen attacked had been warned and summoned to surrender before being fired on or torpedoed; sometimes passengers or crews have been vouchsafed the poor security of being allowed to take to the ship's boats before she was sent to the bottom. But again and again no warning has been given, no escape even to the ship's boats allowed to those on board. What this government foresaw must happen has happened. Tragedy has followed tragedy on the seas in such fashion, with such attendant circumstances, as to make it grossly evident that warfare of such a sort, if warfare it be, cannot be carried on without the most palpable violation of the dictates alike of right and humanity. Whatever the disposition and intention of the imperial German government, it has manifestly proved impossible for it to keep such methods of attack upon the commerce of its enemies within the bounds set by either the reason or the heart of mankind.

ATTACKS ON ARMED MERCHANTMEN.

"In February of the present year, the imperial German government informed this government and the other neutral governments of the world that it had reason to believe that the government of Great Britain had armed all merchant vessels of British ownership and had given them secret orders to attack any submarine of the enemy they might encounter upon the seas, and that the imperial German government felt justified in the circumstances in treating all merchantmen of belligerent ownership as auxiliary vessels of war, which it would have the right to destroy without warning. . . .

"The law of nations has long recognized the right of merchantmen to carry arms for protection and to use them to repel attack, though to use them in such circumstances, at their own risk; but the imperial German government claimed the right to set these understandings aside under circumstances which it deemed extraordinary. Even the terms in which it announced its purpose thus still further to relax the restraints it had previously protested its willingness and desire to put upon the operations of its submarines carried the plain implication that at least vessels which were not armed would still be exempt from destruction without warning and that personal safety would be accorded their passengers and crews; but even that limitation, if it was ever practicable to observe it, has in fact constituted no check at all upon the destruction of ships of every sort.

PASSENGER SHIPS ATTACKED.

"Again and again the imperial German government has given this government its solemn assurances that at least passenger ships

NEBRASKANS ARE FOR FORD

Blackwater State Republicans Give Manufacturer Preference for President.

Bryan's Candidates for Governor and Senator Are Defeated.

Omaha, Neb., April 19.—Henry Ford has received the preferential vote for president of Nebraska Republicans according to the returns received up to noon today, with Cummins and Hughes following and nearly tied. All of the men elected as delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention personally favor Hughes. Returns today indicate these nominations.

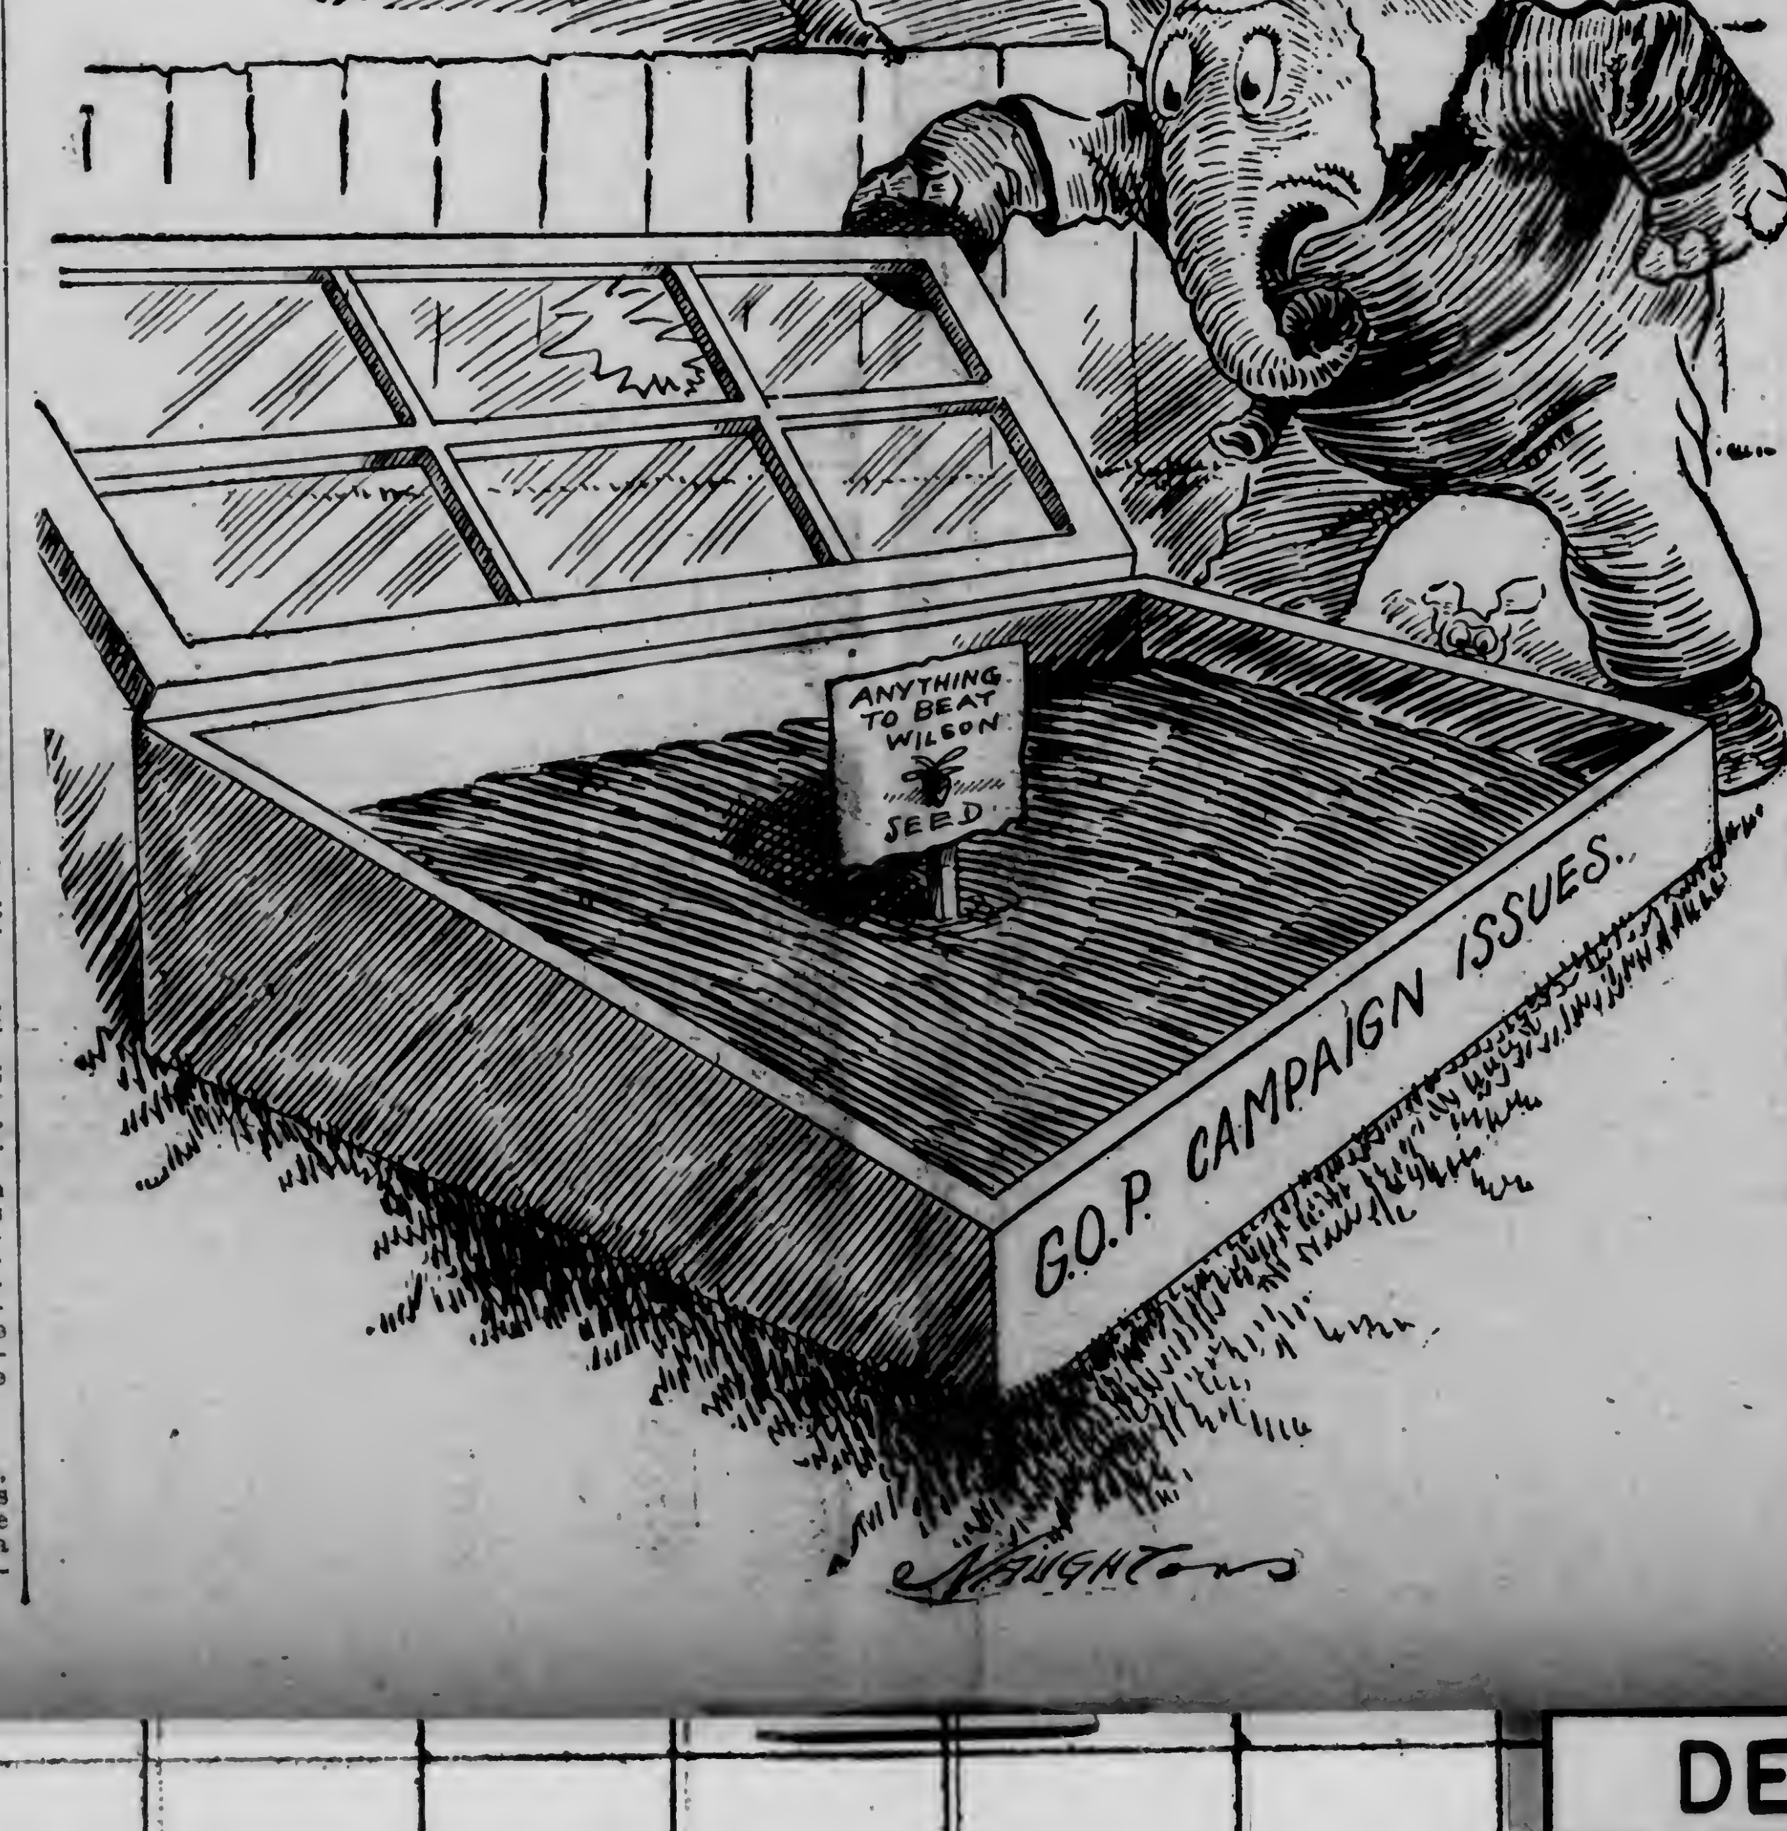
The entrance of William J. Bryan into the campaign on behalf of his brother, Mayor C. W. Bryan of Lincoln, for the gubernatorial nomination, and the former secretary's opposition to the renomination of Senator Hitchcock was a feature of the campaign. Mr. Bryan was also a candidate for delegate at large to the Democratic national convention.

Protest to Allies.

Athens, Greece, April 18, via Paris, April 19.—The Greek government has made a formal protest to the Entente allies against the establishment of a naval base in Suda bay, on the northern coast of Crete.

A HOTBED THAT'S A FAILURE.



ULTIMATUM SENT TO GERMANY BY THE PRESIDENT

Washington, April 19.—President Wilson told congress, assembled in joint session shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, that he had given Germany irrevocable notification that the United States will break off diplomatic relations if her illegal submarine campaign is continued.

A note, America's last word, practically an ultimatum, and demanding an immediate reply, presumably was in the Berlin foreign office as the president was speaking. It was dispatched last night in accordance with the president's plan to have it before the German government at the same moment he was addressing the American congress.

ASKS NO ACTION OF CONGRESS.

The president asked no action whatever of congress. He simply informed it of the accumulation of facts proving that Germany's assurances to the United States are being violated; that the submarine campaign, despite the earnest protests of the United States, is being conducted with renewed vigor in contravention of all the laws of nations and humanity and that he means to sever relations unless it is brought within the law. Diplomatic history of the world shows that such a course is almost certain to be followed by war.

The president's note and his address to congress are final. They mark the end of diplomatic exchanges. A continuance of the long-standing friendly relations, the president made clear, depends alone upon Germany's conduct.

"I have deemed it my duty therefore," the president told congress, "to say to the imperial German government, that if it is still its purpose to prosecute relentless and indiscriminate warfare * * * the government of the United States is at least forced to the conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue; and that unless the imperial German government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels, this government can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations altogether."

President in Conference.

As a preliminary to laying the whole submarine situation before congress at a joint session at 1 o'clock this afternoon President Wilson conferred at 10 o'clock this morning with Chairmen Stone and Flood of the congressional committees dealing with foreign affairs and with Senator Lodge and Representative Cooper, the ranking Republican members of those committees.

The visit of the committee leaders to the White House was regarded as surrounded with possibilities of gravest importance. They have repeatedly been assured by the White House that they would be consulted by the president before he took any drastic step, such

FUTURE POLICY OF U. S. IN MEXICO DEPENDS ON REPORT BY GEN. SCOTT

Chief of Staff Goes to Border at Request of Secretary Baker.

Washington, April 19.—Maj.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, will go to San Antonio, Tex., tonight by order of Secretary Baker in order to get accurate information as to the situation on the border and in Mexico.

Secretary Baker issued this statement:

"Gen. Scott leaves for San Antonio this evening at 6:15 at my request. He will spend several days with Gen. Funston and return. This trip is made solely for the purpose of getting as accurate information as is possible for the use of the department. Gen.

Will Not Displace Gen. Funston in Command of Troops.

Funston remains in full charge of the affairs of his department, including the expedition into Mexico. He has the full confidence of the department and his dispositions have the department's entire approval."

Secretary Baker would not discuss Gen. Scott's mission beyond his formal statement. It was assumed, however, that his report after conference with Gen. Funston will go far toward determining the course to be pursued in Mexico.

Funston Would Shift Headquarters.

It is known that Gen. Funston has been urging the department that he be

The Musical Sensation of the Season

FROM the greatest of operatic arias to the simplest English ballads, Louis Graveure displays an amazing gift of interpretation. Never before has such clarion power and vocal abandon been heard as in Graveure's singing of the "Pagliacci" Prologue, nor such tenderness of tone expressed as in his rendering of "Mary," Richardson's famous ballad.

With the new records by Godowsky, the poet-genius of the piano, and the latest recordings of dainty, vivacious Maggie Teyte,

RECRUITS IN BIG DEMAND

Uncle Sam Wants Men for Army, Navy and the Marines.

Special Bid for Naval Militia Men—Close Watch for Grafters.

Uncle Sam is making a strong bid just now for men to serve in the army, navy and marine service, and the sudden change in the situation with Germany, together with the Mexican trouble, has brought many men to all three offices. Many simply come and ask questions and get circulars while others want an examination at once, preparatory to enlistment.

Grafters Warned.

All recruiting officers are paying special attention to see that no grafters are passed. The officers say that in times like these when the government is especially desirous of getting men, that grafters will come in and offer their services to the government in hope of securing a few days' board and lodging and some new clothes. After such men have been passed and get mileage to some other city, they desert. In many cases the government has caught these offenders, and Sergeant Smeeds of the army recruiting station said today that the United States gave one of these deserters a sentence of fifteen years. This, however, was after the offender had committed the same act fourteen times at various stations. In many cases jail sentences are given.

Sergt. Frank J. Buck of the marines, with headquarters at the Cliff hotel, West Superior street, said today that he was making a special effort to enlist naval militia men and get in touch with young physicians and surgeons who would be willing to enter the service. Yesterday afternoon Sergeant Buck received a letter from an out-of-town doctor asking information regarding the service. Such letters are turned over to the marine surgeon.

After Naval Militia.

Two naval militia men from Superior were taken into the marines here yesterday, and it is expected that a number of Duluth men will offer their services in case the situation becomes more serious. Special inducements are offered militia men in the marine service. The marines are scattered in many parts of the United States and in the possessions and non-commissioned officers are needed in large numbers. Militiamen will be favored in the conferring of these positions.

The local army recruiting office is expecting two more assistants in the near future, making four in all. Sergeant Smeeds said today that large numbers of men were asking for information.

ARE CHECKING UP JITNEYS

Police Begin Enforcing Ordinance Against Unlicensed Drivers.

One arrest and a score of "near arrests" resulted today when police began enforcing Commissioner Silberstein's jitney ordinance.

Esa Harrison, 32, the lone man to be arrested, was released later by Police Sergeant John Englert, who was assigned to the task of checking up the jitneys by Acting-Chief A. G. Fiskett.

Last night, although scores of jitney buses were operating on Superior street, City Clerk Walter Borgen's records showed the name of but one man who was authorized to drive a bus. He was C. J. Hawley, and his license will expire May 1.

When the ordinance was enforced last summer, about fifteen drivers took out liability bonds and purchased a license from the city to operate. All but one of these licenses have expired, according to Mr. Borgen, and must be renewed.

Two or three drivers made application for licenses today, when police began checking up, and displayed bonds which they had purchased from the National Indemnity company. They were given letters certifying that they had made application for a license.

"All I can do is to tell the police that these men are making an effort to conform to the ordinance," said Mr. Borgen. "If the officers want to accept my note as a temporary O. K., all right."

"We do not want to do anybody an injustice," said Commissioner Silberstein, "but it is up to this department to protect the public, and that is what we are going to do. The jitneurs have had sufficient warning, and must obey the law or get off the streets."

WANTS $500 DAMAGES FOR HUMILIATION

Harry Yumanlata, cashier, was too busy to notice that Randle's friend paid both checks.

All of which explains why Yumanlata and his employer, Sing Yang, are defendants today in a $500 damage suit begun by Randle today in municipal court.

Randle charges that when he started to leave the restaurant the ambitious cashier grabbed a silk handkerchief from his pocket.

"I'll hold this for security until you pay for your meal," Yumanlata is alleged to have stated.

Randle didn't fancy being accused of trying to beat the restaurant out of his meal and he wants $500 damages for the humiliation he experienced.

M. E. Louisell is attorney for Randle.

VACATION DAYS NEAR

Rural Schools of St. Louis County Will Close Next Week.

Vacation days are near at hand for the school children of the rural districts of St. Louis county.

Those of the rural schools which began their terms on Monday, Aug. 31, 1915, and which lost two weeks' time during the Christmas holiday period, will close their doors next Friday, April 21. This is the case with about 75 per cent of the country schools. In the county or unorganized district alone about 115 teachers will wind up their work for the term this week.

Very few of the country schools have more than an eight-months term and the majority of them will close for summer vacation this week. In cases where the school term did not begin until the first Monday in September, 1915, the school term will not close until April 28.

Hiring Teachers.

N. A. Young, county superintendent of schools, is now hiring teachers for rural and semi-graded schools in the county district for the fall term. Teachers who wish to secure these positions should write to him for an application blank. Lists of probable vacancies will not be furnished, but an effort is being made to encourage all teachers to enroll in the teachers' agency, which has been organized in Mr. Young's office.

"Our main purpose in conducting this agency," said Mr. Young, "is to secure better teachers for our rural schools. However, teachers desiring positions in graded schools may also enroll. Each year we have calls for teachers of graded schools, but almost all the positions which we fill are in the semi-graded and rural schools. Before asking for an application blank, the applicant should hold a Minnesota teacher's certificate or be reasonably certain that he or she will secure one before September."

GOOD FRIDAY TO BE HOLIDAY

Banks and Public Buildings Will Be Closed All Day.

April 21 being Good Friday and a legal holiday, it will be generally observed as such throughout the city. Although many places of business will undoubtedly remain open, the banks and public buildings will be closed.

The central and branch postoffices have arranged a special schedule for the delivery and collection of mail and window service during the day. At the West Duluth station the money order and postal savings windows will be closed all day, the registry window will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 m., the stamp window will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 m., and from 5 to 6 p. m., and two carrier deliveries of mail will be made in the business district and one in the residence section.

At the main and other branch stations the money order and postal savings windows will be closed all day, the registry and general delivery windows will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 m., the stamp windows will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 m. and from 4 to 6 p. m., and two carrier deliveries of mail will be made in the business and one in the residence sections.

A special holiday schedule for the libraries of the city has also been arranged. The circulation department of both the main and branch offices will be closed all day. The only department that will be open at all in any of the libraries will be the main reading rooms, these to be open from 2 to 9 p. m.

All of the banks of the city will, as usual, be closed, as will most of the larger business houses.

CHILD'S PRATTLE IS CAUSE OF HIS ARREST

James O'Meara, 28, is so apt a penman that he wrote himself into a peck of trouble.

At least four bad checks were credited to him by police when Detectives Roberg and Barber visited his rooms at the Kaiserhof hotel, Lake avenue and Superior street, Monday, and took him to headquarters.

Two for $20, one for $10 and one for $15, have been found by the detectives, and O'Meara faces a forty-five day sentence at the work farm, because he has been unable, so far, to pay a $42 fine.

"Papa's got some money and he is going away," said O'Meara's little daughter to the proprietor of the hotel, and that was what aroused the suspicion of authorities. The proprietor investigated, found that he had been given a $15 check which was worthless, and telephoned detectives.

I. W. W. AGITATORS INVADING DULUTH

Believed They Will Try to Make Trouble Among Seamen.

Several members of the I. W. W., who are said to have been associated with leaders of labor troubles at Youngstown, Pa., on the Pacific coast and in Eastern cities, are reported to be in Duluth. According to a leading employer of labor in the city there are now about twenty of these agitators here.

"These people are not here for any good," he said. "Some of them were recently mixed up with the agitation and labor trouble at Youngstown."

It is the opinion of employers that these I. W. W. leaders are here for the purpose of making trouble at the beginning of the shipping season.

Charles Gustafson Dies.

Charles Gustafson, aged 61, recently employed as a bartender at the saloon of Ole Sansted, 212 Lake avenue south, died this morning at St. Luke's hospital as the result of a severe attack of pneumonia.

Gustafson leaves no relatives in this country. He had been a resident of Duluth for the last fifteen years and had become very well known here.

The funeral will be held next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Grady and Horgan undertaking rooms. Interment will be in the London Road cemetery.

Ashland Highway Robbery.

PRESS CHARGE TO LIMIT.

Police Would Avenge Assault Upon Officer Nils R. Magnuson.

Determined to avenge the assault upon Patrolman Nils R. Magnuson, who sustained a broken arm in a dance hall disturbance April 8, police rearrested two of three men who were found guilty and paid fines for disorderly conduct yesterday.

Emmett J. Savage, 24, left the courtroom after paying a fine of $50 and costs, when Judge Smallwood found him guilty, but a minute later police were looking for him, armed with another warrant which charged third degree assault. He was arrested in West Duluth by Lieut. F. A. Schulte and Sergt. Andree, and brought back to headquarters.

After Savage had been tried, Clarence B. Jones, 22, the second of the six men who were arrested following the assault, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct. He was fined $30 and costs, but was immediately served with a warrant charging second degree assault, and held in $100 bonds.

Frank Johnson, the man Officer Magnuson tried to arrest when the disturbance began, was fined $30 and costs, and paid the fine. No other charge was preferred against him.

Frank Mulcahy, John Strom and James P. Greene, three others who were out under bonds, were freed by the court after City Prosecutor Walter Gonska had moved to dismiss the charges against them.

Savage was held in jail today, when he failed to raise the $100 bail, but probably will obtain his freedom this afternoon. Jones, through J. H. Norton, his attorney, demanded a preliminary examination on the assault charge. It was set for April 20.

DELAYED MAIL REACHES WILLIAMS

Williams, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first mail of any extent from the east since last Friday morning reached Williams at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, all train service on the Canadian Northern having been at a standstill here on account of two big washouts in the track about three miles east of here. Minor damages to the tracks between Baudette and Warroad were repaired by the section men, but these two required nearly a hundred piling to be driven before a passage of trains could be resumed.

Much damage has been done to the ditches dug last year, which had not been cleared out in preparation for a big flood, and the grades in many places have been overrun and washed out. The ditches, however, are carrying the waters from the melting snows so fast that there will be but little left in the swamps by the time the frost is out.

GETTING READY FOR NAVIGATION

H. S. Noble of Great Lakes Transit Company Visits Duluth.

"Just to say 'Hello' and renew old acquaintances," was the way H. S. Noble, second vice president of the Great Lakes Transit company, explained his visit here today. Mr. Noble is in charge of the traffic of the new package freight line merger and arrived this morning to look over the territory here.

"I have not been at the Head of the Lakes since a year ago the past winter," said he today, "and I am glad to get back and meet the old crowd again. I have always been treated well in Duluth and I expect to be here more under the new conditions than I was under the old."

Mr. Noble was assistant manager of the Mutual Transit company and frequently visited this point during a number of years.

At the Commercial club today, where he was visiting and conferring with G. Roy Hall, traffic manager of the club, he said that the Great Lakes company expects to issue its through tariffs by April 25, including those to the Twin Cities and other points West, and from the Eastern trunk line points.

"There is a multitude of detail to look after," said Mr. Noble, "and just now we are busily taking care of it to get ready for the opening of navigation."

HOLD PASSION WEEK SERVICES AT CLOQUET

Cloquet, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. W. E. Williams of the First Presbyterian church preached the second of a series of Passion week sermons last night. The sermons will terminate Friday evening with communion. Rev. Mr. Ward of the Episcopal church is also conducting services every night this week. The public is invited to attend any of the services in either church.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

Marine Gossip On Lake and Shore

COMING SEASON WILL SEE MANY CHANGES IN GREAT LAKES BOATS

Eighty-Five Have Changed Ownership Since Last Year.

Sixteen Have Changed Names; Three New Steamers.

Since the navigation season of 1915 closed, about eighty-five vessels on the Great Lakes have changed owners, and a number of them have been purchased by coast interests to enter the Atlantic or Pacific trade. In many cases vessels which have been considered out of date because of their being old or outclassed as to size, have brought prices far in excess of their original cost, illustrating the extreme need of more vessels on the lakes and in the coast trade, owing to the tremendous increase in business.

Three new steamers will be seen on the lakes during the coming season and other steamers will be recognized by the knowing ones, but some may be puzzled at the change in names. The three new steamers are the H. G. Dalton of the Pickands-Mather company, the H. R. Black of the M. A. Hanna company, and the Horace S. Wilkinson of the Great Lakes Steamship company.

Vessels whose names have been changed are as follows, the old and new names being given:

FIRST ROUND TRIP ON LAKE

Steamer Briton Returns With Cargo From Fort William.

At 9:45 o'clock this morning, when the steamer Briton proudly steamed her way into the local harbor, having everything quite her own way because of the lack of other "traffic," the first round trip of the year had been completed.

The Briton cleared from the local harbor last week, bound for Fort William. The ice was practically all gone and the first trip of the season was made without difficulty. Taking on her cargo at the Canadian port, she set out on the return for Duluth yesterday afternoon. Despite the roughness of the lake, the trip was made without difficulty.

The Briton will not remain long at the local harbor, being scheduled to return to Fort William in the near future. From now on she will maintain a regular schedule between the Canadian and American ports.

WHITEFISH ICE CONDITIONS SAME

Algomah Damaged; Small Boats Are Bucking Ice.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Algomah, which opened up the lower river, arriving at the Sault yesterday, returned to St. Ignace on account of damage to her wheel, incurred while bucking the ice.

The Nevada and whaleback Cort were sighted this morning from the lighthouse at Whitefish point working in the ice about twelve miles below the point. Wireless reports from the Nevada state that the ice is very hard and windrowed badly.

The tug Sabin left the Sault this morning to assist the Nevada and Cort. It is expected the Neilson, which broke up the ice in West Neebish channel this morning, will also go to help in opening up a channel.

The St. Ignace has not yet been sighted above Whitefish point and general ice conditions there are unchanged.

MORE BOATS TAKE GRAIN CARGOES

No Ore Will Go Into Holds Before Next Week.

Grain-loading of boats continues each day, but there has been nothing done in the way of loading ore yet. H. C. Strom, agent of the Pittsburgh fleet here, said this morning that the barges which have been wintering here will not be loaded with ore until the steamers begin to arrive from lower lake ports, and he does not expect that that will take place before the first or middle of next week; so no ore will be dumped into vessel holds before then.

Two boats were moved to elevators to load grain this morning. The B. F. Jones was taken to the Great Northern elevators and will take on wheat, and the Maruba was moved to the Globe elevators for a similar load.

Reports from Whitefish bay are not very encouraging. The ice is heavy and does not seem to yield very readily to the assaults of the ice crusher Algomah and the other steamers which are working on it. In fact, the ice was too much for the Algomah, which was injured in the work of bucking the field, and returned to St. Ignace this morning. The ice crusher St. Ignace, which left Port Arthur yesterday afternoon to tackle the Whitefish ice field from the western side, had not showed up at 11 o'clock today. The Sault is opened up, and it all depends on the Whitefish bay conditions now.

The average date for the opening of navigation is April 20, but that it will be late this year is a foregone conclusion. The opening of navigation is dated on the day that the first boat arrives from lower lake ports. A year ago tomorrow the first boat came into this harbor, the Griffin, and a year ago last Monday the first boat departed for lower lake ports, she being the steamer Charles S. Hebard.

NEVADA GOES TO THE SOO RIVER

Mackinaw City, Mich., April 19.—The steamer Nevada of the Goodrich Transportation company passed down here yesterday morning, being the first vessel to pass this point this season. She was bound for the Soo river to assist the steamer Algomah in breaking a channel through the ice. The Nevada reported encountering a small field of ice west of this point, but plowed through it at full speed.

Sibley County Granted Loan.

St. Paul, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sibley county was granted a loan of $100,000 by the state investment board today with which to build a courthouse, jail and other necessary structures as a result of having changed the county seat from Henderson to Gaylord.

PLAIN FACTS.

No one ever takes cold unless constipated or exhausted, and having what is called mal-nutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve forces. Tonics consisting of large portions of alcohol, iron or cod liver oil do not bring the desired effect of changes in the blood, because they do not enter the system and are not absorbed into the blood, with the exception of the alcohol, which shrivels up the red blood corpuscles when it does come in contact with them. We recommend this botanical extract of CACTUS JUICE, it offers a reasonable and scientific method of treating the blood, by improving the nutritive functions of the patient. CACTUS JUICE accomplishes this, restoring the enfeebled digestive organs, so that food, the natural tissue builder, will be digested and assimilated, for there is generally present in these cases, loss of appetite and lack of sufficient nourishment to replenish the waste of flesh. From the very first that you start to taking CALIFORNIA CACTUS JUICE, impure germs and accumulations begin to separate in the blood and are then expelled through the liver, bowels and kidneys. In place of the impurities, the arteries and veins gradually get fresh vitalized blood and the action of this good blood on the skin means that pimples, boils, carbuncles, eczema, rash, acne and all skin blemishes will disappear. Then you must remember that when the blood is right, the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys become healthy, active and vigorous and you will have no more trouble with indigestion, backache, headache and constipation. Get CALIFORNIA CACTUS JUICE at the Lyceum pharmacy, 431 West Superior street, and the Cactus Juice man who is there every day will explain it to you and tell you what to expect from this premier remedy; ask your own druggist.

WILL MEET STEFANSSON

Power Boat With Great Ice-Resisting Strength Being Built.

Seattle, Wash., April 19.—Capt. L. Lane, an Arctic navigator of long experience, announced here today that he will leave Seattle for the Arctic ocean about June 1 in a 300-ton power schooner now being built here, and expects to return to Nome or Seattle next autumn with Vilhjalmar Stefansson and the other members of the Canadian government exploring expedition that sailed from Victoria, B. C., for the Arctic ocean June 17, 1913. Captain Lane plans to be at Banks Land, in the Polar seas, about Aug. 5, and to meet Stefansson there. Lane, in the power schooner Polar Bear, took Stefansson and two companions from Banks Land to Herschel island last August, and afterward sold the Polar Bear to Stefansson, who returned to Banks Land with this boat and the small power boat Gladiator, intending to pass the winter in exploration of Banks Land and then, on the breaking of the ice this spring, make further exploration of the new land which he discovered last year, north of Melville island. Captain Lane is now in Seattle supervising construction of his schooner.

Supplies for Stefansson.

Captain Lane is going north, not under contract with the Canadian government, but under a verbal agreement with Stefansson. Lane's new power boat, which probably will be named the Great Bear, will be of wooden construction, and the strongest ice-resisting vessel ever built on Puget Sound. Lane will take with him gasoline and other supplies for the Stefansson fleet. Stefansson has asked the Canadian government to permit his parties to continue their work a year longer, but it is believed that on account of war conditions the explorers will be ordered home. The expedition was planned to continue three and a half years.

Unless ice movements are unfavorable, Captain Lane expects to reach Banks Land at the time fixed upon. If he has good fortune, he will call first at Herschel island, where he may receive word from Stefansson. If he does not get instructions there, he will proceed north to Banks Land, making stops at points agreed upon last year, where Stefansson may have letters or men waiting for Lane. It may be that the explorers will choose to return to Nome in their own boats, the power schooners Polar Bear, Alaska, Mary Sachs and North Star, but the vessels probably will be out of repair and unable to make the quick voyage that will be necessary to elude the treacherous ice, which closes upon the coast rapidly in early autumn. If all goes well, the explorers should arrive in Nome soon after the middle of September.

In Two Parties.

The Stefansson expedition from the beginning was divided into two parties. The northern, under Stefansson, planned to seek new land in the Beaufort sea, and succeeded, notwithstanding the loss of the principal boat, the whaler Karluk, which was crushed in the ice the first winter out. The southern party, under Dr. Rudolph Anderson, has been exploring and charting the delta of the Mackenzie river and the country to the east, and also making a geological survey of the islands and mainland at the mouth of the great river, making especial search for copper and coal. Copper nuggets abound along the waterways, and the Eskimos make their weapons and utensils of beaten copper. Stefansson, who discovered blue-eyed Eskimos in the Coronation gulf country, east of the Mackenzie, some years ago, these people being, he believed, descendants of the ancient Scandinavian settlers in Greenland, is not revisiting these Eskimos during his present journey. Stefansson and Anderson have a large amount of information and material, and will make a complete report to the Canadian government. Stefansson will publish a book describing his discoveries.

Amundsen's Plans.

A dispatch from Christiania, Norway, announcing that Capt. Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the northwest passage and the South pole, plans to set out on a North pole expedition in the spring of 1917, by way of Bering strait, interests Arctic navigators greatly. Amundsen intended to leave San Francisco several years ago, sail from Bering strait toward the North pole and return between Spitzbergen and Greeland. He abandoned his voyage because of lack of funds. In the years that have elapsed motor boat progress has been rapid, and new engines that burn small quantities of fuel have simplified Arctic problems. Amundsen will use a 100-ton power boat.

MISSISSIPPI LOG DRIVE SOON STARTS

Little Falls, Minn., April 19.—Otis Webb, foreman for the Mississippi & Rum River Boom company, arrived from Minneapolis with a crew of twenty men to begin preparations for the driving season. The crew was taken north of the city. It is not known definitely when the first drive will start down, but it will begin at Brainerd.

The wangans were overhauled and put in shape for the season a few weeks ago and are now at Lyman Ayer's landing in Belle Prairie.

LIVING COST IS CLIMBING

Copper Sets Pace for Metals—Apex in Iron Prices.

The cost of living is again creeping up and, in the opinion of wholesalers, quotations in many commodities are likely to go still higher.

During the last week increases in prices of various commodities outnumbered the decreases by two to one, the advances in some goods being quite substantial. The strength of the markets in foodstuffs has been a feature of late, but business men are pleased to note that a more settled tendency has come about in the iron and steel trade. Many take the view that the apex of the price wave in those products has been reached and that quotations may be held at around their present basis. Pig iron is, in fact, 25 cents easier at $20.25, Pittsburgh. That compares with $14.25 a year ago, when the iron trade began to firm up. Steel billets are $45 a ton, as against only $20 last spring.

In the metal list generally copper has set the pace with the general market at 29½ cents and sales reported yesterday at 30½ cents a pound, compared with 17⅝ cents a year ago and around 12 cents shortly after the war broke out. Lead is selling now at 7¾ cents per pound, as against 4 cents last year. Going into general commodities, raw rubber is quoted at 13½ cents higher than a year ago at 73½ cents a pound.

Sugar Soaring.

Sugars have been the strongest feature in edibles during the last week, the market in it soaring on account of heavy buying in England and France and a firmer market in Cuban raws. Fine granulated sugars went up 15 cents per 100 pounds during the week, with jobbers' figures at New York at $7.15 as compared with $5.90 at this time last year. Coffees at 9¾ cents a pound are quoted 2 cents higher than last spring.

Flour is selling on the same basis as a week ago at $6.20 a barrel for the best spring patents. This is $1.30 cheaper than a year ago, when wheat was quoted at 40 cents a bu above its present market. Fruits and vegetables of all kinds are also substantially cheaper on the average due to large supplies in dealers' hands and the cutting off of exports in some lines.

List of Prices.

The following list gives the wholesale prices on some of the leading commodities made up to the end of last week with comparative quotations for the preceding week and the corresponding period last year.

"DRYS" FORM ORGANIZATION

Definite Program for Their Campaign Is Outlined.

Several New Members Added and Officers Are Elected.

Members of the "dry" ordinance committee perfected a permanent organization at a meeting at their headquarters yesterday afternoon, and a definite program for the carrying out of the campaign was outlined. The plans were outlined by the executive committee of the organization, and they will be submitted at the first regular meeting, next Monday night, the first night in the week having been decided upon as the fixed date for the regular meetings.

Several new members were added to the active roster of the organization, after which the following officers were elected: W. C. Mitchell, president; Bishop James McGolrick, first vice president; Marcus L. Fay, second vice president; E. N. Edes, third vice president; Dr. J. W. Ekbald, fourth vice president; Henry Stevens, fifth vice president; W. L. Smithies, secretary, and Arthur P. Barnes, treasurer.

The initiative petition, filed by the "drys" last week and containing the names of several thousand persons, received City Clerk Borgen's official certificate yesterday, this having been done as soon as the necessary number of names was verified. Nearly half of the forms of the petition were left untouched, and the clerk's certificate will be read to the city council at a special meeting tomorrow morning.

MOOSE INITIATE FIFTEEN.

Local Lodge Holds Business and Social Session.

Fifteen new members were initiated into the local lodge No. 505, Loyal Order of Moose, at the regular meeting of the society last night in Moose hall. The newly installed officers, headed by Ray Meissner, dictator, James Downing, vice dictator, and Carl Schau, had charge of the exercises. Following the business meeting refreshments were served.

Members of the society decided to hold a memorial meeting April 30, in memory of the members of the order who have died during the last year.

INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Owner Thrown Against Wheel and Cut By Flying Glass.

Edwin R. Cooper, well known investment broker and bond man, was seriously, but not fatally, injured when his automobile crashed into an iron trolley pole at Fourth avenue east and Superior street shortly after 1 o'clock this morning.

Alone in the car at the time of the accident, Mr. Cooper was found lying on the wheel, badly cut across the forehead from the windshield glass and unconscious. The car was badly damaged.

R. A. Marsh, 23 North Twenty-fifth avenue west, a passing jitney driver, stopped when he saw the car telescoped on the pole, and rushed the still unconscious man to St. Luke's hospital. He was assisted by Bert Thomas, an employe in the United States lighthouse service, who had boarded the jitney but a few minutes previously.

E. R. COOPER.

Police Surgeon Harry Klein was called and took charge of the case temporarily. Later Dr. William P. Abbott, the Cooper family physician, arrived, and after an examination stated that the injuries probably would not prove fatal, although very serious.

When Mr. Cooper regained consciousness this morning, he was unable to tell how the accident happened, except that he lost control of the car and it veered sharply, striking the pole.

He had left his residence at 15 North Sixteenth avenue east, driving the car himself, and was going west on Superior street at the time of the accident.

"I had been down town attending a business conference," said Mr. Cooper later, "and returned home. When I reached the house there was a telephone call waiting for me and I found it necessary to return immediately to the hotel. I was on my way there when the accident happened."

It is believed that either the steering apparatus broke or that Mr. Cooper, who seldom drives himself, was unable to control the machine. His friends say that Mr. Cooper is a poor driver and has had little experience in handling his car.

Charles H. Kelley, 606 East Second street, a friend of the injured man, arrived at the scene of the accident a minute after the jitney had left for the hospital, and followed it to the building.

"Either the steering gear broke, I believe," he said, "or a tire blew out, causing the car to jump in the way it must have, before it struck the pole."

Mr. Cooper is a member of the Cooper-Myers Bond company, with offices in the Alworth building and in St. Paul. Fred B. Myers, formerly of Biwabik, is the other member of the firm.

MANY PROFIT FROM RAISE

More Than 15,000 Employes of Steel Corporation Affected.

More than 15,000 employes of the United States Steel corporation's subsidiary companies in Duluth and in the iron range districts will be affected by the additional 10 per cent advance in wages to take effect May 1, as announced by the corporation at New York yesterday.

It is estimated that the increase will add nearly $1,000,000 to the wages disbursed to miners and railroad men during the active mining season. More than 12,000 employes of the Oliver Mining company and 3,000 men employed by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and Duluth & Iron Range railroads will be affected.

Last January the corporation voluntarily increased its wage roll 10 per cent, so that its employes in this district are now benefiting to the extent of an increase of 20 per cent over the scale of wages paid them last year. The benefits conferred will furthermore be on a larger scale than now indicated, in view of the fact that additional men are being taken on almost every day, both by the Oliver Mining company and by the two railroads, and operations during the present year will be on a scale never equaled in the history of the Steel corporation. Arrangements have been made to increase the outputs of ore of the various mines to the maximum and it is now assured that the tonnage shipped down the lakes this year will set a new high record.

With the high prices prevailing for all products it is conceded that the United States Steel corporation's earnings will be larger in the present year than in any period since its organization in 1901.

Ashland Home Burglarized.

Ashland, Wis., April 19.—The home of Dr. J. B. Williams, at the corner of Fourth avenue west and Seventh street, was broken into Monday evening and $7 was stolen. An entrance was gained through a side window and the thief went direct to the bedroom, removed Mr. Williams' coat and trousers, extracted what money he could find and made a hasty retreat.

Canadian Woman Is Guest of Honor

Mrs. George M. Graham of Fort William was the guest of Mrs. Milie Bunnell, East Superior street, at the tea hour yesterday afternoon and a number of Mrs. Graham's acquaintances here were invited in to meet her.

Mrs. Graham is at the head of the Patriotic society of Fort William and expressed appreciation for the work that the Duluth branch of the Canadian Relief association has been doing in aiding this work for the soldiers. Canadian women are devoting their energies to knitting socks, especially socks with woolen feet and cotton legs, as they are running out of wool. The local society will greatly appreciate socks in large sizes and preferably white ones for use in the hospitals.

Colonial Schools Subject of Paper

Mrs. H. L. Gage spoke on "Colonial Schools and Education" at the meeting of Greysolon du Lhut chapter, D. A. R., for which Mrs. J. A. Campbell of 5621 Tower avenue, Superior, was the hostess, yesterday afternoon.

The description of schools from 1,600 to 1,700 was aided by a collection of curios that included twenty pages from a New England primer that showed, among other pictures, the burial of Xerxes and the burning of a man with his wife and ten children as spectators; a sample on which girls were taught the alphabet, and a specimen of handwriting.

Mrs. Gage told of the founder of Harvard college, who left 260 books and $750, gifts that inspired others to give such things as sheep, 9 shillings' worth of cloth and a silver-tipped flagon. The Widener family, 277 years later, gave a famous collection of books, and in the same year 480,000 volumes were left to the library.

Pupils in Recital.

Miss Elsie Jones, assisted by Miss Dorothy Patton, presented some of her younger piano pupils in a recital this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. George S. Clements, 1427 London road. The following program was given:

Fat, Pudgy, Ugly Billiken Is Replaced By "Spirit of Youth"

JESSIE McCUTCHEON RALEIGH AND THE "GOOD FAIRY."

Billiken, the fat, pudgy Billiken, who had neglected rolling and reading "Eat and Grow Thin" until he was so obese that all he could do was to grin, has been replaced by the "Good Fairy," a dainty spirit, who, poised on tip-toe, with arms extended, is the embodiment of youth, health, happiness and grace.

Billiken, although good natured, was unlovely even to the tip of his conical pompadour. He stood only for good luck. The "Good Fairy" in addition to pleasing the eye, stands for many things:

"It is the buoyant light of hope.

"It is the whispering voice of courage.

"The 'Good Fairy' is your better self.

"It is the outgiving spirit of unselfishness.

"The 'Good Fairy' is the soul of harmony.

"It is the echo of memory; it is love.

"The 'Good Fairy' is the spirit of youth.

"It is the dawn of a new day—the harbinger of peace."

The meanings of the "Good Fairy" are as numerous as persons who study it, for each one recalls the fairy of his own childhood who was different from every other fairy.

Originators of Good Fairy.

Jessie McCutcheon Raleigh, a sister of John McCutcheon, the cartoonist, inspired the "Good Fairy" and Miss Josephine Kern, a young sculptress, executed it. Mrs. Raleigh says:

"It is the figure of a spirit. It personifies innocence and purity and freedom and youth. The hope is that when a man sees it in the morning on his desk, or a woman in her home, it will bring a remembrance of childhood ideals and a feeling of youth that will make the day brighter and the life truer."

At the Indiana society banquet the movement was started "to revive in the matter-of-fact business man the spirit of youth." Seven hundred "Good Fairies" were present, each glowing phosphorescently with outstretched arms to the beholder.

An old woman, whose days of active usefulness are over, said of the "Good Fairy" on her work table: "Do you know whenever I look at that little figure, I don't feel old. It just seems as though I were going to be able to accomplish so much and do so much, that I haven't time to think about my rheumatism and my poor eyesight."

The "Good Fairy" has been welcomed so warmly by hospital patients that the Iowa Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis thinks of adopting it as its emblem. Recently a bank offered this figure as a kind of premium for new depositors.

Wilbur Nesbit said: "The 'Good Fairy' is to me a symbol of that golden influence called friendship. True friendship is an expression of giving—and the 'Good Fairy' crystallizes all the good wishes and kindly thoughts and unselfish deeds of our friends."

J. F. Wolff, who spoke on "Modern Japan" last night, at a meeting of the Bishop's club, discussed the economic conditions of that country, its natural resources, industry, commerce, government, politics, army and navy, education, religious status, foreign intercourse and internal problems.

The program, which was under the leadership of Miss Gertrude Knauff, consisted, in addition to Mr. Wolff's talk, of musical numbers, readings and topics of current interest.

Miss Rasamond Risatti, with Miss Edna Toomey as accompanist, sang "Jean" (Burleigh), "Irish Love Song" (Lang), and "A Little Pink Rose" (Carrie Jacobs-Bond). Miss Alta Utley read "Patsy" (Kate Douglas Wiggin) and a French dialect selection by Drummond.

Miss Grace Harrington, who was in charge of the current events, spoke of the pursuit of Villa, preparedness on the part of the United States, the Burnett illiteracy bill and a new torpedo.

Mrs. Aurelia V. Kelly gave the Bible reading, that was explained by Rt. Rev. James McGolrick.

Mrs. John Helmer was the hostess.

Mr. Wolff's Talk.

In his comprehensive resume of Japan of the present day, Mr. Wolff said:

"No one can read even an outline of the history of modern Japan without realizing that here is a truly wonderful people. They have many of the characteristics which are required of a people who would aspire to world prominence. What they lack morally (which is partly a matter of lack of opportunity to know the vitalizing truths of Christianity), they make up in personal courage, self-denial, optimism, altruism and intense patriotism, which springs partly from their national religion, Shintoism.

"One's admiration is aroused especially for the old emperor and his advisors, who guided their nation through the greatest difficulties to a successful establishment as a leading world power. They were men of the very keenest foresight and highest executive ability. Above all they labored for Japan alone and the word graft was hardly known in modern Japan until the twentieth century. In this untarnished patriotism they are models for all occidentals.

Copy Western Nations.

"But in all this they had the experience of the Western nations to guide them, and freely availed themselves of foreign expert advice in everything from agriculture to politics. They are the world's greatest copyists and adaptors. In hardly a single thing have they shown themselves originators. There are satellites of, and shine by, the reflected light of nations whose foundation is Christian. So successful have they been and so much have they been praised by Western nations that they now appear to be a nation with an exaggerated opinion of itself.

"Taxes are about one-third of the income of the individual. The great mass of the people are terribly poor, and fairly slave to eke out an existence. Property is a qualification for suffrage, only 34 out of every 1,000 being voters. Only one laborer in 1,000 is a voter. Education is the mania of the people, and the greatest sacrifices are made by parents and children for it. Japan's great social problem is the employment of her educated youth.

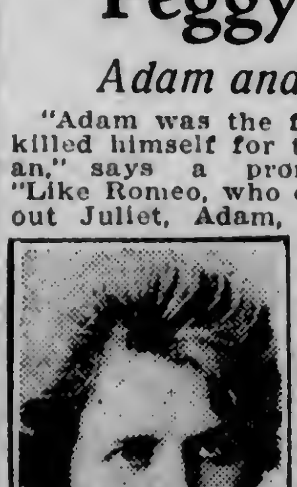
"Politics is the great Japanese distraction, and they outdo Americans in their enthusiasm and campaign methods. The government is a limited monarchy, with the power of the people fast developing. Popular opinion is almost irresistible by those in authority. Japan's recent aggression in China would not have occurred but for the European war. As long as the present regime continues in Japan, there can hardly be a Japanese-American war. However, after the European nations recuperate, there may be a European-Jap war over China.

"There are so many great internal problems, and such destructive elements in the material civilization and philosophy which Japan has adopted, that she will end in the anarchy of a French revolution without the great conservative balancing force among her people of a virile Christianity. The old Japanese religions are fast disintegrating before modern material civilization. If Japan does not tie to Christianity, as a people, her decay has already begun, her decline will be as rapid as her rise. She, like Asiatic and African races who rejected Christianity, will go down the grade of decay at the bottom of which rest the worst abominations of outcast and degraded races."

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Adam and That Rib

"Adam was the first suicide and he killed himself for the love of a woman," says a prominent evangelist. "Like Romeo, who could not live without Juliet, Adam, rather than allow Eve, with whom he was in love, to die alone after she had eaten the apple and was under consequent sentence of death, ate some of the apple also, and thus made certain that he would die. You remember that God said, 'If you eat thereof you will surely die,' in referring to the forbidden fruit." Thus ended the ravings of this divine, if such he can be called.



Adam, the man, a suicide for the love of a woman! It is hard to believe in the face of the nature of man as we know it. And this is not intended to belittle the strength of a man's affections or find fault with man's nature, which makes of love a pastime, while it is woman's whole existence. Man may be said to be as good as he can be and almost as good as woman. While a few men have really died for the love of some woman, millions of women have lived for the men that each has loved, which is more to the point, considerably more difficult and a supreme test of love.

This preacher does not say that Adam was the first moral suicide, though that may be what he means. However, whether he means mental or physical suicide, Eve may lay claim to being the first to commit it, for she knew as well as Adam what God had forbidden them to lay hands upon in the original garden of the world. She knew just as well as Adam that if she partook of the forbidden fruit she would die. Why, then, was not Eve the first suicide? Why, too, was she not a suicide for love?

Sin originated in Eve and ever since then mankind has had to suffer for her false step, therefore she and her daughters will not much mind having this added ignomony thrust upon them. But we may stop right here and ask ourselves for whom it is that women since time immemorial have risked body and soul and counted their loss of little moment compared with the happiness and benefit the sacrifice seemed to bring to man. Adams to be sure. All men are Adams.

It is all very well to try and excuse the part that Adam took in the apple episode on the plea of his love for Eve. It is a regular man's excuse, but it is not man's nature to die for love. Of course men have risked all for the women they loved and lost as cruelly as women. It is not the rule, while almost every woman is called upon and does offer up sacrifice for the man she loves.

Hot Cross Buns for Good-Friday

"Hot cross buns, hot cross buns,
One a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns!
If you haven't any daughters, buy them for your sons,
One a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns!"

THE ABOVE jingle is as old as the custom of selling hot cross buns on Good Friday. In the first place, these buns were kneaded from dough made for the host, and were marked with a cross. They were only permitted on the tables of those in orders. Later they were used to raise money for good works and were made in the kitchens of convents and monasteries and sold at their gates.

In later ages many beneficent qualities were attributed to them; they were said to keep a twelve-month without turning mouldy, and it was said that any home containing them would be free from evil spirits and from sickness.

The shape and mark of the bun is interesting; it is round, to show that there is no end to God's love, and the cross on the top points to the four points of the compass, to indicate it embraces all nations. No matter how you make the buns, whether you sprinkle raisins or currants in the dough or add sugar and egg yolk to make them rich, you will want, I am sure, to have them small, round and made with the distinguishing marks.

Tomorrow night set a sponge of three cups of scalded, cooled milk, one cake compressed yeast, and flour enough to make a batter. Add a pinch of soda to this, and set to rise over night. Friday morning add half a cup of melted butter, half a cup of sugar, one teaspoon salt and flour to knead. Let rise until light; then roll half an inch and cut out with a round tea-biscuit cutter. Brush with melted butter and set in rows on the baking pan. When again light make a deep cross on top. Sprinkle the incision with sugar mixed with cinnamon. Bake twenty minutes.

How to Use Dry Bread.

Slices of bread, no matter how stale, offer possibilities for several delightful breakfast and luncheon dishes. If toasted in the usual manner and then dipped swiftly into a mixture of butter and boiling water, well salted, and sent at once to the table, it will be found almost as fine as milk toast. Toasted bread buttered and sprinkled with stale grated cheese and browned in a hot oven is a delicious tidbit.

Brown Betty is especially enjoyed by children, for it is stale bread buttered and sprinkled with brown sugar and a grating of nutmeg. If the bread is hard, it may be sprinkled with a few drops of water and then made hot in the oven.

Mrs. Bush President Of Literary Club

Mrs. M. R. Bush was elected president of the Lester Park Literary club at the meeting for which Mrs. Alice Warren of the St. Regis apartments was hostess yesterday afternoon. The other officers elected were: Vice president, Mrs. Charles Roberts; secretary and treasurer (for sixth term), Mrs. Walter B. Butchart; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Austin Davenport; chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Alice Warren, and delegates to the state convention at Anoka, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. John H. Larkin.

Mrs. William H. Vaughan, the retiring president, thanked the members for their co-operation during her term of office.

At the request of Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the club decided to co-operate with the immigrant bureau of the United States.

The hostess was assisted in serving tea by Mrs. Larkin. Easter lilies were the decorations.

Elite Club Election.

On Monday evening, a business meeting of the Elite club was held at the home of Miss Gladys Dorsey, 2329 West Eleventh street. Election of officers was held and the following were chosen: Ashbedell Ryan, president; Jennette Lambert, vice president; Blanche Ryan, treasurer; Gladys Dorsey, secretary, and Florence Ryan, social editor.

A number of social functions, to be given after the Lenten season, were planned. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Miss Lillian Monaghan, Seventeenth avenue east and London road.

Bed Time Tales

By Clara Ingram Judson

Mary's Four-Poster

IF THERE was one thing more than another that little 6-year-old Mary wanted, it was a four-poster bed.

"Of course I like my dolls," she said, when her mother tried to tell of all the nice things that filled the nursery; "and I'm happy about my canary and my pretty books, and everything. But, mother, I truly do wish I had a four-poster bed to sleep in—one that I could climb up a little ladder to get into, like they do in stories. I wish I could be a little girl in a story."

"Bless the child," laughed great-grandmother, who was sitting in the corner of the room. "I doubt if she has ever seen a four-poster!"

"That's just the trouble," exclaimed Mary eagerly, for she was sure her grandmother would understand. "I've never seen one, but I've seen lots of pictures. And I know I'd like them. Oh, dear, but I do want to sleep in a four-poster!"

Mother laughed, and suggested that Mary run out of doors, and then she went on about her work and thought no more about four-posters.

But Mary didn't forget—no, indeed.

A few days after that talk Mary's mother took her downtown to buy a spring coat and a pair of shoes. Mary was very happy with her new things, as you can easily guess, and wanted to stay down in the pretty shops as long as possible.

"Aren't you tired?" laughed mother, as she looked down into Mary's smiling face.

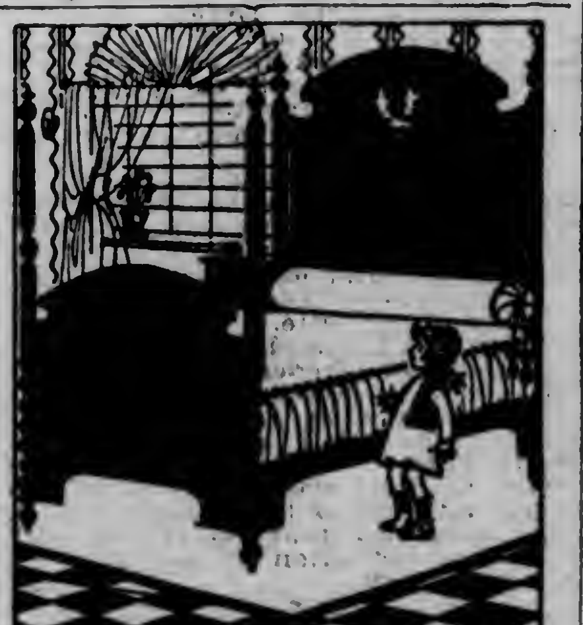
"Not a bit, mother," replied Mary. "Mayn't we look at some more things?"

"Yes," said mother; "if you like we can go up into the furniture section. You may look around while I do an errand."

Mary skipped to the elevator. "Maybe we'll see a four-poster," she thought, and just then the elevator came, so she didn't say anything to her mother.

Up in the big furniture department, Mary wandered around while mother tended to her errand. There were not many people about, so mother had said she could go anywhere in that room.

She had not walked around five minutes before she saw, in a small room all by itself, a beautiful big four-poster! Just like the pictures! Exactly!



like the pictures! Exactly!

Without a thought about leaving the room, Mary ran to the bed, climbed up the steps that stood invitingly at one side and laid herself down on the beautiful embroidered cover.

And, being more tired with the shopping than she had realized, she soon dropped to sleep.

Such a hurry and a scramble as there was when mother missed her little girl! Such hunting and calling and hurrying and searching! It was all of an hour before a clerk spied Mary, fast asleep on the big bed.

"Yes, I 'spect I should not have done it," said Mary, solemnly, after her mother had explained to her about what she had done, "but, all the same, mother, I'm glad I've slept on a four-poster bed!"

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

She Hadn't Noticed

"Correction does much, but encouragement does more. Encouragement after censure is as the sun after a shower."—Goethe.

THAT quotation popped into my head the other day when a little whirlwind of schoolgirl impulsiveness swept into her mother's living room, where we were sitting, greeted us, dumped an armful of books on the couch, flung a coat over a chair, and passed on upstairs.

When she came back into the room her mother greeted her with a sigh: "Will you ever learn to be more orderly, Margaret? I thought you told me on your birthday that you were really going to try not to leave everything wherever you happened to be. And just look at that!"

The sunshine went out of Margaret's blue eyes as she picked up the coat.

"But, mother, I did try."

"Indeed," said her mother, "I hadn't noticed it."

What Good Did It Do Her to Try?

"That's just it, you never do," flamed Margaret. "I know I've left some things around, but I've come in here every day with my coat and hat and hung them up and put my gloves away in the drawer. This is the first time since my birthday I've forgotten and that's most three weeks ago. And what good does it do me? You never notice it until I forget, and then you notice fast enough."

"Margaret!" said her mother, in a tone that could not be disregarded.

Margaret picked up the books and turned quickly to leave the room, but not so quickly that I did not see the tears brimming in her eyes.

People Take Things For Granted When They Go Smoothly.

Poor little girl, she was learning one of life's painful lessons—that even the best of us are prone to notice and complain when things annoy us, and take things for granted when they go smoothly.

I am afraid it is the exceptional parent who makes it a point to watch for and encourage the child's first attempts to overcome a fault.

Nor is it parents alone who make this mistake. We all make it with husbands and wives and other housemates of one sort or another, with the maid in the kitchen, the clerk in the office, in short, with all whose faults we try to correct and whose progress we therefore ought to recognize.

Never Correct a Person Before Others.

Never correct one person in the presence of another.

Never use a superior air. Mention casually some similar fault of your own which you are trying to overcome.

Be reasonable what you are going to say before you speak, point out pleasantly and logically the harm the fault does.

Never nag.

And don't forget to shed the sunshine of encouragement when you see the slightest opportunity. It is for your advantage as well as theirs.

These are a few rules for helping others to overcome their faults. And while you are concerned on the subject of faults here's one more don't—Don't forget your own.

The Up-to-Date Good Fairy

One of the little marks of our "preparedness" in presenting our patrons with the newest and most popular ideas.

This 12½-inch statuette is having a remarkable vogue throughout the whole country. The inspiration of a member of the famous McCutcheon family; its grace and charm give it an artistic value quite unlike its grotesque predecessors who were merely good luck talismans without beauty.

Let the buoyant figurine of youth and happiness shed its gospel of good cheer daily to you from your desk, your mantel, your piano or your table.

You will find it a charming Easter gift and it makes a decoration of distinction for your dining table. Fancy it a-top a birthday cake or in groups holding between its outstretched arms garlands of flowers.

$1.00 Each

A welcomed new idea in a BRIDGE PRIZE, for the BRIDE'S GIFT, or the GRADUATE. The owner of a "Good Fairy" will find a never-ending use for this most attractive statuette ever made.

Echo of the Story-Guernsey Fight at D. A. R. Meeting

Washington, April 19.—An echo of the bitter Story-Guernsey fight last year for the president generalship, was heard at yesterday's session of the congress of the Daughters of the American revolution. Mrs. George Thatcher Guernsey of Kansas sought more information than was given in a committee report about the Daughter's magazine, and moved that the publication be sent only to paid subscribers.

Mrs. William Cumming Story of New York, the president-general, declared the magazine was handling its affairs intelligently, and that such a proposal should not have been brought before the congress.

Mrs. Guernsey's motion was tabled.

Last night's session was given over to the nomination of officers other than president-general, who will be elected today.

Significance of April 19.

Relative to the date of the D. A. R. congress, Mrs. Sheppard W. Foster, vice president general of the national society, wrote recently:

"Our continental congress convenes annually on Monday, the week in which the nineteenth of April occurs. Why the nineteenth? It is one of the most important days in the history of our country. It is the day on which occurred the battle of Lexington and Concord in 1775, and it is the date on which cessation of hostilities was declared just eight years from the commencement of the war in 1783. No one day in this country has been the subject of more essays, sermons, addresses, etc. In Massachusetts it is Patriot's day. It is certainly most appropriate that our society meet on April 19."

in which the sessions of congress are held, Mrs. Foster said:

"The formal draft of our national society was signed Oct. 11, 1890, and contained the names of eighteen women. Mrs. Benjamin Harrison was our first president general. From this number, our enrollment has increased until Jan. 20, 1916, there have been admitted 120,747 members. The actual membership in good standing at above date was 90,095. During the first year of our organization, quoting from the pamphlet on memorial continental hall, revised to March 1, 1915, there were 816 applications approved, and these women are considered charter members; 717 real daughters have been admitted. Of this number, 91 were living March 1, 1915. These daughters (when they ask for it) each receive $8 per month from our national treasury.

"There are 1,474 chapters organized in our society. The first chapter, as you know, was the Chicago chapter, March 20, 1891; the second, the Atlanta chapter, April 15, 1891; the third, the New York City chapter, April 19, 1891.

"June 4, 1902, it was agreed that we purchase the site on which our beautiful memorial continental hall stands, at a cost of $50,266.17. The cornerstone was laid March 19, 1904, during the thirteenth continental congress. By the following April work on the central part of the building had progressed sufficiently for the fourteenth continental congress to be held within its walls. The total cost of the ground, buildings and furnishings was approximately $680,000. Of this amount, we owed at our last congress $50,000; $5,000 has been paid since that date, leaving at present only $45,000 unpaid. Every year for a number of years at each congress $20,000 has been taken from the current fund and paid on the debt. At our congress next April, if we pay $20,000 on the debt and then another $20,000 at congress, 1917, this will leave only $5,000 to be taken care of, and this should be easily paid, so by the end of congress, 1917, our debt on memorial continental hall should be eliminated.

"The auditorium with its seating capacity of about 2,000 is entirely inadequate to seat the Daughters attending congress. Therefore, it has been found advisable to purchase the land immediately back of the building so we can enlarge our hall."

Some Difficulties of The Chorus Director

In view of the fact that the Duluth Choral society will present Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation," Wednesday night, April 26, at the First M. E. church, the following explanation of choral technic, written by one of the members, will prove interesting to those who are not familiar with the subject:

"With the probable exception of the art of pianoforte teaching, there is nothing in music which has made such advances in the last five or six years as choral technic. Broadly speaking, there are three great elements in choral singing, namely, rhythm, tone and expression.

"Rhythm—Most persons would be inclined to think that rhythm is the conductor's affair, and that a conductor with a true sense of rhythm should be able to make any chorus sing rhythmically. That is not the case. A choir must be trained to be rhythmic, and that training often takes years, but when finally acquired it is their greatest asset.

"Tone—In an ordinary chorus the director generally has as the majority of the members those whose voices are untrained. So he has to build up the tone of his chorus much the same as the teacher of music in solo singing builds up the tone of his pupil. Forward resonance should always be obtained on the higher notes, and throatiness avoided. The breathing has to be watched and the members taught how to breathe. Tone has to be patterned to a chorus just as to an individual, and in this way the director gradually evolves a rich, round tone from his chorus.

"Expression—To sing loud is a matter of breath and resonance. Some choruses are taught to sing a soft pianissimo passage through the nose, which gives an ethereal quality obtainable in no other way. The most difficult thing to obtain in choral singing is a good mezza forte tone, as it is comparatively simple to get a fortissimo or pianissimo tone. A chorus must also be taught to sing crescendo. It often takes a long time to develop a crescendo and diminuendo that does not go by a series of jumps.

"There are few quick results in chorus training. It is only by diligent practice and great patience that great and lasting results can be obtained."

Women's Meeting at Bethel.

Miss Jessie E. Mauck, superintendent of the Bethel home, will be the speaker at the women's meeting which will be held at the Bethel at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. A social half-hour will follow this service. All mothers of the Bethel Sunday school pupils and any women who are interested in Bethel work are invited to be present.

Meather-Miller.

Last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Chandler, 4726 Tioga street, Miss Frances M. Meather of this city became the bride of E. W. Miller of St. Paul. The service was read by Rev. Mr. Hasse of St. Paul, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. The bride's gown was of white net with which she carried a bouquet of Bride roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Isabel Elder, wore a gown of blue taffeta, her bouquet being pink roses. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Evelyn Davis. William Miller of St. Paul attended his brother. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will make their home in St. Paul.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

A beautiful service has been arranged for 7 o'clock Easter morning, and will be held in the assembly hall of the association building. This service will be the last of a series of religious meetings for the young women of the city, held under the auspices of the Philathea union of Duluth and the Y. W. C. A. The series has been a most profitable one and has been well attended. The early service on Easter morning will be one of prayer and praise. There will be special music by Miss Alma Dennis and Miss Mary Whitcomb. The young women of the city are invited.

The young women living in the association building will enjoy an Easter breakfast in the clubroom at 8:30 o'clock.

There will be roller skating in the gymnasium from 3:30 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Association members should bring membership cards with them.

Children's Choir Will Be Guests of Guild

The children of St. James' orphanage who will sing the offertory at the 10:30 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart cathedral Easter will be the guests of the Junior Guild of St. James for dinner, which will be served in Cathedral hall. In the afternoon they will be the guests at an entertainment which has been arranged by Miss Marie Craig, chairman of the Junior guild. Miss Grace Enockson and Dorothy Alyne Crouch will be on the program.

AMUSEMENTS

Theater Gossip.

STRONG SHOW CLOSING AT THE GRAND.

Today's performances close one of the best combination vaudeville and photoplay bills that has been seen at the New Grand for many weeks. The bill is toplined by the Seven White Blackbirds, who offer a comedy and singing divertisement with the locale of a Southern town and a cotton plantation. Claudia Tracy, singing and talking comedienne; Le Vile and Inman in a rural comedy novelty, and Lowey and Lacy Sisters in a song and dance revue, are among the other offerings. The first of the new series of stories, "The Social Pirates," by George Bronson Howard, and "I Will Repay," a three-reel subject, topline among the photodramas while Sis Hopkins in "Romance and Riot," holds that position among the comedy films.

The new bill opening tomorrow matinee is headlined by an European novelty the Picola Midgets. Arthur Rigby, the minstrel man; Dale and Archer in a comedy talking bit, and the Gilfain Trio, singers, dancers and instrumentalists are among the other vaudeville offerings. A number of excellent film stories round out the bill.

FAIRBANKS ALWAYS PLEASES REX AUDIENCES.

There are two stars among the many engaged by Triangle Fine Arts company who are assured of the biggest kind of audiences in Duluth, and they are Douglas Fairbanks and William S. Hart. These two men, along with all the other Triangle celebrities, are seen exclusively at the Rex.

Fairbanks is now holding the screen and his audiences yesterday went away thoroughly satisfied. The story is handled in a way that is characteristic of Triangle studios. Good actors, good staging and good costuming and lighting effects alone will satisfy Messrs. Griffith, Ince and Sennet. Fairbanks in this picture romps through the most laughable of situations in his endeavor to make everybody happy—and he does it, including his audiences.

In addition to the Fairbanks play there is a Keystone comedy.

BURTON HOLMES NOVEL FILMS AT THE LYRIC.

To book readers the name of Burton Holmes means much. Many of these do not attend motion picture theaters regularly, perhaps but rarely. But they are interested in what Burton Holmes, America's great traveler, has to do, say or write.

For several weeks at the Lyric theater one of Burton Holmes' latest journeys across the continent is shown in splendid motion pictures on each Wednesday and Thursday, matinee and night, in addition to the regular program.

Last week he visited San Diego and this week, today and tomorrow, he takes his audience with him to the giant "big tree" forests of California, and to one who has seen them or the one who has not the scenes shown by this famous traveler are highly entertaining and instructive.

The regular picture play for today and tomorrow is "The Salesday" at the Lyric, a Frohman production in which Hazel Dawn and Irving Cummings take the leading roles. The picture is well done and the story has charm and will prove interesting.

ACTRESS ONCE NEWSPAPER WOMAN.

This is the story of what seems to have been a narrow escape. But then it all depends upon the viewpoint.

The scene? Elza Frederic's dressing room.

The place? The Lyceum theater, during an entr'acte of "It Pays to Advertise," the rollicking business farce which Cohan & Harris are presenting at that popular playhouse.

Miss Frederic was waiting to "go on."

"Do you know," she suddenly remarked, "that I had a terribly narrow escape from becoming one of the things you are?"

Her interlocutor gazed at the actress in mild surprise and made an effort to be mild and polite.

"I don't understand," he said.

"Yes," Miss Frederic continued, "I had a position offered me once to cover just such dope as you are handling, and I really know a lot about 'The Fourth Estate'."

Miss Frederic was at one time connected with one of the Chicago dailies.

WHEN LAUDER WASTED SYMPATHY.

Wherever Harry Lauder goes, Scotsmen, near Scotsmen and Scotsmen various degrees removed, make effort to see and shake hands with him. They usually introduce themselves by saying they once had an aunt who knew Lauder's sister's fiance's brother, or the like. But, now and then, as anyone will, Lauder meets up with an old and forgotten crony of his boyhood.

In a Western town some time ago he was astonished to turn in his dressing room and behold Tom MacPherson, who had driven little blind mules with him in the Scotch mines, and whom he hadn't seen for many a year.

"So," said Mac, "you're a big man now, Harry; famous, rich, great and a star. And glad I am to see you."

"And you, Tom?" asked Lauder.

"Oh, I emigrated fifteen years ago. I'm still fussing around the mines," said MacPherson.

"Well, well," Lauder mused. "Many things have happened since the old days. You were always a smart lad, and I was always more or less of a dunce in the estimation of the other chaps. And here I am and here you are—" and he went no further because he didn't want to make his old friend feel badly.

At the performance he saw MacPherson in a box, and after the show was discussing it with the manager of the theater.

"'Tis a great tribute to the loyalty of old friendship," said Lauder. "Tonight there was a man who paid $2.50 a seat in a box because he knew me when I was a miner. And he's still a miner, and he couldn't afford it, either, I venture. His name was MacPherson, and—"

"Tom MacPherson?" asked the local showman.

"Yes," said Lauder. "He was always that sort of lad—willing to spend his last cent for—"

The manager was coughing into his handkerchief by now. "Last cent!" he sputtered. "Tom MacPherson owns about thirty million dollars' worth of mines and is the richest man in this vicinity."

Lauder looked injured. For a full minute he stood dumb. "He always was a smart lad," he said.

Lauder will be at the Orpheum-Strade Thursday afternoon and night.

NEW TYPE OF MUSICAL COMEDY.

"The Only Girl," the new musical comedy which Joe Weber will present at the Lyceum Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with Miss Edna Munsey in the title role, is to a certain extent a new type of the popular theatrical farce. In writing the book, Henry Blossom, librettist, has provided what might be termed "a real comedy" which might stand alone without its lyrics, which are admittedly of a higher order than usually allotted, and the brilliant score which has been added by Victor Herbert. Not in a long time has this composer been quite so happy in providing tuneful airs as he has in "The Only Girl." In offering this new musical play, Manager Joe Weber engaged a company that proved notable for its "team work." Among them are: Edna Munsey, Franklyn Farnum, Cecilia Novasio, Tom Burton, Frank Coombs, Elsie Baird, Russell Lennon, Ann Walker, Alfred Fisher and Nellie De Grasse, and a chorus off pretty girls.

ZELDA AUDIENCES WELCOME SONG BIRDS

A SELIG RED SEAL PLAY
"THOU SHALT NOT COVET"

SCENE FROM "THOU SHALT NOT COVET."

Enrico G. Prati and Elsa de Marchi, the grand opera singers who opened their engagement at the Zelda theater yesterday, were given one of the most cordial receptions ever offered by Duluth theater goers. Capacity houses at each performance thronged the Zelda.

They will give three performances a day, at 3 o'clock, 8 and 9:20, respectively. They will change their program every Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday and will be at the Zelda indefinitely.

"Thou Shalt Not Covet," a spectacular Big Four drama in five acts with Kathlyn Williams and Tyrone Power in the title roles, will feature the program for three days commencing with today's show. This is one of the most pretentious offerings ever shown at the Zelda and in one scene it shows the wreck of a liner in midocean while hundreds of men, women and children battle desperately for life. The play is a moral drama taken from the Scriptures, "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife."

Bad Fire at Belgrade.

Paris, April 19.—A destructive fire in Belgrade, formerly the capital of Serbia, is reported in a dispatch to the Matin from Bucharest. It is said the eastern section of the city was almost destroyed. Several hundred houses were burned and thousands of persons are homeless.

Charged With Violating Act.

Washington, April 19.—The Federal trade commission issued a formal complaint today against the A. B. Dick company of Chicago and the Neostyle company of New York, an allied concern, manufacturers of mimeographing machines and supplies, charging the companies with violation of the Clayton act in attaching license restrictions to mimeographing machines.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Battles of Lexington and Concord, 1775.

In the night of April 18 General Gage sent 800 men to Lexington to arrest Samuel Adams and John Hancock, who were staying there with a friend. This errand accomplished, the troops were to proceed to Concord and destroy the military stores that were being collected there. Paul Revere was sent to give the alarm, notifying the patriot leaders and rousing the countryside. During the night as the redcoats marched along the main road, twinkling lights on hill and in dale showed that the march was no longer a secret. The commanding officers ordered Major Pitcairn forward with six companies to secure the bridges on the Concord river, and sent back to Boston for reinforcements. When Pitcairn reached Lexington just as the sun was rising, he was confronted by fifty minute men, upon whom he opened fire, killing eight and wounding ten. The British passed on to Concord, but finding the stores hidden and minute men thickening everywhere, began their retreat to Boston a little before noon, over a road swept by the deadly fire of American riflemen. Reinforcements found them in disorderly flight, and at sunset the whole party entered Charlestown, upon the full run, to seek shelter under the guns of the fleet. Losses—British, 273; Americans, 93. "The shot heard 'round the world"—and still ringing—had been fired.

READING (available in Duluth public library)—Richard Frothingham, "History of the Siege of Boston, and of the Battles of Lexington, Concord and Bunker Hill" (author an antiquary, and work based on thorough study of original materials standard work on the subject); William Heath, "Memoirs" (containing anecdotes, details of skirmishes, battles and other military events during the American war; valuable for accounts of the retreat of the British from Lexington, battle of Bunker Hill and later engagements about New York).

DISTRIBUTED PROSPERITY.

The United States Steel corporation, which announced a large increase in the wages of its workers last February, announces another increase of about ten per cent to take effect May 1.

"In view of the continuance of prosperous conditions," says Judge Gary, "it has been decided to make advances in wage rates."

But it shows more than that.

It shows that this prosperity is to be shared more widely than ever before—and that's infinitely better news.

◆

One can't help wondering just how far the crisis with Germany is due to Berlin's knowledge that so many members of congress voted against the president.

◆

A MYSTERY THAT IS NO MYSTERY.

Listen only to the voices of the Outs, seeking to get in, and you'd think that the United States never made a greater mistake in electing a president than it did last time; that President Wilson has done nothing right and everything wrong; that his aims are low and his execution feeble.

By raising a vast clamor, the Outs, seeking to get in, are creating what seems to themselves, doubtless, a colorable imitation of widespread popular discontent.

Yet—here is a curious thing—whenever an opportunity occurs, anywhere in the country, to test popular sentiment, it is for Wilson. Minnesota has a presidential primary, and though Minnesota is no Democratic state Wilson's vote is greater than that of all Republican candidates combined. A Michigan paper takes a poll of its readers, and though in that place Wilson four years ago got but twelve per cent of the total vote, in this year's poll, much to the amazement of the Republican paper that took it, he gets more votes than anybody, and his total is a third of the whole.

In the Wisconsin primaries the president's vote in Milwaukee is almost as large as the combined votes of the La Follette and Philipp delegate candidates, though this fight was a fierce one.

In Oregon the Republican Oregonian of Portland takes a straw vote, and Wilson gets more votes than Roosevelt and Hughes combined.

And so it goes—bad news from the people, all of it, for the Outs frantically striving to tear Wilson down that they may climb in.

Not surprising, however, though it manifestly amazes the Outs.

The Outs criticize Wilson for not dipping into the European war when Belgium was invaded, though they were themselves either approving or silent at the time, and ask the people to be indignant therefor. The people are not indignant, but heartily approve keeping out.

The Outs criticize Wilson for not bullying straight into a war with Germany over the submarine outrages, and ask the people to be indignant therefor. The people are not indignant, but heartily approve the president's course in keeping out of the maelstrom of war as long as he could consistently with American self-respect.

The Outs criticize Wilson for not intervening in Mexico, for not getting into a war with her, for not taking advantage of her frantic and distracted condition to plunder her, and ask the people to be indignant therefor. The people are not indignant, but heartily approve the president's determination not to fight Mexico unless Mexico makes it necessary.

The fact is, the hullaballoo of the Outs to the contrary notwithstanding, that the president's policies have squared throughout with the common sense of the American people; and when that happens, all the political outcries in the world will not injure the president who makes it happen.

The polls and primaries and straw ballots are dismaying to the Outs, striving by whatever possible means to get in, simply because the president is RIGHT from the popular viewpoint.

◆

NOT NECESSARILY WAR, BUT—

A breaking off of diplomatic relations with Germany, if Germany lets it come to that, does not necessarily mean war, though it greatly increases the danger of war. It would be something like notifying Germany that its conduct is so abhorrent to our conceptions of civilization that we cannot continue to associate with her. The real menace of war probably would lie in the fact that Germany, lacking the restraint of consideration for our friendship, would plunge into a submarine campaign that would soon embroil us in actual war. Though how her submarine tactics could grow much worse it is difficult to see.

The president's patience is exhausted, and the patience of the country is exhausted. The condition is of Germany's making. The future of the relations between the two nations lies in her hands. In the meantime the American people will continue to hope for the best and make ready for the worst.

That government seed which grew into a cabbage so big it hid a calf must have been labeled something else than "cabbage," or how did it come to be sown in a pasture?

◆

Theodore Roosevelt says that he "would use every honorable expedient to avoid even a just war."

Is it quite fair then, Colonel, to strive to create the impression that the present administration is ignoble and weak and un-American for doing precisely that—and doing it consistently and wisely and without sacrifice of national honor or self-respect or world standing?

Can even the hope of gaining a third term as president warrant such unfairness?

◆

It seems reasonably safe to put the skis and snowshoes away for the season, but the wise man will not pin any faith on a very small supply of coal.

◆

THE COMPLAINT AGAINST WILSON.

As nearly as a careful survey of all the early campaign talk discloses, the critics so loudly voicing their complaints against Wilson are greatly discontented because the president has not hurried us into war so they could criticize his administration for getting us into trouble the Republicans left us unprepared to meet.

◆

Uncle Sam might even be willing to withdraw from Mexico if Villa and Carranza would both tell him who is back of them.

◆

THOSE VILLA RUMORS.

Apparently it was too good to be true.

There seems no longer room for doubt that the reports of Villa's death were exaggerated, and that at least he is nowhere near so dead as he ought to be.

◆

There is time yet for somebody to intimate that the Mexicans are putting Germany up to making all this trouble for Uncle Sam.

THE ARMY BILL.

If we are to have war with a first class power, the army bill that passed the senate last night does not provide too large a force.

If we are not, and this is intended to be a peace footing, this military establishment of a million men is a ridiculous reversion toward a previous stage of human progress.

The fate of this measure, which proposes a far greater establishment than that provided by the house bill, will depend almost entirely on the outcome of the strained relations with Germany.

Professor Taft says that "If suffrage were right, every child would cast a vote." One trouble is that some who do cast them are less competent to do so than a good many children.

COPPERHEADISM.

> If it were possible to refer the question to the people the country would vote against entering the European war, or taking any step which would bring us within reach of such a catastrope, because of any of the issues of law and fact raised in the submarine controversy.—Chicago Tribune.

That is stating as a fact something that, lacking such a referendum, the Chicago Tribune cannot know to be a fact, but which we believe to be not a fact.

Germany sank the Lusitania and murdered American men, women and children. Then it sank the Arabic and many other vessels, all contrary to law and against the instincts and regulations of humanity. Taken to task, Germany first declared the Lusitania to be an armed cruiser and asserted that the Arabic was about to ram the submarine. Proven untruthful, Germany promised better behavior, yet continually produced worse behavior. After striving to maintain friendly relations even to such a length that the Tribune and other anti-administration voices condemned him for weakness, the president has at last apparently given it up as a bad job, and, goaded beyond forbearance by this continual breaking of solemn promises, has prepared his last word to Germany.

Then comes the Tribune, beginning a Copperhead backfire to weaken the president in his stand for America and humanity, and declares that if he ventures boldly he will lack the backing of American public opinion, and demands that congress step in and stop him.

The president does not want war. The American people do not want war. But the president cannot suffer always a continuous defiance of American rights, a galling contempt for solemn pledges, and a persistent flouting of American demands. Nor will the American people always suffer them. If, after nearly a year, patience having ceased to be a virtue, American self-respect demands that an end be put to the ridiculous conversation with Germany, to end that conversation means war, then war it must be. Abhor it though they indubitably do, if the choice is between persistent humiliation and war, then it is no choice at all. It must be war. If it is war, it will be because it is unavoidable, and the president will not lack support in an unavoidable war.

But what the Tribune is trying to achieve, unless it is distinction as a daily rival of the Fatherland, it is difficult to imagine.

Wars Have Created Words

From London Answers.

It seems certain that our nickname for the Germans—"Huns"—and the French nickname, "Boches," that comes from "Caboches," the "Hobnails" of 1870, are words that have come to stay. At first they were used in jest, but quite recently the Observer, in a perfectly serious article, mentioned that "Boches" and the word "Hun" are used in serious speeches and conversation.

"Kultur" is another word which has found its way into the language. Everybody seems to know that there is a difference between "culture" and "kultur"—and a difference not merely of spelling.

Our Sixteenth century war with Spain was responsible for several new words being added to the language. "Embargo" and "contraband" are two of them; while to our campaigns in the Low countries we are indebted for such words as "freebooter," "furlough," "cashier," "leagues," "drill," "onslaught," "sconce" and "domineer."

"Forlorn hope" is a military phrase borrowed from the Dutch "verloren hoop"—hoop meaning troop; and, although "comrade" is a Spanish word, it came to us through the soldiers who fought in the Low countries.

The word "khaki" was not used in the way it is today until the Boer war. The term "Die-hards" came to us from the Battle of Albuera in 1811, when Col. Inglis, addressing his men, cried: "Die hard, my lads, die hard!"

The term "free lance," now meaning a literary man who is in no one's employ, is a relic of the Crusades, when companies of knights roved from place to place, offering their services to anyone who would pay for them.

"Gazette," meaning a newspaper, originated during the war of 1563 between the Venetians and the Turks. The news was read out publicly in certain places, and the fee for hearing it read was one "gazetta"—a Venetian coin less than a farthing in value. The military word "gazetted" is derived from the fact that military appointments are always announced in the London Gazette, and so comes indirectly from the same source.

Duluth, the Summer City

Duluth News Tribune: The Herald suggests that the Midsummer Festival organization revive itself to add to the drawing interest of the national regatta. The News Tribune indorses the suggestion. We add our hearty "so be it."

If ever there was or is to be the opportunity, it will be at this time. Goodly crowds will be here; we want them larger. But this is not all, it is Duluth's job to bring them back in future years when there will be no regatta. It is Duluth's chance to advertise.

Every evening will be a vacant time for the visitors and the stay may be prolonged a day. Whether by pageant, by water carnival or some other means, the attractions of the city should be so emphasized that every stranger will come back next year and other years.

Seeing America has become a vogue, seeing Duluth should be a central factor of it. There is no other American city so beautiful. There is no other with so many attractions. There is no other with an equally delightful summer climate. There is no other can offer so many side trips.

A night water pageant can be staged nowhere else as effectively. If not that, then a carnival with pageanting features. Make it a three nights' show of beauty, brilliance and history. Get Duluth's story into the heads of all who come and its spirit into their hearts.

The Herald has said something. Let's all go to it and boost for a greater summer Duluth. Let us take, as a returning citizen suggests, the Los Angeles method; they are not patented and with the start offered in the crowds assured, make Duluth the great summer city of America.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Hired Hands.

Upon the farmers' rolling acres, the hired men, husky harvest makers, now push the gleaming plows; all day above their tasks they're bending, and when the twilight is descending they milk three thousand cows. They rise before the dawn is breaking, and give their sweat-strained mules a raking with brush and currycomb; with pails of swill they go a-reeling, to feed the porkers, loudly squealing as they blow off the foam. They feed the calves and groom the chickens, and milk more cows to beat the dickens, before the rise of sun; and while the rest of us are snoozing, the glory of the morning losing, their day's work is begun. The eight-hour day? Don't josh or mock them; such levity would pain and shock them; some eighteen hours they toil, between the hour of their upgetting, and their retiring, tired and sweating, and caked with fertile soil. We boost and praise the festive farmer, and say he is the honest charmer who keeps the nations fed; but, by the boosters, bards and sages, of him who tills the land for wages, there's mighty little said.

The Coming Execration of War

Editorial in the New York Evening Post.

As war has always had its glorifiers—the latter more and more apologetic and shamefaced in our day—so there have always been those who have cried out on its wickedness and enormities. The poets, the prophets, religion, art, science, education—reform, progress, the hopes and ideals of civilization—all have shown a deepening repugnance to the wild work of the battlefield. To every responsible statesman, confronted with the possibility of war, the appeal has been coming in tones even more urgent to —take mercy

On the poor souls for whom this hungry war
Opens his vasty jaws; and on your head
Turning the widow's tears, the orphans' cries,
The dead men's blood, the pining maidens' groans,
For husbands, fathers, and betrothed lovers
That shall be swallowed in this controversy.

All this is trite. But we are firmly convinced that the present war is certain to deepen and intensify the feeling of mankind against all war. There are already visible elements of accumulating execration of war which it will only need the coming of peace to cause to burst out into demonstrations such as the world has never yet seen. These elements are manifold. We see them in the unspeakable and almost unendurable human misery which the war has wrought. We see them in the appalling sense of loss and waste of the most precious things on earth—needless loss and waste, as the bitter reflection is. We see them in the terrible reactions of war upon the very devotees of war. It is not necessary to credit all the stories about Admiral von Tirpitz being made sleepless and haunted by the thought of all the brave young men whom he had sent to a torturing death beneath the sea. But if they were true they would only repeat, in their way, the experiences which made even the Iron Duke blench after Waterloo. We know that such a cold-blooded and professional vivisectionist of war as Maj. Moraht has had wrung from him a moan of grief over the thousands of German and French soldiers perishing in front of Verdun. And we know that the kaiser himself has been so cut to the heart by the crippling of a whole generation in Germany that he has cried out: "I swear that I did not wish this war!"

No; none of them wished this war. As Mr. Oliver writes in "The Ordeal of Battle," Austria did not wish what has happened in consequence of her ultimatum to Serbia; nor Germany what has come about as a result of her backing Austria, and so on. What was wanted was a little war, or a short war, not at all the tremendous cataclysm which has almost whelmed the earth. Small wonder that now everybody in the most remote degree responsible starts back with horror at the black disaster which has come upon millions of human beings. But our point is that if this is true even of men trained to arms, of men all whose thoughts have been for years steeped in armaments and battle, of statesmen accustomed to contemplate armed strife between nations as a constant possibility—how much stronger will be the denunciation of war on a great scale by those who have been most bowed and broken by its blast! There will surely be a day of reckoning. The present is a time of suffering in mute heroism. Love of country stifles the cries of the stricken. But the hour will come when great masses of the population now dumb will find their voices, and when, there is every reason to believe, there will be a manifestation of hatred of war surpassing anything of the kind ever known.

Now, what we would lay emphasis upon is the fact that here is a part of war—a necessary attendant to it—which public men are bound to take into all their calculations. We are bidden to prepare for war. But must not an essential part of that preparedness be to make ready for the coming execration of war? Is it not the statesman's business to include in all plans for the future a correct estimate of what men and women are going to think about war, and what will be the measureless wrath which they will visit upon rulers who, without clear justification, drag their countries, or allow them to be drawn, into hostilities? Of all this we get only dim glimpses as yet. But it needs only a little imagination to understand what thoughts and emotions must be struggling within the breasts of the millions of toilers and mourners in the nations now at war, and to be sure that, when the day for free utterance arrives, their voice will be lifted like the sound of many waters against the deep damnation of this needless war, and of all wars like unto it. In the presence of such a mighty protest as we can already see framing, what becomes of all the light talk about one or another of the combatants in the European war falling upon the United States wantonly, as soon as the killing over there is left off? The thing is unbelievable. If within a long period after peace has come any government in Europe, or any dynasty, should propose to renew the agony of the past two years by rushing into a war with any great power, that government could not live a day, that dynasty would fall. So haunting will be the memories of these terrible years, so unutterable the loathing of war.

The Wealth of the Nation

San Francisco Bulletin: The National Security league has now gotten down to printing statements like this:

"After this European war our country will be envied for its great wealth.

"We shall be disliked.

"Why?

"Because the United States has the most money in the world.

"Besides, the foreign nations feel unfriendly to us, because during this war we have held them 'to strict account' and made big money out of their necessities.

"And the United States is an undefended gold mine."

George Ade wrote like this to be funny; the National Security league, probably didn't intend that.

Corn is growing in Kansas, wheat in the Sacramento valley, Minnesota and the Dakotas; rice in Louisiana; cotton in the Carolinas! iron ore is being dug from the Mesaba hills; coal from the mines of Pennsylvania; copper in Arizona, Michigan and Montana; everywhere, from coast to coast, the labor of men—which, with natural resources, is the only wealth the nation has—is being applied to the processes of production. We are a great social organism, dependent to some extent on Europe, but increasingly and especially depended on by her. The interests of her people are the interests of ours, even though a cloud of money-hungry middlemen may intervene; it is their interest and to ours that production in this country, after the war, shall not be impeded. No nation can hurt America without hurting itself more. Our wealth is our capacity to produce—the world won't care to rob us of that.

But the busy preparedness mongers never seem to doubt that all the wealth of the nation is locked up in the vaults of the National City Bank of New York.

Political Straws in the Minnesota Breezes

Campaign Subjects Discussed by Minnesota Editors.

He'll Use Part of It.

"'Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth,' will not be Teddy's campaign slogan," says the Ada Herald. And yet he'll use part of it—the last five words, with "I" substituted for "they."

Get Your Ear-Cotton Ready.

Preparedness for personal peace is advised. The modesty that kept T. R.'s name off Minnesota's ballots is solved and he's at work. The Belle Plaine Herald puts it this way: "Roosevelt, the man who refused to permit his name to appear on the Minnesota primary ballots, nor on those of any other state for that matter, openly proclaimed his candidacy for the Republican nomination for president last week. Unquestionably, it was clever politics on his part to stay out of the early state primaries. He is now in position to claim greater strength than he may actually have, without the claim being contested. With the national convention but two months off, it looks more like T. R. for the nomination every day. Prepare for some sizzling politics this summer."

Well, Rather!

One of the keenest disappointments of the age is put this way by the Wabasha Herald: "Financial prosperity and strength are greater in the United States today than ever before. Don't the Republicans wish the Democrats would have a good alibi in this case!"

And That's His Big Asset Now.

If Roosevelt had a middle name, would it be "Hopper"? The Luverne Journal would evidently rechristen him so, for it says: "The inconsistent Roosevelt bellowed like a bull moose because the dear people didn't have a chance to elect delegates in 1912, and attributed his defeat by President Taft in the Republican convention to that fact. In 1916 he refuses to permit his name to be voted upon in the primaries and announces his candidacy for the presidency after most of the primaries have been held, in the hope of lining up the uninstructed delegates. When it comes to hopping from one position to another the great Theodore has it on every man who has ever been in American politics."

Will Support Wilson.

"Who'll vote for Wilson?" is occasionally asked in blustering fashion by some standpat bluffer. The editor of the Buhl Advertiser vouches for one, and thousands of others will be like him. He says: "We are not a Democrat in our belief, but it does seem to us that, considering the record that President Wilson has made for himself and for the people of this country, there is not another man more fit for the office today, and our support shall be given him, provided he keeps on as he has so far."

More Harmonizing.

Roosevelt may be the great harmonizer, but here's what the Republican Anoka Union says: "Roosevelt got the most votes in the Minneapolis Journal's contest, and more's the pity."

Michigan Musings

Brief Paragraphs From the Wolverine State Press.

And It Won't Be T. R.

Marquette Mining Journal: About the day after tomorrow we will doubtless hear from the inevitable man who will want to run Col. Dodd for president.

It Pays to Advertise.

Crystal Falls Diamond Drill: Criminal action is threatened in Baraga county, where it is charged that a whole issue of the L'Anse Sentinel containing "dry" advertising was stolen from the mails and "wet" advertising put in its place in a subsequent issue which was circulated. Evidently "It pays to advertise."

Meaning He's in a Sweat for the Office?

Iron Mountain Press: Senator Terry Corliss perspires to be auditor-general—wants the Republican nomination.

But They're Not Talking of That.

Bay City Times: Moreover, there was plenty of opportunity for preparedness during the long period the other fellows were in authority at Washington.

Mr. Ford and Senator Smith.

Iron Mountain Press: In the opinion of a good many people, Mr. Ford is the equal of Senator Smith in many respects and is superior in others. Certain it is that the automobile man has the interests of the "common peepul" more closely at heart than the senator. Mr. Ford, unlike the senator, appreciates the fact that he is not of presidential caliber and he has treated his enforced candidacy as a joke. We wouldn't be at all surprised if Mr. Ford requested the Michigan delegation not to vote for him at Chicago.

Wages on the Lakes.

Marquette Mining Journal: Wages are going up on the lakes. So is "the cost of living." But in this case the companies pay the cost of living. Wage increases on the lakes mean more than they do on land.

Arranged Differently.

Everybody's Magazine: A man was brought before a police court charged with abusing his team and using loud and profane language on the street. One of the witnesses was a pious old darky, who was submitted to a short cross-examination.

"Did the defendant use improper language while he was beating his horse?" asked the lawyer.

"Well, he talk mighty loud, suh."

"Did he indulge in profanity?"

"What I mean, Uncle Ans, is did he use words that would be proper for your minister to use in a sermon?"

"Oh, yes, suh, yes, suh," the old man replied, with a grin that revealed the full width of his immense mouth, "but dey'd have to be 'ranged diff'runt."

A Fairy Tale.

Curled in a maze of dolls and bricks
I find Miss Mary, aged six,
  Blondy blue-eyed, frank, capricious,
Absorbed in her first fairy book,
From which she scarce can pause to look,
  Because it's "so delicious!"

"Such marvels, too! a wondrous boat
In which they cross a magic moat
  That's smooth as glass to row on—
A cat that brings all kinds of things;
And see! the queen has angel wings—
  Then Ogre comes"—and so on.

What trash it is! How sad to find
(Dear Moralist) the childish mind
  So active and so pliant
Rejecting themes in which you mix
For truths with pleasing facts, to fix
  On tales of dwarf and giant!

In merest prudence men should teach
That cats mellifluous in speech
  Are painful contradictions;
That science ranks as monstrous things
Two pairs of upper limbs—so wings—
  E'en angels' wings!—are fictions!—

That there's no giant now but Steam;
That life, although "an empty dream,"
  Is scarce "a land of Fairy!"
"Of course I said all this." Why, no;
I did a thing far wiser, though—
  I read the tale with Mary.

Talks on Thrift

Issued by the American Bankers' Association.

Thrift.

Without me no man has ever achieved success, nor has any nation ever become great.

I have been the bed rock of every successful career, and the cornerstone of every fortune.

All the world knows me and most of the world heeds my warning.

The poor may have me as well as the rich.

My power is limitless, my application boundless.

He who possesses me has contentment in the present and surety for the future.

I am of greater value than pearls, rubies and diamonds.

Once you have me, no man can take me away.

I lift my possessor to higher planes of living, increase his earning power and bring to realization the hopes of his life.

I make a man well dressed, well housed and well fed.

I insure absolutely against the rainy day.

I drive want and doubt and care away.

I guarantee those who possess me prosperity and success.

I have exalted those of low degree and those of high degree have found me a helpful friend.

To obtain me you need put out no capital but personal effort, and on all you invest in me I guarantee dividends that last through life and after.

I am as free as air.

I am yours if you will take me.

I am Thrift.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

The Dying of Self.

Except a corn of wheat * * * die!" Yes, it is through death we pass to life. Discipleship in which there is no death can never be truly alive. The nipping winter is essential to the green and flowery spring. No tomb, no resurrection glory! In every life there must be a grave, and self must be buried within it.

We must die to self in our prayers. In many prayers self is obtrusive and aggressive from end to end. It is self, self self! That self must be crucified. We must make more room for others in our supplications. On our knees the egotist must die, and the altruist be born. And "if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit"! There are multitudes of professing Christians who would experience a wonderful resurrection if they were more "given to hospitality" in their communion with the Lord.

And if self die in our prayers, nowhere else will it be seen. That which is truly slain when we are upon our knees will not reassert itself when we return to common ways of work and service. And, therefore, let the corn of wheat fall into the ground and die!—J. H. Jowett.

The sea is but another sky,
  The sky a sea as well,
And which is earth, and which the heavens,
  The eye can scarcely tell.

So when for us life's evening hour
  Soft passing shall descend,
May glory, born of earth and heaven,
  The earth and heavens blend;

Flooded with peace the spirit float,
  With silent rapture glow,
Till where earth ends and heaven begins
  The soul shall scarcely know.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

"A SOCIALIST" SEES WRONGS IN INDUSTRIAL SYSTEM

To the Editor of The Herald:

The dismissal of Prof. Holmes is not the only unjust or uncalled-for dismissal that should be severely criticized and condemned.

A man of a large family and a taxpayer in Cloquet writes in the Open Court that he has been out of work fourteen months while young men from out of town are given work. Cloquet, in this case, is a fair example of every other city or town.

I have seen it a thousand times where strangers are given work while first-class men at home have been turned away to beg, steal or die for all that the employers care. Yes, I have seen it done where it was plain that the employer was losing money, and for sheer cussedness and apparently to destroy the home and family of the worker. Hard statement to make, Mr. Editor, but I swear to it, and it is therefore we must admit that the employer of labor is by far the mightiest monarch on earth today.

The employer can pick any of his employes, blame him for anything he sees fit, and there is no redress; no court to go to, none whatever; he is dismissed, perhaps blacklisted for all time to come because of his religion or politics or a family fuss or any personal matter of the slightest sort, yet there is no chance for appeal or redress.

The boss may come into the mill or shop after he has swallowed from twenty to forty drinks of squirrel whisky and no one can tell on whose head the ax will fall.

There is much talk of "the sober and steady man will hold his job the longest," but my long years of experience speak differently. The man that knows more about the work than the boss does is first to go, regardless of anything else.

No! Don't tell me we have political and religious freedom, for we have not, and we cannot have it until we have industrial freedom, if that is possible to obtain.

If a man is subject to dismissal and blacklisting because he is not a Republican, then he is not a free man and the War of Independence was grand waste of time, blood and money so far as this man is concerned.

If the governor of our state should take the bank away from one banker and give it to another, what would you think or say? If he took the farm away from one farmer and gave it to another without any reason and explanation, what would be the comment? But a wage worker, though he has earned his job as much as the banker has earned his bank and the farmer has earned his farm, is told to go at any moment, while another man is put in his place and no question asked and no reason given.

I am just wondering how long the people will stand for the tyranny of the boss and how long we are to live under "democracy" without having it?

A SOCIALIST.

Duluth, April 17.

WANTS A LAW TO GUARD TAXPAYERS' INTERESTS

To the Editor of The Herald:

On April 14 an Ely taxpayer had a little article in your Open Court which hit the nail on the head, and should be kept a-rolling by all taxpayers of towns and cities in the state. In all cities the taxpayers ought to get together and try to get a bill before the house, to first bar all non-property owners and non-taxpayers from holding an office, such as clerk, mayor or trustee, for there are always plenty of taxpayers to hold such offices. Then proceed: First of all taxpayers and property holders should be given the preference of all jobs, and also men who have lived in a town since it existed. A year ago there were three teams engaged in moving taxpayers out of this village, and this year promises to beat last year. Our newly elected mayor is a cook and usually cooks in a logging or road camp, and whenever a meeting is called he must be sent for with some conveyance, which the taxpayers have to pay for. But that is the way all range towns get their start. Let's get together, Ely taxpayer and neighbor, and get a bill before the house in the near future. Thanking you very much for the space in your paper, yours truly, A TAXPAYER.

Keewatin, Minn., April 16.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

"A Reader," Embarrass, Minn.: Could you give me the address of any watch-making school in Minnesota, Wisconsin or Illinois?

Ans.—The editor knows of no such school in any state. Your best course would be to apply to any of the larger jewelry concerns in the state for information as to apprenticeships in the trade.

"M. W.," Ironton, Minn.: (1) Who won the world championship in baseball in 1914? (2) Who holds it now?

Ans.—Boston Nationals. (2) Boston Americans.

"M. G. C.," Bemidji, Minn.: (1) When where and by whom was the I. W. W. organized? (2) When was the strike at Lawrence, Mass.? (3) Give a short biography of Elizabeth Gurley Flynn.

Ans.—(1) The movement started in 1898 with the Western Federation of Miners' organization of the "Western Labor union" to keep the American Federation of Labor out of the Rocky mountain region. In 1902 this became the "American Labor union," and in 1905, at a meeting in Chicago, a reorganization was effected, and the name "Industrial Workers of the World" adopted. There are now two branches, one with headquarters in Chicago and the other with headquarters in Detroit. The object of the I. W. W. is "abolition of the wage system," and it frankly ignores government and governmental agencies in its plans and policies. The I. W. W. first came into prominence in this country during the strike at Lawrence, Mass., when it took charge of the strikers' cause. An interesting chapter on the Industrial Workers of the World is included in Marot's "American Labor Unions." The movement is closely allied to the Syndicalism found in many European countries. (2) In January, 1912. (3) Born in 1890 in New York city. Had but a grade school education, but a natural ability for public speaking led her to take up street-corner talking while only a girl. She was arrested for this, and that fact advertised her and made her a stronger drawing card. She became identified with the more radical industrial elements and went from place to place on speaking campaigns. During one of these she was in Duluth and on the iron ranges during the strike of 1908. During this visit she met John A. Jones of Minnesota, an agitator, and married him, though she declared at the time her contempt for legal marriage, and only went through the form to keep Jones from being arrested, as he had a "bad" record. With the forming of the I. W. W. she became identified with it and was chosen as an organizer. She was active in the Lawrence strike and also at Paterson, N. J.

Were he living today, he'd be proud to possess
Such a daughter as Kate. Ah! 'twas grit that she showed
On that terrible evening when Donahue's train
Jumped the bridge and went down in the darkness and rain.

She was only eighteen, but a woman in size,
With a figure as graceful and lithe as a doe;
With peach blossom cheeks, and with violet eyes;
With teeth and complexion like new-fallen snow.
With a nature unspoiled and unblemished by art—
With a generous soul, and a warm, noble heart!

'Tis evening. The darkness is dense and profound;
Men linger at home by their bright-blazing fire;
The wind wildly howls with a horrible sound,
And shrieks through the vibrating telegraph wires;
The fierce lightning flashes along the dark sky;
The rain falls in torrents; the river rolls by.

The scream of a whistle—the rush of a train;
The sound of a bell! a mysterious light
That flashes and flares through the fast-falling rain!
The falling of timbers, the space of a breath—
A splash in the river—then darkness and death!

The sounds of destruction she happens to hear;
She springs to the window—she throws up the sash
The tall tree-tops groan, and she hears the faint cry
Of a drowning man down in the river nearby!

And then through her soul in a moment there flies
She turns to her trembling old mother and cries:
Then out through the door disappears, in the shower.

She flies down the track through the pitiless rain;
She reaches the river. The water below
Whirls and seethes through the timbers. She shudders again—
"The bridge! To Moingona God help me to go!"
Then closely about her she gathers her gown

Then carefully, over the timbers she creeps
On her hands and her knees, almost holding her breath.
The loud thunder peals and the wind wildly sweeps
And struggles to hurry her downward to death;
But the thought of the train to destruction so near

With the blood dripping down from each torn, bleeding limb,
Slowly over the timbers her dark way she feels;
Her strength is fast failing—she staggers and reels!
She falls—Ah! the danger is over at last;
Her feet touch the earth and the long bridge is passed.

In an instant new life seems to come to her form.
She springs to her feet and forgets her despair.
On, on to Moingona! She faces the storm.
She reaches the station—the keeper is there.

Then sounds the loud roar of the swift coming train,
The hissing of steam, and there, brightly ahead,
The gleam of a headlight illumines the rain.
"Down brakes," shrieks the whistle, defiant and shrill;
She heeds the red signal—she slackens—she's still!

Oh, noble Kate Shelley, your mission is done,
Your deed that dark night will not fade from our gaze.
An endless renown you have worthily won,
Let the nation be just, and accord you its praise.
Let your name, let your fame and your courage declare
What a woman can do, and a woman can dare!

—Eugene I. Hall in Harper's Young People.

Renounce the Cup.

A drunkard reached his cheerless home,
The storm without was dark and wild;
He forced his weeping wife to roam,
A wand'rer friendless with her child;
As thro' the falling snow she pressed,
The babe was sleeping on her breast,
The babe was sleeping on her breast.

And colder still the winds did blow,
And darker hours of night came on,
And deeper grew the drifted snow,
Her limbs were chilled, her strength was gone.
"O God!" she cried in accents wild,
"If I must perish, save my child;
If I must perish, save my child!"

She stripped the mantle from her breast,
And bared her bosom to the storm,
As round the child she wrapped the vest,
She smiled to think that it was warm.
With one cold kiss, a tear of grief,
The broken-hearted found relief,
The broken-hearted found relief.

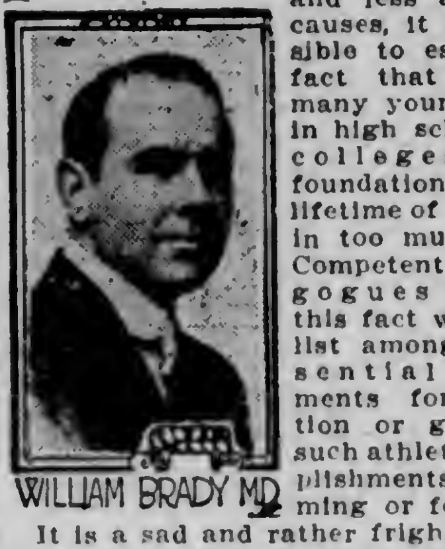
At morn her cruel husband passed,
And saw her on her snowy bed;
Her tearful eyes were closed at last,
Her cheek was pale, her spirit fled.
He raised the mantle from the child,
The babe looked up, and sweetly smiled,
The babe looked up and sweetly smiled.

Shall this sad warning plead in vain?
Poor thoughtless one, it speaks to you;
Now break the tempter's cruel chain,
No more your dreadful way pursue.
Renounce the cup, to Jesus fly—
Immortal soul, why will ye die!
Immortal soul, why will ye die!

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Too Much Study

Although "overwork" and "excessive study" are seized upon as convenient explanations for a lot of dismal failures, which are in reality due to other and less admirable causes, it is impossible to escape the fact that a great many young people in high schools and colleges lay the foundation for a lifetime of ill health in too much study. Competent pedagogues recognize this fact when they list among the essential requirements for promotion or graduation such athletic accomplishments as swimming or fencing.



WILLIAM BRADY MD

It is a sad and rather frightful thing to see young high school girls dragging home night after night a great armful of books to pore over, instead of devoting the evenings to music, dancing, visiting or some healthful recreation. Rather an ordinary, but well-balanced young woman than a prodigy of learning with a poorly developed body and "nerves" or delicate health.

At the risk of bringing down upon us the ire of schoolmasters, we say that a normal boy or girl should be able to get along satisfactorily in high school without night work—that if the five hours spent at school each day will not suffice for all necessary study, something is wrong with the system of instruction.

Five hours per day is ample for actual brain work, at least for young people. If more than that is attempted health is endangered. If more than five hours were required for the normal, the average, our schools would have longer sessions.

The evening should be the student's own. Not to be spent in dance halls, or anywhere except at home, or at the home of responsible people, or at least under the supervision of reliable adults.

Eye-strain, spinal curvature, neurasthenia, anemia, tuberculosis, and sometimes actual mental aberration may be brought on or favored by too much study.

Better a healthy "bonehead" than a sickly marvel.

Somehow, in real life, the "head of his class" rarely shines conspicuously In fact, it is rather a misfortune for a boy or girl to graduate with honors.

No night study. Let the young brains have a change of work. Don't allow ambitious teachers to convert your home into a school annex.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

It Would Take Five Years.

Please tell me how to diet and treat a nervous mother who has attacks several times a day.

Answer—We will gladly help teach you that, if you will spend four years in a medical school and about a year as interne in the hospital. It can't be done in less time.

An Amateur Mother.

Is it advisable for an expectant mother to have a small amount of dental work done? Please name a good book on the care of a new baby.

Answer—By all means have any necessary dental work done. "The Care of the Baby," by Dr. Griffiths (W. B. Saunders company); "Our Baby," by Dr. Clock (Appleton's); "The Care and Feeding of Children," by Dr. Holt (Appleton's), are all suitable.

Why Do Some Eyes Look Larger Than Others?

Please explain why my sister's eyes look larger than mine, yet measure exactly the same.

Answer—She may have wider palpebral commissure—lids wider apart—and perhaps larger pupils, and shading about eyes.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address, Dr. William Brady, care of this newspaper. Protected by The Adams Newspaper Service.

MASONIC DEGREES BEING CONFERRED

Degrees of the Scottish Rite from the eighteenth to the thirtieth are being conferred today at the Masonic temple on the spring reunion class. This evening the thirtieth degree will be conferred by Zenith council of Kadosh, with C. W. Stilson presiding. The eighteenth degree was conferred last evening by A. T. C. Pierson chapter, Rose Croix, under the direction of H. W. Cheadle, wise master. The Maundy Thursday banquet will be held at the temple tomorrow evening. It is a feast obligatory for all members of the Rite who have acquired eighteen degrees or more.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

THE BEST WAY ANY DAY

RAIL TRAFFIC AT CAPACITY

Northwest Railways Have Had Enormous Business Since New Year's.

Navigation Expected to Cause Changes But No Decline.

Railroads operating in the Northwest have been rushed to the full capacity of their car and locomotive equipment ever since the beginning of the year, and their operating departments are sanguine that a relatively good record for the season will be maintained during the spring and summer months.

With the arrival of the first package freight steamers from the lower lakes ports, a rush in shipments of heavy products, including hardware and staples in various other lines from here over the Northwest, is foreshadowed.

Shipments of bonded grain all-rail to the East, which had been maintained in large volume right up till the end of last week, will cease now that the lake navigation season is about to be opened, but the indications are that other lines of traffic will be maintained on a better than normal basis.

Soo's Traffic Heavy.

"Our traffic is heavy in all classes of freight, and we are looking for the movement in seasonal lines to make up for the falling off in others in which the season is now about over," said George A. Sherwood, general agent of the Soo line, today.

The movement of lumber from points on his company's lines in this territory is picking up, he averred. Operators are meeting with a good call for lumber, but they have only a comparatively small amount of dry material available to ship at present. The output of pulpwood in this district is estimated at only about 50 per cent of normal, on account of the deep snows in the woods, and its movement has not started to any extent as yet.

The Soo line has prepared for a large increase in iron ore shipments this season from points in the Cuyuna range district, according to Mr. Sherwood. A considerable revival in business in towns on that range has already come about, as shown in the heavier shipments of merchandise now going out from here.

The Soo is now finding itself in a position to handle its local freight business here more satisfactorily, owing to the erection of its new depot at Twenty-ninth avenue west. The Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad is also now using that freight shed in assembling and making shipments of goods to the steel plant districts.

Mellen Sues New Haven.

New York, April. 19.—Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, filed suit in the supreme court here yesterday against the company for $108,222, with interest, in his effort to enforce the payment of salary of $30,000 a year on a contract for five years, as adviser to the railroad.

ORDERS FOR RAILS AND EQUIPMENT

An inkling of the plans for improvements being formed by the railroads is being afforded in the heavy orders now being placed for rails and equipment. They are reaching the largest total attained in many years.

An interesting development in that connection is the report that the Pennsylvania railroad has just placed orders for steel rails aggregating 205,000 tons. This is the largest tonnage ever ordered by that system at one time.

Orders for rails are expected to reach enormous proportions between now and May 1 when the advance of $5 a ton, recently announced, will go into effect. All the Northwest roads, including the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Milwaukee and Omaha, are reported to be figuring on large orders to be placed in the interval.

would not be thus dealt with, and yet it has again and again permitted its under-sea commanders to disregard those assurances with ntire impunity. Great liners like the Lusitana and the Arabic and nere ferry boats like the Sussex have been attacked without a monent's warning, sometimes before they had even become aware hat they were in the presence of an armed vessel of the enemy, and he lives of noncombatants, passengers and crew have been sacrificed wholesale, in a manner which the government of the United States annot but regard as wanton and without the slightest color of justiication. No limit of any kind has in fact been set to the indiscrimnate pursuit and destruction of merchantmen of all kinds and nationlities within the waters, constantly extending in area, where these perations have been carried on; and the roll of Americans who have ost their lives on ships thus attacked and destroyed, has grown, nonth by month, until the ominous toll has mounted into the hunlreds.

DESTRUCTION OF THE SUSSEX.

"One of the latest and most shocking instances of this method f warfare was that of the destruction of the French cross-channel teamer Sussex. It must stand forth, as the sinking of the steamer Lusitania did, so singularly tragical and unjustifiable as to constitute terrible example of the inhumanity of submarine warfare as the ommanders of German vessels have for the past twelve months been onducting it.

"If this instance stood alone, some explanation, some disavowal y the German government, some evidence of criminal mistake or vilful disobedience on the part of the commander of the vessel that ired the torpedo might be sought or entertained; but unhappily it loes not stand alone. Recent events make the conclusion inevitable hat it is only one instance, even though it be one of the most extreme nd distressing instances, of the spirit and method of warfare which he imperial German government has mistakenly adopted, and which, rom the first, exposed that government to the reproach of thrusting ll neutral rights aside in pursuit of its immediate objects.

UNITED STATES VERY PATIENT.

"The government of the United States has been very patient. At very stage of this distressing experience of tragedy after tragedy in vhich its own citizens were involved, it has sought to be restrained rom any extreme course of action or of protest by a thoughtful conideration of the extraordinary circumstances of this unprecedented var, and actuated in all that it said or did by the sentiments of genine friendship which the people of the United States always have entertained towards the German nation. It has, of course, accepted the uccessive explanations and assurances of the imperial German govrment as given in entire sincerity and good faith and has hoped, even gainst hope, that it would prove to be possible for the German overnment so to order and control the acts of its naval commanders s to square its policy with the principles of humanity as embodied n the law of nations.

BUT ONE INTERPRETATION.

"It has been willing to wait until the significance of the facts ecame absolutely unmistakable and susceptible of but one interpreation. That point has now unhappily been reached. The facts are usceptible of but one interpretation. The imperial German governnent has not been able to put any limits or restraints upon its warare against either freight or passenger ships. It has therefore beome painfully evident that the position which this government took t the very outset is inevitable, namely, that the use of the submarine or the destruction of an enemy's commerce is, of necessity, because f the very character of the vessels employed, and the very methods f attack which their employment of course involves, incompatible vith the principles of humanity, the long established and incontroertible rights of neutrals and the sacred immunities of nonombatants.

FINAL WORD TO GERMANY.

"I have deemed it my duty, therefore, to say to the imperial Geran government that if it is still its purpose to prosecute relentless nd indiscriminate warfare against vessels of commerce by the use f submarines, notwithstanding the now demonstrated impossibility f conducting that warfare in accordance with what the government f the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules f international law and the universally recognized dictates of umanity, the government of the United States is at last forced to e conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue; and that nless the imperial German government should now immediately eclare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of warfare gainst passenger and freight carrying vessels, this government can ave no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the governent of the German empire altogether.

SPOKESMAN OF HUMANITY'S RIGHTS.

"This decision I have arrived at with the keenest regret; the posbility of the action contemplated I am sure all thoughtful Amerians will look forward to with unaffected reluctance. But we canot forget that we are in some sort and by the force of circumstances e responsible spokesmen of the rights of humanity, and that we annot remain silent while those rights seem in process of being vept utterly away in the maelstrom of this terrible war. We owe to a due regard for our own rights as a nation, to our sense of duty s a representative of the rights of neutrals the world over, and to a st conception of the rights of mankind to take this stand now with e utmost solemnity and firmness.

"I have taken it, and taken it in the confidence that it will meet ith your approval and support. All sober-minded men must unite hoping that the imperial German government, which has in other rcumstances stood as the champion of all that we are now contendg for in the interest of humanity, may recognize the justice in our emands and meet them in the spirit in which they are made.

the breaking off of diplomatic relaons.

It was considered possible, but rdly probable, that the president ight announce that he had decided break off diplomatic relations with ermany, but it was considered more ely that before laying the case ainst Germany before congress, the untry and the world, he would anunce that relations would be broken less fulfillment of promises takes the ace of diplomatic quibbling.

Only Congress Can Declare War.

The president consults congress at is stage, it was pointed out, because hile he has the authority to break f diplomatic relations, congress one has power to declare war and ere is only one instance in modern story where a break in diplomatic lations between two first class wers has not been followed by war. is the situation between Germany d Italy.

First class powers have suspended lations with lesser states and lesser ates have broken between themlves without hostilities, but all plomatic history points to a state war when two first class powers ach that point.

Exactly what the procedure will be ter the president's address to coness was today still obscured by as uch secrecy as it was last night. It as indicated that if the president es not actually announce a break in lations, the note which has been epared will be dispatched to Ber, setting forth the American govnment's case and saying the last ord. It probably will be in the ture of an ultimatum.

Goes Over Situation.

The president went over the situation very thoroughly with the committee leaders and told them explicitly he believed the United States could not remain on friendly terms with Germany if American lives continued to be placed in jeopardy by German submarines. He laid before them all information he will convey in his address to congress. The demand for a stop to illegal submarine warfare, the president told the leaders, is unequivocal. As the committeemen left the White House they made no effort to conceal what the president had told them.

The president made plans, however, that if Germany still cares to conduct her submarine warfare in accordance with the accepted rules of international law the American government would be glad to continue friendly relations. It was disclosed that the president in his address to congress will not go into extended detail about the incidents which have caused the American government to view the situation with such gravity. The president takes for granted that members of congress are familiar with them.

Note Strong One.

"The address is a very strong one and the note is a strong one," said Senator Stone after the White House conference. "It puts the next move up to Germany and will bring diplomatic correspondence to a close. It does not necessarily mean a break. It demands that Germany modify her method of submarine warfare and is the last word to be said by this government on the subject.

"The president does not ask congress to do anything. After the message is read and when I have returned to the senate I shall move that the president's address be printed and referred to the foreign relations committee for consideration."

The president, it became known, takes the position that he is contending not for America alone, but for all neutral nations and their rights.

MAY BREAK UP GOVERNMENT

statement on conscription which appears to be the root of the whole trouble.

Expected to Weather Storm.

That the premier would weather the storm in his usually masterly manner is generally expected; but whether his expected statement would satisfy the labor party and many other malcontents was a question which made today's session more than usually interesting.

Whitehall was humming with activity this morning with the cabinet meeting and various conferences in progress. A great majority of the political leaders are bent on reaching a compromise in the crisis.

The Pall Mall Gazette says it is in a position to indicate there is every possibility of a definite solution or of a compromise on lines which will preserve the coalition from disruption and maintain the stability of the government. Premier Asquith is expected to announce that while the existing situation does not demand the adoption of general compulsion, he is prepared to propose, should further events in the progress of the war necessitate it, whatever measure of compulsion may be imperative.

permitted to shift his headquarters and the border base in order to shorten his line of communications. The department has not thus far approved the suggestion, although the request was before the cabinet yesterday.

Gen. Funston's report on this subject has not been given out here and Secretary Baker has declined to discuss these phases of the Mexican problem.

The department apparently has hesitated to authorize any radical change in the status of the expedition in the face of requests from Gen. Carranza that the troops be recalled, believing that it might tend to increase anti-American feeling among Carranza garrisons. For the same reason the sending of heavy reinforcements to the border has not been resorted to as yet.

Radical Move Must Be Made.

Until the German situation is clearly understood it is impossible to forecast the administration's decision as to Pershing's expedition. Military observers appear to agree that some radical move must be made soon, either to back up the troops in Mexico or to withdraw them, as in their present condition officers feel they are unable to press the pursuit of Villa properly and their presence only serves to irritate the Mexican people.

It is believed that Gen. Funston's decision yesterday to place nearly 3,000 additional troops of his border forces at Gen. Pershing's disposal aroused the department to determine upon the course to pursue with as little delay as possible.

Gen. Scott is acquainted with Villa and with many Carranza officials and with his knowledge of the border and the confidential information Gen. Funston is able to supply he will advise Secretary Baker.

U. S. Troops Concentrating.

El Paso, Tex., April 19.—Confirmation of reports that the American expeditionary force was being concentrated at three points in Mexico preparatory either for the withdrawal of the troops or the organization of a new and more extensive campaign was received here today from Mexican sources.

It was said that Gen. Pershing had withdrawn all outlying detachments south of Namiquipa, that 3,000 men were camped at San Antonio, twelve miles west of Custihuiriachic, and that a force estimated at almost double this number was being concentrated near Namiquipa.

More Troops for Pershing.

San Antonio, Tex., April 19.—Gen. Funston is sending to Gen. Pershing more than 2,000 additional troops and there is reason to believe that even more will be placed at the disposal of Pershing if the campaign against Francisco Villa is continued. The troops which have been ordered to Pershing's base at Columbus are now on duty along the border. What troops will relieve them, and where they will come from remained unannounced. It may be that the war department will have to authorize the sending of the few remaining troops in the United States into this department, or it may be that the filling of the vacant points along the border may be left to the government of Texas which may send the militia.

The troops selected for Gen. Pershing are the Sixth cavalry from the Brownsville district, the Seventeenth infantry, from Eagle pass, Troop L of the Tenth cavalry from Fort Apache, Ariz., and one battalion of the Twenty-fourth infantry, one company of which is at El Paso, one at Marfa, and another at Fabens. Marfa is a town just north of Ojinaga, on the Mexican frontier, and Fabens is on the Rio Grande, only a few miles from El Paso.

In addition to these troops, totaling 2,300, Gen. Pershing now has in his base guard at Columbus 800 men, but the necessity of maintaining at least that many there, is recognized.

Gen. Pershing requested more troops some time ago, but Gen. Funston hesitated to order them because he faced the danger of weakening garrisons and patrolled points along the border. He has authority to move such troops in his department as he wishes, but the strengthening of any point from another department rests with the war department.

ENTENTE ALLIES REPLY TO THE UNITED STATES

London, April 19.—The reply of Great Britain and France to the American note concerning interference with maritime commerce by the Entente allies has been cabled to Washington.

The communication will be presented to the American government by the French and British ambassadors jointly. It consists of two parts, a long note and a supplement signed by the French government. Since its arrival at Washington certain cable changes have been made in the original note.

FALL OF TREBIZOND BLOW TO THE TURKS

Not Thought Russians Would Be Able to Take City So Soon.

Paris, April 19.—Paris received with great enthusiasm news of the fall of Trebizond, which was captured by the Russians. The event was looked for, but it was not thought the Russians would be able to capture the city so quickly. The political as well as the military consequences are expected to be most important, particularly in view of the fact that Turkey has lost one of the most valuable parts of Asia Minor at a time when, according to reports reaching Paris, Germany is weakening her forces in the Balkans to carry on attacks on the western front.

French military writers state that the plan of campaign of Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander, was a daring one, which at first was looked upon as foolhardy, but now is fully justified. The grand duke decided to advance boldly to the attack on this front, where maneuvers of warfare were possible while the other fronts were still held in deadlock.

Excluding the operations on the Persian front, Grand Duke Nicholas in this campaign, against an experienced and stubborn foe, has to his credit the storming of ten cities in less than two months.

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Hastings on Hudson, N. Y., April 19.—Martial law was declared within the limits of Hastings village and state troops were called upon for duty today after rioting had assumed serious proportions among strikers of the National Conduit & Cable company. A mob attacked the company's plant with bullets and stones.

SUSPECTS CLAIM TO BE TEACHERS

Three Men Arrested in Georgia Having Military Maps.

Savannah, Ga., April 19.—Two of three men arrested in Hardeville, S. C., yesterday alleged to have military maps in their possession, today declared they are teachers in the New York public schools. They asserted that Acting Superintendent Straubenville of the New York city schools could identify them.

Louis Goldberger said he was a professor in the Brunswick school in Brooklyn, while Frank Pickelsky claims to be connected with the Dewitt-Clinton high school. The other man gave his name as Mark Markeet.

The men were arrested on complaint of Lieut. A. P. Cronkhite of the army, who asserted they had been following his party, engaged in making military maps, for several days.

"A HISTORICAL PAGEANT"

Virginia, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The eighth grade pupils who are to participate in the presentation of "A Historical Pageant," at the Socialist opera house in May, rehearsed last night. There are twelve scenes.

"The Spirit of Liberty" is the first scene, followed by "Lords of the Forest" and "Pocahontas" Indian playlets. These are directed by Miss Elizabeth Malerich.

"Ferry Farm," a plantation scene of the home and life of George Washington, and "George Washington's Fortune" are directed by Miss Nellie Mahoney. "Daniel Boone," showing the trappers and Indian fighters of the early days, is given under the supervision of Miss Lois Wait.

"The Early Days of Ben Franklin," featuring Franklin and depicting colonial life, follow. Miss Edna Cole has charge of the pupils taking part in this work and also is in charge of the musical program.

"Abraham Lincoln," the rail splitter, is the next scene and is directed by Principal Carl Cassel of the Roosevelt school. It deals with the Civil war period. Boy scout and girls' campfire scenes are given and all members of the cast appear in a grand finale. Miss Thekla Johnson, upper grade superintendent; Miss Kathryn Carey, superintendent of girls' gymnasium classes, and Coach Alk. A. Jackson assist in directing the production.

Hibbing Carriers' Ball.

Hibbing, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual Easter Monday dance of the letter carriers will be held at the armory. Di Marco's orchestra will furnish the music.

East Superior Improvement Sought to Complete Road to Golf Club.

Many Prominent Men Sign Petition; Job Would Cost $70,000.

East Superior street will be paved from Sixteenth avenue east to the Northland country club grounds, near Thirty-ninth avenue east, during the coming summer.

Petitions were filed with Commissioner Farrell today, calling for the improvement of the street between Twenty-third and Thirty-ninth avenues at a cost which will be approximately $70,000. This will give a good pavement all the way to the golf club.

Altogether, nearly $125,000 will be spent on this one street during the coming season, according to preliminary estimates.

Commissioners let a contract Monday to the General Construction company of Minneapolis, for $47,000, covering the installation of an asphalt pavement between Sixteenth and Twenty-third avenues.

Petitioners make a condition that Trinidad or Bermuda asphalt be used on the street, corresponding to that which will be used on the first part of the job. The street will be forty-five feet wide.

Signers of the petitions include many of the most prominent business men of Duluth, representing more than 60 per cent of the property and about 35 per cent of the owners, it is estimated.

"This will be the largest job on our 1916 program," said Commissioner Farrell, "and I am anxious to have the petition checked at once, so that we can hurry the preliminaries, if it is sufficient."

The petition calls for a pavement from the east line of Twenty-third avenue east to the east line of section 12, township 50, range 14, which is about at Thirty-ninth avenue.

HAIR ON FACE NECK AND ARMS WHAT CAUSES IT

Nature does not produce coarse stubborn growth of superfluous hair. They are caused by the unwise use of so-called hair removers.

The only way to gain control of such growths is to devitalize them. It is impossible to accomplish this result with pastes and rub-on preparations because they only remove hair from the surface of the skin. DeMiracle, the original liquid depilatory devitalizes hair by attacking it under the skin as well as on the skin.

Imitations of DeMiracle are as worthless as pastes and rub-on preparations because they lack certain ingredients that DeMiracle alone contains which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality—its life-sustaining force. DeMiracle works equally well for removing hair from face, neck, arms and under arms or from limbs to prevent it from showing through stockings.

Insist on the genuine DeMiracle and you will get the original liquid hair remover. Others are worthless imitations—refuse them.

DeMiracle is sold in 50c, $1.00 and $2.00 bottles. The larger sizes are the most economical for dermatologists and large users to buy. If your dealer will not supply you, buy a bottle from I. Freimuth or order direct from us. The truth about the treatment of superfluous hair mailed in plain sealed envelope on request. GERMANS COMPLETE PREVIOUS SUCCESS

Capture Stone Quarry to the South of Haudremont.

Berlin, April 19, via London, 3:20 p. m.—The report today from the war office says that the stone quarry south of Haudremont farm, in the Verdun district east of the Meuse, has been captured by German troops, thus completing the success of the previous day.

French Statement.
Paris, April 19.—There was a spirited bombardment of positions south of Haudremont wood on the Verdun front east of the Meuse last night, the war office report of this afternoon says. No other important event occurred on any part of the front.

TYPHUS GERMS IN MRS. WAITE'S BLOOD

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 19.—According to an announcement made here last night, typhus germs have been found in the blood of Mrs. Arthur Warren Waite, wife of the dentist awaiting trial in New York for the murder of his father-in-law, John Peck of Grand Rapids. The blood test, it was stated, was made at Ann Arbor and as a result of the alleged finding of the bacilli, Mrs. Waite has gone to a sanitarium for treatment. Her condition, however, is not considered serious.

During the illness of Mrs. Waite's parents in New York, according to a story accredited to Mrs. Waite, her husband furnished not only for her, but also for her parents, an atomizer containing a solution with which she sprayed her throat. This treatment Dr. Waite said, was to render her immune from colds. Mr. and Mrs. Peck used the same solution, it was said. It is believed this solution was the vehicle for the administration of deadly germs.

Waite Sane But Abnormal.
New York, April 19.—Alienists who spent more than an hour today examining Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, confessed slayer of his father-in-law, John E. Peck, a wealthy drug manufacturer of Grand Rapids, Mich., reported to District Attorney Swann last night that, in their opinion Waite is sane, but somewhat abnormal.

SUPERIOR

WHISKY SALES BY DRUGGISTS RESTRICTED

Superior druggists are making inquiries regarding their status in the matter of selling liquor after Superior saloons go out of business on July 1, according to a number of letters received by the city clerk. The letters inquire as to what their privileges may be in the dispensing of whisky. According to replies given by Assistant Corporation Attorney McIntosh, the druggists may sell intoxicating liquors only on a certificate signed by the purchaser, witnessed by the pharmacist and stating the purpose for which it is to be used. It must not be sold as a beverage, according to the state statutes.

CHIEF WILL OPPOSE BANDITS' EXTRADITION

A hearing on extradition papers for the removal of Brady Henry and Frank Ingman, the bandits who terrorized Superior and Duluth business men and who were arrested a week ago after a running fight, will be held at Madison tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. A St. Paul attorney will make the request for the turning of the prisoners over to the Ramsey county authorities. Chief of Police Vincent McKinnon of Superior will leave this afternoon for Madison to attend the hearing and if possible prevent the removal of the two bandits from the state in order that they may be prosecuted here for their robberies. C. T. Herbert, deputy sheriff of Ramsey county, arrived in Superior this morning to be here to take charge of the prisoners if the requisition is granted.

Laborer Ends Life.

Charles Pehkala, a laborer, committed suicide by strangulation in a Tower avenue rooming house last evening and his body was found shortly afterward. A bottle of carbolic acid was found on a stand nearby which he had evidently intended using in case the strangulation was not successful.

Coroner Z. A. Downs discredits the theory of a suicide pact, which was published, and stated today that a letter indicating that the man had been disappointed in a love affair, had been found. This, he believes, was the reason why the suicide was committed. As far as is known the man has no relatives in this country but has friends living at New York Mills, Minn.

WILL DETERMINE RIGHTS

Tenants of the Conan Block Will Be Given Hearing.

An action in equity to determine the respective rights of the Clinton Film Service agency, H. B. Clinton and A. Apostolakas, tenants of the Conan block, on the one hand and W. J. Conan and Eliza Conan, owners of the property, on the other, was brought on for a hearing before Judge Cant in district court today. Both sides desire to have the court determine whether a certain building agreement had been complied with or not. The tenants and the owners have been engaged in a dispute over the rent and repairs for several months.

ENGINE AND ONE CAR SLIDE INTO RIVER

La Crosse, Wis., April 19.—A local passenger train on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, leaving here at 10:46, was wrecked at De Soto at midnight. The roadbed, which runs close to the river at that point, weakened by the high water, gave way and the engine and one baggage car slid into the river. The engineer was running slowly on account of the high water and this is doubtless responsible for there being no loss of life. Nobody was hurt.

LOCOMOTIVE SPARKS CAUSE WAREHOUSE FIRE

Sparks from a locomotive set fire to a storehouse owned by the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad last night, causing about $500 damage.

Two frame buildings, used for storing merchandise and sundry pieces of equipment, were badly damaged.

In turning in the alarm, citizens directed firemen to Fifth avenue west, instead of to Second avenue west, and delayed the apparatus somewhat in reaching the blaze.

Traffic in the yards was tied up for a short while.

BEST'S
Double Action

Just as Much Difference in Gas Ranges as in Automobiles

There is no reason on earth why you should not give the purchase of a gas range just as careful consideration as that of an auto.

VENTILATION THAT SAVES MONEY.

In all other gas stove ovens there are ventilating openings in the top or back where the heat passes out. In the Double Action oven there are none of these openings in the top or back and the result is that when the heat reaches the top of the oven instead of passing out at this point, as in other ovens, it has to turn around and travel all the way down through the oven to the bottom before passing out at the point of ventilation, which is directly below the center of the oven bottom plate. In other words, in all other stoves the heat enters the oven through the bottom or sides and passes to the top or back and then out; in the Double Action the heat enters the oven through the sides and goes to the top, where it is forced to turn around and go all the way to the bottom. This is the reason why it is necessary to have only two rows of fire in the Double Action oven to do the same work that other gas range ovens require three or four rows of fire to do. Let Us Show You Many Other Ways This Range Is Different.

LITTLE HOPE FOR REDUCTION IN "GAS"

Demand for Gasoline Has Increased 200 Per Cent in Five Years.

Washington, April 19.—Little hope for a reduction in gasoline prices is seen by experts of the bureau of mines, which issued a statement yesterday, declaring that at the present rate of production the country's supply of crude oil will be exhausted in twenty-seven years.

Relief can come, the statement says, only through development of processes for obtaining a larger quantity of gasoline from crude oil.

Ven H. Manning, director of the bureau, pointed out that oil companies competing to supply the government with gasoline had quoted a price of 31½ cents, and said private consumers probably would have to pay more. The fact that the government quotation was so high, he declared, showed that no immediate drop was to be expected.

"The demand for gasoline," says the bureau statement, "has increased more than 200 per cent in the last five years, and now is increasing at even a faster rate. On Jan. 1, this year, there were 2,235,000 automobiles in use and automobile manufacturers estimate that this will be increased to 3,000,000 within a year. This means an increased consumption of more than 6,000,000 barrels of gasoline.

Still more important, present indications forecast a decreased production of gasoline from crude oil for 1916. The daily production of crude oil for February in the mid-continent field, which produces 75 per cent of our refinable oil, was 40,000 barrels less than the average for 1915.

AMONG THE MAGAZINES

The leading article of the April Atlantic, by a state senator for Wisconsin, throws light from a new quarter on the vexed problems of woman suffrage. The result of Mr. Bray's investigations, coming from a direct and intensive study of the political aspirations of the women in his senatorial district, will upset many foregone conclusions as to the attitude of the Middle West toward the suffrage question—for Mr. Bray's constituency is not untypical of a large section of our country. The editor has in his possession a sworn statement of the figures set forth in Mr. Bray's paper. The swollen correspondence of the Atlantic bears witness to the profound interest which has been aroused by the remarkable series of war articles contained in recent issues. This interest will be amply sustained by the April number. Gustavus Ohlinger, in his paper, "German Propaganda in the United States," presents the evidence concerning German-American activities in the United States. This paper is especially effective because the author takes his testimony exclusively from German-American sources. Lewis R. Freeman contributes a unique document concerning German air raids, in his "Sharks of the Air"—a notable and vivid record of his personal experiences during the visits of Zeppelins to England. James Norman Hall's second article on "Kitchener's Mob," gives one of the most powerful presentations of the stark horror of modern trench warfare that has yet appeared in print. In "Meissner Pasha on the Egyptian Adventure," an American correspondent gives a prophetic conversation held by him with the distinguished German engineer who fathered the famous Bagdad railway, regarding the probability of a German attack on the Suez canal.

The Metropolitan for May features an article by William Hard entitled "How Roosevelt Kept Peace." From this the reader learns how Mr. Roosevelt's diplomacy won friends for the United States instead of inciting to war at different crises in the affairs of the nation. Theodore Roosevelt says in his article, "The Parasite Woman," that that woman so called by some misguided persons, is the only indispensable citizen. "Pinched in Poland," by John Reed, tells another adventure which befell the author in his attempt to reach the fighting line in Russia. There are short stories by Richard Harding Davis, Fannie Hurst, F. Tennyson Jesse and John Reed. The serials, "The Lion's Share," by Arnold Bennett, and "The Wishing Moon," by Louise Dutton, are continued. There are the usual departments and an art supplement in rotarygravure.

In Harper's magazine for April, Charles W. Furlong writes of his recent voyage across the Atlantic in a tiny schooner. It is an interesting story and is illustrated with photographs. In "An Ancient Village of the Marne," Herbert Adams Gibbons tells of the many vicissitudes through which the village of Chateau-Thierry, the birthplace of La Fontaine, has passed between its first siege and its recent capture by the Germans. Under the title, "A Harvard Undergraduate in the Thirties," Edward Everett Hale's college diary is printed for the first time. From the young man's account of college life in these early days, one gathers that life in Cambridge was full of excitement and free from undue restraint. "An American Who Made Health Contagious," by Burton J. Hendrick is a tribute to the work of Dr. Victor Heiser, the young American physician, who has turned the Philippines into almost a health resort. In the "Easy Chair," W. D. Howells tells of the earnings of poets, and why the masses refrain from poetry for fear of not earning a living. The fiction includes "The Trio," by Fleta Campbell Springer; "Pragmatic Patricia" by Margaret Cameron; "The Mulatto" by Don Marquis; "A Favorite of the Gods" by Grace Ellery Channing; "A Fugitive From Injustice" by Howard Brubaker, and "The Naked Truth" by Leila Burton Wells.

The Scientific Monthly for April opens with an article entitled "Problems Associated With the Study of Coral Reefs," by Prof. William M. Davis of Harvard university, who, with ample illustrations and from his own studies in the islands of the Pacific, discusses the causes of the formation of coral atolls, to which so much attention has been paid since the time of Darwin. Dr. W. W. Coblentz of the United States bureau of standards, in another illustrated article, gives an account of the exudation of ice from the stems of plants. Dr. Alfred G. Mayer of the Carnegie institution, concludes his series of articles on the South Sea islands, with an account of Java, the exploited island. A large part of the number is taken up with ten articles on national defense and development.

Almost the first thing that greets the eye, upon opening the April number of the Keramic Studio, is a very attractive colored study of chestnuts by Jeanne M. Stewart. In the naturalistic section or supplement are some very dainty and pretty designs, especially a salt shaker with roses, a grape pickle dish, a satsuma box of roses, and a bowl or plate with flowers and birds. There is also a teaset in roses, a study of birds and pine cones, and an elaborate vase by Kathryn E. Cheney. The rest of the magazine contains conventional designs, which include the following: A salad or fruit set, a teapot and sandwich tray of wild rose design, a plate of mountain ash, a bonbon box, a tile in hard enamels suitable for framing for a tray, a Belleck bowl by Dorothea Warren O'Hara, a dainty bread and butter plate in orange blossoms, and a page of little things to make of the fruit of the dogwood motif. There is also an interesting page for beginners. A very effective colored design for a bowl by Albert W. Heckman completes the magazine.

The leading feature of the April St. Nicholas is an article entitled "Will Shakespeare, Star of Poets," a contribution to the poet's tercentenary celebration by John Bennett, whose "Master Skylark" has become generally recognized as the classic interpretation of Shakespeare's character and period for young people. Mr. Bennett's article, which is illustrated, is an appreciation of the poet's personality and a summary of what we all owe him. Two articles in the opening series on "The Love for Out-Door Life" also appear—the first, "Uncle Sam's Camping and Recreation Grounds," by Day Allen Willey, showing what the government does to assist and encourage campers in the national reservations, the other, "How to Foretell Weather," by Adelia B. Beard, containing instructions on a matter of the highest importance to all campers. The April installment of "On the Battle-front of Engineering," by A. Russell Bond, managing editor of the Scientific American, deals with two of the greatest recent triumphs of American engineers, "Light and Heat From Snow," and "Feeding a River With Pumps." Albert Bigelow Paine continues his "Boys' Life of Mark Twain" with chapters on the great humorist's first attempts at writing and his experiences in the mining camps of Nevada and California—how he missed a pocket of gold worth from $10,000 to $20,000 by refusing to carry one more pail of water, and how he carried away in his note-book a nugget of still greater value, the plot of "The Jumping Frog."

A pleasant first of April surprise is the current issue of the American Boy. "A Quiet April First in Our Village," the humorous cover picture by Harrison Cady, will not be passed by the reader until he has chuckled over every laughable incident so cleverly portrayed in it. "When Is a White Cat?" is a real April Fool's day story by Clarence B. Kelland, with just as much fun in it for grown-ups as for the boys. And not the least pleasant of the surprises is the increased thickness of this popular juvenile. A new series of business stories by Gardner Hunting begins with "The Greatest Game in the World." The boy reader sees through the dirt and drudgery of a job in a small-town grocery, and discovers the nobility and romance of business—learns, in fact, that after all it is only a game, and a very fascinating game—"The Greatest Game in the World."

The April number of Current History, the monthly magazine of the the New York Times, contains an exhaustive review of the armed liner controversy, including official documents, utterances and interchanges, with a discussion of the question by Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, Archibald Hurd, the British naval expert, and the views of United States senators and congressmen. Richard Harding Davis is represented by a number of interesting sketches from the various battle fronts; the battle of Verdun (illustrated with maps) is described in detail and stories of participants given up to the date of issue. An interesting article appears on the subject of women workers in British industrial plants and the economic revolution that portends. The action of the united commercial bodies of England is given, and England's proposed abandonment of free trade forms an important feature. Count Reventlow has an article on the "Kaiser's Plans in the Orient and on the Sea." The attitude of German Socialists toward the war is set forth by Philip Scheidemann, chairman of the German Socialist party, and is followed by the reply of the German chancellor. Among the other eminent persons represented in the April number are Gabrielle Hantotaux, ex-premier of France; Sydney Brooks on Sir Edward Grey, and Lord Roseberry on the "Crushing of Germany." Important utterances of Lord Kitchener, Premier Asquith and Baron Sazanoff, Russian minister of foreign affairs, also appear. There are articles by experts on "How the War Is Being Financed." Henryk Scienkiewicz, Maximillian Harden, Clemenceau, Andreyer, Prince Troubetzkoy, Boutroux, Capus, and many others, equally prominent, discuss interesting phases of the war.

MANY GUESTS ATTEND WEDDING

Miss Hilda Wickman and J. Gustave Johnson Are Married.

The wedding of Miss Hilda Victoria Wickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Wickman of Adolph, to J. Gustave Johnson, took place at 8 o'clock last evening at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Anna Bjork, 2231 West Eleventh street. The ceremony was read by Rev. K. A. Lundin, pastor of the Third Swedish Baptist church. Nearly 100 guests were present.

Miss Evelyn Rosen was maid of honor and Miss Minnie Ek was bridesmaid. Earl Hartly and Carl Traft were groomsmen. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. K. A. Lundin played Mendelssohn's wedding march as a processional and Miss Edith Lundin sang "O Promise Me," preceding the ceremony, and "I Love You Truly" after the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in a white pussy willow silk with opalescent trimmings, the bodice being made in surplice effect, and she carried a shower arrangement of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil was caught in a cap effect with myrtle and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor wore a striking gown fashioned of pink satin with an overdress of white marquisette, the overdress being banded with pink satin and the bodice trimmed in pearl trimmings. She wore a girdle of pink satin edged with tiny rosebuds and a bandeau of pearls in her hair. Her bouquet was pink roses.

The bridesmaid's gown was a peach silk and she carried yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception took place. Short talks were given by Rev. Mr. Lundin and Rev. C. E. Oberg. Musical numbers were given by Misses Edith and Lillian Lundin, Miss Hedvig Hall, Miss Dagmar Hall and George Thorberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left last evening for a short wedding trip. They will make their home at 2231 West Eleventh street after May 1.

SENATE PASSES BIG ARMY BILL

Will Produce Regular and Reserve Force of 1,000,000 Men.

Washington, April 19.—An army reorganization bill that would produce regular army and reserve military forces in the United States aggregating 1,000,000 men was passed by the senate last night without a record vote. It is a substitute for the Hay bill passed by the house and the differences will be worked out in conference.

On the eve of a joint session of the houses of congress to hear a message from the president on grave international issues, the senate hastened completion of the bill amid scenes of excitement, repeatedly rejecting all amendments tending to reduce the proposed strength of the army.

In the closing hours of debate the senate made provisions for a regular standing army with a peace strength of 250,000 men, as compared with 140,000 in the Hay bill, which passed the house, retained after a close fight the plan for a Federal volunteer army reserve force calculated to aggregate 261,000 men, and federalized the national guard forces of the states at an estimated strength of 280,000 men.

In addition to this combined regular and reserve force of 790,000 men, an amendment was passed to create a school and college reserve corps in time of war or threatened war, which would recruit a force of trained young men, schooled by officers of the regular army, the estimated strength of which is estimated anywhere from 200,000 to 400,000.

Lisbon Fire Loss Heavy.

GRAND FORKS' BOARD WINS

Again Proposition of Building New High School Is Indorsed.

Second Tme in Over Year That Board Has Carried Point.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the annual school election just held here, the board of education, which for some time has been endeavoring to erect a new building on the site of the present high school, scored a sweeping victory over the opposition, which, by virtue of an injunction, so far has prevented the taking of any action by the directors. It is the second victory the board has scored, as over a year ago when the question of erecting a new building was submitted the board also was victorious.

Old Member Beaten.

In the First ward, C. E. Garvin defeated Don McDonald, who has been a member of the board for sixteen years. H. N. Wells, a former director, was defeated by Herman Luck, present incumbent, in the Third ward, and L. E. Birdzell, prominent attorney, won over W. H. McGraw in the Fifth. P. O. Thorson, president of the board, against whom the opposition centered their attacks, won over W. Brokke in the Seventh.

HOLD ISHPEMING JOBS.

All Former City Officials Have Been Reappointed Again.

Ishpeming, Mich., April 19.—The new city council has organized, Mayor Whalman addressing the aldermen to some length on Ishpeming's future in taking office. All old officials were reappointed as follows: City attorney, A. W. Jurma; health officer, Vivian H. Vandeventer; president of council, William H. Trathen; marshal, W. H. Trevarrow; deputy marshal, Patrick Collins; first police constable, Nicholas Swanson; second police constable, William J. Olds; third police constable, Andrew G. Johnson; fourth police constable, Jacob Lofberg; fifth police constable, Joseph Nault; poundmaster, Michael Tasson; janitor city building, William Whale; engineer fire department, John Sullivan; teamsters, fire department, William Zhulkie and John Anderson; janitor hose house No. 3, John Healey, Sr.; city engineer, J. Elizey Hayden; milk and dairy inspector, F. W. Menhennitt; official organ, Iron Ore.

Applications for positions on the police force were received from Frank Blight, William J. Hout, John Daner, Frank B. Sundberg and Joseph La Vigne.

FOUR DOCTORS DISAGREED

Pains Disappeared After Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wilmington, Del.—"I was suffering from a terrible backache and pains in my side, with bearing down pains and was very nervous. I was always tired, always drowsy, never could get enough sleep and could not eat. I had four doctors and each told me something different. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I got good results and I now feel better than I have felt for years and I am gaining in weight. I can gladly recommend it to all women."—Mrs. GEORGE W. SEBOLD, 1611 West 4th Street, Wilmington, Del.

Backache and bearing down pains are danger signals which every woman should heed. Remove the cause of these aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that good old root and herb medicine. Thousands of women have testified to its virtues.

For forty years it has been making women strong, curing backache, nervousness, ulceration and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pain.

PASSENGERS GET SCARE ON IRON RIVER CAR

Iron River, Mich., April 19.—Four persons were badly scratched and bruised and several others slightly injured by jumping off a runaway car on Stambaugh hill here. The car got beyond control of Motorman Hendrickson, a new motorman. The passengers became panic stricken and rushed for exits. They commenced jumping off half way down the hill, and when the car turned into Genesee street, and came to a stop with the trucks off the rails no more than six or eight inches, not a passenger was left inside. Motorman Hendrickson and Conductor Peterson left the car and rolled in the mud with the passengers.

BABY FATALLY CHOKES TRYING TEETH ON BONE.

Marinette, Wis., April 19.—Merril Ninneman, 1-year-old son of Gus Ninneman, a Grover farmer, was given a bone on which to try his three new teeth. The bone lodged in his throat suddenly, and before his parents could summon a physician he choked to death.

SOUTH SHORE ROAD LOSES ITS TREASURER

Marquette, Mich., April 19.—Ephraim W. Allen, aged 62, treasurer of the South Shore railroad since 1887, prior to which time he was treasurer of the Duluth, Mackinac & Marquette, till absorbed by the South Shore, died rather unexpectedly Monday of angina pectoris. His death was a shock to the community as few knew he was seriously ill.

Mr. Allen is survived by his widow; one daughter, Mrs. Gordon James of Haugatuck, Conn.; two sons, Winthrop D. Allen of Detroit, and Philip T. Allen of Marquette; one brother, Will S. Allen of Milwaukee, and one sister, Mrs. Frank S. McKenney of Detroit.

Mr. Allen was a devoted church man, and during most of his long residence in Marquette was a trustee and elder of the First Presbyterian church, and for many years directed the church choir.

He was fond of music and devoted much of his time to maintaining a high standard of church music. He was actively interested in athletics, being an enthusiastic bowler and a member of the Town and Country club. He was also a member of the Marquette club.

QUITS CALUMET PASTORATE.

Calumet, Mich., April 19.—The announcement of the resignation of Rev. S. Romsdahl, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church here, is made.

Mr. Romsdahl wants to accept a call to Deronda, Wis. He has been one of the most active pastors in Calumet for the past six years, which was his second term of service in Calumet, having been in the same charge from 1897 to 1903, in which latter year he went to Fargo, N. D., and remained there for seven years.

UNIVERSITY CLUB IN SHAKESPEARE

Grand Forks, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sock and Buskin players of the university, representing the foremost dramatic society in the state, presented "Much Ado About Nothing" as the first offering in observance of Shakespeare's tercentenary. Prominent in the cast were Herman Wolff, Edwin Swiggum, Harry Schwam, Thurman Thompson, Benjamin Sherman, Porter Talcott, Melvin Johnson, Agnes O'Conor, Harriet Mills.

Later in the year, the society will present an original pageant, in which the life of Shakespeare will be visualized.

EAST IS PROSPEROUS.

Returned Grand Forks Banker Also Finds Roosevelt Looming Up.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. I. Hunter, vice president of the First National bank, has just returned from an extended Eastern trip, during which he made a study of the political situation.

"The old line Republicans," he said, "are tryin gto find someone whom Roosevelt will indorse, but they don't seem to be able to do this. The Progressives are anxious to get the colonel in the race.

"I've got an idea that he will go to the Chicago convention this year the same as he did four years ago."

Mr. Hunter declares that prosperity never was more evident in the East than at present.

MONTANA MASONIC OFFICIAL PASSES

Great Falls, Mont., April 19.—Charles C. Proctor, 59 years old, junior grand steward of the grand lodge, Montana Masons, dropped dead at Coulterville, Cal., according to a message here. He was a prominent politician and mining man here for years and served two terms as sheriff of Cascade county. He was a printer by trade and for many years held the composing room foremanship of a local newspaper.

WELD MAKES STUDY.

Moorhead Normal Head Inspects Rural Schools of Other States.

Moorhead, Minn., April 19.—Frank A. Weld, president of the Moorhead normal school, who was delegated by the Minnesota department of education to make a study of rural schools of several Eastern states, has returned to the city. He made extensive inquiry into rural school conditions in Ohio, Maryland, New York and several other states and the information he obtained will be employed by the Minnesota department of education in determining its policy with respect to rural schools.

TWO RAILROAD RUMORS.

Reserve-Mellen Soo Line and Park Falls Northwestern May Be Built.

Couderay, Wis., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Current reports predict the construction this year of two lines of railroad through this section that will prove a big boon. It is said that the proposed Soo line Mellen-Reserve cutoff will be built now that a big 60,000-acre colonization scheme is going through along the line. The other report has it that the Northwestern railroad will build from Park Falls, its present terminus, to Mercer, and there connect up with the Northwestern line from Chicago, Milwaukee to Ashland. The company has two lines surveyed from Park Falls through, one striking the Northwestern at Mercer and the other at Manitowish. This is only a fifty-mile track to build and by building from Posterville to Gogebic, Mich., a dozen miles, there will be a new short line created between the Twin Cities and the copper range country of Northern Michigan. With the cutoff built from Tuscobia to Cumberland, which has been under consideration for some time, the short line would be complete.

GETTING WISCONSIN DATA.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 19.—A. W. Berresford, general manager of a local manufacturing concern, was chosen chairman of the Wisconsin board which will survey the preparedness resources of Wisconsin.

"The Wisconsin board will be furnished from the national headquarters with a list of all corporations in the state with an output of $100,000 or more in value," Mr. Berresford said. "We will ascertain just what the resources of the state are in providing war supplies. This information will be kept strictly confidential. The $100,000 limitation does not mean the arbitrary exclusion of the smaller firms."

"Once this information is collected, we expect to induce the government to place small orders with the shops to be filled at cost plus a reasonable percentage," he concluded.

SMITH IN HOSPITAL.

Stillwater, Minn., April 19.—Walter J. Smith, former state treasurer, is a patient in the tuberculosis ward at the state penitentiary here. Dr. G. A. Newman, prison physician, has notified Warden C. S. Reed the prisoner is unable to work.

"Dr. Newman learned Smith's condition when he examined him preparatory to his assignment to work in one of the prison's departments," Warden Reed said. "He ordered Smith taken to the tuberculosis ward for treatment.

"Although Smith's condition is not serious, the doctor says there is no doubt he is affected with tuberculosis. We believe, however, it will be possible to treat him at the prison and improve his condition within a few months. He is not confined to bed."

R. C. Pickit, former clerk in the state auditor's office, who was sent to prison with Smith, has been assigned to work in the prison's farm machinery department and apparently is in good health.

NAVY DEPARTMENT LETTER IS OPENED

Minneapolis, Minn., April 19.—Officials of the local navy recruiting station announced today that they would call to the attention of the Washington government the action of Canadian censors in opening a letter enclosed in a navy department envelope and addressed to the Minneapolis branch of the department. The envelope did not contain the name of the station at which it was opened.

The letter was from Mrs. Adeline Clement, Donalda, Alta., Canada, and contained information regarding her son's application for enlistment in the United States navy.

LYNCH SELLS PROPERTY.

St. Paul Man Disposes of Holdings Near Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Gull Lake Outing company's property on Gull lake near here has been sold by Fred B. Lynch of St. Paul to James M. Elder of Brainerd. The grounds embrace sixty-five acres and include the summer home of Mr. Lynch, private electric light plant, three launches, personal property of the home, horses and buggy. There is a fine tennis court on the grounds. The property fronts on Gull and Round lakes.

Mr. Lynch has other property on Pelican lake, which he will undoubtedly improve.

GLEE CLUB MAKES HIT AT BRAINERD

Brainerd, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—An enthusiastic greeting was accorded the Augsburg Glee club of Minneapolis at Bethlehem Norwegian Lutheran church. In chorus and solo work the members proved to be the best organization of singers Brainerd has heard. Prof. George Sverdrup, president of Augsburg seminary, Minneapolis, delivered a short address. The concert included a varied program of high grade sacred and lyrical male chorus selections in English and Norwegian. As a tribute to Greig, the audience arose and stood while the chours sang "Den store hvite flok."

REPAIR STEEL CARS.

New Industry Is Added to Brainerd N. P. Shops.

Brainerd, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new industry here is a steel car repair shop, the Northern Pacific Railway company using for this purpose the old foundry structure near the shops. An extra gang has just finished laying two additional sidetracks. The extra gang of twenty-five men is now laying the spur track to the site of the new gas plant, to extend 400 feet south of Laurel street at a point near the Mississippi bridge.

MASONS HONOR LATE PETER HALEY

Devils Lake, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Knights Templars in full regalia conducted the funeral services for the late Peter Haley Tuesday afternoon from the new Masonic temple. There was a large attendance, Masons coming from many parts of the state.

MINOT CHILD PRODIGY.

Minot, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Minot has a child phenomenon in Miss Lillia Wetmur, aged 4½ years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wetmur, who is said to have an extraordinary power of mental concentration.

Her mental prowess is shown in her knowledge of lettered blocks which she plays with. Three sets furnish 304 combinations. Shown the face of any block she can tell instantly the letter at the back. When given the sets of blocks her father told her the names of the letters twice, following which she knew them without error. The rest she has accomplished herself.

Deering; field captain, Dr. B. A. Smith. The selection of an assistant field captain was left to the field captain. Messrs. W. G. Young, Deering and Smith were appointed on a committee to look after the supply of targets and shells.

Dinnie Succeeds Self.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor James A. Dinnie, who recently defeated A. G. Sorlie for the second time, last night began his second term as the city's executive.

Brainerd Man Elected.

Brainerd, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elmer G. Forsberg has been elected a member of the board of education from the Third ward to succeed J. W. Welch, resigned.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Appleton—A warrant was issued Tuesday for the arrest of John E. Johnson, charging him with having married a second time before the expiration of a year after being divorced by his wife.

Madison—The Magnetic Realty company of Milwaukee on Monday filed an amendment to its articles of incorporation increasing its capital stock from $25,000 to $60,000. Ralph E. Newton is president and Louis Quarles secretary.

Manitowoc—The new steamer Nevada of the Goodrich fleet will go to Escanaba to help crush ice in that port for the Pittsburgh Steamship company, according to negotiations now pending.

La Crosse—President Wilson has signed a bill which provides a pension of $12 a month for George W. Stanford, son of an old soldier. The boy is an inmate of the county poor farm here. The young man is incompetent and when his father died about eighteen months ago, his relatives took him to the poor farm.

Oconomowoc—Mrs. Herman Saeffker died suddenly Sunday at her home on South street. A daughter of Mrs. Saeffker, Miss Erna Saeffker, returning from church, found her mother's body on the floor.

Milwaukee—Pleading guilty to a charge of burglary, Harry Becker, aged 20, was sentenced to serve a year in Green Bay by Judge A. C. Backus. He was charged with entering the home of Edward Poss and stealing $55 worth of jewelry.

Monroe—Chester C. Mather, a Civil war veteran, one of the first to enlist from Wisconsin, is dead at the home of his family in Danville, Ill. He was a member of Battery D of the First Wisconsin heavy artillery. The body will be buried here.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Jamestown, N. D.—Three boys, all under the age of 16, were brought before Judge Murphy and fined $25 and costs for shooting in the city limits.

Dickey, N. D.—At a meeting held here, a volunteer fire department consisting of forty-eight members, was organized and the following officers elected: Chief, Burt Harvey; captain, company No. 1, Frank Weber; captain, company No. 2, Alfred Ridgeway; secretary, E. A. Scea, and treasurer, Fred A. May.

Bismarck, N. D. — Mrs. Barbara Wishek, aged 88 years, mother of Former Senator John Wishek of Ashley, died at her home in Sharon Center, Ohio. Mr. Wishek was at her bedside when the end came.

Bismarck, N. D.—Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Eva Jahner, aged 49, who was stricken while worshiping Saturday evening in the St. Mary's cathedral, dying shortly after being removed to the St. Alexius hospital. Her husband, Peter Jahner, and eight children survive. Seven of the children live at home, while a married daughter, Mrs. J. A. Thines, lives in Minneapolis.

Sheldon, N. D.—Seeding has been commenced in this district, and with continued drying weather every farmer will be in the fields by the end of the week.

Skowmo, N. D.—The Farmers' State bank has been organized here and will open for business Aug. 1. The organizers are John S. Tucker of Minneapolis, and H. O. Paulson and J. H. Miller of Drake.

Fargo, N. D.—Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, one of the pioneer residents of the city, passed away Monday at her home at 108½ Ninth street south. She was 70 years of age, and leaves a son, C. R. Wilson.

Drake, N. D.—August Fortman, who left here a year ago last fall to become a resident of Frederick, Wis., has returned with his family and says he is glad to get back in the state.

Rapid City, S. D.—What attorneys for the prosecution alleged was an attempt to steal the rails of private individuals by the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company was checked by an injunction issued by Judge McGee in circuit court.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

Give Fruit Laxative When Cross, Bilious, Feverish or Constipated.

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Negaunee—Ernest Larson, who has been warehouseman at the Chicago & Northwestern freight depot for three years, has resigned and is succeeded by Walter Peterson. Alfred Westerlund, car repairer for the company for the past six years, has taken a similar position with the South Shore railway. Joseph Scanlon succeeds Mr. Westerlund with the Northwestern.

Marquette—Mrs. Louis Berry, aged 32 years, of this city, died Monday night at St. Mary's hospital after an illness of about two weeks. A husband, two daughters and four sons survive. The daughters are Mrs. William Hapgood of this city and Mrs. Frank Widman of Sand River, and the sons, Ralph, Ernest, Raymond and William, all of this city.

Eagle River—The postponed organization meeting of the Keweenaw county board of supervisors was held here. Only one change was made in the personnel, Supervisor Cleary of Grant township succeeding Supervisor Bessalo.

Marquette—Twenty-one retail liquor dealers and two wholesale houses were granted liquor licenses at the meeting of the commission Monday night. But one name, that of Joseph Marier, was cut off the list, recommended by Commissioner Pearce of the department of accounts and finances, and read at last week's meeting.

Houghton—The state board of health by a tie vote refused to reconsider moving the laboratory for the Upper Peninsula from Houghton. A committee of the board had canvassed the members of the legislature and reported that they favored Ishpeming first and Marquette second. The action ends a fight which has been on ever since the legislature adjourned.

Calumet—Many rats are being slain for the 5-cent bounty. The last reports brings the number of rats killed in the township up to 1,846 since the law went into effect.

Hancock—Mrs. John T. Mitchell, formerly Beatrice Edwards, died on April 15 at Hartshorne, Oklahoma. Mrs. Mitchell was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Haldane Edwards, formerly of Dollar Bay. Mrs. Mitchell is survived by her husband and three little sons, the youngest 4 days old.

Houghton—The county road commissioner has let the contract for the building of the highway from the Albion station to Allouez to Hall & Labby of Calumet. The contract for the road from Laurium to Lake Linden was let to J. E. Bloomgren of Norway.

Hancock—Preparations for the convention of the Italian societies of the Upper Peninsula towns to be held in Hancock the latter part of July next are being made by the local men and splendid progress is being made with the work, according to the reports made at the meeting of the Italian Citizens' league of Hancock, No. 2, just held.

Houghton—As a result of a runaway between the Isle Royale location and Hurontown, James Palsgaard of West Houghton is dead and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Francisovitch of the Paradise farming location considerably bruised. Palsgaard's two small children, who also were in the mixup, were uninjured.

Negaunee—The funeral of George Schaltz, a pioneer, was held Tuesday. He was born in Bavaria, Germany, in 1846 and came to this region in 1868. He was an expert charcoal kiln man and had been employed in the various furnaces in the county for many years. He is survived by his widow and one son, George Schaltz, who is employed by Max Fust.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Crookston—Ed. Ralston and Senator R. T. Buckler are now the owners of the Deemer hotel. The new proprietors have already taken charge.

Grand Marais—Foster Linnell, who is working for the Street Railway company in Duluth, spent two days in the village on his way for a visit with his parents on the reservation.

Brainerd—The Elks will hold their regular meeting on Thursday evening, April 20. A large class will soon be initiated.

Crookston—At the armory Monday afternoon, Mayor Misner introduced Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells of Los Angeles, Cal., noted police woman. Mrs. Wells spoke at some length along the lines of police duty, giving special attention to the guidance of the younger people.

International Falls—Sheriff White and Chief of Police Kirkpatrick raided the second story of the bowling alley Saturday night, where it was alleged that a poker game was in progress. A number of men were found playing cards, but no money was in sight, so the only arrest made was that of the proprietor of the place, who paid a fine of $50 and costs.

Kelliher — The farmers' meeting, held here, was one of the best attended gatherings, in point of numbers, yet held. Speeches were made by Rev. Mr. Coates, William Skrief, B. M. Armstrong, C. O. Espe and others, and all feel much benefited by the talks. The meeting was held in the school building and lunch was served in the domestic science room to over 300 people.

Fergus Falls—Mrs. Minnie West, of Battle Lake, who was indicted on the charge of illegal liquor selling, was arraigned in the district court here and pleaded not guilty.

Judge Nye is expected from Moorhead Thursday to take Judge Parsons' place on the bench in the trial of the case of Ella M. Sawyer vs. Amos Marckel and others.

Bemidji—George Cochran, Sr., is planning on having constructed, adjoining the Birchmont hotel, a $5,000 dining hall, kitchen and place for hired help. He also plans to construct several more cottages.

Little Falls—T. C. Gordon has returned from the towns through which the proposed transmission line to be constructed by the Water Power company will pass. Franchises to the local company have been granted in practically every one of the towns which have applied for power and those remaining will be granted within a few days.

Rochester—Impaled upon the handle of a pitchfork after a fall in a barn, Ernest Smith of St. Charles, aged 35, is in an extremely critical condition. There are said to be slight hopes for his recovery. An operation was performed and it was said that the patient had a slight chance for recovery.

St. Cloud—After a successful mercantile business career of over twenty-eight years, John J. Leisen has decided to retire from active business. Mr. Leisen began in business in St. Cloud with his father, the late John Leisen, who was one of the pioneer merchants and business men. Twenty-eight years ago the son became a member of the firm and continued as such for ten years, when Mr. Leisen, Sr., retired and his son took over the entire business.

Faribault—Sidney, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hampton of this city, was killed April 17 by an automobile driven by Mr. Lemke of Northfield. The child started to cross the street in front of the automobile unseen by the driver. The machine was going at a slow rate of speed. The coroner's jury exonerated the driver.

St. Cloud—Two city commissioners, Henry Maybury and George D. Magnuson, were elected April 17. There were two defeated candidates, Roy P. Diblake and L. J. Rocholl.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Baseball Rowing — BILLIARDS • BOWLING • BASKET BALL — Wrestling Boxing

SPORT NEWS AND COMMENT GLEANED FROM MANY SOURCES

Fred Fulton "Shows" Missouri Fans; Comiskey Has Two Infields; Pirates Look Weak; Walter Johnson's Chance of Slipping.

About fifty members of the Missouri grand jury sat in judgment on Fred Fulton at the Pioneer Sporting club in St. Louis Monday and the verdict was that Fulton is a pretty shifty fellow for a man of his size.

Fulton has an amazing breadth of shoulders and remarkably long arms. He assumes a crouch that makes it difficult to hit him solidly. Fred boxed four rounds with Bill McKinnon and both set a fast clip. The smaller man forced him to extend himself throughout, Fulton relying on his left-hand jab a great part of the time. His unusual reach adds to the effectiveness of the blow, though McKinnon's boxing saved him on many occasions. Fulton has larger hands than those of any fighter who has graced the ring in years. He told one on himself yesterday in relation to his ponderous money earners.

"I went into a haberdasher's to buy a pair of gloves and I asked the man for a pair of twelves," said Fulton, with a grin. "The clerk started to get the gloves, thought of the number and then looked over shoulder, saying: 'Did I understand you to say gloves or shoes, mister?'"

Fulton skipped the rope, shadow boxed and then tugged all over the mat with Tex O'Rourke, the man who conditioned Jess Willard for the Havana contest with Jack Johnson.

"He's a good man," said Tex after Fulton had ducked up the stairs to his dressing room. "I know he is a hard hitter, and with more experience he will rank with the best in the world. He is ambitious and a great student of the game."

McKinnon was asked for his opinion.

"I think Fulton will stop any man he hits. I am sure that he is a greater hitter than Willard or even Moran, though he has not learned thoroughly the high art of punching short. He will make it warm for Reich, now mark me."

Comiskey Should Worry.

The Chicago White Sox are well fixed as regards infielders this season. As one of the veterans remarked recently, "this is the first time we have had two infields." In discussing this situation the player said that the club started the season with Jack Fournier on first, Eddie Collins on second, Zeb Terry at short and George (Buck) Weaver on third, had still sitting on the bench a fast and hard hitting infield.

The second infield includes Jack Ness, the slugger from the Pacific coast, who would play first base; McMullin, the coast partner of Terry, who romps around the keystone sack; Fautsch, the Hibbing, Minn., sensation, who has shown a great deal of "pep" at short, and George Moriarity, the former veteran of the Detroit Tigers, who would take care of the third sack. Should any of the first string men become incapacitated at any time through injury or otherwise, the second string men would fill the said vacancy handily.

Moran a Lobbyist.

Frank Moran, the heavyweight boxer, has turned lobbyist. Happening to be in Albany yesterday and knowing of the Jones bill to prohibit boxing exhibitions, he sought out the author, who comes from Chenango county and is known as the "Billy Sunday" of the senate. Moran told Jones that he was "all wrong."

"You look like a heavyweight fighter yourself," said Moran, sizing up the senator, who is a six-footer and weighs 225 pounds.

"The only thing I fight," replied Jones, jocularly, "is bad laws and bad legislation."

In the course of his talk with Jones, Moran remarked that he was a dentist by profession. Jones said:

"I should think you'd stick to that honorable calling and not follow pugilism."

Moran laughingly replied that he could get from $5 to $10 for filling a tooth and from $5,000 to $25,000 for a boxing bout.

From the senate Moran strolled over to the assembly and was invited to sit beside Speaker Sweet while the house was in session. Later Moran talked to a lot of the legislators, defending boxing and pointing out that the courage and fighting spirit shown by the French and English soldiers at the front was the result of their interest in boxing for many years past.

Pirates Strong Trio.

There are but three players to prevent the Pirates from being last placers. They are Mamaux, Charley Adams and Bob Harmon. There you have the strength on the new Pirates—out there on the hill. It was this pitching that put them where they were in 1915, and Callahan has a nifty collection for this summer. But—

And Honus has passed his 42d birthday.

They are weak at second and weak at third with the present infield lineup.

It's going some when a 42-year-old marvel is the king pin of the flock. That's the way we look at the 1916 Pirates. A further example showing why we do not fancy the Buccaneers: They tossed away two games here they should have won. Errors by Jimmy Smith lost the opener. A wild chuck by Joe Schultz yesterday in the seventh inning allowed a 3-to-2 victory to drift into a 5-to-3 defeat. That's where Fielder shines—plucking those tight ones.

Johnson Going Easy.

Walter Johnson is now upon the edge of his tenth year in the major frolic. And with his build and the easy pitching motion he has, the wizard should be good for ten years more.

He is now only 28 years old, and no pitcher in the business works with greater ease. He has a pitching motion without a kink—as smooth and as simple as a piece of machinery.

They will tell you that here and there Johnson is slipping a bit. You can label this exactly so much bunk without wasting any further language. For his first six years Johnson allowed over two earned runs a game each season.

In 1912, supposed by many to be his greatest year, he allowed 2.91 earned tallies to the contest.

For the last three seasons he has been at his best. In 1913 he yielded only 1.09 earned runs to the game; in 1914 he allowed 1.71; in 1915 he lowered this to 1.55. If this be slipping, then provide us with a slump.

Men Coaches to Go.

Miss Hazel Pratt, director of women's sports at the University of Kanass, has predicted that the days of men coaches for high school girls' basket ball teams are numbered. Miss Pratt asserts that men do not know how to coach women in athletics and points to the fact that in the recent high school basket ball tournament here three of the four girls' teams that reached the finals were coached by women.

"Men do not make the distinction between men's and women's standards," said Miss Pratt. "They do not realize that in most kinds of athletics a woman has a distinct and separate method of doing things. A woman attempting progress in sports by 'using a man's way, makes me think of an aeroplane trying to scoot along the ground like an automobile."

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Boston Suffers Defeat.

Philadelphia, April 19.—Boston suffered its first defeat in the pennant race this season yesterday, Philadelphia winning the game 4 to 0. Alexander kept Boston's hits scattered, while Rudolph was knocked off the rubber in six innings. Niehoff drove in three of the home team's runs with two singles and a sacrifice fly. Before the game, Magee was presented with a diamond pin and a pedestal carved out of anthracite coal from friends here and out of the state. Score: R. H. E.

Philadelphia ...01000201x—4 8 2

Batteries — Rudolph, Barnes and Gawdy, Tragesser; Alexander and Burns.

Home Run for Chase.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 19.—A home run by Chase in the tenth inning won the game for Cincinnati from Pittsburgh here yesterday 4 to 3. The visitors tied the score in the third and again in the ninth, when Baird and Hinchman tripled. Chase, the next man up in the tenth, struck the first ball pitched for a home run. Score: R. H. E.

Cincinnati ....2000000101—4 10 2

Batteries—Adams and Schmidt McKenery, Schulz, Schneider and Clarke, Wingo.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Senators Defeat Boston.

Boston, Mass., April 19.—For the first time since 1914 the Washington team yesterday defeated the Boston Americans here, the score being 4 to 2. Last season the teams played eleven games at Fenway park, all of which were won by Boston. Timely hitting by the visitors, coupled with first-class pitching by Harper, gave Washington the victory. In both the first and second inning, the first batsmen singled and eventually scored. A pass, a steal and a single gave Washington a run in the eighth, while a muff by Janvrin, a sacrifice and a hit sent the last one home in the final inning.

Boston ....000000020—2 5 1

Batteries — Harper and Williams, Shore, Pennock and Agnew.

New York Takes First.

New York, April 19.—New York won the first game of its series from Philadelphia yesterday, 4 to 2. Shawkey, a former Athletic pitcher, was in the box for New York, and fine support offset his wildness. Two great plays by Baker saved him in the eighth inning, when the visitors had the bases full, one run in and none out. The batting of Gedson, purchased by the New Yorks from the Newark Federals, again featured. He has made six hits in the last two games. Score: R. H. E.

New York ......0100021 0x—4 11 1

Batteries—Nabers, Sheehan, Crowell and Meyer, Murphy; Shawkey and Nunamaker.

Faber in Fine Form.

Chicago, April 19.—Urban Faber's curves baffled St. Louis yesterday, while Groom's wildness and poor support in the first two innings gave Chicago a lead the visitors tried in vain to overcome, the White Sox winning, 7 to 2. McCabe pitched a good game for St. Louis, but gave way to a pinch hitter. A pretty throw by Felsch caught Groom at the plate in the third and spoiled a St. Louis opening. Score: R. H. E.

St. Louis ....000101000—2 6 3
Chicago ....2300011 0x—7 10 0

Batteries—Groom, McCabe, Park and Hartley, Severeid; Faber and Schalk.

Cobb in Feature Play.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 19.—Triples by Vitt and Veach allowed Detroit to overcome Cleveland's early lead and win, 4 to 3. Cleveland knocked Covaleskie from the box in the first inning, but could do little with Dubuc. The Indians filled the bases with only one out in the eighth, but Cobb caught Howard's fly and doubled Speaker at the plate. Score: R. H. E.

Cleveland ......200100000—3 8 0

Batteries — Covaleskie, Dubuc and Stanage; Morton, Mitchell and O'Neill, Billings.

AMERICAN ASS'N.

Millers Take Game.

Louisville, Ky., April 19.—Rain before and after the first two innings held down the attendance at the American association opening game here yesterday, which Minneapolis won, 2 to 1. Whitman's home run into the bleachers scored Louisville's only run.

Louisville .....000100000—1 5 1

Batteries—Burk and Owens; Northrop and Williams, LaLonge.

Apostles Trim Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.—Playing in a drizzle of rain St. Paul won the opening game from Indianapolis 4 to 1. A base on balls to Rigert, his steal, Paddock's single and Smith's double, after two were out in the fourth, gave the visitors their first pair of runs. In the eighth, with two out, a double by Paddock, a pass to Smith and Land's two-bagger scored the other two runs. Phil Douglas pitched a splendid game for St. Paul, being especially effective with men on the bases. Score: R. H. E.

St. Paul ......000200020—4 8 2
Indianapolis ...000001000—1 8 0

Batteries — Douglas and Land; Rogge and Schang.

Columbus Wins Opener.

Columbus, Ohio, April 19.—Pitcher George, though giving ten passes and hitting two batsmen, carried Columbus to a 4-to-0 victory in yesterday's opening game with Kansas City. Not a hit was made off him during the first five innings. The winners bunched three singles on Crutcher in the fifth and slugged Cocrehan for two triples and a double in the seventh. Bradley's general play, a stop by Bratchi and a throw by Faye were features. City officials took part in opening ceremonies, during which a dog from Dawson Springs, Ky., the training camp, was presented to the Columbus players as their season's mascot. Score: R. H. E.

Columbus .....1000102 0x—4 10 0
Kansas City ...000000000—0 4 3

Batteries — George and Coleman; Crutcher, Cocrehan and Berry.

Toledo Fans Are Loyal.

Toledo, Ohio, April 19.—Toledo won the opening game of the American association season with Milwaukee here yesterday, 4 to 2. Frequent passes and two errors by the visitors were largely responsible for the defeat. The locals were outhit, except in the third inning, when Toledo scored its four runs. The official attendance was given at 18,000, the largest crowd that ever saw an opening game here. Score: R. H. E.

Milwaukee ....000000020—2 10 2
Toledo ....0040000 0x—4 6 1

Batteries—Slapnicka, Walker and Allen, Spellman; Bedient and Bresnahan.

Sox Release Eiler.

Chicago, April 19.—Horace Eiler, pitcher, was released to the Moline Three I league club yesterday by the Chicago Americans. He was purchased from Moline last fall.

EARLY WORK FOR PLAYERS

Spring tennis practice among the members of the Duluth Boat club will begin next Saturday, according to Loren Kennedy, who has charge of the racket sport for the oarsmen. Conditioning for play this year will begin nearly six weeks earlier than ever before in the history of the Oatka courts.

Among those who will report this week-end are Mack Washburn, Dennis Deighton, Frank Falk, Jack Thompson, Mitchell Norski, Jack Fee, A. Huhnke and Loren Kennedy. All of these participated in the tournaments held last season and will be among the leading contenders for places on the club team this year. Walter Kennedy, one of the star performers of the club, has removed from Duluth to Vicksburg, Miss., where he will reside permanently.

"I do not want to have it understood that the men named are the only ones who are to report next Saturday, because the spring practice is open to every member of the club, and the more we get out the better it will be for the formation of a strong team," said Capt. Loren Kennedy last evening. "It would please me if every member who has any knowledge of the game would report next Saturday.

"Our club is going to fight hard to land the intercity tennis championship this year, and that is the reason we are starting our practice season so early. In times past we never got going till so late that the local players were hardly in condition when the crucial tests came. For this reason the Twin City players have always defeated us.

"The members of the Duluth squad will, this year, for the first time, go through a system of physical conditioning as well as hard practice. We want to beat St. Paul and Minneapolis."

It was expected that the work of getting the six courts at Oatka beach in shape, for play would be begun some time today.

GOLF PLAYERS LIMBERING UP

First Match Game of Year Will Be Staged on May 20.

Handicap of Eighteen Holes Will Be Played on May 27.

While the official opening of the local golf season at the Northland Country club links will not be celebrated until Memorial day, many of the members are daily visiting the grounds and driving the little gutta percha ball over the sodden turf. Interest in the game is running high and the members of the club look forward to the greatest year in the history of the organization.

The first real match play event of the year will be staged on May 20 when a medal play handicap will be featured. It will be eighteen holes, ball sweepstakes with a one ball entrance fee. The winners will divide the same as in the medal play.

The opening event of the season, on May 30, will be a short stop tournament with a qualifying round of eighteen holes, in flights of eight for match play scratch. Score cards for the qualifying round must be turned in before 12 o'clock noon on the day of play. A trophy is offered for each flight.

The games committee of which George A. Wells is chairman, is planning on some excellent events which will doubtless be most enthusiastically received by the members.

DECLARES GAMES TOO SLOW.

Comiskey Enters Complaint to President Ban Johnson.

Chicago, April 19.—Complaint that American league games are being played too slowly was made by C. A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, to President Johnson yesterday. A number of the games have lasted well over two hours and in Chicago particularly they have been slow, due, however, mainly to the number of passes issued by the pitchers. Mr. Comiskey noted yesterday that Faber pitched eleven balls to two St. Louis batters,

WILL BUILD CLUBHOUSE

Longview Tennis Club Lets Contracts for New $3,000 Building.

Organization Has $10,000 Invested in Courts—Oldest in City.

Lawn tennis patrons of Duluth are looking forward to the greatest season in the history of the sport in this city. Every local club is making early and extensive preparations for a banner year and it can be said without stretching any point, that the Head of the Lakes will see more of the net sport than ever before.

The Longview Tennis club, which has $10,000 invested in a plant of four courts at Twenty-fifth avenue east and Fourth street, will let a contract today for the erection of a $3,000 clubhouse on its property. Anthony J. Puck is the architect and will supervise the work of construction. The new building will be 22 by 32 and will have two stories and an attic. On the ground floor will be locker rooms for both men and women, toilet rooms and shower baths. The club rooms, dining rooms and the kitchen will be on the second floor, while the attic will be used for storage and other purposes. From the second floor will be built a large balcony, which will command a full view of the courts. It is expected that the building will have been completed by the middle of June.

The Longview club, which has a membership of 100 men and women, is the oldest organization of its kind in the city, its charter dating back to 1899. The club is in a healthy financial condition.

The Newport and the Lakeview Tennis clubs, which have maintained courts at the corner of Sixth avenue East and Third street for several years, have amalgamated and will adopt a new name for the 1916 season. They have two courts and a fair membership.

The North Shore Tennis club, which has had courts in the West end for several years, will have to seek new grounds this year for the reason that a large brick business block has been erected on the site of the old courts.

YALE OARSMEN ARRIVE.

Philadelphia, April 19.—Eighteen Yale oarsmen, accompanied by Coach Nickalls and the crew managers, arrived here yesterday and were quartered at the various fraternity houses. Their boats reached here yesterday afternoon and were in readiness for practice spins on the Schuylkill this morning in preparation for the race with Pennsylvania on Saturday. The Pennsylvania crews yesterday practiced both morning and afternoon over the mile and a half course.

ROOKIES IN FIRST GAME

Manager O'Brien Will Put Recruits Through Regular Workout.

"Rhode Island Reds" Will Meet the "Plymouth Rocks."

Chanticleer baseball will be the offering at Athletic park at 3:15 this afternoon when the "Rhode Island Reds" will attempt to whip the spurs into the strutting "Plymouth Rocks."

The barnyard crews will be made up from the recruits that have reported to Manager Darby O'Brien of the White Sox team and six innings of regular ball will be featured. This will be the first workout that the men have had this year, playing in fixed positions, and is expected to afford some real sport. O'Brien believes that this workout will give him a good line on the new players who have reported.

The lineup of the teams follows:

Plymouth Rocks — Culver, cf.; O'Brien, 2b.; Hoffmeister, rf.; Morse, lf.; Vigerost, c; Faull, 3b.; Howell, 1b.; Snow, ss.; Shoulders, p. and Smith, utility.

Paul Morse of Minneapolis, who last season did mound work for the Dooks, reported yesterday, as did Howell of Carlton. Catcher Ryan and Pitcher Bartoff are expected to reach Duluth today.

HOPE TO LOWER MARATHON MARK

Fair Weather for Boston Athletic Association's Classic.

Boston, April 19.—Weather and road conditions today gave the runners in the twentieth annual renewal of the Marathon race of the Boston Athletic association every incentive to try to better the record of two hours, 21 minutes, 18 1-5 seconds for the twenty-five mile course from Ashland to Boston.

Included in the field of seventy entrants were Charles Pores, Millrose A. A., New York; Villar Kyronen, Millrose A. A.; Arthur Jee Jamieson, Hamilton, Ont.; James Corkery, Toronto; Arthur Roth, Mohawk A. C., New York; Fred Travalena, Mohawk A. C., and Sidney H. Hatch, Illinois A. C., Chicago.

Doubt as to the eligibility of Corkery, who had been declared by Canadian athletic authorities to be a professional, was removed when word was received from the Canadian Amateur Athletic association that his amateur standing might now be considered clear.

ELCORA TEAM WINS BANNER

Pennant Goes to Cigar Makers in Record Season of Play.

Oak Halls Fall Down After Being League Leaders.

Maintaining a comfortable lead over the Oak Halls, their nearest competitors, in all three of the final games of the Major Bowling league season, bowled last evening on the Grand alleys, the Elcora team was awarded the championship. The cigarmakers piled up a total of 2,824, while the clothiers fell away to 2,707, being headed in the final spurt by the Big Duluth's with 2,788, the Sharkcrafts with 2,768 and the Empress crew with 2,771.

The Oak Hall athletes, who, until two weeks ago, headed the league, were keenly disappointed over their showing of last evening. Schultz, bowling in fourth position for the Elcoras, hung up the high scores of the evening in both the totals and for an individual game. His total score was 626 and his individual score 246.

The Fitzgerald & Winchester team suffered three straight defeats at the hands of the Empress crew while the Sharkcrafts won but one game from the Big Duluths. The Tailors copped the last game, on the strength of spurts by Foster and McFarlane, which kept their teammates inside the prize money.

All of the bowlers are highly elated with the success which has featured the season just brought to a close, it having been the best in the history of local ten pin enthusiasts.

The score of the last evening's games follow:

OARSMEN IN REAL BOATS

Working under the supervision of Wallace Quimby the first recruits for places on the Duluth Boat club rowing crews appeared in practice on the bay last evening and worked in fine form.

Indoor work, which has been going on for several weeks at the Y M. C. A., will be abandoned this evening when the entire squad of sixty-four candidates will take to the water under the experienced eye of Coach Edward H. Ten Eyck.

For the next two weeks Ten Eyck will carefully scrutinize the work of the men and, at the end of that time, will cut the size of the squad materially. When this is accomplished the men who remain will go into regular training and will make their headquarters at the club.

The squad, at present, is made up of eleven seniors, thirty-eight juniors and fifteen bantams. Members of the junior squad are: Atchley, Arneson, Beatty, Barry, Budnick, Carlson, Eva, Erricson, Flink, Goggins, Haley, Hagberg, Hammerback, Johnston, R. Johnson, G. W. Johnson, Kiley, Larson, Little, Matthews, Miller, M. J. Olson, W. Olson, Art Olson, O'Brien, I. F. Peterson, Porter, A. Peterson, Rossburg, Rowland, Stierna, Tobin, Vincent, Wall, W. Grant, Walker, W. F. O'Brien and Oglesby.

Georgia Startles Country With Great Blood Medicine

Drives Out Rheumatism, Malaria, Catarrh and All Impurities that Affect Skin, Nerves and Organs of the Body.

Scientists Discover Botanical Antidotes for Blood Disease.

In one of the greatest private laboratories in the world there is prepared a remarkable medicine known as S. S. S.

There is not a stage or condition of any form of blood disease but what a similar case has been completely overcome, utterly banished and the entire blood supply, the tissues, the mucous surfaces, the bones, the joints, the mouth and throat, the hair and scalp, the eyesight—all have recovered their normal state of health by virtue of this wonderful S. S. S.

And these facts have been put to the most severe tests—they have withstood the sternest test of all—the test of time—S. S. S. having been the standard for 50 years. They have met the most rigorous, the most searching of all blood tests—the scientific and accepted Wasserman test.

And these wonderful results have been accomplished by a scientific method that has completely overthrown the vicious and destructive use of mercury, iodide of potash, arsenic and other mineral poisons.

A New Era Dawns.

To what extent articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, neurasthenia, and pernicious anemia owe their origin to the use of mineral drugs is a matter of speculation. And yet the wonderful S. S. S. not only drives the impurities out of the blood but so repairs the functions of assimilation and elimination throughout the body that the destructive influences of even the mineral drugs are overcome. The materials of which S. S. S. is made, are gathered by experts and the great Swift laboratory has been visited and commended by men of national fame, both in statesmanship and in business life. Not one ounce of mineral drugs enters this famous laboratory. The medicine is prepared from the native roots; the virgin elements are extracted by a comprehensive and scientific process; and thus is given to the world the greatest antidote for blood disease to be found anywhere on the face of the earth.

An Institution of Learning.

But the Swift laboratory does not stop at the preparation of S. S. S. It has resolved itself into an institution for the instruction of those who need guidance; to whom the knowledge and medical wisdom of wide experience is priceless and yet can be had for the asking. All who are in any way afflicted with blood disease, eczema, lupus, catarrh, rheumatism, psoriasis, mucous patches, copper spots, falling hair, fading eyesight or any other external or internal effect of blood disease are urged to at once procure a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, department or general store and immediately fill out the coupon on this page for private, personal and confidentially sealed instruction and advice for successful home treatment. This matter is so important and of such great value that it should be attended to at once. But of all things do not permit anyone to sidetrack you on to any of the myriad of so-called blood tonics. Ask for S. S. S. or send for it, and be sure you get S. S. S.

And best of all, this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have drugged yourself until your stomach is nearly worn out, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no unpleasant sensation, but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

The great Swift Laboratory has spent thousands of dollars in perfecting, producing and placing in the hands of the public this wonderful medicine. So give your blood a good bath with S. S. S., for it knocks the worst forms of rheumatism every time.

Blood Bath Knocks Rheumatism

Remarkable Effects of a Remedy That Actually Irrigates the Entire Blood Supply.

It sounds queer to take a blood bath but that is precisely the effect of the most remarkable remedy known as S. S. S. It has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints,

Do not fail to write to the Swift Specific Company. Fill out the coupon below and thus you can solve the mystery of articular rheumatism, sciatica or any other form of this painful malady.

Be Sure You Are on the Right Road.

Blood diseases are so varied and break out in such a strange and peculiar manner that it is wise to consult an expert. Be sure to fill out the coupon below. Advice is absolutely free and will be worth hundreds of dollars to anyone who, mistaking their trouble, begins the wrong method of treatment.

Eczema Plague Stamped Out.

Wonderful News For All Afflicted With Any Form of Eczema.

Why Suffer with Eczema or Any Other Skin Disease When You Have S. S. S.?

Recent astonishing cases of Eczema and other skin afflictions show there is no question but what we now have the best treatment for this distressing plague.

And whether it be the dry or weeping form, even though it has driven you to distraction and has defied a hundred salves and lotions, you want to be cured.

Nature puts some marvelous healing elements into the products from which is extracted S. S. S. These are readily assimilated, they get right into the blood and actually bathe all these tissues with a most wonderful healing influence.

It is a well-known fact that the body strives to throw out through the skin in the form of perspiration the excess of salts and acids that accumulate in the blood. When you take a hot bath you know how the sweat stings if it drops into the eyes. This same effect goes on at various different spots on the skin and results in sores, rash, salt rheum, terrible itching and a general plague of the skin. Now, the action of S. S. S. is just as if you were continually perspiring only there is no visible evidence of the fact. The remedy enters the blood through the intestines and in five minutes is hard at work. It follows the law of circulation by which, having served its purpose, it seeks out an outlet and at once is caught in the myriad of small blood vessels that reach the skin pores all over the body.

A wonderful work is now going on, instead of these poisons collecting in the form of crusts and irritating, itching eczema, they dry up and new blood elements, made possible by S. S. S. form new tissues and the disease is completely banished. It is remarkable how quickly this results. Get a bottle of S. S. S. of any druggist, and fill out the coupon on this page for instructive medical advice.

NEW LEAGUE FOR DULUTH

Local Amateur Ball Players Withdraw From Parent Organization.

During a meeting that was featured with unusual enthusiasm and which was held last evening at the Fenton-Duby company store, the members of the Amateur Baseball league of Duluth decided to withdraw from the Amateur Baseball association of America and form a Commercial league which will have at least four and perhaps six members.

Representatives of Rust-Parker, Board of Trade, Wolvin Building, Duluth Street Railway company and the Northern Drug company teams were present and all expressed a desire to enter. Unless another club can be secured the league will have to be cut to four members.

A regular schedule of games will be framed and adopted at a meeting to be held May 26. The teams will play Saturday afternoons through the summer months.

DULUTH NOT ONLY VICTIM

Smooth "Engineer" Works Washington Merchants for $600.

Otto Becker, alias G. W. Weber, resident "engineer," who has gained the respect of police throughout the United States because of his skill in "engineering" worthless time checks, has been visiting in Washington, D. C.

Early in March Becker visited Duluth and his three days' stay cost the merchants between $800 and $1,000, police estimated after he had left for parts unknown without the formality of leaving a forwarding address.

From Duluth Becker went to the national capitol, and merchants there are $600 wiser than they were, according to circulars received at police headquarters from Washington.

In Duluth Becker founded the Northwestern Construction company. He was resident engineer, in charge of elaborate offices in the Providence building. The company was in charge of extensive quarry work at Sandstone, Minn., and Kettle River, he said.

The company was in existence for three days, and the third day was pay day. He cashed no less than twenty-five or thirty time checks, and each time the merchant verified the check by telephoning an unwitting stenographer.

The same procedure was followed in Washington.

BIG CROWD SEES BASKET BALL GAMES

In two well-played basket ball contests, staged at the Y. M. C. A. gym last evening, the Salters defeated the D. S. S. C. O. team by a score of 22 to 0 and the Cathedrals won from the Jacksons by a count of 18 to 3. Both contests were the first in the elimination games for the boys' basket ball championship.

A big crowd witnessed the contests and rooted right boisterously. This evening the Cathedrals will meet the Salters and the Jefferson Juniors will play the Hazelwoods.

ARE EMPLOYES, NOT OFFICIALS

Police and Firemen Come Under Workmen's Compensation Law.

Judge Fesler Orders City to Pay Mooney's Parents $6 Weekly.

Police officers and firemen are city employes within the meaning of the workmen's compensation law and the municipality is liable to them under its provisions.

This is the law as Judge Bert Fesler sees it and unless he is reversed by the supreme court it will stand. The decision was announced yesterday afternoon when the court filed a decision awarding compensation to the relatives of Neil Mooney, New Duluth patrolman, who was shot and killed while on duty.

Mooney died on Jan. 8, 1914. He was shot and fatally wounded by a prisoner he was attempting to arrest. Henry and Isabella Mooney of Victoria, Prince Edward Island, were his parents and they were represented by Walter F. Dacey, local attorney.

The court awarded the parents of the dead patrolman $6 a week for a period not to exceed 300 weeks, beginning Jan. 14, 1914.

Judge Fesler, in his memorandum, declares that the case hinges on the question of whether a policeman or patrolman is an "official" or an "employe."

"It is plain," the memorandum states, "that the mayor, commissioners, the clerk, the auditor, assessor and attorney of Duluth are 'officials.' It is equally plain that clerks, stenographers, bookkeepers and surveying crews are not. The most that can reasonably be said is that policemen or firemen come within the twilight zone between. In the case of Mooney, it is clear that he was not elected or appointed for a regular term of office. Under the Duluth charter, policemen are not elected.

"They are appointed after a civil service examination and are removable for cause, practically at the whim of the removing power. They are plainly not 'appointed' for a period definite as to time."

RECORD TOURIST SEASON EXPECTED

Vermilion Country Looks for Big Business From June to October.

What gives every promise of being the greatest tourist season ever recorded in the history of the Vermilion country is expected to open the latter part of June and continue well into October. Unusual inquiry, concerning canoe trips, fishing and hunting are being received by Myrle M. Hanna, city ticket agent for the Duluth & Iron Range railroad.

"Never, in recent years, has the inquiry from tourists been so pronounced," said Mr. Hanna this morning. "Information relative to canoe trips is being sought by people residing in every part of the United States and Canada. It is certain that thousands of tourists will go to Lake Vermilion during the several months of the summer season while we expect the canoe trips to begin in June and be featured well along into the late autumn season. These trips are becoming more and more popular each succeeding season."

CLOQUET MILLS ARE NOW ABLE TO RUN

Cloquet, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sawmills of the different lumber companies were able to resume operations Tuesday morning after having been closed down Monday on account of high water. The water although still high has stopped rising and unless heavy rains should come the danger of high water is past. The outlook for the shipment of lumber this summer is the brightest it has been for some time and this coupled with the fact that the town is not flooded with men as is usual in the spring makes the prospect of work for all brighter than it has been for some time.

Since the snow had gone the city has had men cleaning the streets. Cloquet avenue, the principal thoroughfare, is in good shape and it is expected other streets will soon be the same.

USING SEVEN OPEN HEARTHS

Three Additional Furnaces Will Be Ready By July 1.

Rolling Mill May Be in Operation Next Week.

Seven open hearth furnaces are now in operation and another will be ready to be charged within two weeks at the Duluth steel plant. The plant is now producing about 40,000 tons of steel monthly.

Three additional furnaces were recently started and are now daily producing steel along with the four which were started on Dec. 13 and 14. The eighth open hearth furnace was completed about three weeks ago and is now being given its basic lining. It will soon be manufacturing steel.

The ninth furnace is now rapidly nearing completion, and the tenth and final furnace of the unit has been begun. Both of these will be completed so that the entire complement of ten furnaces will be in operation before July 1.

The steel is being converted into billets, bars and slabs as rapidly as it can be handled through the blooming mill. Within another week the rolling mill may also be in operation. The reheating mill where the billets will be reheated for further rolling has been partially completed and fires started in one of the furnaces. It is expected that reheated steel may be taken from these furnaces probably tomorrow or Friday and first steel rolled into rails or rods.

Construction work on another open pit furnace has been started, which, with the other four now in use, will be sufficient for the time being in taking care of the steel ingots poured at the open hearth furnace. This new open pit furnace will be ready, it is believed, about July 1.

DO NOT KNOW EXTENT OF WAGE INCREASE

Steel Plant Employes in Doubt as to Their Benefits.

Just what effect the proposed increase in wages for employes of the United States Steel corporation decided on yesterday at New York will have on the employes of the Minnesota Steel company is not known here as yet. Officials are inclined to believe that very few of the local men will be benefited by the raise.

"The wages paid employes of the Duluth steel plant are from 15 to 25 per cent higher than those paid in plants of the East," said an official of the company this morning. "It is doubtful if there will be an additional increase made here at present. We have had no authentic word as to any proposed increase. It is probable that men in some branches of the local plant may get such a raise."

PROCTOR WILL HOLD CLEAN-UP DAY

Charles Remfrey, president of the village of Proctor, yesterday issued a proclamation designating May 5 as Clean-up and Paint-up day. Plans for a general clean-up of the village are being made.

A committee, consisting of William Foubister, chairman; W. E. Harrison and Charles J. Birch, Sr., has been named to take charge of the campaign.

STUDENTS WILL ADD TO SCHOOL STAGE

Members of the manual training class of the Robert E. Denfeld high school will enlarge the stage in the auditorium of the school so as to enable them to present the play, "The Private Tutor." The play will be produced early in May.

Several members of the class began work on the enlargement of the stage yesterday. The work is being carried out under the direction of C. B. Avery, manual training instructor. The stage will be extended about eight feet, giving a depth of twenty feet in all, and will be widened fourteen feet, giving a total width of thirty-eight feet.

The present stage was complained of as being too small for any theatricals or large entertainments and permission was obtained to make the enlargement.

Barn-Raising Bee.

Business men of Proctor will hold a "barn-raising bee" in the village Monday afternoon and evening. The plan is to erect the proposed shelter for farmers' teams during the stay of farmers in the village. The approximate cost of the material is about $150 and this sum has been raised among the business men. The proposed gathering on Monday is for the purpose of bringing the construction cost of the building down to a minimum.

Rob Cloquet Church.

West Duluth police have been asked to look out for thieves who burglarized the Episcopal church of Cloquet Monday evening. The burglars stole a silver chalice and silver plate, valued at about $30. The police have no clew to the robbers. The church was broken into and lockers ransacked, according to advices received from the Cloquet authorities.

Newman Funeral Monday.

The funeral for George H. Newman, 43, who died at the Nopeming sanatorium Monday morning, will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home of his brother, C. A. Mark, in the town of Thomson, and at 2 o'clock from the Apostles' Lutheran church. Interment will be in the Apostles' Lutheran cemetery. Mr. Newman is survived by his mother, two sisters and two brothers.

Surprised By Friends.

Mrs. H. D. Mehling, 6521 Green street, was pleasantly surprised yesterday afternoon by a number of her friends in honor of her birthday. Music and games featured the entertainment. The guests were: Mrs. P. Oettel, Mrs. W. Shaw, Mrs. C. Wick, Mrs. E. Mehling, Mrs. E. Lessard, Mrs. G. Ramthun, Mrs. H. G. Gelineau and Miss Hulda Mehling.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. W. S. Perkins of St. Paul, who has been spending a month visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. F. Olson, 512 North Fifty-ninth avenue west, left for her home this afternoon.

The Young People's society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue and Wadena street, will hold a business meeting Monday evening. A business meeting of the congregation will be held next Wednesday evening.

Mrs. George O. Cooper, 719 North Fifty-fourth avenue west, has as her guest, Mrs. O. Olson of Iron River, Wis.

POLICEWOMAN FOR DULUTH

Commissioner Will Act On Advice of First "Lady Cop."

Duluth will have a policewoman in the near future if plans considered today by Safety Commissioner Silberstein are carried out.

"I believe that the city would get much better service, at a slightly increased cost, if the present police matron was employed full time, as a regular officer, and given assignments as is a policewoman," he said.

"I intend to take up the matter with Chief McKercher as soon as he returns from the East, and arrange to have Police Matron Connelly appointed policewoman."

Under the present system the matron does not report at the station for duty unless there are women prisoners in the city jail. Whenever women are arrested she is called to the station, and takes charge of the case until the prisoner has been released or sent to the county jail, or municipal lodging house, as the case may be.

Commissioner Silberstein has been considering the matter of a policewoman for some time. It is planned to have Matron Connelly work with the uniformed force, and with detectives, on cases of juvenile delinquents, or women who give the department trouble from time to time.

His decision to take immediate action came after talking it over with other commissioners. Mrs. Alice Stebbens Wells of Los Angeles, called the original "lady cop," visited the commissioners yesterday.

STUDENT CASE TO SUPREME COURT

Madison, Wis., April 19.—An appeal will be taken immediately to the supreme court in the case involving the right of the university students to vote in the city of Madison.

Judge E. Ray Stevens held that a university student who has no present intention of leaving Madison is a legal voter. Ralph W. Jackman announced today that he expected to have the appeal perfected so that the matter may be finally settled before the June vacation of the judges.

Several university students brought an action against the election board of the First ward in the city, alleging that these officials had refused to allow them to vote. The election officials demurred to the complaints, claiming that they did not state a cause of action. Judge Stevens overruled the demurrers.

The case is of wide importance wherever schools of higher education are located attended by men of voting age.

YOUTH LANDS PRIZE TROUT

Arnold Oreck, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Oreck, yesterday afternoon won the distinction of being the first Duluth angler to catch a brook trout and one of the few in the city who have ever caught a German brown trout, that being the species of fish he took from Lester river.

The Oreck boy, along with several young companions, went to the Lester river yesterday morning, and they cast their lines near the mouth of that stream. In a short time a fish took hold of Oreck's line and tugged so strenuously that the pole snapped. Sorry over losing the prize, but not disheartened, he returned in the afternoon and cast in where he had been fishing in the morning. After waiting patiently for more than an hour, he landed the big fish in question.

He brought his prize home and now it is on exhibition in the display window of the Kruschke gun store. The trout is a fraction over eighteen inches in length and weighs about three pounds.

"LUCY" SOURS WILL PLAY WITH NED EGAN'S TEAM

It is now certain that "Lucy" Sours, star infielder, who played with Duluth a part of last season and who was looked upon as one of the best basemen on the Northern circuit, will not be with the White Sox this year.

This morning Sours left for Muscatine, Iowa, where he will report to Ned Egan, manager of the team in that city. Owner Blume of the Duluth team tried hard to land Sours, but the inducements in the Hawkeye state were more to his liking.

FAMOUS FOR HEAD LETTUCE

Duluth's Ideal Climate Gives Local Product National Demand.

Messrs. Colman and Gibson Speak at Horticultural Meeting.

That Duluth is rapidly becoming nationally famous for its head lettuce, was the statement made in the address given last evening by C. Francis Colman before the members of the Northeastern Minnesota Horticultural society at a meeting held under the auspices of the Woodland Neighborhood club in the auditorium of the Cobb school.

Mr. Colman pointed out the fact that the lettuce grown in Duluth, under ideal climatic and soil conditions, was being shipped all over the country, and that the demand was often so great that it had to be taken care of in carload lots. As a result, the growing of this product in Duluth has become very popular and the city is making a name for itself in connection with it.

An exceedingly interesting lecture on "Successful Gardening in Duluth," illustrated with lantern slides, was given by E. P. Gibson. He declared that, although most of the Woodlanders were successful gardeners, he might be able to offer them some suggestions. One of the features of his address was the outline of an ideal city garden.

The cultivation of strawberries was the text of the address of W. H. Crosby, who said that, although their commercial value in this city was not very certain, they would add to the value of any private garden.

Plans for the exhibit at the state fair this coming fall were also outlined by Mr. Colman, declaring that a big campaign would be launched to have the county well represented.

PYTHIAN LODGE CONFERS DEGREES

Charter Members Give Talks; Superior Knights Are Represented.

Members of the North Star lodge, No. 35, Knights of Pythias, conferred the first rank on a class of members last night at their regular meeting in the Temple building. Knights of Pythias lodge of Superior and the Kitchi Gammi lodge were represented at the meeting by committees, and talks were given by the chancellors of each lodge. The local lodge was honored by the presence of Simon Clark and F. G. Thompson, charter members, who responded with short talks.

A demonstration of those taking part will be given in the near future before the Superior and West Duluth lodges. Following the ceremonies last night, refreshments were served and several musical numbers featured. Next Tuesday the second rank will be conferred on a class of candidates, and on the week following the first rank will be repeated.

PROGRAM FOR EACH DAY OF VACATION

Beginning at 9 o'clock the members who do not know how to swim are getting special lessons and each boy who can swim sixty feet by the end of the week will get a diploma.

Volley ball in the gymnasium with swim following, was the program this morning and this afternoon at 2 o'clock a party left for a cabin party, each boy taking his lunch, with something that he can cook himself. Tonight after the basket ball tournament which will begin at 7:30, there will be a game tournament in the clubrooms.

Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the gymnasium program will be athletics and a swim. At 2 o'clock there will be an observation trip to the Superior shipyard to see how the big ships are made. In the evening there will be an Easter social and each boy coming will bring a hard boiled egg.

NOTED SOCIALISTS TO VISIT DULUTH

Candidates for Governor and Vice President Coming in May.

George R. Kirkpatrick, candidate for vice president on the Socialist ticket, will be a Duluth visitor on May 9. At that time he will address a meeting which will be held in Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street.

G. C. Bentall of Litchfield, Socialist candidate for governor of Minnesota, will be the principal speaker at the May day celebration, which will be held here on May 1. There will be a parade and a mass meeting at the Auditorium.

A meeting will be held this evening at the town hall in Lakeside at which it is expected that a new Socialist local will be constituted. The charter membership is expected to be more than 100.

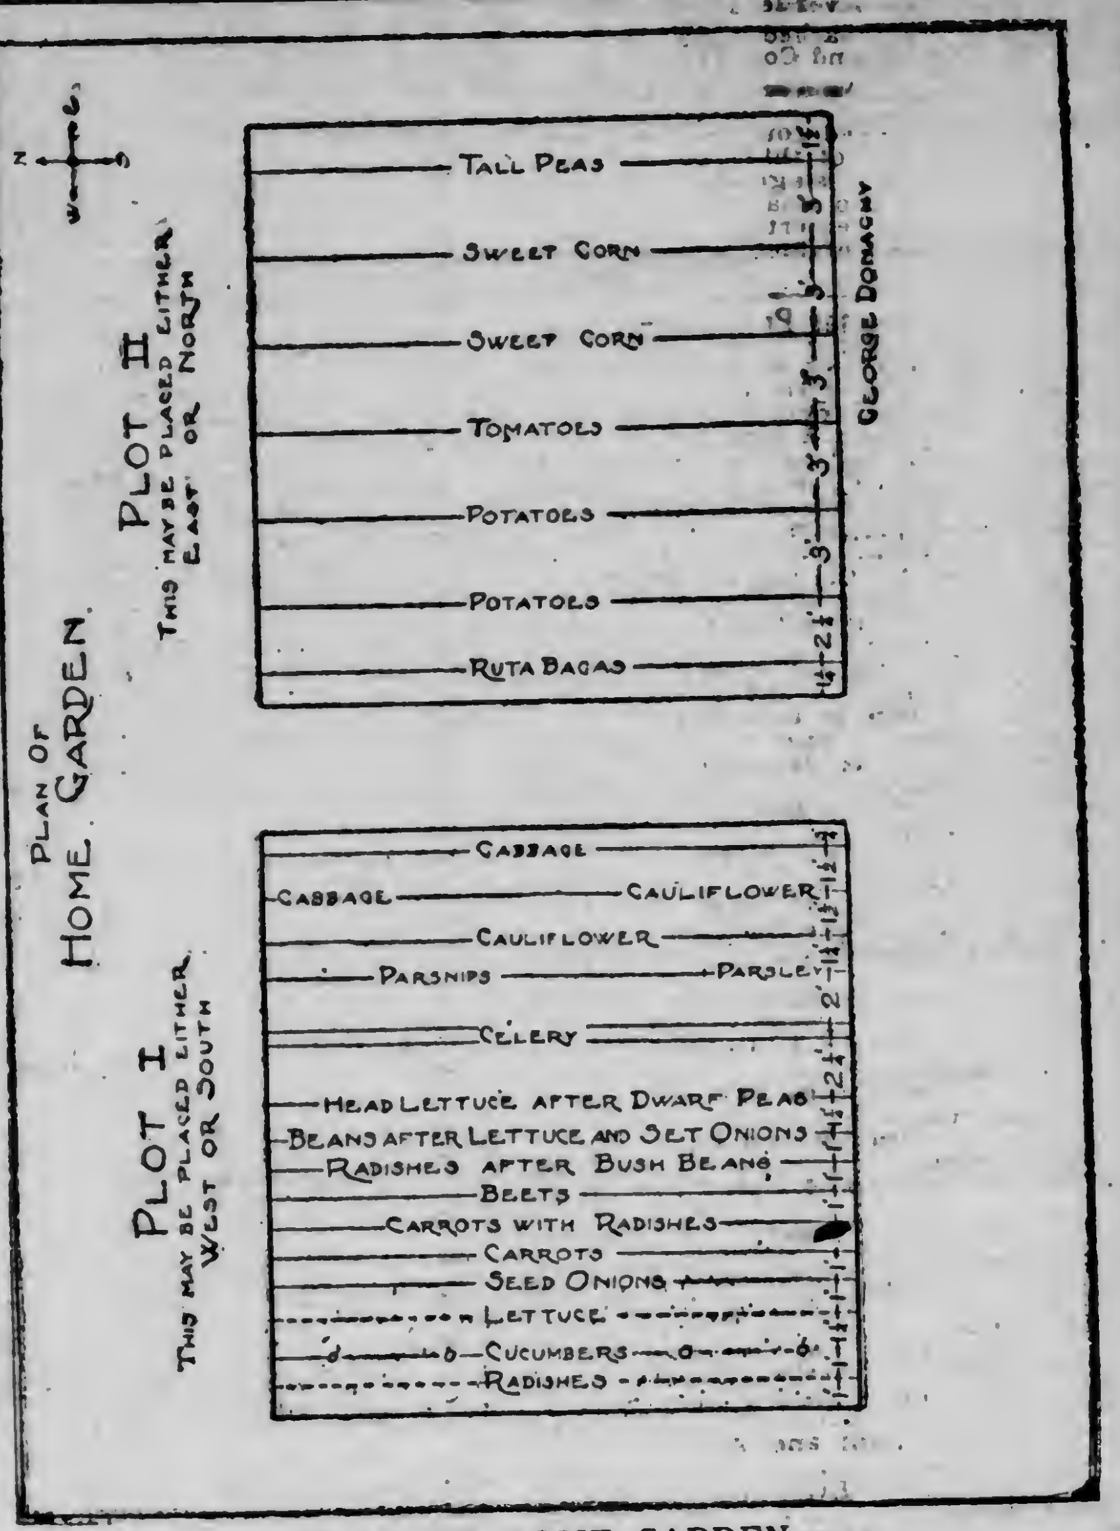
FORCING AMERICANS TO ENLIST IN CANADA

Portland, Ore., April 19.—Charges that American laborers are being induced to migrate to Canada on the promise of lucrative employment and then are forced by the pressure of the authorities and of the circumstances by which they find themselves surrounded, to enlist in Great Britain's overseas army, is made by the United States department of labor's bureau of immigration in a bulletin received here by the local immigration commissioner.

Quoting from the report of the American consul general at Vancouver, B. C., the bulletin says:

"Special efforts are being made to induce every foreigner of military age to enlist in the overseas service, and it is practically impossible for an American to secure employment in any capacity. Several thousand Americans have gone from British Columbia to the United States during the last year, a majority went because they were unable to do business or secure employment and some because of the endeavors on the part of the authorities to enlist them for military service."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT DESCRIBES MODEL BACKYARD GARDEN PLOT



PLAN OF HOME GARDEN.

Bright skies and balmy weather have served to bring the backyard garden enthusiasts from under cover, and during the early hours of the day, when many less energetic persons are still enjoying sleep, as well as during the few hours preceding sunset, one may see these thrifty agriculturists laboriously toiling at the little backyard plot.

Many of the prospective agriculturists find great difficulty in systematically arranging their gardens, and because of this, agricultural classes at Central high school, under the supervision of E. P. Gibson, have been paying particular attention to the study of a systematic arrangement of the small garden. The plan, reproduced above, is one of the best of those that have been turned out by the students, and it will undoubtedly help some of the less experienced gardeners in making the best possible use of their limited space.

Planning the Garden.

The following discussion on "Planning the Home Garden," written by one of the students, will also probably help those interested in the work:

"In growing vegetables for the home table the gardener should aim to secure a variety of products, the highest quality, and as uniform and constant a supply throughout the season as possible. To obtain the greatest production from the available space the gardener should make use of companion and succession cropping. Companion cropping is the planting together of two crops, one of which matures earlier than the other, such as radishes planted with carrots. When the carrots have grown enough to be thinned, the radishes have about all been used, thus making a double use of the space generally used for only one crop. Succession cropping is the following of an early plant by another quick maturing vegetable. Lettuce may be planted in the spring, and as soon as this crop has become exhausted radishes may be planted and these will be ready in a short time, at least before the frosts begin. The same method may be used with peas and beans.

Rows North and South.

"The rows should run north and south, in order that the plants may receive the greatest amount of sun. The tallest plants should be placed to the north or east so that they will not shut off any of the sun from the shorter plants. Such a position will also protect the smaller and less hardy plants from the cold, northeast winds which are so frequent in this locality. Since the home gardener's time is generally limited it is advisable to place the plot as near the house as possible.

"A soil of rich loam, perhaps sandy, is preferred, although almost any soil may be improved so that it will produce good results. Thorough drainage is essential.

"It is better to sow after a rain than before, for the soil bakes soon after a rain and a hard crust hinders the germination of the seeds. The soil should be freshly stirred and marked so that the rows will be straight and even.

"The following vegetables may be planted about or before May 1: Beets, carrots, lettuce, onions and onion sets, parsley, parsnips, peas, radishes and rutabagas. By May 15 it is safe to plant bush beans, sweet corn, cabbage plants, head lettuce plants and potatoes. The cucumbers may be planted by June 1, and the tomato plants may be set out about June 15.

"Two rows of corn should always be planted together to allow for effective cross pollination of the wind."

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Hopes Every Man and Woman Adopts This Splendid Morning Habit.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

INDUSTRIAL PROBE IN NORTH DAKOTA

State Board Named By Secretary Daniels Has Organized.

Fargo, N. D., April 19.—The North Dakotans appointed by Secretary of the Navy Daniels to consider industrial preparedness in this state met here and organized. They elected Dean Crouch of the state university chairman, and formulated plans for conducting the work of the organization in North Dakota which for the present is the taking of an inventory during the next few weeks of certain kinds of manufacturing industries of the state, cataloguing the nature and quantity of their output and the possibilities for enlargements and increase of output in times of emergency.

Those on Board.

The following constitute the board in North Dakota: T. R. Atkinson of Bismarck, formerly state engineer of North Dakota, represents the American Society of Civil Engineers; Calvin H. Crouch, dean of the college of mechanical and electrical engineering at the state university, represents the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; Dr. E. F. Ladd, president of the North Dakota State Agricultural college, represents the American Chemical society, and Prof. J. Floyd Stevens, assistant professor in electrical engineering at the University of North Dakota, represents the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

BUSINESS MEN BUY ZENITH SLIPS FREELY

More than 200 slips for copies of the 1916 Zenith, the Central high school annual publication, have been sold among the business men of the city by the members of the board who have been canvassing the city during the last two days.

The members of the 1916 board are making a big attempt to sell 1,500 copies of the annual this year, and as they have already disposed of more than 1,100 among the students of Central, they are eager to sell at least 400 among the business men of the city, and with this total their goal will be reached in the general sale at the end of the school year in June.

Charles Le Richeux, business manager of this year's publication, is in active charge of the downtown sale this week. He is being assisted by several members of the board, and they aim to see every business man in the city during the week.

THIRTY ASHLAND MEN NOW ON "POSTED" LIST

Ashland, Wis., April 19.—So many men are now on the "posted" list, in other words must not be sold liquor, that local saloon men have to look over a bunch of photos before serving drinks, as the law requires. There are said to be thirty men living here in the "posted" class.

The inside of a saloon resembles the interior of a photograph gallery and the proprietors find it no easy matter to secure a mental impression of the numerous faces that make up the list of "tipplers."

"KEEP OFF TRACKS," SAYS RAILROAD

Ashland, Wis., April 19.—The Chicago & Northwestern railroad is sending letters to agents asking their cooperation in distributing stamps containing the words "Keep Off the Tracks; Keep Your Family, Friends, Employes Off the Deadly Railroad Tracks." It is desired to have school teachers distribute them among the children and have them stick them on the title pages of their books where the warning will be frequently brought to mind.

AT LAST, THE MUCH SLANDERED SPRING

* * *

POEM IS SUBMITTED TO THE EDITOR

Flowers are budding, birds are beginning to sing, Mr. Common People has a cold, boys are playing marbles and little girls are skipping rope.

In short, it is spring, and with the coming of spring, editors are popularly supposed to receive the annual spring contribution of the poets.

Since time immemorial cartoonists have annually pictured an abused editor, buried in spring poems. Regardless of the fact that spring poems never really bother editors, the old impression still clings.

The Herald really has received a spring poem this year, however, and it is not the kind of a poem that drives overworked editors to strong drink.

Miss Nellie B. Pendergast, secretary to City Attorney John E. Samuelson, has found time between dry legal phrasings, briefs and depositions, to compose many bits of prose and poetry.

Now what shall our symbol of Springtime be?
Have we need for but one—or two, or three?

Would a goddess fair be a symbol true?
Or need we Puck and his elfin crew?

For "the spring comes slowly up this way,"
And changeth ever from day to day.

Now the restful calm of a matron staid;
Now the lilting laugh of a teasing maid.

Now a day so warm and a sky so blue
That the earth-bound seeds come pushing through.

Then Puck, in a riot of elfish glee,
Has chilled the pulse in the waking tree.

Now the pussy willows softly purr,
While the South Wind strokes their velvet fur;

Then they huddle close, and turn away
From the wild Nor'easter's boist'rous play.

If we choose for our symbol a Goddess free,
How, then, may we clothe her fittingly?

We would deck her with wreaths and garlands fair;

When the raindrops glitter on every tree,
Our goddess an Undine maid might be.

Next day, in the blizzard's driving blur,
She has need for the Pussy Willow's fur.

So it's "Wanted, a symbol of springtime joy,"
Is it matron, or maid, or an elfin boy?

NELLIE B. PENDERGAST.

To End Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from perhaps total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength), about 75 cents worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.—Advertisement.

Fire Near Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., April 19.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the grain elevator of the C. A. Gambrill Manufacturing company at Ellicott City, near here, today, together with 15,000 bushels of wheat. The loss was estimated at $200,000.

TO MEET SOO HEAD.

Ashland, Wis., April 19.—Col. J. P. Petermann of Calumet, Mich., chairman of the committee chosen to confer with President Edward Pennington of the Soo Line in an effort to have the Mellen-Reserve "cutoff" constructed this year, has been asked by Secretary Ralph Brown of the Commercial club to set a date for the meeting at Minneapolis. Mr. Petermann was selected as chairman of the committee the day following the big meeting of the Commercial clubs of Upper Wisconsin and Upper Michigan held here. It is desirous that conference be held with the Soo Line president in the near future and Secretary Brown expects an answer from Mr. Petermann soon, setting a time for a meeting.

The members of the committee who will confer with President Pennington are C. N. Cramer, Ashland; A. H. Wilkinson, Bayfield, and George E. Foster, Mellen, and Col. Petermann of Calumet.

DEAD ON HIS FEET

GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will bring new life and quickly relieve that stopped-up congested feeling. They will thoroughly cleanse and wash out the kidneys and bladder and gently carry off the ill effects of excesses of all kinds. The healing, soothing oil soaks right into the walls and lining of the kidneys and expels the poisons in your system. Keep your kidneys in good shape by daily use of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules and you will have good health. Go to your druggist at once and secure a package of this time-honored, world-wide remedy. It is not a "patent medicine." It is passed upon by U. S. Government chemists and declared pure before coming into this country. GOLD MEDAL is the pure, original Haarlem Oil, imported direct from the ancient laboratories in Holland where it is the National Household Remedy of the sturdy Dutch. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box. Accept no substitute. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if not as represented.—Advertisement.

CITY NEEDS READY CASH

Will Issue Certificates of Indebtedness to Amount of $20,000.

Police and Fire Department Expenditures Have Been Increased.

City commissioners, at a special meeting tomorrow morning, will pass upon a resolution calling for the issuance of $20,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness to tide over the public safety fund until proceeds from the 1916 tax levy are available.

"It is estimated that about $12,000 actually will be needed," said Finance Commissioner Voss, "but the resolution will call for $20,000, in order to allow for emergencies."

Police and fire department salary rolls, which have shown increases, are partially responsible for the shortage, commissioners said. One-third of the additional appropriation will be available for the purchase of a $6,500 combination fire truck for West Duluth.

"This truck is to be delivered June 1," said Commissioner Voss, "and although there is a possibility that it will be delayed in shipment, we want to be ready to pay for it when it gets here. Payrolls and bills of the safety division will account for about $5,000."

In addition to the consideration of the resolution, commissioners will receive a certification from City Clerk Walter Borgen that the "dry" petition is sufficient.

About 3,000 names were checked before clerks stopped their work. City Clerk Borgen allowed 200 or 300 more than were necessary, in order to guard against the throwing out of any that might be illegal. The petition, the largest ever filed in the city clerk's office, is said to contain more than 6,000 names.

CANVASS TO BEGIN MAY 1

Twenty Deputy Assessors Will Obtain Valuations.

Deputy assessors, twenty in number, will begin the annual task of visiting residences and stores to obtain valuations, beginning May 1.

City Assessor J. A. Scott said today that the twenty men to be assigned to this work will be called in Saturday, when preliminary arrangements for the canvass will be made.

Each man in bonded in the sum of $500 and at Saturday's conference districts to be covered by each man will be assigned to him.

IS ACQUITTED OF ASSAULT CHARGE

Because he didn't call the corners loudly enough, a street car conductor incurred the displeasure of Emil Linnander, West Duluth, Saturday, according to police. The conductor alleged that Linnander assaulted him.

The conductor stopped the car and turned Linnander over to Patrolman Peterson, who brought him to headquarters and charged him with assault.

When the case was brought before Judge W. H. Smallwood there was no one to verify the conductor's version of the affair and Linnander denied it flatly. He was released. Attorney Andrew Nelson appeared for him.

MAYOR IS INVITED TO CONSERVATION CONGRESS

Mayor W. I. Prince has been invited to attend the annual convention of the National Conservation congress, to be held in Washington, D. C., May 2, 3 and 4.

Thomas R. Shipp, executive secretary of the congress, has written to the city's chief executive, asking him to attend the congress in person, or to appoint delegates from Duluth.

The plan of the congress, as stated in Mr. Shipps' communication, is to "develop national strength and efficiency."

COMMANDER WHO SUNK SUSSEX IS DECORATED

Paris, April 19.—Information was received from reliable sources today that Emperor William has decorated the commander of the submarine which is said to have torpedoed the Sussex. It is understood Washington has been informed of this development.

The award of a decoration to this commander, it is believed here, would make it difficult, and perhaps impossible for Germany to punish him, in case such a demand were made by the American government.

Berlin, April 19, wireless to Sayville.—The official Austrian report of April 17 says that a Russian attack on Austro-Hungarian guards on the upper Sereth river in Eastern Galicia was repulsed.

NEW PICTURE OF VON BERNSTORFF, GERMAN AMBASSADOR TO U. S.

—Copyright by Bain News Service.

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF.

This is the way Count von Bernstorff looked when he attended the flower show in New York. The great strain under which the count has been living continuously since the war began has put a new line or two in his face but he is still the same keen, suave diplomat of the peace period. However man may feel about Germany and the allies there is only one opinion about Count von Bernstorff among public men and diplomats and that is that he has carried a serious diplomatic burden with wonderful strength and grace; and in a very trying period he has made many new friends for himself.

NEW IDEAS FOR PAVING

West Duluthians Want Boulevard in Center of Avenue.

Petition for Improvement of Fifty-Ninth Avenue West Filed.

New ideas in street paving have been advocated by citizens of West Duluth, who want the city's widest street, Fifty-ninth avenue west, paved with a forty-foot boulevard in the center of the street.

A petition asking that the avenue be paved from Main street to Highland street, was filed with City Clerk Walter Borgen this morning and will be turned over to city commissioners at the next council meeting Monday.

The plan calls for a strip of boulevard, forty feet wide and 425 feet long, in the center of each block. The street is 100 feet wide, and allows room for an eighteen-foot strip of paving on each side of the boulevard. Unusually wide sidewalks also will be put in if citizens have their way.

The petition asks that the work be done from Grand to Wadena street during the present year, and that the rest be done next year, unless it all can be done in 1916.

Citizens living south of Main street on Fifty-ninth also have been taken up with the boulevard plan, it is reported, and they are said to be circulating a petition asking for a similar improvement of the avenue from Polk street to the harbor.

Fifty-ninth avenue west, was designated as the center of the western section when the land was laid out, and for that reason was made much wider than the average street.

WILL DISCUSS ISSUE WITH AMBASSADOR

Washington, April 19. — Secretary Lansing today informed Count van Bernstorff, the German ambassador, that he was ready to discuss the submarine situation with him and a conference probably will be arranged for tomorrow. Yesterday Secretary Lansing informed him he could not discuss the subject.

TURTLE MOUNTAIN COUNTRY FLOODED

Churchs Ferry, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Warnings from the Turtle mountains today say flood waters are pouring south. The main outlet of the lake, Alice creek, is a mile wide in places. Guards are stationed at railway bridges. It is predicted Lake Irwin will overflow today when condition becomes serious.

INGRAHAM ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WAR

Washington, April 19.—William M. Ingraham, former mayor of Portland, Me., has been selected by President Wilson for assistant secretary of war. The nomination was signed today. Mr. Ingraham will succeed Henry Breckinridge, who resigned with Former Secretary Garrison.

HIS VIEWPOINT.

Washington Star: Robert Skinner, ex-consul-general to London, said at a dinner:

"Of course, neutrals see things from one viewpoint, and belligerents from another. We all have our various viewpoints.

"An English inebriate was recently released from jail. To a friend who met him outside the prison gates he said:

"'Well, mate, wot noos?'

"'There's a law again treatin,' was the reply, 'and pretty near the whole world is at war.'

"The inebriate shook his head sadly and wisely.

"'Just think!' he said. 'Just think of a no-treatin' law havin' sech an effect as that!'"

ON THE IRON RANGES

DR. J. H. CROWE REAPPOINTED

Virginia's Health Officer Finally Named to Succeed Himself.

Mayor Boylan Vetoes Appointment of T. C. Mellis as Auditor.

Virginia, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Angles of the pending patronage fight precipitated by the organization of the new city council last night developed one of the most sensational meetings of that body ever held in the city. Spectators packed the council chambers, overflowed the corridors and extended into the hallways.

Dr. John H. Crowe, who failed of confirmation as health officer at the last meeting, was re-elected last night. Mayor Boylan signed a resolution declaring Street Commissioner Christopherson and Assistant Health Officer Engel reappointed. Both men failed to have their appointments confirmed last week. The mayor held upon the advice of the city attorney that a majority of all the votes in the council was sufficient to insure their reappointment, while the opposition to them held that two-thirds vote or six members voting affirmatively was necessary. The point in question will be referred to the attorney general for decision. Christopherson and Engel will serve in the meantime.

Mayor Boylan vetoed the appointment of T. C. Mellis as auditor. Mellis denied the charge that he was not a citizen and declared he had perfected citizenship two years ago. The mayor stated his reason for not confirming Mellis' appointment was that there were more competent applicants. This appointment is still held up and a ruling from the attorney general will be required on it. The mayor's contention is that it is a special appointment not provided for in the city charter. It will require a four-fifths vote of the council or eight of the nine aldermen voting affirmatively to confirm it over his veto.

Crowe Defends Record.

Dr. John H. Crowe defended his record as health officer after an informal ballot had been taken to name his successor and had gone against him, seven to two. Crowe produced correspondence with the Virginia & Rainy Lake company, showing that he had at various times since 1912 taken up with that corporation the matter of installing sewers and maintaining sanitary conditions at the Scanlon location. Conditions at this location were severely grilled at the last meeting of the council by Alderman Harvey, who declared Dr. Crowe had been derelict in his duty in not compelling them to connect with sanitary sewers. Crowe declined to shoulder all the responsibility. He said that for insanitary conditions in the city the health committee as a whole should be held as responsible as the health officer individually, and declared the committee had not worked in harmony with him. Letters from S. J. Cusson, general manager of the lumber company, indicated that steps were being taken to connect with the sewer at the Scanlon location. Alderman Harvey declared it was not a personal matter with Dr. Crowe. "This corporation has been making a goat of Dr. Crowe," he declared. Crowe denied the accusation and there was a more or less heated debate of the issue. On the first formal ballot for health officer, Crowe received five votes and Dr. J. M. Fisher four. Alderman McGhee advocated the appointment of a health officer who was independent of the influence of either the mining or mill companies, but his suggestion was not considered in the vote.

The council adopted a resolution ordering both the Scanlon and the Oliver locations connected with the sewers. The city attorney announced that an appeal would be taken in the three damage suits for personal injury decided against the city in district court last week. Verdicts were secured in these cases by J. M. Thorsell and Leonora and C. Keith for sums aggregating $4,500.

Mayor Boylan announced the appointment of Joseph Vukelich to the position of court officer, made vacant by the resignation of William Fitzgerald, who has accepted a position as special officer and plain clothes man with the city police force under the police and fire commission.

The appointment of H. O. Johnson as a member of the police and fire commission and of John Ketola, B. D. Pearson and Lafayette Bliss as members of the library board were announced by the mayor and unanimously ratified. The mayor did not, as had been anticipated, veto the appointment of S. S. Dahl as city attorney, and that matter is still up in the air with the expectations of an early settlement.

VIRGINIAN ACQUITTED.

Warner Carlson, Arrested on Alleged Embezzlement Charge, Freed.

Virginia, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—After having been brought from Coeur d'Alene city, Idaho, to face trial on a charge of grand larceny, Warner Carlson, former local saloon keeper was acquitted of the charge by a jury in district court yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, after deliberation of less than forty-five minutes.

According to the evidence Carlson had secured $300 from the Fitger Brewing company to cash pay checks with and had signed a written agreement the money would be returned or its equivalent in checks the day following that on which he received the money. That night he left the city without notifying the company where he was going, and a warrant was sworn out for his arrest. Carlson alleged on the witness stand that he had been named as one of the corespondents in divorce action tried some time ago in the local courts and that the husband of the woman in the case had made threats against his life. His attorney had advised him to leave the city to avoid trouble. It also developed in the evidence that Carlson had offered to repay the $300 after the warrant for his arrest had been sworn out, but that the company had refused his offer.

Civil matters occupy the attention of the district court today and the case of The State vs. Charles Campbell and Walter Darcy, charged with permitting gambling on premises under their control will be taken up on the criminal calendar tomorrow. Victor L. Power of Hibbing will defend Campbell and Darcy.

SALOON KEEPERS ARE GIVEN REFUND

Hibbing Council Also Decides to Purchase $8,980 Fire Engine.

Hibbing, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council yesterday afternoon purchased a 900-gallon Waterous fire engine for $8,980, the lowest bid received.

The council also asked for bids for a 65-foot aero extension truck, for additional hose for the local department and for a six-circuit automatic charging board for the fire alarm system.

A communication was read from the last grand jury about several boys under the age of 21, said to have purchased liquor from Virginia saloon keepers with a recommendation that the villages of the range adopt some measure which would prevent a like occurrence.

Joseph Moran asked $170 compensation for assessing village property.

Several saloon keepers who asked refunds on unexpired licenses were granted the request.

Wants Buildings Razed.

A recommendation from the fire chief that several buildings in the rear of Pine street property be torn down, was referred.

The village recorder was instructed to advertise for bids for a practice wagon for the fire department.

A petition from the business men that the council raise the salary of Secretary J. E. Lawler of the Commercial club to $150 and that he be retained was held for further consideration.

The municipal clerk reported for the week ending Saturday receipts of $213.11.

Attorney Samuel Scott stated that a stipulation was entered into with the parties owning the lands near the city wells that for $1,000 and the costs of the case tried in Hibbing, the lands could be obtained, and the council instructed the village attorney to enter into such an agreement.

Gives County Fair $1,000.

The St. Louis County Agricultural society was granted an appropriation of $1,000 for fair purposes this year.

The village recorder was instructed to call for bids for a motorcycle for the police department.

The council was asked to meet with the library board Saturday and go over bids for the proposed addition to the village library to cost about $56,000.

FINDS BUSINESS NOT SUFFICIENT

Postoffice Inspector Looks Over Idea of Trolley Hauling Mail.

Virginia, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Postoffice Inspector K. De Forest of Duluth has just completed a survey of conditions on the range bearing on the demand of range Commercial clubs for mail service on the electric railway. The volume of business between range cities is not held sufficient by the Federal authorities to warrant the service. Mountain Iron and the village of Sparta have the best case of any communities on the range, according to the postal authorities. Records of the number of pieces of mail passing between range towns have been carefully kept. These records show that Virginia receives and sends out more mail to range points than does any other town on the range. The city sends out an average of about ninety letters and receives an average of about sixty letters daily. Under the present service, Virginia has three mails daily to both ends of the range. The matter of establishing the service is still pending before the department.

VIRGINIAN IS HURT IN STREET COLLISION

Virginia, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a collision between a motorcycle and an automobile on Poplar street last night, Otto Cantieno of Virginia was slightly injured, his machine was almost completely demolished and the automobile, belonging to John Anderson of Gilbert, wrecked. Cantiene was under treatment at the McIntyre hospital, but his injuries are not regarded as serious.

A new Studebaker automobile, owned at Biwabik, was wrecked on the Gilbert road yesterday morning and badly damaged when the steering apparatus refused to respond to the touch of the chauffeur. Four occupants of the machine, whose names could not be learned, escaped injury, although one of them, sitting in the front seat, was projected through the wind shield when the machine struck a rock by the roadside. He did not receive a cut or bruise. Members of the party carefully concealed their identity. The machine was a new car.

ANOTHER LIQUOR TOTER CAUGHT AT HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Oscar Hermanson, who says he lives here, was arrested by the Indian police yesterday afternoon as he stepped from a Buhl street car, carrying bottles of whisky and beer. His liquor was confiscated and he was placed in the village jail, pending a hearing at Virginia. This makes the second arrest here by Indian agents this week.

Chisholm Baseball Plans.

Chisholm, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The officers of the baseball club received the report of the finance committee showing that Chisholm will be represented by a strong team this year. Efforts have been made to schedule games with Coleraine, Grand Rapids and International Falls.

Kinney Man Files.

Kinney, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Edward McCormick of Kinney is a candidate for the office of county commissioner from the Seventh district. He has filed with the county auditor for the nomination at the June primaries.

MUST TURN OVER BOOKS

Victor Benoe Ordered to Surrender Office to J. C. Eastman.

Judge Fesler Will Later Pass on Disputed Ballots.

Victor J. Benoe, defeated for re-election as clerk of Stuntz township, must surrender possession of his office to John C. Eastman. An order directing Mr. Benoe to turn over the office to his successor was made by Judge Bert Fesler this morning.

Mr. Benoe lost out by fifteen votes when the canvass of the votes of the recent township election was made. He instituted an election contest, but the court today ruled that inasmuch as Mr. Eastman had been declared elected by the board of canvassers he was entitled to immediate possession of the office.

The contest, however, will be carried into court. Arrangements have been made for a hearing before Judge Fesler next Monday, when the court will be asked to pass upon sixty-six disputed ballots. On the face of the returns, it was undisputed at the recount that Mr. Eastman received 865 ballots and Mr. Benoe 850.

The recount was made in the town hall in Hibbing by three inspectors, S. H. Forsberg, M. Rogalsky and T. S. Silliman, in the presence of the contestants, J. B. Messner, election judge, and I. K. Lewis and M. H. McMahon, attorneys.

PREPARING FOR STATE FIREMEN

Chisholm, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the state firemen meet here June 13, 14 and 15 there will be plenty of recreation and amusement, judging by reports of the entertainment committee.

Supt. A. Y. Peterson of the Oliver Iron Mining company, informed the entertainment committee that the Oliver company would be glad to escort any of the visitors through the underground mines and an observation train would be made up to take parties through the open pits.

Committee Is Divided.

To facilitate the committee work the entertainment committee was subdivided into the following: Program, W. A. Masters, J. H. McNiven, C. E. French; parade, C. M. Tramontin, Morris Peck, W. B. Brown; dancing and decorating, A. R. Syme, C. E. French, Ernest Drew; sightseeing, D. J. Harrington, F. M. Andrews, A. Y. Peterson, W. B. Brown; attractions, W. A. Masters, D. J. Harrington, Ernest Drew; meals and quarters, Ernest Drew, A. H. Kleffman; reception, E. E. Webber, S. J. Hirstio, D. J. Harrington. All committee members named were directed to assume the initiative and make all preparations coming under the head of the committee to which they were appointed.

C. E. French, president of the Iron Range Firemen's association, submitted a list of events which will be competed in by the volunteer firemen of the range during the tournament.

CHISHOLM MEN FINED.

Three Brothers Mulcted for Making Too Much Noise.

Chisholm, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Victor, John and Frank Oreschek, aged 33, 36 and 39 years, respectively, arrested Sunday night while in a family quarrel and creating a disturbance at the village jail, when arraigned before Judge William A. Masters Tuesday, were reluctant to admit that they had done anything to warrant arrest, but Judge Masters after hearing the testimony of the police officers fined each $25 for being drunk and disorderly, $15 each for disturbing the peace and tranquillity of the jail and $2.50 each costs or forty days in the county jail. The fines were paid.

ISHPEMING MAN GETS HIBBING JOB

Ishpeming, Mich., April 19.—Fritz Lind, who has been a driver for the Standard Oil company here for several years, succeeds W. H. Bowman, as manager of the company's business here. Mr. Bowman has been made manager of the company's business at Hibbing, Minn. As the company has a much larger business there than in Ishpeming, the change is in the nature of a promotion for Mr. Bowman.

CHISHOLM BRIEFS.

Chisholm, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next meeting of the Range Poultry association will be held here Sunday, May 7. The meeting will be the first held in Chisholm and was secured through the efforts of Frank G. Harris, J. J. Hayes and Capt. John Schweiger, all members of the association.

R. J. Chase and Herman Tetzlaff of the village board of health have started the annual tubercular test of all cattle in the village and nearby creameries.

Twenty-two men and eleven teams are excavating on Chestnut street for the concrete pavement.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Miss Nellie Ellis and Charles Fredrick Howe in Edmonton, Alta. Miss Ellis was for some time on the local public library staff.

HIGH WATER HALTS SPAWN GATHERING

Tower, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The men working at Pike river falls for the game and fish commission are not making any headway in gathering spawn. The waters of Pike river are over ten inches over the high water mark, and it was necessary to take up all the nets that had been set.

There is small chance of the waters of the river abating and the rising of the lake level is the only source of relief to be expected. The nets will not be reset until there is a change in water level. The work so far done by the men has been undone by the water and it now remains for them to abandon the taking of spawn this season or await the change in the lake level. There are many people here who are of the opinion thatthe lake is being robbed in the taking of the enormous amount of spawn each season, and the probability is that with the inability to take spawn this season, a chance will be given to prove whether it is better to have the spawn artificially hatched.

HEALTH OFFICER AND JUDGE DON'T AGREE

Eveleth, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The municipal court and the health department are at outs. Dr. Louis F. Hulsman, health commissioner, states that no more health department cases will be brought before Judge W. E. Moylan.

Dr. Hulsman, a new man, since being the head of the health department has brought two cases before Judge Moylan. The first man arrested pleaded guilty, but was released under suspended sentence. In the second case a verdict of not guilty was rendered where the prosecution felt that there was a clear case.

Likes Montana Oil Fields.

Hibbing, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—John A. Healy, who is inspecting his oil interests in the Elk River basin, in Montana, writes that his proposition is looking better every day, and he is certain that his venture will be a great success.

WOLVES CHASE DOE RIGHT INTO TOWN

Eveleth, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Driven from its haunts in the woods by a pack of wolves a small doe came boldly into the Leonidas location Monday afternoon and sought the protection of Joe Jkalec, who happened to be there.

Mr. Jkaleo first sighted a herd of four deer. One separated from the rest and came close to him and then disappeared for a minute only to return again. The deer was exhausted and unable to continue with the others. The pack of wolves appeared in sight but slunk away when they saw Mr. Jkaleo.

The doe showed no fear and was led to Mr. Jkalec's home at Leonidas. He reported to Municipal Judge W. E. Moylan and asked what he should do with the deer to avoid a violation of the game law. Mr. Moylan advised that the deer be given to the city and placed with the other two which were captured in a similar way and placed at Lake park.

WAS KNOWN IN TOWER.

Woman Who Drowned Self In River Often Came to City.

Tower, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Sam Hill, whose body was found Monday morning a short distance from her home at Peyla, in Pike river, was well known here. The family did their marketing here and have been residents of Peyla, nine miles from here, for the past several years, owning a nice farm there. A husband and three small children survive her. Mrs. Hill had not been well for some time, and Friday evening left her home, and failed to return. Searching parties were organized Saturday, but it was not until Monday morning that the body was found in the river just a short distance from her home. It is supposed that she was mentally unbalanced, no motive for suicide can be given.

EVELETH'S CREAMERY IS NOW ABOUT READY

Eveleth, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Machinery is being installed in the plant of the Jenkins Bros. Creamery company, and the creamery will be ready to begin the manufacture of butter in a few days.

Everything is installed ready for business except the churn, which has been delayed in transit.

The creamery is located in the Real Bedard building on Pierce street, almost directly opposite the city hall. The building has been remodeled and a concrete floor laid in the part where the machinery stands, and it makes a fine location for the plant. Arrangements for unloading the cream have been made at the side of the building on the alley.

ORE IS COMING TO TWO HARBORS DOCKS

Some of Independent Mines Are Already Sending Product.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ore shipping on the Iron Range road has started slowly. Two or three trains per day have been kept busy the last couple of days. The bulk of the ore received thus far comes from the independent mines. It is not expected that there will be a noticeable increase in business until the latter part of the month or until the boats are able to get through. There has been no ice in sight here for several days and the harbor around the docks is entirely open. All the Iron Range equipment used in the handling of ore was put in first-class shape during the winter.

STUNTZ TOWNSHIP PROBE COMPLETED

Two Representatives of State Examiner Refuse to Talk.

Hibbing, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Not until they make their report to State Examiner Fritz will the result of the examination of books of the township of Stuntz, made by Col. A. Johnson and John Swinborne be made public. The two deputy examiners finished their audit of the books today and left this afternoon for Duluth and St. Paul. They absolutely refused to give anything out for publication, referring all inquirers to State Examiner Fritz.

There have been current reports as to what the examiners found, but these were purely speculation.

TWO RULES RESCINDED.

Hibbing Water and Light Commission Cancels Resolutions.

Hibbing, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light commission last evening rescinded a resolution requiring property owners to pipe their houses, using lead pipe, to read to the property line of the owner only, and a rsolution charging $3 a year for water to car owners using village water in washing their automobiles.

The village engineer submitted plans and specifications for running a water line from the Finn location to the fair grounds, to cost about $4,000.

The extending of the village heat to the alleys of North, Pine and Center as far as Third avenue was discussed and the secretary empowered to engage the services of a heat expert engineer to furnish figures on the cost.

A representative of the Wilcox Truck company stated that he would gladly repair the Wilcox truck owned by the village at a regular price, but Commissioner McEachin said that the commission believed that Hibbing mechanics could do the work just as thoroughly.

TWO HARBORS CONCERT.

Marine Band of City Gives Enjoyable Entertainment.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Marine band gave a concert last evening at the Star theater. Over 400 people attended and the band was given much applause. The Marine band is composed of twenty-two pieces and boasts of being one of the best bands on the iron range. Carl Braideson has been leading the band for the past winter and his efforts and ability as a leader are largely considered responsible for the success of the concert last evening. The proceeds derived from the concert will be used towards the purchase of new uniforms. The Marine band is planning on a very active season next summer.

TOWER BALL FANS WILL HAVE TEAM

Tower, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A meeting of baseball enthusiasts has been called for Sunday afternoon in the city hall, when the organization of a team will be considered and no doubt perfected as a couple of professional players are already here, and employment promised them in the event of their remaining to play ball. A subscription list is being circulated, and many have already donated liberally. Adam Vivier, who was to play with the Virginia team of the Northern league, has decided to remain with the locals, and the other professionals already secured are S. Ford, Muggsy McGraw and Chief Williams, with a couple others yet to hear from.

Appointment Not Made.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners of Lake county met in a special session yesterday to appoint a superintendent for the county poor farm to succeed John Elkhart, resigned, but as not all of the members of the board were present it was decided to take no action on the matter until May 2, when the board will meet in its regular monthly session. No other business was done.

MOOSE AT BUHL.

Many Range Members Attend Gathering in Range Village.

Buhl, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—This village was the Mecca for many range Moose last evening, and large delegations were present from various range cities and villages for joint installation of officers of lodges at Virginia, Gilbert, Eveleth, Hibbing, Chisholm, Biwabik, Cook and Buhl. The ceremonies were held in the village auditorium. The largest representation came from the Virginia lodge, numbering 150 members, who were accompanied by the Virginia City band of twenty-two pieces.

There was also a large delegation from Hibbing. Special schedules were arranged for by the electric line for the benefit of delegations from Gilbert and Eveleth. The meeting was the largest ever held on the range by the Moose.

Following the installation a banquet was served in the municipal dining hall by women of Buhl.

On the program were speakers of prominence in Moose circles throughout the state, and from neighboring lodges. There was also an entertaining program of boxing and wrestling.

AVERY FAVORS GAME PRESERVE ON RANGE

Hibbing, Minn., April 19.—Speaking at the banquet given at the Oliver club here last night by the Hibbing Gun club, Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, warmly approved the proposed game preserve in the vicinity of Wilpin, where is located the plant of the Dupont Powder company. Mr. Avery also spoke on game conservation and the means to be followed in preventing birds, animals and fish from being killed off and why their preservation is of benefit not only to sportsmen, but also to the farmer.

George E. Wood, deputy game warden, told of the proposed refuge and its plans.

Eveleth Road Meeting.

Eveleth, Minn., April 19.—Many people favoring better roads in this section are here today for the Sixth District Road club meeting called by Senator Griggs of Virginia to discuss road matters. County Commissioner Pentilla of this district will be asked to appoint road supervisor overseers. Kirk S. Johnson of Biwabik, August Knuti of Aurora, Robert Lindsay of Virginia and George Perham of Eveleth will be recommended as district overseers.

RAIN.

Today is a typical day with the weather man uncertain whether there will be rain or just "cloudy" weather. The forecasts in general are for cloudiness or rain and persons going any distance should not forget their umbrellas.

Today the sun rose at 5:13 o'clock and set at 7:02 o'clock, giving thirteen hours and forty-nine minutes of sunshine.

A year ago today it was fair and warm.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A disturbance of considerable intensity, centered over Eastern Nebraska and Western Iowa, caused rains during Tuesday or last night in the lake region and from thence westward to the Pacific coast. Snow is falling over Southwestern Montana and Northern Utah. Heavy rain occurred at La Crosse, Wis. The temperature has risen over central states and has fallen throughout the West and Northwest. Freezing weather prevails in Nevada, Northwestern Wyoming, Northern Montana and Saskatchewan."

General Forecasts.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

EARLY MORNING FATIGUE

When you awake in the morning feeling tired out, feeling worse in fact than when you went to bed, you are confronted with one of the characteristic symptoms of neurasthenia. It is due to the run-down condition of the nerves that rest does not bring renewed strength and sleep refresh the tired brain. Overwork and worry are the most frequent causes of this condition. Neurasthenia is the name given to this common form of nervous debility in which the power to recuperate is gone.

The blood can be built up so that it will increase the supply of needed elements to the wasted nerves and this is the only way that the nerves can be reached. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic that especially builds up the nerves because they supply to the blood the elements that the nerves need. Many nervous disorders, sometimes chronic ones, have yielded to this tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when other methods failed to give relief. They are certainly worth a trial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free book on the nerves.

FEEL FINE AND DANDY

Get a 10 Cent Box of "Cascarets" for Your Liver and Bowels.

To-night sure! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store now? Eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or bother you all the next day like calomel, salts and pills. They act gently but thoroughly. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time. They are harmless and children love them.—Advertisement.

GRAIN MARKETS WEAKEN ON WAR POSSIBILITY

Prices Decline on Liberal Offerings and Lack of Support.

Flaxseed Again Advances With Good Buying by Crushers' Interests

May wheat closed ⅞c off, and July 1c off.

Oats closed ⅛c off at 42⅛c for on the track; rye unchanged at 93c, and barley unchanged at from 63@71c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed unchanged to ⅛c off at 45¼c.

At St. Louis, May wheat closed at $1.09⅛, and July at $1.09¾ asked.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.04½, and July at $1.05⅛.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.15, and calls at $1.19.

The wheat market was an extremely nervous affair today, being under the influence of the submarine developments with Germany throughout. Heavy selling appeared at the opening and quotations eased off around ⅝c. Later buying came from influential quarters and a slight recovery was made. That was followed by a break of 1⅛c on more disquieting reports from Washington and then a rally came about on intimations that more hopeful views are being taken in official circles.

Duluth operators generally consider that this country, being drawn into war with Germany, if it should come to that, would be a bullish argument in view of the fact that the calling up of men for the army would be likely to lead to decrease in the acreage placed under crop. Said one of them today: "If the whole world goes to war, where are food products going to be grown? And if the United States should call say 1,000,000 men to the colors almost at once, it seems to me that through the unsettlement brought about, farming operations would be likely to suffer this year. All the European countries are going to have smaller crops this season than a year ago and they may be expected to draw upon us more heavily to make up the deficiency. It depends a great deal, though, upon the ability of Russia to market her accumulated crops. Unless they succeed in getting the Dardanelles open, however, their shipments this year will be only a bagatelle."

While the market eased off today, the large traders hold to the view that an upturn in prices is almost certain in the event of trouble between this country and Germany.

Grain is now being loaded freely out of the elevators on steamers, the tonnage of wheat afloat being reported at 1,269,000 bu up till noon today. Of that 1,038,000 bu is domestic grain. Other boats are scheduled to go under the spouts at once and it is expected that a heavy reduction in elevator stocks will be shown by the end of the week.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.16⅝, sold off to $1.15 and recovered to $1.15¾ at the noon hour. July opened unchanged at $1.17⅝, weakened 1⅜c and then braced up 1c.

May durum opened unchanged at $.11⅝, sold down to $1.10¼ and recovered ⅜c. July opened unchanged at $1.13, broke 1⅜c and later firmed up ⅝c.

Bulge in Flaxseed.

Strength at Winnipeg started a further recovery in flaxseed. Good bidding by crushers set in and prices were advanced 2c during the early trading. A dull period then came and an easing off was the result. A fresh upturn came at the close.

Cables were better. Buenos Aires closed unchanged at $1.33⅝ and London 3½c up at $2.54⅛.

May flax opened unchanged at $2.10 and closed 2c up at $2.12 bid. July opened unchanged at $2.11¾ and closed 1½c up at $2.13¼ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ½c up at $1.88½ bid and July 1c up at $1.90½.

Cash Sales Wednesday.

No. 3 northern wheat, 2 cars	$1.08⅛
No. 4 northern wheat, 2 cars	.97⅝
No. 3 mixed durum, 1 car	1.01⅝
No. 2 rye, 1 car, to arrive	.93

MARKET GOSSIP.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market opened dull but steadier with some covering as influenced by the strength at Winnipeg. Spot market was dull unchanged. Cargo market was steady.

"American crop reports are unfavorable and apprehension is felt regarding springs special wheat that deters short selling. Canada's production is unlikely to equal last year's and the world's production of the new crop will be short, but supplies of old wheat are so large, that it is difficult to conceive an advance in prices between now and next harvest."

* * *

C. E. Lewis & Co. wired from Minneapolis: "We are on the eve of a break with Germany and opinions regarding the action of the market are so varied that we deem it wise to restrict commitments for the time being."

* * *

In Argentina the weather is unsettled. Wheat receipts are decreasing as rain has interferred with the movement. Wheat demand is again in evidence. Corn is too wet for gathering and the quality of arrivals is unsatisfactory.

* * *

Price Current Grain Reporter says: "Reports indicate that the corn acreage will be quite generally increased throughout the corn belt and particularly in the states of Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas, on account of the abandoned acreage of winter wheat."

* * *

John Inglis wired from Arkansas City, Kan.: "General condition of wheat is much better westward. There are fewer thin fields and less spotting, and a larger area of good wheat. Oats have a good start. Cool damp weather is favorable."

* * *

Russells' News, York York, said: "There was moderate buying of wheat futures credited to foreign interests this morning, and it was said that there was a better demand for wheat here from continental interests. One exporter, who offered liberal amounts of oats to foreigners, said he has no acceptances."

A petition was circulated on the Duluth board of trade today requesting the board of directors to amend the bylaws so as to make the charge $7.50 for each trade of 5,000 bu of wheat, barley, rye or oats or fraction thereof, the same as now prevails on the Minneapolis chamber of commerce.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, April 19.—Lower prices for wheat resulted today from the critical state of relations between the United States and Germany. News from Washington much more than offset the bullish effect of heavy rains that greatly hampered seeding in the Northwest. For the time being, too, little attention was given to reports of reduced acreage in Great Britain, France, Italy and Australia. Fears of inadequate vessel tonnage, owing to submarine activity counted somewhat toward a decline in prices. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c to 1⅜@1½c down, with May at $1.13 to $1.13¾ and July at $1.13 to $1.13½ was followed by a slight rally and then further downturns.

President Wilson's message led to no unusual fluctuations in the market. Prices hardened a little after the drift of the document was made public. The close was nervous, 1¼c to 1½c net lower, with May at $1.13 and July $1.12¾.

Corn took the same course as wheat. Bullish crop advices from Argentina appeared to be ignored. After opening ⅛c to ¼@⅜c lower, the market recovered somewhat, but soon sagged again.

Corn held even steadier than wheat in the late dealings. Prices closed firm at ⅛c to ½c net decline.

Oats were governed chiefly by the action of corn. Breaks in price, however, brought about considerable buying on resting orders.

Lower quotations on hogs carried down provisions. Receipts at the yards here were larger than expected.

Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.17¾; No. 3 red, $1.11@1.16½; No. 2 hard, $1.13⅓@1.14⅜; No. 3 hard, $1.08¾@1.13⅜.

Summary of weather and crop conditions in the corn and wheat region for the week ending April 18, 1916:

Washington, D. C., April 19, 1916.—While winter wheat continues very poor in the central part of the region the weather conditions have been generally favorable for the growth of winter grains and there has been steady improvement. Some complaint of hessian fly in central part of region. The weather has been favorable for preparation of ground and seeding spring grains and the work progressed satisfactorily. Corn planting started as far north as the lower Ohio valley. The crop is coming well in southeastern states. Oats in central states are making satisfactory growth. Pastures, grass, fields and meadows generally are progressing satisfactorily.

London Stocks.

London, April 19.—The capture of Trebizond created a cheerful tone on the stock exchange. Little attention was paid to American securities which closed quiet and steady. Money was in good demand and discount rates were steady.

LIQUIDATION OF STOCKS

War Shares and All Better Known Specialties Have Declines.

New York, April 19.—Wall Street accepted latest developments in the German controversy with misgiving, judging from the weak tone of the stock market at the opening today. War shares and all the better known specialties broke from 1 to almost 3 points, the entire list reflecting hurried liquidation. Bethlehem Steel broke 19 points to 421.

The president's decision to submit the German situation to congress came as a great surprise to the financial district and commission houses with wire connections to important centers were almost overwhelmed with liquidating orders.

Greatest excitement prevailed on the exchange and many speculative holdings were abruptly closed out. Apprehension increased when it became known that the note to Berlin was already on the way. This feeling was heightened when extracts of what purported to be an ultimatum to Berlin were published.

Declines were extended in almost all directions, the munitions receding 4 to 6 points from yesterday's close. Anglo-French bonds were unloaded in blocks of 100,000 and 200,000. Sales of the first hour approximated 300,000 shares, the largest output for that period in many weeks. Heavy selling of the general list was another impressive feature.

Prices continued to harden at the mid-session with confident buying of investment shares, some of which were then only slightly under yesterday's close. The market fell again, however, as the tenor of the president's speech became more generally known.

Fresh selling of specialties and other leaders sent prices to new minimums in the final dealings. The closing was weak.

SHARP DECLINES IN COPPER STOCKS

With a holiday at Boston, interest in trading in mining stocks was centered on Wall street today. In sympathy with the rest of the list, recessions were recorded in coppers there. It was noted, however, that support appeared on the west spots. Shattuck sold down $1.75 around the close at $31.50; Utah Copper, $1.25 off at $79.75; Tennessee Copper, $2.37 off at $47.25, and Anaconda, $2.12 off at $83.12.

On the Boston curb, Greene-Cananea was traded in at $46.50; Success at 67 cents; Tonopah Extension at $6 and United Verde Extension at $26.

London metal market: Copper, spot, up £2 10s; futures up £2; electrolytic up £1; lead, spot, unchanged and futures unchanged.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, April 19.—Liberal receipts today weakened the hog market. Sellers of cattle were handicapped by rain which resulted in water-soaked hides. Offerings of sheep and lambs had wet fleeces and seemed overplentiful.

Hogs—Receipts, 33,000; fairly active, 5c to 10c under yesterday's average. Bulk, $9.70@9.85; light, $9.35@9.90; mixed, $9.45@9.90; heavy, $9.30@9.90; rough, $9.30@9.50; pigs, $7.30@9.10.

Cattle—Receipts, 14,000; weak; native beef steers, 7.85@9.90; western steers, $7.75@8.65; stockers and feeders, $5.85@8.45; cows and heifers, $4.00@9.20; calves, 7.00@10.00.

Sheep—Receipts, 17,000; weak; wethers, 6.85@9.10; lambs, 7.60@11.50.

(Note—The customary way of quoting foreign exchange is as follows: Sterling quoted at so many dollars to the pound; German exchange so many cents to four marks; French and Italian exchange so many francs or lire to the dollar, and Austrian, Russian and Scandinavian exchange quoted so many cents to the unit of currency.)

GRAIN MEN OPTIMISTIC

Much Activity Expected as Elevators Unload Their Supplies.

Duluth grain men are optimistic over the prospects for activity in handling wheat and other grains during the next few weeks, now that congestion in the elevators at the Head of the Lakes has been relieved through the loading out of supplies on steamers preparatory to the formal opening of navigation for the season.

Grain in farmers' hands and in interior elevators over the Northwest still mounts up to a large aggregate, and it is conceded that it will afford considerable business for the elevator companies between now and the marketing of the new season's crop. The amount of oats on the farms is said to be especially heavy for this stage in the crop year, and as a good export inquiry for them is springing up, dealers are counting upon profitable prices being reached. In consequence growers in the newer districts of the Northwest will benefit materially, as their oats crops were large and a comparatively small tonnage was shipped to the markets in the fall, owing to bad weather conditions interposing a bar.

Record Stocks in Store.

Elevators at this point established a high record this spring, with the amount of grain in store here reaching an aggregate of 28,000,000 bushels at the beginning of the month. Several million bushels more bonded and domestic grain could have been handled during the winter by the plants at the Head of the Lakes had they been able to obtain cars to ship grain to the seaboard for export. It was found difficult to obtain cars during February and the first two weeks of March, and as the houses were filling up, it was necessary to check routings this way the past month.

The Duluth elevators aided materially in relieving the grain congestion in the Canadian Northwest. Over 7,000,000 bushels of bonded grain were in store at this point a few days ago, and at the same time substantial all-rail shipments to the East were made during the last six weeks. With the loading of steamers now actively on, it is expected that stocks of bonded wheat and oats will soon be cleaned up, together with a fair proportion of the domestic spring wheat and durum.

Good Trading Market.

While the thrills of a year ago were lacking, there was a good trading market in wheat during the last week. In the face of heavy stocks pressing for sale in this country and Canada, in conjunction with a lack of export demand for American wheat, the trend has been downward. Compared with a week ago, cash wheat at the close of the market yesterday at $1.16⅝ was off 3⅝c. and the May future was down 3⅞c. It is interesting to note that a year ago the May future was quoted 43c higher than its present basis at $1.59.

Interest in Durum.

Traders have noticed more interest in the durum market of late. That is attributed to fresh Italian and Greek inquiry with every probability of a fair volume of business being put through shortly. A year ago fireworks were on in the durum market and it sold up to a record price of $1.76. That was due to export bidding with the cutting off of the outlet for supplies from Russia.

Operators in flaxseed are reported to be taking more heart just now and the belief is expressed that the bottom in the break that had been in progress for three months was touched last Friday when the quotation in the May future sagged to $2.03 on a wave of selling and the catching of stop-loss orders. May flax at $2.10 at its close yesterday was off 5c from a week ago. The high point for the year was reached on Jan. 13, when $2.47¼ was chalked up. Experts in the trade contend that with speculative following now largely eliminated, the flax market is due for an upturn. Steady bidding by crushers has been noted of late and with supplies at a minimum it is believed in some quarters that quotations can be easily marked up. The future course of the market is thought to be largely dependent upon the ability to obtain shipping to bring supplies purchased in Argentina to this country. The ocean freight situation is, however, becoming more congested than ever, rates having been again advanced during the last few days.

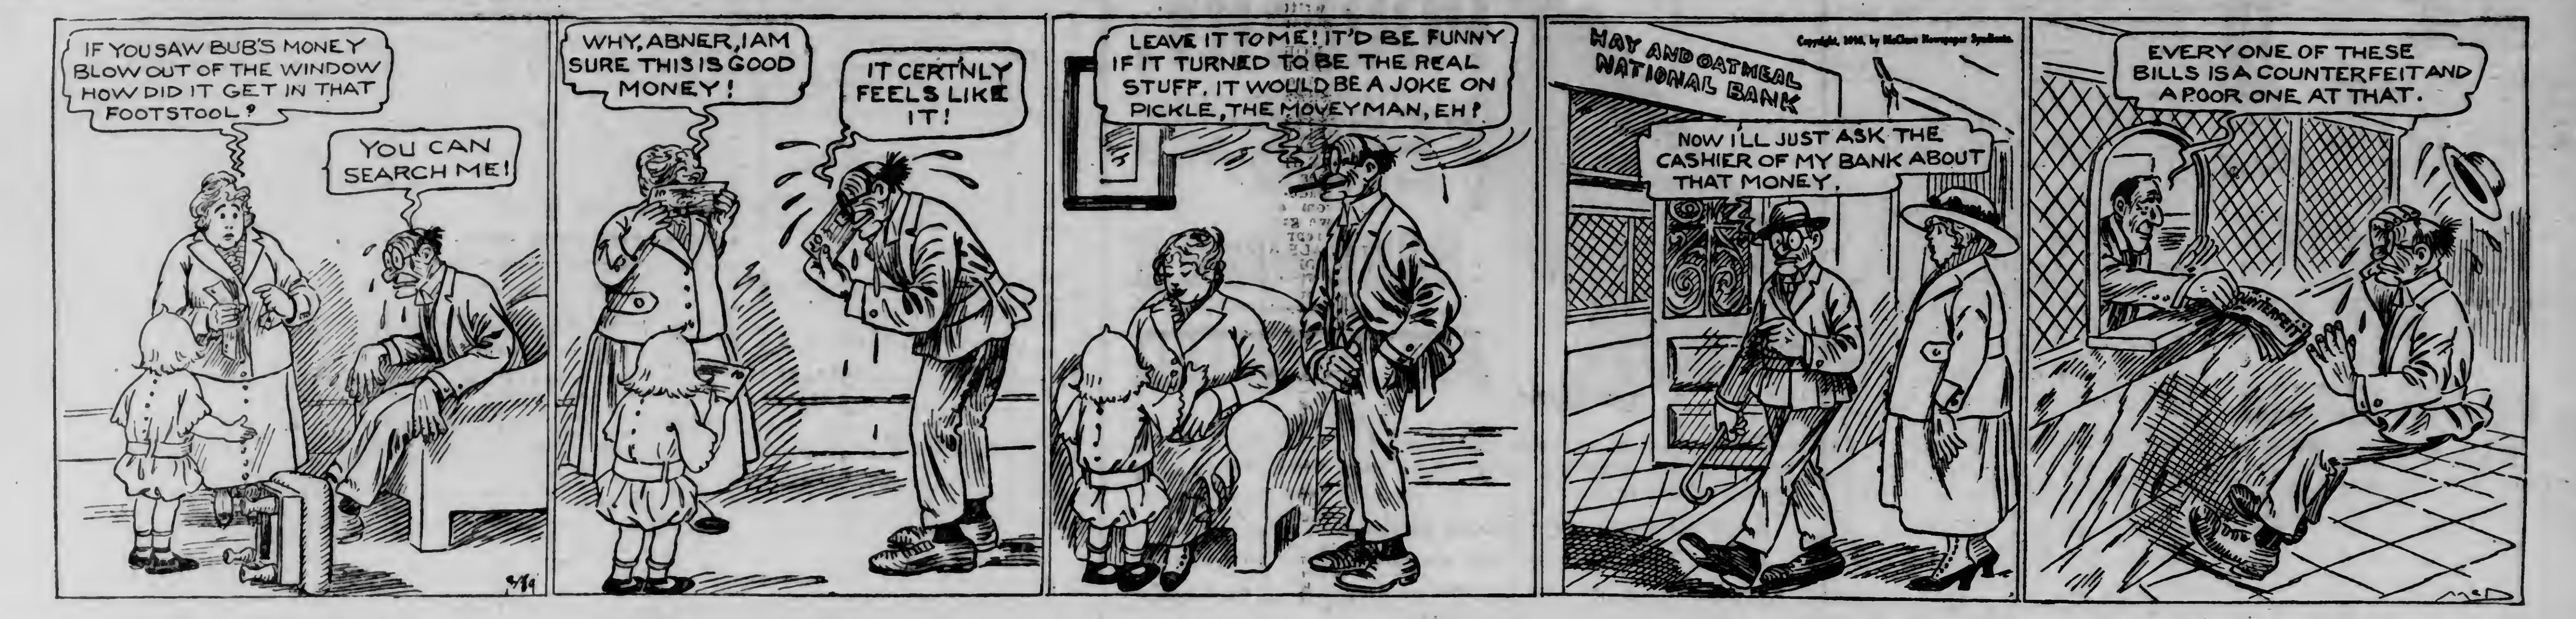
ABSENT-MINDED ABNER—Bub Gets the "Movey" Money After All

By Walt McDougall



IF YOU SAW BUB'S MONEY BLOW OUT OF THE WINDOW HOW DID IT GET IN THAT FOOTSTOOL?
YOU CAN SEARCH ME!
WHY, ABNER, I AM SURE THIS IS GOOD MONEY!
IT CERTNLY FEELS LIKE IT!
LEAVE IT TO ME! IT'D BE FUNNY IF IT TURNED TO BE THE REAL STUFF. IT WOULD BE A JOKE ON PICKLE, THE MOVEYMAN, EH?
HAY AND OATMEAL NATIONAL BANK
NOW I'LL JUST ASK THE CASHIER OF MY BANK ABOUT THAT MONEY.
EVERY ONE OF THESE BILLS IS A COUNTERFEIT AND A POOR ONE AT THAT.

POULTRY, EGGS AND BABY FOWLS ARE WANTED

There are a large number of people in Duluth and vicinity who will buy breeding stock, eggs, baby fowls or chickens for laying this season.

Some one will gladly purchase what you wish to sell.

Present advertisers say they are getting splendid results.

"Herald want ads" are the best poultry salesmen available.

Circulation Greatest— Rates Lowest

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Duluth. Its rates for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other paper in Minnesota. Best results are gained from ads when definite information is given. When information is lacking the presumption is that desirable features are lacking. Information as to contract rates and the probable amount of space your ad would take gladly given.

One Cent a Word Each Insertion. No Advertisement Less Than 15 Cents.

POULTRY, EGGS AND PET STOCK.

THE DULUTH HERALD IS THE RECOGNIZED POULTRY MEDIUM.

It is the official paper of the poultry raisers of Duluth and Northern Minnesota.

CIRCULATION LARGEST.
RATES LOWEST.

The Duluth Herald has the largest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota (outside the Twin Cities). Its charges for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other paper in the state.

RUSSIA COMES TO AID OF ALLIES IN WEST

TWENTY ARE DEAD AS RESULT OF TORNADOES IN KANSAS AND MISSOURI

Scores Also Injured in Succession of Fierce Wind Storms.

Terrific Storms Extend Over Wide Territory in Various States.

Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—Reports received up to noon today from the tornado-swept sections of Missouri and Kansas indicated the death list in the storms that prevailed late yesterday afternoon and last night would reach twenty. More than 100 persons were injured. Property damage probably will amount to more $750,000.

Stover, Morgan county, Mo., still was cut off from communication today and it was impossible to confirm reports that six persons were killed.

Southern Minnesota Hit.

Mason City, Iowa, April 20.—A tornado swept through North Central Iowa and Southern Minnesota late yesterday, destroying a number of farmhouses, injuring probably a score of persons and killing several head of livestock. At Bricelyn, Minn., seven persons were injured, some seriously. Two farmhouses at Belmont, Minn., were blown down, and dwellings in Kleister, Minn., were damaged, according to reports received here by officials of the Northwestern railroad.

Several Dead in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., April 20.—Tornadoes,

"TIN SOLDIER" PUTS TWO IN HOSPITAL

Dozen Men Try to Disarm Trooper on Duty in New York Town.

Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., April 20.—With four companies of state militia in control today of this village, the strike situation involving employes of the National Conduit & Cable company was quiet, except for one minor disturbance, when two foreigners attempted unsuccessfully to disarm a trooper. Two strikers are in a hospital.

A dozen men, characterizing this trooper as a "tin soldier," told him they were about to take away his gun and bayonet. Two rushed forward, and the militiaman whacked one on the skull with the gun and thrust his bayonet through the fleshy part of the other's shoulder. Their companions dispersed. Neither of the two was seriously injured.

During the morning the roving crowds of strikers and sympathizers became restless and at a bridge leading to the shops a trooper was attacked by a woman. A mob of about 200 men and fifty women closed in and twenty-five militiamen rushed from the works and cleared the bridge at the bayonet point.

Three men received bayonet wounds. One was removed to a hospital and the other two to the local jail as military prisoners.

In another part of the village a detail of troopers was attacked with stones and bottles.

INDIAN PLOT IS UNCOVERED

Seizure of Austro-Germans on Liner China Reveals Plans.

Leaders Working to Cause Extensive Revolution in India.

London, April 19.—As the result of the seizure of German and Austrian subjects aboard the China mail liner China last February while bound from Shanghai for the United States, the intelligence department of the British government claims to have uncovered a plot of immense ramifications conducted with the purpose of causing a revolution in India.

The American headquarters of the plotters is said to be on the Pacific coast. At least one ship is known to have sailed from San Francisco with a German crew and Indian conspirators and arms on board.

The headquarters of the plot in the Orient was at Shanghai and when the gun-running and other machinations were uncovered, according to the au-

GERMANY TO BE GIVEN REASONABLE TIME TO ANSWER NOTE OF U. S.

LAST WORD OF UNITED STATES HAS BEEN SAID

No Time Limit Set But Reply Expected in Few Days.

If No Answer Is Forthcoming Relations Will Be Broken.

Count Von Bernstorff Has Interview With Secretary Lansing.

Berlin, April 20, via London.—The American note to Germany arrived in Berlin late yesterday evening. Ambassador Gerard probably will present it to the foreign office early this afternoon.

To Be Given Reasonable Time.

Washington, April 20.—The United States government, having said its last word to Germany in the submarine controversy, turned today with grave expectancy to Berlin, where rests the decision whether the imperial government shall abandon its present methods of submarine warfare or break with Washington.

No time limit was set in the communication, but the president is known to hold the opinion that three or four days would be a reasonable period to allow to Germany for decision. If none is forthcoming within a reasonable time the step accomplishing a break in relations will be taken.

Senator Kern, majority leader in the senate, said at the White House today, he believed there was a general disposition in the senate not to discuss President Wilson's address on the note to Germany. Discussion, he

WOUNDS HIS DAUGHTER AND ENDS OWN LIFE

Binghamton, N. Y., April 20.—Alfred L. Sharpe, for several years previous to coming to this city collector of customs at El Paso, Tex., is dead and his 18-year-old daughter, Holland, is in a hospital, seriously wounded, following a quarrel last night between father and daughter which ended when Sharpe seized a revolver and after shooting the girl twice in the back, sent a bullet through his own heart. Doctors say the girl has a chance to recover. Money matters are said to have led to the shooting.

FRENCH AGAIN RESUME OFFENSIVE AT VERDUN; RESULTS SUCCESSFUL

French Capture Portion of German Trenches and Redoubt.

Several Hundred Prisoners Taken in New Move By French.

Three Attacks By Teutons at Les Esparges Are Repulsed.

London, April 20.—The French again have taken the offensive in the Verdun battle and launched attacks against the German lines on the right bank of the Meuse. Paris declares the aggressive move was successful, resulting in the capture of portions of German trenches and a redoubt, and in the taking of several hundred prisoners.

This operation on the part of Gen. Petain's forces follows closely a German move in a new field in the struggle for the fortress. This took the form of a drive on the extreme right flank of the French forces in this sector, three successive attacks being delivered at Les Eparges, about thirteen miles southeast of Verdun on the edge of the Woevre plain.

Military observers have long expected some such operation on the part of the Germans as part of a squeezing movement intended to force the evacuation of the fortress. The new attempt was unsuccessful, however, Paris has reported, the Germans having been driven by a counter-attack out of the

STRIKERS WRECK CAR AT NEW KENSINGTON

New Kensington, Pa., April 20.—A street car on the West Penn Traction company's lines, where a strike has been in progress for eight months, was attacked late last night by a mob and almost demolished. The conductor was beaten into insensibility. He was rescued by the police. The riot marked the close of a labor demonstration in which fully 2,500 workmen of the lower Allegheny valley towns took part.

RUMORS OF DEATH OF VILLA AGAIN REVIVED

Mining Concerns Hear That Peons Generally Believe Report Is True.

El Paso, Tex., April 20.—The growing belief that Francisco Villa is dead, whether or not his body has been recovered, was strengthened today by messages received by American mining concerns here from their agents at Cusihuiriachic, Parral, Santa Barbara and Guerrero.

All of these messages agreed that the report of Villa's death was common among the peons in Northern Chihuahua and was generally accepted as true.

STRONG FORCE OF TROOPS ARRIVES AT MARSEILLES PORT

Czar's Soldiers to Fight By Side of Entente Troops in Effort to Drive Germans Back From Verdun.

London, April 20.—Russia has come to the aid of France and Great Britain in the great struggle on the western front, sending a strong force of troops to fight with the Entente allies there.

The Russians disembarked at Marseilles at noon today, their arrival being noted by Gen. Joffre in the order of the day, the French commander-in-chief citing their coming as another striking proof of Rusisan devotion to the common cause of the allies.

The Russians are believed to have embarked for France from the port of Archangel on the White sea, the only port through which there is free communication between Russia and her allies in the west. It is considered probable that the transports carrying the troops made a wide sweep out into the North Atlantic before heading for the Mediterranean to avoid the submarine danger zone in the vicinity of the British isles.

In this connection it is to be noted that word reached New York today through private cable advices that Russia had closed the port of Archangel to all except government traffic. This may indicate that other troop movements from Archangel to the western front are either under way or in contemplation.

Several times during the war there have been reports that Russia was sending troops to the Franco-Belgian front, travelers even declaring that detachments had been seen en route through Scotland and England. No such troops have ever appeared on the western battle line, however.

DISEMBARK AT NOON.

Gen. Joffre welcomed the Russians in an order of the day, saying their arrival was another proof of the devotion of Russia to the common cause.

INVITED TO PICK OUT RECORDS OF EMBASSY

New York, April 20.—The documents seized by Federal authorities in the office of Wolfe von Igel, return of which has been demanded by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, remain today in a safe in the office of the United States district attorney. Before returning any of them to the German ambassador, District Attorney Marshall has sent to Washington photographic copies of all of them in order that the German ambassador may determine which are official records of the embassy.

Persons who have seen the papers say they do not believe Count von Bernstorff will admit that any are official reports. The papers are described as constituting "the largest haul made by the government since the activities of the agents of the Central powers in this country were first uncovered."

Another Demand Made.

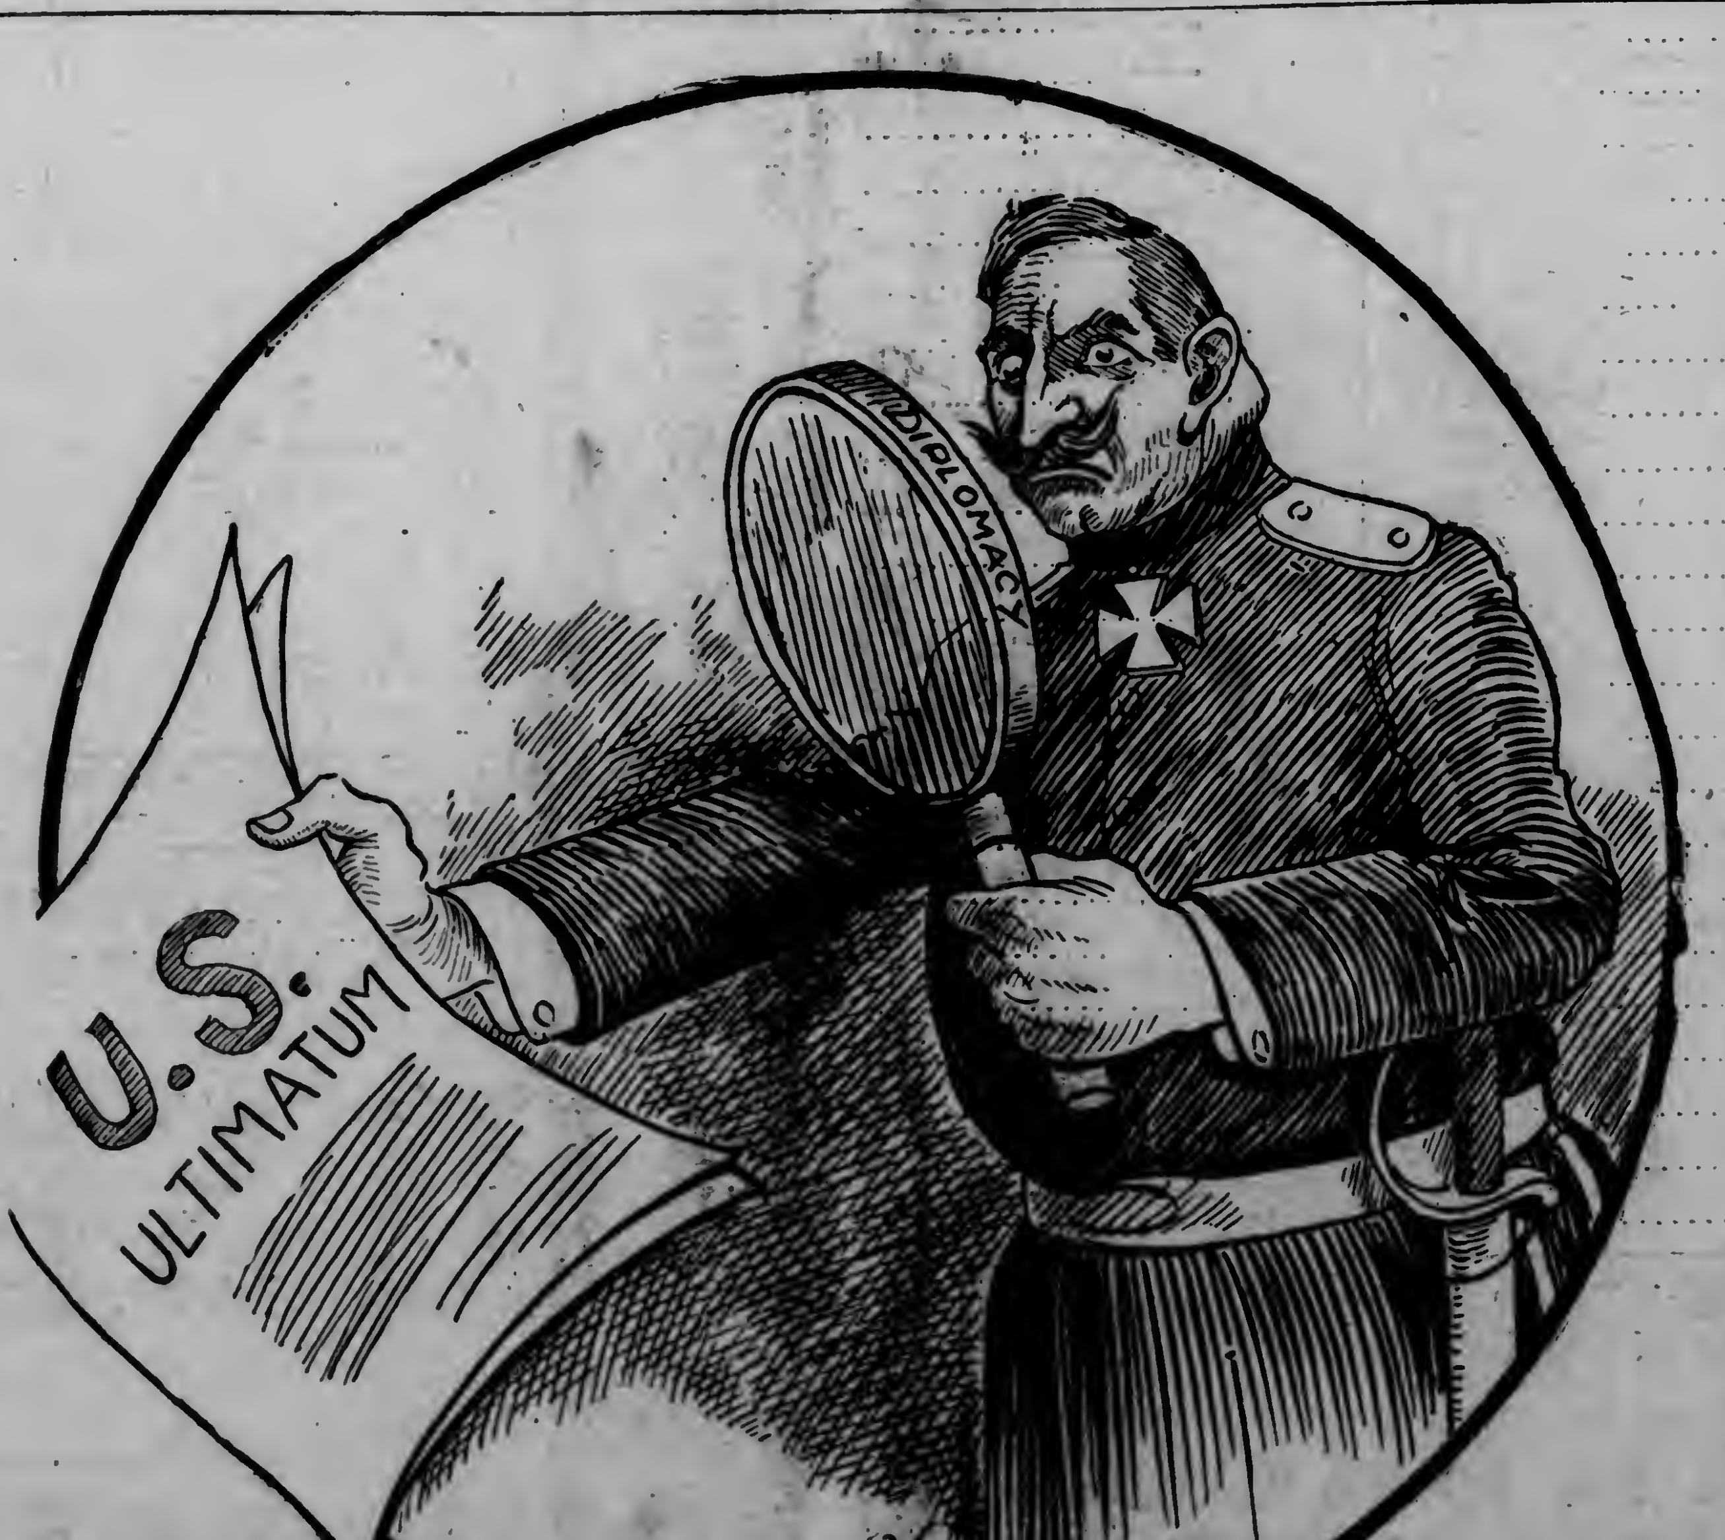
Another demand for the return of papers seized in the office of Wolfe von Igel, under indictment in the alleged German plot to destroy the Welland canal, was made today upon Federal District Attorney Marshall by John B. Stanchfield, the defendant's attorney.

The district attorney said Mr. Stanchfield had maintained that von Igel's office (formerly that of Capt. von Papen, recalled German military attache), was in effect German territory and that the intrusion of the United States agents constituted an "invasion." Mr. Marshall said that he replied that the matter rested for decision with the Washington authorities; meantime he had no alternative but to proceed with the case.

Conditional Request.

Washington, April 20.—Attorney General Gregory has communicated to United States Attorney Marshall at New York the state department's conditional request for the release of Wolfe von Igel, secretary of Former German Military Attache von Papen, and the return of the seized official documents, Secretary Lansing said today. Photographic copies of official papers taken from von Igel could not be used in court if the originals are returned, in his opinion. Whether von Igel's office in New York would be considered "German territory" as property of the embassy, it was officially asserted, would depend upon the lease.

UP AGAINST THE REAL THING.



TO INCREASE FORCE OR WITHDRAW MEN

Next Movement in Mexico Will Depend on Report of Gen. Hugh Scott's Investigation at Border.

San Antonio, Tex., April 20.—Early withdrawal of the troops sent into Mexico as a punitive expedition or the authorization of military operations on a big scale must be the result of Gen. Hugh L. Scott's investigation of the situation, in the opinion of army officers here. Gen. Funston and his staff are ready to show the chief of staff all the written records of the failure to catch Villa and are prepared to place him in touch with the unwritten evidence.

Gen. Pershing is not pushing his campaign against Villa and will not until he gets from headquarters authority and facilities to operate more freely.

Officers here believe the facts in the case, showing the futility of extending operations along the existing lines, will convince Secretary Baker's envoy of the hopelessness of further pursuit unless the commanding officer in Mexico is given more effective backing.

Would Mean War.

Villa, if he is yet alive, can be caught, officers here believe, but only by the adoption of a plan that Mexicans generally almost certainly would characterize as a war. He has penetrated so far into Mexico and the hostility of Mexicans, both friends of Villa and adherents of the de facto government, has become so marked that army officers are convinced further operations must be undertaken with the understanding that armed opposition by both factions will be met.

Troop movements ordered by Gen. Funston were being carried out today, but probably none of the 2,300 additional men he had planned to give Gen. Pershing will be further than Pershing's base at Columbus by the time Gen. Scott arrives. Gen. Pershing is holding intact his 10,000 men, stretched from Columbus to points almost 400 miles from the border. The mobile cavalry detachments that have been scouring the district beyond Satevo, now are in easy communication with the main column and will hold their positions for the present.

Gen. Pershing has sent through several reports in the past forty-eight hours, but Gen. Funston has made none of them public.

Interest Revived.

Washington, April 20.—Officials were interested today in dispatches from Mexico City that the de facto government was now inclined to look with less skepticism on reports that Francisco Villa's body had been found. There were no official messages to the state and war departments, however, bearing on the subject.

A message to the Mexican embassy last night and press dispatches said Gen. Obregon, the war minister, was inclined to place confidence in reports that a searching party of two Mexican officials and an American officer had examined the grave. Gen. Obregon has been described previously as particularly dubious about reports of Villa's death and if he has now changed that view, officials feel he must have new information.

There were no advices from Gen.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court today handed down the following decisions:

Ramsey County.

Rachel A. Breen, respondent, vs. A. P. Cameron, et al, defendants, A. P. Cameron, et al, respondents, Scribner-Libbey company, appellant. Rachel A. Breen, plaintiff, vs. A. P. Cameron, et al, defendants, Cameron & Co., appellant, Scribner-Libbey company, respondent—

1. In an action to foreclose a mechanic's lien the findings are construed to hold:

(a) That the sub-contractor of the general contractors of the defendant owner completed its contract, which consisted of the construction of a tile roof, according to its terms.

(b) That the sub-contractor was negligent in constructing the roof upon defective concrete base constructed by the general contractors, and that the defects which afterward appeared in the roof were caused by the defective base.

2. The evidence sustains the finding that the sub-contractor completed his contract according to its terms and that the defects afterwards appearing in the roof were caused by the defective base.

3. The sub-contractor constructed the roof upon the concrete base constructed by the general contractors and under their supervision and at their direction, and the finding that the sub-contractor was negligent in putting the roof upon a defective base is not supported by the evidence.

4. The general rule is that this court cannot make nor direct specific findings of fact, but where the issue has been completely tried, and all the evidence upon which the finding must be made is before the court, and from it but one finding can be made, an erroneous finding is amendable as a matter of law, and an amendment will be directed without a retrial.

5. A judgment affecting a party to the action who is not a party to the appeal cannot be reversed or modified as to such party.

Judgment affirmed. DIBELL, C.

Marshall County.

R. C. Mathwig, appellant, vs. Andrew Ostrand [illegible] al., defendants; Andrew Ostrand, [illegible] al., respondents—

1. The vendee in a contract for the sale of lands may abandon his unperfected equitable title.

2. The statute, G. S. 1913, section 8081, R. L. 1905, section 4442, as amended by laws 1913, chapter 136, provides the exclusive method by which the vendor in a contract of sale may terminate the rights of the vendee because of default in performance; but it does not relieve the vendee from the effect of abandonment which the vendor elects to treat as such and in which he acquiesces.

3. The evidence is sufficient to justify a finding of mutual abandonment of a contract of sale of lands; that is, an abandonment by the defendant which the plaintiff elected to treat as such and in which he acquiesced.

Order affirmed. DIBELL, C.

Hennepin County.

H. G. Anderson, appellant, vs. Upper Cuyuna Land company, respondent—

1. The evidence in the record is sufficient to support the findings of fact.

2. The court did not err in refusing to admit oral evidence of conversations between the parties had before the written contract was executed. The writing was complete and unambiguous.

3. The conclusions of law and order for judgment are sustained by the findings of fact.

Order affirmed. SCHALLER, J.

Marshall County.

Conrad Anderson, respondent, vs. Ida Willson, et al., appellants—

1. A chattel mortgage stands as security for the mortgage debt until the debt is paid, even though the evidence of the debt is changed in form. The parties may, however, agree that the payment of part of the debt and the giving of a new note for the balance shall operate as a satisfaction of the debt. If the mortgage debt is satisfied, the mortgage loses all vitality though no formal release is given.

2. The evidence in this case sustains a finding that the payment of part of notes secured by a mortgage upon a team of horses and the giving of a new note, were agreed to be in payment of the mortgage debt. An agreement to take the money and "clear the horses" and take a "plain note" for the balance, operates as an acceptance of the money and the new note in payment of the mortgage debt.

3. The property having been converted by an attempted foreclosure and sale by the former mortgagee, the amount of the new note cannot be deducted from the damages awarded without pleading and proof of the note.

Order affirmed. HALLAM, J.

Blue Earth County.

Mathias Nostdal, appellant, vs. W. J. Morehart, et al., respondents—

1. Ordinarily the measure of damages for the breach by the vendor of a contract to convey land, if the market value exceeds the contract price, is the difference between them. The parties may, however, fix by their contract a different measure of liability. They may stipulate that in case title cannot be made good the contract shall be inoperative and only the consideration paid recovered. Such a provision means that if the title which the vendor can convey to the purchaser cannot be made good, the agreement is to be at an end as to both parties. This remedy when so fixed is exclusive and either party has a right to invoke it.

2. A provision to this effect in a contract involved in this case is not controlled or modified by a subsequent provision that in the event the purchaser repudiates the contract the consideration paid shall be forfeited if the title be good in a person named, other than the vendor.

Order affirmed. HALLAM, J.

Municipal Court, Mankato.

J. L. Parker, respondent, vs. S. Dixon, et al., appellants—

An innkeeper is answerable for the loss in his inn of the goods of his guest unless the loss arises from the negligence of the guest or the act of God or of a public enemy.

This rule of liability arises only in favor of guests. It does not arise in favor of one who comes to the inn intending only to avail himself without expense of the facilities and comforts which the innkeeper furnishes free to the public at large.

The relation of innkeeper and guest involves the obligation to furnish accommodation on the one hand, and the obligation to pay on the other. Generally a person becomes a guest when he registers and engages accommodation. He may, however, be a guest before doing either. Handing baggage to a porter or bell boy of the inn may commence the relation if the parties contemplate that accommodation be engaged. But one does not become a guest by merely handing his satchel to such employe when he does not intend to engage such accommodation.

Order reversed and a new trial granted. HALLAM, J.

Ramsey County.

National Council of the Knights and Ladies of Security, appellant, vs. Mendel Canter, respondent—

An application to vacate a judgment made more than nine months after the defendant acquired knowledge of it, and the same period after he had been advised by a competent attorney of what steps he must take to be relieved from it, unless excused, comes too late. Illness, the nature of which does not appear, but which admittedly does not incapacitate the defendant from understanding his rights or giving directions as to litigation, is not a good excuse, particularly where the showing is strong that defendant acquiesced in the judgment until stirred to action by a third party.

Order reversed. HALLAM, J.

Hennepin County.

Grace M. Bright, respondent, vs. Harrington Beard, appellant—

To support a judgment imposing a penalty under section 2900, G. S. 1913, upon a member of the board of education of a city for having voted to exclude a pupil from a public school the findings must show that the vote related to such pupil and that no sufficient cause existed for the exclusion.

In this case the findings show that a case of smallpox had developed in the public school wherein plaintiff was a pupil; that defendant as a member of the board of education voted for a resolution requiring the pupils in that school who had been exposed to the contagion to be vaccinated and in default thereof to be excluded from attendance until the lapse of two weeks; and that was the only act of defendant in the premises. But since the findings fail to show that plaintiff was either named in the resolution, or came within its terms the judgment imposing a penalty is not sustained.

It is also held that the school authorities, including members of boards of education have authority to temporarily exclude from school attendance pupils who have been exposed to contagious and infectious diseases, and that the danger of contracting and spreading the disease to which such pupils have been exposed is sufficient cause for voting to so exclude them. Chapter 299, L, 1903, section 4640, G. S., 1913, does not apply to a pupil who has been exposed to smallpox.

Reversed. HOLT, J.

Hennepin County.

Lillian B. Smith, guardian, etc., appellant, vs. Oscar O'Dean, et al., defendants, Herman Wagner, respondent—

The evidence fails to show that the respondent sustained either the relation of principal or partner to the defendant O'Dean at the time the latter made fraudulent representations to plaintiff concerning lots which were accepted in exchange for plaintiff's house and lot so as to create a personal liability in an action for deceit against respondent. The fact that respondent, subsequent to the fraud but without knowledge thereof, acquired an interest in the property plaintiff parted with does not create such liability.

Affirmed. HOLT, J.

Otter Tail County.

F. J. Brabec, appellant, vs. W. A. Boedigheimer, respondent—

Evidence considered and held to sustain a finding that defendant's son, to whom plaintiff rendered medical and surgical services, was not a pauper or a poor person unable to earn a livelihood.

Order affirmed. BUNN, J.

Washington County.

In re estate of Jane Hetherington, deceased; Anna Bush et al, respondents, vs. William P. Hetherington et al, appellants—

The evidence in a proceeding to contest a last will and testament considered and held sufficiently to show the mental capacity of testatrix at the time she executed the will, within the rule laid down in Layman's case, 40 Minn. 371; and insufficient to justify a finding that the will was procured by undue influence.

Order reversed. BROWN, C. J.

Hennepin County.

Johanna Hade, as administratrix, respondent, vs. Buel L. Simmons, appellant—

1. In action for death by wrongful act the evidence is held to sustain the charge of negligence on the part of defendant, and to negative contributory negligence on the part of decedent.

2. Section 33 of the workmen's compensation statute in respect to injuries to an employe, resulting from the act of a third person not his employer, has reference to cases where such third person is also subject to the compensation statute; it has no application where the third person is not subject to the act.

3. The fact that the third person is an officer or agent of a corporation which is subject to the statute does not render the statute applicable unless the officer was acting in the course of his authority for the corporation, and to such an extent as to render the corporation liable for his act.

Order affirmed. BROWN, C. J.

St. Louis County.

C. A. Remington, appellant, vs. Albert M. Sabin, respondent—

Where the owner of a homestead insures the same against loss by fire and the property is subsequently destroyed, the person who furnished material for the construction of the building, in the absence of some contract stipulation, has no claim to or lien upon the insurance money, by force of section 12, article 1 of Constitution or otherwise, and such insurance money is exempt from garnishment under subdivision 13, section 7951, General Statutes 1913.

Order affirmed. BROWN, C. J.

Renville County.

J. M. Freeman, respondent, vs. Caspar Fehr, et al, appellants—

In an action by the vendee in a contract for the sale of land to recover payments made thereunder on the theory that the vendee has rescinded the contract for fraud of the vendor, the trial court granted an injunctional order restraining the vendee during the pendency of the action from attempting to cancel the contract by giving notice under the statute. It is held:

1. The order was not forbidden by the statute, though its only value to plaintiff was in case he failed to prevail in the action. It is sufficient if the injunction protected a right that plaintiff had in case he failed in the action.

2. Plaintiff, by electing to rescind and bringing this action, did not necessarily abandon his right to affirm the contract and recover damages for the fraud. If the present action should be dismissed by plaintiff, or if he should be defeated herein on the ground of laches or that he had affirmed the contract, he could then perform and sue for the fraud.

3. There was a sufficient showing of probable irreparable injury to plaintiff if defendant was permitted to cancel the contract during the action to warrant granting the relief asked.

4. The order was not beyond the power of the court and making it was not an abuse of its discretion.

Affirmed. BUNN, J.

ST. CLOUD SCHOOL "STRIKE" IS SETTLED

St. Cloud, Minn., April 20.—The high school "strike" is over and the school again has a senior class in good standing. After returning the property that had been taken and repairing the damage caused by the efforts of the seniors to place their colors on the cupola of the buildings, the members were allowed to return.

GROCERS PLAN TO WELCOME DELEGATES

Trips Within City and to Steel Plant for State Convention.

Grocers braved a spring storm last night to attend a meeting of the Duluth Retail Grocers' association at Olson brothers' store, 2303 West Superior street.

During the meeting tentative plans were made for the entertainment of delegates to the state convention of retail grocers and general merchants at Duluth, July 18-20. Sightseeing trips around the city will be taken and the itinerary probably will include a trip to the steel plant.

George M. Peterson, secretary of the organization, was elected delegate to the national convention of retail grocers at New Orleans next month.

Saves Employer's Life.

Mott, N. D., April 20.—Jacob Jordan was saved from death in Thirty Mile creek, near here, by M. Bittenhinder, his employee, when they were thrown from their wagon into the stream while attempting to ford it. Jordan was struck by the wagon box when it overturned and was seriously injured.

Detroit, Minn., Votes Bonds.

Detroit, Minn., April 20.—Two bond issues, one for $30,000 to extend the city's water mains, and the other for $7,500 for additional fire apparatus, were carried by a majority of 224 to 30 at an election Tuesday.

Shake Off That Grip

When Spring comes, with its changeable weather and your exposure, it is best to clear away all the symptoms left after an attack of grip. That evil disease leaves you weakened, and when its victim attempts to "do his bit" he exposes himsef to the risk of a second attack, for which he is less prepared, and which may have graver consequences.

There's Danger in Delay

April and May are pneumonia months. In this time a weakened system is a constant source of danger, for the pneumonia and grip infections are in the air, and after a long winter the body is so clogged with waste it cannot resist them. Fortify the health, remove the catarrh, and improve the digestion.

For Quick Relief PERUNA

This reliable tonic is recommended to remove the waste from the body, counteract the catarrhal poisons and allay the inflammation that is catarrh, restore the regular appetite and tone up the entire system to resist disease. A well man is safe.

As a tonic after grip it has won many commendations, while its effectiveness in catarrhal conditions is unquestioned. Take no chances —Take Peruna.

Peruna Tablets are always ready to take. You may carry a box with you and ward off colds and chill. The liquid medicine in your home is a great safeguard. Protect your family.

Investment heating!

"Well bought is half sold" runs the old maxim. Of course every man buys with uppermost thought of a permanent home, but the prudent man buys his home also with an eye to its being a "good investment, if he or his heirs should want to sell." The lot is bought and the house built in the belief that the property will increase in value. Why therefore should anyone nowadays discount or depreciate his property by failing to modernize it at once with a permanent, comfort-producing outfit of

"I want this foundation of home comfort! It will prove an investment to me—not an expense!"

AMERICAN RADIATORS & IDEAL BOILERS

In mild weather or in the midst of the most severe winter AMERICAN-IDEAL heating is steadily on the job, without the constant physical strain of lugging coal, poking and coaxing the fire, fixing dampers and grates, or dumping ashes.

No rusting, no repairs, no blackening, no annual storage! The consumption of fuel is automatically regulated—the rooms are kept at just the degree wanted—so no coal is wasted. All local fuels may be used including the cheapest screenings, pea coal, lignite, wood and all grades of soft and hard coal. Of all the features of your home, you will say that this is the most important and best paying investment.

A No. 4121 IDEAL Boiler and 420 sq. ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $190 were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent Fitter. This did not include costs of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which vary according to climatic and other conditions.

A lifetime of lowest heating cost!

Don't skimp on the heating; get IDEAL—the best there is—costs no more than inferior makes, due to our enormous annual output. Buildings thus equipped sell quicker, or bring 10% to 15% higher rental; or command a larger loan.

Why not decide at once to get this permanent investment heating? Thousands of old buildings of all classes are equipped annually. Present attractive price will surprise you! Ask for "Ideal Heating" catalog (free)—full of big heating facts any owner or tenant should know. Write today. No urging to purchase.

CRANE & ORDWAY CO., DULUTH

BUSY SEASON FOR THE MANY AMATEUR GARDENERS OF DULUTH IS BEGINNING

This is the busy season for the amateur gardener and there is plenty of opportunity for him to do a variety of things which should be done along the line of garden improvement. For instance:

Top-grafting may be done now.

Pansies should go into the cold frame.

It is not too late to test garden and field seeds. Do it now.

See that the cold-frame is sheltered from north and west winds.

Plant annuals in the cold frame as soon as the ground and weather will permit.

Transplant early celery, cabbage, cauliflower, etc., to flats, hotbeds or coldframes.

Observe potato seed carefully. Treat for scab before planting, and be sure other diseases are not present.

The seeds of the gladiolus contain an oil which will poison one who is easily poisoned by ivy. Be very careful in removing the "wings" from the seed.

The sprouting of gladiolus bulblets may be hastened by soaking them in water or putting in wet sand a few days before planting. They must be planted as soon as they begin to sprout.

Order strawberry and raspberry plants. It is late now, but not too late to get them. Try a few autumn-bearing strawberries with the others.

Now is a good time to do pruning. Don't prune very much now the plants that bloom early. Wait until they are through blooming. Fall-blooming plants and roses should be pruned in the spring.

Plant sweet peas as early as possible in well prepared rich soil. They may be planted six inches deep, but should be covered only an inch or two at a time as they grow. Encourage deep-growing roots to withstand drouth in July.

Where one has only a small space for the garden, it is well to work out a companion cropping scheme. For instance, onion sets and lettuce or radishes may be planted together. Three or four rows of spinach may be sown between the rows of cabbage or cauliflower and cut out when large enough. Many short-and-long-growing-season vegetables may be planted together in this way.

What to Do When Backache Comes On.

Get a box of Foley Kidney Pills and take them as directed. They stop the backache, ease stiff, aching joints and muscles, relieve the congested condition of the kidneys that cause the pain. Frank W. Sherman, Lacona, N. Y., says: "I suffered with a tired feeling in my back, did not have any ambition, and felt all tired out. I used Foley Kidney Pills, and in a few days began to feel better, and now I have entirely recovered. Sold everywhere.

WORK ON MAINS TO BEGIN MONDAY

City Will Put in Twenty Miles of Water and Gas Extension.

Construction work on approximately twenty miles of gas and water extensions will begin next Monday, according to an announcement made this morning by Maager Reed of the water and light department.

The contractors, he said, are all ready and are now waiting for dry weather.

Bids were opened yesterday noon on eight small jobs authorized by the city council early this spring, the jobs and low bidders, respectively, being as follows: Martin street and Douglas avenue, Norquist & Berg, $359; One Hundred and Fourth avenue west, One Hundred and First avenue west and House street, Simon Johnson, $669; Sixty-third and Fifty-sixth avenues west, Simon Johnson, $830; Sixth street, Forty-third avenue west and Piedmont avenue, Riback & Parvi, $492.50; St. Paul avenue, Luther avenue and Anoka street, A. Hedenberg and Norquist & Berg each submitted bid of $1,705; Boulevard and Eighth avenue east, Norquist & Berg, $819; Grand avenue and Seventy-seventh and Seventy-eighth avenues west, Simon Johnson, $5,882; Greenwood street and Lakeview drive, Norquist & Berg, $461.50.

A large number of bids will be opened early in May, Manager Reed announced today.

REPORT SHOWS HYDRANT RENTAL IS NOT EXCESSIVE

Duluth is not paying too much for the rental of fire hydrants, according to this month's bulletin of the water and light department, which will be mailed to all consumers within a day or two.

Figures prepared by Manager Reed show that the actual cost of fire protection, hydrant maintenance, operation, and depreciation amount to $100,060.92, while the department received but $54,649.46 rental from the city.

The April bulletin follows:

"The question is often asked why does the city pay the water and light department over $50,000 a year for hydrant rentals, when the actual amount of water used for extinguishing fires amounts perhaps to only $300 to $400. The question is also asked why does the city pay $50 a year for a certain hydrant that, for several years has not even been opened.

"As a matter of fact, the money paid the water and light department is not for water furnished to extinguish fires, that is furnished free, although it would be entirely logical to charge for the water as well as the hydrant rental, provided the items of expense incurred in either charge were not duplicated in the other charge.

"In order to furnish an adequate and efficient fire protection service to the city, many things are necessary besides the fire hydrant and its connection to the street main. First the intake reaching out into the lake, must be much larger, then the pumping engines, transmission mains, reservoirs and distributing mains, all require larger capacities in order to supply quantities of water on an instant's notice in addition to the domestic supply. Where two, three or four-inch pipe would supply the domestic consumption, a six-inch pipe is installed as a minimum size to furnish sufficient quantities of water at required pressure to give an effective fire stream.

"In a total valuation of $2,785,000 for the water plant it is estimated that $1,280,000 is a proper valuation of that portion of the plant constructed for fire protection alone and which is wholly unnecessary for the purpose of furnishing water to customers. Logically it would then seem proper to charge this amount to the interests that are thus served, and to charge the balance of the cost ($1,505,000) together with the cost of furnishing the water to those who are using the water.

"On the basis of this investment amounting to $1,280,000 it is estimated that the yearly cost of fire protection service is as follows:

Interest 4½ per cent, sinking fund 3 per cent, total...... (Figured on $981,979.86 which is the difference between the total investment for fire protection service, $1,280,286.65, less the city's share in the proprietorship, $298,306.79).	$73,648.49
Hydrant maintenance and operation	3,328.43
Depreciation	23,084.00
Total	$100,060.92

"Amount received for public and private fire service, $54,649.46.

"By these figures it will be seen that the city is receiving a service costing considerably in excess of the amount paid therefor."

DROP PART OF CHARGES AGAINST T. M. OSBORNE

White Plains, N. Y., April 20.—Thomas Mott Osborne, former warden of Sing Sing prison, who was indicted on several charges, won another legal victory when Justice Platt dismissed charges of personal immorality lodged against Osborne.

Justice Platt ruled that the indictment was faulty since it alleged no specific acts.

Only three counts remain on which the warden may be tried. These allege mismanagement and malfeasance in office.

WEST END

CLUBS HEAR CITY OFFICERS

Mayor and Works Commissioner Tell of Proposed Improvements.

Paving, Parks, Beautifying Residence Section and Library Discussed.

Public improvements to be made in the West end this summer were discussed in addresses given last evening by Mayor W. I. Prince and City Commissioner J. A. Farrell before the West End Commercial club at Simonson's hall. The meeting was attended by about thirty members of the club.

Commissioner Farrell outlined the improvements for this end of the city. He told the members that the contract for the paving of West First street between Twentieth and Thirtieth avenues had been let and that this work would begin next week. He also told the members that the grading and paving of Twenty-second avenue, from Superior street to Fifth street, had been ordered and that the contract for the work would be advertised and let so that it could be completed at an early date this year. The contract for paving West Third street will also be let soon, said the commissioner and a paved thoroughfare will connect the city proper and West Duluth before fall.

Beautifying Improvements.

Mayor Prince spoke on park improvements and beautifying of the residence district. He said that this coming summer it was proposed by the city to build a handsome bridge on Third street over Miller's creek. Part of this ravine has been filled in during the past year. The park division will also remove an old barn which belongs to the department and which has been an eyesore at Lincoln park, said the mayor.

Plans for the new branch Carnegie library to be erected this year at the northwest corner of Twenty-third avenue and Second street were shown to the members of the club. Architect W. J. Sullivan who drew the plans, gave the members of the club a description of the building as it was proposed. The members expressed satisfaction with the plans.

At the close of the addresses by the officials the guests and members were entertained with refreshments which were served by L. A. Simonson, president of the club and Mrs. Simonson.

WHAT THE DOCTOR KNOWS

KIDNEYS MUST BE RIGHT TO INSURE HEALTH

Few people realize to what extent their health depends upon the condition of the kidneys.

The physician in nearly all cases of serious illness, makes a chemical analysis of the patient's urine. He knows that unless the kidneys are doing their work properly, the other organs cannot readily be brought back to health and strength.

When the kidneys are neglected or abused in any way, serious results are sure to follow. According to health statistics, Bright's Disease, which is really an advanced form of kidney trouble, caused nearly ten thousand deaths in one year, in the State of New York alone. Therefore, it is particularly necessary to pay more attention to the health of these important organs.

An ideal herbal compound that has had remarkable success as a kidney remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

The mild and healing influence of this preparation, in most cases, is soon realized, according to sworn statements and verified testimony of those who have used the remedy.

When your kidneys require attention, get Swamp-Root at once from any pharmacy. It is sold by every druggist in bottles of two sizes—50c and $1.00.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Duluth Herald.

CHASED MANY MILES BY A SUBMARINE

New York, April 20.—After being chased half the length of the Mediterranean by a submarine, the Italian steamer America arrived here yesterday from Naples with 1,255 passengers. On April 6, while steaming through the Mediterranean, a wireless message was received from a British patrol boat that a submarine was operating in the vicinity. The commander of the America changed his course and steamed for the coast of Spain.

Keeping in touch with the shore stations, the officers of the America, by constant change of course, finally succeeded in eluding the underwater craft off the coast of Algeria, and escaped to the open sea.

BUSINESS REVIVES SLOWLY ON COAST

Duluth Wholesaler Returns From West; North Dakota and Montana Lively.

Reinhold A. Bartholdi of the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, who has just returned from a business trip to the Pacific coast, says he found business generally good in North Dakota and Montana and slowly improving in Washington and Oregon. He visited the leading business centers of Montana excepting Butte, and found conditions generally good, mining and agriculture enjoying all kinds of prosperity. Mr. Bartholdi formerly lived in Montana and says he noted many changes.

Spokane, he says, appears to be slowly reviving after a depressed period, while Seattle is far from being the boom town it once was. Portland struck the Duluthian as rather quiet. The enforcement of the state prohibition law in Washington, Idaho and Oregon appeared to Mr. Bartholdi to be, temporarily at least, having a depressing effect on business, but many believe things will, in time, adjust themselves although right now the law is being roundly condemned in many lines of business.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION.

Suit Against Governor Hanna and Others Dismissed.

Fargo, N. D., April 20.—Judge C. A. Pollock ordered dismissal of the action launched by the receiver of the Medina State bank against Governor L. B. Hanna, E. J. Weiser of Fargo and the First National bank of Fargo. Judge Pollock's dismissal on a demurrer to the complaint was on the finding that the plaintiff failed to state any cause for action. Its demand for $50,000 for paper which it asserted was removed from the bank just before it was closed was held unjustified.

The court holds that on his own pleadings the bank receiver has no cause for action.

SLEUTH'S APPEAL TO BE HEARD MAY 2

St. Paul Detective Has Appealed From Conviction Under Mann Act.

Fargo, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arthur Gillette, a St. Paul detective who was convicted in the United States district court here last June of a violation of the Mann white slave act, will have his appeal heard in the United States circuit court of appeals in St. Paul on May 2, according to Col. M. A. Hildreth, United States district attorney of this city.

Gillette was charged with transporting a young woman from Minnesota to North Dakota for immoral purposes while he was gathering evidence on liquor and bawdy house cases for a county of this state. It was alleged that Gillette had made arrangements to meet the woman in the case in Moorhead and that he had then brought her to Fargo, paying her transportation on the street railway.

Gillette took an appeal and his case has been set for May 2. Col. Hildreth is preparing briefs presenting the government's case.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS ON THE PRESIDENT'S NOTE

CHOICE IS GERMANY'S.

Philadelphia Inquirer — Germany must squarely satisfy our demands or deliberately spurn our offer of friendship. The choice is her's. We should have made the issue immediately after the sinking of the Lusitania. What the president said today to congress and Germany, he should have said a month ago.

HAS NATION'S APPROVAL.

Philadelphia Public Ledger—The president has been patient, more than patient, in the face of unprecedented provocations, or intolerable injuries. The position he has finally taken will have the united and whole-hearted approval of the nation. The account with Germany has been running many months; the items reach a staggering total. It is now closed. Nothing is left but settlement in full.

MUST BE BACKED BY FORCE.

New York Tribune—If there is a definite result at last, whether diplomatic relations are broken off or intercourse is continued on the basis of German disavowal of the policy of murder on the high seas—we shall owe nothing to the long orgy of words which has passed in Washington for the last fourteen months as modern American diplomacy. Our issue with Germany can be settled now only by a display of determination backed by force. And it should have been settled that way without parley or faltering as soon as it became clear last August that Germany never intended to respond to Mr. Wilson's words with an adequate offer of reparation for the Lusitania massacre.

A GERMAN VIEW.

New York Staats Zeitung—It is unthinkable that the German government should recognize these credentials (the president's as the representative of all neutral nations), and grant the peremptory demands of the president as long as the cause for the inauguration of this submarine warfare—the illegal British blockade and interference with the commercial rights of neutrals—remains in force, and as long as British inhumanity against the civilian noncombatant population of Germany is continued. The president's demands seek to permanently guard British sea trade and would, if complied with, make England proof against injury. Can Germany agree to that? The answer remains with the individual. President Wilson has given the German government the alternative of complying with demands which seem impossible to comply with, or to expect war with the United States for the severance of diplomatic relations which, under circumstances like the present, can only result in war. The president has brought about a diplomatic situation which must involve the United States in war with Germany unless congress interferes in proper time.

SHOULD BE AMERICANS.

St. Paul Pioneer Press—In the solemnity of a moment in which it may be determined whether our beloved country shall emerge in bloodless triumph from her unwavering stand for humanity, civilization, and the reign of international law, or whether it shall be plunged into the dread maelstrom of death and devastation, which spell war, let every American be true to the traditions of the land of his birth or adoption.

HAS NO MANDATE.

Illinois Staats Zeitung of Chicago—We are not aware that Mr. Wilson ever received a mandate to represent humanity; and if he did, he ought to return his retainer, for he never represented humanity, but the interests of the ammunition manufacturer in opposition to the real interests of humanity. * * * Why not rather send a threat to the nation whose inhuman stoppage of food products for the civil population of Germany caused the submarine war? * * * We do not even now believe that the president really wants war, and we are sure that the nation does not want it.

IT IS FOR BERLIN TO DECIDE.

Chicago Herald—The United States has been patient about German submarine murders; patient with German evasions, with German duplicity, with German agents' arrogant abuses of American hospitality. It has warned Berlin to desist. Now it threatens. We have heard from the German ambassador that a severance of diplomatic relations means war. That is for Berlin to decide. Germany will have to begin the war, if war there be.

NO COMPROMISE.

Cincinnati Volksblatt—The speech of the president before congress does not hold out the olive branch, but the sword, in that the president has raised his demands of Germany. If we understand the speech correctly, it now demands that submarine warfare shall cease altogether. This admits of no compromise.

WAR NOT WANTED.

Cincinnati Freie Presse—President Wilson's speech before congress does not explain the change from his previous note to all nations regarding submarine warfare. The reason is that Wall street wants war. The majority of the American people want none, especially not with a nation that has been our friend more than 100 years.

ALL CAN SUPPORT NOTE.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch—The president had exhausted the resources of diplomacy, until in the face of insincerity, violations of pledges and breaches of legal and moral obligations, diplomacy had become a reproach and a byword. The president's patience, forbearance and reasonableness, the high ground upon which he has placed the government's action, enable all Americans to support him with clear conscience and cheerful devotion to the country's honor and interest. American courage and patriotism will be equal to any demand.

PEOPLE WILL SUPPORT IT.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat—It is hardly necessary to say that the people of the United States will support whatever action may be necessary for the protection of American rights and the preservation of American honor. We do not desire a war with Germany, or with any nation, and we may hope that even a severance of diplomatic relations will not lead to that dread eventuality, but the destruction of American lives in the sinking of peaceful ships of commerce is intolerable, and the government would be false to its trust if it did not take vigorous action when measures of diplomacy have been exhausted, as they seem to have been in this case.

WILL BACK THE PRESIDENT.

Kansas City Star—President Wilson has waited with infinite patience in the hope that the intolerable conditions would be remedied. But the promised changes have not come. The German submarine campaign, in the destruction of the Sussex, the other day, was as ruthless as it was in the sinking of the Lusitania a year ago. The president can count on the backing of a united America, whatever the outcome.

SERIOUS PROPOSITION.

Milwaukee Sentinel—Whatever its intention, it (the note) amounts to a flat demand that Germany abandon her submarine campaign against mercantile vessels altogether; and that is a very serious proposition only inferentially warranted by international law. The president declares that the rules of international law cannot be observed by submarines. He also declares that diplomatic relations will be severed unless Germany observes those rules. There it is as plain as logic can make it, that President Wilson now takes a long step away from his former contentions, and virtually demands the absolute discontinuance of the use of submarines in these operations. * * * It is most unlikely that Germany will accede to that demand. * * * She will deny the right of the United States to make it. It may be doubted extremely if congress will see the president's right to make it.

SHOULD OPPOSE WAR.

Milwaukee Free Press—We believe that there is no representative or determining public sentiment in the United States that calls for the dissipation of American wealth, the sacrifice of America's pacific influence, and the shedding of young American blood for the "settlement" of any present differences with any European power. * * * This is not a question of loyalty, but of principle and humanity. We would urge that every citizen who believes that our entrance into the European war at this time would be an unjustified infliction upon this country should at once write to his congressman in protest of any step that might lead to a call to arms. * * * In spite of their cosmopolitan origin, however, Americans will stand ready to fight for their country, right or wrong, when the summons comes.

THE POSITION OF HUMANITY.

Atlanta Constitution—The attitude of the president does not necessarily mean war, but it means Germany must come to the American position, which is one simply and solely of humanity, or must shoulder responsibility for the consequences.

AMERICA'S LAST WORD.

Fort Worth Record—President Wilson has burned his bridges behind him. This is "America's last word." This ultimatum should satisfy the jingoes. It should also satisfy all those who see a chance to realize huge profits in war loans and army contracts. Perhaps it is the beginning of the end.

PEOPLE BEHIND PRESIDENT.

Mobile Register—The people, we feel sure, are behind their president and are all the more of one thought because he has been so careful in coming to a conclusion.

PEOPLE WILL APPROVE.

Nashville Tennesseean and American—It means war with Germany—a war that the United States could not escape, and that its people will approve. It brings the last of the world's continents into the conflict.

NO CHOICE LEFT.

Boston Globe—Since the Berlin government has acted in defiance, not only of our most earnest protests, but also in defiance of its own promises, since, in other words, diplomacy has been exhausted, the government of the United States has nothing left to do except to say the end has come. We have no choice. Germany's illegal acts have been too frequent and too flagrant for us to swallow fine phrases and solemn promises.

ALWAYS UPHOLD THE FLAG.

Boston Herald—If President Wilson should involve the country in war, no opposing party could run in the November elections on any other basis than in support of its vigorous continuance. Our people traditionally uphold their flag when it is under fire, and they would do so now.

A UNITED PEOPLE.

Springfield State Register—President Wilson regrets, all peace-loving, true patriotic Americans regret, that an ultimatum to Germany has been necessary. But, back of their president stand a united people, a people loyal, true and God-fearing, waiting for the answer of the nation across the sea. Rabid politicians will criticize the president, but, thank God, America is not made up of narrow-minded politicians, who see no further than a political job.

JUSTICE OF THE DEMAND.

Washington Post—As to the justice of the demand that German submarines shall no longer be employed so indiscriminately as to endanger or destroy American passengers, there is no question. There is no reason to doubt that Germany will acknowledge that this demand is proper—doubtless she will now take precautions that will avoid further causes of offense.

CHOICE IS GERMANY'S.

Richmond Virginia Times Dispatch—President Wilson's demand on Germany is an ultimatum. The choice now is Germany's. The kaiser and his advisers must say whether they will abandon a course abhorrent to law and humanity or incur the unflinching enmity of this country.

SOUND AMERICANISM.

Kansas City Journal—The sound Americanism that dominates the message President Wilson delivered to congress yesterday undoubtedly will be approved by the people of the country as a general proposition, but there are certain great aspects of the situation which might have been avoided and which rather seriously discount the degree of sanction the people will accord the presidential program. The people are not going to get into the war on any ethical grounds of esoteric humanity. They will stand behind the president as long as he, in good faith, upholds the traditions of Americanism.

NO TIME FOR DIVISION.

New York Herald—This is no time for division anywhere in the United States. The country is on the brink of war. The president is right. He speaks for the nation. Party spirit should be laid aside.

A TRUE INDICTMENT.

New York Sun—We must regard it (the address) as in part a repetition of the true and now too familiar indictment of a civilized nation for illegal practices and in part a restatement of the president's views concerning his responsibility not only for the protection of American rights, but also for the general interests of humanity. The president went to congress asking neither advice nor expression of opinion, nor again legislative action. The publication of the note this morning would have made superfluous the delivery of the address to the session of congress; unless, indeed, the president felt that his personal appearance at the capitol * * * rendered the war declaring department of our government in some sense a party to facts already accomplished by the executive's independent action.

CALM AND MODERATE.

Minneapolis Tribune—There is a remarkable calmness and moderation of statement about the president's address to congress, which could scarcely fail to impress the thoughtful reader. * * * And its true significance will not be overlooked in Berlin. Rarely has the president appeared to a better advantage in his official capacity than he did today, when he uttered in behalf of humanity its protest against such unspeakable barbarity as, for example, the Sussex case. The only fault to be found with this "last word" is that it was not spoken sooner, since it might have prevented many of the submarine outrages. The United States is through. It is up to Germany. And it is up to Germany to do it now.

NOW BERLIN'S MOVE.

Sioux Falls Press—Berlin is given one more chance to prove the genuineness of its professions to the government and the people of the United States. Notice has been served that argument is ended, that reform must begin. It is now Berlin's move.

WILL SUSTAIN PRESIDENT.

Helena Independent—The American people will sustain the president in any action against Germany or any other country. It is the solemn duty of the United States to break off diplomatic relations with Germany—whatever that may mean—if that country regards a promise or a treaty as a scrap of paper.

DOESN'T LIKE IT.

Des Moines Register and Leader—The president proposes to go to war, not because there has been a new tragedy like the sinking of the Lusitania, and not because any substantial injury that has been done any American citizen, but because Germany insists upon taking the same view of submarine rights that the president himself proposed to the rest of Europe less than eight weeks ago and that he has never formally recanted.

BERLIN KNOWS THE TERMS.

New York Herald—They (the American people) still hope and hope will not cease unless the German government deliberately takes the fatal step that ends all possibility of future guarantees. It is for the German government to say whether it wants the United States for a friend or an enemy; it knows the terms.

DOES HONESTY PAY? IT DOES IN FARMING, SAYS MAYOR OF BARNUM

Harry R. Patterson, the mayor of Barnum, is in Duluth today to attend the reunion and Maundy Thursday banquet of the Scottish Rite Masons.

"To be mayor of Barnum may not be a very important job," said Mr. Patterson, "but our people down there are able to give the whole country some pointers on marketing butter and eggs. We have established a trade mark for Barnum butter and Barnum eggs, and we stand behind it absolutely. We guarantee the eggs to be absolutely fresh, and the butter the best that can be made. If there is a complaint it is made good. The result is that Barnum butter and eggs command a premium of from 2 to 8 cents over the market price. Is honesty the best policy? It is in the farming business."

Mr. Patterson was formerly a resident of West Duluth, but left here about eight years ago to become a farmer.

FOOD COMMISSIONER HAS BEEN ENJOINED

Baking Powder Concern Halts Action Started in North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Calumet Baking Powder company has filed a bill in the United States district court here asking that Dr. E. F. Ladd, state food commissioner, be enjoined from carrying out his regulations on the sale of baking powders within the state.

Judge Charles F. Amidon issued a restraining order returnable April 28, when hearing on a permanent injunction will be held. The case is the outgrowth of the action started in the district court of Cass county a few days ago when six cans of the Calumet product were seized and an action started asking that the court condemn the product under the pure food laws and that it be disposed of according to law. The contention of the pure food commissioner is that the Calumet product contains a small amount of albumen, which in a water glass test makes it appear stronger than other products of the same and greater strength and therefore is a deception. It also is claimed that the albumen is not necessary and, while not harmful, is included for the sole purpose of deceiving.

WHY MANY MEN FAIL IN BUSINESS AND WOMEN FAIL SOCIALLY

CADOMENE TABLETS PROMOTE STRENGTH

DESPAIR HOPE

It is the Bright, Active, Clear-eyed, Healthy individual who meets success, at work or at play, socially or financially.

CADOMENE TABLETS Mean Health to Men

Health is Life, Strength, Vitality, Ambition, the ability, the desire to live, to enjoy, to accomplish. Without health and strength in fullest measure you may not hope to enjoy the fullest measure of success in any undertaking. You cannot make the best of conditions and opportunities. If your mind, your power of reasoning and concentration are dulled or inactive, to any extent, naturally you are less capable to the same extent to make them perform as you would have them to.

CADOMENE TABLETS represent a scientific combination of the most vital elements for building and strengthening cell and tissue. Cadomene Tablets produce buoyancy of spirit, a regaining of vitality and endurance, renewed efficiency of body and mind. Amazing and lasting improvement results from Cadomene Tablets in chronic or recent cases of Nervousness or Failing Vitality.

So if you are a victim of overwork, worry, disease, excesses or dissipation of the mental and physical forces—if you feel tired, weak, nervous, trembling, and suffer with headaches, melancholy, pain in spine and back of head, cold extremities, dreadful dreams of direful disasters, a feeling of timidity and a general inability to act naturally at all times, if you have "the blues" and the pleasures of life are no longer enjoyable, then you need Cadomene Tablets to brace and build you up—to put new ambition, energy and strength into your system and reinforce and nourish the bodily structures. Cadomene Tablets are sold on a money-back-if-not-satisfied-guarantee, and if you are not pleased with results you get every cent of your money back. It belongs to you and we want you to have it.

Cadomene Tablets help men out of the rut of nervous discontent and ill-health, and restore to them the capacity for more complete enjoyment of the pleasures of life. All druggists sell 3-grain Cadomene Tablets in sealed tubes.

FRANKSON IS VISITOR HERE

Strongly in Favor of Legislation to Help Immigration.

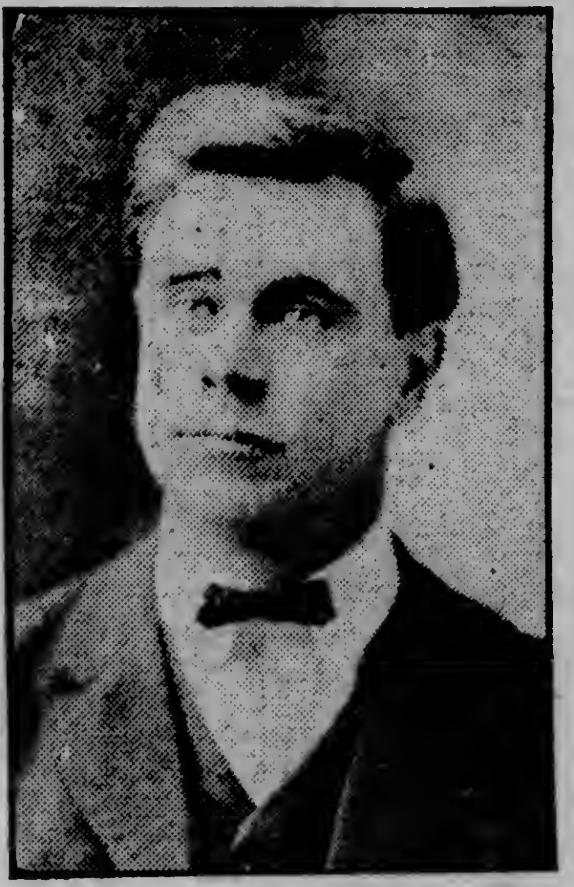
That his views have changed considerably in regard to tonnage tax was indicated this morning by Thomas Frankson of St. Paul and Fillmore county, who is here in the interest of private business and of his campaign for lieutenant governor. Mr. Frankson is one of the three men who have filed for the Republican nomination for the second office in the state. He was accompanied from a trip through the northern counties by State Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker.

Mr. Frankson is putting up the most active campaign of those who are candidates for the nomination, and, it is declared, is making an impress on the voting population of the state which it will be somewhat hard for the others to efface should they delay activity much longer. His opponents for the nomination so far are James A. Peterson of Minneapolis and Dr. J. A. Gates of Kenyon.

To The Herald this morning Mr. Frankson laid emphasis on his hobby, the enactment of legislation which will aid immigration, but he interjected:

Views on Tonnage Tax.

"I know there has been opposition felt against me in this section of the state because of my attitude on the tonnage tax matter. I was for the tonnage tax because I believed such a system of taxation was the right one; but I have found in my visits to this part of the country and the northern end of the state as a whole, that the people here are not opposed to the tonnage tax because of any feeling of greed, but are actuated solely by reason of the fact that they believe that a tonnage tax would be injurious to their communities. I do not wish to be understood as being for any measure whatever which would injure any part of the state in any way, and I am sure that my trips up this way will make the people here and myself understand each other much better."



THOMAS FRANKSON,
Candidate Republican Nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. Frankson has been one of the most ardent advocates of immigration legislation both in and out of the legislature. He believeys that the state, as owner of the greater part of the vacant land within it, should take as active an interest in the land's development and settlement as do the railroads in working for the settlement of the lands along their lines; and favors judicious advertising and the furnishing of every aid to the state immigration department to bring in people from the outside.

Consider All Sections.

"I do not believe," said Mr. Frankson this morning, "that all attention should be devoted to any one section of the state, for all need developing. The northern part, of course, is in the rawest condition and needs more attention than the rest, and for that reason I am strongly for Amendment No. 1, which will be submitted at the next election, and advocate it not only by word of mouth but in all the literature I have been sending out. But one must remember that when the farmers of Southern Minnesota, for instance, sell their high-priced lands to people from Iowa and other states, they do so in order that they may purchase the cheaper lands of the northern part of the state; so the settlement of the north comes about any way. But I think that the immigration department should not be retarded for want of funds. On the other hand, it should be furnished with a sufficient amount so that its work may count for something. Economy is proper, but there is such a thing as unwise economy, and to impede the immigration department would be in the latter class."

Mr. Frankson is also for Amendment No. 3, which provides for the mining of iron ore underlying many of the lakes of the state. Aside from these principles, he includes in his platform the following:

"Good government conducted on economic and business like principles; strictest economy in the appropriation and disbursement of public moneys; fair and equitable system of taxation; rigid neforcement of laws; good roads; and progressive legislation consistent with the needs and requirements of the people."

HUMBLE "WANT AD" AS CUPID

Romance Begun in Want Columns Ends in Divorce Court.

Albert Jacobs Sought Housekeeper; Got Wife, She Wants Divorce.

A Herald want ad on which Carolyn Hayden and Albert W. Jacobs staked their matrimonial happiness seven years ago trotted into District Judge Ensign's court on legal syntax this morning. It was merely a preface to the story of their married life, for it marked the beginning of their acquaintance.

She who is now Mrs. Jacobs wants a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. Jacobs is contesting the case.

Jacobs told his side of the story this morning. He said that he met her through the medium of a Herald want ad. She was then at the county poor farm and was looking for a job as a housekeeper. Jacobs saw the ad and answered it. He drove out to the farm after her and brought her to his house.

Mrs. Jacobs testified that he made improper advances toward her the second day she was in the house, but Jacobs denied this when he took the stand this morning. She came to live with him in the spring of 1908 and before the summer had passed they had assumed the relations of man and wife.

In the spring of 1909 Jacobs was arrested on a serious charge. After being indicted, he escaped prosecution by marrying the woman. The marriage was solemnized on April 30, 1909. Three children were born, Walter, aged 6; Virgil, 5, and Gerald, 3.

Mrs. Jacobs charges that her husband has treated her with indifference and contempt. On the other hand, he accuses her of seeking the company of other men.

Jacobs owns property worth upwards of $6,500 and the principal fight in the case is on the question of how it should be divided.

John H. Norton, former county attorney, who caused Jacobs to be indicted, appeared at the divorce hearing this morning as attorney for Mrs. Jacobs. Robert Jaques is defending.

WILL BE DENIED HOTEL LICENSE

Lawrence Bennett will be denied a license to operate a hotel at 210 Lake avenue south. This will be the first formal rejection since the hotel ordinance went into effect nearly three weeks ago.

Commissioner Silberstein said this morning that reports from the police department show that the hotel operated by Mr. Bennett is being conducted in a disorderly manner and that complaints have constantly been made against the hostelry. In addition, he said, the hotel is without baths.

Since the ordinance became effective a large number of applications have been tabled because the hotels were without baths, but the licenses will be granted as soon as the baths are installed, according to Commissioner Silberstein.

Mr. Bennett's application will come before the commissioners next Monday afternoon.

STARTS A LITTLE STRIKE OF HIS OWN

Raffalla Dyigalla Won't Work and Says So Quite Frankly.

Raffalla Dyigalla is not a new species of the floral kingdom, nor a tropical bird, nor a scientific freak.

Dyigalla is a name belonging to a man, 59 years old, who doesn't propose to work, and who doesn't mind saying so.

"I'm an I. W. W.," Dyigalla told the police today, "and I won't work. This is a free country. Why should I work?"

Recently Dyigalla heard Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, prominent I. W. W. worker, who gave some addresses in Duluth. He has imbibed the teachings of the society, and has started a little labor strike which is all his very own.

He was sitting on a rail fence near the Union station yesterday, watching the rain drops play tag with each other, when Patrolmen Harry Toewe and W. Monahan came along.

"Move," said the officers.

"Go to hell," said Dyigalla cheerfully.

In police court today he pleaded not guilty to a vagrancy charge, and will be tried this afternoon.

AVOID SPRING ILLS

Purify and Build Up the Blood With Hood's Sarsaparilla.

In the spring your blood needs cleansing and enriching. You feel poorly, and there is more or less eruption on your face and body. Your appetite is not good, your sleep is broken, and you are tired all the time.

You need Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the one safe and effective tonic that has stood the test of forty years. It makes the pure red blood that will make you feel better, look better, eat and sleep better. It is the old standard tried and true all-the-year-round medicine for the blood and the whole system.

Ask any druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, and insist on having it. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else has the same formula or ingredients, and so there is no real substitute. Get it today.

ORCHARD WILL SUCCEED JOHNSON

Will Become Secretary of Health Department on May 1.

M. P. Orchard has been appointed secretary of the health department to succeed Ruben Johnson, who will resign on May 1.

Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, announced the appointment this morning and Mr. Orchard will work with Secretary Johnson during the next few days in order to acquaint himself with the duties of the office.

Mr. Orchard has been a resident of Duluth for the last thirty-two years and since 1905 was connected with the Mutual Transit company of this city. He is a Spanish War veteran and an aide de camp of the national staff.

The newly appointed secretary is married and lives at 729 West Second street. He has two children.

Mr. Johnson resigned last week to go into business.

RED RIVER VALLEY HAS HEAVY FLOOD

Worst in Twenty Years Just Experienced in That Section.

Crookston, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The worst flood since the one twenty years ago in the Red river valley is subsiding.

The Red Lake river here has dropped over three feet since Wednesday and is dropping at all points above Crookston. Only in the immediate vicinity of the river's course has there been any damage, as the districts back from the river were not flooded. The biggest loss is the bridge over the river between here and Gentilly, costing $8,000.

A few buildings were washed away located close to the river bank, but all were cheap structures. Considerable damage has resulted from the loss of piling within the city limits which will have to be replaced, and a considerable amount of cordwood was washed down stream. Two people were drowned, August Wentzel and his son, Paul, near Fisher.

The break in Judicial Ditch No. 60 northeast of Crookston was stopped yesterday with sacks filled with dirt, and the overflowed land is being rapidly drained. Some seeding is being done the latter part of this week, but work generally will not start till the fore part of next week, provided the weather remains favorable.

THE art exhibit which Duluthians will have the opportunity of enjoying the rest of this week at the Hartley building, 740 East Superior street, opened this afternoon and, despite the weather, drew many interested and appreciative visitors.

The large well lighted rooms lend themselves especially to an event of this kind.

In the east room may be found a most interesting collection of art work from the art department of the Central high school containing hand wrought chains, bracelets, pins, copper bowls, paper cutters, book racks and some very good examples of pottery. Cowen & Zimmerman have loaned some rare rugs, lamps, furniture, and some odd pieces of tapestry as setting for the two rooms, while some of the best works of David Ericson, C. C. Rosenkranz, watercolors by Arthur N. Starin, and potted plants in profusion give an air of a home rather than that of the usual "exhibit." The miniatures of Mrs. Turle, among which the very striking likeness of Mrs. Thacher W. Worthen (Mary Paine) was particularly admired, are in the west room, while some exceptionally clever and beautiful jewelry designed by Mrs. Henry F. Greene was effectively displayed near by. Some beautiful designs in leather and an effective conventional wall paper design done by Chalmers Agnew came in for much comment while the fascinating silhouettes done on glass trays and on after dinner coffee sets spoke of the artistic hand of Mrs. Leon Perl.

Miss Vivian Perry has some very good examples of ceramic work—an unusually beautiful piece of Hardanger was thrown over the back of a chair, while some exquisite examples of Madeira work were shown in another corner.

A rarely lovely bit of the sculptor's work is a study being displayed by Miss Mary Naughton. A valuable cloisonne vase was one of an interesting Japanese collection loaned by Mrs. E. Frank Barker and many other works, all of which have some peculiar interest either through their great value, artistic appeal, or personal association, make this exhibit not only well worth attending but an exhibition of truly educational value.

Events of Interest.

Garfield circle, No. 4, Ladies of the G. A. R., made $27.90 on the Easter sale and $32 on the supper which were held Tuesday in Memorial hall, courthouse. The proceeds will be used to furnish a room in the old women's home at Anoka.

"Barring Blizzards" Taft Will Speak Here Monday

Judge William Howard Taft announced that, "barring blizzards," he expects to give his lecture on "The Monroe Doctrine" in Duluth next Monday night. The lecture was to have been the opening one of the Collegiate Alumnae course, but a blizzard in the East, not in this vicinity, blocked travel so that it was impossible for him to get to Duluth in time for the date set. Judge Taft's engagements forbade an earlier date, so now his becomes the closing lecture of the course and is looked forward to as an event of unusual interest in Duluth. The lecture will be given at the First Methodist church at 8:15 o'clock.

D. A. R. Sews Pads For the Red Cross

Daughters of Liberty chapter, D. A. R., folded 350 surgical pads at the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. R. E. Denfeld, 18 Oxford street. Twenty-seven packages of twenty-five pads each were covered, completing the chapter's work on fully 2,000 pads for the Red Cross. Refreshments were served in china that belonged to the hostess' grandmother.

Mrs. Dwight Woodbridge, Mrs. E. W. Matter and Miss Julia Ensign were appointed members of the nominating committee that will report at the annual meeting which will be held next month.

Duluth Musicale Comedy Star May Be "In Pictures" in Fall

MISS EDNA MUNSEY.

Miss Edna Munsey, who was a Duluth school girl just the other day and is now starred in "The Only Girl" at the Lyceum tonight, was wiping the breakfast dishes this morning when The Herald representative called.

"Three weeks from now I am going to begin a three weeks' nap" she said as she held a glass to the light.

"We're tired, aren't we, mother? We've been out since Aug. 15, and have been in almost every big city in the country. We started in the East, played week stands in Baltimore and Washington, and then went through the South, Texas, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Colorado and the coast. We came back by way of Winnipeg, and have but three weeks more, playing a week each in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Milwaukee. When we get through I am not going to do a thing but sleep for three weeks, and not going to let mother do anything either. We got in this morning and decided to have breakfast at home, so here we are washing the dishes. I am not going to say I like washing dishes any more than anybody else does, even if it might sound well in print. But I'd rather eat at home when I've been away nine months, and wash dishes, than eat at a restaurant.

"Next season I don't know what I am going to do. While in California I had some talk with the picture companies, and I had a trial film taken. Do you know I'm about the luckiest girl that ever lived? This 'little old' face of mine photographs great. The directors said so, and I didn't argue with them a minute. It makes a director mad to dispute his word. I'm not planning to put Mary Pickford out of business, or anything like that, but really that picture amazed me when I saw it. Like almost every other girl, I'm crazy about motion pictures, and would like the work immensely from what I saw of it. Perhaps I'll be 'in pictures' next year.

"We have been doing wonderful businness all season with 'The Only Girl.' I feel sorry for our manager, to strike Duluth the last three days of Lent, and run into a Northeaster and Harry Lauder, but he's a philosopher, and has a hopeful outlook on life, so maybe he won't hold it up against me if we don't make more than a million dollars here.

"I don't expect to sleep or eat for the next three days, there are so many people I want to call up and say 'hello' to. If I miss any of them I'll see them three weeks from now."

Smith-Jeffery Wedding.

Miss Leah Ruby Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Ruby of Chicago, and Bayliss D. Jeffery of Duluth, formerly of Chicago, were married at 11 o'clock this morning at St. Paul's Episcopal church by Rev. A. W. Ryan. Miss Opal Wiltse and Horace W. Cross were the attendants.

A. F. M. Custance played the "Lohengrin" wedding march for the processional and "Mendelssohn's" march for the recessional. Mrs. Homer Anderson sang "Because" (d'Hardelot) and "I Love You Truly" (Carrie Jacobs-Bond).

After the ceremony a luncheon and reception were held at the St. Louis hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery will make their home at 308 Osakis street.

Mrs. M. B. Jeffery of Chicago, mother of the bridegroom, accompanied the bride from Chicago.

Church Meetings.

The Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church will hold an all-day service of prayer tomorrow in the church. The women of all other missionary societies in the city are invited to this service. A basket lunch, to which all will be welcome, will be served at noon. The women of the church will serve coffee and tea. The program follows:

10:30 a. m.—Hymn, "I Love Thy Church, O God"; responsive readings and prayers.

11 a. m.—Solo, Miss Esther Tischer; "Prayer in Christ's Life." Bible responses.

11:30 a. m.—Prayer service; book review; "Prayer," Miss Tischer; special prayers for home work.

12 m.—Lunch and social hour.

2 p. m.—Hymn; prayer service; solo, "Calvary," Mrs. G. K. Compton.

2:30 p. m.—"The Temperance Movement," Mrs. C. E. Holt and Mrs. Fentress.

3 p. m.—Hymn; prayers for the student volunteers and for our Mexican neighbors; address, "Mexico," Mrs. Hauter.

3:30 p. m.—Solo, "Teach Me to Pray," Mrs. Compton; prayers for Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. workers; address, Miss Louise Shepherd, of the Y. W. C. A.

4 p. m.—Hymn; closing prayers.

Widow of English Soldier Is Active in Blind Relief Work

MRS. R. VALENTINE WEBSTER.

New York, April 20.—Mrs. R. Valentine Webster, one of the honorary secretaries of the B. F. B. permanent blind relief war fund, in New York, is without doubt among the most romantic and unusual personalities in all the vast war relief work which is being conducted throughout the United States today.

She came to America from England six weeks ago to promote the relief work here for many thousands of English, French and Belgian soldiers, blinded in the war.

As one of the first assistants in much of the fund's executive work, she has charge of many of the fund's office details. She receives and interviews many of its important callers, answers much of its correspondence, and also takes part in its organization work in other cities. During the last week she has had charge of many of the details of arranging the conference of M. Jules Bois, at Sherry's, to which 3,000 prominent Americans, as well as British, French and Belgian embassy and consulate officials, were invited.

Mrs. Webster is the widow of Capt. R. Valentine Webster, who was well known in the United States as a sportsman and yachtsman. He died a year ago from exhaustion and pneumonia, after being on duty seventeen hours a day for six months, while organizing and fully training four divisions of 20,000 British soldiers for duty on the French front. During Great Britain's various wars he had been wounded eleven times and had won six medals for gallantry. He had been around the world twenty-five times.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Similarity in Dress

I saw something in the streets this winter that at first caused me to smile compassionately and subsequently to smile at myself. I observed three young women, sisters evidently, arrayed just alike from top to toe. "My," I said to my self, "wouldn't I have rebelled at their age if I had been compelled to wear clothes of the same color and pattern as my sisters." And I would too.

Those three sisters were very nearly of the same age, not four years difference altogether. They were dressed in plain brown tailor-made suits, cut on identically the same pattern and from the one piece of cloth. Except from the size of them I do not know how they told their suits apart. Perhaps each one was lined with a chosen color or a name written on the inside somewhere.

Their furs were as alike as three peas. All three hats were of the same shade of brown felt and the same shape. All three were trimmed with brown velvet ribbon and satin of a pale yellow shade, with smart little brown wings. The lingerie collars and ties that showed above their coat collars looked as though they were exact duplicates while their shoes and gloves appeared to be of the same leather and last. I am sure they could have easily worn each others.

I know that I did not like this practice of similarity in dress when I first saw it. However, I commenced to notice that these three young girls thus arrayed were refined little ladies, that their clothes were always well chosen and appropriate to the occasion and principally that they seemed unconscious of their clothes.

This sameness in the dress of the three sisters certainly represented a saving in time and worry as one pattern suffices usually. It undoubtedly has a tendency to make a girl less conspicuous of her clothes. It may also serve to curb individuality. Still in every instance that I have seen the taste displayed in dressing the young ladies was without a flaw. If they benefit by such training, there can be no question that each and every one of them will, later on, know how to select their own clothes without danger of making a mistake both as to pattern and to flashiness.

Efficient Housekeeping

April Affairs

PERHAPS it is because April comes after stormy, petulant March that we think it is such a lovely month, for we make most of our values by contrast. But this April means something very special to many. It is a leap-year April and that is fun for the young folks. Then this April, 1916, is the anniversary of Shakespeare's birth and death. It is the month when "lusty spring, dight all in leaves and flowers," greens heldges and banks here as well as in Avon.

I have had several letters this week from readers of this column that mention the spring season especially. One writer wanted to make a Shakespeare garden, and I had to tell her how. I want one, also, now, and have planted blue, pink and white columbine, modest violets, daisies and tall growing larkspur in my hardy garden. Another letter-writer wanted a recipe for a Creole dinner and when I drew her request from the envelope out tumbled a shining dime. I wonder if any of the other readers of this department have an idea that there is a charge for any recipe or other help I can send them? There is not, I assure you, and if this writer had only signed her name, as I insist you all must do, she would have had her dime and her recipe both by this time.

The next letter spoke feelingly of April housecleaning, and deplored the cold March that makes the work so behindhand. Well, for my part, I think if your house is well kept and as clean as it should be that the last of April is early enough for spring cleaning. I told her so, in a long letter, as nice as I could write when I had to disagree with her, and bless her heart, she had been so busy complaining over the weather she had forgotten her name, too. She was worried about moths getting into her moquette carpets while she was up the lakes this coming August, and wanted a preventive. We are all interested in the moth question, or will be, for there is no naphthalene to be had this spring. "Account of the war," says the disgusted druggist shortly when you ask "Why?" I suppose we shall have to use camphor or cedar sawdust and moth-proof bags. In the hope that this worried housekeeper will see this, I will tell her that if, after she has cleaned her carpets and replaced them on the floor, she will wipe them with a cloth dipped in warm water that has turpentine poured into it until a scum covers the top, her carpet will be bright and insured against moths as well.

Creole Dinner for Nameless One.

Make a clear, strong-flavored beef soup and add tomatoes, strained through a sieve to remove seeds and skin, okra cut in short lengths, and tabasco sauce until hot-tasting enough. Okra is one of the most wholesome of green vegetables and may be bought in cans, ready to use.

Bed Time Tales

Terry Turtle's Joke

NOW perhaps you wonder why Terry Turtle, even though he was brave and quick, would risk climbing up on Mr. Gater's log. For of course Terry knew as well as you and I do that Mr. Gater would like nothing better than to eat him up for his dinner—and that he could do it, too!

But Terry had not lived near by and watched Mr. Gater for long, long years without learning something about him. And he knew, and he could tell to a second, just when Mr. Gater was going to try to catch him—indeed he could! And, moreover, Terry liked his little joke. It tickled him immensely to see Mr. Gater lunge forward, his mouth all ready for a good meal and then—not get it! That was Terry's idea of a really good time.

When Terry saw that Mr. Gater was about to jump for him, he made one quick move—and down in the water he went, and before Mr. Gater had climbed back again, Terry was on the other side of the little river, laughing in his shell at Mr. Gater's disappointment.

So, when Terry climbed up onto the new log, he thought to himself, "Now I am going to have fun! Mr. Gater will see me so close, and he will think to himself, 'Now I'll catch that turtle creature!' and then how I will fool the old fellow!"

And that was exactly what happened.

For, even as Terry was climbing up on to the log, Mr. Gater was planning out just how he would catch him.

"It will be easy now," said Mr. Gater to himself, placidly. "For once in his life, that turtle creature has taken a foolish chance. I'll just wait till he gets quietly settled, and then I'll nab him."

So, when Terry remarked about the log, Mr. Gater just pretended not to hear and to be so sound asleep that he didn't even see Terry Turtle. "That'll fool him!" said Mr. Gater gloatingly. "And just think what a dinner I am going to have!"

But dear me! That didn't fool Terry Turtle one bit! He knew perfectly well just what Mr. Gater was thinking and he played his own little game at the same time.

He made one quick move—and down in the water he went.

"I'll pretend I don't notice him," said Terry to himself, "and then we'll see what will happen."

So he settled down in the warm sunshine and pretended that he had forgotten all about Mr. Gater.

It wasn't a half an hour (which is a very short time to alligators and turtles) till Mr. Gater made a big lunge forward and snapped his great jaws shut on—nothing at all! Clever Terry Turtle had felt him coming and had slid off into the safe shelter of the water—just in time to save his life! And Mr. Gater went dinnerless that day.

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

On Mental Tiptoes

"Oh, dear, I'm so excited!" said my little neighbor, when I dropped in to see her one day last week.

"Why, what has happened?" I asked.

I didn't know whether to expect bad news or good, for though her cheeks were pink and her eyes starry, there was an anxious, strained expression on her face.

"Nothing has happened," she said. "It's just what's going to happen—or isn't. That's the trouble. My sister and I have been talking over some plans for the summer. We have a perfectly dandy scheme, but there are so many people to be considered, and I'm so afraid they won't all fall in with it. I'm trying to think how to handle them all, and how to arrange things so that everybody will be happy, and I'm so excited that I haven't done a bit of work this morning. Just look at my kitchen! It seems as if I couldn't wait for the summer to come, so I can be sure we can have things the way we want them!"

As I looked at that flushed, eager face, I was full of sympathy for my little neighbor.

She Just Ached to Get at the Future.

I know just how she ached to get at the future, just how her brain burned with plans, and her heart alternately soared with hopes and sank with fears.

Indeed, I'm sure no one who is or ever has been young and intense can help knowing just how tormenting that restless, eager state of mind can be.

If the future were a material thing and by standing on tiptoes one could get hold of it, how we would strain and stretch until we reached it and could mold it to our heart's desire. And since we can't stand on tiptoes in the body, we do it with the mind, and that's why it tires us so to get worked up over plans.

How Indignant She Would Be!

Now if I should tell my little neighbor that three months from now she may feel very different about this scheme of hers I know just how indignant and incredulous she would be.

And yet that is true.

One spring some years ago I was seized with a desire to spend the following winter in a certain place. In a frenzy of planning I began to attack everything and everybody that stood in my way. Several things I did and said in this frenzy I am now heartily ashamed of. The way was finally made clear—I could have what I wanted. But the summer brought changes in conditions and in my point of view, and lo! when the fall came I no longer wanted it.

That has been a lesson to me, not my only lesson, but my sharpest.

Letting Things Work Themselves Out.

To be sure, I still get excited over plans, but I try to recall that experience and have a little more patience, a little more trust that if I let things work out until it is time to act they may have partially adjusted themselves.

"All things work together for good to them that love the Lord," you know. And if you think that only means church members, and you aren't, translate it as the angel did for Abou Ben Adhem, into "those who love their fellow-men."

In other words, be a little less selfish and a little more patient and trusting, and see if things don't adjust themselves pretty well without so much pushing and pulling on your part.

Summer Girl Must Wear Fur Scarf No Matter How High Mercury Goes

"Gwendolyn, you are a dream in that lace trimmed net frock, and your white pumps and leghorn hat trimmed with pink roses make you a typical summer girl the rival of any magazine cover. Get your fan and put your white fox scarf around your neck and let's hurry for we have to go to three garden parties this afternoon."

That's the way it will be this summer, for furs are to be as popular as they were last season, and no matter how warm you are you must pretend that bronchitis, pneumonia, quinzy, tonsilitis and kindred ills are ready to grab you if you go without your fur scarf.

Fox is in the lead, and it has the advantage of offering so many varieties that no special kind need be worked to death. There are black, red, cross and white fox, and Iceland fox which may be had in white, taupe or battleship gray. Taupe lynx is also popular. The Billy Burke, or single snake scarf, as the dealers call it, and the short scarf are both good style.

For those who cannot jump from chin-chin collars, that were more like ear-ear collars, to no collars "a tall," and for those who cannot stretch their pocketbooks to cover a fur scarf after buying the other parts of a spring outfit, there are dainty maline ruffs that give a dressy air which it is impossible to attain with low collars. One kind has an upstanding frill and a down-lying one of equal lengths, joined by a fold of ribbon. Another kind is a puff of maline or net, about eight inches long, that leaves the throat free. Still another has a cape formed of the maline, with a short frill, that, after doing its duty by hiding the hair line, tapers off to the ribbon to which the shoulder ruffle is attached.

Vari-colored flowers made of silk braid are used on some of the ruffs and small rose buds on neckband and streamers give a dainty finish to others.

Just Try This When Hairy Growths Appear

(Modes of Today)

A smooth, hairless skin always follows the use of a paste made by mixing some water with plain powdered delatone. This paste is applied to the hairy surface 2 or 3 minutes, then subbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain or discomfort attends the use of the delatone paste, but caution should be exercised to be sure that you get real delatone—Advertisement.

DR. EDMOND KRAUS

Leading tenor of Royal Opera House in Berlin and Grand Opera House in Paris, owing to the insistent demands from musicians of Duluth, has decided to devote one day each week in Duluth, giving a limited number of private lessons. Dr. Kraus will be at the Hotel Spalding all day Saturday, April 22nd, to consult with those wishing to take advantage of this opportunity. Appointments may also be made by mail to main studios, Brooks-Evans Bldg., 111 South Eleventh Street, Minneapolis.

Duluth Girls in Gotham Production

Miss Agnes Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Alexander of 1211 East First street, and Miss Myra Salyards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Salyards of 2311 East Third street, took prominent parts in "Step Lively, Please," a leap year musical review, which the young women of Semple school gave at the Plaza hotel, New York, earlier in the month. The proceeds of the performance, an annual affair, went to the Free Bed fund of the Polyclinic hospital.

The first scene represented a card-room of the club on a leap year afternoon, with the young women, in costumes of red, white and blue, discussing preparedness. Mingled with the arguments were sentimental songs, among which was "That Magic Melody," sung by Miss Salyards. One of the noted producers of vaudeville sketches expressed admiration of Miss Salyard's singing and dancing.

Miss Alexander, who took part in the club scene, was also an effective member of the chorus.

Hot Cross Buns.

The custom of having hot cross buns on Good Friday originated in England centuries ago and the venders' cries of "One a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns" became familiar sounds on that day. The Milwaukee Free Press gives the following recipe:

"To make the English hot cross buns, sift into a large bowl one quart of flour, one-half cup of sugar and one-half teaspoon of salt; dissolve one-fourth cup of butter in a generous one-half pint of warm milk and add to the flour and sugar, with the yolks of two eggs beaten. Add one yeast cake dissolved in a little water, one-half a nutmeg, grated, and the whites of two eggs beaten stiff. This should make a very soft dough. Cover the bowl with a cloth, place it where it will keep warm, and let it rise over night. In the morning take pieces of the dough the size of an egg and mold them into round cakes one inch in thickness. Place them on a buttered tin, leaving a little space between them. Cover and set in a warm place to rise until they double in size. With a sharp knife cut a cross in the center of each bun. Bake in a moderate oven one-half hour. When baked brush the top with a syrup of sugar and water. A cupful of dried currants may be added if liked."

Railway Head's Daughter to Wed

EDITH JANUARY ELLIOTT.

Edith January Elliott, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott of Boston, will be married on April 29 in Emanuel church, Boston, to Edmund Pendleton Rogers of New York. Mr. Rogers is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Rogers of Hyde Park and New York. He is a graduate of Groton and Yale and is a member of many of New York's exclusive clubs. Miss Elliott, whose father is the head of the New Haven railroad, is a graduate of Miss Porter's school at Farmington, Conn., and made her debut in St. Louis, her mother's native city. She is a member of the 1915 Sewing Circle and the Vincent club of Boston.

Easter Recipes.

(Milwaukee Free Press.)

Pineapple Dessert.

Put one can of pineapple through the food chopper, mix with the syrup, add sugar if not very sweet, one tablespoon of lemon juice and hot water if necessary to make one quart. Heat to boiling. Add two-thirds of a box of gelatine soaked in one-half cup of cold water; stir until dissolved, take from the fire; pour into a wet ring mold and chill.

Scald one cup of milk, add pinch of salt and sugar to taste, thicken with two tablespoons of corn starch and cook until well done. Whip the whites of three eggs stiff, add the corn starch and turn lightly through for three minutes, add two tablespoons of lemon juice. Take from the fire and fill empty eggs shells which have been standing in cold water half an hour.

To serve, remove the jelly from the ring, also the shells from the eggs, arrange them in the ring and garnish the dish with whipped cream.

White and Gold Salad.

On each individual salad dish place one-half of a large golden peach (preserved) cut side up. In the hollow of each peach put six blanched hazel nuts and six seeded grapes well washed; add a good sprinkle of powdered sugar. Have ready one pint of whipped cream to which has been added the white of one egg beaten to a stiff froth. Mix well into the whipped cream the white of the egg, which keeps the cream in place. Then put two tablespoons of the cream over fruit and serve.

Easter Egg Gelatine.

While so many eggs are being consumed save all the shells. When you open the eggs do not make any larger hole than is needed. Rinse with cold water and put away. The day before Easter take as many shells as you wish and put them into a pan of bran or meal so they will stand on end. Fill them with as much colored gelatine as you wish, using a small funnel to pour the gelatine into the shells. White, pink, chocolate or orange may be used. When you wish to serve, carefully break away the shells and you have perfect eggs. If you wish to serve as dessert, a sauce of the following may be used:

One pint of milk; one egg; one-half cup sugar; one-half teaspoon corn starch; one and one-half teaspoon vanilla.

Easter Cake.

Mix up a cake by this rule: One-half cup sugar; four eggs; twelve tablespoons of water; two cups flour; one tablespoon soda; two teaspoons cream of tartar; pinch of salt.

Place part of this dough in a small-sized layer cake tin; this is for the cover. Bake the remainder in a jelly roll tin. From the latter cut a strip six inches wide, unless you have a tin just about that width, roll it into a ring like a large napkin ring and fasten with toothpicks or strips of paper until it is set and will hold its shape. The ring should be the same size as the cover. Cover the outside of the ring with a white icing, also the top and edges of the cover. On the cover place one or more marshmallow Easter chickens while the icing is still soft. Place the ring on a cake plate and fill with Easter eggs and chicks, then put on the cover. Around the base of the cake place artificial moss or a ring of colored eggs. Place this in the center of the table on Easter morning.

NEW SHOW AT THE GRAND.

On the new bill at the popular New Grand the Piccolo Midgets offer one of the most novel and versatile of specialties. These Tom Thumbs appear first in Salvation Army garb and sing a German selection while they play the tambourine and cymbals with great vigor. They reappear in acrobatic uniform and again as dancers. They possess a great deal of natural magnetism and with their skill in their many undertakings they provide a decidedly novel feature. The offering winds up with a burlesque boxing match.

Arthur Rigby, a monologist, is prominent on the bill. Rigby has chosen for his specialty a talk on the European war. Arthur may not be much of a warrior with firearms but his onslaught against melancholy proves him an able fighter in his particular line. Singers, dancers and instrumentalists are the Gilfain Trio, made up of two young women and a man.

Dale and Archer offer a line of witty chatter that shapes itself into a delightful story entitled "It Happened in Paris." The act is built wholly for laughing purposes.

Darwin and Nell Craig are featured in "Millstones," a two-act photoplay full of stirring situations. Vernon Howe Bailey's "Sketchbook of Boston," "The Sleuths," a clever comedy, and the Selig Tribune News make up the remainder of the program.

LENORE ULRICH IN MEXICAN ROMANCE AT REX.

Mexican bandits and Villa himself have no terrors for little Lenore Ulrich, even on their own ground, for it was necessary for Miss Ulrich and her company to go to Mexico to take many of the picture scenes in her newest and latest photoplay, "The Heart of Paula."

Today and tonight afford the last opportunity for Duluthians to see Douglas Fairbanks in "The Habit of Happiness" at the Rex. Crowded houses greeted the picture the first two days.

Tomorrow Miss Ulrich's "Heart of Paula" will begin a two-day run. There is some contrast, but enjoyable, nevertheless, between Mr. Fairbanks and his laughing and laughable role to that of a beautiful Spanish girl who loves a handsome American.

There is a dash of Mexico and Spain, with actual Mexican scenes and the full glory of the Spanish romance. Miss Ulrich handles the principal role. She will be remembered as the star of "The Bird of Paradise."

MARGUERITE CLARK AT THE LYRIC.

Frances Hodgson Burnett wrote "The Pretty Sister of Jose," as readers of good fiction may remember. Daniel Frohman secured the rights and produced the beautiful picture of the story, selecting Marguerite Clark for the title role. The picture play returns to the Lyric for Friday and Saturday of this week, and is expected to be as much a favorite as ever.

As a tiny, exquisite Spanish girl of a thousand moods and whims, Miss Clark as Pepita, finds the vehicle effective for her to make use of her every resource of power and magnetic charm, with many emotional opportunities. Pepita has vowed never to lose her heart, but she is finally overcome by the handsome Sebastino, and then loves truly and well.

When witnessing a play laid within the tropics, one must remember that the standards are different from those of Northern climates and the Southern people both hate and love with more vehemence. With her fascinating dark beauty and charming grace of form and motion, Miss Clark is exceptionally well adapted to the role of a dainty little dark-eyed belle of Madrid.

Today and tonight will mark the close of "The Saleslady" with Burton Holmes travel pictures to the giant trees of California forests.

WILLIAM FARNUM IN "THE SPOILERS" ALL NEXT WEEK.

"The Spoilers," a new edition of the filmed version of Rex Beach's Alaska mining story, is to be the attraction for the entire week commencing Sunday at the Orpheum-Strand. A former production of this film drama showed only seven reels, while this is the complete photoplay in the original twelve reels. The story of Glenister's fight against the powerful financial and political influences which were plotting to rob the honest mineowners of Alaska of the fruits of their toil is typically American. It carries a lesson which cannot fail to appeal to an American, startled as he often is with sinister stories of graft and evil influence. William Farnum as Glenister and Thomas Santschi, as the representative of the powerful interests, battle throughout the action of the play for the control of wealth and the love of a girl, and Glenister is finally victorious. Bessie Eyton and Kathlyn Williams are the leading women in the picture and there is a fight scene between Farnum and Santschi that is conceded to be one of the greatest yet filmed.

GRAND OPERA STARS AT ZELDA.

Enrico G. Pratt and Elsa de Marchi, the grand opera stars who are now appearing at the Zelda theater in a series of grand opera selections, are scoring a remarkable hit.

Many Duluthians who seldom have the opportunity of hearing grand opera stars are taking advantage of their engagements.

The usual Zelda prices prevail.

Kathlyn Williams and Tyrone Powers opened a three-day engagement yesterday in a spectacular five-part feature play, "Thou Shalt Not Covet." The story tells of how a man and a woman are cast upon a desert island when their liner sinks in mid-ocean.

LAUDER GIVES MAYOR A "CHUNE"

Famous One Visits City Hall and Entertains Commissioners.

So said Harry Lauder, the famous Scotch comedian, after he had met Mayor Prince and the city commissioners at the city hall this noon. His bagpipers then marched into the council chamber and serenaded the city executive and his colleagues.

After a short concert, Mr. Lauder, his manager, Lester Murray, the city commissioners, and a delegation of Rotarians were driven to the Spalding hotel, where the Rotary club gave a luncheon in honor of the Scotch comedian, who is a member of the organization.

IS PREPARED TO MOBILIZE

Plans for Assembling State Troops Worked Out in Detail.

National Guard Has 3,375 Enlisted Men and Officers.

Adjt.-Gen. Fred B. Wood, commander of Minnesota's militia and naval cadets, has completed the details of plans for mobilizing the state troops, in the event that a call is made.

Railroads have prepared to move troops from every cornor of the state to Fort Snelling, which is the mobilization station in Minnesota, according to the adjutant general. In the National Guard there are 3,375 enlisted men and officers, who would have to answer a call from the president, and the naval militia has 309 men and officers.

If President Wilson issues a call for the National Guard, every man would be required to respond, according to Gen. Wood. If, on the other hand, he would issue a call for volunteers, only those members of the guard, who felt inclined, would need to respond.

The Minnesota Guard consists of one regiment of field artillery and three regiments of infantry. Each of the three regiments of infantry has a machine gun company operating four machine guns. The Minnesota brigade was the first in the United States equipped with machine gun companies.

War Strength

The war strength of the guard would more than double the existing roster of troops. The field artillery regiment, now numbering 636 men and officers, would total 1,500, while infantry regiments would number 1,856 officers and men, instead of 900.

Minneapolis is the headquarters of the First Infantry regiment; New Ulm of the second, and Duluth of the Third. The field and staff officers of the Third regiment are as follows: Col. F. E. Resche, Duluth; Lieut. Col. H. V. Eva, Duluth; Maj. Albert F. Pratt, Anoka; Maj. Frank W. Matson, St. Paul; Maj. Henry H. Neuenburg, St. Paul; adjutant, Capt. R. M. Weaver, Duluth; quartermaster, Capt. C. C. Weaver, Minneapolis; commissary, Capt. Roy G. Staples, Stillwater; medical corps, Maj. A. N. Collins, Duluth.

Company A, Duluth—Capt. Elmer W. McDevitt.

Company B, Anoka—Capt. Arthur A. Caswell.

Company C, Duluth—Capt. Walter O. Flodin.

Company D, Zumbrota—Capt. ——, First Lieutenant Chris Nesseth.

Company E, Duluth—Capt. George W. Stiles.

Company F, Eveleth—Capt. Robert G. Murray.

Company G, Princeton—Capt. Alfred H. Johnson.

Company H, Olivia—Capt. Leo C. Vader.

Company I, Crookston—Capt. William Woelk.

Company K, Stillwater—Capt. Chester S. Wilson.

Company L, Red Wing—Capt. Otto F. Ruebke.

Company M, Hibbing—Capt. David C. Williams.

Machine gun battery, Rochester—Capt. Fred C. Ormond.

Sergt. Charles Reath of the United States army arrived in Duluth today and will be stationed here for some time, to assist in drilling the three Duluth militia companies and instructing officers.

Particular attention will be paid Company A, while non-commissioned officers are being examined and selected, according to Col. F. E. Resche.

TWO FAST GAMES PLAYED AT THE "Y"

Salters Defeat C.B.C. Quint and Jeffersons Win Over Hazlewoods.

Two fast games of basket ball were played at the Y. M. C. A. last evening in the intermediate city championship series. The fast C. B. C. players were defeated by the Salter team. At the close of the first half the score was 3 to 5 in favor of the C. B. C. In the second half, Knight of the Salters put a ball in the C. B. C. basket. Miller of the Salters followed with two baskets and when time was called the score was 7 to 7. The Salters made the next field basket and won the game. The Jeffersons defeated the Hazelwood team. Saturday the championship game will be played between the Jeffersons and the Salters. Both teams are evenly matched, and either one could be picked for a winner.

On account of the rain the outdoor trip at the boys' department has been called off. Gymnasium events will take its place. Tonight there is to be an Easter social, each boy coming will bring a hard boiled egg. Tomorrow morning at 8:30 there will be a Good Friday breakfast; at 10 o'clock, games and swimming. At 2 o'clock there will be a hike to the Proctor Y. M. C. A., where the Duluth boys will have a basket ball game with the Proctor boys' department. The boys' building will be closed at 6 o'clock. Saturday the regular program of events will take place.

Seventh Day Adventist Notes.

On account of the enlargement of the Seventh Day Adventist church building the last two services in the present building will be held April 28 and 29. A special business meeting will be held at 7 o'clock, April 29, when six delegates will be elected to represent the Duluth congregation at the Minnesota state conference and camp meeting to be held at Anoka June 1 to 10.

The special young people's day program will be held May 6 and the big rally day Sabbath school convention will be held May 20. The place will be announced later.

The cottage mid-week Bible study and prayer services are held on Wednesday nights in five sections of the city.

DR. SHERIDAN ON C. S. COMMISSION

Will Take Over Duties of George Parker at Once.

Dr. T. F. Sheridan was this morning appointed a member of the civil service commission to succeed George Parker, who resigned last week.

The appointment of Dr. Sheridan was made at a special meeting of the city commissioners shortly before noon and the new members of the commission will assume his duties at once. Mr. Parker resigned, because he is no longer a resident of the city.

Dr. Sheridan is a dentist and has been a resident of Duluth for the last twenty-five years. The other members of the commission are M. J. Filiatrault and H. W. Nichols.

THINKS 'PLANE IS SMUGGLING DRUGS

Duluthians Again See Mysterious Air Craft—This Time Near Border.

Again the whirr of the mysterious aeroplane has been heard—not at Duluth this time; but near Cook, Minn. The latest mission ascribed to the much-discussed aircraft is smuggling drugs across the Canadian border.

Today a prominent attorney of Duluth received a letter from his son, saying that the passengers and crew of the Canadian Northern passenger train Sunday afternoon saw the aeroplane and that the machine had been seen from time to time along the border for the last month. This young man said that two government officials were near the border investigating the smuggling of "dope," and he thought it only reasonable to put the two bits of evidence together to bear out this theory.

The letter says that the train crew Sunday noticed the aircraft distinctly about a quarter of a mile from the train and only a few hundred feet in the air. The locomotive and the aeroplane ran "neck and neck" for a time, but the 'plane finally disappeared.

Members of the train crew and passengers make the same statements, and all are agreed that the 'plane seen Sunday and the one reported "over" Duluth recently are the same.

The theory of "dope" smuggling by aeroplane is a new theory, however, but was quick to gain credence among the witnesses Sunday, as considerable smuggling is said to be going on despite the vigilance of the Federal authorities.

Sunk Without Warning.

Shields, England, April 20.—Survivors of the British steamer Chic, which was recently torpedoed and sunk, while on a voyage from Halifax for Manchester with a cargo of pulp, have arrived here. In an interview with the Gazette, the men say the steamer was fired upon without warning by a German submarine, two of the shots taking effect. The submarine then submerged.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Ultimatum to Spain, 1898.

Feb. 8 Dupuy de Lome, Spanish ambassador, admitting writing a letter criticizing President McKinley, and resigned. Feb. 15 the Maine was blown up in Havana harbor. Congress appropriated $50,000,000 for national defense. March 28 the committee that investigated the Maine disaster reported that the vessel had been blown up by a submarine mine, but declined to fix responsibility. Public opinion blamed Spain, and this combined with sympathy with the struggling Cubans caused pressure for war. April 11 McKinley addressed congress, urging intervention in Cuba as a neutral. Congress declared Cuba to be independent and authorized the president to use the army and navy. April 20 McKinley sent his ultimatum to Spain. April 23 he called for volunteers and ordered a blockade of Cuban ports. Spain declared war April 24, the United States on the following day.

READING (available in Duluth public library)—Capt. John Bigelow, Jr., "Reminiscences of the Santiago Campaign" (a most interesting tale, and a valuable contribution to the study of the problems involved) · R. A. Alger, "The Spanish-American War" (author was secretary of war March 5, 1897, to Aug. 1, 1899).

HOPING FOR THE BEST, READY FOR THE WORST.

Though every word the president said yesterday, to congress and to Germany, strikes a responsive chord in the heart of every redblooded American, yet this is no time for rejoicing, even among those who have been ardent to hear such words before. It is, on the contrary, a time of deep solemnity and sadness.

If what the president has been forced to do by an intolerable procession of atrocities in the name of war means war for us, then war it shall be. Yet no true man in all this land can face the prospect of war without sadness. The friendship between the American people and the German people is old and tried. The German nation has contributed to our melting pot millions of good citizens, good friends, good neighbors. Even though the conduct of the German government during the war has gone far to alienate this international sympathy, still such a breach as may come of this sharp crisis in the relations between the two nations is a sad and bitter thing.

Yet no true man in all this land will wish that the president had abated the firmness and vigor of his message by one jot or tittle. It is the right answer, and the only answer, to a serial of misdeeds that little by little has destroyed our hope of German good faith, our confidence in German pledges. The choice lay between shameful humiliation and the precise step the president has taken. There can be no doubt what America chooses between these alternatives.

"The government of the United States," said the president to congress, "has been very patient. At every stage of this distressing experience of tragedy after tragedy in which its own citizens were involved, it has sought to be restrained from any extreme course of action or of protest by a thoughtful consideration of the extraordinary circumstances of this unprecedented war, and actuated in all that it said or did by the sentiment of genuine friendship which the people of the United States have always entertained toward the German nation."

All in vain! Though probably no great nation ever before endured so much in the high and noble hope of wresting a peaceful solution out of a critical situation, apparently it has all been wasted on Germany. Germany has seemed bound to let no considerations of law, justice, humanity or civilization stand in its way; and against such a spirit there could be but one final outcome—and that is the step so splendidly taken by President Wilson.

The nation must be as one man behind the president in his stand for human rights and for America. If Germany bows to the will of civilized humanity as it has been nobly expressed by the president of the United States, well and good. All America will rejoice, and all the world.

If, on the contrary, Germany is stiffnecked and stubborn, if Germany puts its inhuman and misguided submarine piracy above the respect and friendship of the neutral world, if Germany chooses war rather than tolerable behavior, then America will meet the issue with courage and good cheer.

It is the president of the United States who has spoken. He has spoken thoughts that are deep in the heart of the American people. He has truly represented the will and meaning of the American soul. God be with him, and with America!

DULUTH, THE SUMMER CITY.

Duluth has many assets, most of which it is striving manfully and successfully to realize upon.

It has one great asset—its summer climate and the wonder-world of outing and sporting enjoyments all about it—which it is making virtually no attempt whatever to realize upon.

That was why, two years ago, The Herald urged the creation of a midsummer festival and pageant that would advertise this great asset to the world. As a result of it, the most far-reaching organization ever formed in this city came into being, representing every organization in every part of the city, and steps to carry out the plan were well advanced when the outbreak of the European war caused a halt.

That is why, too, The Herald Tuesday urged that a meeting of this association be called to co-operate with the boat club in preparing for the national rowing regatta, and to renew plans for realizing the enormous profits there are in Duluth's great assets of an ideal summer climate and a location in the heart of a great empire of outing and summer sport possibilities.

Frank A. Day came back from Los Angeles the other day with the suggestion that Duluth ought to capitalize its summer enjoyment possibilities as Los Angeles has capitalized its winter enjoyment possibilities.

In its mild winter climate Los Angeles had a great asset, and it has built a great and wealthy city by capitalizing and realizing on that asset.

In its mild summer climate Duluth has an asset fully as great, if not greater. People take refuge in Los Angeles from the cold of winter; but one can get relief from winter cold by any fireside. There is no such handy relief from the extreme heat of summer, but Duluth offers a perfect relief—offers it, too, in the capital of a veritable empire of fishing, boating, hunting, bathing, canoeing and outing possibilities.

The only answer that has ever been made to this—and it is a feeble answer—is that there are not enough hotel accommodations to take care of the crowd that would come if Duluth properly advertised its summer climate to the world. That is precisely as though the Glass Block should refuse to advertise its wares because it had not enough in stock to meet the demand that advertising would create!

The News Tribune has indorsed The Herald's proposal, and its support is welcomed. "Seeing America has become a vogue," it says, "seeing Duluth should be a central factor of it. There is no other American city so beautiful. There is no other with so many attractions. There is no other with an equally delightful summer climate. There is no other can offer so many side trips. Let's all go to it and boost for a greater summer Duluth." Well said!

Los Angeles has its innings at a time when old people and rich take their outings. Duluth can have its innings at a time when everybody goes holidaying. The relief from cold Los Angeles offers you can get by any fireside. The relief from summer heat Duluth offers you can get nowhere but in the Lake Superior country, with its ideally comfortable days and its ideally comfortably nights.

Let's turn in and make the regatta the nucleus and beginning of a movement that will advertise Duluth as the summer city of the continent, and so realize the wealth and growth there are in this great undeveloped asset of climate.

Cummins was beaten in Nebraska by Henry Ford. And yet some people try to maintain that the vote against the president didn't hurt anybody's chances for re-election.

TREACHERY.

All this talk of a "tried Republican" for the Republican presidential nomination, such as that indulged in by the New York Republican state central committee and the Connecticut Republican state convention, is completely damnable and infamous.

It is as atrocious as the inexcusable conduct of those Republican editors of the Middle West who, when polled by the pro-Roosevelt Chicago Tribune, voted five to one for somebody other than Roosevelt.

As a crowning infamy, there were Republican editors in every state canvassed by the Tribune who want Wilson nominated by the Republicans!

What is the Republic coming to when such things can happen?

And there are those who can't see anything more in our foreign relations crisis than something to try to make political capital out of.

TOO MUCH TO EXPECT.

But then, of course, hardly anybody expected the German press or the Duluth News Tribune to support the president of the United States in a stand for America.

Your lawn and garden need you—now.

MISSING.

By the way, one misses something.

Has anybody seen anything of the fellow who was explaining that the only reason for the original German concessions to the United States in the submarine issue was that Great Britain had found such effective means of abating the submarine peril that it wasn't worth Germany's while to keep on using submarines any more?

Gone? Not noticeably. He is the man who is now declaring that Wilson shouldn't write so many notes, but should bullhead into war, and that he should not have consideration for Mexico's distracted plight but should take advantage of her weakness to plunder her.

If summer furs should be in vogue again this year, the men might retaliate by letting their beards grow.

The Modern Copperhead

Editorial in the Green Bay Press-Gazette (Rep.)

The Chicago Tribune has set out to discredit the president of the United States. No day passes that it does not excoriate the president for what he has done in Mexico and what he has not done in Europe. The New York Tribune once essayed a similar role toward Mr. Lincoln, but although so prescient an editor as Horace Greeley could not see it, the people had far greater confidence in their president's tolerant and old-fashioned patriotism than they did in its wisdom to guide the nation's affairs. And a great newspaper all but lost its standing.

The Chicago Tribune considers Mr. Wilson both an incompetent and malevolent president. He is plunging the United States into some fearful abyss because he has not yet intervened in Mexico. It wants to send an army into that country which we have not got and which a good-for-nothing congress has not yet provided.

The people are capable, however, of judging the president themselves. They no longer are swayed by newspaper screeds. An editor's assertions must square with common sense, justice and facts or else they are discarded. If the people repudiate Mr. Wilson it will not be because he is vilified and abused; it will not be because they have conscientiously thought their way to the conclusion that somebody else would make a better president. The Tribune has, however, become so carried away with its program that it is doing what a reputable newspaper ought not to do—it is coloring its news dispatches from Washington to deceive the public into wrong opinions of the president. Everything is written from an attitude of hostility. Things are said under the cover of anonymous quotation which place him in a false light.

The "special correspondent" who writes such stuff, and probably invented it, knows there could not be a word of truth in its slander of the president. So did the Tribune, and so does the thinking public. Presidents are not telling newspapers how to "play up" news; neither are they employing diplomatic subterfuge which involves peace or war to cover up a sinister purpose concerning another equally critical foreign policy. Our presidents, whatever may be the limitations of their statesmanship, are not demagogues who traffic with the nation's honor, or flirt with war, to promote their political fortunes. If there is a solemn time in the life of a man which makes him look his Creator squarely in the face, it surely must be when, as chief executive of this great nation, he is called upon to decide questions of peace or war—questions which shall send thousands of men, and possibly millions, to the battlefield, or which shall keep them in their homes in peace and contentment.

Much as we love to boast of Lincoln's common sense, we all know he prayed his way through the Civil war; that he paced the floor in appeals to Almighty and humbled himself on his knees in quest of divine guidance. We know Washington did the same. We know McKinley did. We believe every president, even to the most mediocre in ability we have had, would have done as these men did. We don't believe any president would so stultify himself before his God as to use a perilous diplomatic situation, with the nation close to the brink of war, to influence votes. Neither does the Chicago Tribune, although it allows its correspondents to place Mr. Wilson in that light.

The president may be deficient in wisdom, he may lack sound judgment; he may be a poor statesman, weak in heart, wanting in decision and aggressiveness and pursuing false ideals—he may be all that and more that the Tribune claims for him; but he is not prolonging the Sussex case to cover up blunders in Mexico and is not ordering the newspapers to "play up Germany and play down Mexico." He has more serious business to attend to than this. Whatever his human shortcomings he is not degrading his soul in the mire of day-to-day politics in deciding whether he shall break with Germany or whether he shall seek war in Mexico. If there has ever been a time when he has been honest with himself—when he has searched his heart to its depths for light and truth—it has been through the trying ordeals of the last year. That is the safest gamble that could be laid. We may challenge the wisdom—the safety—even the sanity of his acts and policies, but not his motives. Muckraking is not the weapon to use against him. In this we are holding no brief for Woodrow Wilson. We are speaking for the president of the United States.

The Appeal to Unreason

San Francisco Bulletin: There has been too much shouting and yelling about preparedness and too little thinking. No modern American issue has been approached in a manner more calculated to poke up the emotions without drawing upon the intellect. The militarists have never stooped to the point of saying, "Come, Mr. Bryan and Mr. Ford and all you Middle Western and Far Western pacifists, and let us reason together." No, they have said: "Let's get together, Theodore and Augustus and Henry and William and the rest, and call names and make a fearfully ferocious noise. Let's not reason with these Americans. Let's throw a scare into 'em."

This sort of thing may get temporary results, but they will soon deflate. It is foolishly poor psychology. No American public, in its calm moments, will trust a gang of propagandists who show their contempt of popular intelligence at the very start by confirming themselves to methods which ignore its existence.

Pat's Retort.

Chicago Herald: An English tourist was being taken through the country by an Irish jarvey. They were traveling along the road when an ass put its head over the fence and began to bray with all its power.

"Well, Pat," said the Englishman, "is that the 'Wearin' of the Green?'"

"Arrah, no, yer honor," said Pat; "that's 'Johnny, I hardly knew you.'"

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Progress.

When I was young I had to go and till the cornfield with a hoe. Ah, it was weary work, indeed; I paralyzed the noxious weed, and scraped the dirt around the corn, and yearned to hear the dinner horn. I'd toil all day to beat the band, till blisters came on hoof and hand, and then the husbandman would say, as he dug up my meager pay, "Was that the best that you could do? You must have loafed, the whole day through!" And now I see the farmers ride on cultivators tall and wide, that hill the corn and slay the weeds, as they are drawn by prancing steeds. A hundred freckled lads with hoes might work all day along the rows, and not achieve as much, I wean, as would one green and red machine. The farmers of these modern days know naught of old time toilsome ways; they do their labors sitting down, and ride in choo-choo cars to town; they find the boodle growing rank, and have to stack it in the bank.

Lodge On Buchanan

By Savoyard.

Washington, April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—This is the season of keynotes. Col. Roosevelt has delivered himself of several; Mr. Elihu Root has sounded one that is supposed to be official, and Senator Lodge has fulminated one for New England. All of them are filled with revilings of the Democratic administration and the Democratic president, and the voice of all of them is for war. Nothing else can be made of them. Roosevelt and Lodge write history as well as make history, and in their keynotes they distort and pervert history. For example, they take a fling at James Buchanan, thus appealing to the ignorance and prejudice of their clientele, who are loaded down with an enormous plenty of both.

For more than half a century it has been in order for any Republican leader to slander and malign James Buchanan, while idealizing Abraham Lincoln. Buchanan was president of our republic at a stormy period, and had George Washington or Abraham Lincoln, or even Theodore Roosevelt been president the four years 1857-61, he, too, would have been traduced and vilified just as malignantly and as brutally as Buchanan is by designing and unscrupulous politicians. Buchanan was as much of a patriot as ever held the office of president, and as devoted to the Constitution as Washington or any of his successors. Speaking from the Northern standpoint, it was impossible for him, with the beggarly means at his command, to restore the authority of the government in the seceding states; but reckless politicians like Lodge and Roosevelt revile him for not doing, without an army, in three months, what it took Lincoln more than four years to accomplish with millions of armed soldiers at his command.

Wherein did Lincoln change the policy of Buchanan until Fort Sumter was fired on and the war thus precipitated? What aggressive move did he make? What soldiers did he call to arms? What battle did he fight? What insurgent state did he invade? What blood was spilled for the flag? Buchanan held that it was unconstitutional for the Federal establishment to make war on sovereign states; but he also held that the secessionists were insurgents against the lawful Federal authority, and that it was legal to overthrow them, as individuals, and not as states, by force. To that end he besought a congress now become Republican in both branches by the withdrawal of Southern delegations to provide forces with which to suppress the insurrection, and his pleading was treated with contempt. But Lincoln did not even go that far until Sumter was fired upon and the war had become an actual fact. So far as militant patriotism was concerned, Buchanan's was stronger than Lincoln's up to that time.

It might be of some advantage to such historians as Lodge and Roosevelt to read some papers by Judge Jeremiah S. Black touching the men, things and events of that period. In one of the introductory chapters of that delightful though rather naughty book, "Tom Jones," the author hazards the rather indiscreet opinion that an author would be no less capable if he had some slight knowledge of his subject. I commend that to Historians Lodge and Roosevelt.

* * *

It is true that in a message to congress after secession, Buchanan charged that the Northern Abolitionists, by their agitation of the slavery question, had disrupted the Union. That was only history, as it was prophecy when Daniel Webster asserted that that result was bound to follow their preachments. I have no intention to quarrel about the war; that is over and nobody regrets the result. I merely seek to defend the memory of a great and good man, James Buchanan, from the vile calumnies that have been heaped upon him. The backbiters, when they slander James Buchanan, only vindicate a principle of logic—that recrimination is tantamount to a plea of guilty.

One of the wisest things President Lincoln did brought more humiliation to our flag than any other episode of our national life. I allude to the surrender of Mason and Slidell as our response to an ultimatum. Suppose Buchanan had done that, such statesmen and historians as Lodge and Roosevelt would never get through throwing fits about it. Even our school historians sneer at Buchanan, and thus again is ignorance made the weapon of guile.

> "What dire confusion in the world would breed
> If fools could follow where knaves would lead."

They follow, all right, in the case of James Buchanan, as he appears in history as she is writ. But the real historian will some day appear and he will be endowed with the gift of truthful speech, and then the American people will learn to do justice to a basely and brazenly slandered man.

* * *

As to Mexico, the Hon. Lodge delivered himself of this:

> "As a result of the president's war against Gen. Huerta was the destruction of the only government that offered any prospect of order or peace or responsibility. The murderers and bandits favored by the American administration in preference to Gen. Huerta, who was also a murderer, have been desolating the country and fighting among themselves ever since. Out of this miserable tragedy, one thing commands our attention above all others: Americans have been murdered in Mexico; soldiers wearing the American uniform have been shot on the soil of the United States."

So were American citizens murdered in Mexico while Abraham Lincoln was president, and he, too, was urged to "intervene" when revolution there was as flagrant as it is now. He refused. On the contrary, he invented the policy of "watchful waiting." And if Lincoln copied Buchanan touching secession until Sumter was fired on, so Wilson has copied Lincoln as to Mexico.

Lodge is distressed because Huerta was not recognized. Suppose when John Wilkes Booth murdered President Lincoln, he had mustered forces strong enough to seize the government and set himself up as president. Suppose that. Would any decent power have recognized him? But that is what Huerta did. He murdered the legal president, usurped his authority, and seized the government. Booth was a fateful lunatic; Huerta was just a monstrous and bloody cutthroat.

The New York World of March 17 prints Lincoln's instructions to our representative in Mexico when revolution was flagrant in that unhappy land as it is today. It might help Mr. Lodge to read and ponder what Lincoln thought about a situation identical with that which now exists.

* * *

The Massachusetts senator quarrels with the president about Belgium and the sinking of the Lusitania, and he means war with Germany if he means anything. There are twelve pro-German senators, and 103 pro-German representatives, of his own party, in congress. Why does he not rebuke them?

The senator has a big job on his side of the hedge. If he shall succeed in writing the anti-German plank into the platform in consonance with his "keynote" at Chicago, he will have done a full day's work. How would he feel if the pro-Germans should beat him for temporary chairman?

Willing to Please.

Facts and Fancies: A certain college president wore side whiskers. Whenever he suggested removing them, there was a division of opinion in the family. One morning he entered his wife's dressing room, razor in hand, with his right cheek shaved smooth.

"How do you like it, my dear?" he asked. "If you think it looks well, I will shave the other side, too."

Amendment No. 1

How a Most Vital Proposal is Being Brought to the Front.

Keep Shining Them Up.

Keep a-rubbing, friends, and don't let any of the brightness fade from those prospects. The Middle River Pioneer furnishes the text, thus: "The prospects for the passage of Amendment No. 1 are brightening every day. Governor Burnquist recently signed a declaration favoring it. Secretary of State Schmahl has agreed to sign it and every prospective candidate for a state office will be asked to do likewise.

Secretary McCarthy of the Northern Minnesota Development association will give this matter wide publicity, as he believes the fact of the state officials favoring it will greatly increase the chances of the passage of the amendment. There is no doubt whatever that the members of the legislature from the northern part of the state will be unitedly for the amendment, and the fact of the state officials from all sections of the state declaring for it may have a helpful influence in bringing the southern solons to a realization that it is a measure beneficial to the state as a whole."

Let Everybody Boost!

Let everybody follow the example referred to in this paragraph from the Swanville News: "A committee of Northern Minnesota business men is arranging to boost Amendment No. 1. This is an amendment that every voter should favor."

It's for the Whole State.

If you've doubted that Amendment No. 1 is in the interests of the whole state, see what Southern Minnesota thinks of it as expressed by the Redwood Falls Gazette: "Now is the time when all good men should study Amendment No. 1 to the Minnesota Constitution, which is to be voted upon at the general election next November. The voter who understands the amendment will vote for it as its merits are very evident."

Should Be Delayed No Longer.

Amendment No. 1 is meant to correct a long standing difficulty. The Biwabik Times says: "Although it is somewhat early it may be well to begin to get acquainted with a couple of the constitutional amendments that will be voted on the coming fall—Amendments No. 1 and No. 3. Both provisions should have been in force for a long time in the past, and their enactment should not be delayed."

It Costs the State Nothing.

Don't be scared at the notion of expense. The Aurora News points out that "if Amendment No. 1 is carried, * * * the clearing of state lands wil not cost the state one penny in the end, but will be a great factor in developing the untilled acres which are to be found everywhere in Northern Minnesota."

Don't Lose Sight of It.

The Hill City News gives this timely warning: "Amid all the confusion raised by the chasing of Villa, the European war, the presidential election and other things, always keep in mind that we vote on amendments to the Constitution this year and don't fail to vote in favor of Amendment No. 1. Its enactment into law means a lot toward the settlement of Northern Minnesota. By all means vote for No. 1."

Imaginary Ills

Kansas City Star: A man went to a doctor the other day for a thorough physical examination. He confessed that he had been jolted by the death of an acquaintance a few months before. He had begun to feel the same symptoms that the acquaintance had spoken of, and he had got to worrying until he was miserable. "I've got to know the truth, doctor," he said. "I can't stand this suspense."

The doctor put him under the microscope, made all the tests the man had ever heard of and several that were unknown to him, and then pronounced the verdict. "You're sound as a nut," he said. "Any insurance company would be tickled to death to accept you as a risk. Go home and forget your worries. Your symptoms are all in your imagination." The man went out of the office feeling twenty years younger.

An occasional physical examination is a fine thing for every person; not merely because it gives a chance to get at any trouble in its early stages before it becomes serious, but also because it very often relieves the mind of persons suffering from imaginary ailments.

Keep Anger From Arguments.

Ohio State Journal: If you find your opinion is not approved, don't get angry. We don't. We may be wrong and the other side right. There is no truth but self-evident truth, no truth one can count on. And where you have self-evident truth there is no room for argument, since all argument, at its best, is only the conflict of interpretations, most of which are wrong. So we must not lose our patience if the other man's interpretation is not the same as ours.

The idea of disliking a man because he disagrees with you is absurd. It would be just as well to state it that he dislikes you because you disagree with him. Yet there are men who fairly boil over with wrath when another dissents from them.

We have seen men engage in controversy over politics, religion, the war and amusements when each became enraged at the other, when we knew positively that both sides were wrong. The lesson is that it is never safe to get angry in a dispute. It is really immoral to become so. It is the state of mind that constitutes guilt anyhow. We try to love the man who disagrees with us. If we cannot it is because we are not sure we are right. If we are wrong, we are more apt to hate the man we disagree with.

If War Should Come.

If war should come, hot breathed and iron heeled,
To blow its fury on us, and to tread
Where long the hand of hard-earned peace has spread
Success and profit; if the bells were pealed
Proclaiming our beloved land the field
For coming battle, would your heart grow weak,
Your blood run limpid and your pulse beat slow
With thought of terror that you could not speak?
And would your courage shrink, as from a blow,
Refusing aid through lack of confidence?
Or would you hear the summons, calmly steeled
In splendid knowledge of your competence,
Your country's strength, and that, the best of all,
Her patriot love, innate in great and small?

I speak for Self. Were war's bold clarion wound
And all the earth powers sailing over seas
To rend our shores, I would put faith in these—
The old traditions, noble, sane and sound,
Which in our nation's annals still are found,
Fright should not palsy, neither bring dismay
To my strong soul but with integrity,
I, too, would arm to smite in war's own way
Those who had dared to bring such woe to me!
They will not find us weaklings, unprepared,
Who come to stain with blood our sacred ground,
For that proud spirit our forefathers shared
Lives in our bosoms. We will thwart, defy,
And in the end, a lasting victory cry!

—New York Times.

On What Issue?

Editorial in the St. Louis Republic.

We desire to ask a wistful question. What is the issue on which the Republican party proposes to go before the country in November?

The confusion about the candidate is pardonable. We understand how that is and are not disposed to be censorious. We can wait; we beg our G. O. P. friends not to stop to consider us; let them take their own time. But it seems to us that it is really time they took up the matter of the issue.

Will the Republicans make the tariff the issue? No one is interested in that; there is not time between now and November to get the tremendously important matters now occupying the public mind out of it and insert the tariff in their place.

They cannot take up the question of national finance. The Democracy has acted with respect to a matter about which, for fifty years the Republicans had only talked; and Republican bankers and financiers everywhere praise the result.

They cannot go before the people on the issue of preparedness. For the Democrats inherited the army and navy that a half century of Republican rule had fitted the country out with, and the ideals of military efficiency that a half century of pork-barrel Republican statesmanship had shaped. And the Democrats are now acting constructively, just as they did on the money question. There will be no core to the preparedness apple by November.

Will Mexico be made the issue? We hardly think so. For the Democrats would insist on inquiring what was done with the constructive opportunities which were ours in Mexican affairs during the four years preceding March 4, 1913. They would insist on "reading into the record" the story of dollar diplomacy, when Philander C. Knox was secretary of state and Henry Lane Wilson, friend of Richard Achilles Ballinger, was ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps in the City of Mexico.

We end as we began. On what issue do our friends, the Republicans, propose to go before the country in November?

Daily Strength and Cheer.

I humbly ask, O Christ, that Thy peace may be the garrison of my heart, with its affections and of my mind with its many thoughts; that it may ever rule within me, asserting itself over the tumultuous passions that rise within. And out of this peace may I arise to serve.—M. B. Meyer.

Water and Spirit (John iii, 5-7.)—Bitter wars have been waged over the place and amount of water in the matter of admission into the kingdom of God. It is all unnecessary, and the hydropathic disputants have simply splashed water in each others' eyes. We know that washing can cleanse the hands, but cannot cleanse the heart. Nicodemus knew what Jesus meant; for probably thirty years he had seen questionable priests qualify for holy functions by simply many washings. We know there is no such thing as "baptismal regeneration." There is not enough water in the sky and sea to wash out the smallest stain upon the soul. No hands can admit him into God's kingdom. Magus was baptized by Philip and it washed nothing but his skin—his soul was in the gall of bitterness. I care not whether you were baptized by a dewdrop or in the Atlantic ocean; if the Spirit of Christ has cleansed the heart you are a child of God and the symbolic cleansing has been applied. Confession and repentance are the sole evidences of the Spirit's baptism and water is the symbol. If there has been no work within—you have simply been wet, that is all. Remember today: "The blood of Jesus Christ, His Son, cleanseth us from all sin."—G. W. Bull.

World's Work: The goal toward which the immense and widespread activities of the government, in collaboration with scientific, technical, industrial and commercial organizations and corporations, is working is, first, to put American industry on a scientific basis; and, second, to co-ordinate all industrial and commercial activties into a great national machine that shall work smoothly as a unit for the mutual benefit of all its component parts.

The new warehouse which the Northern Pacific railroad has had under construction on the dock front near the elevators on Rice's Point was almost totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. The workmen were engaged in tarring the roof, and a large kettle of tar which was inside the building became ignited and blazed up to the roof which was soon on fire. The flames spread rapidly and several men had narrow escapes. The roof fell in and Hugh Miles of No. 2 Hook and Ladder company and John A. Jeffrey, a carpenter, were injured. Chief Black was knocked over but stayed at work for half an hour, when he was taken to his home. The building was 80 by 600 feet in size and was to have cost $15,000. The loss is from $8,000 to $10,000 on the building. The dock is damaged to about the same extent.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: APRIL 23.

I Corinthians xv, 1-28: The Risen Christ.

CONNECTION.

Today we go back to the resurrection and forward for Paul's account of it. It is good to have a statement of the case from one who was not a disciple at the time of Christ's death and resurrection and can look at the facts in their historical perspective. This was about twenty-five years after that event and after Paul had become a mature Christian and thinker. It is well to bear that in mind, for the attacks on the doctrine of the resurrection were never so determined and shrewd and seemingly disinterested as they are now. The relation of the fact of the resurrection to the whole group of facts and the whole system of truth contained in the gospel, as seen by the greatest Christian thinker of that day or of any day, is a matter of the highest interest to us.

THE LESSON.

I.

Preaching the Resurrection, 1-4.

"Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye received, wherein also ye stand, by which also ye are saved, if ye hold fast to the word which I preached unto you, except ye believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received: that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and that He was buried; and that He hath been raised on the third day according to the scriptures."

1. UNITY.—He had preached the gospel to them and is now giving a resume of it, as the teacher or preacher will give a review of the whole thought presented, so that all its details will hang together in memory as a whole. The gospel is substantial, for it has a cluster of facts at the bottom of it. It is logical, for its truths grow out of the facts and are the rational explanation of them. It is consistent, which means that its parts hold together, for a stream of life unifies and welds and vitalizes and energizes them. The facts are that Christ died and was buried and rose again; the truths are that in doing so He exhibited God's love and power, made an atonement for sin and started a movement that will redeem the world, as far as the world will consent to be redeemed from sin. That's the gospel, says Paul; that's the gospel, say we. He had preached that gospel at Corinth every time he was with them; he is trying to confirm them in it in this letter. It's very important.

2. POWER.—Its power is told in two phrases, "in which ye stand," and "by which also ye are saved." Considerable power, the power not only to set God right with us, for it is His own method of doing that, but the power to set us right with Him, unless we are insincere or superficial, "except ye believed in vain"; the power to bring us cleansing through the blood of Christ, life from the life of Christ imparted to us; the power to testify to Christ in the way we live and talk. All our hope is through that same gospel of Christ which Paul once preached at Corinth with living voice and now preaches with loving pen. One of the facts in that gospel of manifold facts and clustering truths is that of the resurrection of Christ.

II.

Proving the Resurrection, 5-8.

"And that He appeared to Cephas; then to the twelve; then He appeared to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but some are fallen asleep; then He appeared to James; then to all the apostles; and last of all, as to the child untimely born, He appeared to me also."

1. BIBLICAL.—He simply refers to the fact that it was according to the Old Testament scriptures, without quoting those scriptures. There is not so much trouble to find it foreshadowed in the Old Testament when once we have the fact to guide us in search of the truth. Jesus Himself said to the two on the way to Emmaus, when they had given Him up and were going back home (Luke xxiv, 25-27), "O foolish men and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken." "And beginning from Moses and from all the prophets He interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning Himself."

The reasons why Paul selects the fact of resurrection from all the other facts for special proof are that it was not as obvious as his death, that it was more easily attacked and was more objectional to the enemies of the gospel than the other facts and that it is so essential, as a fact, in the redemption of the world that to lose it is to lose Christianity itself, ultimately. Truth is, we have always been in more danger of attack at this point than at any other. The biblical proof, then, was in the Old Testament; the biblical proof now is in the Old and New Testaments and includes these personal proofs given by Paul.

2. TESTIMONY.—Here are three personal proofs. First, Paul had received this gospel "by revelation," as he tells us more fully in Galatians, first chapter, and the resurrection is one item in that revelation. Second was the testimony of those who actually saw Christ when He rose from the grave. He gives the names of some of them, though not necessarily in the order of Christ's appearances to them, mentioning Peter because he was a great leader, and James because he was pastor of the church at Jerusalem, and referring to the large throng which saw Him. Three things about them—their number, the variety of groups and circumstances and the fact that most of them were still alive and could confirm what he said. Third, he himself saw Christ, who actually returned to earth to show Himself to the man who was to be an accredited apostle to the Gentiles. The proof is complete.

III.

Practicing the Resurrection, 9-28.

"For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am: and His grace which was bestowed upon me was not found vain; but I labored more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. Whether then it be I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed."

1. PENITENCE.—The thought of his former persecutions of Christians keeps him humble, even though he has long ago repudiated his conduct and has received God's loving and complete pardon—"not worthy to be called an apostle" and to have seen Christ, and it was solely "by the grace of God" he was anything at all.

2. CONFIDENCE.—It was a perfect and unwavering confidence in God's grace. It was the consciousness of having power from God and having become of worth to God, therefore a confidence in himself as the receptive subject of God's grace. It was a confidence that made him industrious in using his energy and gave him really more energy to use, a confidence that made him fraternal and magnanimous, for he was anxious only about the main thing, the preaching of the gospel, whoever might do it. The rest of the lesson is an amplification of the wonderful truths that grow out of the resurrection.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

There is no fact of history more variously and completely established than the resurrection of Jesus.—Westcott.

When you want a daily helper; when you want someone to save you from your sins; when you want some one to take care of you in your last hour, and to bear you through the waters of death, you need more than the testimony of others. You want an experience of your own. And you can have it if you seek it, so that you cannot doubt that Christ is risen. He can still show that He is alive as He showed Paul.—Goodchild.

The most irrational and unscientific attack on Christianity at all is the attack on the doctrine of the resurrection, for there is no other explanation of the resurrection of Christianity itself and of its growth through all the Christian centuries. Without that fact at the basis there would have been no Christian history and if we should surrender that doctrine there would be no more Christian history.—James.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. What is the form of attack against the resurrection now?
2. What is the central argument from experience or to the resurrection?
3. What are the effects of the resurrection on your affections?
4. How was the resurrection of Christ such a surprise to his disciples?
5. Why is death only a sleep?

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writter though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

OBJECTS TO UNCLE SAM IN ROLE OF "DEWDROP"

To the Editor of The Herald:

In Monday's Herald a "Sane Logician" seems to have torn my poor attempt to guide the country aright all to pieces. He attacked my logic (?)—Wow! Why, bless him! I used no logic. That was intended merely as further examples of false logic or, as the gentleman prefers to call it, "sane logic." If we prepare to avert a certain evil we run slam into Mr. C. Evil, just the same as when we were kids we teased a certain kid by proving him a woodpecker. "All woodpeckers had red heads; John Smith had a red head; ergo, John was a woodpecker." He would never believe it good logic though, and because he could lick most of us, proved himself not a woodpecker.

I fully agree that a nation well prepared to defend itself is less liable to brook repeated insult, probably, than is a poor, weak nation. But is that any reason why we should not prepare to defend ourselves? Why pick our own country as the one to offer as a sacrifice? We are not yet living under ideal conditions on this old sphere. Much as we love peace and fair treatment, we cannot, at the present time, enforce it. While we are playing the "gentlemanly Little Lord Fauntleroy of nations," some burly, red-headed, freckle-face will walk up and swat us one just because he can.

The higher the ideals for which we as a nation stand, the harder we should strive to maintain and defend our nation. The people of this country can be depended on to take care of that bugaboo "militarism" and see that our strength is not misused much better than some outlaw nation can be depended upon to respect us if we are too weak to defend ourselves.

If any nation has to suffer gross injustice, let it be some other than our own. I cannot quite agree that we should love other countries quite so well as our own, thank God! Let us not treat any nation unjustly, least of all our own.

No man, in the present crude, moral condition of the world is justified in advising this country to remain unprepared to defend itself. It is taking too big a chance of a calamity that he cannot insure against. It is too much like playing the role of Delilah to Uncle Sam (son). As a matter of fact, many are today doing that very thing in the hope of delivering him bound into the hands of the Philistines. Many others are simply blindly following the Delilahs, while very many more are simply too sanguine or confiding—counting too strongly on that "brotherly love stuff" that so many profess and so few practice.

Remember Belgium and the "scrap of paper!" Carry insurance—and the only insurance of our national integrity is adequate preparedness to defend our country. Always work toward that Utopian condition that "Sane Logic" would have us believe is here. The results of the Spanish war—which the logician, whose name is "Sane Logic," calls murder and robbery—have certainly worked in this direction, and although the means were rough, surely the ends very nearly justify them.

We now come to the final paragraph of Mr. "Sane Logic's" article, and I will have to admit I am in clear over my head. I don't know what he means. But "dewdrop"—Ah! a gem! Yes, we will be the dewdrop all right—"the dewdrop in all existence!" Sounds good, doesn't it? Yes, let's be that dewdrop. But remember if we follow "Sane Logic" in his peculiar notions of national preparedness, some big burly, freckled-faced pirate nation from Europe will come up out of the Atlantic some fine morning and say, "I am the sun." We all know how long dewdrops last after sun-up.

Let us get old Joshua on the job in the shape of adequate preparedness to tell that sun where to "head in."

Thanking you for the space, I am

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

There is no institution that we guard with so jealous a care as we do the public schools, and yet it is surprising to learn how little we know of how they are conducted, of the rules and regulations that bind the teachers and pupils.

We may well ask, "Are our teachers employed and retained upon the basis of merit and qualifications to teach, or is there some other reason that to many of us is yet unknown?

I have been told that it was hard for a Duluth girl to get a position as teacher in the city.

I have been told that teachers from other cities come here seeking positions as teachers and are turned down, but at the same time teachers are employed through some teachers' agency, giving a preference to those who apply through the agency rather than to those who apply in person. Can it be that any part of our school system has become contaminated with capitalistic greed, where merit and worth are given secondary consideration? Can it be that this association uses influences of one kind or another to make it a paying institution and that the superintendents of the different schools use this association because it is to their advantage to do so?

I am also told that our high school is but a preparatory school for the business college; that it merely teaches the rudiments of the course taken, and fits the student for the college. Now, if this is true, we find ourselves in a pretty pickle, supporting the schools for the benefit of the business college. Whereas we had believed that the support given to our school system was for the sole purpose of teaching the children so that they may receive a good education, we find that it is limited, and in order that the child may receive the full course he must be sent to the college.

It is also said that the employers in the city will not give a student from the high school a position, unless he has taken a course in the business college. Can it be that there is a three-cornered conspiracy between the management of the schools, the employers and the college, that would make more business for the college?

The party who took so much interest in the defense of Mr. Denfeld some time ago, may find plenty to do if he would ferret out the things I have spoken of and let the public know if there is any truth in them.

P. G. PHILLIPS.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

Stay in Your Own Back Yard.

Lilac trees were blooming in the corner by the gate;
Mammy in her little cabin door;
Curly-headed pickaninny, coming home so late,
Crying 'cause his little heart was sore.
None of them with him will ever play;
So mammy on her lap takes the weeping little chap
And says in her kind old way.

CHORUS.

Now, honey, you stay in your own back yard;
Don't mind what dem white chiles do;
What show do you 'spose dey's gwine to give
To a black little coon like you?
So stay on dis side of de high board fence,
An, honey, don't you cry so hard;
Go out an' play just as much as you please,
But stay in your own back yard.

Romping home from school at night or noon,
Peering through the fence could see this eager little face—
Such a lonesome, wistful little coon.
'Till one day this little face was gone forever more;
God had called this dusky little elf.
So mammy in the door sits and rocks as oft before,
And sings to her black old self.

COOPER IS NOT HURT INTERNALLY

Bond Broker Will Recover, Attending Physician Says.

Edwin R. Cooper, the bond man injured Tuesday night when his automobile crashed into a trolley pole at Fourth avenue east and Superior street, will recover, according to Dr. William P. Abbott, the physician in charge.

Fears that Mr. Cooper sustained serious internal injuries when he was thrown against the steering wheel have been dispelled. Although three of the spokes in the wheel were broken, the driver's only injuries were bruises, a slight skull fracture and a cut across the forehead from windshield glass.

Upon regaining consciousness yesterday he was unable to tell how the accident occurred. He was alone in the car, driving west along the street, when he lost control of the car, either through a defect in the steering apparatus or his inexperience in driving.

INVENTS TORPEDO GUIDED BY WIRELESS

Grand Forks Man's Invention Is Investigated By Government.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 20.—John Hays Hammond, Jr., is not the only inventor of a torpedo that can be guided by wireless. R. S. McGuire of this city has invented such a contrivance and has just returned from St. Cloud, Minn., where he gave a demonstration of his invention before a party of government engineers, connected with the war department of the United States, on the Mississippi river.

A request was given Mr. McGuire to take a model of his invention to an Eastern navy yard for further tests, with the possible view that the government would purchase it.

Mr. McGuire and the two government engineers narrowly escaped injury, when they brought their boat in too close proximity to the torpedo, containing about seventy-five pounds of gun cotton explosive, or an equivalent to about 1,400 pounds of dynamite.

A secluded spot along the Mississippi was chosen as the location for the trials, and an immense pile of logs and timbers were fastened together and anchored in the middle of the river. About 3,000 yards down the river the torpedo was launched from the boat, and directed toward the target.

Mr. McGuire erected his wireless out in the prow of the boat, and for some time maneuvered with the torpedo, sending it to all sections of the river, and back towards the boat.

Thrown Into Water.

Finally the government engineers requested that they move nearer the target in order to observe the action of the torpedo at closer range. At the time the torpedo was directed at the center of the target, the boat was only about 200 yards away. After he had pushed the key which shot the torpedo at the target and exploded it, Mr. McGuire declares he knew nothing till he found himself in the water some distance from the shore. It is thought a part of a timber or a portion of the shell of the torpedo had hit the boat, upsetting it and precipitating the men and wireless instruments in the water. The valuable instruments were lost at the bottom of the Mississippi.

The government experts, however, were favorably impressed with the working of the torpedo, and requested Mr. McGuire to test it at long range at one of the Eastern stations. He will probably demonstrate it before a party of naval experts in the East this summer.

The invention of steering the device by wireless was the result of an accident, according to Mr. McGuire.

ISHPEMING MINING MAN LAID TO REST

Ishpeming, Mich., April 20.—Lake Superior commandery, Knights Templars, had charge of the funeral here this morning of Capt. Duncan Campbell, one of the best known hard ore miners in the Lake Superior region, who died at his home in Ishpeming Monday, aged 61.

A native of Owen Sound, Ont., he came to Marquette county in 1872, locating at Humboldt, where he worked for one year. He then moved to Republic in 1873, remaining there until 18 years of age, when he came to Ishpeming to take a position as assistant to Capt. J. H. Rough at the Cliffs Shafts mine.

Captain Campbell remained continuously in the employ of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company until his death. From the Cliffs shafts he was transferred to the Moro mine, where he had charge of underground operations until the property closed down, when he was again transferred to the Cliffs shafts to take charge of mining work under Supt. Lucien Eaton.

Captain Campbell was married in Republic in 1881 to Miss Janet MacDonald, who, with one daughter, Mrs. Thomas P. Walter, Jr., and one son, Angus Campbell, both of this city, survive him. The deceased also has two brothers and two sisters living. The brothers are Donald Campbell of this city, and James of Ontario, and the sisters are Mrs. Keith Webster of Owen Sound, and Mrs. Walter Scott of the Canadian Soo.

ROYAL CLANSMEN TO VISIT DULUTH

Will Attend Big Initiation to Take Place in September.

Royal executives of the Scottish Clans of America will visit Duluth Sept. 6, when Clan Stewart of Duluth, Clan Forbes of West Duluth, and Clan Cameron of Superior will stage a monster initiation.

Twenty-five members of Clan Stewart, at a meeting last night, were told of the preliminary plans for the gathering, which will be one of the largest ever staged in the state by members of the Scottish order.

One hundred candidates will be prepared to walk "barefooted over thistles" on the night that the members of the royal executive committee are present.

Plans also were made last night for a concert to be given at the weekly Clan Stewart meeting next Wednesday. Robert Mowbray gave a number of bagpipe selections.

TOWN OF FROHN TO BUILD BRIDGE

Bemidji, Minn., April 20.—At an election held in the township of Frohn Tuesday, $6,000 bridge bonds were voted. The vote was forty for the bonds and twenty-seven against. The bonds are for the construction of a new steel bridge over the Mississippi river.

Michigan Child Drowns.

Bessemer, Mich., April 20.—The 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Mark of Ramsey was drowned in the Black river Tuesday night. The body has not been recovered.

SHOULD PRACTICE, NOT STUDY, GRAMMAR

Grammar is an illogical study and should be taught by practice rather than by forcing the child to memorize verb forms, according to R. E. Denfeld, city superintendent of schools.

His statement was made in commenting on the report of the board of education established by John D. Rockefeller, to the effect that "the study of formal grammar is futile as an aid to correct speaking and writing." Said Supt. Denfeld:

"It doesn't make for a correct reading and writing to have a student train his memory to give verbs verbatim and recite a set of rules.

"We have eliminated the practice entirely up to the sixth grade. As a substitute we recommend daily themes and we are using conversational English in the effort to make the student express himself well.

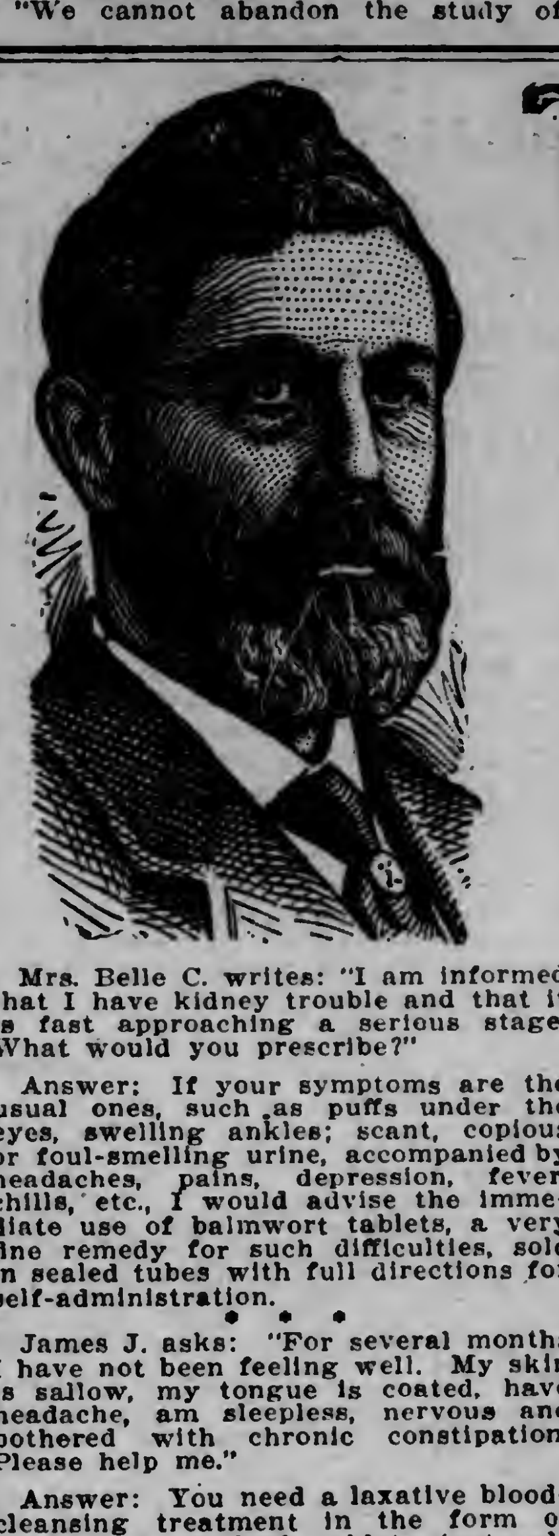
"We cannot abandon the study of grammar as long as West Point, Annapolis and our colleges and universities require it. If they would modify their entrance conditions, then we would eliminate grammar from our curriculum as a separate study and embody it in a general English course that includes application."

Taken With Croup.

"A few nights ago one of my patrons had a child taken with croup," writes M. T. Davis, merchant, Bearsville, W. Va. "About midnight he came to my store and bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. Before morning the child was entirely recovered. The parents say they would rather have it for croup and colds than any other medicine." Many such letters have been written about Foley's Honey and Tar, for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Sold everywhere.

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker



The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Mrs. Belle C. writes: "I am informed that I have kidney trouble and that it is fast approaching a serious stage. What would you prescribe?"

Answer: If your symptoms are the usual ones, such as puffs under the eyes, swelling ankles; scant, copious or foul-smelling urine, accompanied by headaches, pains, depression, fever, chills, etc., I would advise the immediate use of balmwort tablets, a very fine remedy for such difficulties, sold in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration.

James J. asks: "For several months I have not been feeling well. My skin is sallow, my tongue is coated, have headache, am sleepless, nervous and bothered with chronic constipation. Please help me."

Answer: You need a laxative blood-cleansing treatment in the form of three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). Overcome the tendency to constipation and gradually your good health and pure blood will return.

* * *

"Poor Nerves" writes: "Is it possible to find a medicine which by its tonic or nutritive powers will bring the glow of health and ambition back to a man who has everything in the world but health and happiness? I am dull, forgetful, despondent, weak, trembling, short of breath and suffer more or less with pain in spine and back of head."

Answer: Your condition indicates the need of a strong, harmless tonic nutritive to restore nerve equilibrium, which in turn fortifies and strengthens the organs of nutrition, thus vitalizing the blood and promoting new cell and tissue to take care of the waste forces. Three-grain cadomene tablets, packed in sealed tubes with full directions, are recommended in all such cases.

"D. E. G." writes: "My rheumatism is getting worse all the time. I am getting so stiff that it makes it very hard for me to get around."

Answer: Do not worry about your rheumatism, as that can be very easily controlled by using the following: Get at the drug store the ingredients named, mix thoroughly and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again at bedtime and you should soon be entirely relieved of that disagreeable disease, rheumatism. Purchase 2 drams of iodide of potassium; ½ oz. of wine of colchicum; 4 drams of sodium salicylate; 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort; 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, and 5 ozs. of syrup sarsaparilla. This has satisfied thousands and I am sure it will you.

* * *

C. J. R. asks: "Can I safely reduce my weight, and how?"

Answer: Go to a well-stocked druggist and get five-grain arbolone tablets in sealed tube with complete directions. Take as directed, and you should soon feel the relief you desire. Many of my patients report quick results without any harmful action whatever.

* * *

Ellen J. asks: "Tell me, please, how I can increase my weight and improve my color. I seem to be aenemic, weak and tired all the time."

Answer: Begin taking three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets with your meals and soon you will feel your strength returning and gradually your weight and color will improve. This is a most effective remedy if persistently used.

* * *

J. W. W. asks: "Can you prescribe a reliable treatment to get rid of dandruff, itching and feverish scalp?"

Answer: I know you can get instant relief and permanent results by using plain yellow minyol as per directions which accompany each 4-oz. jar.—Advertisement.

FLOODS IN NORTHERN PART OF STATE CAUSE $100,000 LOSS

Bridges Swept Away in Itasca, Koochiching and St. Louis Counties.

Log Booms Broken and Houses and Farms Are Flooded.

Floods in Itasca, Koochiching and St. Louis counties as a result of various rivers overflowing their banks, have already caused a loss of nearly $100,000 in the last ten days. This figure will, in all probability, be materially increased when a full knowledge of the extent of the floods is gained.

In Koochiching county the estimated loss, after a casual investigation, is fixed at more than $20,000. This amount represents only the carrying away of two large bridges and has nothing to do with large numbers of logs that have been lost from booms, the cessation of operations at various mills, the flooding of houses and damage to other property.

Frank S. Lang of International Falls, register of deeds of Koochiching county, who is in Duluth today on business, stated that the actual loss in his district would not be known for weeks. "The flood is the worst we have ever had," said Mr. Lang. "While the Rainy and Big Fork rivers were still frozen, the great amount of snow along the banks and way up into the county began to thaw rapidly and almost in a day the rivers were overflowed from the hillside freshets. The ice loosened and tore down the streams carrying everything before it.

Bridge Swept Out.

"The bridge at Scarlet, which lies between the Little Fork and the Rainy rivers, was the first to go. It was a $9,000 steel bridge of great weight but the rushing ice and logs simply picked it up, carried it clean of its foundation, whirled it around, end for end, and sat it down some distance down the stream, each end nestling on the opposite bank to where it had been. Here a jam was formed and the logs and ice were backed up against the M. & I. railway bridge at the town of Little Fork, further up stream. At this point the water raised forty feet, flooding houses and business places.

"The steel bridge of the M. D. & W. railway at this point was also destroyed, the swiftly rushing ice cutting the very piling right off like so many huge blades. This bridge was worth about $3,500.

"Great damage was done to the turbines at the M. O. paper mills on the Canadian side of the Rainy river by the cakes of ice, forcing the plant to cease operations. Just how long it will take to make repairs cannot be determined until the flood abates. The closing of the Canadian plant also caused the company's mill on the American side to temporarily close. Many men are employed in these mills and the consequent loss in wages will be great.

Heavy Loss of Logs.

"Where the greatest damage will probably result will be in the loss of logs by the various lumber companies. The booms in the Rainy river, where the logs for all the various companies are assembled for sorting purposes, gave way this week and as there are many hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of this timber in jeopardy, the loss is apparent. Some of the logs have already drifted out into the Lake of the Woods and may never be recovered."

In Itasca and St. Louis counties the damage is confined to the washing out of bridges, culverts and highways. Morris O'Brien of Cohasset and C. M. King of Deer River, both commissioners of Itasca county, are here today to confer with Contractor P. McDonnell relative to a $40,000 road contract, which the latter started work on in that county last year and which is yet to be completed.

"The floods up our way are the worst in the history of the county," said Mr. O'Brien. "The floods in the Big Fork river started with the thawing of the snow and rose so rapidly and with such strength that everything was swept before it. A bridge in the town of Big Fork, valued at $2,500, was carried away, two bridges in the Bear River country, valued at $1,500 and $800, respectively, were wiped out and another at Prairie, with a valuation of about $1,500, was demolished.

"We figure that the damage, as far as we now know will reach about $15,000. When the flood waters subside the damage may be even greater."

The damage to the bridges in St. Louis county is confined to the Bear River district, where two steel bridges, owned by the county, have been carried away. Al Dyer, road engineer for the range district, arrived in Duluth this morning to confer with other county officials when the loss from the floods will be estimated. Just how seriously the highways of the range district have suffered Mr. Dyer did not care to say at this time.

COAL SHIPMENTS SHOW INCREASE

Nearly Million More Tons Than Last Year in First Quarter.

Coal shipments from the Head of the Lakes to interior points for this year up to the end of March, amounted to 909,580 tons more than during the same period in 1915. This consists of all kinds of coal.

During March the shipments, by cars, amounted to the following:

	1916.	1915.
Duluth	8,341	5,113
Superior	16,391	11,747
Totals	24,732	16,860

The shipments, in tons, since the first of the year, compared with those of the first three months of last year, were as follows:

	1916.	1915
January	1,112,125	973,860
February	1,204,560	708,765
March	865,620	590,100

WILL BEGIN BIG PAVING JOB MONDAY

Work on paving East Superior street will begin next Monday morning.

This announcement was made today by Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division, who said that the contractors are all ready to begin work. This will be the first big paving job started this year.

Superior street will be closed, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenues east, after next Monday, the commissioner announced, vehicles being compelled to use either First or Jefferson street.

D. H. Clough & Co., who have been awarded the contract to lay the concrete base for the General Contracting company, are today unpacking a big machine, which has been purchased to break up the surfacing on the present pavement. This old tar macadam, according to the plans of Commissioner Farrell, will be used in improving Fifteenth avenue east, from South to Superior street; Sixteenth avenue east, from South to London road, and Eighteenth avenue east, from South to First street. The new Trinidad Lake asphalt surface will be laid by the General Contracting company.

FACES JUDGE THREE TIMES.

Man Who Assaulted Officer Draws Stiff Fines.

For the third time Emmett J. Savage faced Judge W. H. Smallwood today to answer to charges growing out of a fight at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, on April 8, in which Patrolman Nils R. Magnuson sustained a broken arm.

First Savage was charged with second degree assault after he had been arrested in Proctor and brought back to face trial. Police then thought he was the one of the six assailants who jumped on the officer when he was down and broke his arm.

The second degree assault was dismissed later, and one of disorderly conduct was substituted. Tuesday afternoon Judge Smallwood found him guilty of disorderly conduct and fined him $50 and costs.

Scarcely had Savage paid his fine and left the court room when he was rearrested, this time for third degree assault. He pleaded guilty to that charge this morning and was fined $35 and costs.

His total fine was $100.90.

WOODRUFF COMPANY GETS CITY CONTRACT

The Woodruff Lumber company will be awarded the contract to furnish the city with approximately 250,000 feet of lumber during the coming summer.

Bids were opened this morning by Commissioner Farrell, and the Woodruff company submitted the lowest offer. Its bid was $6,020 for Norway pine and tamarack.

The other bidders follow: Heimbach Lumber company, $6,822; Comstock Lumber company, $6,477, and Duluth Lumber company, $6,928.

WORK WILL BE BEGUN MONDAY

Extension to Morgan Park May Be Ready June 1.

Construction work on the extension of the Morgan Park line will be in full swing Monday morning, according to expectations of officials of the Duluth Street Railway company. The men who have been at work since Monday have about completed the installation of the switch connecting the double track at the western end of the Kingsbury creek at Seventy-first avenue.

West of the bridge to a point Grand avenue curves westward into Smithville a single track will be laid. Double track will be laid by the company around these curves and also over the entire route from the entrance into Morgan Park to the end of the line.

The entire construction equipment of the company including three work cars will be put on the job. It is expected that in six weeks the line will be built and ready for operation. With fair weather this time may possibly be shortened about a week say officials.

Within another week the machinery in the company's sub-station at Smithville will be ready to receive and distribute power. The trolley wires will be put up and connected within a few days.

WILL ENTERTAIN GOVERNOR FOR DAY

Complete plans for the entertainment of Governor J. A. A. Burnquist during his visit in the city next Thursday will be made tomorrow evening at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club. The governor will spend the entire day in the city.

Members of the club have assurances from officials of the Duluth steel plant that the governor, accompanied by a small party, will be granted permission to go through the plant during the afternoon. During the forenoon it is planned to visit a number of the schools in this end of the city.

SEEDING BEGINS NEAR CROOKSTON

Crookston, Minn., April 20.—Wilhelm Johnson, who resides on the Louis Johnson farm, three miles west of Crookston, began seeding Wednesday morning and will continue daily until his entire wheat crop is in.

"The ground is in excellent condition," said Mr. Johnson, "it being in such a condition that the dirt does not clog up, but rolls off the machinery in fine style. I expect to be through with my seeding inside of the next week or ten days. We are not bothered by flood waters in our section and from the present outlook the coming crop should be a bumper one."

American Note to Germany Stronger Than British Expected.

Opinion Divided as to What Course Germany Will Follow.

London, April 20.—Although recent dispatches from America had led the British public to expect a sharp note from the United States to Germany in regard to the submarine controversy, the language employed by President Wilson in his address to congress came as something of a surprise. The evening newspapers generally refer to the note as an ultimatum, pointing out that although no date for a reply has been fixed, Germany is expected to send its answer by the end of the week.

Opinion is divided as to what attitude Germany will adopt. Some of the newspapers take the view that public opinion will compel the Berlin government to refuse to comply with the demands of the United States. Others are equally certain Germany will abandon indiscriminate submarine warfare rather than sever relations with the greatest of neutral powers.

Little Effect on Stocks.

The note had little effect on the stock market, which was steady at the opening. Little stock was offered, this being the last day before the Easter holidays.

So far as American stocks are concerned, there is now little business in them owing to the restrictions imposed by the government. It is noted the treasury has made hardly any changes in the buying prices.

The Westminster Gazette says:

"President Wilson's message to congress is a serious, high-toned document, which befits the occasion."

Referring to the president's warning, the newspaper adds:

"Language of this kind between great powers does not leave open a wide choice of courses of action. Germany is given the alternative of abandoning its submarine warfare or ceasing to retain the friendliness of the United States."

In concluding its article the Westminster Gazette says:

"President Wilson has mapped out for himself a line of action which admits of no retreat."

INDIAN PLOT UNCOVERED

Had False Passports.

The leaders of the plot seized on the China are said to have had in their possession false passports which they destroyed. Among the men taken from the vessel were five Austrian officers as well as a number of Germans from the German ships interned in Shanghai and at other Chinese ports.

The British officials say they believe that Franz Bopp, the German consul general at San Francisco, and other persons under Federal indictment there participated in the plot. The seizure of the party on the China did not end the plot, according to officials here, who declare that all its ramifications have not yet been traced. They state that enough is known, however, to check any possibility of trouble in India.

200 yards of trenches they had succeeded in occupying.

Former Statement.

Paris, April 20, 12:01 p. m.—French troops took the offensive last night in the Verdun region on the right bank of the Meuse. The war office announcement of this afternoon says that they captured parts of German trenches, occupied a redoubt and took several hundred prisoners.

The text of the statement follows:

"In the Argonne at Haute Chevauchee there has been some mine work which resulted to our advantage. We caused the explosion of a small mine which destroyed some subterranean works of the enemy.

"On the left bank of the river Meuse the bombardment of our second line continued last night. On the right bank of the river our troops yesterday evening delivered a spirited attack against the German positions northwest of the pond of Vaux. This operation made it possible for us to occupy certain sections of the German trenches as well as a fortified redoubt. In the course of this action, which caused heavy losses to the enemy, we took prisoner 10 officers, 16 under-officers and 214 men. In addition to this we captured several machine guns and a certain quantity of war material.

In the Woevre district our artillery has directed a concentrated fire upon the communicating roadways of the enemy.

"There has been no event of importance on the remainder of the front."

Withdrawing Troops From East.

Paris, April 20.—French resistance in the region of Verdun is compelling the German general staff to withdraw large forces from the Teuton front in Macedonia and Serbia and in Russia, according to information obtained today from the highest military authorities here.

TWENTY ARE DEAD AS RESULT OF TORNADOES IN KANSAS AND MISSOURI

believed to be the work of three separate twisters, struck as many parts of Kansas late yesterday, causing, according to early reports, at least two deaths, injuring many and causing large property damage.

The deaths of a Mrs. Miller, five miles northwest of Fort Scott, and of an infant of a family named Hixon, in the same neighborhood, have been reported by physicians. Several entire families were reported missing, and all available physicians in Fort Scott were rushed into the devastated district. Much property damage has been done, and the roads were reported so choked with debris that travel was stopped.

The storm which swept northwest of Fort Scott was believed to have been one which started in Wilson county, where one man was reported injured. From there its path was believed to have been though Allen county to the northeast, where Harley Ericson, living near Elsmore, was injured. It then passed into Bourbon county.

Vernon Damaged.

A tornado passed through Woodson county, north of Neodesha, causing considerable property damage at the town of Vernon.

At Hoyt, near Topeka, a tornado swept through the town, injuring four persons seriously and demolishing ten houses, according to reports received there last night.

At Abilene, Kan., Elmer Packard lost his life as the result of a storm. He was driving a motor car at a rapid rate, racing with the oncoming storm, when the car skidded and overturned.

Ed McPherson, a farmer, is reported as seriously injured in a tornado near Fredonia in Wilson county. His farm buildings were carried away.

At Larkinburg, east of Hoyt, some damage was done by the storm.

One Killed in Missouri.

Rich Hill, Mo., April 20.—A tornado south of here late yesterday brought death to one person, injured many and did considerable property damage.

The town of Arthur, six miles south of Rich Hill, was struck by the tornado, and Ruth, 7-year-old daughter of Samuel Fairbanks, was killed when the family made an attempt to reach a storm cave. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks and three other children were injured, some, it is believed, seriously.

Meager reports say every house in Rhinehart, twelve miles southwest of here, have been destroyed and thirty persons have been injured.

The storm, which was accompanied by a terrific hail, destroyed all telephone lines, and only inaccurate reports are available. Rescue parties have been sent out to search the Marmaton river banks for possible victims of the storm, and all physicians here have been dispatched into the stricken districts.

Michigan Visited.

Standish, Mich., April 20.—A tornado passed over Alger, Arenac county, yesterday causing damage estimated at $50,000 to farm property and telegraph and telephone lines. Several buildings were demolished and orchards leveled. No one was injured.

GERMANY TO BE GIVEN REASONABLE TIME TO ANSWER NOTE OF U. S.

said, could do no good and might do harm. He added that no action on the part of congress was called for and he did not expect that any would be taken.

Von Bernstorff Calls.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, went to the state department today for a conference with Secretary Lansing on the submarine warfare situation and also to discuss the arrest in New York of Wolfe von Igen, secretary of Former German Military Attache Capt. von Papen.

Secretary Lansing and the German ambassador were in conference fully twenty minutes. After the ambassador had left, the secretary of state would make no statement regarding the discussion which took place.

Secretary Lansing said early today Ambassador Gerard had not up to that time notified the department of the receipt of the American note, although press dispatches announced its arrival last evening. Neither had Mr. Gerard reported having received from the German foreign office another memorandum on the Sussex case as reported in press dispatches.

Whether all German consuls and consular agents would be dismissed and such American consular representatives in Germany recalled in case diplomatic relations are severed was discussed by state department officials. It was stated that a rupture would not necessarily extend to consuls, although diplomatic custom generally included such officials.

Early Reply Impossible.

After the conference it was learned that German diplomats regard the receipt of a reply from Germany within two or three days as physically impossible. It was pointed out that Easter Monday is a holiday in Germany and that necessary consultations of officials would cause another week to elapse before the German answer could be transmitted here. Ambassador von Bernstorff refused to discuss his conversation with Secretary Lansing, but indicated his call was not prompted by the arrival of instructions from his government.

Regarding the hope held by German officials here for an amicable settlement one official described the prospect as a "tossup."

Secretary Lansing explained in detail to the German ambassador the position of the United States and is said to have expressed the sincere hope that the attitude of the German government would be so adjusted as to meet the position taken by the United States.

Receives Confidential Message.

The ambassador was understood to have informed the secretary of the details of a message he sent yesterday to his government making certain recommendations which he believed, if acceptable to his government, would be satisfactory to the United States. In addition the ambassador informed the secretary of a message of a highly confidential nature he had received from Berlin

Last night Count von Bernstorff appeared hopeful that some way would be found to prevent a break of relations. His manner today indicated that he was not so sanguine.

After returning to the embassy, Count von Bernstorff prepared a long dispatch which probably will be sent to his government before night. The ambassador was authoritatively reported as having sought the secretary's views in regard to a tentative proposal that Germany issue immediately a declaration covering all submarine operations similar to that issued on Jan. 7, for the operations in the Mediterranean. How the suggestion was received was not divulged, but the general belief is that no step will be considered until some direct response from Berlin has been received by the secretary of state.

Advises Berlin.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, sent to Berlin last night a long dispatch interpreting the situation in Washington and making certain recommendations. He is understood to have advised his government that he believed the United States meant just what it said in its submarine note, and that something would have to be done quickly if friendly relations were to continue.

The ambassador himself, having read the address of the president and the note, said:

"I can make no comment either upon the address or upon the communication which has been sent to my government."

However, he was authoritatively described as having advised the Berlin foreign office in the message sent last night that he believed at least some such declaration as that made regarding the conduct of submarine warfare in the Mediterranean sea, should be issued immediately to cover all submarine operations.

The Mediterranean declaration was handed to Secretary Lansing on Jan. 7 of this year. It contained assurances much broader in their scope than those given to cover the activities of submarines in the war zone around the British isles, where Germany has contended from the first that she was engaged in a campaign of retaliation for the British blockade.

Only Cruiser Warfare.

These assurances were to the effect that only a cruiser warfare would be conducted against enemy merchant shipping and that noncombatant ships of every character, freight as well as passenger carrying, would be accorded proper warning and safety for their passengers and crew. These assurances which have been given for the war zone around the British isles covered only "liners." The declaration of Jan. 7 also promised that German submarine commanders who failed to obey the assurances given, would be punished, and that reparation would be made for death or injury to American citizens.

German commanders operating in the Mediterranean, it was said in the declaration, which was issued after the steamship Persia had gone down, had particular instructions to exclude such measures of reprisal as were applied in the war zone around the British isles.

Since the inception of the present situation, Count von Bernstorff has made two attempts to discuss the situation with the secretary. On each occasion, he was informed, however, that he would be given an opportunity later. While the ambassador appeared to be more perturbed than at any time since the beginning of the submarine controversy, he was said to feel that his government would go to every possible length to prevent the severance of diplomatic relations.

Persons in close touch with affairs of the embassy, quoted him as saying: "I believe that some way will be found satisfactorily to meet the position of the United States."

TO INCREASE FORCE OR WITHDRAW MEN

Funston today even of a routine character, and Gen. Pershing has not been heard from directly for some days, so far as known here.

A message received some days ago that the expedition was showing the effects of the hard chase, that the men and horses were jaded and their shoes worn out, Secretary Baker said, might explain the silence. Gen. Pershing may be resting and requipping his force.

To Strengthen Bases.

El Paso, Tex., April 20.—While the American punitive expedition is marking time today in its pursuit of Francisco Villa, efforts are being made to strengthen the army bases and lines of communication. Fears are expressed by army officers that should an order come to withdraw the American troops, the Villa and other marauding bands will raise the cry that the American troops are in retreat, with the result that the American army will be subjected to constant night attacks and sniping as they retire from Mexico.

To prevent such warfare against his columns, Gen. Pershing is preparing to be in a position to move his forces in large units. If necessary, Gen. Pershing may call upon some of the new troops that Maj.-Gen. Funston has recently transferred to the army base at Columbus, N. Mex.

Will Encounter Difficulties.

The belief is general at Fort Bliss that the United States troops will encounter more difficulties in a withdrawal from Mexico than they did on their rapid 400-mile drive from Columbus to Parral.

No word has come from Gen. Cavazos, who, with Col. Carranza, was reported to have gone to San Francisco Borja to bring back the body of Villa. Officers of the Juarez garrison fear that Gen. Cavazos has been led into a trap and he and his command ambushed.

A dispatch from Chihuahua today says that the Parral district is quiet and that Villa is not dead but has passed far south into Durango, many miles from the nearest American column now resting at a point near Parral.

Frightful Destitution.

San Antonio, Tex., April 20.—Frightful destitution of the country through which the American troops have been operating south of Casas Grandes was pictured in a long report received by Gen. Funston today from Gen. Pershing. The report was written at Satevo before Gen. Pershing had learned the details of the fight at Parral, April 12.

Gen. Pershing mentioned the hostile attitude of the populace at Bachineva, displayed when Maj. Howse passed through there with a squadron of cavalry. He said the force was subjected to sniping. For the most part, however, he declared the poverty-stricken peon element exhibited nothing but apathy when the American troops passed through the country and skirted villages where the hungry inhabitants had gathered from the war-ruined countryside. He said they appeared to regard the American soldiers almost with indifference, evincing only at times some curiosity as to what "revolution" the visitors were carrying on.

Lack of Co-operation.

Field Headquarters, April 17, by aeroplane to Columbus, N. Mex., April 20.—Continued lack of effective military co-operation by the Carranza authorities has been met by the American expeditionary column. At some places the Americans have received considerable courtesy from the local Carranza officials. At other points there has been a little sniping of Americans.

Promises of Carranza co-operation have not materialized, due to lack of organized government in the regions penetrated and to a coldness from some Carranza commanders and some of the local leaders.

For a long time American officers did not feel certain which attitude—friendliness or opposition—the Mexicans would assume, and, therefore, unfriendly incidents were minimized through the censorship.

Today little hope remained that further progress could be made without serious clashes with Mexicans, including the unruly elements among the outlying Cerranza commands.

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

CABINET IN AGREEMENT

Proposals Submitted Which Will Avoid Anticipated Rupture.

Probable Voluntary Enlistment Scheme Will Be Reopened.

London, April 20.—At a meeting today of the British cabinet an agreement was reached upon the proposals which the ministers will make to parliament on the subject of recruiting. Their proposals will be submitted at a secret session of each house of parliament on Tuesday; the foregoing was announced in an official statement issued this afternoon.

It is understood that a proposition advanced by Arthur Henderson, president of the board of education and a labor leader, will have the effect of reopening the voluntary enlistment scheme for a month or six weeks, and that this proposal was accepted in principle by the cabinet with a view to ascertaining whether sufficient men would come forward for military service without the introduction of general compulsion.

The labor members, however, demand that all facts and figures regarding the military situation and requirements shall be submitted to the house of commons before they consent to any measure of universal conscription. This has not been confirmed officially.

PREPAREDNESS LAWS PASSED IN NEW YORK

Military and Physical Training to Be Adopted in Public Schools.

Albany, N. Y., April 20.—Passage of preparedness legislation and of financial reform measures have marked the session of the legislature which closes today. The preparedness measures provide for the adoption of a plan for physical and military training in the public schools and the appropriation of $500,000 for emergency purposes of the National Guard or for the mobilization of the entire militia force for field exercises this summer. Included in the financial legislation was a new legislative budget law.

Among the constitutional amendments approved was one to provide for woman suffrage. This measure must be again passed by the next legislature before it can be submitted to the voters in a general election.

W. J. BRYAN BEHIND IN NEBRASKA RACE

Running Sixth Among Seven Candidates for Delegate-at-Large.

Omaha, Neb., April 20.—Latest returns from Tuesday's preferential primary have increased the lead given by early reports to Henry Ford of Detroit for the Republican nomination for president, and indicate the renomination of Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock on the Democratic senatorial ticket by a majority of 2 to 1 over his opponent, Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha.

William J. Bryan, candidate for delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention, is running sixth. There are seven candidates. The four receiving the largest number of votes will be elected. Incomplete returns indicated that Keith Neville was running 5,000 ahead of C. W. Bryan, Democratic candidate for governor and brother of the former secretary of state.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF IRONWOOD PASSES

John Banfield, Member of Norri Band and Mining Man, Dies.

Ironwood, Mich., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Banfield, one of the pioneers of Ironwood, died at the family home Tuesday of pneumonia. He was born in Redruth, Cornwall, Eng., March 2, 1864, and when 6 years old came to this country. Before coming to Ironwood some thirty years ago he lived at Norway, Mich.

About twenty-eight years ago he was married to Miss Kate Roberts, whose death occurred some three months later. In 1893, he was married to Miss Edith Knight, who, with two daughters, Zella and Gladys, survive. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon from the home and the First M. E. church. Rev. W. B. Coombe, former pastor of the Ironwood church, but now pastor at Crystal Falls, Mich., will deliver the sermon and assist the Rev. A. E. Healey.

JOHN BANFIELD.

Mr. Banfield was a member of the Norri band almost continuously since its organization.

Charter Member of I. O. O. F.

He was also a charter member of the local lodge of I. O. O. F. and a member of the George Washington lodge, Sons of St. George. The funeral will be in charge of the I. O. O. F. He was employed by the Oliver Iron Mining company ever since his arrival here.

CANADIAN ALLOWED TO STARVE TO DEATH

J. E. Stratton Dies at Hot Springs After Fasting Thirty-Six Days.

Hot Springs, Ark., April 20.—J. E. Stratton, political leader in Ontario, Can., and for many years a member of the dominion parliament, died here yesterday after thirty-six days of fasting. Prof. K. Feige, formerly of Oklahoma City, Okla., under whose treatment Stratton is said to have been prohibited from receiving any nourishment but water, was arrested and held by a coroner's jury in $1,000 bail for alleged manslaughter.

Prof. Feige, it was testified at the inquest by Mrs. Stratton and Stratton's nurse, Etchicard Ellis, had been treating Mr. Stratton since March. They said local physicians were called in last Friday when the man was in a comatose state for seventy-four hours. Mrs. Stratton said Feige endeavored to stop the hiccoughs by tightening a belt around Stratton's waist until he suffered so that she eased it to relieve his pain.

Last Friday Feige was arrested charged with practicing medicine without a license, and was out on $1,000 bail when arrested again yesterday. Mr. Stratton lived in Peterboro, Ont.

Earthquake in Canaries.

Fuerteventura, Canaries, April 15, via Paris, April 20.—An earthquake lasting twelve seconds rocked the houses of this island today. The shock was accompanied by loud rumblings and terrified the population. The damage was small.

SPANIARDS PLAN LINE TO NEW YORK

To Organize Big Corporation to Operate Fleet of Steamships.

New York, April 20.—Plans for the organization of a $20,000,000 corporation to operate the proposed steamship line under the Spanish flag, between Vigo, Spain, and New York, were announced here today by the local Spanish-American chamber of commerce, which confirmed recent reports that the Spanish government would in June grant legislative sanction to the project.

A fleet of eight fast passenger and freight vessels will be operated, according to the plans, and the Spanish government intends to guarantee the corporation earnings of 5 per cent. It is proposed to have the line financed with American capital, and local financial interests are understood to have expressed confidence in the success of the venture. Pending the construction of vessels of modern type a provisional service would be established with three steamers and sailing every ten days. No date for the first sailing has been determined.

Coats Elected to Parliament.

London, April 20.—Sir Stuart Coats, coalition candidate, has been elected member of parliament from Wimbledon, Surrey, over Kennedy Jones, independent, by a majority of 1,811. The seat was made vacant by the elevation of Henry Chaplin, Unionist, to the peerage.

FINALLY MAKES WINNIPEG.

Train Traffic Between Canadian City and Grand Forks Restored.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 20.—For the first time in three days Local Train No. 137 on the Great Northern, running from Grand Forks to Winnipeg, yesterday made its entire distance. Since Sunday the line from Neche, N. D., to Winnipeg, on the Canadian Pacific, over which the Great Northern runs, has been out of order, three miles of track being washed out. Trainmen and section hands have been at work since the recession of the water and have put the roadbed and tracks into condition.

One of the worst places on the roadbed was a three-quarter mile stretch near Rosenfeldt, Man.

PRESIDENT'S NOTE TO GERMANY ADMITS OF NO EVASION BY BERLIN

Refusal Will Cause Immediate Break in Diplomatic Relations.

Full Text of Document With Appendix on the Sussex Case.

Washington, April 20.—The full text of the American note to Germany, signed by Secretary Lansing and addressed to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, follows:

"You are instructed to deliver to the secretary of foreign affairs a communication reading as follows:

"I did not fail to transmit immediately by telegraph to my government your excellency's note of the 10th instant in regard to certain attacks by German submarines, and particularly in regard to the disastrous explosion which on March 24 last wrecked the French steamship Sussex in the English channel. I have now the honor to deliver under instructions from my government the following reply to your excellency: Information now in the possession of the government of the United States fully establishes the fact in the case of the Sussex, and the inference which my government has drawn from that information it regards as confirmed by the circumstances set forth in your excellency's note of the 10th inst. On the twenty-fourth of March, 1916, at about 2:50 o'clock in the afternoon, the unarmed steamer Sussex, with 325 or more passengers on board, among whom were a number of American citizens, was torpedoed while crossing from Folkestone to Dieppe. The Sussex had never been armed; was a vessel known to be habitually used only for the conveyance of passengers across the English channel; and was not following the route taken by troop ships or supply ships. About eighty of her passengers, noncombatants of all ages, and sexes, including citizens of the United States, were killed or injured.

Torpedoed Without Warning.

"A careful detailed and scrupulously impartial investigation by naval and military officers of the United States has conclusively established the fact that the Sussex was torpedoed without warning or summons to surrender, and that the torpedo by which she was struck was of German manufacture. In the view of the government of the United States the facts from the first made the conclusion that the torpedo was fired by a German submarine unavoidable. It now considers that conclusion substantiated by the statements of your excellency's note. A full statement of the facts upon which the government of the United States has based its conclusion is inclosed.

"The government of the United States, after having given careful consideration to the note of the imperial government of the tenth of April regrets to state that the impression made upon it by the statements and proposals contained in that note is that the imperial government has failed to appreciate the gravity of the situation which has resulted, not alone from the attack on the Sussex but from the whole method and character of submarine warfare as disclosed by the unrestrained practice of the commanders of German undersea craft during the past twelve months and more in the indiscriminate destruction of merchant vessels of all sorts, nationalities and destinations. If the sinking of the Sussex had been an isolated case, the government of the United States might find it possible to hope that the officer who was responsible for that act had wilfully violated his orders or had been criminally negligent in taking none of the precautions they prescribed, and that the ends of justice might be satisfied by imposing upon him an adequate punishment, coupled with a formal disavowal of the act and payment of a suitable indemnity by the imperial government. But, though the attack upon the Sussex was manifestly indefensible and caused a loss of life so tragical as to make it stand forth as one of the most terrible examples of the inhumanity of the submarine warfare as the commanders of German vessels are conducting it, it unhappily does not stand alone.

Indiscriminate Destruction.

"On the contrary the government of the United States is forced by recent events to conclude that it is only one instance, even though one of the most extreme and most distressing instances of the deliberate method and spirit of indiscriminate destruction of merchant vessels of all sorts, nationalities and destinations, which have become more and more unmistakable as the activity of German under-sea vessels of war has in recent months been quickened and extended.

"The imperial government will recall when in February, 1915, it announced its intention of treating the waters surrounding Great Britain and Ireland as embraced within the seat of war and of destroying all merchant ships owned by its enemies that might be found within that zone of danger and warned all vessels, neutral as well as belligerent, to keep out of the waters thus proscribed, or to enter them at their peril, the government of the United States earnestly protested. It took the position that such a policy could not be pursued without constant gross and palpable violations of the accepted law of nations, particularly if submarine craft were to be employed as its instrument, inasmuch as the rules prescribed by that law, rules founded on the principles of humanity and established for the protection of the lives of noncombatants at sea, could not in the nature of the case be observed by such vessels. It based its protest on the ground that persons of neutral nationality and vessels of neutral ownership would be exposed to extreme and intolerable risks, and that no right to close any part of the high seas could lawfully be asserted by the imperial government in the circumstances then existing. The law of nations in these matters upon which the government of the United States based that protest is not of recent origin or founded upon merely arbitrary principles set up by convention. It is based, on the contrary, upon manifest principles of humanity and has long been established with the approval and by the express assent of all civilized nations.

"The imperial government, notwithstanding, persisted in carrying out the policy announced, expressing the hope that the dangers involved, at any rate to neutral vessels, would be reduced to a minimum by the instructions which it had issued to the commanders of its submarines, and assuring the government of the United States that it would take every possible precaution both to respect the rights of neutrals and to safeguard the lives of noncombatants.

No Restraints Adopted.

"In pursuance of this policy of submarine warfare against the commerce of its adversaries, thus announced and thus entered upon in despite of the solemn protest of the government of the United States, the commanders of the imperial government's under-sea vessels have carried on practices of such ruthless destruction which have made it more and more evident as the months have gone by that the imperial government has found it impracticable to put any such restraints upon them as it had hoped and promised to put. Again and again the imperial government has given its solemn assurances to the government of the United States that at least passenger ships would not be thus dealt with, and yet it has repeatedly permitted its undersea commanders to disregard those assurances with entire impunity. As recently as February last it gave notice that it would regard all armed merchantmen owned by its enemies as part of the naval forces of its enemies and deal with them as with men-of-war, thus at least by implication pledging itself to give warning to vessels which were not armed, and to accord security of life to their passengers and crews, but even this limitation their submarine commanders have recklessly ignored.

"Vessels of neutral ownership—even vessels of neutral ownership bound from neutral port to neutral port—have been destroyed along with vessels of belligerent ownership in constantly increasing numbers. Sometimes the merchantmen attacked have been warned and summoned to surrender before being fired upon or torpedoed; sometimes their passengers and crews have been vouchsafed the poor security of being allowed to take to the ship's boats before the ship was sent to the bottom. But again and again no warning has been given, no escape even to the ship's boats allowed to those on board. Great liners like the Lusitania and Arabic, and passenger boats like the Sussex, have been attacked without a moment's warning, even before they have even become aware that they were in the presence of an armed ship of the enemy, and the lives of noncombatants, passengers and crew, have been destroyed wholesale and in a manner which the government of the United States cannot but regard as wanton and without the slightest color of justification.

Americans Meet Death.

"No limit of any kind has in fact been set to their indiscriminate pursuit and destruction of merchantmen of all kinds and nationalities within the waters which the imperial government has chosen to designate as lying within the seat of war. The roll of Americans who have lost their lives on ships thus attacked and destroyed has grown month by month until the ominous toll has mounted into the hundreds.

"The government of the United States has been very patient. At every stage of this distressing experience of tragedy after tragedy it has sought to be governed by the most thoughtful consideration of the extraordinary circumstances of an unprecedented war and to be guided by sentiments of very genuine friendship for the people and government of Germany. It has accepted the successive explanations and assurances of the imperial government as of course given in entire sincerity and good faith and has hoped, even against hope, that it would prove to be possible for the imperial government so to order and control the acts of its naval commanders as to square its policy with the recognized principles of humanity as embodied in the law of nations. It has made every allowance for unprecedented conditions and has been willing to wait until the facts became unmistakable and were susceptible of only one interpretation.

"It now owes it to a just regard for its own rights to say to the imperial government that that time has come. It has become painfully evident to it that the position which it took at the very outset is inevitable, namely, the use of submarines for the destruction of an enemy's commerce, is, of necessity, because of the very character of the vessels employed and the very methods of attack which their employment, of course, involves, utterly incompatible with the principles of humanity, the long established and incontrovertible rights of neutrals and the sacred immunities of noncombatants.

But One Course Open.

"If it is still the purpose of the imperial government to prosecute relentless and indiscriminate warfare against vessels of commerce by the use of submarines without regard to what the government of the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity, the government of the United States is at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue. Unless the imperial government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels, the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German empire altogether. This action the government of the United States contemplates with the greatest reluctance, but feels constrained to take in behalf of humanity and the rights of neutral nations."

STATEMENT OF SUSSEX CASE IN AN APPENDIX

The appendix to the note under the caption "statement of facts in Sussex case accompanying note to German government of April 18, 1916," follows:

The French channel steamer Sussex, employed regularly in passenger service between the ports of Folkestone, England, and Dieppe, France, as it has been for years (French foreign office) left Folkestone for Dieppe at 1:25 p. m., March 24, 1916, with 325 or more passengers and a crew of 53 men. (Declaration of Capt. Mouffet; Rear Admiral Grasset's report.)

The passengers among whom were about twenty-five American citizens (Telegram London embassy, March 25 and Paris embassy March 26 and 28) were of several nationalities and many of them were women and children and nearly half of them subjects of neutral states (Report of Commander Sayles and Lieut. Smith), Rear Admiral Grasset's report.

Carried No Armament.

The Sussex carried no armament (French foreign office; report of Commander Sayles and Lieut. Smith; affidavits of American passengers) has never been employed as a troop ship, and was following a route not used for transporting troops from Great Britain to France (British admiralty statement), French foreign office.

The steamer proceeded on its course almost due south after passing Dungeness. (Declaration of Capt. Mouffett.) The weather was clear and the sea smooth (Affidavits of Etna Hale, John H. Hearley, Gertrude W. Warren.) At 2:50 p. m. when the Sussex was about thirteen miles from Dungeness (Declaration of Capt. Mouffett) the captain of the vessel, who was on the bridge, saw about 150 meters from the ship, on the port side, the wake of a torpedo (declaration of Capt. Mouffett.) It was also seen very clearly by the first officers and the boatswain, who were with the captain on the bridge (Report of Rear Admiral Grasset.) Immediately the captain gave orders to port the helm and stop the starboard engine (Declaration of Capt. Mouffett), the purpose being to swing the vessel to starboard so as to dodge the torpedo by allowing it to pass along the port bow on a line converging with the altered course of the steamer.

Torpedo Strikes.

Before however, the vessel could be turned far enough to avoid crossing the course of the torpedo, the latter struck the hull at an angle a short distance forward of the bride, exploded, destroyed the entire forward part of the steamer as far back as the first water-tight bulkhead, carried away the foremast with the wireless antennae and killed or injured about eighty of the persons on board. (Declaration of Captain Mouffett; report of Rear Admiral Grassett; deposition of Henry S. Beer.) At the time no other vessel was in sight. (Affidavits of Samuel F. Bemis, T. W. Culbertson, John H. Early and others.)

The approach of the torpedo was witnessed by several other persons on the vessel. (Affidavits of H. Bemis, H. Beer, Gertrude W. Warren.) One of these, an American citizen named Henry S. Beer, was leaning on the port rail about ten feet behind the bridge and gazing seaward when he saw the approaching torpedo about 100 yards away and exclaimed to his wife and companion: "A torpedo." Immediately following this exclamation, the missile struck the vessel. (Deposition of Henry S. Beer and Mrs. Henry S. Beer.)

Captain Corroborated.

In further corroboration of the fact that the captain saw the torpedo coming toward the vessel, is the sworn statement of the engineers on duty that the order to port the helm and to stop the starboard engine was received and ordered. (Report of Admiral Grassett.) No reasonable explanation can be given for this unusual order other than that the captain saw something which caused him to change his course sharply to starboard.

In addition to this evidence, which would in itself appear to be conclusive that the agent of destruction was a torpedo is that of Lieut. Smith, U. S. N., attached to the American embassy at Paris, who, accompanied by Maj. Logan, U. S. A., of the embassy, went to Boulogne, inspected the hull of the Sussex and personally found beneath the mass of water-soaked debris of the wreck fifteen pieces of metal which they retained in their possession, as they did not believe the pieces formed part of the vessel. Inspection of the hull disclosed that the vessel was wrecked by an external explosion, the boilers being intact, and that a short distance forward of the bridge was a large dent showing that the vessel had received a heavy blow, the direction of impact being from abaft the beam on an acute angle with the keel of the vessel (report of Lieut. Smith, cabled April 1). This evidence coincides with and corroborates the statement that the vessel was swinging to starboard and away from the torpedo when struck.

Not Part of Mine.

The pieces of metal which the American officers had collected were compared by Lieut. Smith, Lieut. Commander Sayles and Maj. Logan, with mines and plans of mines in possession of the French naval authorities at Boulogne, Rochesfort and Toulon, and British naval authorities at Portsmouth. These officers are positive in their opinion that these pieces of metal were not parts of a mine. (Report of Lieut. Smith, cabled April 2 and 5.)

Among these fifteen pieces of metal were two screw bolts showing the effects of an explosion which were stamped with "K" and "56" on faces of the head of one and "K" and "58" on faces of the head of the other. On examining German torpedoes in possession of the French naval authorities at Toulon, and of the English naval authorities at Portsmouth, the American officers found that identical bolts with the letter "K" and a number were employed to fasten the "war" head (kopf) to the air chamber. (Lieut. Smith's report, cabled April 2, 5 and 13.)

Screws Different.

The screws used in French and English torpedoes have no markings and are of a slightly different size. (Same reports). Furthermore, the American officers were able by comparison and close examination to positively identify and locate all the remaining thirteen pieces of metal as parts of a German torpedo, as follows:

Fragment 4 and 5, portion of bands on engine chamber.

Fragments 6 to 10, inclusive, and 12 parts of engine cylinders.

Fragments 11, 13, 14, 15, parts of steel war head still bearing the distinctive red paint common to German torpedo war heads. (Report of Lieut. Smith, cabled April 15).

In view of these authenticated facts, there can be no reasonable doubt but that the Sussex was torpedoed and that the torpedo was of German manufacture. As no vessel was seen by any person on the Sussex, the conclusion is irresistible that the torpedo was launched without warning from a submarine which was submerged at the time of the attack, and remained beneath the surface after the explosion.

German Statements.

The conclusion thus reached from the evidence (the affidavits being those of American citizens), collected by the department of state is substantiated by a statement in the imperial government's note of April 10, 1916. According to those statements a German submarine torpedoed a steamer 1½ miles southeast of Bull Rock bank.

Department's comment—The point of attack is exactly in the course which was taken by the Sussex after passing Dungeness, and about one-half mile from the place where the captain of the Sussex states he was torpedoed.

B—The attack took place at 3:55 p. m., Central European time. Department's comment 3:55 p. m. Central European time would correspond to 2:55 p. m. Western European time. The time of the striking of the torpedo, according to the captain of the Sussex and the stopping of the clocks on board the vessel, was 2:55 p. m. Western time.

C—The torpedo, when it struck, caused an explosion which tore away the whole fore part of the ship up to the bridge. Department comment—The fore part of the Sussex was wrecked as far back as the first water-tight bulkhead, according to the official reports.

Submarine Submerged.

D—The German submarine was submerged when the torpedo was launched, and there is no statement that it came to the surface after the attack. Department comment—The conclusion was reached that the submarine was submerged from the fact that no one on the Sussex saw a submarine, though the weather was fine.

E—No warning was given and no attempt was made to give one, since it is not mentioned. Department's comment—The evidence collected shows affirmatively no warning was given.

F—A sketch by the submarine commander of the steamer which he torpedoed does not agree with a photograph of the Sussex in the London Graphic. Department's comment—This sketch was apparently made from memory of an observation of the vessel through a periscope. As the only differences noted by the commander, who relied upon his memory, were the position of the smokestack and the shape of the stem, it is to be presumed that the vessels were similar in other respects.

G—No other submarines on that day attacked steamers in that locality. Department's comment—As no vessel is reported to have been torpedoed without warning by a submerged submarine other than the Sussex, it is beyond question that the vessel was torpedoed by the submarine whose commander's report is relied on in the note of April 10.

STAND FIRM FOR HONOR OF NATION

Should Not Be a Divided People, Says Frank Kellogg.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—Frank B. Kellogg last night gave out the following statement on the controversy with Germany:

"Whatever I may think about the manner in which the administration has handled our foreign relations, this is no time to discuss it. There is now only one thing for this country to do, and that is to stand firm for the honor of the nation and for the protection of American citizens, according to the principles of international law and the dictates of humanity. This country cannot consent that these immemorial principles and customs of civilized nations, established for the protection of innocent people against the horrors of war, should be disregarded. In this stand there should not be, and I believe there will not be, a divided people. One thing I hope will now be realized—the absolute necessity for immediate action to protect this country and our institutions. Had we been properly prepared to stand firm and enforce the rights of American citizenship, we should probably never have been confronted with this grave crisis."

I fear that I appeared to be void of all manners. Having to catch a train caused my haste. Please address H 227, Herald.—Herald want ad.

As compared to H 227, Herald, Sir Walter Raleigh was a piker.

Anybody could spread a cloak for a lady, providing he had one and especially if that lady was a queen, as the one Walt served happened to be. Also he had warning that she was coming and had plenty of time to think like the players in the outfield.

Not so with H 227, Herald! He evidently had no time to think, for he was in a rush. But H 227 has a conscience, and it bothered him. He probably pictured that girl thinking to herself:

"Well, whadda yuh think of that boob?"

Of course she might have soliloquized in more elegant language, but the chances are that she did not. But H 227 thought, doubtless, that it was something to that effect. And he couldn't stand it. Therefore, desiring to square himself, and not knowing the young woman, he took the only possible means of reaching her, employing the great modern American medium of reaching anybody, anywhere—he advertised.

H 227 therefore showed himself to be possessed of three excellent qualities: Conscientiousness, innate politeness and modernity in his methods. Persistence might be added as an indicate trait. Now if the young woman should answer, there might result—

ARMY RECRUITS MUST HAVE PURE BREATH

The United States army may be small, but it is composed of real men, according to Sergeant Smeeds, recruiting officer in Duluth.

"The war department is so particular about the qualifications of the men in the army that any applicant having even the smell of liquor on his breath will be rejected," the officer said today. "What we want is men of good moral character as well as sound body and keen intellect. We don't want the bums and riffraff of society—men who have no ambition or energy."

MULE KICKS MAN

* * * *

INTO THE U. S. NAVY

Mike Kovolesky, a strapping young machinist from the range, has been literally "kicked" into the United States navy—that is, if he passes his final tests.

Kovolesky came to Duluth last winter and asked to be enlisted into Uncle Sam's service, but an injury to his nose prevented him from passing the physical tests. About a year ago he had his nose flattened in an accident in the shop where he was working. This greatly impaired his sense of smell and it looked as if a surgical operation would have to be made to check the development of the injury.

But fate saved the day for Mr. Kovolesky and Uncle Sam. The man with the injured nose went to work on a farm and one day while leading a mule to water the animal broke loose, turned tail and kicked Kovolesky. Just where the mule's hoof landed is unnecessary to say except that Kovolesky was saved the trouble of an operation and he now has a straightened nose.

Recruiting Officer E. A. Nippa tested Kovolesky's physical qualifications yesterday and says if the examining physician is willing, Mr. Kovolesky will soon be a jack tar. He is keen to get into the navy and says it is much better sport than leading mules and not half so dangerous.

First Clay County Seeding.

Moorhead, Minn., April 20.—The first seeding reported this spring was started on the John Lamb farm in Oakport township Tuesday. The northeast quarter of section 22 in this township is perfectly drained and has been in seedable condition for several days. Oats will be planted.

DON'T EAT PEANUTS! CAUSE APPENDICITIS

Appendicitis has been directly traced to peanuts. Duluth people should know that simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, often relieves or prevents appendicitis. This simple remedy acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour stomach or gas. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-i-ka is astonishing. W. A. Abbett, druggist.

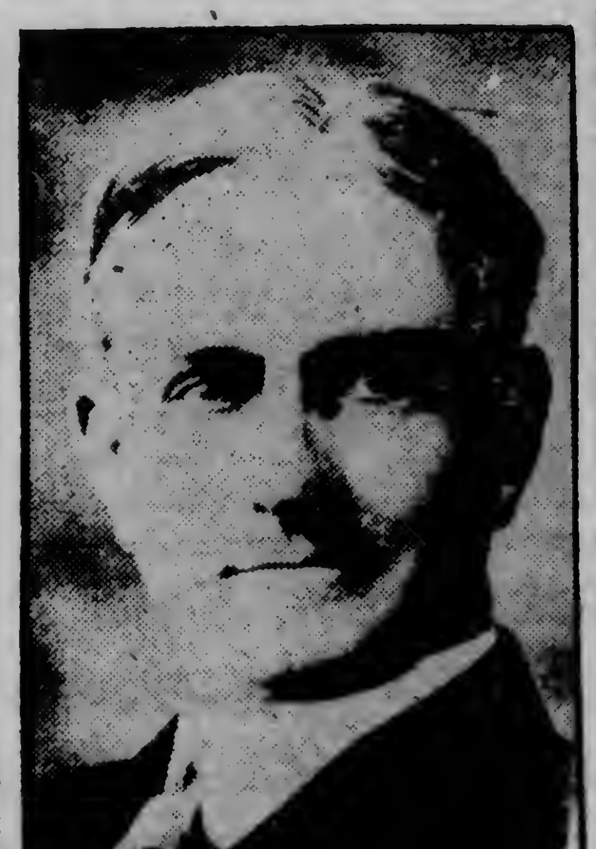
NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

SURVEY WILL BE OUTLINED

Dr. Claxton to Tell North Dakota Regents How Work Is Progressing.

Heads of Various State Educational Institutions to Present Budgets.

Bismarck, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, will be here April 24 to meet with the state board of regents, which has charge of the educational institutions of North Dakota. Dr. Claxton is directing the educational survey of this state, being made under the auspices of the board of regents. Dr. Claxton took charge of the work at the request of the board and is assisted by Dr. E. B. Craighead, formerly president of the University of Montana; Dr. W. T. Bawden, the industrial expert of the bureau of education in Washington, and Dr. L. D. Coffman, of the department of education at the University of Minnesota.



DR. P. P. CLAXTON.

Dr. Claxton has been spending this month in the state of Washington, where he is directing an educational survey and intends to spend the week of April 24 in this state. He was here last November and visited some of the educational institutions and was again in the state since the holidays for a brief period. He will spend Monday and Tuesday in Bismarck in conference with members of the board and may roughly outline the report of the survey commission, which, it is expected, will be completed in June. During the rest of the week the Federal commissioner of education will visit the North Dakota Agricultural college, the State School of Science at Wahpeton and the State Normal-Industrial school at Ellendale.

On his former visits here the doctor became familiar with conditions at the three normals, the state university and the State School of Forestry at Bottineau.

The detail work of the survey commission is being carried out by the three men assisting Dr. Claxton, but the latter is giving it general supervision and direction and is personally interested to a great degree in the educational conditions in North Dakota as some new issues are presented here that differ from the situation in other states.

Meeting of Board.

During the meeting of the board of regents next week each of the presidents of the educational institutions will be present and a number of important matters are to come up for consideration. The board recently let the contracts for the publication of the catalogues of the different institutions and is now securing information regarding the volume of supplies of all character required at each. This will be abstracted in the office of the board, and specifications will be submitted in May to bidders for supplies, the contracts for which will be let in June for the coming fiscal year.

The members of the board believe not only that money may be saved the institutions, but a better quality of goods and more efficient service can be had through letting the contracts for all the institutions through the central organization rather than by each one individually, as has been the custom in the past.

Each president will also submit the the annual budget for the next fiscal year. This plan has not formerly been in vogue at all the state schools. The regents will insist on this system and propose to hold each of the school heads strictly within the appropriations for the biennial period.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Duluth resident has withstood this sternest of all tests.

Mrs. W. W. Montgomery, 307 Chestnut St., Duluth, says: "I have known of Doan's Kidney Pills for years and always speak a good word for them when I can. I suffered from bladder trouble. I had dull, heavy pains in my back and it hurt me to stoop. I was often so bad that I could hardly move. Any rest either day or night was almost impossible and I could hardly work. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was freed from the complaint." (Statement given Oct. 1, 1913.)

On Sept. 17, 1915, Mrs. Montgomery said: "I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time. They did me permanent good and I have always told anyone I have heard complaining, to use them."

Price, 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Montgomery has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MANY "DRY" LAKES NOW RUNNING FULL

Water From Heavy North Dakota Snowfall Filling Up Dry Basins.

Devils Lake, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—After constantly receding for over twenty years, the level of Devils lake, the greatest body of water in North Dakota, is expected to "come back" this spring in a manner that will overcome the deficiency of a term of years.

The vast hills of snow, especially along the Canadian border, have been pouring water southward for more than a week, with the result creeks have developed into rivers.

After passing from existence during the past five years, Lake Ibsen, south of Leeds; Rock lake, near Hansboro; Lake Irwin, north of Churchs Ferry; Dry lake, northwest of Devils lake, and scores of smaller basins have been filled to overflowing this spring.

Lake Bottoms Produced Crops.

Last year these four lake bottoms produced immense crops, there being an aggregate acreage of about 10,000 acres. Ibsen has been dry five years, during which riparian rights have been exercised, which was also done in the cases of Irwin and Dry lakes.

The filling of Lake Irwin, a twin body with Lake Alice, rehabilitates the greatest duck and goose ground in the Northwest, a pass on which millions of birds have been killed.

Cando reports the downpour of water from the Turtle mountains has undermined bridges and flooded a vast acreage.

The little town of Gronna has resorted to dyking in battling the flood waters. Many branch lines in the northern part of the state are experiencing trouble with washouts.

BRAINERD THIEVES STEALING DYNAMITE

Brainerd, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Seafield, head of the Seafield Exploration company, is worried about losing his drill working in the Cuyuna Range addition to Brainerd, where vandals have stolen pipe, wrenches, dynamite caps and dynamite. The drill has reached 112 feet deep. City and county authorities hope to land the thieves quickly.

BEMIDJI SHOOTERS WILL FORM CLUB

Bemidji, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting to be held next week the Bemidji Rifle and Revolver club will be permanently organized. About fifty young men of the city have signed a petition for its organization and as soon as officers are elected work of establishing a range will be begun. The club will be affiliated with the National Rifle association and thus will receive their rifles and ammunition from the government free of charge.

BRAINERD PLANNING FOURTH CELEBRATION

Brainerd, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representatives from fifteen labor and fraternal organizations met at the city hall to decide upon plans for a monster Fourth of July celebration at Brainerd this year. From the amount of enthusiasm shown, little doubt exists that the arrangements will insure a successful celebration. Officers elected were: Chairman, W. F. Dieckhaus; vice chairman, S. R. Adair; treasurer, E. H. Jones; secretary, C. E. Hansing.

IRONWOOD POSITIONS FILLED BY COUNCIL

Ironwood, Mich., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor D. E. Sutherland presided at the first meeting of the new city council, and the following appointments were made: Mayor pro tem, F. W. May; attorney, C. M. Humphrey; assessor, Dudley Houk; sanitary engineer, Dr. J. J. Gerkins; surveyor, James Goudie; board of public works, Chris Bennett, one year, chairman; Richard Zinn, three years; J. W. Best, five years; fire and police commission, Gus Swanson, chairman, one year; Pat Mullen, three years; Adolph Mueller, five years.

POSITIONS FILLED IN WASHBURN, WIS.,

Washburn, Wis., April 20.—The new city council, now in charge of affairs, plans to carry on much street improvement here this year. A. W. McLeod is mayor, while Henry Johnson is president of the council and L. N. Clausen, city clerk. The following were re-elected: Chief of police, A. M. Kerr; street commissioner, Joseph Arseneau, and health officer, Dr. P. G. Frey.

Got Rid of My Corns With Magic "Gets-It"

Simplest Corn Cure in the World—No Pain, No Fuss. New, Sure Way

When corns make you almost "die with your boots on," when you've soaked them and picked them and sliced them, when corn-swelling salves, and tapes, bandages, and plasters that make corns pop-eyed, have only made your corns grow faster, just hold your heart a moment and figure this: Put two drops of "Gets-It" on the corn. It dries at once. You can put your shoe and stocking on right over it. The corn is doomed. It makes the corn come off clear and clean. It's the new, easy way. Nothing to stick or press on the corn. You can wear smaller shoes. You'll be a joy-walker. No pain, no trouble. Accept no substitutes.

Why Have Corns At All When "Gets-It" Removes Them the New, Dead-Sure Way?

PREPARING FOR DRIVING OF LOGS

Lumber Concerns Around Border City Sending Out Crews.

International Falls, Minn., April 20.—The lumber companies are sending out large river-driving crews in the hope of getting the greater share of their logs out during the present favorable conditions. There is still a foot or so of snow in the woods, and this with the usual spring rains should make an unusually favorable spring for driving.

Lower Rainy Very High.

The lower Rainy river is very high owing to the large amount of water running into it from its banks and the creeks along its shores. The ice in the rivers emptying into the Rainy has not gone out. The ice in them is heavy and there are many logs banked along them. When the logs and ice commence to move, old river men expect to see every bridge across them washed out, and Rainy river backed up higher than it was ever before.

REPRESENTATIVE LARSON FILES FOR RE-ELECTION

Sandstone, Minn., April 20.—(Special The Herald.)—Adolph S. Larson, representative from the Fifty-sixth district for two terms, filed at Pine City Tuesday for renomination. He believes in economy, god roads and building up the state. He is a temperance worker and figured in the county option legislation.

TO BOOST HINCKLEY.

Advocates of That City for County Seat Going to Sandstone.

Sandstone, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—As the time for voting on the question of the future location of the county seat of Pine county approaches—May 2—interest in the contest increases. Both Pine City, the present county seat, and Hinckley are making a thorough canvass of the county and interest is very keen in the outcome.

The Pine City advocates held a meeting here Saturday. Their chief speakers were Attorney S. G. L. Roberts and ex-Congressman J. Adam Bede. They brought the Finlayson band with them.

On Friday afternoon and evening the Hinckley representatives will be here to present their side. The Hinckley quartette and the Askov brass band will be present. Attorney Lamson, George Empey and others will speak.

BORDER CITY PAIR ARRESTED AND FREED

International Falls, Minn., April 20.—Loren Dehart swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Brolher, who had lived in his house, alleging that they took some of his furniture when they moved out. After a short time in the county jail where they tried to secure bail they were released and the charge dismissed upon their returning the property and paying costs.

KILLED IN IOWA.

Lathrop, Mich., Young Man Loses Life Falling From Tower.

Negaunee, Mich., April 20.—The funeral of Orren Hayward, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hayward of Lathrop, who was killed at Keokuk, Iowa, Sunday was held at Lathrop today. Mrs. Hayward bringing the body home. The young man's death was caused from injuries he received in a fall from an electric tower on which he was working.

KILLED BY PROTECTOR.

South Dakota Woman Shot By Man Seeking to Shield Her.

Buffalo, S. D., April 20.—Mrs. Irene Puerirea, aged 60, a Harding county resident, near Slim Buttes, was shot and killed accidentally by a young man seeking to protect her from a drunken relative. It is said the young man was staying at Mrs. Puerirea's home. The woman quarreled with her son-in-law, who was intoxicated. The latter fired a revolver. The young man was awakened by the sound of the shot and heard some one at the door. Calling out and getting no reply, he fired through the door, thinking the son-in-law had attacked the woman again. Instead, his victim was Mrs. Puerirea. The young man was not held.

New Ashland Creamery.

Ashland, Wis., April 20.—A model creamery will be erected here by Carl Schindler, to cost $25,000. It will be a brick structure and will cover two city blocks.

The Coleman Creamery company of this city has leased the premises. Fred Uecke, a graduate of the agricultural school of the University of Wisconsin, will manage the plant.

Bemidji Girls' Ball Club.

Bemidji, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Girls of the Bemidji high school have organized a baseball team and held their first practice on Wednesday. The team will be under the supervision of Julius Bestul, coach of athletics in the Bemidji high school. This is the first girls' baseball team to ever be organized in Bemidji schools.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette — Delegates to the state convention, selected at the Marquette county Republican convention Tuesday, were instructed to support Albert E. Petermann of Calumet as delegate-at-large to the national gathering at Chicago.

Menominee—A recent real estate deal here was the purchase this week of the Electric Square block and the Kable property upon which it is located by the Stocklin Drug company. Twenty thousand dollars is the amount reported involved in the deal by which the drug company comes into possession of the property at the northwest corner of Main street and Ogden avenue, formerly owned by Mrs. Margaret Kable.

Ishpeming—Robert J. Wise, who has been general secretary of the Ishpeming branch of the Young Men's Christian association ever since the organization was formed some years ago, has resigned, and will leave here for Flint June 1. In his new position Mr. Wise will be engaged in developing activities among the factory workers employed in the automobile industry at Flint.

Houghton—The Houghton high school authorities will sanction no interscholastic athletics this year. Interclass games will be permitted.

Ishpeming — The Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railway company is distributing ore cars to the mines of both Ishpeming and Negaunee. The Oliver company has received shipping orders and the Cleveland-Cliffs is also preparing to begin loading.

Hancock—The funeral of Thomas W. Jilbert was held Tuesday afternoon, the Blue Lodge F. & A. M., of Houghton having charge. Services were held at the house and the remains were laid at rest in Forest Hill cemetery, Houghton.

Chassell — Charles Peterson hanged himself near here. He had several checks issued by the St. Paul Railroad company in his pocket. He was a section man and indications are that he was dead for two or three months, probably having been frozen to death. He is about 55 years of age.

Houghton—The erection of the new tower for the weather bureau on the roof of the Masonic building has been about completed.

Hubbell—Contractor John J. Michels of Houghton has been awarded the job of erecting the new depot here for the Copper Range Railroad company. This depot will be modern in every way.

Houghton—The jury in the case of the People vs. Joseph Stukel of Calumet, charged with the violation of the liquor laws, by keeping open on Sunday, returned a sealed verdict of guilty. Judge O'Brien imposed a fine of $50 and costs of $25 against Stukel, which was paid.

Calumet—George Martin, clerk of Calumet township for the past six years, will run for the office of treasurer of Houghton county and petitions for the nomination of Mr. Martin are being circulated throughout the county.

Houghton—Observer H. B. Cowdrick of the local weather bureau station announces that the display of storm warnings will be resumed on April 20.

Lake Linden—Patrick Carbray, a former resident of Lake Linden, died at Detroit recently. The family resided here almost from the time the village was established and moved to Detroit about six years ago. He is survived by his wife, three sons, Michael, William and Joseph, and two daughters, Mary and Lillian.

Negaunee—Arthur Sawbridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sawbridge, has been notified by the Illinois-Central Railroad company that he has been appointed traveling passenger agent of that road.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Madison—According to returns made to State Fire Marshal M. J. Cleary, fire losses in Wisconsin during March totaled $419,415, covered by insurance of $973,085. The number of fires was 259. This is a considerable decrease from the corresponding month of March, 1915, when the losses were $520,300 and the number of fires 280.

To People Who Are Under Normal Weight

Good Advice For Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women Who Want to Put on Flesh

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered combination of assimilative agents has made fat grow after years of thinness, and it is also unequaled, judging from reports, for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable preparation is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing assimilative elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this preparation, which is endorsed and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A few weeks' systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying nourishing fats to the blood. If not, every druggist who sells it is authorized to return the purchase price. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are thus provided. Boyce Drug store and other leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

While this new preparation has from reports given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, its use is not recommended to nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.—Advertisement.

Stevens Point—Miss Marion Russell and many of her pupils of District No. 5, town of Hull, are obliged to go to and from school in boats during the high water that has existed for the last two weeks.

Sheboygan—The Sheboygan Forest Preservation society, which owns a large track of original pine forest south of the city at Black river, and the only remnant of the nine woods that once covered this region, held its first meeting in two years and re-elected the old officers.

Grand Rapids—Frank Lukaseski, 17 years old, was instantly killed in the Port Edwards paper mill while attempting to put a broken sheet of paper between a revolving roll. He was drawn into the machine and his head crushed to a pulp.

Wausau—The national board of the American Society of Equity is in session here and will ocntinue its deliberations until Saturday.

Birchwood — Because of increased traffic the Omaha road will lay heavier rails between Tuscobia and a point two miles north of Birchwood.

Oshkosh—William F. Porath, who was elected commissioner to succeed Henry F. Hagenes, on Tuesday assumed his office. According to reports, many people in this city are of the opinion that the commission form of government has about outlived its usefulness here. There is talk of going back to the aldermanic system when the six years of trial expires.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—Over 300 Masons from Warroad, Crookston, Park River, Forest River, Grafton and other towns in Northwestern Minnesota and North Dakota gathered here to witness work in the third degree, done by twelve past masters of the state.

Fargo, N. D.—Organizer Stevens of Fargo lodge, Camels of the World, reports that the lodge has taken an option on the John Sclanser lot, Eighth street and Northern Pacific avenue, for the erection of its $50,000 club house, which will be 70 by 170 feet.

Minot, N. D.—The total enrollment in the city schools since last September is 1,586. The membership last month was 1,411 and the average daily attendance was 1,243. The number of pupils neither tardy nor absent for the month was sixty-seven.

Crary, N. D.—Mr. and Mrs. Ahlbrecht, who have conducted a hotel in Crary for several years, sold the fixtures and furniture to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jacobson, who are now in possession. Mr. Ahlbrecht will probably continue to live in Crary.

Prosper, N. D.—Funeral services for Christ Siljidahl, who died at his home here Sunday morning, took place from the Sheyenne River Swedish church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment was made in the church cemetery. Mr. Siljidahl was the leading butcher of Prosper.

Minot, N. D.—Miss Alma Nelson, living near Drady, who was the victim of a brutal attack by George Hemingen, a farm hand employed on her father's farm, is resting easily. She has two severe cuts in the scalp, her left arm is broken and she was severely injured in the side. Hemingen is in the county jail, having waived a preliminary hearing and was unable to furnish bail. He has expressed a desire to plead guilty and will be sentenced to the penitentiary, but State's Attorney Herigstad has refused to allow him to plead pending the girl's condition.

Grafton, N. D.—Work has commenced on the excavation for the basement and foundation of the new Reyleck block.

Fargo, N. D.—Six of the dozen head of deer rescued from the ice in the Missouri river, southeast of Williston, have survived the terrible ordeal they were subjected to, according to the official report of E. B. McCutcheon, chief game warden of the Northern district, made to J. T. Purcell of this city, secretary of the board. The other six deer are dead, the exposure on the ice for so long a period proving fatal.

Devils Lake, N. D.—The annual meeting of the North Dakota Launderers' association will be held in Fargo on May 8 and 9. President Johnson of Devils Lake is in charge of the preparation of the program which, it is said, will contain much of interest to the laundrymen of North Dakota.

Des Lacs, N. D.—The Great Northern dam in the coulee here came near going out owing to the high water from the melting snow and it was only by dint of hard work with a large force of men working throughout a whole night that the dam and water were saved and other damage averted.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Crookston—Joe Jerrick, erstwhile farmer from Nesbit township, Polk county, arrested some time ago in Chicago, on the charge of selling mortgaged property, appeared before Judge Watts in district court and was sentenced to the penitentiary at Stillwater.

Bemidji—Wilho Salmi, arrested by J. P. Brandt, special Federal officer, on a charge of introducing liquor into Indian territory at Remer, had a hearing before Judge H. A. Simons, United States commissioner and was committed to the St. Louis county jail to await action of the Federal grand jury at Duluth July 11.

Crookston—E. G. Eklund, Robert Anderson and Engineer Boyer have gone to Eldred to inspect ditch No. 98, and also to repair ditch No. 19. Work has begun on the new athletic park west of the plant of the Minnesota Electric Light & Power company on Fourth street. Men are leveling the grounds and the construction of a fence will begin immediately. Bleachers and grandstands will be constructed as soon as the fence is completed. The improvements will cost about $2,000.

St. Cloud—George Guy has recently been elected as director of manual arts at the high school at Hopkins, near Minneapolis. Mr. Guy is a graduate of the mechanic arts departments of the high and normal schools of this city and will graduate in June from the Stout Institute at Menomonie, Wis.

Little Falls—No further reports of trouble with the big log jam above the city have been received and it is thought that the jam is lodged tightly enough to prevent its going out until the boom company gets ready to move it.

Bemidji—Tom Olson, who was committed to the Beltrami county jail last week on a charge of introducing liquor into Indian treaty territory, suffered from an attack of acute appendicitis and will be taken to the St. Anthony hospital for an operation as soon as authority can be received from the government.

Fergus Falls—H. V. Anderson of Clearbrook, Minn., has arrived to take the place of Mr. McNelly, as cow tester. He worked two years under the instruction of A. J. McGuire at the Grand Rapids experiment station.

Rochester—Thomas Feeney, 10 years old, narrowly escaped burning to death early Monday evening, when the frame bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick H. Feeney on their farm two and a half miles south of Rochester, caught fire and burned to the ground.

Sauk Center—Improvement work on the Benton county fair grounds is to start at once and the changes outlined are all along the latest and most modern ideas.

St. Cloud—Easter Monday Mr. and Mrs. William Mund, pioneer settlers in this city will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Mund is a prominent member of the local G. A. R. post and it is not unlikely that they will take part in the celebration.

Moorhead—H. H. Hansen has returned from Chicago, where he attended a special meeting of the supreme council of the Royal league.

East Grand Forks—Thirty business places in East Grand Forks are affected by the ban raised by Polk county police officials against the sale of malt and "near beer."

Stillwater—Peter Bebau, 83 years old, and for forty years a resident of Washington county, died April 18. He came here from Canada and is survived by a widow and nine children.

SPORT NEWS AND COMMENT GLEANED FROM MANY SOURCES

Cutler Changes His Mind About Chance Gotch Will Have With Stecher—Unlucky Willie Ritchie Headed Westward—Dan O'Leary Is Still Hiking.

Charlie Cutler, next best heavyweight wrestler in the world to Frank Gotch and Joe Stecher, has changed his opinion regarding the outcome of a match between the last two grapplers.

While in Portland, Or., and San Francisco, Cal., on a recent trip, Cutler was freely quoted as saying that he thought Stecher would defeat Gotch if the latter was not as good as he ever was.

After seeing the Humboldt man in action on the coast and taking a peek at his condition, Cutler has changed his view. He now says that he thinks Gotch will win.

Joe Hetmanek, the "hick" manager of Joe Stecher, makes no concealment of his attitude concerning the coming match between Stecher and Gotch for the world's championship. "Joe and Gotch will meet in the middle states," said the manager of the marvelous Nebraska athlete the other day.

"This match was promised to Gene Melady months ago. Eastern managers may have had Gotch to sign a circus contract which binds him until October, but unless Gotch tumbles to himself and busts the contract there will be no match.

"October will be too late for an outdoor contest, and it would be positively absurd to stage such an important contest indoors.

"Gene Melady has been sticking for us from the start and we intend to stick to him. Melady prefers to put on the match in Omaha, and so do we. Unless it is held not later than Labor day and out of doors, under Gene Melady's promotion, we will not sign up. Eastern promoters may have made other arrangements, but that doesn't make any difference to us."

Willie Has Bad Luck.

Unlucky Willie Ritchie, so the story comes floating from the East, is shortly to wend his way from Gotham coastward to spend the summer months, and, perhaps, just perhaps, to quit the boxing game for good. When he went to New York city last fall there was every indication that Ritchie would do mighty well from a financial standpoint, and that, of course, is what chiefly concerns the modern scrappers.

Willie accepted a couple of minor engagements that he might get himself into the best of condition, and then set his sails for a bout with Ted Lewis, the English crack, who was stirring matters up, pugilistically, about that time.

The San Franciscan was to have been guaranteed a fat sum of money for the Lewis bout, but just about the time he was ready for the engagement it was discovered that in training he had fractured a rib, not severely, but sufficiently to call for a rest.

Sorely disappointed, Ritchie took a layoff of five or six weeks, spending the time in Florida, where he golfed, danced and otherwise whiled away his hours of freedom.

Then Willie returned to New York. First of all he accepted a minor match in Chattanooga as a starter and then edged his way back to the city of all cities, where he was billed to take on an unknown in the Bronx. It was more a publicity campaign than anything else. Ritchie trained faithfully from all accounts, but discovered again to his disappointment that the rib had not mended.

A trip to the doctor revealed the fact that it was not a broken rib this time, but instead a strained muscle that was at fault. The physician, so goes the story, has advised Willie that he will need to remain quiet for three or four months.

His Eastern campaign has been anything but a success financially and now that the summer is coming on, Ritchie figures to return home and put in at least a couple of month of motoring throughout the state and possibly to Portland.

O'Leary Just a Kid.

Dan O'Leary of Chicago, 73 years young, a fine physical example of what clean living and athletics will do for a person, dropped into Springfield, Mass., yesterday afternoon and announced he had just completed the 26-mile walk from Hartford, accompanied by five traveling salesmen. The walk was not made on a wager, but was for pleasure only, being arranged some few weeks ago when the "crowd" got together in a Western city. They started on the journey at 7 o'clock yesterday morning and at 12:32 o'clock the six pedestrians arrived at the Springfield postoffice, covering the 26 miles in 5:32, an average speed of one mile in a little more than 12¾ minutes. The other persons in the party were James K. Sullivan of Boston, Charles G. Palmer of Worcester, John Conley of Lowell, William Lord of Boston and John G. Mahoney of Boston. All reported themselves as somewhat tired and dreary after the lengthy grind, with the exception of Dan O'Leary. He trotted around briskly and failed to show any signs of weariness from the long walk.

Benny Kauff says his name is not pronounced that way at all. It is "Cowf," of the barnyard or dairy farm variety. Some people thought it could be pronounced to rhyme with laugh, and the news from Benny will be a disappointment to poets who were framing up a few things on him.

John McGraw has this to say about Benny Kauff, the slugging king of the defunct Feds: "Players like Kauff made baseball the national game. He has the spirit I like. It will carry him far. Benny is no man's fool. He is a smart little fellow and he's in there thinking all the time. He has made himself the most talked of baseball player in the world. Those who think they are kidding him better wake themselves up."

Meyers Youthful Marvel.

Catcher Bill Meyers, of the Athletics, is only 23 years old, but has a good deal of baseball experience. Almost everybody has been marveling at the knowledge Meyers has of the fine points of catching and could not understand where he had picked them up, until Meyers informed Mack that he had been under the wing of Bill Sullivan, the veteran catcher, while with the White Sox, four years ago.

Devore With Brewers.

Toledo, Ohio, April 20.—Josh Devore, formerly of the Philadelphia Nationals, played the outfield yesterday for Milwaukee in the American association. Devore was purchased outright, according to Manager Clark of the Brewers. His first day's record in the association was one hit in four times at bat.

Drenching Rain Drives Recruits Indoors, Making Games Impossible.

Exhibition Contest May Not Be Played Here Saturday.

Unless there is a decided change in the weather today it is more than probable that the Duluth baseball fans who so anxiously looked forward to witnessing the exhibition game next Saturday afternoon at Athletic park between the Superior and Duluth teams of the Northern league will be highly disappointed.

The heavy northeast gale that set in yesterday afternoon and which has continued with but slight intermission since, has drenched the park, converting it into a big mud bed. Prospects for late afternoon and evening weather today are for continued rain. An early hot sun tomorrow and Saturday might absorb the moisture in the ball yard so that the much-looked forward to exhibition could be successfully staged, but the prospects are not at all bright.

Practice, which the White Sox had scheduled for yesterday afternoon, had to be abandoned on account of cold weather and rain, the players remaining at the Rex hotel in the western part of the city where they are making their headquarters. Manager O'Brien is making an effort to secure the old armory for today. If he is successful he will stage an indoor ball game this afternoon and will give his pitchers a chance to warm up and keep their arms in shape. Batting practice will also be featured.

Conditions at Superior are similar to those in this city, with the exception that the Red Sox have no large building in which to work out. Most of the members of the crew that will represent the metropolis of Douglas county have arrived and are reported to be in good playing form.

Assurances were received from Virginia last evening that the Queen City of the Mesaba range will surely have a team on the Northern circuit this season. The fans of the "greatest little city in the world" have come across with approximately $3,000 to help out Messrs. A. B. Coates and Ted Finch, who, heretofore, have always borne the burden of the expense. Lefty Davis, who has been selected to manage the Ore Diggers, is assembling his crew and expects to have enough men on hand by Sunday so he can send a team against the fast semi-professional team of Hibbing.

Split the Result.

Boston, Mass., April 20.—Washington won a second time from the Red Sox in the forenoon game yesterday. The Senators gained a lead in the fifth inning by bunching two singles and Williams' double for two runs. In the ninth Barry tripled to deep center and the sequel was Washington's score by a squeeze play, but the batsman, Manager Carigan, failed to hit the ball and the runner was out at the plate. Score: R. H. E.

Washington ....1 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—3 6 0

Batteries—Boehling and Williams, Henry; G. Foster and Cady, Agnew.

Leonard, pitching his first game of the season, held Washington to three hits in the afternoon and Boston shut out Washington, 2 to 0. Washington had won the morning game, 3 to 2. Morgan, who led off with a double in the second inning of the afternoon contest, and advanced on a sacrifice, was the only Senator to reach third base. Timely hitting enabled the Red Sox to score their runs. Henriksen singled during the second inning, advanced on a sacrifice and scored on Gardner's triple to right field. In the sixth inning Henriksen walked, went to second on a put-out and scored when Barry doubled. Score: R. H. E.

Boston ....0 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 x—2 6 0

Yankees Defeat Athletics.

New York, April 20.—New York took the lead in the American league yesterday by defeating Philadelphia, the score being 2 to 1. Markle, a recruit from the Texas league, pitched for the Yankees and held the Athletics to three hits. Crowell, who was on the mound seven innings for Philadelphia, also pitched well, allowing only four hits, three of them being infield singles by Gilhooley.

Errors enabled New York to win in the first inning when Maisel walked and scored on Pick's wild throw and Gilhooley's infield single. Gilhooley scored on Oldring's muff of Baker's fly. Score: R. H. E.

New York ......2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 x—2 5 0

Browns Win From White Sox.

Chicago, April 20.—St. Louis hammered Cicotte yesterday and easily downed Chicago, 6 to 2, while Wellman, except in the second inning, had the White Sox at his mercy. A home run by Felsch, following a pass to Terry, accounted in that inning for the two Chicago runs. Lavan's fielding was a feature. Score: R. H. E.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Superbas' First Victory.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 20.—Brooklyn won its first game of the season yesterday, defeating New York, 7 to 3. Manager Robinson benched O'Mara and Gotz, sending Olson to short and Mowry to third. Olson's batting and fielding were the features. He figured in eight fast plays, two of them doubles. His single in the second scored a run, and in the eighth, with the score tied, his long single to center drove in Wheat and Mowry. Brooklyn gave Smith faultless support, while the Giants were weak in the field. Score: R. H. E.

New York .....0 0 0 1 2 0 0 0 0—3 11 4

Champions Beat Braves.

Philadelphia, April 20.—Wildness on the part of Boston's pitchers proved very costly yesterday, the home players hitting the ball hard after batsmen had been given passes, Philadelphia winning, 6 to 5. Boston sent in three pitchers in the eighth inning and all of them were ineffective. Bender made his first appearance as a National leaguer in the ninth and prevented Boston from scoring. Score: R. H. E.

Boston ....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 2 0—5 11 0

AMERICAN ASS'N.

Colonels Swamp Millers.

Louisville, Ky., April 20.—In a game featured by hard hitting, Louisville defeated Minneapolis 16 to 5 here yesterday. The teams ran nip and tuck until the fifth when Farmer, in a pinch hitting role, turned the tide by tripling with two on bases. Whiteman hit three singles and walked three times in six trips to the plate. Purdue was the only effective pitcher. Three of Louisville's scores in the eighth counted when Altizer muffed Corridon's high pop with the bases full. Score: R. H. E.

Kaws Win From Senators.

Columbus, Ohio, April 20.—Kansas City took yesterday's game from Columbus 4 to 3. Four singles in the sixth gave the visitors a lead that they retained. In the last half, the home hitters got to Humphries for three runs. After Leonard had opened the seventh with a two-bagger and Bradley sacrificed, Reagan proved successful in relief of Humphries. A throw by Demmitt was the fielding feature. Score: R. H. E.

Bresnahans Beat Brewers.

Toledo, Ohio, April 20.—Toledo found Hovlik for three hits in the sixth inning in yesterday's game with Milwaukee and won by the score of 3 to 1, after Kaiserling and Hovlik had engaged in a pitchers' battle for five scoreless innings. A base on balls and two stolen bases also aided the locals in winning. Kaiserling held Milwaukee to four scattered hits. Sweeney caught his first game for Toledo. Score: R. H. E.

Milwaukee ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1 4 3

Lewis Bests Abel.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 20.—Ted Lewis, the Briton claiming the welterweight boxing championship of the world, last night won a decision over Jake Abel of Chattanooga, after eight rounds of fast fighting. Abel found it difficult to reach Lewis with any force, but by clever defensive fighting avoided severe punishment.

DON'T SQUEEZE BLACKHEADS—DISSOLVE THEM

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation—then, too, after they have become hard you cannot get all of them out. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of powdered neroxin—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition—anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should try this simple method.—Advertisement.

Coach Ten Eyck Also Working Hard With Crew of Youngsters.

Fired by the personal enthusiasm of Albert Ames, the hustling spirit brought back from Medford, Or., at the urgent request of Julius Barnes to act as general secretary, the 700 odd members of the Duluth Boat club are beginning to unleash their patriotism and are getting into the game of boosting the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen of America which will be held in Duluth next August.

Although the greatest event of an athletic nature that Duluth has ever been handed will not be staged for several months, the boosters of the Zenith City are already beginning to get on the job. Personal letters are being sent out to every city in the Northwest telling of the big event and what a grand show it promises to be. And this is only the beginning. Mr. Ames has a wonderful versatility in giving publicity to any worthy cause and when he begins to unfold his magnetic features they are certain to attract attention.

Since his arrival he has enthused life into every department of the club. Day and night he is working assiduously among the members bringing them to a full realization of what the regatta means to Duluth. Before the end of May it is almost certain that the whole world will know of the show that the Duluth club is going to give.

While Mr. Ames is busy with the publicity features, Coach Edward Hanlon Ten Eyck, twice winner of the senior championship sculls at the Royal English Henley regatta on the Thames, is getting about seventy young Duluthians into the most perfect physical condition and instructing them in the great science of pulling an oar. He has some fine material to work with and will, undoubtedly, develop several fast crews.

Last evening the recruits were scheduled to row on the bay but rain and rough weather made this impossible. Should the storm abate by this evening Ten Eyck expects to send all of the youngsters through their laps.

WILL CELEBRATE END OF BALL WAR

Cubs-Reds Game in Chicago Will Be Made Gala Event.

Chicago, April 20.—The National league, which has staged its Chicago games on the West side for twenty-five years and before that played on the South side, invades the North side today when the Cubs open the local season against Cincinnati on the grounds built two years ago for the Federal league.

The game will be the occasion for a general celebration of the end of the baseball war and the inclusion among National league club owners of Charles Weeghman and his fellow stockholders in the new club. August Herrmann and a squad of fans from Cincinnati arrived this morning to take part in the preliminaries, which include a motor parade from the down town district to the park.

Harvard Wins From Middies.

Annapolis, Md., April 20.—Though outbatted by the midshipmen more than two to one, Harvard won a ten-inning game of baseball here yesterday afternoon, 4 to 1. A heated controversy followed the decision of Umpire Betts allowing Knowles to score in the tenth.

Minneapolis, Minn. — Minneapolis golf enthusiasts already are out in large numbers and some remarkably low scores have been hung up. The local veteran, Harry G. Des Moines, Iowa—If conditions are favorable, followers of athletics here believe a world's record or two may be broken in the Drake university's relay races April 22. Except for the mark of 17:55, set by John Paul Jones and his colleagues on the Cornell quartet in 1911. Drake claims that the fastest four miles ever run was on its stadium cinders when Wisconsin's team last year scampered over the distance in 18:04 2-5. The Badgers will be back here next Saturday and possibly will have Michigan as a pace setter. It is understood that the Wolverines have not determined whether to form a four-mile or two-mile team out of available men, though Coach Farrell's men at Buffalo recently broke a world's record in a two-mile race with Cornell.

Carleton, Macalester, Hamline, St. Johns, St. Olaf, Gustavus Adolphus, Luther seminary, St. Thomas and Concordia college, have been asked to join the association. Gopher athletes compete in both meets and as the Northwestern society events are of a different nature and are held two weeks before the Western events, the big meet of the year, the Minnesota "U" men claim to be greatly handicapped for the latter affair.

Take Iron, Says Doctor, if You Want Plenty of "Stay There" Strength Like an Athlete!

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate, Nervous, Rundown People 200% Stronger in Two Weeks' Time, in Many Cases.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a well-known Specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong, but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, rundown people who were ailing all the while, double and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prizefighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer, is one of the newer organic iron compounds. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Boyce Drug store and all other druggists.

St. Louis, Mo.—Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Nationals, apparently is about ready to flip up a coin to decide whether Rogers Hornsby or Roy Corhan shall guard the shortstop position. Hornsby worked in the spring series against Fielder Jones' Americans, and batted better than .500. In the first few games of the season he has proved to be an efficient run-getter. Huggins credits his somewhat erratic fielding to over-zealousness which is believed will wear off as the season advances.

Roy Corhan's arm is rounding into shape rapidly. He probably will be ready to take his place at shortstop within a few days. Considering Hornsby's knack of getting on the bases and putting over runs, Huggins expects to find a place for him. If Corhan takes the infield position, Huggins considers using Hornsby in the outfield, especially when his team is facing a left-handed pitcher.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Candidates for the 1916 football eleven of the University of Michigan now are in the midst of a two weeks' training session ordered by Coach Fielding H. Yost. Coach Yost expects to remain here during the spring season and has been driving his men hard. With many green candidates on the spring squad, Yost hopes to teach his men the fundamentals of the game during the Easter period.

Detroit, Mich.—Power boat racing probably will receive added impetus in this section at least, as three interlake yacht clubs have affiliated with the American Powerboat association. The clubs are in Detroit, Cleveland and Sandusky, and it is expected that other yachting organizations will fall in line.

Chicago—When the Chicago White Sox battle Cleveland at Cleveland April 25 they will have a large delegation of "fans" from their home city with them. A special train has been engaged and several hundred reservations already have been made. The crowd, which will be headed by Owner Charles Comiskey of the White Sox, is going to the Ohio city for two reasons. First to root for the White Sox, and second to honor the new Cleveland owners, most of whom are Chicagoans.

Chicago—Since the Chicago White Sox returned from their training trip they have released three pitchers. Manager Rowland's veterans showed such good form in the early games, and two of the recruits came through with colors flying that he decided he would have to give some of his youngsters a change of scenery. He released Horace Eller to the Moline club, from which he came; Malcolm Galvin of the University of Wisconsin, and Ray Clarke, an Ohio player, were released to the Hannibal, Mo., club. All players were released with "strings attached to them."

READY FOR REGATTA.

Princeton and Harvard Crews in Good Condition for Race.

Princeton, N. J., April 20.—The Princeton and Harvard crews were given their final workouts yesterday in preparation for their regatta today. In the forenoon, Coach Herrick of Harvard put his junior team through hard practice and devoted but little attention to the senior varsity. He reversed this order in the afternoon, giving most of his time to the seniors. Dr. Spaeth, the Princeton coach, gave his seniors an easy row, but kept his junior crew on the water for a longer period.

Coaches of both crews reported their men in excellent condition.

LATE SEASON NOW CERTAIN

Trout Will Not Bite Until May, Is Prediction of Experts.

Still Plenty of Snow in Woods and Streams Are High and Wild.

Brook trout fishing in Northern Minnesota is not expected by experts to amount to much this year until at least the latter part of May. Anglers and farmers who have been in the woods, and who are bringing reports into the city daily, give it as their belief that the unfavorable conditions that have existed since the season opened last Saturday will continue, but with considerable moderation, for several weeks at least.

Al Arnson, well-known Duluth fisherman and trap shooter, who has long been identified with the various gun clubs at the Head of the Lakes, has just returned from a trip to the north shore, where he plans on opening a fish and game resort at Nine Mile lake, near Kramer. He reports that all of the north shore streams are high and roiley, in many instances having completely overflowed their banks. All of the many little freshets that empty into these streams are filled with plenty of food for the fish, and the latter will not be eager to bite for some time.

"In some places in the woods the snow is several feet in depth," said Mr. Arnson, "and many of the roads back up in the country are still covered with sufficient ice and snow to afford good sleighing. Until all of this snow has disappeared and the freshets dry up in a great degree, there will be little or no trout fishing. What is needed more than any other one thing is a good drenching of warm rain. Then a few days of hot sunshine will do the rest."

Angling enthusiasts who frequent the various sporting goods stores of the city do not expect to go out to the streams until the very last of May or the first week in June.

When the trout fishing season opens in Wisconsin the first of next month, it is probable that a number of Duluthians who annually make pilgrimages to the Brule river will make preparations to visit the Badger state. Several local lovers of outdoor sports have lodges on the Brule, and spend many weeks of the summer season there.

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, MD

Sermon On Cancer By a Reader

Here is a letter from a reader. It speaks for itself.

"My mother has just died from cancer of the breast. I have a lump the size of a hen's egg in the right breast which is very painful. We have a splendid family doctor, who operated upon mother after she had had trouble with the breast for many years. The doctor is very anxious to operate on me, but I have no faith in either the knife or X-ray (my mother had X-ray treatment after her operation).

WILLIAM BRADY MD

"I have heard some doctors can draw them out. Our doctor says they are fakes. In the meantime, what is to become of me?

"What I want is honest, disinterested advice. I discovered the lump about eighteen months ago, but I did not tell the doctor about it till last week. I would be very grateful if you will answer through the paper."

Playing with fire is a gentle pastime compared with the risk this woman is assuming. What kind of psychology is it that explains her procrastination? She states that she has a splendid family doctor, and that he has urged her to submit to operation. But she wants honest, disinterested advice! Where can she obtain such advice, if not from that same family doctor? He has given her the only advice an honest doctor would dare to give in such a case. Would she look to the charlatan who "draws them out" for honest advice? No paste, ray, diet, medicine or treatment of any kind whatever can offer even a fighting chance for cancer of the breast. There is only one hope of cure, and that is prompt and radical surgery. Procrastination, not surgery, brings the disappointments. A week of delay may turn down the balance against a cure. Any woman with a lump in the breast should not rest a single day without having absolute proof that the lump is not cancer.

We have personally observed scores of instances in which a certain type of "doctor," save the name, attempted to "draw it out," and while the poor, deluded victim often imagined the sloughing off of a mass of the cancer meant that cure was assured, invariably the result was disastrous. Not even the knife, which at least does its work in a cleanly way and never causes bloodpoisoning, can offer a reasonable chance of cure unless the nodes or lymph-glands high in the armpit are thoroughly dissected out, too. For the lymph-glands draining the cancer are invariably involved in the disease and must be removed. All cancer pastes, oils and other devices of "cancer specialists" are based upon a stupendous ignorance of the nature of the disease.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Treatment of Tuberculosis.

What is a good diet for a tuberculosis patient? Is milk good? Should it be taken cold, cow warm, or boiled? Are raw eggs better than soft boiled eggs? Is woolen or cotton underwear preferable? How much exercise should he take? What is the doctor's name that claims he has a tuberculosis cure?

Answer—The diet should include a full variety of all ordinary foods. Milk is good, however you like it best. Raw eggs are in no sense preferable to cooked eggs. In general, woolen underwear is better; light weight, knitted goods. The amount of exercise should be determined largely by the temperature; when fever is present, rest is the thing. The doctor's name is Nature—we think Old Doctor Nature is the only healer that has ever produced any great number of cures.

Inadequate Nourishment May Agree With Child.

Our baby is a bottle-fed boy, 7 months old. He receives condensed milk, which agrees with him, but he has head sweats and looks very pale. He is very fat, but weak in muscles.

Answer—Baby poison, that's what condensed milk is. Rickets is probably developing. Better give some clean, fresh milk.

SLIM YOUTH WINS BOSTON MARATHON

Roth Beats Veterans; Kyronen 70 Yards Behind in 25-Mile Race.

Boston, Mass., April 20.—Victor's honors in the annual American marathon race were won yesterday by Arthur V. Roth, a youth of slight build, who ran for the Dorchester club of this city. From the fourth mile of the twenty-five-mile course, his speed kept in his wake three score of the sturdiest distance runners in this country and Canada.

Less than 11 seconds separated Roth from the sprinting second man at the finish, Villar Kyronen of the Millrose A. A., New York. Sydney Hatch, the Illinois Athletic club's veteran, was third, and J. J. Corkery of Toronto, whose amateur status was cleared only at the last moment, fourth.

Roth's winning time was 2 hours, 27 minutes, 16 2-5 seconds, 11 minutes behind the record for the event. The other five leaders and their times were:

Two—Villar Kyronen, Millrose A. A., New York, 2:27:27. 3—Sydney Hatch, Illinois A. C., Chicago, 2:28:30. 4—J. J. Corkery, Sportsmen's P. A., Toronto, 2:30:34. 5—William D. Brown, Quincy, 2:34:18.

Roth was among the leaders as the pack dashed away from the start in Ashland at noon, and he had shaken all off but Kyronen and Lynch of Washington at South Framingham four miles beyond.

The running was ideal, the roads were dry without being dusty, and the air was clear. Roth topped the Newton hills running strong and then, with the dome of the state house in sight as a guide, sped down the long incline through cheering crowds that lined the streets on either side.

Behind him, Kyronen was coming slowly through the field, overhauling the veterans, Hatch, Kennedy and Corkery, until he had gained second place, four miles from the finish. A mile from the finish he caught a glimpse of the leader, and quickened his pace. The two raced for the goal, but Roth had the strength and speed to maintain most of his advantage, and won seventy yards in front.

CORNER LOT BALL PLAYERS, LISTEN!

Herald Will Be Glad to Publish Advance Notices, Stories of Games and Challenges of Juvenile Players of Duluth.

Appreciating in the fullest that corner lot baseball is the real national game and more important than the professional contests of the major leagues, The Herald is anxious to help, in every way, the juvenile players of Duluth by publishing their challenges, advance notices of their games and the lineups and scores of their contests. The boys of Duluth who play ball are requested to send in all the information they desire concerning their teams and it will be given the same consideration accorded their big brothers.

On the corner lot is where the real baseball spirit is born and developed. No monetary consideration is attached to the play of the kids. They play ball because they love the sport. And where do you see harder fought diamond battles?

If the boys of this city will send in all the information they have of juvenile games The Herald will gladly assign them a column of their own on its sports page.

SALTERS WIN HARD BATTLE

Defeat Cathedral Team in Game Marked By Brilliant Playing.

Heavy weather last evening prevented local patrons of basket ball from witnessing one of the best and most hotly contested games of the present season when the Salters took on the Cathedrals at the Y. M. C. A. gym and defeated them 8 to 7. The handful of rooters who did brave the driving northeast rain to witness the battle were well repaid for their trouble.

In the second contest of the evening the Jeffersons easily disposed of the Hazelwood quintet by a count of 35 to 13.

YALE CREW QUARTERS.

Temporary House and Float Being Built on Housatonic River.

Derby, Conn., April 20.—Work on the construction of a temporary boathouse here on the bank of the Housatonic river and a float for the use of the Yale crews has been started. The building is to be completed by May 1, when it is expected the crews will come here for practice.

The structure, which will have space for housing four shells, will be of a temporary character, it is stated, as no final decision as to the availability of the course can be made until it has been tried out by the oarsmen.

FIRST BRAINERD GAME.

Manager Cook's Aggregation Will Meet Aitkin on May 7.

Brainerd, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first baseball game this season will be played with Aitkin on the local grounds Sunday, May 7. Fred C. Cook, secretary and manager of the Brainerd baseball team, has collected a lively set of players and expects to win a majority of games played. Cook is considered one of the best pitchers in semi-professional ball and is well known in St. Paul and Minneapolis, Red Wing and other points where he has played.

Collins Captain of Sox.

Chicago, April 20.—Manager Clarence Rowland of the local American baseball team last night announced the appointment of Second Baseman Eddie Collins as captain of the White Sox. Collins will act in his new capacity in the game with Detroit today.

SEVENTY-FIVE AT ASSESSORS' SCHOOL

PIMPLES ON FACE BURN AND ITCH

Became Worse and Worse. Face Disfigured. In Blotches. Were Red and Scaled Over.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had pimples on my face which gradually became worse and worse all the time. They burned and itched and I would wake up often at night and my face would burn dreadfully and it was disfigured for the time being. At first the pimples were in blotches but gradually scattered, and they were red and festered and also scaled over.

"Then I got some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. At first I put the Cuticura Ointment on and then I bathed my face with warm water and Cuticura Soap, and I had not used them more than two weeks till I noticed a change and now my face is entirely healed." CLEANUP WORK TO BEGIN MAY 5

Duluth Paint Club Selects Opening Day for Campaign.

Duluth's "cleanup" campaign will begin on Friday, May 5, the day set aside by Governor Burnquist for the entire state of Minnesota.

The selection of the opening day of the local "cleanup" movement was made by members of the Duluth Paint club at a meeting held last evening.

The following executive committee was appointed to take charge of the campaign: Rodney Annis, chairman; T. F. Wieland and Emil Gustafson.

It was announced at the meeting last evening that Mayor Prince will issue a proclamation similar to that of Governor Burnquist, urging Duluthians to join in the "cleanup" campaign, beginning May 5. City officials have also promised their support and it is expected by those in charge that the movement will prove even more successful than it did a year ago.

UNABLE TO OBTAIN A QUIET TITLE

Frank Wilcox and Wife Lose Homestead After Fifteen Years' Residence.

Frank Wilcox and his wife have lost out in their suit to quiet title to their farm in section 22, 50-14. And although they have lived on the land for more than fifteen years, Judge Cant has held that their occupancy was not such as would give them a claim to the land under the law of adverse possession and has awarded judgment in favor of the Guarantee Land company and the Budge Realty company. A. E. McManus appeared for the plaintiffs and Jaques & Hudson represented the defendant companies.

AID PRISONERS IN SIBERIAN CAMPS

Duluth Relief Committee Will Send Additional Sum of $567.

In addition to the $5,000 which was recently sent from Duluth to the Red Cross societies of Germany and Austria, the sum of $567 will be sent today for the relief of Austro-Hungarian prisoners in Siberian camps.

The business of the Red Cross and War Relief committee was wound up last evening at a meeting held in Moose hall. The organization disbanded after reports from the various committees were read and accepted.

It was found that there was a balance of $567 in the treasury and it was decided to send this across to the relief of prisoners in Siberia.

A letter of thanks from Count von Bernstorff at Washington was read. The committee voted a resolution of thanks to Manager Binheim and to Mrs. John Beerhalter, treasurer.

Those interested in forming a permanent organization of a similar character will meet Wednesday evening, May 24, in Moose hall.

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN FOR THE FARMERS

Farm Preparedness Move of Continental Scope Is Announced.

Madison, Wis., April 20.—A farm preparedness move of continental scope was announced today in the formation of the National Agricultural Organization society. This organization, created by the delegates to the third national conference on marketing and farm credits that met in Chicago last winter, will form co-operative societies among farmers. Such societies will include the sale of farm products, the purchase of farm supplies, co-operative implement rings and rural credit associations. The society will also investigate land tenure systems and conditions in America with a view to constructive measures for land reform.

This organizing society will not do any of the things mentioned for the farmers, but will aid the farmers in doing such things for themselves. It will also furnish expert auditors, instructor in co-operation and legal advisers. It purposes to affiliate the farmers' organizations now in existence and to federate them into a strong defensive alliance.

The plan of work is modeled after the operations of similar organization societies in Ireland, Scotland, Sngland and British South Africa. The Rochedale plan of co-operation and the non-profit-making corporations will be advocated. Working agreements are to be effected between the N. A. O. S. and state and Federal educational institutions and departments of agriculture.

The new organization will also train agricultural organizers, giving them field work in America and in European systems of co-operation.

Temporary national headquarters have been established here with Charles W. Holman as secretary, Miles C. Riley, counsel, and Charles A. Lyman, general organizer. A staff of experts is giving service to farmers' organizations, and organizing co-operatives where they have a chance to succeed. The general committee in charge of the work until the farmers gather in the fall to take it over consists of Frank L. McVey, chairman, Grand Forks, N. D.; Gifford Pinchot, Milford, Pa.; John Lee Coulter, Morgantown, W. V.; H. W. Tinkham, Warren, R. I.; Clarence Poe, Raleigh, N. C.; Millard R. Myers, Chicago; H. W. Danforth, Washington, Ill., and Clarence Ousley, College Station, Tex.

To Survey County Line Road.

Bemidji, Minn., April 20.—Judge C. W. Stanton has appointed the following committee of three to survey the proposed Koochiching-Beltrami county line road from Northome to Kelliher, about two and one-fourth miles in length: John Bursack and Martin Engelking of Goochiching county and William Lennon of Beltrami county.

What Is the Oculist's First Question?

BEFORE proceeding with the examination of your eyes he asks you, "Is your digestion good? Do your bowels move regularly?"

The oculist knows that eye strain is frequently caused by a disordered stomach or by constipation. Any doctor will tell you the same thing.

Constipation throws the whole system out of gear. Its effects are felt almost immediately in biliousness, headaches, blurred vision, nervous depression, and other symptoms of auto-intoxication.

Laxatives and cathartics won't cure constipation. They irritate the bowels into action and give temporary relief, but at the expense of upsetting completely the normal processes of evacuation.

A far safer and more effective means of restoring normal bowel movements is the mineral oil treatment, advocated and prescribed for years by eminent specialists both in this country and abroad.

Nujol is the purest form of refined white mineral oil. It is not a drug nor a bowel stimulant. It acts solely as a mechanical lubricant, facilitating the passage of waste matter and helping to restore normal bowel activity.

Nujol is odorless, colorless and tasteless. It is not absorbed by the system, hence may be taken in any quantity without harm.

Write for booklet "The Rational Treatment of Constipation." If your druggist hasn't it, we will send a pint bottle of NUJOL prepaid to any point in United States on receipt of 75c—money order or stamps.

ROAD CLUB GOING TO SEE PENTILLA

To Urge Commissioner to Appoint Sixth District Overseers.

Eveleth, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Sixth District Road club held a very successful meeting at the city auditorium yesterday afternoon. The attendance was better than that at the meeting at Virginia when the club was organized.

Senator Harold Griggs of Virginia, president of the club, presided and Attorney John E. Manthey of Eveleth was secretary.

It was reported that County Commissioner Charles Penttila had refused to appoint road overseers for the Virginia, Eveleth, Biwabik and Aurora districts in conjunction with the commercial organizations of the cities and villages as had been arranged at the previous meeting of the club.

Mr. Penttila had business in Duluth that kept him from the meeting and his reasons for not making the appointments were not obtained at first hand. After discussion a motion was made and carried that a committee of five be appointed to meet with Mr. Penttila and ask him on behalf of the club to reconsider his decision not to appoint overseers. Mr. Griggs appointed J. C. Poole of Eveleth, M. A. Murphy of Virginia, Dr. F. Barrett of Gilbert, E. A. Koen of Biwabik and Andrew Knutti of Aurora.

The committee was instructed to prepare a resolution requesting that the overseers be appointed and that if the request is refused, to find the reasons for the commissioner's refusal.

Plan Auto Tour.

A tour of the district by auto later in the season, probably in May, is planned to have the road boosters of the entire district get together and go by auto over the main roads of the district and see the work that is being done and what is needed. A committee consisting of Charles T. Murphy of Aurora, L. D. Heritage of Virginia and L. O. Magee of Eveleth was appointed to make arrangements for the tour.

The condition of the Eveleth-Gilbert road and the Eveleth-Virginia road was discussed. The secretary was instructed to prepare a resolution asking the board of the town of Fayal to take care of the western end of the Eveleth-Gilbert road.

A better road by a better route to Virginia was discussed, and a motion was unanimously carried that the Eveleth council, the Virginia council and the board of the town of Missabe Mountain get together at the earliest possible date and decide on a plan for a new road between the two cities.

The next meeting of the club will be held at Aurora, when called by the president.

HIBBING PEOPLE HEAR MRS. WELLS

Hibbing, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lecturing before a fair-sized audience at the armory last evening, Mrs. Alice Stebbings Wells, police woman of Los Angeles, completely shattered the popular conception of what a police woman is for. She does not exist, it appears from Mrs. Well's address, for any of the things which a policeman is supposed to do.

"The police department is the least understood organization of the various departments of gevrnment in any city," declared Mrs. Wells. "It has manifold duties which the great majority of the people of the community never dream are in any way connected with the police." Mrs. Wells cited many instances to show the general lack of sympathy on the part of the people with the difficulties which beset the policeman in his duties.

Police Woman's Duties.

"There are things to be done for the children and women of every community," declared Mrs. Wells, "which it is not fair to ask a policeman to do. These are the things that the police woman should do. The popular idea is that a policeman exists to arrest people and take them to jail. Such things are not for the police woman. Her duties are to minister to the youth of the community, to care for young girls that have strayed from home, to help women in their difficulties and to play the mother and the elder sister in a larger and wider sense than the ordinary use of those terms."

Mrs. Wells illustrated these remarks with many stories from her own experience in Los Angeles, stories of girls who had wandered away from home, of fathers and mothers who were set right with their growing girls, of women who were protected and helped to keep the home fires burning, of lost men and women returned to their mothers and friends.

Mrs. Wells was the first police woman of Los Angeles and the pioneer of the police woman movement in America. Her address was enlightening and aroused much interest. She was brought to Hibbing by the Ladies' Saturday club and her lecture is the second community lecture furnished free to the people of Hibbing this year by the Saturday club.

TO PLAY MAYOR'S MARCH

Eveleth Band on Sunday to Render Mayor Saari's Composition.

Eveleth, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new Eveleth city band will give a public concert the afternoon of Easter, at 2 p. m., from the veranda of the Park hotel. The band consists of twenty-five members and has become one of the foremost musical organizations of the city.

A feature of the program will be a march, "Spartonia," composed by Jacob S. Saari, mayor of Eveleth. The program for the concert follows:

March, "Robinson's Grand Entree" (W. L. King); overture, "Arcadia" (A. M. Laurens; serenade, "A Night in June" (W. L. King); onestep march, "When I Leave the World Behind" (Irving Berlin); trombone solo, "Fancy Free" (Clay Smith), Ernest Lampi and band; waltz, "Moonlight on the Nile" (K. L. King); march, "Spartonia" (Jacob S. Saari); grand selection, "Bohemian Girl" (Balfe); onestep march, "America, I Love You"; waltz, "Bridal Blushes"; trombone characteristic, "Lassus Trombone" (Henry Fillmore); march, "Sells-Floto Triumphal" (W. L. King.)

EVELETH COUNCIL AWARDS CONTRACTS

Duluth Concern Is Given Sewer Work Amounting to $3,929.

Eveleth, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bids for paving on Jones street and Roosevelt avenue, sidewalks that are to be built this summer, curb and gutters, drains, raising of the market barn and the hauling of garbage for the city were opened at the council meeting Tuesday evening and the contracts awarded. The mayor was instructed to purchase a motorcycle for use in the police department for enforcing the ordinance regarding automobile traffic.

Before the bids were opened the citizens living on Jones street and Roosevelt avenue expressed their ideas in regard to the kind of paving that they wished and it was the unanimous desire of all of the property owners present that bitulithic paving be used.

The Lawrence-McCann company of this city was the successful bidders for the 6,500 square yards of bitulithic paving, the bid being the lowest. The bid was $17,900, being lower by several thousand dollars than any other bid. Other bidders that were represented were the Eaton-Butler company of Virginia, Risberg & Marvick of Virginia and Otto B. Nelson of Eveleth. The bond to be furnished on this job is $20,000 and the contract is to be completed on or before June 15.

The local company was also given the contract for the sidewalk work. There is to be 7,000 feet of curb, 300 square yards of sidewalk and 2,000 square feet of crosswalks and the bid was let to the Lawrence-McCann company for $10,635, Otto B. Nelson being the next highest bidder at $10,925.

The Pastoret Construction company of Duluth was given the sewer contract for $3,929.15, Lawrence-McCann company bidding $4,075.85.

The raising of the market barn and making all necessary improvements according to specification was given to the lowest bidder, Westberg & Co. of Virginia, with a bid of $475, below other bids by $150.

Want New Coal Bids.

Coal bids were received from only one bidder, August Paciotti, and it was decided to ask for new bids.

Several bids for hauling garbage were opened and the council gave the contract to H. H. Masterson, the work to be done by the load at $1.35 per load.

J. S. Wilson, park commissioner, was instructed to look up the best kind of white way standards to be used.

Permission to Build Home.

At a special session of the council yesterday afternoon the Narodni Dom society was given a permit to build a home at the corner of Adams avenue and Jones street with the privilege of using the street while constructing the building. The structure is to be at least fifteen feet away from the sidewalk.

The city clerk was instructed to call for bids for 6,000 or more gallons of road oil to be used in sprinkling the streets, to construct water lines in several parts of the city and for a slaughter house. The specified cost of the slaughter house was made at $4,000.

CHISHOLM HEARS AVERY.

State Game and Fish Official Advocates Proposed Game Preserve.

Chisholm, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, addressed a large gathering of sportsmen comprising the Chisholm Rod and Gun club, at the village hall Wednesday morning, on establishing a wild game refuge encompassing all of township 57-19 and the east two sections of township 57-20, 32,700 acres in all, upon which land the Du Pont Powder company's plant at Wilpen is located.

Mr. Avery stated the establishing of refuges in various parts of the state for a period of not less than five years was the only means of propagating wild game birds which are fast becoming extinct, and unless such steps are taken, the legislature will enact laws making hunting prohibitive.

"Success of the plan," said Mr. Avery, "depends entirely upon the sentiment of the people in the vicinity of the proposed refuge, for not enough funds are at the disposal of the commissioner to employ additional game wardens to protect the refuge."

Two farmers who reside within the proposed boundaries have, according to George E. Wood, deputy game warden, expressed their willingness to accept honorary deputyship and enforce the rules applying to the refuge.

All members of the local Rod and Gun club by unan'mous vote indorsed the plan of establishing the refuge.

Gilbert School Election.

Gilbert, Minn., April 20.—On Friday, April 28, a special school election will be held here to decide whether to issue $25,000 in bonds for the erection of the new school building. A bond issue of $40,000 recently was passed by the voters of School District No. 18 by 82 for and 1 against.

BETTER HIGHWAY BETWEEN VILLAGES

Chisholm Council Urges Road to Hibbing Better Improved.

Chisholm, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council Tuesday evening passed a resolution requesting the local and the Hibbing Commercial club to interview Balkan township officials to secure a concrete or some better highway between the two villages, as the work would be in Balkan township and would cost $15,000 or $20,000.

A. Y. Peterson and J. J. Hayes of the water, light, power and building commission presented the following budget: Pump station and filter plant wages, $9,480; city hall wages, $6,120; common labor, $10,560; material, pipes, valves, etc., $4,000; service pipes and goose necks, $1,000; coal and power, $8,000; lighting and telephone, $1,100; chemicals and laboratory supplies, $3,500; tools, hardware and blacksmiths' bills, $2,000; painting steel tanks and hydrants, $400; new pumping equipment, $5,000; changes in Monroe line because of Tioga mine operations, $2,600, making a total amount of $53,660. Mr. Peterson said it exceeds the amount expended last year by $7,600 because of the necessary installation of new pumping equipment and extensive changes necessary in pipe lines. The budget was placed on file.

A contract for furnishing elastite joint filler was awarded to the Speaks Lime and Cement company of Superior, and the contract for furnishing expansion joint paving plates and rib metal reinforcement to the Duluth Builders Supply company.

Salaries of municipal employes were set at the same figure as last year with the exception of the municipal court clerk, raised from $90 to $100; engineer, raised from $85 to $100; health officer, raised from $75 to $125, and electrician, raised from $106 to $110.

Petitions were received from residents of the Park addition requesting grading of Ash street, from residents of the Pierce addition requesting water mains and street grading and from residents of Ash street requesting extension of sewer.

Fire Chief McAlpin requested the installation of five new fire alarm boxes and the purchase of fire alarm equipment estimated to cost $700.

To Contest Suit.

The recorder was instructed to remit the initial fee for membership in the Minnesota League of Municipalities to the secretary of the organization, which means that the village intends to contest through the league the claim of the Cameron Septic company against the village for $1,800 for patent infringements of sewage disposal system.

The payroll for the first half of April, amounting to $5,560.02, was approved.

A claim of Harry Peaks for alleged injury to his ears suffered when struck by a trolley car while working for the village last February, was reported by the attorney, who stated that the plaintiff would not accept the terms of settlement stipulated in the compensation law. The matter was referred to the village attorney to take such action as necessary.

President Webber reported that, according to information he had received from the chief of police, there were no disorderly houses in the village and all persons of questionable character had been ordered to leave the village.

The village engineer was instructed to call for bids on 800 feet of 24-inch sewer pipe to be opened April 26 for a storm sewer from Second to Central avenue on Maple street.

GREAT NORTHERN TO RE-ESTABLISH TRAIN

Service Between Virginia and Grand Rapids to Be Given Again.

Virginia, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The campaign of the Commercial club to secure the restoration of passenger train service was brought to a successful conclusion last night when Vice President Gruber of the Great Northern, while here with a party of officials, announced that the passenger train would go in service May 14, with a new time card on the Mesaba division. The new train will also give Buhl and Chisholm another passenger train daily.

Virginians Pleased.

Local business men are jubilant over the announcement that the train would be restored. It opens up a fine new territory to Virginia business men and will result in a greatly improved express service from Grand Rapids and points west, from which Virginia and other range towns receive big shipments of produce and will be a considerable convenience to all the range towns between and including Virginia and Grand Rapids.

Mr. Gruber and his party spent last night in Virginia, and left this morning for the western range. A thorough inspection was made of the local terminals, indicating the road intends to make considerable improvements to its local freight service.

VIRGINIA SPUR HEARING.

Request of Lumber Company Laid Before State Commission.

Virginia, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. D. Elmquist of the state railroad and warehouse commission yesterday conducted a hearing here on the petition of the W. T. Bailey Lumber company to have installed a spur track from the line of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railway. The hearing was held at the city hall and covered the greater part of the day. The company petitioning alleges unfair discrimination between shippers. The spur asked for is in effect a physical connection between the Great Northern and D. W. & P. railways.

The Commercial club is arranging for another hearing by the railroad and warehouse commission in a short time at which time various local transportation problems will be taken up. The matter of physical connections between railroads and the charging of a distance tariff in the local switching zone will also be presented.

LOCAL FORECAST

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Rain tonight. Friday partly cloudy and warmer. Northeast gale, shifting to strong westerly winds Friday.

RAIN

Those who have been wishing for rain have doubtless been getting a whole lot of satisfaction these days, for there has been nothing but rain. They will probably qualify by saying that they did not wish for so much wind. But then one can never have wishes wholly fulfilled without getting more than they asked for or desired. Today is anything but pleasant, for the wind is a gale and the rain is a deluge.

A year ago today was pleasant but cool. The sun rose this morning at 5:11 and will set this evening at 7:03, giving thirteen hours and fifty-two minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light to heavy rains fell during Wednesday or last night over the Lake region, the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri valley states and the north Pacific region, and rain or snow in the Rocky Mountains. The disturbance centered over Southern Minnesota is also causing a severe northeast gale on Western Lake Superior; a sixty-mile velocity occuring last night at Duluth. Warmer weather prevails in the southern Lake region and Ohio valley. Temperatures have fallen over the Rocky mountains, eastern slopes and the Southwest. Freezing weather prevails in Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, Alberta and Saskatchewan."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, April 20.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Minnesota—Rain tonight; colder in south and west portions; Friday partly cloudy and slightly warmer; strong shifting winds.

Iowa—Unsettled and cooler tonight; rain in east portion; Friday partly cloudy with warmer in west and central portions.

North Dakota—Partly cloudy in west, rain or snow and colder in east portion tonight; Friday fair with rising temperature.

South Dakota—Fair tonight and Friday; preceded by unsettled in east portion; cooler in east portion tonight; rising temperature Friday.

Montana—Fair tonight and Friday; becoming unsettled beyond the divide; rising temperature.

Wisconsin—Rain tonight; cooler in south portion; Friday unsettled with cooler in east and rain in north portions; strong shifting winds.

Upper Michigan—Rain tonight and Friday; moderate east gale.

Lower Michigan—Probably showers and thunder storms tonight and Friday; warmer in southeast portion tonight.

RECEPTION FOR AVERY.

State Official Given Reception in Range City.

Virginia, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Executive Agent Carlos Avery of the state game and fish commission was the guest of local sportsmen last evening at an informal reception at the Elks' club, on his way to International Falls, where he will be the guest of International Falls sportsmen tonight. While here the matter of the establishment of a game refuge at Half Moon lake, near Eveleth, was taken up with Mr. Avery. Local sportsmen also made requisitions for fish fry to be placed in the various lakes and streams in this vicinity. The entire consignment will probably be shipped at once and will be sent in the commission's specially equipped car for the transportation of fish fry.

ORR PEOPLE ALSO ARE SEEING AIRSHIPS

Virginia, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Residents of the country about Orr are seeing things at night. Their stories corroborate those told by Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific trainmen for some time past of a heavenly apparition which may be an airship. Thirty people at Orr Monday night viewed the airship, among them Representative Fred Bessette, who was here yesterday.

"I am not prepared to say what it is we have been seeing at Orr," said Mr. Bessette, "but we can corroborate the stories told by the Duluth, Winnipeg and Pacific train crews. I personally saw this airship or ghost ship last Monday night and a large number of residents at Orr also saw it."

VIRGINIA CLUB TO HEAR FATHER POWERS

Virginia, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club will hold a regular meeting tonight. Father W. J. Powers of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes will be the principal speaker of the evening, addressing the club on the subject, "A Man's Neighbor." Assistant Supt. Charles Grabowsky of the Oliver Iron Mining company will talk on "Iron Ore and the Future," and Edward C. A. Johnson will read a paper on "The Cooperative Delivery System," recently treated at some length in an article in the Saturday Evening Post by Forest Crissey. Virginia merchants are considering the installation of the system.

Eveleth School Debate.

Eveleth, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The freshmen-senior debate will take place Tuesday, April 25, at the high school auditorium. The question to be debated is, "Resolved, That the Gary system be adopted in our schools," a question of particular interest to the school authorities and the people of the city at this time.

MOUNTAIN IRON EASTER VACATION

Mountain Iron, Mich., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Easter vacation in the local schools began Wednesday at noon and will continue until Tuesday morning, April 25. Most of the teachers went to their homes or are spending the vacation with friends. Grace Luxford, Adele Berentsen, Doris Babcock and Florence Johnson have gone to Minneapolis; Alyce McCarthy, Coleraine; Mabel S. Potter, Georgia Lovald, Freda Hanson, Myrtle Jensen, Rose Noonan, Duluth; Sadie Morrison, Glencoe, Minn.; Esther Whitcomb, Atwater; F. Ruth Arneson, Stevens Point, Wis.

Supt. J. F. Muench has gone to Minneapolis to attend the convention for superintendents and principals of the state.

WHY TOWER HATCHERY WAS NOT ESTABLISHED

Eveleth, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carlos Avery, executive agent of the state game and fish commission, attended the roads meeting yesterday.

Following the business of the meeting Mr. Avery explained the reason for the failure of the state to establish a pike hatchery at Tower as authorized. The state made an appropriation to buy a site and build the hatchery, but gave no power to condemn land to obtain the site and consequently the desired land cannot be obtained until the state legislature meets again and gives the commission further power.

The commission also expects to locate a trout hatchery in St. Louis county, Mr. Avery stated, and is now looking for a site.

WALKS TWO MILES UPON FLOES OF ICE

Ashland, Wis., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The tug Ashland broke through the ice and left here yesterday in an attempt to reach Stockton island, where more than 100 men, employed in the camps of the John Schroeder Lumber company, have been marooned since April 10. During the ten days, no word was received from the men until yesterday, when one man succeeded in crossing the ice floes in the two-mile wide channel between Stockton and Madeline. He had a most perilous trip, not one of the hardy woodsmen daring to accompany him. The channels between the Apostle islands are filled with floating bergs, forming practically an uninterrupted field.

Madeline island was connected with the world, only last summer, by telephone, and on his arrival at the island, the messenger called up the company's office at Ashland, and then started on a fourteen-mile walk across Madeline to La Pointe, where he may catch a boat in a few days.

Send Tug to Island.

He reported that Lyle Murdock, son of Supt. J. A. Murdock of the Schroeder company, is sick, and it was decided to send the tug Ashland to Stockton at once if possible. It left Ashland at noon, and had little difficulty in reaching Long island, the entrance to Chequamegon bay before dark, intending to pass clear round Madeline island on the south, approaching Stockton island from the open lake on the east. Heretofore, the lumber company has placed a physician on the island late in the fall and in the early spring, to take care of the men when the channels are impassable, but it was not done this year. Stockton island is forty miles from Ashland, and five miles from the main shore. There are over a hundred men on the island. The Ashland should have reached the island by this morning, if it can get through the ice.

MRS. DAVIS DEFEATED BY A COMBINATION

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, April 20.—The defeat of Mrs. Charles R. Davis of St. Peter, Minn., for re-election as vice president general of the D. A. R. is ascribed by her friends to the combination of Eastern members led by the Connecticut delegation. It was said today that they wanted to see Mrs. George Miner of that state re-elected and formed a combination that shut out Mrs. Davis. It is probable also that Mrs. Davis' necessitated absence attending the funeral of her brother in New York had something to do with the outcome.

INSISTED ON OPENING BANK ACCOUNT WITH FIVE PENNIES

When Joseph Brown, 45, insisted upon starting an account at the First National bank this morning with five pennies, tellers tried to impress it upon him in a courteous way that they did not want his money. Brown's persistence was responsible for calling an officer.

Patrolman Wood and Thomas A. Feaks, reputy clerk of the probate court, took charge of the man, whom they found to be apparently insane.

Brown's mind was a blank. He did not know where he had come from or where he was born or who his relatives were. All he remembered was that he had arrived in Duluth yesterday and had passed the night at the Liberty hotel.

He will be brought into probate court this afternoon for an examination, and probably will be committed to the state hospital at Fergus Falls.

Legal Adviser to China.

Pekin, April 20.—Prof. Westel Woodbury Willoughby of Johns Hopkins university, has been named legal adviser to the Chinese government, succeeding his brother, William Franklin Willoughby.

DAHL CITY ATTORNEY.

Virginia, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. S. Dahl will be Virginia's next city attorney. Mayor Boylan has withdrawn his opposition to Mr. Dahl and announced he would sign the resolution confirming his appointment so the patronage fight which has sundered the entente cordiale between council members is regarded as ended. Mayor Boylan stated he would confirm Dahl's appointment, yielding to majority sentiment on the council.

Wins Composition Prize.

Hibbing, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lyle C. Everett, eighth grade student in the Hibbing schools, received a prize given by a paper for the best written composition on a theme chosen by the students themselves. Young Everett got a beautiful painting.

Hibbing Gun Club Elects.

Hibbing, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mesaba Gun club yesterday afternoon elected the following officers: President, Louis J. Micka; vice president, A. R. Seymour; secretary and treasurer, G. L. Hepworth; field captain, John Adams.

RECORDS ARE LOOSE.

Chisholm Village Attorney Criticizes Firemen's Relief Association.

Chisholm, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—No proper organization exists or has existed for several years in the Firemen's Relief association, that the records of the organization are very loose and that the organization has not fulfilled the requirements of law was the opinion of the village attorney in rendering his report to the village council after examination of the association's books.

He recommended that the council pay no money over to the association or its membership as now constituted.

After discussion the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the village recorder be instructed to request the president or trustees of the Firemen's Relief association as it is at present organized to surrender to the authorities of the village of Chisholm the charter and all books and papers pertaining to the organization for the purpose of reorganizing said corporation."

HIBBING RAID THAT PROVED TO BE FIZZLE.

Hibbing, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Indian Agent Ellis is said to have had hard luck when he raided a shed in the rear of Tony Kronar's saloon last night, as his "evidence" of lid tilting got away from him. As the story is told today, he broke into the place alone about 11 p. m. and found six barrels of beer. He went over to the Hibbing hotel to get the assistance of five other agents stopping there and when the party returned the six barrels of beer had vanished. It is said a party in an auto drove up in the officer's absence, loaded the beer in his machine and speeded away.

VIRGINIA BOARD OPPOSES ELECTION

Virgina, Minn., April 20.—On the ground that a school containing an auditorium with a 2,500 seating capacity as proposed by the advocates of the proposed new school, to take the place of the Roosevelt school, cannot be built for $406,000, as claimed, the board of education went on record last night as opposed to the matter to be submitted to the people at the special election Saturday.

The board desires the Roosevelt school torn down to make room for the new building, but wants the whole question better understood by the voters.

It was decided to issue a pamphlet giving the plans of the board in detail and to publish in full the report on the condition of the Roosevelt school, which was made by Inspector Challman.

ASSAULT CASE IS ON.

Chisholm Man Being Tried on Charge of Assaulting Another.

Virginia, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A jury was drawn in district court this morning for the trial of Arresti Gentilini, indicted on a charge of assault in the second degree, alleged to have been committed at Chisholm during a row between foreigners over the European war.

GOOD FRIDAY IN CHURCHES OF CITY

Special Services to Be Held in Many of Them.

A number of the churches of the city will observe Good Friday by special services tomorrow. All of the Catholic and Episcopal churches will do so, and some of the evangelical churches will as well.

At the Sacred Heart cathedral, Catholic, there will be mass at 9 a. m., the way of the cross at 3 p. m., and tenebrae at 7:30 p. m.

At Trinity cathedral, Episcopal, there will be holy communion at 10 a. m., and continuous service from noon until 3 o'clock. At St. Paul's Episcopal church, holy communion will be celebrated at 9:30 and a continuous service take place from noon to 3 o'clock.

At the First Methodist church, communion will be observed tomorrow evening at 7:45; at the First Presbyterian church, Stainer's "The Crucifixion," will be given by the choir and chorus tomorrow evening; and this evening at 8 o'clock communion and reception of members will take place at the First Baptist church.

For the Easter Feast.

Grocers and meat dealers will offer all that the markets afford in The Herald tomorrow night. Be sure to read the ads.

Herald Article Lauded.

The Daily Virginian makes the following comment on the section published in The Herald regarding that range city:

"In last night's issue of the Duluth Herald, George Reid devotes four pages to exhaustive comment on Virginia. The section of The Herald is given to interesting comment on the city, its institutions and some of the business men, and is well illustrated, the principal public buildings, thoroughfares and residence sections being shown.

"Mr. Reid has done a great deal of work of this kind and his material is confined closely to facts, well written and the portraits are representative of the things interesting and people of standing in the community.

"In the story, Virginia is given the name, 'Minnesota's Model City.' This was considered an excellent slogan for the city and received consideration as such by business men and Commercial club members.

"Throughout the entire story Mr. Reid has exercised his usual care, with the result that the issue is noteworthy."

LILY BLOOMS DESPITE WAR

One Article Is Discovered Which Is Not Higher in Price.

Lateness of Lenten Season Will Make Flowers Abundant.

"Will wonders never cease?" asked Mr. Common People today when he learned that there was one article whose price has not been affected by the European war.

Shoe prices may skyrocket, drugs may be worth their weight in gold, horses may be almost priceless, but Easter lilies will not cost any more than they did last year, and but little more than they did two years ago.

One dollar a plant will be the standard price for lilies, according to J. J. Le Borious, florist, and this may bring the price lower than last year, because of a change in the method of measuring the plants.

Previously, it was the custom to charge about 25 cents a bud, but now it will be a flat rate of $1 a plant, and if the plant happens to have five or six buds on it, you are that much ahead.

Easter is about three weeks later than usual this year, and that is the reason why Duluth will have an abundance of lilies, and why prices have not gone up.

Late Easter Helps.

"We have 8,000 lilies," said Mr. Le Borious, "and we will not lose any of them. By that I mean that sometimes, when Easter comes earlier, the buds on the plants are not open, and we are unable to sell them. This year, however, the plants have had time to blossom, and they are in excellent condition."

The lily stock is unusually large, and hydrangeas also are plentiful, so that war prices will not prevail on that variety of flower either. Roses and carnations are not high in price, also because of the lateness of the Easter season.

"Tulips and daffodils, the spring flowers, are practically off the market," said Mr. Le Borious. "That is, the indoor variety is. In Duluth we do not have the outdoor variety in any quantity."

REUNION OF MASONS TO END

Maundy Thursday Banquet Brings Easter Festivities to a Close.

Scottish Rite Masons from Duluth and cities throughout Northern Minnesota, will attend the Maundy-Thursday banquet at the Masonic temple this evening.

This feast, which is obligatory for all Knights Rose Croix of the order, brings to a close the annual Easter reunion of the Scottish Rite Masons in all the large cities of the country. Several hundred members of the valley of Duluth are expected at the feast this evening, after which will follow the extinguishing of the lights, an annual ceremony of the fraternity. At 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon the relighting of the lights will take place in the auditorium of the Masonic temple.

Class Advanced.

During the last week a large class of candidates has been advanced in the Scottish Rite order, the final thirty-second degree being exemplified this afternoon. R. B. Knox, head of Duluth consistory, No. 3, presided at the thirty-first degree this morning and the thirty-second this afternoon.

H. W. Cheadle, worshipful master of A. T. C. Pierson chapter, Knights Rose Croix, will preside at the Maundy-Thursday banquet this evening. Among the speakers will be George W. Buck, Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, Horace D. Dickinson and I. K. Lewis, who will speak for the 1916 class.

During the dinner the Helmer orchestra will play the following program:

ROTARIANS PLAY HOST

Harry Lauder, the same dour-faced little Scot, with a few more wrinkles and one or two more gray hairs, but with the same old hook-stemmed briar pipe, amused 111 Rotarians at the Spalding hotel this noon.

It was Lauder day for Duluth Rotarians, and hotel guests could not mistake it when they heard the skirl of the bagpipes. Lauder is a Rotarian, from a club in far-off Scotland, and he has given addresses before Rotary clubs in virtually every city of the United States.

Comedians make a rule never to laugh, and to look as despondent and blue as possible, and Harry Lauder, prince of comedians, is no exception to the rule. Everyone else laughed, however, and listened with interest to his short talk, his songs, and the selections given by the Lauder pipers.

Mayor W. I. Prince appeared on the scene with a varied assortment of keys. With an alarming disregard of the city's fate, he handed over to the famous actor a key to the treasury, to the city jail, the city hall, and to everything else that Duluth has to offer.

To make matters worse, Finance Commissioner Voss approved the proceedings, as far as the city treasury was concerned. Thereupon Commissioners Merrit, Silberstein and Farrell followed suit.

Bentley P. Neff introduced Mr. Lauder, in a characteristic manner. Harry Armstrong, president of the club, presided at the luncheon.

DULUTH'S OLDEST SETTLER DYING

E. H. Hall, 80 years, residing at 4411 Regent street, who claims the distinction of being the oldest citizen of Duluth, in point of of residence, is near death at his home. Mr. Hall walked to Duluth from St. Paul in 1855.

Four sons Matt V., of Seattle; Edward S., New York city; George, of Hibbing and John of this city are at their aged parent's bedside expecting his end to come momentarily. Hall was in business in Duluth until 1906 when he retired. This is the first time that all of the family has been together in ten years.

VACCINATION IS UPHELD

Minnesota's state supreme court has ruled that a board of education or city health department may compel a school child to be vaccinated, or exclude him from class, when an epidemic exists.

Duluth parents, in many cases, have been reluctant to have their children vaccinated, according to Dr. J. H. Andres, school physician, despite his efforts to have them protected against disease, and but a comparatively small percentage have been treated.

This latest ruling of the supreme court, handed down today, will decide an important question which has confronted school authorities in every city in the state at different times.

Duluth has not had much trouble with parents in this regard, because of the small number of cases. Aside from the measles epidemic which swept the schools during March, Duluth children have been comparatively free from contagion.

The supreme court decision was handed down in a case brought by Grace M. Bright against School Director Harrington Beard of Minneapolis. The plaintiff was a West High student and was excluded from school several years ago when smallpox reached an epidemic there. She sued Mr. Bright under a provision of the law which provides that a school board member is liable for a fine of $50 if he votes to exclude a pupil without cause.

In the first action Municipal Judge W. W. Bardwell held for the plaintiff, but the supreme court holds that the presence of an epidemic is sufficient cause.

MEXICANS FIRE ON U. S. ARMY OFFICER

Field Headquarters, Gen. Pershing's Expedition, April 16, via aeroplane to Columbus, N. M., April 20.—An American army officer was fired upon this evening while passing a small town near this camp in company with a dispatch bearer. The shooting was without effect. An investigation was made.

A cavalry troop today located the camp of Candelario Cervantes, a Villa lieutenant, in the mountains some miles from here. Apparently Cervantes' outposts were able to give him word of the American approach, but his escape was narrow. Seven horses were taken in the mountain camp. Three Mexicans found in that vicinity were brought under custody to headquarters to be questioned.

Cervantes has been credited with being one of the men who inspired Villa's attack upon Columbus, N. M. His presence in the mountains was discovered through his custom of visiting a young woman in a town near one of the American lines.

The Villa bandit was reported to have about seventy-five men.

SUPERIOR

COMPROMISE FOR TRACTION COMPANY

The Wisconsin railroad commission has offered a compromise to the Duluth Street Railway company in consideration of which the commission is willing to drop its order to the company to furnish six fares for a quarter. The announcement of the compromise proposition was made public this morning.

The provisions of the compromise would require the company to spend anywhere from $125,000 to $175,000 in the city. It would necessitate the building of a belt line railroad, to be operated along the bay front, asks that the company pay for certain other improvements, such as the paving between its rails, and some minor stipulations.

About three years ago the commission ordered the company to furnish the people of Superior with six fares for 25 cents. This order was fought in the courts by the company. In the district court the commission won the first round of the fight, but an appeal to the supreme court was taken by the company. The decision of this court is now being awaited.

It may be some time before an answer will be given by the company as to its decision regarding the compromise offered by the commission. The proposition will probably be brought before the directors of the company.

TO FACE TRIAL IN ST. PAUL COURT

Requisition papers were granted St. Paul authorities for the return of Brady Henry, one of the two bandits who were arrested in Superior ten days ago in conection with a series of holdups, by the state authorities at Madison at a hearing held this morning. Brady Henry is wanted in St. Paul for the murder of Henry Young while Henry and his companion were attempting to hold up a Broadway (St. Paul) saloon on the night of April 1.

The request for the return of Frank Engman was denied, as he was not wanted on the murder charge. Engman will be tried in Superior as a suspect in connection with five holdups which took place in the city. He also will have a charge of assault in the first degree hanging over him for shooting George Ness, a shoemaker, while robbing his place. Mr. Ness was shot through the wrist.

C. T. Herbert, deputy sheriff of Ramsey county, who has been in Superior since yesterday morning, will take Brady Henry with him to St. Paul as soon as the necessary papers arrive in the city.

CLOQUET LOGS JAM.

Further Rise in River May Cause Serious Trouble.

Cloquet, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.) — Although the river reached its maximum height Sunday and had gradually receded since then, it started to rise again Wednesday and some anxiety was caused this noon when about sixteen tiers of logs banked along the side of the river, went out and jammed. There are several million feet of logs banked along the river having been hauled in by rail during the winter and when the ice goes out they are floated down and sorted to the different mills which generally is a gradual process, but yesterday noon some of the tiers went out at the same time and it was feared that the entire bank would go. These logs are banked above the D. & N. E. railroad bridge and as the water nearly reaches the girders of the bridge a large drive of logs would probably jam and might prove disastrous. The company officials fear that the water might rise enough to free the entire bank and if the water continues to rise every precaution will be taken to avoid such a result.

Late this afternoon it was stated that the river had risen some more and so far as known the logs boomed are still holding. Only two of the five sawmills are able to run today. It is not believed the river will go much higher or that there will be much more damage.

CLOQUET WOMEN ARE HELPING RED CROSS

Cloquet, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sunday a call was issued from the pulpits of all the different churches of the city to all the women who wished to help the cause of the American Red Cross, and yesterday afternoon about thirty women gathered in the women's restroom at the public library to render any assistance called for. The merchants of the city had furnished muslin and the women sewed bandages and other articles necessary for nursing.

Mrs. Fred Vibert was elected chairman to conduct the work during the summer as long as it was required. The articles will be sent to the American Red Cross headquarters. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

CLOQUET MAN PASSES.

Cloquet, Minn., April 20.—The funeral of Max Brunner, aged 59, for fifteen years a resident of Cloquet, who died at his home here yesterday of heart failure, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. from the home and interment will be made in Calvary cemetery. Four daughters and three sons living here survive. Mr. Brunner was for years employed as millwright by the Northern Lumber company.

GERMANS CAPTURE BRITISH TRENCHES

STATE TO EMPLOY AN INVESTIGATOR

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of recent discoveries of alleged irregularities in connection with cutting of state timber by private operators, the state timber board today voted to employ a special investigator to make a complete survey of the timber district. His name will not be made public.

It was stated that less than $1,000 was left in the state auditor's fund for this investigation and about $2,000 in the fund of the timber board. The department of land and timber in the state auditor's office has an annual appropriation of $28,000 for this bienium and the timber board $4,000 a year. Oscar Arneson of the auditor's office said that in the investigation ordered today a full year's appropriation of $28,000 would be well used between now and next fall. As the fiscal year expires July 31, the full appropriation of the auditor and the timber board becomes available Aug. 1.

It was brought out that for many years past scaling of state timber has been done according to a measurement system which did not give the state full credit for timber cut. This system has no standing in law, it is said. Attorney General Smith said that the state has the power to recover for value lost through this system by bringing action.

The board adjourned to April 29.

PROJECT TO RECLAIM LARGE SWAMP AREA

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. L. Crocker and Dr. F. W. Sardeson of Minneapolis, and M. G. Barnes of Albany, N. Y., called on Governor Burnquist today in regard to a project to reclaim by drainage swamp area in Hubbard, Itasca, Koochiching and Beltrami counties. Dr. Cardeson is connected with the United States geological survey and Mr. Barnes is a waterways engineer. The governor suggested the project be taken up with the Minnesota delegation in congress.

Sentenced to Die Week of May 29.

New York, April 20.—Giuseppe Achiello and Frank Ferrara, recently convicted of the murder of Barney Baff, the poultry dealer who was shot to death at the alleged instigation of rivals in November, 1914, were today sentenced to die in the electric chair the week of May 29.

Lost Health
And Strength Restored

Men who are afflicted with some chronic ailment or special disease of the class or description that we treat, find in wasting health and strength a most important reason for seeking out specialists in such diseases.

Every day patients come to us privately who have let go such troubles until they are in a serious condition, who are nervous, irritable and "not themselves," sometimes despondent and even hopeless. They lack energy and vitality, have poor appetites, have lost confidence in themselves and often the derangement has affected the whole system and made them most miserable.

Our combined methods of treatment are sure to check the trouble, build up the system, restore the vitality and strength and health is regained

What we have done for others we can do for you; you get the best for the least expense. Consultation free. Office hours, 9 to 6; Wednesday and Saturday, 9 to 8, and holidays, 10 to 1.

Marine Gossip
On Lake and Shore

FIRST BOAT FOR THE LOWER LAKES MAY CLEAR SATURDAY

Sailors Unwilling to Brave the "Jinx" of Friday Opening.

General Movement Is Expected to Be Under Way Sunday.

Were tomorrow not Friday, the day of supposed bad luck, it is likely that navigation would then open here so far as departures are concerned. It is expected that the first boat will get out on Saturday. A number are loaded with grain and ready to depart as soon as the word is given. The only delay has been the ice conditions at Whitefish bay, and news from there today would indicate that the ice menace there is about to be dispelled.

A dispatch from the Sault says that the steamers Nevada and Cort, which have been bucking the ice at Whitefish from the eastern side, and the St. Ignace, the ice-crusher from Port Arthur, which has been assaulting it from this side, have both broken through. The latter turned at Persian island and put back to this side of the ice to be in a position to help down-bound steamers through the field, and the Nevada and Cort returned to the Sault, the former to go to Chicago, and the Cort and Nielsen to be at the Sault to help up-bound steamers through the ice.

However no help may be needed. It was said in the telegram that a strong southeast wind was blowing, which, it is expected, will blow the ice out of the bay into the lake. A threatened change to a westerly or northwesterly wind would probably blow it back, but marine men here are inclined to believe that if the field is blown out into the lake with the present sea and gale prevailing, it will be so badly shattered that it will prove no handicap to speak of even should it be driven back into the bay.

Friday Is Barred.

Should this prove the case, it is expected that a general movement and complete opening of navigation will occur before Sunday. Some boat line agents admit that under present conditions, they would start their vessels out tomorrow except for the superstition that prevails among sailors that [illegible]y is unlucky. It may be laughed at in some quarters but the vessel owners respect the feeling of awe for Friday.

Ashland harbor is about half clear of ice, according to word received from there this morning, and the steamer Alexis Thompson, which wintered there, began loading ore at the Northwestern dock there yesterday and will probably leave there tonight for the lower lakes. Boats are loading at Escanaba, which was opened up several days ago, and ore is being shipped out of that harbor.

No boats are being shifted to elevators here today, but several are still under the spouts receiving their loads, and others will probably be put under tomorrow and Saturday.

First Boat to Load Ore.

The first ore to be loaded at the Missabe ore docks here will be into the steamer Widener of the Pittsburgh fleet, the only steamer of that fleet to winter here. She will be loaded either tomorrow or Saturday. No barges will be loaded until the fleet of steamers now on their way up the lake arrive or are about due to arrive. The first trainload of ore arrived at the docks this morning.

The Pittsburgh steamers now on their way up consist of the following: Morgan, Roberts and Buffington, which left Port Huron last night, where they have been for several days; Corey, Farrell and Palmer, which left Port Huron this morning at 9 o'clock; Cole, which arrived at Port Huron today; and the Crescent City and Ellwood, which are due to pass Detroit today. Several more will start out from Lake Erie today on their way to Duluth.

The boats of the Tomlinson fleet which are on their way up or are due to start out are as follows:

Left Buffalo this morning—Philbin, Barnum, Philip Minch, Hoover & Mason, W. H. Truesdale, Cuyler Adams, Ball Brothers, Hartwell, and Congdon.

Others — Conestoga, left Grand Haven today; Andrew Upson, will leave Lorain tonight; Leonard Miller, Steinbrenner and Howard Hanna, will leave Milwaukee today; W. C. Richardson, left Detroit today; Normania, will leave Cleveland tomorrow with coal for Duluth; and the Booth, which will leave Port Huron this afternoon, bringing coal to Sault Ste. Marie.

LAST ICE REPORT.

Weather Bureau Will Resume Storm Signal Service at Once.

The weather bureau has just issued its last ice report for the season, and announces that the storm warnings service for the lakes will be resumed today for the navigation season, which is considered now open or about to open.

Ice conditions at the Head of the Lakes are satisfactory, the ice having virtually all disappeared from the harbor and that in this end of the lake having blown over to the south shore, leaving the approach to this harbor clear, and the north shore in general barren of any fields.

As to ice conditions in general the last ice report of the government says:

"The reports from the regular and display stations of the weather bureau and the meteorological service of Canada indicate that the ice fields over Western Superior have moved to the south shore and much open water is reported along the north shore. The fields off Keweenaw point are extensive but are now broken and moving with the winds. From Marquette eastward to Whitefish point the fields extend beyond vision, but are beginning to break up, and over the eastern portion are moving in and out with the winds. The ice continues firm in Whitefish bay. St. Mary's river is open. In Green bay the ice continues firm, but is decreasing in thickness over the northern portion; it is broken up over the central portion and has disappeared over the southern portion. The ice crusher will reach Escanaba after breaking a channel to open water in the lake. There is no ice reported south of Northport.

"In Lake Huron the fields have about disappeared over the northern portion, while over the extreme southern portion the field, though broken up, extends beyond vision; steamers passed through the fields during the week bound for Alpena; the ice has been running freely in St. Clair river, so that there was a blockade at the flats on Sunday. In Lake Erie the fields have disappeared over the western portion and are reported from Fairport east to Buffalo; these fields are much broken up and two steamers which left Buffalo Sunday are working through without much difficulty. In Ontario the ice has practically disappeared and all harbors are open.

"There is more ice in all the lakes than for the same period last season."

FIRST ORE COMES TO MISSABE DOCKS

Receiving Season Is Begun; Shipping Season Friday or Saturday.

The ore receiving season on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern docks officially began this morning. The first trainload of more than fifty cars arrived at the dock shortly after 7 o'clock. The shipping season will begin tomorrow or Friday.

Train crews have been hauling ore trains down the hill and loading the large pockets of the dock in preparation for the loading of steamers all day.

The first steamer to receive ore will be the Widener, which will be loaded tomorrow or Saturday at No. 5 dock. This steamer will receive nearly 9,000 tons of ore.

Ore is now being received in larger quantities at the company's yards in Proctor. The first complete ore train arrived in the railroad yards yesterday afternoon and about ten are expected to arrive today. Before the end of the month officials of the road expect that more than twenty trains will be received daily.

This will be the banner year in ore hauling for the road, according to expectations of officials. The D., M. & N. will haul about 2,000,000 tons to the local docks from the range this summer.

Ore is now being moved from the Vermilion range mines to the docks at Two Harbors. This ore is being taken from stock piles so as to relieve congestion at the shafts. It is not known at the company offices in this city just when boats are expected to reach Two Harbors to load.

President W. A. McGonagle of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road, and President F. E. House of the Duluth & Iron Range road are expected home tomorrow from New York, where they have been in consultation with officers of the United States Steel corporation; and they may bring back orders that will have some effect on the opening of the shipping season.

NAVIGATION OPENS OUT OF ASHLAND

Steamer Alexis Thompson to Take Out First Cargo of Ore.

Ashland, Wis., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Alexis W. Thompson will open interlake navigation at Ashland by leaving tonight with the first cargo of ore for Lake Erie. The tug Ashland easily broke a channel from Ashland to the open lake today.

The Thompson wintered at Ashland with 5,000 tons of soft coal. It began loading at the Northwestern docks yesterday.

Last year navigation opened at Ashland on April 17, but for the five preceding years the average was April 23.

Last fall navigation closed at Ashland Dec. 15, which is the average date for closing at this port.

TELLS "HORRORS" OF MARRIED LIFE

From July 1908 until Mrs. Augusta Brassell parted from her husband, Henry Brassell, Jr., in 1911, their married life was a "horrible" experience. According to Mrs. Brassell, who today filed suit for divorce, he repeatedly kicked, struck, choked, cursed and threatened her.

In March, 1910, she was obliged to go to the hospital for several weeks in order to recover from a beating, which she says she received from his hands. Since 1911, she has learned nothing of his whereabouts.

They were married on Sept. 13, 1899, at Manistique, Mich., and have no children. Mrs. Brassell is 38 and he is 48. She asks the court for permission to resume her maiden name, that of Augusta Carrown.

Georgiana Switzer, 52, was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Cant from Daniel Switzer, 65, whom she married in Marquette, Mich., on Nov. 1, 1881, and whom she alleges deserted her on Oct. 1, 1910.

Montana Ranch Deal.

Helena, Mont., April 20.—A. B. Cook, whose herd of Hereford stock is recognized as one of the finest in the United States, has closed a deal for the purchase of the Nick Rovig ranch of 1,500 acres, near Bedford in Broadwater county, where Mr. Cook already has large ranch holdings. The purchase price, said to be $150,000, includes all the sheep, cattle and horses.

DULUTH WILL REAP BENEFIT

Jobbers and Wholesalers to Gain By New Lake Line, Says Rowe.

Problems of the Trade Discussed By Speakers at Association Dinner.

Duluth jobbers and wholesalers have been put into an ideal situation in regard to lake traffic because of the organization of the Great Lakes Transit company, according to Carl Rowe, traffic manager for the Marshall-Wells company, who spoke last night at the monthly dinner of the Duluth Association of Credit Men at the Spalding hotel. The dinner was at 6:30 and an excellent program of speeches followed. President H. A. Sedgwick presided.

Mr. Rowe in his address discussed the disadvantages of the jobber and shipper under the conditions of lake traffic when the railroads and lake boats were run in conjunction, and told how rates and methods of handling freight both militated against the shipper. This situation will now be changed, he said, and rates will be lower and transportation facilities will be improved. One boat, he said, would leave Buffalo for Duluth daily, while express boats would leave Buffalo and sail to Duluth without a stop. The new line, he said, would place Duluth in a more advantageous position than the Twin Cities.

Frank X. Gravel, sales manager for the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, gave one of his typical booster talks, saying that Duluth could not "toot its horn too loudly," as publicity would mean much to the growth and prosperity of business here.

E. J. Filiatrault, president of the Mutual Auto company, urged more attention to educating business men in taking credit risks. The study of conditions and figuring out the possibilities of making profits would prevent many failures, he declared.

Bentley P. Neff, general manager of the Glass Block store, discussed salesmanship and the methods that should be used in combatting mail order business. Mr. Neff was appointed chairman of the committee at the meeting of the National Dry Goods association, which will attempt to map out an efficient method of meeting such competition. The committee, which is to be composed of representatives from business associations of leading lines, will meet some time in May. Mr. Neff says that one organization is not enough to combat such competition, but that all should be united.

TO ORGANIZE GRADE SCHOOL LEAGUES

Batchelor Asks Representatives of Each District to Attend Meeting.

Grade school baseball leagues will be organized immediately after the opening of the schools next Monday.

J. R. Batchelor, recreational director, said this morning that notices would be sent out next Monday, inviting each grade school in the city to send prospective members of their teams to an organization meeting at the city hall. This meeting will be held next Wednesday or Thursday, according to Director Batchelor. A league will be organized among all the boys under the sixth grade, rules laid down and a schedule drawn up for the summer.

As all the seventh and eighth grade boys will join the junior high schools next year, it is the director's plan to separate those in the sixth grade and under and organize a junior high school league a few weeks later.

According to the plans there will be six divisions, the games to be played on the ten public playgrounds. Later in the summer the division winners will participate in a city championship series. The divisions follow:

Division A, Fairmont, Ely, Longfellow and Irving schools. Division B, Merritt, Bryant, Lincoln and Monroe schools. Division C, Adams, Madison, Emerson and Ensign. Division D, Jackson, Whittier and Washington. Division E, Nettleton, Franklin, Jefferson, Salter, Endion and Munger. Division F, Lester Park, Lakeside, Washburn and Cobb schools.

BUSINESS TO STOP ON GOOD FRIDAY

Public Buildings Will Be Closed; Special Mail Service.

All banks and public buildings will be closed tomorrow.

Good Friday is observed as a legal holiday in Minnesota and as a result, city, county and Federal officials will close their offices for the day, while the banks will discontinue business this afternoon until 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

There will be two mail deliveries in the downtown district during the day, but only one delivery in the residence districts in the morning. The money order and postal savings bank windows will be closed all day, while the stamp, registry and general delivery windows will be open from 8 a. m. until noon, and the stamp windows from 4 to 6 p. m. also.

Only the reading rooms will be open at the public library tomorrow, all other departments closing for the day. These rooms will be open from 2 to 9 p. m.

PERMIT ISSUED FOR THE WISSOTA DAM

Madison, Wis., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The formal permit for the building of the Wissota dam, some times known as the Paint creek site, by the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light & Power company, was issued by the railroad commission today. It will furnish power for Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Attached to the permit is the valuation of the railroad commission of the dam site and all flowage rights and other property necessary for the purpose set forth in the application for the permit. This valuation includes all of these, whether at present owned by the power company or not. The value is fixed at $2,500,000. The elevation of the crest of the dam is fixed at 898 feet.

BELIEVES HE WAS INNOCENT

C. M. King Glad That Coddington Was Granted Full Pardon.

Was Foreman of Grand Jury That Returned Indictment.

Old residents of Itasca county are expressing their pleasure over the pardon which the state board has given to W. Coddington, convicted in Grand Rapids district court in 1904 on a charge of having murdered A. Kehring, a farmer who lived near Bena. Coddington was pardoned last Tuesday and is now a free man. Whether he will return to Itasca county is not known.

Cyrus M. King of Deer River, commissioner in Itasca county, and a member of the roads committee of the Northern Minnesota Development association, is at the St. Louis today. Mr. King was foreman of the grand jury that indicted Coddington; but he says he was opposed to it and never did believe the prisoner guilty.

"Coddington and Kehring were neighbors," said Mr. King. "About two weeks before Kehring was killed he went to Bena and got on a spree. His wife pleaded with Coddington to go after her husband and bring him home. It was a forty-mile trip that had to be made by team nd Coddington would not attempt it unless paid for his trouble. Mrs. Kehring gave him $15 and he started. On the way to Bena he learned that Kehring had begun his return trip and had stopped at the home of a family named Jackson to rest. Coddington kept on to Bena and, after remaining there a day, started home, intending to pick up Kehring. When he arrived at Jackson's, Kehring had gone. When Coddington arrived home Kehring demanded that his wife's $15 be returned. Coddington refused.

"A few days later Coddington was approached by Kehring, who stuck a loaded revolver against his stomach and told him of his intention to murder Coddington and then commit suicide. Later on the body of Kehring was found near the Coddington home with a bullet wound near the heart. When arraigned, Coddington pleaded not guilty, alleging self-defense. He claimed that Kehring had fired at him first. When Kehring's body was found there was a revolver in his hand and one of the chambers of the cylinder was empty.

"Coddington has served twelve years and has been a model prisoner. Recently I was asked to sign papers for his release from the penitentiary and I gladly complied."

MEASLES EPIDEMIC WANES.

Number of Cases in City Reduced By Half in One Week.

Duluth's epidemic of measles is waning.

Reports at the health department today show that there are now ninety-seven cases of measles in the city, while but a week ago today 192 cases were reported. Three weeks ago there were 285 cases known to the health authorities.

This decline will continue until a few scattering cases remain, according to Health Director Fahey.

SAYS WIFE ELOPED TO CANADIAN CITY

Olaf Wasbotten Wants Divorce and Custody of Children.

When the steamer Huronic steamed out of the Duluth harbor one day last summer, bound for Port Arthur, the love which had existed between Olaf B. Wasbotten and his wife, Valborg Wasbotten, vanished with it.

For, according to Wasbotten, his wife eloped with another man. In divorce papers filed today in district court, he charges that she boarded the boat with M. App and passed herself off as his wife.

In Port Arthur, he afterwards learned, Mrs. Wasbotten lived with App as man and wife at rooms which they rented in the Canadian city.

The elopement is alleged to have taken place on July 20, 1915. Wasbotten claims that his wife took their three children with her.

The children are Wilhelm, 10; Roy, 8; and Bernice, 5. Wasbotten asks for the custody of the two boys and asks that the court make proper provision for the care and keeping of the baby girl.

Mrs. Wasbotten, he alleges, has demonstrated that she is an unfit person to retain the custody of any of the children.

The Wasbottens were married in Norway on Sept. 15, 1901. He is 33 years old and she is 29.

Respondents.

NOTICE.

To the above named Respondents:

You, and each of you, are hereby notified that the petitioner above named, DULUTH, MISSABE & NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY, is a railroad corporation duly incorporated under the Laws of the State of Minnesota, and entitled to construct, maintain and operate its railroad in said State, and to enjoy the benefits of the Statutes of said State for the acquisition of lands required for its corporate purposes.

That it has constructed, maintained and operated, and is now maintaining and operating, its railroad, among other places, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota.

That said petitioner has filed in the office of the Clerk of the above entitled court its petition, setting forth that it is necessary, for the use, operation and enjoyment of its said railroad, to acquire, by condemnation, and to appropriate, take and use, for necessary roadways, spur and side tracks, rights-of-way, depot grounds, yards, grounds for gravel pits, machine shops, warehouses, elevators, depots, station houses, and all other structures necessary or convenient for the use, operation and enjoyment of its railroad, all those tracts or parcels of land hereinafter particularly described, and describing such lands, property, estate and easements, which it will be necessary for it to acquire, by condemnation, to appropriate, take and use, for the operation and enjoyment of its railroad; and setting forth also the names of all those appearing of record or known to said petitioner to be the owners of or having or claiming an interest as owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, occupants or otherwise in such pieces or parcels of land; and praying for the appointment of three competent and disinterested persons to ascertain and determine the compensation to be made to such owner or owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, and others respectively interested, for the taking of or injuriously affecting such lands or real estate, property and easements.

You, and each of you, are further notified that said petitioner, DULUTH, MISSABE & NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY, will, at a Special Term of the above entitled court, to be held on the 13th day of May, 1916, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, present said petition to the above entitled District Court, and will apply to said court for the appointment of three competent and disinterested persons as commissioners to determine the compensation to be made to the owner or owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, and others respectively interested, for the taking of or injuriously affecting said lands, real estate, property and easements.

The object of said petition is to acquire, by condemnation, and to appropriate, take and use, for necessary roadways, spur and side tracks, rights-of-way, depot grounds, yards, grounds for gravel pits, machine shops, warehouses, elevators, depots, station houses, and all other structures necessary or convenient for the use, operation and enjoyment of its railroad, all those tracts or parcels of land in said petition and hereinafter particularly described.

That immediately following the description of each respective tract hereinafter described, said petitioner has appended the names of all persons who have or claim an interest in said tract as owners, proprietors, tenants, encumbrancers, occupants, or otherwise, so far as the same appear of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of said St. Louis County, or are known to said petitioner.

You, and each of you, are further notified that at the time and place of hearing of said petition, you can appear and be heard before said court in relation thereto, and show cause, if any exists, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

The lands and real estate so sought to be taken and appropriated by said petitioner are situate in Township forty-nine, North of Range fifteen West, according to the United States Government Survey thereof, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and are described as follows, to-wit:

MARKET HAS GOOD BULGE

Wheat Stronger With Active Bidding on Rains Over Northwest.

Flaxseed Still Strong on Buying By Crushers—Offerings Light.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 20.—The market was steady at the close, but quotations were off fractionally from their high of the session.

May wheat closed 2@2⅛c up and July 1⅞c up and Sept. 2c up.

May durum closed 1¼c up and July 1¼c up.

Oats closed unchanged at 42⅛c for on the track; rye unchanged at 93c, and barley unchanged at from 63c to 71c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝c up at 45⅝c.

At St. Louis, May wheat closed at $1.10, and July at $1.10½.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.05⅝, and July at $1.06¾ asked.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.16¾, and calls at $1.21.

Bulls in the wheat market took their turn at the bat today and they obtained good action. Prices were advanced 2½c during the first three hours' trading on good buying and short covering. It was intimated that many operators took the short side yesterday on the foreign news, and that with heavy rains interfering with plowing and seeding operations over wide areas of the Northwest, conditions had turned very much against them. That led to a rush to get under cover early in today's session. Advices from over the Southwest also favored holders of wheat, it being reported that further deterioration in the growing plant is evident over many sections of the winter wheat territory, and estimates of an increased abandoned acreage are being made. Liverpool cables were firm with expectations of lighter shipments this week and a firmer tendency in the Argentine markets. That opinion is being backed in the light clearances during the last few days. Today they amounted to only 550,000 bu of wheat and flour.

Receipts on the Duluth market are still limited, only 7 cars of wheat being inspected today, while there were just 13 cars of all grains on the tracks. Loadings of grain from the elevators on boats have as yet been comparatively moderate, there being just 1,038,000 bu of wheat afloat, of which 591,000 bu is bonded. Several vessel charters have been made and it is expected that the movement will be heavy within the next few days. There is still officially in the elevators and afloat here 25,775,000 bu of all grains, a decrease of 230,000 bu in the last four days.

May wheat opened ⅜@½c up at $1.16, and advanced to $1.18⅛ at the noon hour under persistent bidding. July opened ⅜c up at $1.17, advanced 2⅛c and then eased off ⅛c.

May durum opened unchanged at $1.10⅜ and advanced to $1.12½. July opened ¼c up at $1.12¼ and moved up to $1.13¾.

Flax Again Strong.

Flaxseed was again strong without any special developments. There appeared to be a more active inquiry from crushers. They promptly picked up any seed being offered, and on occasions did some bidding for it. Offerings were light, sentiment being more cheerful all around in the belief that the linseed oil people will be forced to come into the market more freely for supplies shortly.

Liverpool was strong, closing 3⅜c up at $2.57½. Today is a holiday in Buenos Aires.

May flax opened unchanged at $2.12 and closed 1¼c up at $2.13¼ bid. July opened unchanged at $2.13¼ and closed 1c up at $2.14¼ bid.

At Winnipeg May flax closed 1⅜c up at $1.90¼ and July 1⅜c up at $1.92¼.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The steamer James H. Hoyt loaded out 225,000 bu bonded wheat for elevator D today.

* * *

Argentine shipments estimates for week: Wheat, 3,200,000 bu; corn, 1,483,000 bu.

* * *

Modern Miller says: "Abandoned acreage in the soft winter wheat states will be extremely heavy. Plowing up of fields is reported from practically all sections of the soft wheat territory, since weather conditions improved. Missouri conditions do not show improvement and some sections will produce only 40 per cent of a crop. Insects are present in Oklahoma and in sections of Southern Kansas. The Kansas crop generally is thrifty and shows promise of a good yield on a slightly reduced acreage."

* * *

Regarding linseed, Broomhall cabled: "London opened strong with scarcity of Plate and Indian offers. Buenos Aires closed firm with a fair demand for export. Argentine shipments are 372,000 bu."

* * *

Foreign crop summary:

France—Unfavorable weather and some damage to winter crops is reported.

Australia—Weather is unfavorable and acreage will suffer. The loss for the commonwealth is placed at 25 per cent. Reserves are large, but there is no pressure to sell.

Holland—Foreign wheat is arriving more freely.

Russia—Weather is unfavorable.

Argentine—Weather is rainy.

* * *

Weather forecast:

Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa and North Dakota—Unsettled showers; cooler tonight; Friday partly cloudy; warmer.

Missouri and Iowa—Unsettled; cooler; Friday fair.

* * *

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Spot wheat was unchanged. Wheat was dull but steadier with a forecast of lighter shipments this week, and some demand from millers. Cargo market was steady. Manitobas and winters at yesterday's prices. Australians not offered and Plates steadily held. General demand is quiet, but Manitobas are less freely offered.

"Foreign arrivals keep large and native offers liberal with continental demand being satisfied and the general inquiry very moderate."

* * *

Charles E. Lewis & Co. wired from Minneapolis: "No radical change was apparent in the wheat market. There was a good demand for good milling offerings. There seemed to be a slower demand for the lower grades. Shipping advices indicate a smaller movement. Nothing was offered to arrive and there is no demand from Chicago houses. Country millers are indifferent takers. Velvet chaff sold at about 2c over May. All millers report a dull flour trade and most of them report moderate to light shipping directions."

With limited receipts, operations in the cash market at Duluth were nominal in spring wheat today. One car No. 1 northern sold at $1. Seven cars of all grades of durum were sold. No. 2 sold at from $1.06¼@1.07½.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, April 20.—Considerable strength developed in the wheat market today based largely on New York stock market advances, which were attributed in some quarters here to confidence that a break with Germany would be averted at the eleventh hour. Stormy weather that seriously retarded seeding in the spring crop belt had a further bullish effect. It was said that in some places all farm work would be delayed a week as a result of rain and snow and that acreage would be cut down to a material extent. Opening prices, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to ⅞c higher, with May at $1.13 to $1.13⅛ and July at $1.13¼ to $1.13⅝, were followed by decided additional gains.

Reactions, which subsequently took place, were not of a lasting sort. The bullish showing of the Illinois state crop report was against any pronounced setback. The market closed steady ⅞ to 1⅛c higher, with May at $1.14⅛ and July at $1.13⅞.

Corn weakened under heavy selling from a leading speculator who recently had been purchasing on a large scale. The offerings were absorbed by big warehouse interests. After opening ¼c off to a shade up, prices underwent a slight further sag.

Reports of increased acreage operated to prevent any material upturn and so too did predictions of enlarged receipts after next week. The close was easy at ⅛@¼c to ⅛c net decline.

Oats had no independent action.

*—Inches and hundredths. †—Highest yesterday, lowest last night. ‡—Not included in the averages.

NOTE—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitations from the number of stations reporting 0.10 or more.

General summary, received from Chicago: Moderate to heavy rains throughout the winter wheat belt except in Kentucky, Oklahoma, and portions of Ohio and Indiana, especially heavy in Southeast Nebraska. Warmer east of the Mississippi and cooler west. Frezing weather in Montana and Western North Dakota.

BIG SLUMP IN BUTTE & SUPERIOR

Stocks Off on Liquidation; Copper Quoted at 31 Cents.

Trading was quiet and the market weak in coppers at Boston today. Copper metal was reported to have been advanced to 31 cents a pound. The feature was a sharp break in the zinc stocks, in which severe liquidation appeared. Butte & Superior [illegible] from Tuesday around the close at $88.25, and American Zinc $2.87 off at $39.62. Calumet & Arizona [illegible] in the late trading at $73; Copper Range 75 cents off at $62.50; Granby 50 cents off at $85.50; Keweenaw 50 cents off at $6; Lake 50 cents off at $15.75; Mohawk $1.50 off at $96.75, and North Butte $1 off at $26.50.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from Boston: "Spot lake copper [illegible] 31 cents a pound. There is practically no available metal to be had in the market except now and then by small producers who are not on a sufficiently established basis to make long term contracts. June copper is quoted at 30½ cents and July at 30 cents. The Calumet & Hecla is said to be sold ahead to the end of August."

London metal market: Spot copper closed up 10s; futures, off £1; electrolytic up £1. Spot, tin, up 10s; futures, up 5s. Lead, spot, off 10s and futures, off 10s.

STOCKS ARE UNSETTLED

Prices Make Advances at the Start But Have Setback.

Vulnerable Specialties Decline Under Wednesday in Final Hour.

New York, April 20.—Firmness marked the early dealings in today's market, affording a striking contrast to yesterday's uneasiness and excitement. The more active specialties like Crucible Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, Mexican Petroleum, Marine preferred, American Zinc and Industrial Alcohol were higher by a point or more, with a gain of 2½ for Bethlehem Steel. The metal and motor groups were fractionally better, except Willys-Overland, which fell over a point. United States Steel opened unchanged, but subsequently made slight improvement. Investment shares as a whole were steady but inactive.

Prices made further upward progress in the first hour of the stock market today but dealings fell away on the advance, which encouraged the short interest to renew operations for the decline. Moderate selling of the speculative issues resulted in average recessions of a point, Industrial Alcohol losing 3. Later the market hardened again, favorable foreign advices being a contributing factor. Trading was obviously professional, commission brokers reporting almost an entire cessation of yesterday's liquidation. Early rates of exchange threw no light on the Washington-Berlin situation. Bonds were staedy with nominal dealings.

A break of 6 points in Industrial Alcohol and renewal of pressure against Crucible, Baldwin, Studebaker and Mexican Petroleum caused another moderate setback in the early afternoon with trading at low ebb.

Unsettlement became more general in the final hour, some of the vulnerable specialties then falling considerably under yesterday's lowest prices. The closing was heavy.

CITY TAKES STEPS TO RAISE CASH

First reading of an ordinance authorizing the sale of $20,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness to tide over the public safety division funds until the 1916 tax settlements are made, was given at a special meeting of the city council this morning.

The meeting was called for the purpose of approving the payrolls for the first half of April, but the commissioners considered several other matters now before the council.

Out of the sale of the certificates, $6,500 will go towards the purchase of a new combination motor truck for the new West Duluth fire station.

City Clerk Borgen this morning filed a certificate of sufficiency to the "dry" ordinance, stating that it contained the required number of signatures.

The petition for the paving of East Superior street to the Northland Country club grounds was formally presented to the commissioners at the meeting this morning. It was ordered referred to the city assessor's office for a check on the signers.

George Vuckovich was granted permission to erect a gasoline filling station on Commonwealth avenue. The ordinances appropriating $595 for a Studebaker automobile for the police department, $364 for playgrounds apparatus, $605 for a ventilating system in the city hall basement, and $160 for an Indian motorcycle were passed by the commissioners.

Lawler Files.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Daniel W. Lawler of St. Paul filed with the secretary of state today for the nomination as United States senator on the Democratic ticket.

MEXICAN HINT TO AMERICAN FORCES

Washington, April 20.—Official advices to the state department today noting recent movements of Carranza troops from Chihuahua to the Parral region caused some concern among administration officials. The dispatches expressed the opinion that the movement was intended as a hint to the American forces that they might expect at least a show of opposition if they sought to penetrate further into Mexico than their present position.

It was added, however, that there was every indication that the movement was made without the knowledge or consent of Gen. Carranza or his war minister, Gen. Obregon. The number of men involved is not believed to have exceeded 1,500. According to the dispatches it was the purpose to establish the force south of the most advanced position of Gen. Pershing's troops near Parral.

CARRANZISTAS FIRE ON AMERICAN AEROPLANES

Gen. Pershing's Camp at the Front, April 15, via aeroplane to Columbus, N. M., April 20.—American aeroplanes have been fired upon several times by Mexicans and in at least one case the assailants were Carranza soldiers. The latter instance was reported by Lieut. C. K. Chapman, who flew into camp this morning after an absence of three days on what should have been under normal conditions a two hours' flight.

NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF REDEMPTION—
Office of County Auditor, County of St. Louis, State of Minnesota.
To Geo. N. Bissell:

You are hereby notified that the following described piece or parcel of land, situated in the county of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, and known and described as follows, to-wit: The Northeast quarter of the Northwest quarter, Section twenty-one, Township fifty-nine, Range fifteen, according to the government survey thereof, is now assessed in your name; that on the 9th day of May, A. D. 1910, at the sale of land pursuant to the Real Estate Tax Judgment, duly given and made in and by the district court in and for said county of St. Louis, on the 25th day of March, A. D. 1910, in proceedings to enforce the payment of taxes delinquent upon real estate for the year 1908 for the said county of St. Louis, the above described piece or parcel of land was bid in for the state for the sum of two and 2-100 dollars; that on the 4th day of August, A. D. 1910, the said piece or parcel of land not having been redeemed, the county auditor, according to the statutes in such cases provided, assigned and conveyed the same and all the rights of the state, therein acquired at such sale, for the sum of two and 8-100 dollars; that the amount required to redeem said piece or parcel of land from said sale, exclusive of the costs to accrue upon this notice, is the said sum of two and 8-100 dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, as provided by law, from said 4th day of August, A. D. 1910, to the day such redemption is made; that the tax certificate issued upon said assignment has been presented to me by the holder thereof, and the time for redemption of said piece or parcel of land from said sale will expire sixty (60) days after the service of this notice and proof thereof has been filed in my office.

Witness my hand and official seal this 18th day of April, A. D. 1916.

O. HALDEN,
County Auditor.

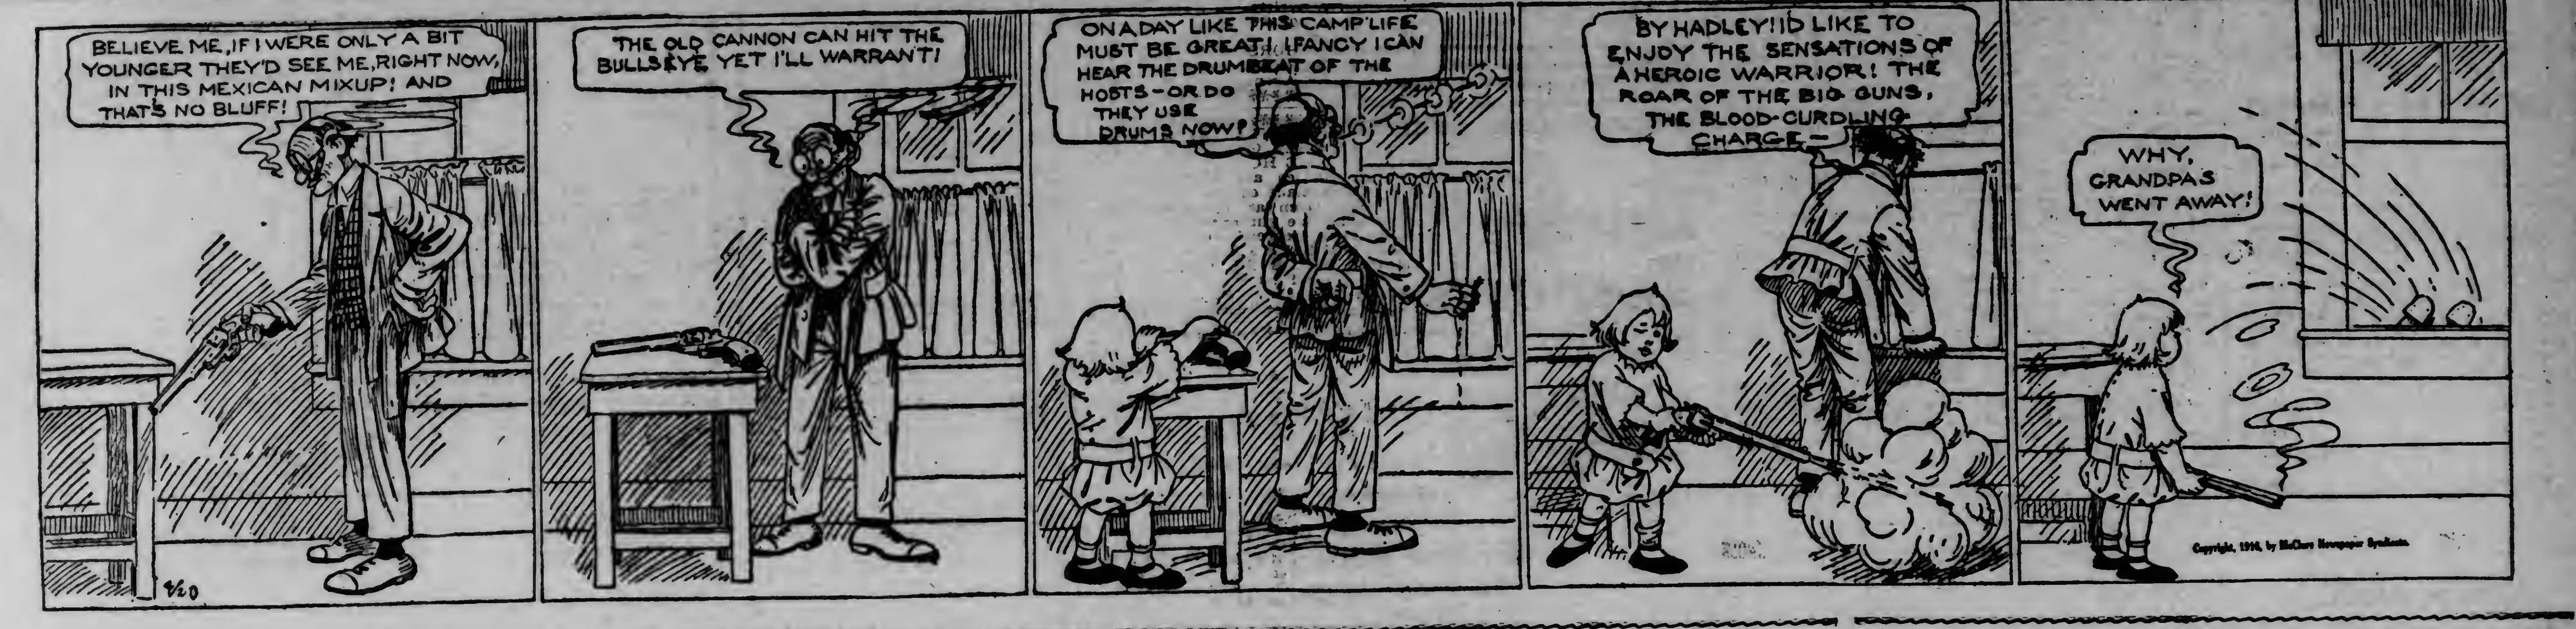
ABSENT-MINDED ABNER—But, of Course, This Was Rather Sudden

By Walt McDougall



BELIEVE ME, IF I WERE ONLY A BIT YOUNGER THEY'D SEE ME, RIGHT NOW, IN THIS MEXICAN MIXUP! AND THAT'S NO BLUFF!
1/20
THE OLD CANNON CAN HIT THE BULLS-EYE YET I'LL WARRANT!
ON A DAY LIKE THIS CAMP LIFE MUST BE GREAT! I FANCY I CAN HEAR THE DRUMBEAT OF THE HOSTS—OR DO THEY USE DRUMS NOW?
BY HADLEY! I'D LIKE TO ENJOY THE SENSATIONS OF A HEROIC WARRIOR! THE ROAR OF THE BIG GUNS, THE BLOOD-CURDLING CHARGE—
WHY, GRANDPA'S WENT AWAY!

U. S. WARSHIPS BEING MADE READY

MORE TERRITORY NEAR VERDUN WRESTED FROM GERMANS BY FRENCH

Gen. Petain's Forces Follow Up Success at Dead Man's Hill.

Additional Trenches Captured and Officers and Men Made Prisoners.

French Make Gains in Counter Attacks in the Haudremont Woods.

London, April 21.—Offensive operations by the French on both banks of the Meuse in the Verdun region have resulted in the wresting of territory from the Germans.

Following up their success of yesterday in the region of Dead Man's Hill, where the crown prince's troops were driven out of some elements of trenches, Gen. Petain's forces returned to the attack last night and according to this afternoon's Paris bulletin, captured additional trenches and took four officers and 150 men prisoners.

In the Haudremont wood region east of the Meuse, where substantial German gains were scored recently, the French have been counter-attacking and report having made gains in last night's fighting. The repulse of a heavy attack by the Germans on this front also is announced.

French Statement.

Paris, April 21, 12:20 p. m.—The French continued to make progress in the region of Dead Man's hill on the Verdun front, in the fighting of last night. The war office announcement of this afternoon reports the capture of German trenches and of four officers and 150 men.

East of the Meuse a fierce German attack was repulsed. In the sector south of Haudremont wood the French made gains.

The text of the statement follows:

"West of the Meuse the attack undertaken yesterday by our troops in the region of Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's hill) progressed during the night. In addition we seized a trench on the northern outskirts of the Caurettes wood and made prisoner four officers and 150 soldiers.

"East of the Meuse a violent bombardment of our positions was followed at the close of the day by a powerful offensive action by the enemy on a two-kilometer front between the Thiamont farm and the pond of Vaux. The Germans who had gained a foothold in our lines south of Fort Douaumont and north of the pond were completely thrown back by our counter-attacks during the night. Two machine guns and a number of prisoners fell into our hands.

"West of Douaumont in the sector south of Haudremont wood we likewise made progress. We received some wounded French prisoners and captured a score of Germans.

"The night was calm on the rest of the front except in the region of Le Pretre wood, where our artillery was quite active."

NOT VIOLATING SHERMAN ACT

Government Fails to Make Out Case Against Quaker Oats.

Decision in Anti-Trust Suit Filed in June, 1916.

Chicago, April 21.—The Quaker Oats company is not operating in violation of the Sherman act, according to a decision by judges of the United States circuit court of appeals here today. The finding came after two days of argument based upon testimony taken in various cities of the country since the suit was filed in June, 1913.

Judges Julian W. Mack and Francis E. Baker found that the government had failed to make out a case against the defendant, but Judge Samuel Alschuler dissented. The jurists have been sitting as a district court in order to facilitate possible appeal of the case to the supreme court of the United States.

Specific Charge.

The specific charge against the Quaker Oats company was that in buying from Joy Morton and the other owners two plants and the trade marks and good will of the Great Western Cereal company it entered into a combination in restraint of trade which placed it in control of nearly 90 per cent of the rolled oats business.

The government contention was that the Great Western Cereal company was virtually the only competitor of the Quaker Oats company.

The defendant company denied that charge and its counsel asserted that competition has been more severe since the disputed transaction than before.

In giving his decision Judge Baker said that he was ready to dismiss the bill on the government's own charge because no combination, contract or conspiracy in restraint of trade was shown.

CAPT. VON PAPEN'S ASSISTANT UNDER ARREST IN NEW YORK

WOLF VON IGEL.

Wolf von Igel, who acted as Capt. von Papen's assistant, was arrested in New York, Tuesday, charged with being concerned with Capt. von Papen, Capt. Tauscher and others in a plot to blow up the Welland canal in Canada.

COUNT MAY HAVE PAPERS

U. S. Willing to Give Up Those Seized in New York.

Von Bernstorff Must Identify Them as Belonging to Embassy.

Washington, April 21.—The state and justice departments announced today the government's willingness to return to the German embassy all the papers seized in New York with the arrest of Wolfe von Igel, which Count von Bernstorff will identify as official. Photographs of the seized documents have been made and will be retained.

Count von Bernstorff protested vigorously against the taking of the papers and it was said at the state department that Secretary Lansing was considering the necessity of an official apology.

Will Be Returned.

Should the ambassador assert that all the documents are official it is understood that they all will be returned to him, but it was said to be the present intention of officials to keep all the photographic copies.

Officials were interested today as to whether Count von Bernstorff would declare any documents to be the property of the Germany embassy. The papers were said to disclose several subjects of an unusual nature which had not before come to the attention of this government. Definite connection with the German embassy would be confirmed, it was believed, by a declaration that the documents are official. If none of the documents is declared official it was asserted the United States will use them all in the prosecution of von Igel, his assistants, and possibly others as yet unnamed.

TURKEY'S TIME HAS COME, SAY RUSSIANS

Ottomans Said to Want Peace Since Fall of Trebizond.

Petrograd, via London, April 21.—The fall of Trebizond has given rise to a fresh crop of rumors that Turkey is approaching Russia with peace overtures, but it is authoritatively stated in official circles that no such proposals will be considered for a moment by the Russian government.

Voicing a conviction that Turkey is a defeated nation, and not in a position to make any terms, the Petrograd Gazette declares:

"We may now consider one of our enemies finished. The taking of Trebizond has so disorganized the Turkish defensive plans, that all that remains for her is to lay down her arms and ask mercy. She already has sought ways to ask peace, but has met with the absolute refusal of her opponent, who is determined to close no separate agreements. Turkey's hour has struck, and it is not improbable that she will in the near future entirely disappear from the map."

No longer impeded by Turkish pressure on the coast, the Russian armies west of Erzerum have begun a swift advance on Baiburt and Erzingan. With three groups of Russian armies from the Black sea coast to Bitlis in close co-operation, the westward campaign through Asia Minor is expected to develop rapidly.

UNITED STATES AWAITS WORD FROM AMBASSADOR GERARD ON RECEPTION OF NOTE BY BERLIN

NO ACTION IS LOOKED FOR AT PRESENT

Only Torpedoing of Ships Carrying Americans Will Change Plans.

Next Move Will Be Made After German Reply Is Received.

Washington Is Eagerly Awaiting Word From U. S. Embassy.

Washington, April 21.—Secretary Lansing, who conferred with the president before the cabinet meeting, said he did not expect any action until a reply was received from Germany or unless another ship carrying Americans was torpedoed by a German submarine. He said that in case diplomatic relations between the two nations were broken the work of the United States in caring for the diplomatic interests of Germany in other countries in all likelihood would be suspended.

Word from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin that he had delivered the American note to the German government, and some indications from him as to how it was received were awaited with keen expectancy by administration officials today.

Said to Have Been Delivered

London, April 21, 3 a. m.—The American note to Germany was handed in at the German foreign office Thursday evening by James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, according to the Exchange agency's Amsterdam correspondent.

The chancellor has not yet seen the note, as he is at army headquarters, but he has communicated with the foreign office by telephone.

Source of Concern.

Washington, April 20.—While the United States waits for Germany's reply to the note demanding immediate abandonment of present methods of submarine warfare, one of the chief sources of concern here is the possibility of another attack on a peaceful ship carrying Americans before the Berlin government has determined

AMERICAN HUNT FOR VILLA AT STANDSTILL AWAITING REPORTS

President and Cabinet Reviewing Problem From All Its Points.

Mexicans Offer Use of Railway to Withdraw U. S. Troops.

More American Troops Held at Border Ready to Move.

Washington, April 21.—All data at hand bearing on the Mexican situation was assembled at the state and war departments ready for submission to the cabinet today. President Wilson and his official advisers were expected to review the Mexican problem fully for the first time since Gen. Carranza urged that the American expeditionary forces be withdrawn.

A border report that Gen. Herrera had granted use of the Mexican railways to Col. Brown and the Tenth cavalry to "withdraw from Parral" was explained today by army officials as merely a movement of the American advance field base near Parral. Secretary Baker insisted there were no orders or information upon which to

RULER OF ALBANIANS ASKS PEOPLE TO ASSIST TEUTONS

PRINCE WILLIAM.

Paris, April 21.—A Havas dispatch from Corfu says that Prince William of Wied, recently reported to have been reinstated as ruler of Albania, has issued a proclamation at El Bassan, appealing to the people of the country to submit to the Teutonic allies and enroll in the army. The proclamation was signed by the prince and an Austrian officer, Ghirliadini.

Montanans Voting.

Helena, Mont., April 21.—Montana voters are casting ballots in a presidential preferential primary election today. Presidential electors and delegates to the national conventions are also being chosen.

President to Visit Grandchild.

Washington, April 21. — President Wilson will go to Philadelphia this afternoon to see his newest grandchild, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, born there recently. The president probably will return to Washington tonight. He shortened a cabinet meeting in order to leave.

SEVEN THOUSAND BLUEJACKETS PUT TO WORK IN NAVY YARD

Thirty War Vessels at Boston to Be Prepared for Sea Service at Earliest Possible Hour.

Practically Every Ship Can Be Put at Top-Notch of Efficiency in Fifteen Days, Is Report.

Boston, April 21.—Seven thousand bluejackets at the Charlestown navy yard were put in overalls today for the purpose of making the thirty war vessels in the harbor ready for sea at the earliest possible hour. It was authoritatively stated that virtually every ship would be at the top-notch of efficiency in fifteen days.

The enlisted men are being employed because of the difficulty in obtaining sufficient civilian mechanics. Half of the 7,000 had been recalled from furloughs and shore leave.

MEASURE OF PREPAREDNESS.

"It is a measure of preparedness," it was officially explained, "the necessity of which was increased by the fact that we have been handicapped for months by a shortage of civilian workmen and material. If we are to make these ships ready for sea at an early notice, repairs must be completed soon, and it was found that the only way to accomplish this was to put the bluejackets to work."

The vessels to be overhauled include six battleships with a total of about 5,000 officers and men; ten torpedo boat destroyers, three scout cruisers, one submarine and several auxiliary ships.

IMPRESSED BY MESSAGE

French Press Commends Action of United States Toward Germany.

Such Grave Words Never Before Uttered, Says Petit Parisien.

Paris, April 21.—The comment of the French press on President Wilson's address to congress may be summed up in these words, which the Petit Parisian prints in large type as a heading over the text of the speech:

"Never has the head of a state pronounced such grave words against a state with which it was not at war."

The president's address has made a deep impression in France. All the newspapers give it the place of honor. It overshadows the British cabinet crisis and the arrival of Russian forces at Marseilles. The speech is not merely a formal injunction, the Petit Parisien says; it is a closely knit and stern indictment, pronounced in the name of all neutrals "against German barbarity and duplicity, marking the German government

CANADA NOT TO REMOVE SAILORS

No Foundation for Fear Felt By the Lake Carriers.

Ottawa, Ont., April 21.—It is officially stated here that there is no foundation for the fear that the Canadian government contemplates examining ships touching at Canadian lake ports and the removal of sailors, subjects of belligerent nations. At the marine department, which would have cognizance of such a step, it was emphatically denied that any action of that nature was planned.

Lake Carriers Protest.

Washington, April 21.—The Lake Carriers' association today notified the department of commerce it has information that the Canadian government intends in the future to examine all ships on the Great Lakes touching Canadian ports and remove sailors of belligerent nations. The association protested that exercise of such authority would tie up navigation on the lakes. The protest was turned over to the state department.

VILLISTAS GUILTY; WILL BE HANGED

Seven Tried for Murder in Connection With Raid on Columbus.

Deming, N. Mex., April 21.—Seven Villistas yesterday were found guilty of murder in the first degree as the result of the raid upon Columbus, N. Mex. Six were tried together. All were wounded and only two could stand up when the indictment was read. One of the men was brought into the courtroom lying on a cot.

The trial of Juan Sanchez, the seventh, who was tried separately, lasted two hours yesterday afternoon. He admitted that he was a member of the party that killed the proprietor and guests of the Commercial hotel at Columbus.

The penalty for the crime for which the Mexicans were convicted is death by hanging.

MORE ARRESTS WILL BE MADE

Additional Indictments for German Sympathizers to Be Asked.

Result of Further Revelations Made By Von der Goltz.

Washington, April 21.—Additional indictments of German sympathizers in this country will be asked by the department of justice as a result of revelations made by Horst von der Goltz, alleged German spy, brought to New York by Scotland Yard detectives. This was learned authoritatively here today. Von der Goltz's statement was said by department officials to have opened a "field practically without limits."

Many of the allegations in the sworn statement of Horst von der Goltz, made public in London last night, have been known to the department of justice for weeks and investigation has been made particularly into the activities of German consuls in Chicago, St. Paul and Baltimore.

Officials said today the Baltimore investigation was the only one to produce results and the facts collected there will be laid before a grand jury. The Chicago and St. Paul investigations are not now expected to lead to any court proceedings.

Officials said von der Goltz's statement that Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, had advised against an invasion of Canada, proposed by Captains Boy-ed and von Papen, the recalled embassy attaches, had been confirmed some time ago from other sources.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

SCARRED AVENGER FOUND ASSAILANT

But County Cannot Reimburse Nick Speahr for His Detective Work.

Unfortunately for Nick Speahr, St. Louis county has no legal way of reimbursing him for his time and expense in hunting the man who slashed his throat and all but killed him four months ago.

On Dec. 26, at a christening party on a mining location near Virginia, Speahr and Peter Paun quarreled. Paun whipped out a knife and inflicted an ugly wound on Speahr. The latter's jugular vein was severed and it was nothing short of a miracle that he lived. He will carry the scar to the grave.

But Speahr lived, lived to find his would-be assassin. The wheels of justice turned too slowly to suit him and he started on the trail himself. His man hunt was not in vain and Paun was located in Chicago, where he was placed under arrest.

Then Deputy Sheriff McDonald was sent to Chicago after the fugitive. He was brought back to St. Louis county last week and in the range division of the district court was given an indeterminate term of not more than five years in state's prison by Judge Hughes.

"It's not long enough," declared Speahr to R. M. Funck, third assistant county attorney, yesterday afternoon. Speahr called at the county attorney's office to find out whether he could be compensated for his time and expenses incurred in running down Paun.

"I fear that when he gets out he will come back and kill me," said Speahr. "I am afraid maybe they will pardon him."

Speahr's voice is almost gone. He can talk only in a hoarse whisper and he presented a pitiful spectacle when he told his story yesterday.

"It would have been better if he had killed me," he said. "I'm about done for now. You see, I can't hold the good job I had and I've a wife and four children on my hands."

TWO HOMES FLOAT DOWN LITTLEFORK

Water in River Falling, Jam at M. & I. Bridge Being Relieved.

Littlefork, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Littlefork river has fallen three feet in the past two days, the jam at the M. & I. railroad bridge being removed.

One night two homesteaders' shanties came floating down the river.

E. Polkinghorne was obliged to move out of his house owing to the raise of water.

Pat Fitzpatrick, too, was obliged to leave his home, the jam and water washing away two of his buildings and nearly covering his house.

Steel Bridge Gone.

The new steel bridge that was built across the Littlefork river last summer was taken out by the ice and logs the first of this week.

T. J. Johnson is a heavy loser on account of the high water carrying away many unstamped cedar poles, etc.

The Backus Lumber company of International Falls has twelve men blasting the jam at the M. & I. railway bridge. As the water has fallen so rapidly, it will take them undoubtedly some time to break the jam.

Chester Diteker is again running a ferry across the Littlefork where the bridge was taken out.

Big Grand Forks Class.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 21.—On June 8, the largest class in the history of the Grand Forks high school will be graduated. Seventy-five will receive their diplomas. The commencement speakers will be: Ruth Tubbs, John Kelly, William Matthews, Alva Spriggs, Abidail Gaulke and Clara Garver.

LEG AMPUTATED TO SAVE WOUNDED MAN

North Dakotan Accidentally Shot By Friend, May Not Live.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an effort to save his life, physicians yesterday amputated Oscar Johnson's right leg. Blood poisoning set in in the wound young Johnson received last Monday, when a friend accidentally shot him. Amputation was decided upon as the last resort in the fight to save his life.

Physicians say his condition is very unfavorable, and it will be impossible for several days to determine whether he will recover.

WEATHER—Rain or snow tonight; Saturday partly cloudy and warmer.

COL. A. D. DAVIDSON IS CRITICALLY ILL

Reports From Mayo Hospital Give Duluth Friends Little Hope.

Col. A. D. Davidson, aged about 60 years, land commissioner for the Canadian Northern railway, who resides at 1525 East Superior street, is in a very serious condition at the Mayo hospital at Rochester, Minn., where he was taken Monday evening to undergo an operation for acute stomach trouble.

Telegraphic advices received at his home here this morning stated that the patient was very low and that hopes for his recovery were faint. Further information as to his condition is expected this afternoon.

Col. Davidson has resided in Duluth for many years, but has passed much of his time in Toronto, where the main land offices of his company are situated. He has many warm personal friends in Duluth who will eagerly await news from his bedside and who will fervently wish for his complete recovery.

His wife and A. R. Davidson are with him at the Mayo hospital.

COLGATE WAITS FOR WEATHER

More Than 3,500,000 Bushels of Wheat Afloat Ready to Go.

If the snow storm would let up, the first departure of the season for the lower lakes would take place today, despite the fact that it is Friday. The steamer James B. Colgate of the Duluth Shipping company, carrying 105,000 bushels of wheat, is lying just inside the harbor ready to pull out as soon as the weather clears. It was the intention to start the Colgate down the lakes at noon today, but by that time the snow storm had grown worse and the weather was so thick outside the piers that it was deemed inadvisable. However, it is likely that the Colgate will pull out by early tomorrow as better weather is promised by then.

The first boat to start out last year was the Charles S. Hebard, leaving on April 17.

Word received here today says that no steamers have left Port Arthur and Fort William. The southwest wind that has been prevailing has driven the slush ice back into the bay and progress is very much hampered.

A big fleet of vessels is known to be on its way to the Sault from the lower lakes, and will wait there for further orders. New orders will not be given them until it is pretty well established that they can get through the ice at Whitefish bay, and the indication now is that that will be soon, for dispatches from the Sault today say that the southeast wind did not blow the ice out very far, and as there is a northwesterly wind due to start there some time this afternoon, the ice will be probably blown well back into the bay, again closing it up.

Grain Loads Waiting.

Eighteen vessels are in the Duluth harbor, loaded with wheat, and waiting for an opportune time to get away for the lower lakes. The steamer P. A. B. Widener of the Pittsburgh fleet will be moved to the ore docks this afternoon and will be loaded either today or tomorrow, ready to go as soon as conditions seem propritious. The steamer Cotcher, which passed Whitefish this morning is not coming to Duluth but is headed for Fort William.

The steamers having grain aboard, and the amount carried are the following:

	Bushels.
J. J. H. Brown	280,000
City of Bangor	213,000
H. H. Brown	160,000

BEGINS HER LAST TRIP ON LAKE

Steamer H. H. Brown on Reaching Buffalo Will Go to Coast.

When the steamer Harvey H. Brown steams out of Duluth, which will probably be tomorrow, this port will bid her farewell, for she will probably be starting the last trip she will ever make on Lake Superior. The Brown was sold last fall by L. C. Waldo of Detroit to the Coastwise Steamship company of New York.

When she arrives at Buffalo and delivers the cargo of 160,000 bushels of wheat which she is taking down the lakes, it is said that she will be there cut in two, bulkheaded and taken through the Welland canal and the St. Lawrence river to the coast, to enter the coastwise trade.

The Brown was built in 1894 and is a steel steamer of good type. She is 351 feet long with a beam of forty-one feet and a gross tonnage of 2,674.

WHITEFISH PASSAGE IS FAIRLY CLEAR

Conditions Not Overly Favorable Yet—Kotcher Leaves Through Ice.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Upbound steamers are experiencing a little trouble in the ice below Sailors encampment. The Kotcher which left here yesterday, left Whitefish Point at 6 a. m. today.

The ice breaker, St. Ignace, which has been working around the point ever since her arrival reports by wireless that the passage is fairly clear but weather conditions may bring the ice back again. The two whalebacks and the two tugs with the St. Ignace will remain in Whitefish until everything is clear.

Indications are for a northwest storm.

Upbound steamers are proceeding cautiously.

LIGHT CHANGES.

Hydrographic Department Gives Notice for Opening of Navigation.

The hydrographic department has just issued notice of changes, discontinuations and substitutions of lights and buoys for the opening of navigation. Those vessels plying in and out of this harbor are as follows:

About May 1, 1916, the characteristic of Portage River pierhead light will be changed from fixed red to flashing white every three seconds, thus, flash 0.3 seconds, eclipsed 2.7 seconds.

On the opening of navigation in 1916, the color of the light on Lake St. Clair gas and bell-buoy 20A will be changed from white to red. The new light will have a luminous power of thirty-five candles and a visibility of seven miles.

The Canadian government has given notice that the red gas-buoy moored on the western edge of the bank at the lower end of Fighting island, 2,500 feet 33 degrees from Grosse Isle north channel front range light, has been discontinued.

NAVIGATION POSSIBLE.

Heavy Ice Still in Chequamegon Bay But Not Impassible.

Ashland, Wis., April 21.—The tug Ashland which opened a channel from Ashland to Bayfield Wednesday, remained at Bayfield over night and Thursday went to Stockton island. The tug Henry W. of Bayfield reached the island from Bayfield Wednesday afternoon. It was found that the men on the island, from whom nothing had been heard since the ice began to break up ten days before, were well, only one serious case of sickness having devloped.

Heavy ice in the vicinity of Houghton Point was encountered, but generally speaking, it is now possible to navigate vessels at any point in the region of the Apostle Islands and Chequamegon bay, although extensive ice fields may be encountered anywhere.

BOAT FOR PORTAGE LAKE

Hancock Interests Buy Sailor Boy From Sturgeon Bay Firm.

Hancock, Mich., April 21.—The steamer Sailor Boy, the property of the Hart Transportation company of Sturgeon Bay, has been sold to Hancock parties. It is said $7,000 was paid for the craft. A larger steamer will be bought by the Door county concern to be put in traffic on Green bay between Green Bay, Sturgeon Bay, Escanaba, Mich., the Sault and intermediate ports of call.

The Sailor Boy is a 162-ton boat, 100 feet long, with a twenty-four-foot beam. The boat was built in 1891 and rebuilt six years ago. The new owners will use the vessel in the excursion business on Portage lake.

Coast Guard Begins Season.

The coast guard station opened for the season yesterday. Capt. M. A. McLennan is in charge as usual, and has eight men with him. No additional equipment has been furnished the guard since last season, for they were given a large new power boat during the previous winter, and are in pretty good shape for such service as they may be called upon to give during the season.

LIGHTHOUSE TENDER WILL BEGIN SEASON

The lighthouse tender, Marigold, will leave Duluth next Tuesday to take the keepers of the lights in the Lake Superior district to their stations and to outfit the various lighthouses for the season. Capt. J. N. Lanstray of the tender, has just made announcement to that effect. On the return trip the work of placing the buoys in Duluth harbor will take place, which will be in about two weeks.

The trip will be made to Split Rock, Rock of Ages, Passage Island, Manitou, Stannard Rock and Granite Rock. A new bell buoy costing $1,000 will be taken to replace the one lost last winter at Passage island.

NEWT RANDALL OUT.

Milwaukee Club Unconditionally Releases Duluth Player.

Toledo, Ohio, April 21.—Newt Randall and Joe Burg, players on the Milwaukee American association baseball team, have been unconditionally released, President Timme of that club announced here today.

Timme also announced that he is seeking to obtain Outfielder Beall of the Cincinnati Nationals, a Milwaukee player last year and now reported to be on his way back to the minors.

INDOOR BASEBALL AT "Y" GYMNASIUM

The indoor baseball season of Duluth will come to a close this evening when the Y. M. C. A. team, champions of the Head of the Lakes, will take on the West End Athletic club crew at the Y gym. The game is expected to be close and exciting and, undoubtedly, a large crowd will turn out to witness the battle.

Would Be School Official.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harold Bond, formerly an outfielder on the Grand Forks team in the Northern baseball league, is a candidate for superintendent of schools of Slope county, N. D.

HIGHER PER CAPITA MONEY CIRCULATION

Washington, April 21.—The population of continental United States on April 1 was 102,004,000, as estimated by the treasury department statisticians in computing the per capita money circulation of the country, which they place at $88.41, an increase of $3.67 over the per capita circulation on April 1 last year.

Italians Occupy Heights.

Athens, April 21, via Paris.—Italian forces have occupied Thanassi, Fagheon and Klorka heights in northern Epirus, near the Greek-Albanian frontier. They are fortifying these positions with heavy artillery.

The Boy's Easter Outfit

Consider the little chicks.

* * *

Tomorrow is the Saturday before Easter and in spite of the bad weather we expect to fit out many hundreds of boys, for every boy, whose folks can half afford it, wish to wear something new on Easter morning.

* * *

Hats, Caps, Blouses, Shirts, Underwear, Stockings, Shoes—all the little things that belong to a boys' outfit are to be found here in rich profusion, such as is only possible at the beginning of a spring season.

* * *

"Quality" as always, is our first consideration. Where, owing to the present conditions, it has been a question of lowering the quality to maintain the old price, we have preferred to maintain the old quality even if the price had to be raised a trifle. We feel sure all old Columbia customers will applaud our course of action.

"Service" is another of our serious first principles. Service in waiting on you, service in delivering, service in insisting that every article must give you full satisfaction.

* * *

Boys' suits for all conditions of fathers—$2 to $12.50, and a wonderful selection of our year-round bargain—the $4.90 Columbo Special, with two pair of kincker trousers.

* * *

We'll be open till 10:30 o'clock tomorrow night to wait on the multitude.

CLAPP LETTERS ASK FOR SUPPORT

Says He Will Deliver Memorial Day Address in Duluth.

St. Paul, Minn., April 21.—Letters from Senator Moses E. Clapp, asking support in his campaign for re-election, have been received this week by several prominent Republicans of the Twin Cities. They offer the first definite evidence of Senator Clapp's intentions. He has refused repeatedly to make statements to the newspapers.

"I would very much appreciate it if you could support me in the coming primary," says one of the letters. In others the senator elaborates on the campaign prospects. He says he will have little time to campaign owing to the session of congress, but he will deliver a Memorial day address at Duluth, and expects about that time to make several speeches in the state. He says he will depend mainly on the efforts of his friends. He will present his record in the past fifteen years, especially claiming credit for the amendment providing for direct election of United States senators.

INVITATION SENT TO OVERSEA DOMINIONS

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, April 5—England has invited the parliaments of the various oversea dominions to send representatives to visit Great Britain in July to see the efforts that are being made in the prosecution of the war and to exchange opinions on war questions. The numbers invited are: Australia, ten; Canada, ten; South Africa, six; New Zealand, four; Newfoundland, two.

HOLD UNION GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

Four Churches Unite at West End; Other Churches Observe Day.

Four Scandinavian congregations held union services this morning at the First Norwegian-Danish Methodist church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. The congregations taking part were those of the Swedish Methodist, Swedish Baptist and Swedish Mission churches. Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the Swedish Baptist church, delivered the principal address. Special music was also rendered.

Services were also held this morning at Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue and Third street. Rev. C. A. Eckstrom spoke.

English devotional services were held from 12 to 3 o'clock this afternoon at St. Peter's Episcopal church. Rev. W. E. Harmann, rector of the church, was in charge.

CHOIRS UNITE ON EASTER PROGRAMS

Special Union Services Will Be Held Next Sunday.

Preparations are being made by church choirs for special programs to be presented Easter Sunday at the churches of the West end. Special music is being rehearsed by the choirs and Sunday schools.

At the St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, the choirs of St. Peter's and Christ's Episcopal churches of Proctor will present the program at 10:30 o'clock. The united choirs will render the same program Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Proctor church.

"The First Easter," a cantata, will be sung by the choir of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street. The choir has been rehearsing the cantata under the direction of Mrs. J. Emmett Porter. The soloists will be Mrs. Porter, Mrs. David Adams and Mrs. C. J. Kelley.

The Sunday school of the First Swedish M. E. church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will present the principal program at the church Sunday evening. Special music has also ben planned for the morning service.

A musical program will feature the services Sunday evening at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. The soloists will be Miss Nora Otterson and Harold Larson. A trumpet solo will be given by Ernest Paulson.

At St. Clement's Catholic church special music will be rendered at the various morning services. The program has ben arranged under the direction of Joseph von Drashek, choir director, and Mrs. Emil Borth, organist.

TO GIVE ORIGINAL COMEDY.

Street Car Men Will Burlesque Incidents of a Day's Work.

Employes of the Duluth Street Railway company will present an original comedy sketch, burlesquing a day's work on a street car, at the clubrooms next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The play will be given two evenings in order that every employe of the company may attend.

Invitations have been given both to local and Superior employes and their families. Special cars to bring the Superior visitors to the performances have been arranged for.

In addition to the play, a short musical program, including orchestra and vocal numbers, is being prepared. The play is being rehearsed and arranged under the direction of Robert Thompson.

Final Sermon of Series.

The final sermon of a series of revival meetings will be given this evening by Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street. The pastor will speak on the subject, "It Is Finished." Special music will be furnished by the young people's society.

Will Discuss Grade Crossings.

The French Naturalization club will hold its regular business meeting this evening at French hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. The club will discuss grade crossings in this end of the city, with the view of seeking warning devices from the railroad companies to be installed on the crossings.

Sunrise Meeting.

A sunrise service to be held at 6:30 o'clock at the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, will feature the observation of Easter Sunday morning. Special passion week services were conducted at the church last evening by Rev. J. A. McGaughey. The pastor will also conduct services at the church tonight. Special musical programs have been planned for the Sunday forenoon and evening services.

GOOD FRIDAY IN DULUTH

Not Observed By Ordinary Lines of Business; Stores Open.

Public Offices Are Closed; Churches Hold Special Services.

Good Friday is being observed in most of the churches and by the employes of all public offices. Stores, offices and the usual lines of business remain undisturbed by the holiday, the only exceptions being that the board of trade and the stock markets have suspended business for the day and the banks are closed, for Good Friday is a legal holiday.

The postoffice has curtailed its service in observation of the day. Only two mail deliveries were made in the downtown district and one in the residence districts, the money and postal savings bank windows were closed all day, and the stamp, registry and general delivery windows were open only a part of the time, the three being open from 8 a. m. to noon and the stamp window again from 4 to 6 o'clock in the evening.

The public library is closed so far as the obtaining of books is concerned, but the reading rooms were open from 2 o'clock this afternoon until 9 o'clock in the evening.

In the Churches.

Several of the churches of the city, aside from the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches, held religious meetings today or will tonight. Most of such meetings, however, are in the way of communion with short addresses. The Episcopal churches of the city, and some of the Lutheran churches, held continuous services from noon until 3 o'clock this afternoon in commemoration of Christ's march to Calvary, bearing the cross upon which He was crucified.

In the Catholic churches, the way of the cross was celebrated at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Tenebrae will be celebrated at 7:30 p. m.

At the First Methodist church this evening, Dr. Hoffman, the pastor, will conduct communion, and at the First Presbyterian church at 7:45 this evening, "The Crucifixion," by Stainer, will be presented by the choir and chorus.

AITKIN MAN IS STABBING VICTIM

Fargo, N. D., April 21.—Edward Lundmark of Aitkin, Minn., is dead, and John Sande of Eau Claire, Wis., is seriously injured, while George Myrs is being held at Cooperstown charged with murder.

The stabbing took place at Sutton, N. D., Monday night, and Sande was brought to a Fargo hospital for treatment.

Lundmark and Myrs had quarreled and as an outcome of the fight Myrs used a knife on Lundmark and the latter's companion, Sande. Lundmark died almost immediately, but Sande, it is expected, will recover.

RED LAKE SWEPT BY FIERCE WIND

Heavy Damage at Red Lake Agency By Work of Hurricane.

Red Lake, Minn., April 21.—Buildings at the Red Lake Indian agency here were damaged heavily by the hurricane that swept across the lake yesterday, driving floating ice mountain-high upon the shore. Small buildings along the shore were crumpled up like egg shells and it is feared the total damage will pass $30,000.

Seized Launch Wrecked.

The launch Mud Hen, which was seized by the government last fall for alleged illegal liquor traffic, was crushed by the ice. The loss is estimated at $6,000. The launch Nonemah, owned by William Cook, also was wrecked. It is a 35-foot pleasure craft and is valued at $5,000. The government launch Chippewa, which lies further on shore, is in danger of destruction.

AITKIN WOMAN'S WORK APPRECIATED

Honor Guest of W. R. C. After Eighteen Years of Service.

Aitkin, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the W. R. C. held Wednesday evening Mrs. W. O. Eddy was made the honor guest of the evening after eighteen years of faithful and efficient work as a member and was presented by Mrs. F. H. Osterhout, in behalf of the corps, with a purse of money as a silver shower from the members of the organization. The executive committee furnished the refreshments and a social hour followed.

Arrangements have been completed for the appearance of the Carleton college glee club at the opera house Friday evening April 28 under the auspices of the Congregational church.

The high water has made a fine lake in the bed of Ripple river and many local people are in favor of damming the mouth of the stream and holding the water at the present stage. A number of pleasure boats are being used and the young people are enjoying the sport while it lasts.

Lester Spalding, who returned home last week from service in the English army, gave an interesting lecture in the opera house Wednesday evening for the benefit of the firemen's fund.

Miss Esther Morris came home Wednesday from the Superior normal for a short vacation.

Teachers on Vacation.

Among the Aitkin teachers who have been spending their spring vacation elsewhere are, Miss Ella Mork, St. Peter; Miss Edith Perry and Miss Orpha Cheney at Glenwood; Miss Inga Rude, Lansford; Miss Elizabeth Cox and Miss Ruth Young, Duluth; Miss Rhue Young, McGregor.

Mrs. R. A. Mather returned Sunday from Cedar Falls, Iowa, where she was summoned by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. W. H. Thomas of this place, who had gone there on a business trip. Mrs. Thomas accompanied her daughter to Minneapolis, where she will remain for a time before coming home.

Miss Martha Marthenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Marthenson of Aitkin county, and Carl Erick Skog of Ironton were quietly married Monday afternoon at the Swedish Lutheran parsonage, Rev. J. A. Gustafson reading the service. The young people will make their home at Ironton.

Chauncey Barrott and Miss Ella Oberneault, both of Aitkin county, were married April 8, in Duluth.

Miss Anna Otteson and Knute Berglund, both residents of Aitkin county, were married Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Otteson at Malmo.

W. B. Ladd struck a flowing well this week on T. R. Foley's residence lots in this village at a depth of 150 feet. An iron formation was found, but no further exploring will be done.

STUMP PULLING DEMONSTRATION

Northwestern Wisconsin Is Showing Interest in Coming Exhibition.

Madison, Wis., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Much interest is taken in the stump-pulling contests to be held at sixteen points along the route of the land-clearing limited, on its tour in May and June of twelve counties in Northern Wisconsin.

By means of this series of exhibitions and demonstrations, the settlers in each of these counties will be given the opportunity to compare different types of machines, which are being manufactured for stumping and clearing land.

The use of simple home-made hand-stumping machines will be shown, as well as the horse and gasoline power rigs. Dynamite and hand-power pullers will also be used.

Two or three days' time will be spent at each stop en route. Land for demonstration purposes, as near the tracks as possible, will be secured in advance by county agricultural representatives and other local agents. The clearing will be made under actual working conditions, all stumps and other hindrances to the plow being taken as they come.

In case of unfavorable weather, the meetings will be held in the town halls or other places, where illustrated talks will be given and models exhibited.

Train's Itinerary.

The route of the train, announced this week, is as follows: Mountain, Oconto county; Deerbrook and Elcho, Langlade county; Crandon, Forest county; Three Lakes, Oneida county; Eagle River, Woodruff, Vilas county; Bayfield, Bayfield county; Phipps and Radisson, Sawyer county; Bennett, Douglas county; Spooner, Washburn county; Barronette and Rice Lake, Barron county; Cornell, Chippewa county, and Hannibal, Taylor county.

The enterprise will be co-operative in nature, representatives of the college of agriculture working in conjunction with the railroads and companies engaged in the manufacture of stump-pulling and piling machinery and explosives. The train will be operated over the lines of the Northwestern and the Omaha railroads.

BETTER DEVILS LAKE.

"Spotless Town" Is Slogan of Commercial Club of City.

Devils Lake, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Make Devils Lake spotless," is the slogan of the Commercial club. M. R. Hovde, observer at the Federal weather bureau, is chairman of the civic improvement committee and an active campaign has been mapped out to better conditions. The school children have been made inspectors of their homes, examining conditions as to fire safety and sanitation. These reports, properly filled out, admit them to local theaters, and the cards become the property of the fire and health departments of the city.

Ward County Indorses Burke.

Minot, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a well attended meeting of the Democratic Ward county committee, resolutions were adopted indorsing John Burke for senator. This is considered significant in that Hellstrom was two years ago given a majority for governor.

Announcement!

Wednesday afternoon we closed a contract for the enlargement of our Tea Rooms. The new arrangement will largely increase our seating capacity and will relieve periods of congestion, which at times have proven embarrassing to the management.

During the time of alteration, at least, we would kindly request that you do not ask us to make reservations. You realize that the present seating capacity is inadequate, and to accomplish the best results under such circumstances, the tables should not be withheld from service when patrons are ready to occupy them.

We wish to express our very grateful appreciation for the patronage which has made the enlargement essential, and assure you that with our larger equipment we will endeavor to maintain and improve the high standard of service which we believe has given the Tea Room a peculiar charm and individuality all its own.

"Most Any" Corset Won't Do!

"Most any Medicine" wouldn't do if you were ill, would it? You want the particular medicine for your specific ailment.

And if you really care about having a good figure—about retaining your youth as long as possible—about increasing your grace and charm—then "most any" corset won't do either.

You want the particular corset for your specific figure needs.

Warner's Rust-Proof

Naturally corsets differ—in just the proportion that the abilities of their designers differ. So—to be certain of getting the best corset for your figure—it is essential that you select one created by a designer of known skill and reputation.

In the world of corsetry Jennings is generally accounted the foremost designer. He designs Modart Front Laced Corsets exclusively.

If you desire a corset that will fit you perfectly—permit you to breathe easily, give you utmost freedom, mold your figure into permanent lines of grace and at the same time conform to prevailing styles—we urge you to have a trial fitting of the Modart corset.

Most designs $5 to $15. Some $3.50. The Modart style book of spring designs will be sent you on request. (Third Floor)

"Looking Younger Every Day!"

What a pleasure to be the "three score and—"man or woman to be greeted this way! Think of the immediate joy and lasting satisfaction to the returning son or daughter to find the parents not growing old.

None but the old fully appreciate youth and its vigor, however. To grow old gracefully is Father Time's best gift to them.

Every day experience proves that a good stimulant properly used will accomplish much to keep the old young. It can't defy age, but most everyone knows of cases where it has prolonged life for years. That's why unprejudiced physicians recommend a good pure whiskey for elderly people.

When a Physician Prescribes Whiskey, Insist on

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

No purer whiskey can be obtained. The grain from which it is made is the best that can be found, and is thoroughly malted to assist digestion. It is also distilled over and over again to remove every possible trace of any injurious substance. It is unlike any other.

With its prescribed advice of a "tablespoonful in water or milk before meals and on going to bed," Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has earned the reputation of an excellent tonic-stimulant for temperate use. Its 56 years of continued use by thousands of people has shown that it prompts the stomach to healthy action, promotes digestion and assimilation of food, enriches the blood, and brings strength and vigor to the system.

Make some old friend happy with a bottle of Duffy's. Keep it in your home for emergencies.

"Get Duffy's and Keep Well."

NOTE: Get Duffy's from your local druggist, grocer or dealer, $1.00 per bottle. If he cannot supply you, write us. Send for useful household booklet free.

EXPANSION SHOWN IN EVERY LINE

Factories Set New High Records in Extent of Output.

All Duluth's varied industries are sharing in the measure of prosperity that has enwrapped the country this year, according to the statements of their managements.

Expansion is the order in every line, the information available going to show that more persons are engaged in manufacturing enterprises in this city than in any previous period. That labor is remarkably well employed, with payrolls of many factories setting new high records is attested by bank officials who comment upon the number of new savings bank accounts being opened and the substantial sums being carried on deposit.

The general air of cheerfulness pervading commercial and industrial circles is also commented upon. It is said also that money is being expended more freely both for luxuries and necessities than at any time in many years.

W. A. Kehtel, proprietor of the Duluth Cigar company at 118-120 West Michigan street, averred today that his factory's operations are showing a phenomenal gain over last year. Additional operators were taken on by him this week, bringing the number of employes on the payroll up to thirty.

"Our sales of Elcora cigars to the Duluth trade have shown the best proportionate expansion," said Mr. Kehtel. "From that I take it that the city's population is increasing and that the public is showing more of a disposition to patronize home enterprises. Our outside trade is also more than holding its own in spite of a wide section of the range territory coming within the dry area."

DENY CAR SHOP RUMOR.

Great Northern Is Not Build Shops at Bemidji.

Bemidji, Minn., April 21.—Denial has been made by officials of the Great Northern that that company contemplates building car shops here.

They also denied that the yards at either Cass Lake or Devils Lake, N. D., would be moved here.

Rumors have been current for some time that the Great Northern would construct shops and move their yards to this city. Some reports were that the Cass Lake yards would be moved to this city and other reports were that the shops at Devils Lake, N. D., would be moved here on account of the supply of water at Devils Lake.

Rumors were that the railway would spend more than a million dollars in the construction of railway yards and shops.

RU-BER-OID contains no Tar, Asphalt, Sand, Wood or Paper.

Asphalt makes a good pavement but a poor roofing. Like coal tar it melts and runs in hot weather and cracks in cold weather. Sand, gravel and flint add nothing to the wear of a roof, and roll off with exposure to the weather. Wood fibre and paper stock, used in many roofings, rot quickly. We can supply you with a roofing that is made exclusively of tough, heavy felt, waterproofed with a compound which cannot melt, crack, break or rot. This roofing is

Pronounced "RU" as in RUBY
RU-BER-OID
ROOFING
COSTS MORE-WEARS LONGER

It costs more than tar, asphalt, and sand-surfaced roofings, but it is cheaper by the year, because it lasts much longer. RU-BER-OID roofs put on more than 20 years ago are still watertight and look right.

We know that RU-BER-OID will give you lasting satisfaction. Low-grade roofings might be watertight for a while, but RU-BER-OID is permanently weather-proof.

Come in and get our prices.

Colored RU-BER-OID (Ka-lor-oid), made in beautiful Tile Red and Copper Green, has all the wearing qualities of the gray RU-BER-OID. The colors are built into the roofing.

RU-BER-OID is widely imitated. The genuine has the "Ru-ber-oid Man" (shown above) on every roll. The U. S. Appellate Court has enjoined imitators from using the word "Rubberoid or any similar name as the trade name or brand" of their roofing.

EASTER TRADE BEST IN YEARS

Movement in Vegetables and Fruits Increases 25 Per Cent.

Butter Prices Ease Off; Greenstuffs Arrive in Good Quantities.

Easter trade in fruits and vegetables was the best in several years, Michigan street commission houses say. It is estimated that on an average more than 25 per cent increase over last year in the volume of business was recorded by the various houses, and the extra call for articles coming in the list of luxuries is taken as evidence that Mr. Prosperity is making an extended visit in this community and district.

Dealers aver that trade in the range territory has been making the best relative showing so far this spring. With large forces being taken on by the mining companies, merchants in the towns affected are disposing of large quantities of perishables, and they have no complaints to make on the part of slow pay on the part of customers.

Butter Market Easier.

Consumers are gratified just now over the first sign in weeks of an easing up in the abnormally high butter market that has prevailed during the last two months. While quotations are only off 1 cent, the hope was expressed by an official of the Bridgeman-Russell company today that the recession may be accepted as an earnest of others to follow during the next couple of weeks. The best creamery butter is now quoted at 35@37c a pound, with first creamery at 29@30c.

The output of butter has been showing a substantial increase of late, but at the same time consumption has been so heavy as not to admit of any accumulation of surplus stocks. Duluth dealers are preparing to renew their shipments to the Eastern markets upon an extended scale with the inauguration of service to Buffalo for the season by the package freight steamers.

Egg Quotations Unchanged.

Quotations in eggs are unchanged at 22@23c a dozen. Receipts of eggs from over this territory have been heavy since the beginning of the month, but as packers are now picking up supplies for storage, it is thought the demand will prevent any easing off in quotations below their present basis for some time at least.

Receipts of green vegetables and fruits for the Easter season were good, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, the Stacy-Merrill Fruit company and the Culbertson Bros. company. On account of the extra demand, however, prices are slightly higher. The range of Louisiana vegetables has improved, and that condition will become more marked as the season advances. A car of new Louisiana cabbage was received here today, being the first of the season.

Strawberries a Feature.

Strawberries are a feature in the fruit list. On account of continued bad weather in Louisiana, the quotations of the best berries are higher, but they are materially cheaper than a year ago. Sales of California and Florida grapefruit are good, attributed by the trade to the quality and price at which the fruit is being offered. Oranges are also in demand, and a better call is coming for bananas. The run in apples continues and stocks are being rapidly cleaned up.

DULUTH BOY WINS HIGHEST HONORS

Henry Wyant Given Bicycle for Record Magazine Sales.

Henry Wyant of 314 East Second street, aged 12, may be president some day.

Of course every mother wants her boy to become president, and every boy by the same token, has a chance. Henry, however, has made an excellent start on the road to success.

Master Wyant decided last December that he wanted a bicycle. Santa Claus might have brought him one, but Henry decided that he wanted to earn the wheel himself.

He entered a contest offered by an Eastern publishing house where several popular magazines are produced, with a brand new "bike" for the boy who would gain the highest number of points during a given time, by selling these periodicals.

To make a long story short, Henry received his bicycle yesterday. He made 5,525 points and the nearest competitor in Duluth had 2,570 points to his credit.

Instead of resting on his laurels, Henry has figured it out that he can cover a great deal more territory, now that he has a bicycle, and incidentally make a good deal more money.

PRISON SERMONS FAIL OF EFFECT

Unitarian Pastor Advocates Sending Inmates to Church of Choice.

Religious services conducted within prison walls never have done any good, nor ever will.

This, at least, is the opinion of Rev. George R. Gebauer, pastor of the First Unitarian church, who advocates releasing small groups of prisoners from the county jails on Sundays in order that they visit the churches of their choice. There they would hear a sermon prepared for the congregation and not one preached directly to them.

"I appreciate, of course, that such a radical departure is not sanctioned by present law, but a way might be provided by legislation within the next year or so," he said.

"My idea," he added, "is that any talk or sermon or religious service held within a prison loses its good effects on the inmates, for these 'prodigal son' sermons are always couched in language that perhaps hurts, however softly the words are chosen or how much in earnest and however sincere the speaker may be.

"I would like to see the law amended so that permission might be obtained to quietly have a small group of these prisoners go to the various churches, with a guard in citizen's clothes, and without attracting the attention of the congregation, go quietly to seats reserved for them in the gallery, where they can hear a sermon directed to the world at large, and hear inspired songs with a feeling that the gospel and the privilege is for them and that the world is not against them—and that God is for them."

ATTACK BY ROOSEVELT

Wilson Unable to Please Roosevelt, No Matter What Happens.

In Any Event, Colonel Contends That President Is Wrong.

New York, April 21.—Col. Roosevelt is out with a statement saying that if Germany does as President Wilson demands it will prove Germany would have given in when he wrote the "strict accountability" note if he had taken the proper position at that time.

And if Germany does not do as the president demands, the colonel said the "strict accountability" note is unpardonable.

Wilson Scored By Colonel.

The colonel's statement, which thus pillories Mr. Wilson's action, whatever its effect on Germany may be, says:

"Fourteen months ago the president's 'strict accountability' note to Germany if it meant anything, meant at least what the present note means.

"Unfortunately, the president's action in Mexico and as regards other matters had been such that Germany did not believe the note meant anything, and acted accordingly. The president's repeated notes since then, interspersed as they were with speeches and statements such as that about being too proud to fight, did not remove the impression, and during these fourteen months ship after ship has been sunk and thousands of lives of noncombatants, including many hundreds of women and children, have been lost."

Wilson Wrong Either Way.

"If Germany does as the president demands it will be proof that if he had taken the proper position at the time of the original 'strict accountability' note, the lives of those noncombatants would have been saved and the causes of friction with Germany would have been removed.

"If, on the other hand, Germany does not do as requested, it is well to remember that such a note as the 'strict accountability' note fourteen months ago is unpardonable unless it is backed by the deeds to make the words good.

"If it was meant to be taken seriously and produce results it should have been accompanied by immediate and thoroughgoing preparation, whereas we are not now stronger by a man or a gun.

"Every one of these matters I discussed at the time and I can only repeat that whereas courtesy combined with resolute insistence on one's rights tends to produce peace, a policy of weak submission produces a succession of injuries and then leaves exasperation far more dangerous to peace than courageous insistence on one's rights."

"BOOTLEGGER" ACT IS NOT TO BE REFERRED

Bismarck, N. D., April 21.—Secretary of State Thomas Hall announces that he will not submit to a vote of the people the "bootlegger bill," passed by the last state legislature. He bases his action on an opinion by Attorney General H. J. Linde that the petition is invalid by reason of irregularities in signatures. The bill provides a drastic penalty for "bootlegging," and extends the definition of the word to include traveling salesmen of liquor firms.

CONVENTIONS IN ILLINOIS

Democrats, Republicans and Progressives Hold State Gatherings.

Republican Deadlock on State Committee Ended By Thompson.

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—Attorney General Patrick J. Lucey of Streator, Ill., was selected for temporary chairman of the Democratic state convention here today by the state central committee. The committee reorganized by re-electing Arthur W. Charles of Carmi chairman.

Little action was expected from the convention beyond organization and the appointment of a nominating committee and a platform committee.

"I have every reason to believe that after arranging for nominating and platform committees the convention will adjourn until some day in September," said Attorney General P. J. Lucey, chairman of the convention.

"The reason for postponing the business of the convention until September," he said, "is to give candidates for state offices a share in framing the platform to be adopted by the convention. By that time, of course, the candidates will have been selected."

Republican Deadlock Broken.

Peoria, Ill., April 21.—Party leaders from every section of Illinois are here today to attend the opening of the Republican state convention.

Early indications were that Fred E. Sterling of Rockford would be made chairman of the new Republican state central committee.

The deadlock over the organization of the state committee was ended by Mayor Thompson of Chicago going over to Sterling after an all-night conference in which Senator Sherman, Frank O. Lowden, Edward J. Brundage Len Small, Mayor Thompson and Fred Lundin participated. As a result of the new combination, Mayor Thompson, it is said, will be supported by the Sherman-Lowden forces for national committeeman.

The convention is to nominate three candidates for trustee of the University of Illinois, name twenty-nine presidential electors, one from each of the twenty-five congressional districts of the state and four at large and adopt a party platform for the fall campaign.

The convention may adjourn until after the September primaries without completing its work. Several influential leaders declare there is a question regarding legality of the state convention at this time because of the ambiguous provisions of the election law.

Another argument in favor of delay is the opinion that the party will be in a better position to draft a state platform after the candidates for president and governor have been chosen.

If the convention decides to proceed with its program without adjourning, Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman will, it is expected, be indorsed for president and the plan of the leaders is to insert a plank in the platform strongly urging the necessity for adequate military and naval preparedness for national defense.

Progressives Meet.

Chicago, April 21.—Illinois leaders of the Progressive party will not attempt to complete the Progressive state convention today. The convention will be called to order in a local hotel and organization is to be effected by the election of a temporary chairman and a temporary secretary. Having complied with the law which directs that all political parties which participated in the state primary shall hold their state conventions April 21, the convention then will recess until after the national convention.

Before the state convention is called to order the Progressive party state central committee will meet and elect its chairman and secretary. The state committee also is scheduled to select the temporary chairman and secretary of the convention to present to the delegates. Neither the committee nor the convention will draft a state platform. Downstate delegates have been informed by the leaders that there is no necessity for them to attend the perfunctory session.

CALIFORNIA CACTUS JUICE IS A MARVELOUS TONIC

Our fathers and grandfathers can tell you how in the days of their parents, when anyone was sick, the first thing done was to administer a tea made of herbs. That this method of treatment generally had the desired effect is evidenced by the fact that there was much less sickness in the olden times than at present. The means employed to secure health by our ancestors was correct in principal but they did not have the advantages of the modern chemical laboratory to treat the herbs. Today, in California Cactus Juice, we have the roots, herbs, barks, leaves, as of old, but they are subjected to a process which extracts their medical virtue in highest concentrated form. CALIFORNIA CACTUS JUICE is the result of years of careful study and experimentation. It is a vegetable tonic which renews the activity of the organs and cleanses the system. As a spring medicine and blood purifier it stands in a class all by itself. California Cactus Juice is especially effective in relieving stomach, kidney, liver and catarrhal ailments. Dyspepsia, indigestion, gas and bloating are quickly banished by its use. Constipation, sluggish liver and impure blood are conditions that are speedily conquered. California Cactus Juice is being specially introduced in Duluth at the Lyceum Pharmacy, 431 West Superior street, where their representative is located each day to meet the public and tell them of this marvelous medicine. And on Saturday I want to give every lady calling there Easter flowers to show my appreciation of the good will that has been shown me and our medicine since I have been in your beautiful city. Ask any druggist.

IMPRESSED BY MESSAGE

with a brand which nothing can efface."

The Matin characterizes the address as epoch-making and continues: "When the responsible and almost sovereign head of a hundred million free citizens mounts the rostrum in congress to declare 'We are the spokesmen of the rights of humanity,' he has performed an act of immense moral importance. It is in the name of legality that this statesman, having behind him the country on which the whole world depends, declares before the whole world: 'We will not tolerate injustice.'

"In those few words his whole message is summed up. It is an historical event which is deserving of our admiration as one of the noblest acts in the memory of mankind."

Grave Days in History.

Stephen Pinchon, former foreign minister, says in the Petit Journal that the firmness and solemnity with which Mr. Wilson made known his resolution to congress recalls the greatest days of American history. He continues:

"Whether or not the Germans disavow the action of their submarines, they are caught in their own trap and all their presumption falls to the ground before the calm and resolute attitude of a great country standing up for the 'rights of humanity.'"

Under the heading, "Germans Confronted With an Honest Man," Jean Herbette, one of the leading French authorities on international politics, says:

"The German government must be surprised to find itself face to face with the only force of which it is ignorant—conscience. If Germany gives in, it would be an unforgettable humiliation, for it would be the triumph of that ideal of justice and liberty against which Germany went to war. The sinking of a few ships more or less, would not affect German interests greatly, but how could Chancellor von Bethmann-Holwegg mention Belgium and Poland as 'pledges' in his peace congress if the submarine, that other disloyally acquired weapon, had been knocked out of his hand by a champion of the right? The rulers of Germany cannot with impunity open a breach in the fortress of their iniquities."

UNITED STATES AWAITS WORD FROM GERARD

upon its course. In such an event, it is admitted that an immediate rupture could be prevented only by proof that Germany had been unable to communicate with her submarine commanders.

In explaining the demand of the United States, officials said that while abandonment of the present illegal methods at once was essential to continuance of diplomatic relations, the United States might agree to German submarines operating under the strict restrictions of cruiser warfare. It was reiterated emphatically, however, that a discussion of that phase would not be entered into until the present campaign was brought to a stop.

Dutch Ship Torpedoed.

London, April 21.—A Lloyds dispatch from Ymuiden, Holland, says the Dutch steamship Lodewijk Van Nassau was sunk yesterday afternoon. She went down in six minutes. Five of her crew were drowned. Thirty-six survivors have been landed at Ymuiden.

The Lodewijk Van Nassau sailed from Chile in February with a cargo of salt peter for Rotterdam. A Berlin wireless dispatch of April 9 said she had been held up in the Downs by the British authorities since March 22 and that her detention had aroused public opinion in Holland, as the Dutch farmers feared the salt peter would arrive too late for their use this spring.

The vessel was built in 1913 and owned in Amsterdam. She was 325 feet long. Her gross tonnage was 3,397.

Norwegian Ship Strikes Mine.

Washington, April 21.—The American consul at Lisbon reported today that the Norwegian steamer Terjeviken which sunk on April 18 off Lisbon harbor, struck a floating mine and that all on board were saved, including two Americans.

base withdrawal rumors. The department had been previously officially advised that Mexican authorities would not object to a base somewhat nearer Parral.

No Word From Funston.

No dispatches came to the war department over night from Gen. Funston, and all information indicated that the Villa hunt practically was at a standstill. Secretary Baker said there were no new orders or troop movements, and the reports from the border of more troops being sent into Mexico through Columbus probably referred to the additional 2,300 men recently taken from the border patrol to strengthen Gen. Pershing's line of communication.

Secretary Baker said Maj.-Gen. Scott, chief of staff, would arrive at San Antonio late today, and that he expected a preliminary report tomorrow on his conference with Gen. Funston. He is to report where Villa was last definitely located.

Troops in Readiness.

El Paso, Tex., April 21.—Movements of American troops from points along the border to the army base at Columbus, N. M., where they will be held in readiness to reinforce Gen. Pershing's army in case of necessity, still continued today. Dispatches from the front indicated that everything was quiet and that American troops in Mexico were awaiting developments at Washington before making any further effort to capture Francisco Villa.

Officials of the de facto government said there was no basis for the reports that uprisings were imminent in Northern Durango and Lower Chihuahua. It was explained at Juarez that the movement of the Carranza troops into the Parral district was not intended as a threat to bar further advance of the American forces, but that the de facto soldiers had been sent there to preserve order and prevent destruction of private property.

Andres Garcia, Mexican consul, said today that the work of the American expedition was concluded and that he hoped that in a few days the order would come from Washington for the troops to be withdrawn.

"We have the situation in hand," said Mr. Garcia, "and the few remaining bands of Villa men are no more than stragglers. The Villa cause is broken, and if Villa still lives his prestige is destroyed."

Mr. Garcia said he expected that the economic situation would soon improve in Mexico.

Await Conference.

San Antonio, Tex., April 21.—Public interest here today centered in the conference on the Mexican situation which will be held between Gen. Scott, chief of staff of the army, and Gen. Funston. Gen. Scott will arrive tonight.

The Seventeenth infantry left Eagle Pass for Columbus last night. The Sixth cavalry is expected to get under way from Harlingen tomorrow.

TWO REASONS FOR HOLIDAY

Storm on Good Friday Causes Duluth to Be Doubly Quiet.

Street Traffic at Low Ebb, Residents Remain Indoors.

An enforced observance of Good Friday was handed to the general Duluth public today by the weather man and business of every kind was at a standstill with the single exception of the coal "barons" who had more rush orders than they could fill. Some night hauling will be done to fill immediate wants brought on by the sudden change in temperature, but many families will have to run their households on light fires until late tomorrow. Many orders for coal were placed early this morning and by noon business was so brisk that all shipments for today's delivery had to be refused.

Aside from the "black diamond" business, traffic in every part of the city was at a standstill and old women and little children could cross the street without fear of being run down or hurled through a plate glass front by automobiles. Traffic "cops," garbed in rubber boots, sea-faring coats and caps, deserted their posts in the center of the street intersections and stood close to the tall office buildings where they received at least a meager shelter from the heavy northeast gale and snow. There was no need for directing autos, teams and motorcycles for there was only an occasional one in Superior street.

In the many big department and clothing stores, the clerks loitered about their counters discussing their Easter raiment and where and how they expected to celebrate the close of the Lenten season.

Commercial travelers refused to leave their comfortable hotels where they lounged in the big easy chairs and recited their latest stories. At the St. Louis, fifteen people from various towns in the Mesaba range district, who had come here on business, arose early this morning, drew their curtains and taking a peep at the storm, yawned and returned to their beds. One fellow told the clerk to call him "when the war is over."

STRONG INDORSEMENT FOR THE PRESIDENT

New York Republican Legislature Pledges Unqualified Support.

Albany, N. Y., April 21.—The Republican legislature of New York, in the closing hours of the 1916 session last night, adopted a resolution placing its unqualified support to President Wilson and congress in any action necessary to maintain the nation's honor and its willingness to support Governor Whitman "in any exercise of authority for that purpose to the full extent of the resources of the state."

The resolution, which was drafted after a long series of conferences in which Governor Whitman and leaders of both parties participated, follows:

"Whereas, a crisis in the relations of the United States and foreign nations was disclosed by the address of the president of the United States before the joint session of congress and,

"Whereas, the condition of the relations of the nation with foreign governments may at any moment make necessary action on the part of the state in upholding the nation's honor,

"Resolved, that the legislature pledges to the president and congress its unqualified support in any action necessary to maintain that honor, and will support the chief executive of this state in any exercise of authority for that purpose to the full extent of the resources of the state.

"Resolved, that the legislature is ready to be convened at any moment to carry out the full purpose of this resolution."

MRS. ROWE ACQUITTED OF TRIBUTE CHARGES

Commission Clears Chicago Woman of Seeking Graft From Another.

Chicago, April 21.—Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe, head of the public welfare commission of Chicago, was found not guilty of the charge that she had compelled Mrs. Page Waller Eaton, a superintendent in the department of public welfare, to contribute a third of her $3,000 yearly salary to an alleged political fund, in a report issued today by the public service commission which heard the case.

Mrs. Eaton charged Mrs. Rowe with collecting the tribute on the pretext that it was for the assistance of a needy relative of Mayor William Hale Thompson. The commission found Mrs. Eaton's charges were "unsubstantiated and uncorroborated."

The use of the "Mazie says you've got to come across" phrase imputed to Mrs. Rowe by Mrs. Eaton and referring to the wife of the mayor, was the subject of a separate decision by Chairman Percy Coffin of the commission.

He said: "The expression bore the same relation to the Eaton-Rowe controversy as the red, green and purple lights do to a well managed scenic production. It was an artful phrase coined to throw glamour on a new political diversion—female strife. It was disrespectful and uncalled for."

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE SAFE, RELIABLE WAY.

People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from Boyce drug store, 331 West Superior street, or any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, footsteps become lighter, your work seems easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial. —Advertisement.

W. J. BRYAN BEATEN IN EVERY CONTEST

Steadily Losing in Delegate Race as Nebraska Returns Come in.

Omaha, Neb., April 21.—Late returns from the Nebraska preferential primary are increasing the lead given earlier to five opponents of William Jennings Bryan in the race for delegates-at-large to the Democratic national convention. Bryan is now in sixth place on a ticket of seven, only four of whom will be elected.

C. W. Bryan, brother of the former secretary of state and mayor of Lincoln, has been beaten for the gubernatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket, according to returns from more than two-thirds of the precincts in the state. The nominee will be Keith Neville of North Platte, who is now leading Bryan by 10,000 votes. Bryan's campaign was conducted on a Prohibition platform and the former secretary of state appealed personally to the voters in his brother's behalf.

Hitchcock Wins Two to One.

Senator G. M. Hitchcock, candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, has been nominated by a majority of 2 to 1 over I. J. Dunn of Omaha. William J. Bryan toured the state in opposition to Senator Hitchcock.

The Republican race for nomination for governor, which earlier returns indicated will be closely contested, is now going to A. L. Sutton who leads S. R. McKelvie, his nearest competitor by 2,000 votes.

Henry Ford of Detroit has a substantial majority over all other Republican candidates for the presidential nomination.

Supporters of Albert R. Cummins of Iowa, who is nearly 3,000 votes behind Ford, believe the Iowan may ultimately win, for latest precincts to report have cut Ford's lead appreciably to the advantage of Cummins.

For national committeeman, R. B. Howell, Republican, is conceded to have been nominated. In the Democratic contest the result will likely be in doubt until all the votes have been counted.

HONOR PRISONER TAKES HIS LEAVE

Ossining, N. Y., April 21.—Peter Cullen, a sergeant-at-arms of the Mutual Welfare league, the self-government organization which Thomas Mott Osborne founded at Sing Sing, has escaped from the prison, it became known today. Possessing unusual privileges because of his honor position, Cullen was able to obtain an overcoat which hid his prison suit and he walked out the front door.

Cullen was one of the picturesque figures of the Mutual Welfare league. He was married in the prison last August to a New York girl, with a convict as best man, a wedding banquet being held in Osborne's dining room. He was serving an eight-year term for burglary.

CLOQUET I. O. O. F. TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Cloquet, Minn., April 21.—Local Odd Fellows will observe the ninety-seventh anniversary of the founding of the order in the United States on Friday evening, April 28, at the Odd Fellows' hall on avenue C. Cloquet lodge, No. 158, will have charge of the entertainment and Ruby Rebekah lodge, No. 52, will serve the refreshments.

Walter L. Case the principal speaker of the evening will speak on "Fraternalism and Odd Fellowship," and will also give a brief history of the order from the beginning.

There will also be a short program rendered, after which dancing will take up the remainder of the evening. This entertainment will include the Canton, Encampment and Rebekah branches of the order and their escorts.

A COUGH MAY LEAD TO TUBERCULOSIS

Distressing and dangerous complications may follow if you neglect it. Even when so serious a stage is reached, Eckman's Alterative may bring relief. For more than twenty years it has been widely used in such cases with beneficial results.

As with any medication employed in this trouble, the best results are obtained when the patient pays strict attention to diet and gets plenty of rest and fresh air.

Because of its easily assimilable content of calcium chlorid, this preparation is effective where a tonic upbuilder is indicated. As a corrective of nightsweats it has proved most useful. It may be tried with absolute safety, since it contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs of any sort.

SEE RELIEF AHEAD FROM HIGH WATER

Passage of Bill for Red Lake and River Survey Beneficial.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to advices received by the Commercial club from Congressman Steenerson, his bill providing for a survey of the Red lakes and Red Lake river from the outlet to the point of conjunction with the Red River of the North at Grand Forks, N. D., has been passed by congress. This is considered an important step forward in the plan to relieve flood conditions in Northwestern Minnesota.

The bill was drafted by Congressman Steenerson after several important conferences in this city with representatives of water power interests along the river south of this city and settlers ahemselves, who by reason of the high water a year ago suffered great loss in crops, the land being overflowed and seed drowned out.

A drainage commission was organized and several meetings held in this city, when the subject was reviewed, maps consulted and an effort made to get at a practical solution of the problem. Ultimately a regulating dam at the Red lakes and mouth of the Red Lake river was suggested and it was decided that in order to subserve all interests along the river the control of the waters was all-important and that the government should be asked to make a survey and by it determine just what pro rata different interests along the river could in justice be asked to share in the expense of the dam if it be definitely decided upon.

Ready for Spring Freshet.

A temporary revetment or dyke was thrown up along the river for a considerable distance in the town of Hickory, Pennington county, last winter, in order to be ready for the spring freshet, dynamite being first used to loosen the frozen earth and the same then used in the construction of the dyke. The expense of the project for temporary relief was borne by water power interests along the river south of this city and by Pennington county, and reports from the district affected indicate that the dyke has been of great benefit and that the river has thus far kept its bed and not cut across country to the Clearwater river, something that was feared last spring and which might have occurred had not the retaining wall of earth been thrown up.

This result of the efforts of the drainage commission and the congressman, working in harmony on a matter of grave import to settlers and to owners of water powers along the river, is considered locally as one of the most substantial object lessons of Commercial club work during the year's activities of that organization.

MIDLAND ROAD PLANS EXTENSION

Jamestown, N. D., April 21.—The Midland Continental Railroad company contemplates building from Jamestown northeast through the town of Fried, to Spiritwood lake, and thence east to connect with the Wimbledon extension of the line at a point near Clementsville. The company will erect a new station near the center of Jamestown, and run its through trains by way of the new Spiritwood lake extension. The exact route has not yet been announced, but it will probably follow the original survey.

Buys Montana Ranches.

Billings, Mont., April 21.—W. McCrossun, who had much to do with the development of Western North Dakota and Eastern Montana, has purchased the Tooley, Baxter and Tice ranch properties near Two Dot in Meagher county. Thirteen thousand acres are comprised in the deal. It is understood the lands will be subdivided and colonized instead of being utilized for grazing purposes.

Healthy Old Age Brings Happiness

Simple Remedy Promotes Health By Overcoming Tendency to Constipation.

Advancing years impair the action of the vital organs. Old age should be the period of greatest happiness, but good health is necessary. Constipation should not be tolerated—it is often the direct cause of ill health.

Headache, belching, biliousness, bloat, drowsiness after eating and other symptoms of constipation can be readily relieved by the use of a simple laxative compound sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Mr. J. H. Bristol. 1412 Geddes Ave., Ann Arbor, Mich., who is 83 years old, says "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy I ever used for constipation and I always have a bottle of it in the house to use when I feel the need of it; it never disappoints."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative preparation, positive in its effect, acting easily and naturally without griping or other pain or discomfort For over a quarter of a century it has been the standard household remedy in thousands of homes. Druggists everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

COPPER HITS TOP FIGURE

Demand Takes Fresh Spurt; Estimated Output Greatest in History.

With sales of two cars of electrolytic copper at 31 cents a pound, reported at New York yesterday, the market touched its highest point in any year since 1873. A sale of the Lake Copper company at 29½ cents for June-July shipment was also noted and the quotation in spot copper was firm at the close of the market at 31 cents.

The demand for copper has taken a fresh spurt, and it is now more active than at any time since the buying movement began, according to reports.

Consumers are besieging producers with their bids for early and distant deliveries, and as a result, mine owners are inclined to go slow in regard to future commitments, especially for late deliveries.

If the present rate of production at the mines is maintained, it is estimated that the copper output of this country for 1916 will reach 2,096,875,000 pounds, an increase of 27 per cent over the figures of 1915.

Based on an average selling price of 27 cents a pound, the gross value of the 1916 copper output is placed at $565,920,000 as compared with $228,220,000 in 1915 when the price received averaged up at 17½ cents. In 1914 the production was 1,533,781,000 pounds and it was disposed of at 13⅜ cents, bringing $295,066,500 gross.

Comparative Outputs.

Outputs of the leading copper producers for the year as compared with 1915 are compiled as follows by the Wall Street Journal:

WILL SEEK AID OF YOUNG PEOPLE

Plans for Enlisting Them in Fight for National Prohibition.

Columbus, Ohio, April 21.—Special plans for enlisting young people's organizations in the fight for national prohibition will be made by the Anti-Saloon League of America at its national convention to be held June 26 to 29 in Indianapolis, according to announcement of the program committee. A number of national organizations of young men and women interested in abolition of the liquor traffic will meet simultaneously with the Anti-Saloon league convention. The Eastern college oratorical contest will be a feature of the opening day of the convention.

Campaign plans will be developed at the convention for co-ordination of state anti-saloon organizations in state prohibition campaigns as well as in the national fight.

Among the speakers at the meetings will be: Dr. Howard H. Russell, aged founder of the Anti-Saloon league and general secretary of the Lincoln-Lee legion; Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York, president of the league; Daniel A. Poling of Boston, former Prohibition candidate for governor of Ohio; Rev. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the league in Indiana; John G. Willacy, former liberal leader of Texas, and Governor Moses Alexander of Idaho.

On Sunday afternoon, June 25, the day preceding the formal convening of the convention, a mass meeting of men from Indianapolis and Central Indiana will be held at Tomlinson hall. The collegiate oratorical contest is set for Monday afternoon, June 26. On that afternoon a rally of young persons' organizations will be held. Round table discussions will feature the program for Tuesday morning. Delegates from Canada will tell of the successful fight for prohibition in the dominion.

MALT DEALERS TO TEST ORDER

Crookston Soft Drink Places to Resist Prosecutor's Dictum.

Crookston, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday morning dawned with every soft drink parlor supposed to be free from the taint of malt liquors of any and every description. County Attorney Youngquist notified all dealers several days ago that on and after April 20 those selling malt liquors, whether intoxicating or not would be prosecuted, owing to the fact that many dealers in the county had used them as a cloak to cover the sale of real beer and whisky. Some of the beverages sold will stand the test, but many will not. As a rule the dealers have announced their intention of complying with the law, but some others have indicated they will not quit till a test case has been carried up to the supreme court. Reports have been received that violations of the law are flagrant in some places, and evidence is now being gathered which will result in a number of arrests within a few days.

CROOKSTON AUTO CLUB TO ELECT

Crookston, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Crookston Automobile club is planning a very active season. The annual banquet will be served at the Commercial clubrooms next Wednesday at 6:30 o'clock, officers will be elected, the season's tours discussed, committees named and other business disposed of.

This club was the first of its kind to take up good roads work actively. A tractor was purchased several years ago and has been kept smoothing roads every summer from early spring till late in the fall. This spring two new tractors have been purchased, with Commercial club backing, which will make it possible to drag the roads leading to the city immediately after every rain. The club has also done yeoman service in graveling main roads and securing the co-operation of township boards and individual farmers in graveling.

Good Roads Meeting.

An important meeting for the promotion of good roads was held at the Commercial clubrooms last evening when representatives from Bagley, Fosston, Lengby, McIntosh, Erskine, Mentor and Dugdale met with the special Jefferson highway committee of the Commercial club and a line of action was formulated to secure the highway for Polk county, and committees were named from each town for an aggressive campaign.

CROOKSTON REVIVAL TABERNACLE READY

Crookston, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Tabernacle in which six weeks of revival services will be held under the joint auspices of six of Crookston's Protestant churches for six weeks beginning early in May, is now practically enclosed. It is being constructed by volunteer labor, and will seat about 1,500 people. A professional revivalist will be in charge, with a regular business organization with him. This is the first time Crookston has ever attempted anything in the revival line on so large a scale, and those interested in the proposition are very sanguine over the results that are to be obtained. The Tabernacle is located at the entrance to Central park, and will be razed following the meetings.

Borah Heads Delegates.

Twin Falls, Idaho, April 21.—Senator W. E. Borah, unanimously was chosen to head Idaho's delegation of eight to the Republican national convention at the state convention here yesterday. Although the delegation is uninstructed as to presidential candidates, the resolutions adopted are highly eulogistic of Senator Borah's personality and public career.

MEXICO HAS MANY INDIANS

Fully 38 Per Cent of Inhabitants of Country Pure Indians.

Astonishing Degrees of Civilization Found Among the Many Tribes.

Washington, April 21.—There are more Indians living today within the territory originally comprising Mexico than ever existed at any one time in all the rest of the Western hemisphere combined, according to a bulletin issued today by the National Geographic Society of Washington.

"Of the 15,000,000 inhabitants of Mexico fully 38 per cent are pure Indians, and 43 per cent mixed blood, only 19 per cent being whites," continues the bulletin.

"These six million Indians, many of whom are descendants of that wonderful race, the Aztecs, are divided into many linguistic families and tribes, the numbers varrying according to the standards of differentiation adopted by each enthnologist. Some authorities group them into fourteen families, with fifty-one languages and sixty-nine dialects, while others make sixteen family divisions, sub-divided into 132 tribes.

Degrees of Civilization.

"The degrees of civilization to be found among the many tribes are astonishing, ranging from the abject Seri Indians of Sonora, as pitiably undeveloped as the Indians of Terra del Fuego, to the highly developed and splendid specimens of manhood found among the Nahuatl and Maya tribes.

"The finest examples of aboriginal civilization on the North American continent were to be found in the neighborhood of the present City of Mexico, with the possible exception of the prehistoric race of temple builders whose ruins dot the Yucatan peninsula. It was on the site of the capital that the Toltecs left their imprint from 650 A. D. to the Twelfh century, when he Chichimecs, a cruder tribe, replaced them, not by conquest, but because the Toltecs died out, some antiquarians attributing their gradual disappearance to the ravages of pulque, the insidious drink that has ever been the curse of that country.

Advent of the Aztec.

"Then came the highly civilized Acolhuas, and a few years later, before the opening of the Thirteenth century, the Aztecs began to pour in, leaving in their wake, as they came up the plateau, the remarkable structures now known as the ruins of Casas Grandes. They built Tula, fifty miles north of Mexico City, and eventually founded Tenochtitlan, on a site selected for them by the gods, according to legend, the sign being an eagle perched on a clump of cacti, with a serpent in its talons. It is this sign which remains today the national emblem, appearing both on the coins and on the flag of Mexico.

"One of the most interesting legends about the tribes from which the Indians of today are descended is that recorded of the Colhuas, who are supposed to have enslaved the Aztecs during the latter's migratory march up the plateau. The conquerors soon released their enemies because they were horrified at the Aztecs' custom of offering human sacrifices to their gods.

Generous Fighting Men.

"It was largely to the co-operation of the Tlaxcalans, a neighboring tribe, that Cortez owed his triumph over the Aztecs. The latter were as brave and as chivalrous soldiers as were the Spanish adventurers who enjoyed the decisive advantage of gunpowder and horses, both of which were unknown to the natives. The generosity of the Aztecs as fighting men is exemplified in a single incident. Learning that the enemy was without food, the Mexicans dispatched an ample supply of provisions, because they scorned to fight a starving foe!

"The majority of the pure-blooded Indians of Mexico are a quiet, somewhat melancholy people. Even on holidays, of which there are 131 on the Mexican calendar, they move silently among the crowds, the men either barefooted or wearing woven sandals, their shoulders covered with their striped sarapes, and the women with their dingy blue rebosas wrapped about them. In attire the young girls, like the children of Holland, are miniature replicas of their mothers.

One Indian President.

"The pure-blooded Indians of the remote regions untouched by civilization is more frequently than otherwise a stalwart individual of upright character, moral, honest, and loyal. One of the finest examples of his race was Benito Juarez, a member of the Zapotecas tribe of Oaxaca. He was by turns a shepherd, a student of divinity, governor of Oaxaca, minister of justice, and finally president of the republic.

"Porfirio Diaz, the outstanding figure in Mexican history during the last quarter of the nineteenth century, was also born in Oaxaca and according to his official biography was one-fourth Indian, however, some genealogists hold that he was more nearly three-fourths Indian."

WORK THEIR WAY THROUGH COLLEGE

Nineteen Students at Princeton Support Themselves Four Years.

Princeton, N. J., April 21.—Going through college on nothing a year seems to be more than a polite fiction, judging by records which have just been unearthed on the campus of Princeton university. Nineteen men in the senior class at Princeton today went on record as having supported themselves wholly throughout their college course of four years. Although the names of these nineteen "self-made" college graduates are not made public, their occupations are and the list includes such jobs as pressing clothes, tending furnaces, washing windows, waiting on table and "minding the baby."

These figures have been compiled by the Princeton seniors for their own family album and have excited genuine surprise among some of the university authorities who had the impression that in its secluded location Princeton limited the opportunities for the self-supporting student. In addition to the nineteen who worked their way alone thirty-eight men stated that they had supported themselves in part. Most of these men are said to have stood very high in their college studies at the same time. There are about 300 in the class.

Tutoring and selling provided probably the greatest actual return of any of the various kinds of work. Several of the men did typewriting, newspaper work and filing in the library and a large number obtained agencies for the selling of every conceivable article that the college student could desire, ranging from pajamas to diamond lockets. A part of the money which each man earned was of course made in the summer time outside of Princeton, but in every case the greater portion was earned during the academic year.

Some of the more serious records collected show that freshman year called for the hardest work in the class room and that senior year was by far the most pleasant. "Money and banking" was voted the most valuable course in the entire four years with "social economics" second.

OLD KILN WITH MANY PIECES OF POTTERY

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—Dr. H. M. Whelpley, chairman of the archeological committee of the Missouri Historical society, has announced the discovery of an old kiln, containing many pieces of pottery, on the side of a hill here.

The pottery is much like that which the Indians made, but Dr. Whelpley thinks it is the work of early white settlers. The kiln, which apparently was built by white men, was shaped like a bee-hive and had a diameter of about four feet.

The kiln was unearthed by Joseph H. Vorst of St. Genevieve, who was excavating for an addition to his home. He will build a shelter over the kiln and preserve it.

GERMAN INDUSTRIES ARE AT STANDSTILL

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

The Hague, Netherlands, April 5.—The exodus from Germany of the numerous Dutch workmen's families resident there has been in evidence for many months past, and the movement is proceeding steadily. Most of these people hail from the Rhenish Westphalian industrial region.

They declare unemployment is increasing on every hand in various branches of German industry. Margarine and oil factories are here and there entirely at a standstill; the weaving factories have not been at work for some time and now the army gun-cotton factories, including those at Bocholt, have had to reduce their operations to two days per week, the cause in all cases being lack of raw materials.

SHAKESPEARE'S PLAYS PRODUCED IN DENMARK

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Copenhagen, March 30.—The tercentenary of Shakespeare's death is to be celebrated in Denmark by many theaters. The Royal theater at Copenhagen will produce Richard III., and the Association of Danish Writers has arranged various festivals at Elsinore, the assumed scene of the tragedy of Hamlet. There is to be an open air performance of Hamlet in Kronborg castle, and a banquet at Marienlyst, which is the neighborhood of Elsinore City. In the open air performance, "Hamlet" will be presented exactly as in Shakespeare's time.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally, and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease—Advertisement.

BIRDS WILL BE COUNTED

Biological Survey Calls for Volunteers to Count the Birds.

Wanted in West, Especially on Farms and Woodland Tracts.

Washington, April 21.—The third annual bird count of the United States will be made by the bureau of biological survey of the United States department of agriculture during the breeding season in May and June. In making this survey the bureau will rely largely on persons interested in bird life who agree to act as volunteer enumerators and count the different kinds of birds found in a forty or eighty-acre farm or woodland tract near their homes. The counts thus made by unpaid observers during the last two summers have furnished to the department valuable data on the character, number, and distribution of the bird population.

This year the ornithologists of the department wish particularly to secure a large number of volunteers in the west to report on the bird life in the plains, the semi-arid regions, the deserts, and the mountains in that part of the United States. Especial attention also is to be given to securing data as to the birds in the fruit districts of the Pacific coast and in the south Atlantic and gulf states.

Effect of Bird Laws.

The information collected this year, it is believed, will be of special value in enabling the department to test the effect of state and national bird laws and also in determining what relationship exists between bird life and the prevalence of locusts, grasshoppers and other insect pests in different localities.

As it is impossible to make an actual count of all the birds in any extended district, each enumerator is asked to report only upon the number of birds breeding in a selected area of forty to eighty acres in country or suburban districts. From the figures thus obtained those in charge of the work are able to approximate the total number of birds of each kind in different sections of the country.

Enumerators who wish to report on birds on farms are asked to choose an area which includes farm buildings, shade trees, orchards, plowed land, pasture or meadow or swamp, but not very much woodland. The enumerator begins his survey at daylight some morning and zigzags back and forth in the selected area, counting the male birds. Early in the morning during the last of May or the first week of June every male bird should be in full song and therefore easily counted. The count of one day is to be verified by observation on several mornings.

Breeding Season Chosen.

The height of the breeding season should be chosen for this work. In the latitude of Washington, May 30 is about the proper date for the count. In the latitude of Boston the work should begin a week later, and south of Washington even an earlier date should be selected.

In addition to reports on farms and suburbs, enumerators who can do so will be asked to report on the birds in a timber area of about forty acres or in an isolated bit of woodland of from ten to twenty acres. In the northeastern states, separate reports on the number of birds found in the wilder portions of the farms, preferably those surveyed in the earlier counts, are desired.

Those wishing to take part in the survey can obtain complete instructions by writing to the bureau of biological survey, United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. The work, however, calls for considerable knowledge of birds, and only those who can readily distinguish the different kinds should undertake to make returns for their localities.

ENGLISH DOCTORS ARE NOW BEING ENROLLED

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, April 5.—All medical men throughout the country, regardless of age, are being asked to enroll themselves to meet "an urgent national need." The work of enrollment is being conducted by the medical war committees in England, Scotland and Ireland.

For military purposes the service age of doctors is up to 45, but medical men beyond that age can give their services to home hospitals and therefore they, as well as doctors of military age, are being enrolled.

The idea of making a complete enrollment is not only to ensure a satisfactory medical service for the army, but also to safeguard the needs of the civil population. In some districts, there has recently been a great scarcity of doctors, due mainly to enlistments.

LUNACY INCREASING IN GREAT BRITAIN

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, April 5.—The report of the board of lunacy control, reviewing conditions in Great Britain since the year 1859, shows a steady and alarming increase of insane persons in all classes, but especially among paupers.

In 1859 there were 36,000 persons under control for lunacy; in 1899, 100,000; in 1915, 140,000.

As compared to the total population, the ratio of lunatics in 1859 was 18.5 per 10,000. In 1915 the proportion had risen to 37.7.

DEMAND FOR CHURCH CANDLES INCREASED

Washington, April 21.—War has increased the demand for church candles in Russia where a shortage of beeswax for making them is reported by American consular officers. Germany before the war supplied almost three-quarters of the beeswax imported by Russia for this purpose and the cutting off of this source of supply has left Russian church candle factories with a shortage of 7,222,561 pounds for the coming year.

Femininity may take heart.

There is still a very good chance that the Easter parade will be held in Duluth this year.

Today did not look very encouraging, but the weather man holds out some hope. The snow and rain and wind will abate tonight, and tomorrow is expected to be partly cloudy and warmer. The forecast for the rest of Minnesota is even more encouraging, and there is a very fair prospect of a warm, bright Easter.

Events of Interest.

The regular meeting of the Evening Drama class will be held at the Holland hotel Monday evening, April 24, at 7:45. German drama will be the subject. Hauptmann's "Haurele" will be read with Miss Bess Altman as leader. Other readers will be Miss Hannah Strand, Miss Katherine Petz, Miss Estelle Bondy, Rae Zurobsky, Esther Zurobsky and Dolly Polinsky.

How to Color Easter Eggs.

Cochineal, spinach, onions and transfer pictures color Easter eggs that may be eaten without danger from poisoning. After eggs are boiled hard they should be boiled in the coloring fluid, the time depending upon the desired shade. Cochineal makes shades from the most delicate pink to deep red, spinach produces shades of green, onions produce brown and the transfer patterns make all kinds of designs and color combinations possible.

Eggs that are colored with poisonous dyes should first have their contents removed. Make a hole in one end of the egg with a pin and then enlarge the hole with the point of a knife. Let the white drain out and then pierce the yellow to let that escape. Rinse the shells in cold water and dry them. Then they will be ready for decoration. Custards, cakes, icings whips and mayonnaise will use up the white and yokes of the eggs.

Candy eggs may be made of uncooked fondant which can be left white, or tinted or speckled with cocoa, spinach water and cochineal. Shreds of candied grape fruit or orange peel make suitable nests for candy eggs.

Social Service Work of D. A. R. Has Grown From Humble Beginning

MRS. CAROLINE RIDLEY ENSLOW.

Mrs. Caroline Ridley Enslow of Brooklyn told the Daughters of the American Revolution, who assembled in Washington this week for their Twenty-fifth congress, how an idea and $100 for printing, backed by their real wish to help others, had resulted in the expenditure of thousands of dollars within one year, to say nothing of the giving of personal service.

Mrs. Enslow began her social service work twelve years ago when she was living in Washington, D. C. She started as probation officer in the juvenile court of the District of Columbia, and in four years cared for more than 800 cases of children.

By persistent effort she interested the D. A. R. in humanitarian work and by constant urging got the national society to see the possibilities of engaging in country-wide charity efforts.

Dream Is Realized.

At the D. A. R. congress last April, Mrs. Enslow read some of her personal reports on charity work and realized her dream of twelve years, when the members were instantly aroused. She was chosen the national charity officer.

The philanthropic work covers such a broad field that it would be necessary to hear the reports of the twenty-two state charity officers to realize fully the great amount of good the D. A. R. members are doing. Here, for instance, is the report of the Brooklyn and Manhattan chapters for the year:

"One day in May, 100 D. A. R. members acted as saleswomen and assisted in other capacities in the demonstration sale of articles made by the blind. From May to June attention was turned to ill and crippled children and arrangements were made to send them to the seashore. In September, October and November many personal investigations were made, food and clothing were distributed, jobs were found for girls and members acted as 'Big Sisters' to juvenile delinquents. For twenty-four days in December a wagon was used to deliver clothing, bedding and food. Twenty-seven tons of coal were disposed of in small quantities and a Christmas tree was provided for poor children. The lily wagon will make its trip to the hospitals Easter and each sick child will get an Easter lily and an American flag."

Tooth Brush Brigades.

Besides all this, the Brooklyn and Manhattan chapters have started tooth brush brigades and have given tooth brush outfits to children. Girls have had their teeth attended to by dentists, hospitals are visited twice a week and flowers are distributed and a child's bed is supported.

All the other reports are in a similar vein for the idea is rapidly taking hold and spreading.

"The important thing about our charity," said Mrs. Enslow, "is that it is humanitarian. It is what I call 'heart work,' for we are not catering to beggars, but just giving persons in misfortune a new hold on life.

"It is personal service which I am impressing upon the members of the D. A. R. It is the kind word that cheers the friend in need, that serves to help many a person in distress.

"Our organization stands for Americans," she continued, "and, because it reaches over the land, we can have splendid co-operation in all parts of the United States, and as a great big united factor, we can accomplish a great deal. Just think, if we can interest 15,000 or even 10,000 more, what we could do with our personal service idea. Why we would have the largest body of unpaid workers in that field in the world. That is my dream, and I hope some day to realize it."

Women's Guild Is Thanked For Its Relief Work

Mrs. Simon Clark, treasurer of the Women's guild of Glen Avon, has received a letter from Grace S. Yorbaugh, the active president of Anglo-American Relief Society for Refugees, thanking the guild for its donation, which was devoted to paying the wages at 5 cents an hour of needy refugees for making garments and other necessities. Enclosed were two postcards, one showing the exterior of the building at Amiens, in which the workshop is located, the other a view of the workshop. In her letter, written on the letter head of the "Friendly Camp" at Amiens, Miss Yorbaugh says:

"The association contemplates closing down for the balance of the war. There is much improvement in the employment conditions in Paris and the branch of the relief service which I organized Aug. 5, 1914, is being wound up as I write. Henceforth, the urgent need is help for the refugees in the provinces. This is in charge of the 'Friendly Camp.' Very few English and American women have the privilege of working 'au front.' We are the only Anglo-Americans working among the 45,000 refugees of Amiens in person.

Y. W. C. A. Relief.

"The Y. W. C. A. relief service, although it has not in any way been responsible for the maintenance of the 'Friendly Camp,' has co-operated heartily for a number of weeks during the winter, and in my judgment the 'Friendly Camp' is the best idea and activity so far evolved in relief for refugees.

"The workers, all volunteers, give not merely relief, but friendliness, and they maintain touch with their proteges as long as friendliness is a comfort and an inspiration to them in their forlorn condition. The prefect, major and other authorities send necessitous refugees to the camp for 'les dames Anglaises' to befriend."

The writer gave several examples of the pitiful conditions of refugees that were relieved by assistance from the Friendly camp. In conclusion she said:

Remember "Friendly Camp."

"I only request, Mrs. Clark, that among the good works done by your guild, you remember the 'Friendly camp' of Amiens. The best way would be, I fancy, to see if you cannot enlist a few other societies in the cause and between you all organize a regular monthly remittance, or bi-monthly, for a certain time, and a regular sequence of boxes containing the greatest needfuls—disused or new garments, for both sexes, all ages and sizes; blankets, flannelette, gingham and calico, wool for socks and shoulder capes, stockings, baby garments and shoes—big sizes. Money is needed to pay wages, run a soup kitchen and a pasteurized milk depot and send workers into villages as fast as military permit can be secured, and—an immediate and crying need—provide a trained nurse; $100 will provide the latter's living expenses for three months.

Many Refugees in Amiens.

"There are 15,000 refugees in Amiens and 30,000 in the villages near about. The Friendly camp is the only Anglo-American relief work in the whole region."

Conscience-Stricken Thief Returns Gems Stolen From Mrs. J. Panton

A thief, who on Feb. 14 snatched a purse containing $4,500 worth of jewelry from Mrs. John Panton on the streets of Seattle, struggled with the pangs of conscience for two months and then returned the jewels intact to her home, according to word which has been received here by the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Panton, who formerly resided in this city.

According to a Seattle newspaper account, the thief retained $40 in money which he obtained with the jewelry. He brought the jewels to the house and rang the doorbell. On answering it, Mrs. Panton found nobody outside. Just as she was about to turn away she spied a cardboard box near the door. Picking it up she discovered her jewelry.

On Feb. 14, Mrs. Panton was taking her jewelry home after having had it cleaned. She alighted from a jitney four blocks from her home and was hurrying along in the gathering dusk when a man stole up behind her, seized the handbag and darted down a side street. She hurried to a nearby drug store and gave the alarm, but the police were unable to find the thief.

White House Reception For D. A. R. Delegates

Washington, April 21.—President and Mrs. Wilson yesterday received several thousand members of the Daughters of the American Revolution here for their annual congress, and of the children of the American Revolution. For nearly three hours, the women filed through the blue room of the White House, while the marine band played patriotic music. Mrs. William Cumming Story, president-general of the D. A. R., received in another room. Last night the members were guests of the Southern society at a reception.

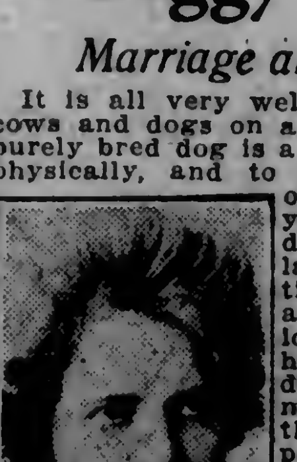
Peggy Peabody's Observations

Marriage and Health



It is all very well to breed horses, cows and dogs on a scientific plan. A purely bred dog is a vast improvement physically, and to the eye at least, over the poor little yellow dog of nondescript blood. The latter is countless times more desirable as a companion, as staunch in his friendship and devotion and often more lovable than the dog with a pedigree. These attributes represent his intelligence, his mentality, his soul, or whatever you choose to call it, so elusive in animals. This, in all the power and glory of its development in human beings has always contended against and baffled science. It sometimes seems as though it always would, for it is more often found without the accompaniment of blood and in the body of a defective physique.

Most people think it is an unwise if not a criminal thing for a man or woman who has the dread disease consumption to marry and bring children into the world to inherit, in all probability, the same bodily infirmity. We have felt, heretofore, that it would be encroaching too much upon personal liberty to say that a man or woman should not marry who is thus afflicted. It seems, rather, that it is a matter for the conscience of the individual and his highest sense of duty.

To the credit of the human race, learning more and more as they have about the scientific facts of disease of mind and body, they more commonly feel the responsibility of their acts where the future of another generation is concerned and desist in their preparations for marriage if their failing, in sober consciousness, seems to warrant the sacrifice.

After all is said and done it is love that makes the world go around and we would be a sorry lot of human beings if love was eliminated from our lives and races reared on a purely scientific basis. I am afraid that there would not be many human beings in a short time.

Of the offspring of two families, one born of love and the other with scientific principles rigidly followed, give me that of love for health, happiness and physical perfection and the everlasting advantage of the human race every time.

Easter Chicken Dinner

THERE is a wide range for individual taste and dainty arrangement in table decorations this Easter that is unusual. All the spring buds, flowers and vegetables are on hand ready for your selection, and there is no limit to anyone's choice, for Easter Sunday's dinner is supposed to be a very bright affair. Green, red, pink, yellow and violet posies, with a few stately lilies, are in good taste, but if your purse does not permit a lavish floral centerpiece, potted flowers give pleasing effects.

Dealers say the demand for fowl this week is exceptionally heavy, and as there is nothing better, perhaps you will choose a plump biddy or tender capon for your dinner theme. A five-pound chicken will cost in the neighborhood of $1.25, and there is considerable waste to a fowl. But if you plan a little you can make several dishes from it that make it an economical purchase after all. I suggest that you choose a roasting chicken and then boil it in this way:

Boiled Stuffed Chicken—Prepare as for roasting and fill with a giblet and bread stuffing. Bind legs and wings to sides; tie firmly in a net or bind with strips of linen. Drop into boiling water and cook gently until you are sure the bird is done. If it does not seem tender when you put it to cook, add a fourth of a teaspoon of soda to the water and do not salt until it is half done at least. When a fork test shows it is ready to serve, drain the fowl well and unwrap it. Place it on a hot, deep platter in warm oven. Salt, pepper and butter it well. Use one cup of the chicken stock and one cup of rich milk, a tablespoon of corn starch and yolks of two eggs in making the chicken gravy. Pour this around the dish and have small hot biscuit ready to serve. This is called "Yankee" pot-pie. Salt what liquor remains and when it is cold remove the fat and save it for chicken dumplings for one day next week. The liquor may be used at once for soup or kept in a cool place until needed. If any chicken remains after the meal it may be utilized with veal in chicken salad.

Cream of Celery Puree.
Boiled Stuffed Fowl. Hot Biscuit.
Chicken Gravy.
Peas. Mushrooms on Toast.
Bermuda Potatoes.
Fresh Salad.
Strawberries.

Papier mache baskets or willow crocks lined with strawberry leaves and containing four or six large, long-stemmed berries may be brought to each diner. Any dainty china or cut glass dish that is small and delicate looking may be used to hold the pulverized or fruit sugar. These dishes are placed on lace or lace paper dolleys at each place and the berries are dipped in them and eaten from the stem.

Coffee and cakes may be served after the fruit, but if the weather remains so lovely it will be enjoyed on the main porch or in the living room by open windows.

Some More or Less Valuable Information About the Retail Markets.

Green beans fetch 25 cents a pound.
Watercress fetches 7 cents a bunch.
Peas fetch 20 cents a quart.
Head lettuce is 20 cents a head.
Strawberries are 17 cents a box.
Spinach is 50 cents a peck.
Mushrooms fetch 60 cents a pound.
Blood oranges are 30 cents a dozen.
High school tomatoes are 30 cents a pound.
Pecans bring 50 cents a pound.
Easter lilies sell at different prices.
Fresh herring, 10@12 cents a pound.
Frozen whitefish, 20 cents a pound
Small bass bring 25 cents.
Frogs' legs, 20@25 cents a dozen.
Perch sell at 25 cents a pound.
Smelts fetch 20 cents a pound.
Hot cross buns, 12 for 15 cents.

Head lettuce, once given its head, apparently doesn't know when to stop going ahead, and we suggest that 20 cents is quite far enough for that vegetable to stray from home. In fact many homes will consider it cheaper to let it go at that, that is at 20 cents.

Strawberries are at their best. There were quite a few red ones noticed in the boxes this morning. Red is very good this year—if used with judgment and evidently the strawberry packers are people of excellent judgment—as they give just enough touch of color to their boxes to whet the appetite and at the same time to counter-irritate the after effects the younger, green berries might have.

Think of the highbrow effect of having tomatoes raised at the high school! They are perhaps the best examples of higher education which has come to our notice though really 30 cents isn't a bit too high for them. They are small, round, and red, with green stems, a decided novelty in the tomato line and there's no telling what they may spout if irritated or pricked, probably tomato soup.

Pecans, fresh from the pecan swamps of Texas, are a decided bargain today. They had broken their winter's hibernating and peeked through their shells, just like their little sisters, the Easter eggs, which reminds us that some eggs were displayed in one of the windows completely surrounded—almost completely covered by the most attractive and misleading green stuff—sort of in wisps, like green grass growing all around, and it looked as if the lady hen had probably just laid them there in that nice cool nest. She must have been some hen, though. There were about four dozen of those —— eggs!

The frozen whitefish certainly looked cold and dark today. You felt like putting a flask of brandy to her blue lips to see if it wouldn't bring her back to life.

Hot cross buns didn't look a bit so this morning. In fact, they had a decidedly pleasant expression and their cheeks fairly popped with big, fat raisins.

Poor wan little frog's legs brought tears to the eyes this morning. You missed their faces so. To think in how short a time it will be on one of those soft hazy spring nights, with the smell of grass smoke and gardening in the air, the sound of buds bursting into being leaves, the muffled purr of autos spinning hither and thither, the distant echo of a barking, cats purring, birds birding, etc., and all the while there will be something missing. You can't tell just what at first. Finally you'll awake to the fact that you've eaten it—the croak of the frog—when you downed these delicate—shapely limbs of the erstwhile tadpole.

The poor little fellows certainly had croaked to all appearances this morning and it has ruined any thoughts of spring for us this year to say nothing of the frog's spring being ruined.

"Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling-a-ling-ling!"

"Ding dong! Ding dong! Ding dong!"

"Um-m? What's that?" asked a fairy, as he stretched himself and peeked out of one half-shut eye.

"Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling-a-ling-ling!"

"Ding dong! Ding dong! Ding dong!"

"Phew! What a racket!" grumbled another sleepy fairy. "How in the world is a person to sleep when a noise like that is going on?"

"Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling! Why sleep?" rang the bells.

"Why sleep?" demanded the fairy who had first spoken. "Why not sleep, you mean. Do you, whoever you may be, think we are going to stay awake all the long cold winter? Not a bit! We have too much sense! Now please be a good fellow and go away and let us sleep."

No answer except a persistent, "Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling!"

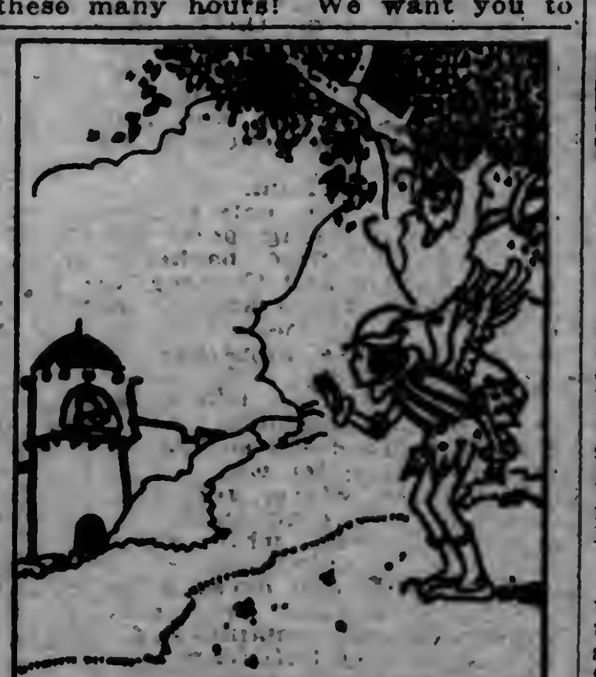
"Well," said the second fairy, reluctantly rousing up from his bed in the moss, "it's plain to be seen that there is to be no more sleep for us till we find out who is ringing those bells and get them to keep quiet. I don't fancy the idea of going out in winter weather; but I guess we have got the job to do, and we might as well do it!"

He reached down under the soft moss and pulled out his slippers that had been laid away so carefully when he went to sleep in the fall. "Who ever could be out a-bell ringing this time of year?" said he, as he stamped his sleepy feet into the slippers and stuck his head out of doors.

"Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling-a-ling-ling! We're out! We're out! And winter is over!" rang the bells.

"Such nonsense!" grumbled the other fairy, as he, too, found and put on his slippers and buttoned tight his overcoat. "I guess we fairies would know it if the winter was over!"

"Not unless we called you!" laughed the bells gaily. "We've been calling these many hours! We want you to know that spring has come! Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling! Spring's come!"



"Who ever could be out a-bell ringing this time of year!"

By that time the fairies were wide awake—not only those two particular fairies, but hundreds of others as well. They all rubbed their eyes and put on their slippers and buttoned up their coats and looked out on the world. And what do you suppose they saw?

They saw that spring really had come, and that the gardens and door-yards were full of valley lilies; and that the lilies were ringing and ringing their magic bells to waken the fairies who had overslept the spring!

Side Talks

By RUTH CAMERON

Efficiency and Humanity

A VERY ambitious, conscientious young girl who lives in our neighborhood works as a stenographer in the city.

A few weeks ago I was calling on her mother, and she mentioned that Ellen was home in bed. When I expressed my sympathy, she said, "Oh, she's not really sick. She just felt as if a cold were coming on."

Nothing more was said at the time, and I wondered what had come over Ellen. For she isn't the kind who stay home for a slight cold. In fact, the winter before she almost had pneumonia because she persisted in going to the office in spite of a very bad cold. Yesterday I met her on the trolley and she told me all about the new state of affairs.

He Wanted Them to Stay at Home For the Slightest Cold.

At the beginning of the present winter, her employer had summoned the office force to a conference and surprised them by telling them that in the coming year he wanted them to stay home whenever they felt the slightest symptoms of a cold.

Then he had a serious talk with them. The substance of the talk was this:

"If you go to bed when you feel a cold coming on, take some simple treatment, keep warm, and rest, you have nine chances out of ten of breaking it up in a day or two. Of course hitherto you haven't felt like taking a day off just because you were afraid a cold was coming on, and so you have come to work and the cold has grown worse and lasted perhaps a week, perhaps longer. Maybe in the end you were sick and had to stay out a week or two. Maybe you managed to stick to your post, but felt so mean that it was a big strain to work. Probably you gave the cold to two or three others, who went through the same experiences.

Asked Them to Be Less Devoted to Duty.

"Now I thank you all for your pluck and devotion to duty," (he is a man who really inspires these qualities); "but for both our sakes I don't want you to be so plucky or devoted this winter.

"Last winter I lost some months of time from serious colds, besides the general loss of efficiency where people worked under the handicap of a cold. This winter I suggest that we co-operate in trying to nip these colds in the bud.

"Whenever any of us feels that he has a cold coming on, he is to telephone the office and stay in bed until the cold is better. Don't bring it in and pass it around. And don't let it get the upper hand of you. I trust in your honor not to abuse the privilege, either by taking time when you don't need it or by doing anything else with the time except going to bed and working just as conscientiously to get rid of the cold as you would work in the office."

Stopping the Efficiency Leak From Subnormal Health.

That was the substance of his talk. The results of it make Ellen, usually a quiet person, quite voluble with enthusiasm. Although this has been an unusually severe winter, only one person in the office has been out more than three days with any form of cold. In her own case she broke up two colds, one with two days' rest, another with one day's. The gain in general efficiency from stopping the leak caused by subnormal health from colds cannot be measured, but her employer is entirely satisfied with it.

There are times when the principles of efficiency seem to be pitiless and inhuman, there are other times when efficiency and humanity plainly go hand in hand. And this seems to be one of the latter.

Easter Lily From Bermuda.

From the Philadelphia North American: A March Easter causes the florist little worry. He merely starts to force his plants and flowers sooner than usual and has them in full bloom whenever he chooses. He wins the race without half trying.

But this year, instead of hurrying his flowers, he must hold them back. He must forsake the hothouse and rely on the cold storage house. Nature, on the other hand, gives her flowers loose rein. Sunshine and showers spur them to travel their fastest. The crocus has appeared already. The tulip will be here soon. The hyacinth and narcissus will outgallop the calendar and arrive before Easter.

The first lily "immigrated" to Philadelphia from Bermuda, its native home. The late William K. Harris, a Philadelphia florist, discovered that this lily made an admirable Easter flower, and he adopted it.

Soon descendants of this "immigrant" began scattering themselves all over the United States. Gardeners honored the Philadelphian who first saw its usefulness and its possibilities and named it the "lilium Harrisii" for Mr. Harris. For several years this lily held the throne as queen of Easter flowers.

Bermuda growers thought they saw riches in the lily which had become so popular in America, and they started growing it on a large scale. They tried to increase their earnings too fast, however, and became careless. The lilium Harrisii became diseased and growers dropped it for other varieties.

cess is his personality. They may imitate his Scotch accent—any Scot can do that—or his costumes, or steal his songs, or imitate his walk and his gestures, but they can't acquire his personality, and they can't steal his funny mobile face or his funny bow legs.

Any man who can come before an audience and entertain it for an hour or an hour and a half without assistance, keeping his hearers in almost continuous laughter, and making them wish for another hour of it, must have the spark of genius. To watch Lauder "work" is a revelation. Most vaudeville performers are so concerned about "holding" their audience, that they rush their costume changes, keep their act "speeded up" and utilize all the tricks of the trade. Lauder has need for none of them. He "works" at his own pace, takes his time in making costume changes, doesn't worry about "holding" his audience, but rather has to think about giving them time to rest between laughs, and has a quiet, easy unflustered manner that commands interest from the moment he appears. There is something irresistibly funny in that odd Scotch figure that is entirely separate from the material he uses. Last evening he sang new songs almost entirely. If there was one criticism to make of his performance, it was that many would have liked to hear at least one or two of his old numbers. He retained "A Wee Deoch-an-doris" as his closing number, but his other songs with one exception, were new. Many in the audience would have given much to hear "I Love a Lassie" or "It's Nice to Get Up in the Mornin'."

The rest of the vaudeville program was made up of first class "big time" vaudeville acts. The best of these was presented by the Al Golem company of some twenty Persian acrobats. It is a big circus headline act, thrilling at times. They are billed as the "court artists to the Shah of Persia." If they are a fair sample of the Persian entertainers, the Shah gets some pretty classy stuff, and it is up to Martin Beck to take a little jaunt to Teheran.

Dave Genaro, an old time vaudeville favorite, appears with a new partner, Isabelle Jason, in some dance numbers. Genaro is one of the 411 dancers who "originated the cake walk," and he and his partner have revived it for their Lauder tour. Miss Jason is a very pretty and graceful young woman, and Genaro has long been known as one of the best dancers in vaudeville. Their act is lively and entertaining.

Albert Donnelley opens the bill with some shadowgraphs made with his hands. It is an amusing little novelty.

Selwyn Driver gives a musical monologue, which is a travesty on the parlor entertainers of a boarding house.

Lucille and her cockatoo that sings "Yankee Doodle," and another that imitates a cornet, complete the bill.

The weather and counter attractions affected the attendance, but not enough to cause Mr. Lauder any protracted worry.—J. E. R.

ALASKAN FILM AT ORPHEUM-STRAND

Rex Beach's masterful novel of naked Alaska makes the ideal story to picturize. It is all action. From the first flickering introduction of the prologue to the beautiful climax, where, in the fading purple of the setting sun, Glenister takes to his heart the girl he had fought for, and triumphed for, there is never a lull in the onrush of this compelling story. The appeal is irresistible. The force of William Farnum's vigorous personality tenses the nerves.

REX BEACH.

With a powerful story, the red-blooded action of an excellent plot, and reflecting the incomparable artistry of a wonderful group of actors, "The Spoilers" is a photoplay that has seldom had an equal in the moving picture world. The electric action of the rapidly unfolding plot carries the spectator through a maze of kaleidescopic emotions.

The new De Luxe edition of this famous story in twelve reels will be offered for a solid week commencing next Sunday, at the Orpheum-Strand theater.

EDNA MUNSEY AT THE LYCEUM

Adds to Good Opinion Held of Her By "Home Folks."

Duluth has done its best to "spoil" Miss Edna Munsey, and thanks to her own good sense, has failed.

Any young woman who makes good in the theatrical world naturally expects appreciation and perhaps a little adulation from the "home folks." Miss Munsey has had both from Duluthians, and in generous measure, but she has deserved them both and has not lost her simple charm of manner. Her steady improvement both vocally and dramatically, shows that she has not been content to rest on her laurels.

No actress ever faced a friendlier audience than that which greeted Miss Munsey at the Lyceum last evening, when she opened her engagement here in "The Only Girl," in which she has been starring all season. It was an audience that frankly liked and admired the young star, and she seemed to as frankly like her audience, accepting its plaudits graciously and naturally.

One full season on the road has wrought many changes in Miss Munsey's work. Her voice, always naturally full and sweet, has improved under training and vocally she has few peers in the musical comedy field. Her role in "The Only Girl" is light comedy, and she handles it daintily and in a most charming way.

Henry Blossom wrote the book, taken from the comedy of Frank Mandel entitled "Our Wives," and Victor Herbert composed the music. There is not a dull moment in it, and the interest of the audience is divided between laughter at the clever nonsense and ridiculous situations, and the beauty and romance in unusual experiences of "The Only Girl." The plot is woven around four bachelors, all successful and happy—until three of the friends, one after another, announces the startling fact that they have found "the only girl," and are to be married. The fourth member, Alan Kimbrough, a librettist (Franklyn Farnum), is not a "woman hater," but he avoids women. His three friends become taken up with their sweethearts, and leave Alan a prey to lonesomeness and brooding.

An unknown composer in Alan's apartment hotel, Ruth Wilson (Miss Munsey) has been playing the haunting strains of a new air. After hearing it for several days, he sends for the composer, and Miss Munsey appears and sings very charmingly to her own accompaniment, "When You're Away."

The two form a platonic friendship at once and agree to work together as "machines" in producing an opera. Alan tells Ruth at the outset that he refuses to recognize "sex," and so they begin to collaborate as "Kim" and "Wilson." Just how this independent young man soon becomes an unconscious slave to the charms of his fellow worker and how she fails to keep within the limits of her sphere—that of a machine—is shown at the close.

The laughs come thick and fast during the play. Cecilia Novasio, a soubrette, scores one of the big hits of the performance and displays much ability as a dancer and comedienne. She received many encores to her song numbers.

Franklyn Farnum, who plays the leading male role, acts and sings well and has a pleasing personality. The roles of his three bachelor friends, Fresh, Bunkie and Corksey, are taken respectively by Frank Combs, Tom Burton and Russell Lennon. These young men are admirably suited to their parts.

Alfred Fisher as Kim's valet plays in a natural manner and keeps his comedy toned down so that it is much enjoyed in a quiet way.

The three wives, representing different types, are adequately portrayed, and the chorus, while not large in numbers, is composed of girls who can sing well and dress to advantage.

"The Only Girl" will play at the Lyceum for the remainder of the week, with a matinee Saturday afternoon.

POPULAR SHOW AT GRAND.

Big Audiences See New Show Despite Unfavorable Weather.

The new show at the Grand, which began a week-end engagement yesterday, is one of the popular brand and the comedy is a strong feature throughout. Despite the rain, Holy week services and other attractions at the leading theaters, the audiences were large afternoon and evening.

The Piccolo Midgets offer one of the most interesting novelty acts seen at the Grand in some time. Three of these Lilliputians appear in various roles and make good fun and lots of it. They are a scream as Salvation Army singers and players. As acrobats and dancers they are equally clever.

Arthur Rigby, a burnt cork monologist, has a lively talking specialty on "The European War" in which he displays considerable talent as a laugh producer. The Gilfain Trio, two attractive girls and a man, are good instrumentalists.

Dale and Archer appear to advantage in a clever turn entitled "It Happened in Paris." The act is full of funny jokes and other bright features.

Darwin and Nell Craig, as stars in "Milestones," a two-part photoplay, win instant favor. Vernon Howe Bailey's "Sketchbook of Boston," "The Sleuths," a comedy, and the Selig Tribune, featuring current news events of the world, make up the remainder of the entertainment.

Theater Gossip.

In these troublous times in Mexico, a play founded upon scenes laid in that country is of more than ordinary interest. The motion pictures in "The Heart of Paula" were photographed in various parts of the war-torn land that shields Villa.

REAL MEXICAN PICTURE AT THE REX.

Miss Lenore Ulrich, who plays the leading role, is a young woman who made her debut in "The Bird of Paradise," and who has won for herself distinct honors as a strong portrayer of various difficult roles. The picture goes on at the Rex today and will also be seen Saturday, matinee and night.

An American mining engineer accepts the big chance when offered the opportunity to go to Mexico. His love affair with a senora of that country is the basis of the plot. The entire piece is alive with situations that tell of the Mexicans. The adventures are many, the scenes exciting and full of action. It is one of the first pictures of its kind, taken in Mexico, with all the rich coloring, picturesque people and revolutionary armies.

* * *

Marguerite Clark has a way about her that long ago captivated American audiences, and the mere announcement that she is to appear in a motion picture is sufficient to arouse more than ordinary interest in the attraction. Today and Saturday, in a return engagement, Miss Clark will appear at the Lyric in "The Pretty Sister of Jose."

MARGUERITE CLARK FAVORITE WITH LYRIC PATRONS.

There is no explanation as to just why some stars are accepted by the public as their very own. It is simply a fact. Nevertheless, theatrical managers have long ago found that because a star is a favorite, her work must be kept up to the ideals the public has of the player, and the producers of motion pictures take more pains to provide a proper play and strong support for a favorite than for one less well known.

"The Pretty Sister of Jose," a love story of old Spain, fits Miss Clark like a glove—so to speak—and as "Pepita" she takes fullest advantage of her emotional opportunities. Jack Pickford supports Miss Clark as "Jose," and the other characters are equally well known and gifted.

* * *

"Thou Shalt Not Covet," a thrilling and spectacular five-part feature drama play with Kathlyn Williams and Tyrone Power in the leading roles, will close its engagement at the Zelda after this evening's performance.

"DAUGHTER OF THE CITY" COMING TO ZELDA

Coming tomorrow for one day only, E. H. Calvert and Marguerite Clayton will head the Zelda program in the powerful moral lesson play, "A Daughter of the City," a five-part drama.

It is a love story presenting a great problem growing out of the evils of the present economic and social conditions.

E. H. Calvert appears in the role of Henry L. Bancroft, a wealthy department store owner of low morals. Marguerite Clayton, who has the leading role is considered one of the most beautiful leading women in motion pictures, and in this stirring play has a role well suited to her talents. Enrico G. Prati and Elsa de Marchi will offer a number of grand opera selections.

Belted back spring suits, $11.25. "3 Winners" removal sale.

STATISTICS ABOUT FLOODWOOD SCHOOLS

Floodwood, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to the recent report of Public Examiner J. O. Cederberg of School District No. 19, the value of the four school buildings, grounds, equipment, etc., has been placed at $40,000, as follows: Lincoln school, at Floodwood, a six-room brick schoolhouse, two stories and basement, with rooms for manual training, domestic science, lavatories, etc., $25,000; equipment, $2,000; school rigs and shed for rigs, $1,000. Moore school building, two rooms, $5,000; Gowan school building, two rooms, $5,000; Whiteface school, one room, $700; school grounds, $1,000; fixtures, $700.

The bonded indebtedness of the district amounts to $15,000. The district also voted Jan. 14, 1915, to issue bonds in the amount of $13,500 to take up outstanding orders, but the loan has not yet been received from the state. The enrollment for last year has been 304 pupils. Twelve teachers have been employed at a total salary of $6,537.12. For the transportation of the pupils it has paid out $2,280.71.

NO COLORED BISHOPS FOR COLORED PEOPLE

Chicago, April 21.—Methodists who sought to have colored bishops provided for work among the colored people failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote of the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. Announcement of the total conference vote was made today by Dr. Joseph B. Hingeley, secretary of the general conference of the Methodist-Episcopal church, as follows:

Total affirmative vote, 4,921; total negative vote, 3,481.

The Wilmington proposition giving bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church in constitutional matters the right of veto was lost by a majority of 1,571 ministers and 960 laymen.

The Colorado proposition granting honorary privileges to retired ministers had a majority of 2,012 ministers and 818 laymen.

DEVILS LAKE JAILS APPEAR USELESS

Devils Lake, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in years the peace officers don't know how long the local jails are empty. The city jail, which has collected so many cobwebs that Mayor A. L. Johnson insists that it should be sold, is maintaining its record, while the county jail is able to duplicate it this week. "Rooms for rent" is the notice which Sheriff Martin Olsen threatens to hang in the windows, for there's no disputing the fact that "business is rotten."

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Spanish minister demanded passports, 1898.

This step followed President McKinley's ultimatum to Spain, and at the same time the American minister to Madrid was notified that diplomatic relations between the two countries were at an end. War was declared by Spain April 24 and by the United States April 25.

BRICKS WITHOUT STRAW.

Republican leaders are striving—or were before the stiff last word to Germany—to make campaign issues of the charge that the Democratic administration has not stood firmly enough for American rights, and that President Wilson has not been for a sufficiently militaristic system of preparedness.

That is from the leaders. What of the followers? Well, a majority of the Republicans in the house voted for the kaiser against the United States on the submarine issue, and those voting for the kaiser in the senate was ten Republicans to two Democrats.

Nebraska Republicans Tuesday went for Ford, who is for peace at any price. So did the Michigan Republicans a few weeks ago.

The Republicans of Minnesota and Iowa are for Cummins, who voted for the kaiser and against America. The Republicans of Wisconsin and North Dakota are for La Follette, who voted for the kaiser and against America. The Republicans of Illinois are for Sherman, who voted for the kaiser and against America. And so it goes.

"In a great sweep of the Middle West," says the New York Times, "Mr. Wilson and the Democratic party stand for the vindication, the Republican party stands for the desertion, of American rights."

Leaders propose issues, but events and people make issues regardless of the will of politicians. If the issue is to be weakness or firmness, the trimming in these matters that never should be in politics are made political issues, is all on the side of the Republicans.

Germany has finally decided to let us have yes—perhaps in the hope of finding some means to paint her submarine campaign in milder colors.

ABOLISHING GRAMMAR.

About the only item in the program of the experimental "modern school" proposed by the Rockefeller education board about which educators are excited is the proposal to abolish the teaching of grammar. The proposed abolition of Latin and Greek they are used to, and probably will soon become reconciled to. But abolition of grammar! That has aroused a perfect fury of protest.

Does the study of grammar in the schools result in the use of clear, correct English? If a visitor from Mars should seek to determine how many people had taken grammar in school by judging of their English, he would inevitably come to the conclusion that hardly anybody had taken it. Not much clear, correct English is used. The conversation of the average citizen who is a product of the conventional schools is fearfully and wonderfully made, from a Lindley Murray viewpoint, and his writing is but little better.

It is entirely probable that at least as much guidance in correct usage of language can be acquired by reading good literature as by any amount of analyzing, parsing and parroting of rules. We hear former public school students who did fairly well in grammar express serious doubts whether the mechanical study of the technics of grammar affected much their own use of English. One citizen who does some writing for publication declares that when he studied grammar in school he used to get markings of about thirty out of a possible hundred, because he couldn't get interested in learning to recite rules and in the intricacies of parsing; but that when it came to correcting incorrect sentences he used to get ninety and a hundred. He attributes his command of correct English—which is far above the average—solely to his reading.

There assuredly is a question whether, no matter how much students may dig into rules and the mechanics of grammar, many of them get any connection whatever between these technics and their own personal use of language. If grammar were not taught, but pupils were interested in reading good English literature, probably most of them would handle language as well as they do now after having gone through the whole grammar course in school.

Because grammar always has been taught is no reason why it always should be taught. The question having been raised whether grammar is useful or not, the proper policy is to divest the mind of all prejudices, and consider grammar as fairly as though it were a new invention which somebody proposed to introduce into the schools. If theory and results justify it beyond question, it should be kept. If a serious study of it leaves it doubtful whether it is worth while, then it should be dropped; for the full time of the pupils can be filled with subjects that are of undoubted usefulness, some of which are now given little time at all.

Crucifixion

(As told to Pontius Pilate by Longinus, the centurion, in the paved court of the Roman citadel in Jerusalem).

 * * We nailed Him there
Aloft, between the thieves, in the bright air.
The rabble and the readers mocked with oaths,
The hangman's squad were dicing for His clothes.
The two thieves jeered at Him. Then it grew dark,
Till the noon sun was dwindled to a spark,
And one by one the mocking mouths fell still.
We were alone on the accursed hill
And we were still, not even the dice clicked,
Only the heavy blood gouts dropped and ticked
Onto the stone; the hill is all bald stone.
And now and then the hangers gave a groan.
Up in the dark, three shapes with arms outspread.
The blood drops spat to show how slow they bled.
They rose up black against the ghastly sky,
God, Lord, it is a slow way to make die
A Man, a strong Man, who can beget men!
Then there would come another groan, and then
One of those thieves (tough cameleers those two)
Would curse the Teacher from lips bitten through
And the other bid him let the Teacher be.
I have stood much, but this thing daunted me,
The dark, the livid light, and long, long groans,
One on another, coming from their bones.
And it got darker and a glare began
Like the sky burning up above the Man.
The hangman's squad stood easy on their spears
And the air moaned, and women were in tears,
While still between His groans the robber cursed.
The sky was grim; it seemed about to burst.
Hours had passed; they seemed like awful days.
Then * * * The towers bent like moss
Under the fiery figures from the sky.
Horses were in the air, there came a cry.
Jesus was calling God; it struck us dumb.
One said "He is calling God. Wait. Will God come?
Wait." And we listened in the glare. Oh, sir,
He was God's Son, that Man, that Minister,
For as he called, fire tore the sky in two,
The sick earth shook and tossed the cross askew,
The earthquake ran like thunder, the earth's bones
Broke, the graves opened, there were falling stones.
 * * Jesus cried
Once more and drooped, I saw that He had died.
Lord, in the earthquake God had come for Him.
The thought of 't shakes me sick, my eyes are dim.

ROOT AND ROOSEVELT.

He is the kind of Republican the party would have nominated by acclamation ten years ago, and probably would have beaten Bryan easily.

If the Republican party does not nominate him this time it will be because it lacks the courage of its traditions and its convictions.

Roosevelt is in the way, you say? Only if he is more bent on getting the nomination for himself than on Republican success. You remember how Roosevelt praised Root—said that if Root were a candidate for president he would cheerfully crawl on his hands and knees from the White House to the capitol to elect him?

Why should Roosevelt be in the way? Asked even lately about Root, he said that HE would stand for him, but he doubted if his friends would.

What's the matter?

Isn't Roosevelt's word good even with his friends?

Floods to the north and a tornado to the south, while all Duluth gets is a bit of rain and an April snow.

AN OCCUPATION THAT IS DOOMED.

The professional politician whose stock in trade is blind partisanship is very active and obtrusive and is still altogether too successful.

But his doom is ripening.

Kansas City had a Democratic administration that was venal and corrupt to the core—a coldblooded organization to use the machinery of public business for private profit.

And the other day, under the leadership of the Kansas City Star, the people of Kansas City rose up and whaled the stuffing out of that organization.

Chicago has a Republican city government that is organized and conducted along the same lines and used for the same purpose.

Every time lately the people of Chicago have had a chance to give an inkling of their feelings they have inkled ignominy all over the Thompson administration, and it is very clear that when they get a chance they will do to their Republican corruption ring what the people of Kansas City did to their Democratic corruption ring.

Professional partisanship and its graft is unpartisan.

The deadliest weapon that can be used against it is nonpartisan citizenship.

There seems at least basis for an argument in the proposition that a "lady cop" might be classified as a "copplce."

He may be just a kid yet, but what kind of a chap will answer that want ad for an "office boy with reference nineteen or twenty years old"?

In 1861

From "Charles Francis Adams: An Autobiography." (Houghton Mifflin Company.)

The same day the regiments began to come in from the country turning out full ranks. I should think much better of myself now, if that day I had turned the key in my office door and gone off in the ranks of the Quincy company. But so doing never even occurred to me. I simply wasn't equal to the occasion—my ordinary experience in life, before, then and since. As it was, I wrote of the regiments that day pouring into Boston:

"They say there were strange scenes at the country railroad stations—more weeping than is usual. In Boston here there would have been a tremendous demonstration, but for the weather; it was sufficiently striking even as it was. It has been a dreary, dismal day, storming heavily from the eastward; a day with rain enough to extinguish any degree of enthusiasm; and, as the poor devils plashed through the streets, less than half drilled and most insufficiently clad—for few country companies are supplied with overcoats—they were greeted with well-deserved applause. But I couldn't help feeling badly for them."

A few days later I wrote: "These be indeed stirring times, and the age has in it, after all, the elements of the heroic. It is now three days that our streets have been crowded with soldiers and draped in flags, while our populace, usually so staid and quiet, is crazy with patriotism. The contagion is, in fact, hard to resist; and often, within these three days as I have seen these men go by, half armed and a quarter uniformed, many of them were recruits, unarmed and with not pretence of a uniform, following, carpetbag in hand, the rear of the column, I have felt a rising in the throat and been conscious of a moisture in the eye, which caused me to feel little of the soldier."

Some days later there came along one of those storms of alarmist rumors that then from time to time developed, and one evening it was reported at one of our leisure haunts that every available man was called for, to be off next morning.

"It this was true, it meant fight; and we received it accordingly. Half of our battalion were new recruits who had never handled a musket; all our officers were inexperienced, nor was there a single uniform amongst us; and yet we were to be ordered into immediate active service. The men showed their pluck. Among them, there was an outer gaiety and flow of humor; but it only covered gravity and dismay. There wasn't anywhere the faintest sign of funk. For myself, though I kept up my spirits as well as the best, I certainly realized how unprepared I was to go, and what a doubtful experiment I thought it. As John and I a little later walked up Beacon street on our way home, the sensation was certainly new. How many times we had trod the same pavements before—grave and gay, drunk and sober, from weddings and to funerals—but never until now on the eve of battle."

Before You Sleep

Farm and Fireside: Go out before you sleep and look the world, God's great beautiful world, in the face. Can you do it without blinking? Well for you and for me if there be no recollection of a deed that left its stain of shame on the soul. But if such a memory does come back, meet it like a man. Tell God about it, and ask him to pity you and forgive you, for it is God who looks out of the blue.

Before you go to sleep call to account every impulse of the day. "Guilty or innocent?"

Before you sleep take the little ones to your heart and let them tell you what dreams have come to them during the day. If they have had a hard time, find it out and kiss away the hurt. If they have anywhere caught the vision of something finer and grander than ever came into their lives before, let them whisper it into your ear and know that you are glad.

Did you in a moment when the bars of self-control were down speak a word that left its sting in the heart of the one who is nearest and dearest of all earthly friends? Before you sleep kiss away that hurt. Dear heart! She is so worthy of the best love there is in you! How could you ever go to sleep knowing that her pillow is wet with tears struck from the fountain by your hand? Get right with sweetheart; then sleep tight through the night watches.

And then? Then be brave enough, true enough, manly enough to bend the knee with the Book on the chair before you. Never will you be really happy, never will you know the peace which passeth all understanding until this becomes the rule of your life, the crowning event of every day God gives you to live.

Merit System Respected.

New York Evening Post: The published list of nominations to office made by the president during the existing session of congress, up to March 23, is a document in which advocates of the merit system may take genuine satisfaction. The showing as to consular appointments is especially pleasing. A year ago congress provided that consuls-general and consuls should be appointed to grades, and not to specific posts, so that they might be shifted from one station to another without senatorial action. Of twenty-five such appointments made, all but two or three are in the nature of advancements from a lower grade to a higher. Appointments to all except the lowest class of secretaries to legations and embassies, again, represent promotions of experienced men. No data are furnished as to the qualifications of the men appointed as postmasters by the president, but in the hundred pages devoted to such nominations there is notable an absence of removals before the expiration of terms of office, while many incumbents whose commissions have expired, or whose offices have just been raised to presidential grade, are confirmed in their places. All this helps to bear out the recent statement of the secretary of the National Municipal league, Clinton Rogers Woodruff, as to the "marked diminution of political activity" in connection with all these positions.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Tomorrow.

Perhaps there'll be sunshine tomorrow; today things are dismal and grim; my cup and my saucer of sorrow are bitter and full to the brim. What comfort a fellow can borrow, when life seems depressing and gray, by betting his hat that tomorrow will be quite a change from today. Today it is sloppy and muddy, today there is water to burn; and I'm grouching here in my study, and using such language as "dern." The rain, it is sobbing and swishing, the wind maunders by with a moan; and I, who had planned to go fishing, look out at the climate and groan. I weep as I empty the chalice of bitterness, down to its dregs; for if I went fishing, with malice rheumatic would camp in my legs. But there will be sunshine tomorrow, the skies will be glittering blue. There's nothing so transient as sorrow, when once we remark to it "Shoo!"

Behind the Industrial Scenes

Gertrude Barnum in the Chicago News.

The other day Miss Fania Cohn, a young garment union organizer, went under the surgeon's knife. For weeks she had delayed much needed treatment in order to lead a recent strike which improved the working conditions of hundreds of immigrant girl needle workers and brought hope to thousands more in other factories of the same trade. She had picketed "struck shops" with the young strikers on gray, stormy mornings, and through long, bitter cold days; had been unjustly arrested and locked up in jail to await bail; had borne the pain of her illness with fortitude, while standing at her post of duty as leader of the strike, preventing violence and disorder. She gave the last of her strength to wise counsel at conferences to frame a "protocol" contract which terminated the strike and established a trade agreement providing for arbitration of future grievances. Not until her task was well completed was she ready to yield to her illness. Even then her main thought seemed to be regret at leaving a young organization without an experienced leader at so critical a time. Her main concern was for a speedy recuperation so that she might soon return to her duties.

It was interesting to visit this prostrated young working woman at the hospital. Her tiny room was overflowing with tributes of admiration and affection, with flowers, fruit, books and magazines, bought by hard-earned pennies of the generous and loving poor, who "clubbed together" to express appreciation and sympathy.

"Tell the girls not to spend money for me," whispered the wan, pain-ridden patient. "If they wish to spend money, let them give a few dollars to the training nurses here, who are so good to me. These nurses work twelve hours a day for three years, for room and board and $5 a month, to get their diplomas. We must not have luxuries while our sister workers lack necessities."

On the same day that Miss Cohn went to the hospital another young woman labor leader, Miss Josephine Casey of the Elevated Railway Workers' union, just recovering from the effects of overwork in the eastern suffrage campaign, embarked for Iowa to help once more in the campaign for the ballot in that state. Asked to name a figure for her salary, she put it at a minimum, in order to "make the suffrage fund go as far as possible." No thought had she for her own interests, present or future. She went forth once again to spend precious newly stored energy for a cause whose entire history has been punctuated by martyrdoms.

There is now in Chicago another young woman who may fittingly be selected to illustrate what goes on in the wings of the modern stage of working women's progress. This third girl will serve as an example of hundreds of understudies who are eagerly preparing for a time when they too shall be assigned important roles in the working woman's movement. She is Agnes Burns, the daughter of a coal miner, from an Illinois mining town. Miss Burns was teaching in a village school when by chance she saw in the Mine Workers' Journal an account of the activities and opportunities of the School for Women Organizers, conducted by the Chicago Women's Trade Union league.

"When my father came home that evening," she said, "I declared that if I only could I would go to that school. For I feel such a school offers even more of the vital things of life than we get at the normal university.

"As I look back upon it now," she explains, "that wee but valuable item which I read on that Saturday morning was the key which unlocked to me a big new world, the world of women in industry. I saw my real work before me, and I planned to make ready for it, at whatever cost to myself."

Soon afterward she received a league scholarship, and coming to Chicago entered the School for Active Workers in the Labor Movement. As she sees it she has "gained much, by sacrificing much." She has heard the "clear call," and realizes that "many are ready to teach in the established public schools, but to but few is it given to teach in this equally great and much less popular institution, the school of industrial democracy."

If the public would but linger round the wings of the modern woman's moving picture drama presented in industry today, would but realize what sacrifices, what noble efforts are hidden behind the industrial scenes, these heroines of the labor and suffrage "movies" would receive more of the attentions which now are unwisely spent upon frivolous chorus girls and the cheap heroines of fictitious melodrama.

The American Policy

Grover Cleveland: It is the duty of those serving the people in public places to closely limit public expenditures to the actual needs of the government economically administered, because this bounds the right of the government to exact tribute from the earnings of labor or the property of the citizen, and because public extravagance begets extravagance among the people. We should never be ashamed of the simplicity and prudential economies which are best suited to the operation of a republican form of government and most compatible with the mission of the American people. Those who are selected for a limited time to manage public affairs are still of the people, and may do much by their example to encourage, consistently with the dignity of their official functions, that plain way of life which among their fellow citizens aids integrity and promotes thrift and prosperity. The genius of our institutions, the needs of our people in their home life, and the attention which is demanded for the settlement and development of the resources of our vast territory, dictate the scrupulous avoidance of any departure from that foreign policy commended by the history, the traditions and the prosperity of our republic. It is the policy of independence, favored by our position and defended by our known love of justice and by our own power. It is the policy of peace suitable to our interests. It is the policy of neutrality, rejecting any share in foreign broils and ambitions upon other continents and repelling their intrusion here. It is the policy of Monroe, and of Washington, and Jefferson—"Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliance with none."

"O All Wide Places."

O all wide places * * *
Great shining seas! pine forests! mountains wild!
Rock bosomed shores! rough heaths! and sheep cropt downs!
Vast pallid clouds! blue spaces undefiled!
Room! give me room! give loneliness and air!
Free things and plenteous in your regions fair.

White dove of David, flying overhead,
Golden with sunlight on thy snowy wings,
Outspeeding thee my longing thoughts are fled
To find a home afar from men and things,
Where in his temple, earth o'erarched with sky,
God's heart to mine may speak, my heart reply.

O God of mountains, stars and boundless spaces!
O God of freedom and of joyous hearts!
When thy face looketh forth from all men's faces,
There will be room enough in crowded marts;
Brood thou around me, and the noise is o'er;
Thy universe my closet with shut door.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered Comments By and About Newspapers In the Gopher State.

Something Too Often Forgotten.

Something too often forgotten by the voters is the importance of having a good lieutenant governor, even aside from his possible succession to the governorship. Sam Gordon in the Browns Valley Tribune passes along a timely reminder, thus: "The Sauk Center Herald truthfully says that the office of lieutenant governor has more influence in shaping legislation than any other. The Inter-Lake Tribune has urged this fact upon its readers for several years past. The lieutenant governor makes up the committees of the senate; in other words he organizes that influential branch of the legislature, and in that body, much more so than in the house, the recommendations of committees go very far with the members. If you want good, wholesome legislation, you should be careful in the selection of a lieutenant governor."

Try This on Your Family.

Not all recipes can be passed along as confidently as can this from the Two Harbors Journal-News: "If you want to get sunshine into your life, help put it in the lives of others. The experiment is simple—try it."

Let's Keep Working for It.

The smaller legislature notion simply will not down—and it shouldn't. Now comes the Stillwater Gazette, thus: "It is generally believed that a smaller legislature for Minnesota would be much preferable to a large one, to everybody except the men who desire to serve their state and those who are looking for easy jobs at $5 a day."

Maybe the Fee Determines.

Here's a proposition to puzzle over when you've absolutely nothing else to do. It's offered by the Wahkon Enterprise: "We sometimes wonder if an attorney feels really satisfied with himself when he shields a guilty client through an insignificant technicality."

An Old Foolishness Again.

Our junior senator has had another dream, the folly of which is shown thus by the Madison Independent Press: "Clapp says the penny postage act ought to be passed at the present session of congress. That act will benefit the average man possibly 50 cents in a year, but it would save millions to 'big business.' Of course, it ought to be passed for the benefit of 'big business'—nit."

What the Primary Has Done.

Ladysmith Journal: "But, isn't it rather humiliating than otherwise to note what has been accomplished by the primary? Old ideas of the importance and dignity of the great office have been swept away, any one may be a candidate, and the woods are full of them."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

You bet. The old-fashioned candidate who wore a silk stovepipe hat and a Prince Albert delighted to pose with one hand stuck under the breast of his coat, threw his chest out like a drum major and talked with a deep bass voice that sounded as if it were pulled with a derrick from somewhere in the abdominal region, has vanished, even as the mists of the morning melt before a temperature of 100 deg. and no shade. Gosh, but he did have dignity. That's about all he did have, but he worked it to the limit. Alas, we shall never look upon his like again. Under the primary system voters must appeal to the voters with facts and logic, and dignity has been driven into bankruptcy.

La Crosse Leader-Press: A few days ago the Leader-Press referred to recent incidents in the First Minnesota district as being "disturbing to Congressman Anderson's peace of mind," whereupon the inspired compositor made it read "piece of mind" and thereby put an appraisal on the congressman's mental capacity which we did not intend.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: A prisoner escaped from the fifth floor of a Minneapolis jail by making a rope of sheets and calmly letting himself down. What a nice quiet place Minneapolis must be, and how well guarded the jail that a prisoner could go through such an unusual performance without attracting any attention.

Upsetting the Balance of Nature.

Toledo Blade: The government biological survey reports, somewhat proudly, that the extermination of prairie dogs over large areas of the West has practically been completed. Ninety-nine per cent of the animals in the national forests of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Oklahoma have been destroyed. "Active campaigns are still in progress in Arizona, New Mexico, Montana and South Dakota and in the Rio Grande forest of Colorado."

It is a law of nature that where one form of life is destroyed, another form of life is brought into sudden prosperity. Locally, we have the instance of the thorn trees. These were insignificant, scarcely noticeable dwarfs when the old forests were standing. But now no pasture can be let alone for awhile, no field abandoned, but these plants spring up. They grow higher and colonize more thickly than they did under the original conditions. The first settlers considered birds the enemies of their crops. They did all they could do to frighten them away, and destroy them. This served as protection to insect life and now bugs and beetles, flies and moths, are the farmers' enemies, not the birds. Once the people of Jamaica were cursed with snakes. They introduced the mongoose from India to kill off the reptiles, and he did it. Then the mongoose took an interest in bird eggs. Birds decreased in numbers. Insects increased. One cannot enter the woods of Jamaica or cross a field without coming out covered with the ticks. That is unpleasant for human beings, but it is deadly for cattle. So—Jamaica will tell you—it were better the snakes were endured than that the mongoose should have come.

It may be that what the prairie dog kept down, animal or vegetable, may be dealt with easily. Doubtless, the biological survey has studied the fellow's food and knows all about that matter. But students sometimes misread their findings. If they have done so this time, westerners before many years may be sending up prayers for the return of the prairie dog.

Did You?

Editorial in the Dayton, Ohio, Journal.

Did you marry your first little sweetheart, she of the pinafore frock and, perhaps, the barber-pole stockings? It is certain that at times she wore a cute little braided queue, though sometimes—when she was dressed up—her hair hung in curls down her slender back. How the sun glinted in those curls, making them to shine with a splendor akin to that which lights the wings of drifting angels in the dreams of night!

Do you remember where you stood when you first kissed her? Of course you do. That is an incident which is graven in your memory forever and ever. You felt thrilly and chilly and warm, and were half scared to death. You saw God in her eyes and felt Him in your soul. Wouldn't you give all that you have, or ever expect to have, in exchange for the innocence of your heart as it beat that day against the little throbbing heart in her tender breast?

But did you marry her? Some syndicate writer is asking this question, and promises soon to tell us all about it, providing a lot of people will first write letters telling her all about it.

Perhaps you married this little Lady of Dreams, and perhaps you did not. The chances are that you did not. But you will well remember the sweet ache that troubled your soul in the days when you were wooing her with a chivalry unknown to all who have passed beyond the heavenland of childhood.

When you think of her now your soul yearns backward to that never-never land, and maybe the moisture of sweet-sad tears fills your eye.

Did you marry her? Did you?

If you did, then, sometimes, when you take her hand, perhaps in the quiet of a summer evening, together you may read the palimpsests of memory, joying as it is given to but few mortals to rejoice.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinius, the Sunshine Man.

"But against any of the children of Israel shall not a dog move his tongue, against man or beast; that ye may know how that the Lord doth put a difference between the Egyptians and Israel."—Ex. xi, 7.

What! Has God power over the tongues of dogs? Can he keep curs from barking? Yes, it is even so. He can even prevent an Egyptian dog from worrying one of the lambs of Israel's flock. Doth God silence dogs, and doggish ones among men, and the great dog at hell's gate? Then let us move on our way without fear.

If he lets dogs move their tongues, yet he can stop their teeth. They may make a dreadful noise, and still do us no real harm. Yet, how sweet is quiet! How delightful to move about among enemies, and perceive that God maketh them to be at peace with us! Like Daniel in the den of lions, we are unhurt amid destroyers.

Oh, that today, this word of the Lord to Israel might be true to me! Does the dog worry me? I will tell my Lord about him. Lord, he does not care for my pleadings; do thou speak the word of power, and he must lie down. Give me peace, O my God, and let me see thy hand so distinctly in it that I may most clearly perceive the difference which thy grace has made between me and the ungodly!—C. H. Spurgeon.

Henry M. Rice's Fame.

"A Minnesotan" in the New York Times: Some time since I read in your paper two articles criticizing the choice of Henry Mower Rice as Minnesota's representative in our national Hall of Fame.

Henry M. Rice was perhaps the greatest of the figures dating back far enough to be a real link between the old Indian days and the later days of civilization. He was that unusual thing in the state's history, a man who was trusted by the Indians universally, completely, and without interruption during his lifetime. It was his custom to go among them always unarmed. As a railroad builder he had great visions, foreseeing with remarkable clarity the extension of the Pacific roads and the development of the Northwest. He was active in the inception of the Great Northern, and, if I am not mistaken, it was under his presidency that the road was completed as far as the Red river valley. He was one of the first two senators from Minnesota, his being the six-year term.

Henry M. Rice was a big man and a good man, and if you are right in assuming him to be practically unknown in Minnesota (which I question), then it is time something were done to make his life and history a living force there.

B. C. Church, president and manager of the Imperial Mill company, was seriously injured last evening while coasting down Twelfth avenue east on a bicycle and will be confined to his home for several weeks. As he passed down the avenue at Superior street he laughed and waved his hand to O. C. Hartman, C. D. Shepard, Martin Watrous and William Dalrymple, who were at the corner. In front of J. B. Howard's residence he endeavored to catch the pedal with his feet, so as to slow up, but failed. The wheel was entirely out of his control and dashed across London road and plunged down into a deep gully. The young men who were watching Mr. Church rushed to his assistance and he was taken to his home, where physicians found his right leg was fractured at the hip joint. His other injuries were slight, and the bicycle was barely scratched.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

GOVERNMENT SEEDS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I see by the paper that congress is not yet ready to let go of the free seed idiocy. Likewise I know one or two people who are eagerly looking forward to their annual share in this distribution, though I'm hanged if I see why. Another thing I notice is that somebody or other planted a seed he got from the government and it grew to be so big he lost a calf behind the cabbage that came from the said seed.

Now of all the rot that ever was rotted, take it from me, Mr. Editor, this free seed stuff is the rottenest. You can't depend on what they send out. The seeds aren't tested. There's nothing to make sure they are any good if they are the kind represented, and there's no way of telling whether they are the kind represented until they've grown.

I saw one garden last year absolutely ruined because the confiding and inexperienced gardener sowed what the government called "radish seeds" in it. He and his family are fond of radishes, and they sowed the seeds with profusion and much expectation. And when the stuff is in its prime it turned out to be nothing in the world but yellow mustard, and there he'd filled a fine garden plot with that stuff. That's a sample of the free seeds. And there are other similar cases.

I'm for cutting it out. I don't know what the graft costs me annually but I know it's something. And all it amounts to is to give the congressman a chance to kid some innocent constituent into thinking he's getting a bit of personal attention from Washington.

AGIN FREE SEEDS.

ALBERT JOHNSONS ARE NOT ALL AGREED

To the Editor of The Herald:

An article was published in this column on the 17th signed by "Albert Johnson," dealing with the liquor question. I was asked if I was the author of said article, and say emphatically NO! I do not know how many Albert Johnsons there are in Duluth, but think there are about a dozen, all ages, sizes and colors; but I know of one who was also a signer of the dry petition "with no regrets," and no fear of the loss of revenue to the city through the closing of the saloons.

I do not agree with my namesake as to reducing the number of saloons and allowing a favored few to reap the benefits in increased profits. I believe in direct political action, thereby eliminating the profits "in handling the stuff," also in handling the necessities of life, and we will rid ourselves of two species of vultures at the same time.

ALBERT JOHNSON,

ANSWERS MR. WEBER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Please allow me space in the Open Court as I would like to answer Sergeant Weber's letter in regard to breaking up ball games on the streets of Duluth. Mr. Weber, no doubt, has "boys of his own" in the same team with "Skinnay" and has been called down by this same Mrs. Blank. I wouldn't be surprised but what her window was broken by one of the dozen baseballs that were turned into police headquarters by this same Mrs. Blank last season, that were batted into her garden. If I were holding a position, and was paid out of the city tax money, I would not express myself quite so freely, if I were Mr. Weber, as it only makes the boys so much harder to manage by other officers who are willing to do their duty. I am not Mrs. Blank. However, I live in the East end of the city, also help to pay Mr. Weber out of hard earned tax money each year. Please be good, Mr. Weber, and help break up some of the "many ball games" and oblige.

A TAXPAYER.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

"Interested," Duluth: Will you, or your readers, kindly suggest a doctor in Duluth proficient in the use of the electric needle for removing superfluous hair?

Ans.: We cannot give business addresses in this column.

"A Dry Petition Signer," West Duluth: Please tell me the slogan of the "dry" workers in the coming campaign on the license question.

Ans.: None has been adopted.

"Inquirer," Cloquet, Minn.: (1) At what building are the civil service examinations held? (2) In order to take the examination for drafstman, does a person have to have a college course in drafting? (3) To whom should I write to get further particulars about this?

Ans.: (1) The Federal building in Duluth. (2) No. (3)) E. M. Barker, Federal building, Duluth, Minn.

MAKING CHILDREN EAT

Nothing is ever gained by forcing a child to eat when it refuses food. Make sure that nothing is being eaten between meals to destroy the natural appetite and if your growing child does not have a healthful craving for good, honest food at mealtimes there is something the matter. Threats of punishment if the child does not eat will not correct the difficulty.

A fitful appetite in a growing child, especially if the patient is pale, languid, nervous, irritable, and without ambition, usually means that the blood is thin. A non-alcoholic tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is demanded.

During her 'teens a girl lays the foundation for her future health. Lack of blood at this time may rob her of robust, healthy womanhood. It is of the greatest importance to administer to girls who grow pale and weak a safe tonic and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills meet every requirement of the most careful mother. They make the blood rich and red and it carries renewed health and strength to every part of the body.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Send today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the book, "Building Up the Blood." It is free.

LET GARDEN REST AWHILE

Jack Frost Is Still Within Striking Distance, Says Weather Man.

Average Date for Final Freeze of Season Is May 3.

"Don't be in a hurry about that garden!"

That's Weather Forecaster H. W. Richardson's suggestion to the homecrofter who is eager to start things growing in his backyard lot.

"No, let the garden rest for a week or ten days. Don't be too hasty about setting out plants and shrubs. The season of killing frosts is still with us and don't let a fine summery day fool you," he adds.

Forecaster Richardson is an authority on frosts. He has kept a record of them for years and has the figures to back up his arguments.

The average date for the last killing frost, beginning with 1900, is May 3, and Mr. Richardson advises little activities in the garden before that date. Of course, it is all a gamble and gardeners are privileged to take a chance if they want to.

The average date for the last 32-deg. weather since 1900 has been May 25 or 26. The dates for the last killing frost and the last freezing temperatures, taken by years, beginning with 1900, are as follows:

	Killing Frost.	Freezing.
1900	May 4	May 4
1901	April 19	April 21
1902	April 30	May 10
1903	April 16	May 2
1904	May 16	May 16
1905	April 29	May 9
1906	May 7	May 26
1907	May 8	May 27
1908	May 3	May 4
1909	May 10	May 10
1910	May 14	May 14
1911	May 3	May 12
1912	April 30	May 13
1913	May 25	May 25
1914	May 12	May 12
1915	May 19	May 19

HAS ORDERS YEAR AHEAD

Duluth Steel Plant Booked to Capacity for All of 1916.

That the Minnesota Steel company has sufficient orders already booked for steel bars and other products to assure capacity operations at its Duluth plant during the whole of 1916 is the statement made in Eastern financial circles.

It is intimated further that delivery of the semi-finished steel ordered is required at as early dates as possible and that additional orders will be placed this way in proportion to the ability of the Duluth plant to fill them.

From that it is inferred that every effort will be made to bring the capacity of the Minnesota Steel company's plant up to the maximum, thus assuring the employment of a much larger force than is now on its payrolls.

FURNISS TO BE TOASTMASTER.

Movie Men of Northwest Plan Many Features for Exposition.

Thomas Furniss, owner of the Rex and Lyric theaters, has been chosen by the executive committee of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association of the Northwest as toastmaster for the annual banquet, which will be held at the West hotel in Minneapolis on the night of May 4. The banquet will be one of the big features of movie week in Minneapolis and it is expected that more than 1,000 delegates will be present.

Mr. Furniss says that the movie exposition to be held at the National Guard armory the four days of the convention will be the greatest thing of the kind ever attempted in the Northwest. More than 100 of the leading manufacturers of films and supplies have contracted for booths and have arranged for elaborate displays. Everything known to the motion picture industry will be displayed. The first crude movie machines will be shown in the same booth with the modern projectors. There will be home projectors that one can attach to the electric light socket.

Fargoans Must Clean Up.

Fargo, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Threats of prosecution have been made by the health authorities against Fargoans who are dilatory about cleaning up their premises. Dr. Paul Sorkness, city health officer, stated that notification had been given to property owners to clean up their premises and that if this was not done within a reasonable time legal steps would be taken.

TO ABOLISH INDIAN INDENTURED LABOR

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Delhi, India, March 5.—The government's announcement that it intends to abolish the system of Indian indentured labor, made through the viceroy a few days ago, has been received with great satisfaction throughout India. The announcement applies to the large shipments of coolie labor which are annually sent to Jamaica, Trinidad, British Guiana, Fiji and Dutch Guiana.

Indian feeling on the subject has for many years condemned the indenture system. No arguments as to its possible economic advantages weighed against the feeling of educated Indians that it degraded India in the eyes of the world.

The Song of the Guns

—By Herbert Kaufman.

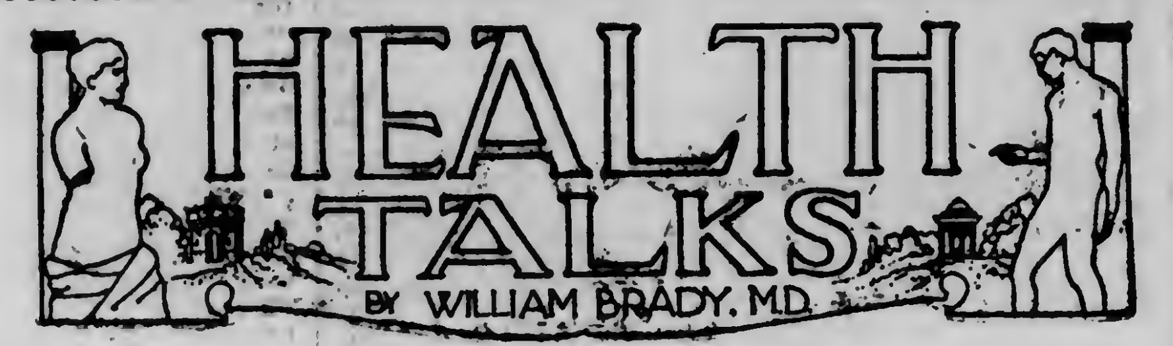
HEAR the guns, hear the guns! High above the splutter-sputter of the Maxim and the stutter of the rifles, hear them shrieking. See the searching shells come sneaking, softly speaking, slyly seeking: thirsting, bursting, shrapnel-leaking: where the ranks are thickest tearing mighty gaps among the daring. Charging horse and rider stumble and brigades fall in a jumble; earthworks crumble, standards tumble and the driving bayonets fumble. But unsated still the hated cannon thunder, unabated. Hear them rumble, hear them grumble, hear the old song of the guns: "Send your sons, send your sons, all your near ones, all your dear ones; give us food, give us food, give the strongest of your brood. Let us feed, let us feed, on the bravest that you breed . Give us meat, give us meat, oh, he blood of Valour's sweet!"

And the women make reply (ah, the glory of the lie): "Look, no tear is in our eye. Rather would we see you die for your country, than stand by. Rather would we boast to tell to your children that you fell, than to have you lurk and sell honour for a coward's breath. Better far a soldier's death. Go and battle for the land—make a stand, make a stand! Go and join the dauntless band—take a hand, take a hand! Count not us—God will provide!"

Thus the women in their pride, mask their hearts, their anguish hide. Thus the mother and the bride bid their men to march and ride to the guns, hungry guns, rumbling, grumbling for their sons. Thus the women ever give, give their nearest, dearest ones at the summons of the guns.

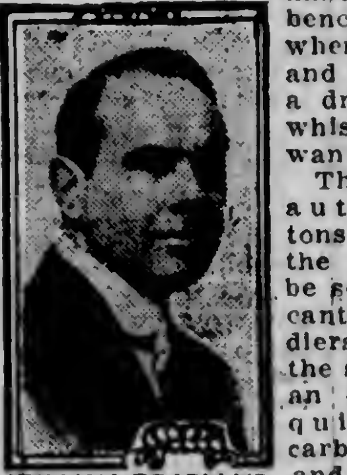
What is war to men—they die. But the widowed women, aye, to the end alone, must live.

—Copyright, 1916, by Herbert Kaufman.



Sugar, the Ideal Food

Pure candy ought to be marketed at cost by the W. C. T. U. It is a great foe to old King Alcohol. Let a man keep a box of candy in his desk or handy by his work bench, to nibble on when he is tired, and he won't crave a drink of beer or whisky — all he'll want is water.



WILLIAM BRADY MD

The United States authorities ship tons of candy to the Philippines to be sold through the canteens to the soldiers. It satisfies the soldier's need of an easily digested, quickly available carbohydrate food, and so makes "vino" unnecessary to his welfare.

There are some people—and they are usually to be found in the rural communities—who still insist upon the imaginary relation between candy or sugar and "worms." And, what is worse, there are parents so benighted as to believe these old fishwife yarns and restrict the quantity of sweets in the children's bill of fare. We cannot reiterate too often the fact that sugar is the child's most natural food—more than half of the solid matter in milk is sugar. Sugar is tonic to the heart, in the sense that it supplies quickly available muscular energy to that organ. Sugar is a muscle food, if there is such a thing. It is therefore essential in a child's diet, particularly an active, hard-playing child. And certainly there is no more digestible, nor more appetizing, nor more balanced a meal in the whole category of dietetics than a slice of good home-baked bread, spread with a quarter inch of butter or oleomargarine, and smothered with a like thickness of the crudest grade of brown sugar. No child could consume too much of such food for gods.

As for feeding the children candy, there are two important rules to bear in mind: (1) It must be pure candy, not adulterated with poisonous dyes, varnish, plaster-of-paris, coal-tar flavors and the like. Jimcracks ruin a child's health. (2) It must be given in the course of or following regular meals, not at any and all hours. If these rules are followed, only good can come from feeding the youngsters candy.

It is very significant, if not sinister, that the free lunch counter presents nearly every variety of food but candy. Somehow the booze emporiums, like the "old women," have little use for the food that kills the hankering for alcohol.

The usual cause of any digestive disturbance which develops after eating candy is either the adulteration of the candy or the fact that not enough water is taken to dissolve the sugar.

Sugar is nature's own specific for fatigue. When you have that tired feeling, try some good candy.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Directions for the Use of Whisky.

Kindly give directions for the use of whisky in cases of chills, fainting, shock, etc.

Answer—Keep the bottle tightly corked and out of reach of the patient. If you want to give a stimulant, administer half a teaspoonful or more of aromatic spirits of ammonia in a few spoonfuls of cold water.

Foety a Poor Prophylactic.

I have read that asafoetida is a specific and preventive for grip. Is that true?

Answer—No, it is not true. It would have absolutely no effect.

POLICE SEE CONSPIRACY TO WRECK RUG PLANT

Discharged Foreman Is Arrested for Damaging Expensive Machinery.

Several Other Workmen Are Sought—Factory Is Closed Down.

Samuel Zontek, 24, expert rug weaver who came to this country about a year ago from German Poland, is in jail, with bonds fixed at $3,000, and several former countrymen of his are being sought, as a result of what police call a conspiracy to wreck the Western Rug company's plant at Sixty-third avenue west and Grand avenues.

Work at the plant has been suspended and $30,000 worth of cording machinery, used in making rugs, has been put out of commission until experts are brought here from New York to determine the amount of damage.

Oscar Christianson, St. Paul attorney, and Twin City private detectives, are working on the case, aided by Chief of Detectives Gustav Lahti and other members of the Duluth's plain clothes staff.

When Karl Wessel, general manager of the plant, discharged Zontek, who was a foreman, Wednesday, four other expect weavers, employed in the same part of the building, refused to work.

"The manager has had trouble with these employes for some time," said Arthur Barnes, one of the officials of the company, "but I do not know anything of this latest development." The attorney and detectives who appeared in court today refused to discuss the case.

Machine Wrecked.

Zontek left Wednesday night, and Thursday morning, when the machines were started, one of them went to pieces, hundreds of small needles and other parts being jammed and smashed almost beyond repair.

"Several machines have been badly damages," said Manager Wessel. "We do not know yet how much it will amount to." Police said the damage might run up to $10,000, and that twice that amount of damage was averted by a narrow margin.

Zontek was arrested late last night by Detectives Toewe and Bradley, after a short search, and brought to headquarters. On a charge of malicious destruction of property he was arraigned before Judge F. H. Cutting this morning.

The complaint, sworn to by Manager Wessel, alleged that Zontek had caused damage of $2,000 to a Whiten cording machine.

After the charge had been explained to him, Zontek asked for an examination. It was set for April 24 at 2 p. m.

Decorations for Diners.

Easter lilies and large floral crosses will decorate all of the dining cars of the Northern Pacific between here and the Twin Cities and the coast next Sunday. This is said to be the first time that a transcontinental line has placed the emblem of the cross in its cars.

The profusion of lilies in the diners will form a decoration that is certain to please the patrons and bring gladness to those who are unfortunate enough to have to travel on this great feast day when they would much prefer to be home surrounded by loving relatives or seated in a church pew listening to the strains of glorious Easter music.

YOUNG WALLINGFORD AT BENTON HARBOR

One-Cent Car Fare Promoter Is Taking Vacation.

William Ray Bilderback, of 1-cent street car fare fame, is taking a vacation at a Michigan resort.

A resident of Benton Harbor, Mich., in a letter to The Herald today, said that W. R. Bilderback, none other than the "manager and sole proprietor" of the Duluth Cut Rate Carfare & Advertising company, was a resident of that city.

"He is here now," the letter said.

Bilderback is the man who made $2,000 or $3,000 in three days by selling street car tickets at 1 cent per, on an endless chain scheme.

He was arrested for fraudulent advertising, posted $500 bail, and left the city, leaving an attorney to represent him in court. The attorney called for a jury trial and the absent promoter was acquitted.

Police issued other warrants for the man's arrest, making various other charges, but were unable to find him, so that they could be served.

Although they will investigate reports that Bilderback is living in Benton Harbor, no attempt will be made to bring him back to Duluth, it is believed, as none of the charges now against him are felonies, or gross misdemeanor, or of sufficient gravity to warrant extradition.

FAVOR USE OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS AS CENTERS

New York, April 21.—The first national conference on community centers, in session here, elected officers and adopted a platform favoring the use by the people of public buildings as a right; advocating the use of tax money "in the promotion, development and maintenance of community centers" and urging the administration of community centers "through responsible public officials."

Harry A. Lipsky, Chicago, was elected president; Mrs. Edwin A. Grice, Philadelphia, vice president; John Collier, New York, secretary, and Miss Pauline Witherspoon, Louisville, Ky., treasurer.

STUBBORN FIGHTING ON VERDUN FRONT

Infantry Attacks Follow Bombarding, Says German Report.

Berlin, April 21, via London, 4:10 p. m.—The war office announcement of today says that on the Verdun front stubborn infantry fighting is still being carried on.

The statement follows:

"Western front: In the Meuse region (Verdun front) stubborn infantry fighting developed in conjunction with a great increase of activity on the part of the artillery on both sides. West of the river the French made an attack with large forces against Dead Man's hill and to the east thereof. In general these attacks were repulsed with sanguinary losses to the assailant. The fighting is still going on for a small portion of a trench in the vicinity of Caurettes wood, which the French penetrated.

"To the right of the Meuse efforts of the enemy to recapture the stone quarry south of the village of Haudremont were entirely fruitless. South of Fourt Douaumont, fighting developed at close quarters during the night around some French trenches and is not yet ended. A repetition of the enemy's infantry attack against our lines at Caillette wood failed at the very outset on account of our strong and concentrated artillery fire.

"In the Vaux sector on the Woevre plain, and on the heights southeast of Verdun very lively artillery activity was the rule of the day on both sides as heretofore.

"An aeroplane of the enemy fell to the earth in flames in Fumin wood, southwest of Vaux.

"Eastern front: Near Garbunovka, northwest of Dvinsk, the Russians in another vain attack suffered severe losses amounting to about one regiment."

BODY EXHUMED BUT DEATH FOUND NATURAL

Grafton, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three months after the body of Mrs. Eva Bloomquist had been buried in the Finnish cemetery near Lakota it was exhumed and an inquest and autopsy held by County Coroner Donald Johnson, at the request of the congregation of the Ilka Finnish church, who believed that Mrs. Johnson's death had been caused by foul play. The autopsy, however, showed that death had been caused by apoplexy.

Dignified Furniture Goes a Long Way Towards Making a Home!

HOME, like life, is what you make it. It is worth all you put into it and all you get out of it. Bare walls do not make a home. But the walls with the hangings and the floors with the coverings and good pieces of furniture set around needs only the human elements to make home complete. And the expenditure need not be great. Dignified styles in furniture can now be bought at a very moderate investment. Come and see our offerings.

Popular Styles Now Are

Jacobean of Charles II, Colonial, William & Mary and Mission

These are "going" styles of the day and they are all good and will continue to be good for years to come. This is because the architecture of these styles is correct, based on the period designs of two or three centuries ago. The colors and finishes are correct, too. Grand Rapids fumed oak is standard and runs very uniform so that matching can be done easily at any time. Jacobean is a little darker, more like walnut. Then there is the real Circassian walnut wood and mahogany and golden oak which are always good. The furniture of today is dignified and lends itself admirably to making the home beautiful.

PATRIOTISM IS KEYNOTE OF MASONIC ADDRESSES

Speakers Express Opposing Views on Subject of Preparedness.

About 700 Scottish Rite Members Attend Maundy Thursday Reunion.

RABBI MAURICE LEFKOVITS.

JUDGE HORACE D. DICKINSON, Of Minneapolis.

Patriotism was the keynote of the annual Maundy Thursday feast at the Masonic temple last evening.

Every speaker on the program laid special emphasis on love of this country, the American flag, the traditions of the nation, and the need of a united support at all times. Two of the principal speakers, Dr. Maurice Lefkovits, rabbi of Temple Emanuel of this city, and Judge Horace D. Dickinson of Minneapolis, voiced the spirit of patriotism, each from a different angle, the former urging a peaceful solution of all international difficulties, the cessation of conflicts by means of an international brotherhood of man, while the latter declared himself in favor of an adequate defense to "keep the Western hemisphere from the political or religious domination of the Eastern hemisphere."

Many Cities Represented.

About 700 Scottish Rite Masons from Duluth and cities throughout Northern Minnesota gathered at the Masonic temple for the feast, which is obligatory for all Knights Rose Croix of the order. The banquet brought to a close the annual Easter reunion and exemplification of the Scottish Rite degrees to a large class of candidates since last Monday evening.

At the close of the banquet the lights were extinguished, one of the principal ceremonies of the evening, symbolic of the destruction of all that is good, while the relighting of the lights will take place on Easter Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the temple. The ceremony will begin at 3 o'clock, it was announced last evening, and will be open to the public.

The women of the White Shrine served the supper, including the paschal lamb, and during the course of the dinner the Charles Helmer orchestra played a musical program.

Address of Welcome.

H. W. Cheadle, worshipful master of the A. T. C. Pierson chapter, Knights Rose Croix, was the toastmaster and welcomed the members of the fraternity to the annual reunion feast. In his opening remarks he told of the work done during the last year, the growth of the order and the many popular activities of the Scottish Rite Masons in Duluth. The speaker explained that Trevanion W. Hugo, grand minister of state and inspector general of Minnesota, was absent from the feast for the first time since the organization of the valley of Duluth. Mr. Hugo, he said, was in Minneapolis and at this point the members voted to send him a telegram of good wishes. R. B. Knox read several telegrams from members who were unable to attend the feast, including Mr. Hugo and Congressman Clarence B. Miller. Mr. Hugo's report on the local activities was read by A. P. Cook, venerable master of the North Star Lodge of Perfection. The members voted to continue the infant welfare work and the publication of the Masonic Calendar.

George Buck responded to the toast, "The Supreme Council and the Sovereign Grand Commander," and William B. Patton to the toast, "The Grand Lodge of the State." I. K. Lewis, a member of the 1916 class just initiated into the order, gave a short talk, responding to the toast, "The Class of 1916."

Quartet Program.

Members of the Scottish Rite quartet, under the direction of Prof. A. F. M. Custance, rendered the following numbers during the evening:

Solo—"The Wages of Fighting Men" ....James H. Rogers
Charles O. Applehagen.
Quartet — Recitative and prayer from "Le Cid" ....Massenet
A. R. Burquist and Quartet.
Quartet—"The Song of the Cavalry Saber" ....Grant
Duet—"Good-by, Sweet Day"...Vannah
A. R. Burquist and C. O. Applehagen.
Quartet—"At Dawning" ......Cadman

The two principal addresses were made by Rabbi Lefkovits, who spoke on "The Prince of Peace," and Judge Dickinson of Minneapolis, whose subject was "The Government of the Country". Dr. Lefkovits said, in part:

"Masonry, with its international association, comprises within its secret bond of union the weightiest manhood of all peoples and all nations and all races the world over; Masonry stands first and foremost for the higher concern of collective humanity as over and against the narrow, selfish interests of state and nation. Therefore we Masons, above all, must teach this old-new doctrine of national self-abnegation, yea, national self-sacrifice, if and when the greater good of humanity demands it. Only when nations will learn this doctrine and make it part and parcel of the international conscience, even as it is now of the individual conscience, only then will the Prince of Peace be sovereign on this earth.

What Masonry Stands for.

"That America, first of all nations, has learned the new doctrine of national subordination to the interests of humanity is neither fortuitous accident nor unfathomable mystery. To my mind the reason is perfectly clear. It is owing to the exceeding strength of Masonry in this country. The Masonic 'constellations' have imparted their resplendid radiance to the stars on our flag, and perforce the celestial lights blaze in greater glory on the American horizon than anywhere else. To me it is quite natural, nay, casual, that the father of this republic should have been a high Mason; that most of the signers of our immortal Declaration of Independence should have been ardent devotees of Masonry; that many of those who graced the presidential chair all through our history should have been masters of the craft. Masonry is good enough and pure enough and high enough to lend luster to the most distinguished seats on this terrestial globe; and while not all Masons can possibly become presidents, all true Masons are worthy of becoming presidents. This may sound somewhat hyperbolical, but I believe so thoroughly in the potency of Masonic teachings that I venture to ascribe the fact that we have in this country a more ordered liberty, a truer democracy and a higher national conscience than are to be found anywhere else to the greater strength of Masonry in this country than anywhere else. And therefore I say that, having impregnated our own people with a newer and broader doctrine of national self-restraint in presence of humanity's demands, it is now our duty and should be our privilege to preach and teach the same doctrine to the world at large.

Clouds on Horizon.

"But, my brothers, in thus directing your attention to our world-wide mission I would not have you believe that our services and our watchfulness here at home are no longer needed. For they are, possibly more so today than ever before. The 'constellations' even here are threatened with eclipse. Ominous clouds are appearing on the American horizon, and rumblings are heard that presage no good. Voices are being raised here and there and everywhere demanding vehemently a larger American army and a bigger American navy. We are told that all sorts of dangers are threatening us, and that in order to keep the peace we must be armed to the teeth. In times of peace, they tell us, we must prepare for war. We must keep our powder dry and our swords sharp. By such and other half-truths the attempt is being made to inoculate the American consciousness with the deadly virus of militarism. Against any and all such attempts we Masons must set our faces as hard as flint and our minds as unbending as steel. We must not allow our country to fall a prey to the errors and false doctrines of the old world. We are a young country and we shall hew out our own path in history, but not with the weapon of might, only and solely with the sword of right. We shall not in times of peace prepare for war; rather in these times of war we shall prepare for peace. We fear no one, for we have malice for none and charity for all. Distrusting nobody, nobody will suspect us. Arming against no nation, no nation will attack us. Having no 'mailed fist' to hold up against any people, no people will raise its arms against us.

Expansion Undesirable.

"We desire no territory besides our own, no sovereignty save the sovereignty of ourselves, and no victory save the victory of peace. We know that there is but one bond that draws men together—the bond of brotherhood; there is but one spirit that dissolves hatred—the spirit of love; there is but one path that leads to peace—the spirit of justice and good will. We know that there is no superiority like the superiority of conscious rectitude. It is the strength of righteousness. It is the strength of God. We can fight, of course, if need be, and the world knows it. We have limitless resources and patriotism enough to make millions of soldiers, and the world knows it. But we do not want war. We do not expect war. If we realize, as a nation, our true destiny, no nation will ever war against us, and all the peoples that are under the whole heaven will regard us with awe and reverence, and we shall exercise upon them the greatest possible influence, the influence of a high and unselfish character. 'Democracy through equality' and 'peace through justice.' This, I conceive, is America's destiny.

"My brothers, we are gathered here to honor, in sincerity and reverence, the memory of Him who stands out before humanity pre-eminently as the Prince of Peace. We can best and most truly honor His memory not by eloquent eulogy, but by resolute determination to live as He lived, in kindliness, in gentleness, in loving forbearance, and in steadfast peace. As Masons, our mission is peace. Let us be true to our mission."

Judge Dickinson's Talk.

Judge Dickinson spoke in an entirely different vein, urging an adequate preparedness to protect the honor of this country.

"We believe in the dignity of the United States," he said, "and we believe in the tradition of peace with honor. We stand for reasonable preparedness of our national defenses, not only for the present, but for the future protection of the priceless treasures left by our ancestors. We must see that the Western hemisphere is kept free from the political or religious domination of the Old World.

"'The government of the people, by the people and for the people must not perish from the earth.' There are worse things than war and one of them is peace without honor."

The committees in charge of the Easter reunion yesterday were: Executive, Renwick B. Knox, Arthur P. Cook, Hubert V. Eva; music, Arthur F. M. Custance, Trevanion W. Hugo, Charles Helmer; decoration, Philip Bayha, John Cox, S. W. Gilpin; banquet, Hubert V. Eva, Frank P. Robinson, Rene T. Hugo; Scottish Rite quartet, A. F. M. Custance, director; Don Cole, Charles O. Applehagen, Don Gearhart and A. R. Burquist.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

CLOQUET CREWS ON EIGHT-HOUR BASIS

Northwest Paper Company Plant Has Increased Its Force.

Cloquet, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—This week a considerable number of the employes of the Northwest Paper company were put on an eight-hour shift, thereby adding about forty or fifty new men to crews already employed there. The machine room of the paper mill has been on an eight-hour basis for two or three years, and the departments affected by the recent change are the wet room, beater room, grinder room and the sulphite mill.

These departments all operate continuously, day and night, and heretofore the men working there were on eleven and thirteen-hour shifts. Where the machinery does not operate continuously—such as the wood room—the usual ten-hour shift is employed.

This change naturally makes an addition to the working force at this plant, giving steady employment the year round, and also increases the payroll.

REGIONAL LAND MORTGAGE BANKS

Bill to Establish Twelve Perfected By House Committee.

Washington, April 21.—A bill to establish twelve regional land mortgage banks, as part of the administration rural credits legislation program, was perfected yesterday by the house leaders.

The proposed banks would make loans on land through national farm loan associations. Stock would be taken by the Federal treasury, but under an amendment adopted by the committee no payments would be made on such stock until the bank in question had received applications for loans from at least ten loan associations.

Subscriptions to stock also would be made by the loan associations and when they had subscribed to $750,000 in any land bank, that bank would be authorized to apply semi-annually to the payment and retirement of share issues to represent the subscriptions to the original capital, 25 per cent of all sums thereafter subscribed until all such original capital stock was retired at par.

At least 20 per cent of the capital stock of any land bank paid in by the loan associations must consist of cash in the bank's vault, of deposits in member banks of the Federal reserve system, or of investments in negotiable interest-bearing securities, approved by the Federal farm loan board. Not less than 5 per cent of the capital stock must be invested in United States bonds.

Representative Moss, a member of the joint committee of congress which framed the original bill, re-introduced it as amended by the banking committee.

Nervous Periodical Headaches

This trouble commonly called "sick headache, is said to be due to the retention of urea in the system. Often it is stated that a poor condition of the blood is a cause of these headaches, or that it is a nervous condition; and in certain cases, no doubt this is true.

Where treatment is demanded, it is more for the pain than anything else, and Dr. A. F. Schellschmidt of Louisville, has found anti-kamnia tablets to give prompt and satisfactory relief. "Rest should be insisted upon," he says, "and the patient should go to bed, darken the room, and all the attendants and family should be as quiet as possible. An emetic will sometimes shorten the attack. The bowels should be kept open with "Actoids"; a hot bath and a thorough rub-down with a coarse towel, often give grateful relief. Two anti-kamnia tablets when the first signs appear, will usually prevent the attack. During an attack, one tablet every hour or two will shorten the attack and relieve the usual nausea and vomiting." These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for nervous headaches, neuralgia and all pains.

STUNTZ BOARD'S NEW CLERK TAKES HOLD

John Eastman Assumes Job and Appointments Are Made.

Hibbing, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the special meeting of the supervisors of Stuntz town here last night John Eastman, elected clerk on March 14 at an election contested by Victor Benoe, defeated candidate, took office. The order issued by Judge Bert Fesler was served by Deputy Sheriff F. C. Witte of Virginia upon Benoe to vacate the office and turn over the records to Eastman.

The new clerk qualified two weeks ago, but Benoe has held onto the office awaiting decision by Judge Fesler on the legality of sixty-six ballots thrown out by the inspectors appointed by the court to canvass the returns.

Bids were opened for a two and a half or three-ton truck to be purchased by the town. Because of their complicated nature the bids were laid over until a special meeting to be held Monday night. F. A. Lindbergh and S. A. Kohrt, W. E. Lyman, W. J. Ryder, Fred Smith, E. D. LaChance, W. C. Barrett, all of Hibbing, and J. A. Smith of Duluth were bidders.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids on two automobile roadsters to be opened at the next regular meeting of the board on May 3. He was also instructed to advertise for bids to construct the Cumming road, located midway between sections 12 and 13.

A petition to legalize the Capplo road, a half mile long, located in the northeast corner of the township, was granted.

Town Officers Named.

The following officers for the township to serve the ensuing year, with the respective salaries, were appointed: James Lamson and Joseph Ryan, superintendents of highways, $150 per month; H. E. Stevens, chief engineer, $150; D. D. Butchart, assistant engineer, $125; Victor L. Power, town attorney, $150 per month; Sam Brady, James Mickelson, Mark Welsh, John Mulvahill, Joseph Brown, Mike Danshy, Albert Albertini, Sam Salverson, Tom Kennedy, appointed foremen of highways at $3.50 per day; Dr. A. G. N. Butchart, health officer, $75; Frank Ansley, general inspector, $150; Mrs. D. MacCauley, poor commissioner, $30; Miss Isabel Moran, deputy clerk, $75; Mrs. Janet McCarthy, janitress town hall, $30 per month.

Supervisors Al Dixon and Jacob Messner were appointed a committee to purchase supplies and to O. K. all bills before paid.

Common labor will receive $2.50 per day.

VIRGINIA PRIEST DELIVERS ADDRESS

Father Powers Appeals for Good Citizenship and Charity.

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Addressing a large meeting of the Commercial club last evening on "A Man's Neighbor," Father W. J. Powers, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, gave a stirring address on good citizenship and the exercise of charity, declaring that the community life where caste, class hatred or religious intolerance entered was to be deplored, and advocating broad standards of citizenship and co-operation in community undertakings.

Charles Grabowsky, assistant superintendent for the Virginia district of the Oliver Iron Mining company, spoke on "The Relation of the Mining Industry to Municipal Progress"; declared the mining operators of the Mesaba range desired to co-operate with the public on all matters of mutual welfare; outlined the approximate extent of Virginia's mining resources and gave figures on ore shipments, development costs and other matters of a highly interesting nature.

Edward C. A. Johnson gave a paper on "The Co-operative Delivery System," suggesting its adoption by Virginia retailers. The matter will be taken up with local retailers by the market committee of the Commercial club.

Sam Jerreissati, Virginia's dragoman, told stories in six different languages and was one of the most popular entertainers of the evening. The club referred to the various committees a considerable volume of routine business.

VIRGINIA'S SCHOOL ELECTION LIVELY

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—With two intensely interested factions in the field making an active canvass among the voters, the result of tomorrow's special school election to decide the question of whether the Roosevelt school shall be razed to make room for a more modern structure is arousing the keenest interest.

The school board, in a page advertisement in the local newspapers, last night, solicited the voters to vote to defeat the proposed razing of the Roosevelt school. Trustee Eaton of the school board is the only member standing out for the tearing down of the school and the building on its site of a new building.

Despite the indorsement of the board there is considerable difference of opinion on the matter and the outcome of the election is in doubt.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

EASTER MUSIC AT TWO HARBORS

Programs in Keeping With Sacred Event Will Be Rendered.

Two Harbors, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Easter music will be featured at both services at the First Presbyterian church, Sunday. An augmented chorus choir, under the direction of Miss Madeline James will sing at both services. At the evening service, the Thalian orchestra will assist with several numbers. Miss Madeline James will be soloist at both services. The musical part of the service is as follows:

Morning service, 10:55 a. m.: Prelude, "Resurrection Morn," (Edward F. Johnston); hymn, "Easter"; anthem, "Alleluia to Our King," (Joseph L. Roeckel) chorus choir; soprano solo, "The Women at the Tomb," (Frank Howard Warner) Miss Madeline James; hymn, "Resurrection"; offertory, "Jour de Printemps," (Ralph Kinder); quartet, "Fear Not Ye," (Ira B. Wilson); postlude, "Jubilate Amen," (Ralph Kinder).

Evening service, 7:45 p. m.: Organ prelude, "Caprice," (Edward F. Johnston); "At Sunset," (Walter E. Miles) Thalian orchestra; hymn, "Dort"; anthem, "Christ, the Lord, Is Risen Today," (P. A. Schnecker) chorus choir; offertory, "Spring Flowers," (J. Dellinger Wood) orchestra; anthem, "Easter Hymn," (Dudley Buck) chorus choir; hymn, "Coronation"; postlude, "March," (E. Sorrentino) orchestra; Miss Madeline James, choir director; Fred W. Doerr, organist.

The usual Easter sunrise meeting will be held at 6 a. m., a special program having been arranged for this service.

At Methodist Church.

The Easter services at the Methodist church Sunday will be of interest to all music lovers. The chorus choir of forty voices will give the sacred cantata "Life and Death," by Harry Rowe Shelley in the evening. Mrs. George B. Simmons of Lawrence Conservatory of Music, Appleton, Wis., is soloist for the occasion. Miss Mable Owens is the organist. The chorus will have the assistance of several local people. In the morning the famous hallelujah chorus from "Messiah" will be rendered after an arrangement by Caleb Simper.

At 6 o'clock there will be a sunrise prayer meeting led by Harry Koger. The pastor will preach the Easter sermon at 11 o'clock. The following is the complete program.

Morning service: Prelude, "Praeludium," (Uevin); anthem, "Hallelujah, Christ Is Risen," (Simper) the choir; offertory, "Summer Idyll," (Becker); solo, "Eastern Dawn," (Woodman) Mrs. Simmons; anthem, "Seek Ye the Lord," (Roberts) Mrs. Simmons and choir; postlude, "Festal Postlude," (William Carl).

Evening service devoted entirely to music; Prelude, "Triumphal March," (Merkel); anthem, "And Behold There was a Great Earthquake," (Simper) Mrs. Simmons, Mr. McKee and choir; solo, "Hosanna," (Granier) Mrs. Simmons; anthem, "Why Seek Ye Him Here," (Costa) the choir; cantata, "Life and Death," (Shelley) Mrs. Simmons, Mr. McKee and chorus choir; postlude, "Processional," (Grim).

STOCKPILED ELY ORE BEING SHIPPED

Steel Corporation Sending Mineral Product Down to Two Harbors.

Ely, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Owing to shortage of stock pile room, the Steel corporation mines here began shipping ore Wednesday to the docks at Two Harbors.

The mines here have increased their working force and everything is being put in readiness for a busy season. All of the increased operations tend toward a season expected to surpass the banner season of 1913.

DAHL IS GRATEFUL.

New Virginia City Attorney Thanks All His Friends.

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—S. S. Dahl, the new city attorney, over whose appointment there was a controversy which was settled yesterday when Mayor Boylan, who had opposed him, yielded to public sentiment and approved the nomination, issued the following statement expressing his gratitude over the outcome of the affair:

"I appreciate, more than any one, the high honor the city council of Virginia has conferred upon me by appointing me city attorney for the ensuing two years and also that of Mayor Boylan in confirming my appointment.

"I wish to state at this time, that I will do all in my power to be fair, considerate and impartial in all my dealings with every one concerned.

"I had not realized, until this time, the large number of friends I have who were and are interested in my welfare.

"I most heartily thank the city council, Mayor Boylan and my friends."

GRAND RAPIDS TALENT TO RENDER "PINAFORE"

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Pinafore" will be staged here by local talent under the direction of Mrs. E. A. McOuat at the high school auditorium early in May. The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to the purchase of books for the public library. The parts have not yet all been assigned, but it has been announced that Robert Gilbert, John Benton, Webster Tyndall and Miss Frances Winsor will be in the cast and the others will be selected later. The chorus is rehearsing Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Central school and on Thursday evenings at the library.

Lodges Going to Church.

Chisholm, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—On Easter morning Hematite lodge No. 274 will attend services at the M. E. church in a body. Harry Angst will be the soloist at the morning service and the choir will render a special anthem. The members of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges will attend the evening services in a body. Mrs. William Anderson will render a solo at the evening worship.

EVINCING INTEREST IN ITASCA'S FAIR

Already Plans Are on Foot to Make Fair Greater Success.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Interest in the 1916 Itasca county fair is keener at this time of the year than for any previous county fair, and inquiries and reports of interest are coming in daily. From the range, a portion of the county which at one time did not take much interest in the fair, come good advices.

The county fair management endeavors at all times to make such changes as will be for the convenience of the patrons of the fair. Mr. Sisler announces that the association will this year start a new feature which should prove popular. Last year a number of communities — settlements covering territory in more than one township—felt rather put out at the rules relating to the township exhibits. It was contended that the rules confining the exhibits to different townships worked a hardship on the different communities of the county, for if they exhibited as townships they could not make as good a showing as they could as a community. In order to avoid this and to encourage the community idea it was decided to change the township exhibits into community exhibits, and this rule will be in force this year.

GET ROAD PETITIONS.

Several Requests Received By Itasca County Board.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 21.—The Itasca county board in session here this week considered chiefly road matters the board taking up the discussion and planning of road work for the year. Several petitions for roads were reviewed.

Appropriations for roads were made as follows: $500 for road No. 129, called Phillips road in the Splithand district; $450 for roads in Harris township; $400 in Trout Lake township and $400 in Wawina.

It was resolved to advertise for bids for the work which will be done on the Hegdahl road, or No. 111. A petition for a road in section 58, range 32, was granted, as was the petition for a road starting at the Prairie Lake school and running north to Trout lake. These two will be turned over to the surveyors and will go through the regular procedure.

TO EXHIBIT CATTLE.

Minnesota Red Polled Angus Association Seeking Information.

Hibbing, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minnesota Red Polled Angus Cattle Breeders' association, with offices in Red Wing, has written to Secretary Richard Giffin of the county fair, asking for information regarding an exhibit of polled cattle at the county fair this year.

Secretary R. L. Giffin replied that the premium list of the fair would have class four devoted to polled cattle, and hopes to have the association exhibit at the fair here.

ELY MAN'S FATHER DIES IN VIRGINIA

Ely, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Brozich, Sr., aged 72 years, father of George L. Brozich, cashier of the First State bank of this city, died Tuesday afternoon at the Lenont hospital at Virginia following an operation for gall stones.

The body was taken to Aurora for burial, services being held at that city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Brozich was well known in this city, having come here a number of times to visit with his son. Two sons, George L. of this city and John C. of Aurora and a daughter, Mrs. Jacob Jackse, also of Aurora, survive. Mrs. George L. Brozich and John Souze, Sr., of this city attended the funeral.

HIBBING RECEIVES LARGE TAX PENALTY

Hibbing, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing this week received the last payment of $70,000 as the 10 per cent penalty in the famous tax fight between the village and the mines.

Village Treasurer Robert Geiselman also received $6,000 in taxes the March apportionment. Mr. Geiselman has issued a call for outstanding village warrants up and including a certain number.

RANGER NELSON TO STATE MEETING

Hibbing, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. C. Nelson, forest ranger for this district, will leave Tuesday next for St. Paul to attend a meeting of the thirteen state forest rangers with offices in Northern Minnesota.

The work for the year will be discussed and William T. Cox of the state forestry department will outline his plans.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.
Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

The change from rain to snow came quickly about 7 o'clock this morning. The excess of moisture on the ground from the continued rainfall of the last two days, prevents much of a showing by the snow. It is merely disagreeable when blown into one's face, but so was the rain, too, for that matter. A year ago today was sunny but rather raw. The sun rose this morning at 5:09 and will set this evening at 7:04, giving thirteen hours and fifty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometric depression centered Thursday morning over southeastern Minnesota has moved to Central Wisconsin. During the last twenty-four hours light to heavy rains resulted over the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and Lake region, and strong winds in the latter district. Over Minnesota and Eastern Dakotas the rain turned to snow. Further rains fell over Oregon and Washington in connection with the depression overlying Alberta. Freezing weather prevails in Wyoming, Montana, Western North Dakota, and Saskatchewan. The temperature has fallen over the Missouri, Mississippi and Ohio Valley states and Tennessee, but it is rising over Utah, Nevada and Idaho."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, April 21.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Minnesota—Fair in west, probably snow or rain in east portion tonight; Saturday fair with rising temperature.

Lower Michigan—Probably rain tonight and Saturday; colder in south and central portions.

Upper Michigan—Rain or snow tonight and probably Saturday; slightly colder in extreme east portion.

Wisconsin—Unsettled weather with rain in south portion tonight and probably snow or rain in north portion tonight and Saturday; colder in east and south portions tonight; rising temperature in west portion Saturday.

Iowa—Fair in west with frost, unsettled in east portion tonight; Saturday fair with rising temperature.

North Dakota and South Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; warmer Saturday and in west portion tonight.

Montana—Partly cloudy in east, probably rain in west portion tonight and Saturday; warmer in east portion tonight; Cooler Saturday.

LOCAL FORECAST

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Rain or snow tonight. Saturday partly cloudy and warmer. Northwesterly gale, diminishing Saturday.

NASHWAUK MINES READY TO SHIP

Nashwauk, Minn., April 21.—Local mines are in shape for ore shipping and it is expected the first cars will leave for the Allouez docks next week. The Crosby mine electrical equipment has been tried out and found all right.

The Great Northern railway has completed its spur into the Mace mine No. 2, and now has a crew at work grading and graveling the tracks. Ore will start moving to the Superior docks from this property the first of next week.

At the Bennet and Hawkins properties preparations are completed for the season's work.

LIQUOR TOTER IS HELD TO U. S. COURT

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—Oscar Hermanson was arraigned before Commissioner O. A. Poirier on a charge of bootlegging. Hermanson was arrested at Hibbing Tuesday by Special Agent Ellis. He was committed to the county jail in default of payment of a fine of $500. When arrested he had in his possession four quarts of whiskey which he was bringing from Buhl.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN VIRGINIA CHURCH

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—There will be special music at the Presbyterian church on Easter. The morning and evening choirs will be combined for both services. The soloists will be Mrs. G. R. Forbes, Mrs. E. Mahar, Miss Inez Davey and Dr. O. E. Peterson.

CHISHOLM MEN FILE ON LANDS

Baudette, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lujey La Mere, L. J. Larson, R. V. Granuath, Elmer Bechtel of Earlham, Iowa, William B. Andre, Olaf Isaacson of Chisholm and Lars Gunderson filed on land near here this week. On May 16 28,000 acres of Indian land across the river in Canada will be thrown open to settlers. This is unusually good land and will draw a number of land seekers. On May 20 pine lands in Minnesota will be open. Much of this is near this place.

I. W. W. AGITATORS ON MESABA RANGE

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Propagandists for the Industrial Workers of the World have made their appearance at several points on the Mesaba range, are distributing literature, and in some instances, without success, have endeavored to secure public meetings.

Circulars liberally distributed here during the last few days bear the inscription, "Don't scab; when you do more work than you are getting paid for or when you speed up on the job, you are scabbing."

The city authorities yesterday stated no interference will be made with the propagandists so long as their efforts are confined along the present lines, but indicated that attempts to foment labor disturbances or disorders will be promptly dealt with.

Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, I. W. W. speaker, is advertised to speak at the Socialist opera house Sunday evening. She is one of the most widely known I. W. W. workers in the country.

LA PRAIRIE BOY SUDDENLY SUMMONED

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 21.—Millard Washburn, aged 18, eldest son of Henry Washburn and a member of one of the prominent families of Laprairie, died suddenly Monday. The Washburn family has been living at Laprairie for about fifteen years. Besides his parents, Millard Washburn is survived by two younger brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church at Laprairie. Rev. John W. Schenck of Grand Rapids had charge of the services.

To Visit Nebraska Sister.

Knife River, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Pearl Larson, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. N. Sinclair, for two weeks, will leave Saturday to visit her sister at Birdswell, Neb., who she has not seen for thirteen years.

John McMurchy and Mrs. Grace Hyet of Duluth visited at the Sinclair home Wednesday.

Virginia Child Dies.

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—Carl Oscar Larson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Larson of the Lincoln location, died yesterday after a short illness. The child had contracted pneumonia but a week before his death. He was nearly 2 years old. Arrangements are being made for the burial. Interment will probably be at Greenwood cemetery, with Rev. C. W. Ramshaw officiating.

ITCHING SKINS NEED POSLAM

Demand Its Soothing, Comforting, Healing Influence.

If your skin itches and any eruptional disorder is present, do not allow it to cause you restless nights or discomfort during the performance of your daily tasks. Apply Poslam, the supreme remedy for ailing skin, which should stop itching and remove annoyance so promptly that the trouble may soon be forgotten. Continue the use of Poslam until the disorder is removed and use also, to aid the work and for the protection of the skin generally, Poslam Soap, which is medicated with Poslam and which completes a treatment effective, rational, safe, inexpensive and pleasant.

DULUTHIAN BUYS GRAND RAPIDS STORE

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. L. Sather, recently of Duluth, has purchased the Will Nisbett jewelry store and has already taken charge. He expects his family shortly to take up their residence here.

Mr. Nisbett will continue his outside watch business, but will have no connection with the store.

WILL START DRILLING ON LYNCH PROPERTY

Ely, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drilling machinery is being set up on the Lynch property south of the city, preparatory to drilling operations which are expected to begin next week. E. I. Walbank of the Lucky Boy mine is in charge of the work.

Duluth Teachers Visiting.

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—Miss Adelaide Eaton, sister of W. H. Eaton, and Miss Boardman, both teachers in the Duluth schools, are spending their vacations here as guests at the Eaton home, 502 Walnut street. Miss Eaton and Miss Boardman are visiting the schools here.

Arnold Hawkinson, who is attending the agricultural department of the state university, is spending his Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hawkinson.

Virginia Mines Active.

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—The Lincoln mine of the Interstate Iron company is loading cars from the pocket. Mines in this vicinity now shipping are the Minnewas and the Alpena of the Oliver Iron Mining company, the Franklin and the Victoria of the Republic Iron & Steel company, the Silver of M. A. Hanna & Co., and the Lincoln. Most of the open pit mines will shortly start active work.

To Inspect Ties.

Knife River, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gust Falke has been appointed tie inspector for the Iron Range and has gone to points near North Brough on the D. & N. M. railroad. Several cars have been purchased from Curry & White at that point.

Stuntz Road Work.

Hibbing, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The township of Stuntz has started two road crews repairing washouts, cleaning ditches and building culverts in the Little Swan and Dupont districts, and as soon as the weather warms up the crews will be added to.

Hibbing Masons to Church.

Hibbing, Minn., April 21.—Mesaba Lodge No. 256, A. F. & A. M., will attend Easter services in a body at the Methodist church Sunday evening.

M. Randall of the University of Kentucky, Dr. J. A. Heldbrink and Dr. Walter MacNeil of Minneapolis.

JAP CONFERS WITH WILSON

Ambassador Chinda Interested in Proposed Immigration Bill.

Inclusion of Informal Agreement Repugnant to Japanese.

Washington, April 21. — Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, conferred with President Wilson today over the provisions of the pending immigration bill which proposed to enact into law the so-called gentleman's agreement restricting the immigration of Japanese laborers. A memorandum on the subject had been presented to the state department.

The proposed inclusion in a law of an informal agreement which Japan has promised on honor to fulfill according to the agreement between Former Secretary Root and Former Ambassador Takahira is understood to be repugnant to the Japanese government.

Other Subjects of Objection.

Other proposed Asiatic exclusion features in the bill as it has passed the house and has been reported to the senate, are understood to be the subjects of objection.

For many obvious reasons the attitude of the administration is said to be one of disinclination to irritate the situation between Japan and the United States which has been smoldering since the California anti-alien land law negotiations went into an indefinite stage three years ago this summer. Administration officials are not unmindful of anti-Asiatic sentiment in congress, particularly among members from the Pacific coast states and their constant endeavor has been to allay it.

Never Replied to Note.

The United States never has replied to Japan's last note on the California land law.

The last that was said on the subject was said by Former Secretary Bryan to Ambassador Chinda, when the negotiations got into the stage of apparent deadlock, and the ambassador on taking his departure from a conference at Secretary Bryan's office inquired if he were to transmit the last word of the United States to his government. That Secretary Bryan replied:

"There never can be a last word between friends."

One portion of the bill which is understood to draw the resentment of the Japanese government is the inclusion, by inference at least of Japanese in the excluded class with Hindus, although the same paragraph of the bill excepts from the exclusion such as are covered in "existing agreements."

This phrase refers to the Root-Takahira agreement.

After today's cabinet meeting it became known that two memoranda have been presented to the state department. The first referred to similar representations made a year ago when the immigration bill was pending, and the second brought up some new points.

The question will be taken up by President Wilson with senate and house leaders and it is expected that an agreement probably will be reached which will avoid difficulty. The question has already been discussed tentatively. Administration leaders say they expect no real difficulty.

ASHLAND HOSPITAL SCHEME DISCUSSED

Committee Named to Consider Establishing Second Hospital.

Ashland, Wis., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a public meeting held at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening the project for a new hospital here was discussed. The meeting was presided over by Rev. Myron Taylor of the Methodist church, G. E. Carlson acting as secretary.

The principal addresses were made by Dr. J. M. Dodd and Dr. Hertzman. Dr. Dodd is chief surgeon of St. Joseph's hospital, and said he has no quarrel with the sisters, but believes on the general proposition of competition that it is advisable to have two hospitals. Dr. Hertzman spoke along the same line.

A committee was named to look over the field to report at a subsequent meeting, composed of H. A. Davis, Dr. A. P. Andrus, John Sandstrom, J. A. Hall, and one or two others. St. Joseph's hospital was doubled in size about three years ago, and is now a block long. Its territory covers Northern Wisconsin and extends well into Northern Michigan. Two years ago, Dr. W. T. Rinehart, proprietor of Rinehart's hospital died, and his hospital was bought and became an adjunct of St. Joseph's and its name was changed to St. Anthony's hospital. Dodd's hospital went out of existence a number of years ago. Dr. Hertzman recently delivered an address on the subject of building a new hospital, to the Scandinavians of Washburn.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

SEEDING TO BE DELAYED

Late, Wet Spring Holds Back Farmers' Work in North Dakota.

Unless More Moisture Comes, Planting May Be Under Way in a Week.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seeding will be general throughout Northeastern North Dakota next week, according to those in close touch with conditions in the Red river valley.

Rains may delay the beginning of the work for a day or two but it is believed that the next ten days will see a large amount of wheat put in the ground.

Seeding in this section is beginning later than has been the case for several years past. Last year it was well under way on April 5.

Most of the land is drying off rapidly, and should be fit for cultivation in the course of a few days. This is not the case, however, with sections lying along the river, which have been flooded, and will not be fit for use for several weeks.

To Sow More Flax.

On account of the lateness of the season it is possible that there will be more flax sown this year than has been the case in the past. Flax matures faster than wheat and can safely be sown up to the early part of June. Owing to the delay in seeding, it is being regarded with unusual favor this year. The wheat acreage will be correspondingly decreased.

The corn acreage may also be reduced this year on account of the scarcity of seed corn. Much of the corn in the valley was frost bitten last fall, and as a result there is a scarcity of good seed. The corn, which matured, has been carefully conserved for seeding purposes, however, and as a result it is hoped that the decrease in acreage will be slight.

Drizzle Halts Seeding.

Crookston, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A drizzling rain for thirty-six hours ended last night and will further delay seeding operations. Good weather would have witnessed a start in seeding Saturday, but nothing can now be done before the middle of next week. The Red Lake river is falling steadily, and the surface waters are rapidly disappearing. Little rain fell, but the drizzle prevented the fields from drying. There is no question but what wheat acreage will be reduced from 10 per cent to 20 per cent below normal, but barley, flax and other coarse grains will have an increased acreage, as will corn, if the proper seed can be secured.

Tractor Driver Killed.

Tolley, N. D., April 21.—Alfred Benson was killed while driving a gas tractor on a platform. The tractor failed to respond to Benson's attempts to stop it. The front wheels ran off the platform and the tractor turned over.

Benson was hurled into the air. His head struck on the overturned engine when he fell, his skull being fractured.

NORTH DAKOTAN WHO SEEKS GOVERNORSHIP

D. H. McARTHUR.

Fargo, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. H. McArthur of this city, veteran North Dakota Democrat, is a candidate for governor, having been indorsed by the progressive Democrats at the time United States Treasurer John Burke was prevailed upon to come out for United States senator. Mr. McArthur has been a conspicuous figure for years in the party, having served two terms in the state senate, as well as two terms as chairman of the state central committee.

NELSON'S BILL BIG AID TO BELTRAMI

Gopher Senator's Measure Will Mean Much for That County.

Bemidji, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator Knute Nelson has introduced a bill in the United States senate, which, if passed, will provide for the turning over of all bonus money over and above the delinquent interest on the total drainage assessment secured at the annual tax judgment sale of government lands to Beltrami county, to be "used for the construction and maintenance of canals, ditches and other work connected with the drainage of swampy, wet and overflowed lands."

If the bill is adopted, the contention of James L. George, auditor of Beltrami county, that excess derived from the tax judgment sale of government lands should be paid to the county and not to the land office, will be sustained, thus saving thousands of dollars for Beltrami county. Auditor George first took up the matter with the commissioner of the general land office, who overruled his contention, but he continued his fight, even going to the trouble and expense of a trip to Washington, where he presented the matter before Senator Knute Nelson, Representative Volstead, the author of the original bill, and other authorities.

HOLDS FARGO CANNOT LIMIT SMALL STORES

City Attorney Shure Questions Constitutionality of Charter's Power.

Fargo, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Whether this city will make an attempt to limit the location of small grocery stores scattered throughout the residence section of the city depends upon the position the city commission takes on an opinion given by City Attorney W. H. Shure.

The indications are that no action will be taken to test out the constitutionality of an article in the city charter, which gives the city the power to limit the location of these stores, although there have been a large number of objections filed with the commission.

Many Such Stores.

There are a large number of little grocery stores and meat markets scattered through the city and there is not a residence district that has not one or more such establishments, while more are being started continually.

The city attorney holds that as long as these establishments are conducted in such a manner as not to become a menace to the public health or public nuisances they cannot be reached, although the legislature granted the city power in its charter to say where these stores can be located by ordinance.

The city legal adviser considers the act unconstitutional in that it conflicts with personal property rights and cites cases where the question has been tried out in other states.

MANISTIQUE MAN NOW BUREAU HEAD

Upper Peninsula Developers Have Well-Attended Session at Ishpeming.

Ishpeming, Mich., April 21.—The meeting of the Upper Peninsula Development bureau held here this week was well attended and is expected to do much to advance this section.

Among the speakers was General Manager W. W. Walker of the South Shore road who came from Duluth to speak of the work of the league and especially with reference to colonization and publicity. He believed the bureau should be located in a more central position in the Upper Peninsula than in Menominee.

On the subject of the headquarters, Mr. McCormick rejoined that Menominee was perfectly willing to accept any disposal made of it. "Anywhere you place it we will be with you," he asserted.

Short talks were given by C. E. Lawrence of Iron county, R. M. Andrews of Menominee, R. P. Bronson of Ishpeming, and G. T. Werline of Escanaba. Each of these speakers laid stress on the point that whatever mistakes had been made the bureau still had accomplished excellent things, and each strongly urged its continuance.

Officers Elected.

The following officers were elected: President, L. C. Harmon, Manistique; vice president, William E. Davidson, Sault Ste. Marie; second vice president, August Wallen, Ewen; treasurer, H. W. Reade, Escanaba. Members of executive committee—E. C. Bowers, Iron River; S. R. Smith, Ahmeek; M. E. Beurmann, Newberry; M. Hopan, St. Ignace; R. P. Bronson, Ishpeming; M. B. Lloyd, Menominee; G. N. McPhail, Ewen; G. S. Collins, Munising; F. W. Hebard, Pequaming; W. E. Davidson, Sault Ste. Marie; G. T. Werlin, Escanaba; R. W. Pierce, Jr., Foster City; A. W. Peterson, Ironwood; J. C. McNamara, Houghton; Benjamin Gero, Manistique.

Those Who Attended.

Among those who attended the bureau's meeting yesterday were: Ira Carley and George W. Cowell, Jr., of Menominee; Gordon J. Murray, Norway; H. L. Meyers, Menominee; H. E. Stevans, Houghton; J. O. Maxey, L'Anse; Charles R. Hutcheson, Escanaba; A. W. Blom, Menominee; N. H. Maralf and C. E. Lawrence, Iron River; M. J. Cox, Iron Mountain; A. F. Aley, Escanaba; Edward H. Hamar, Chassell; F. D. Davis, Escanaba; G. H. Race, Menominee; B. J. MacKillian, Escanaba; Carl P. Mason, Gladstone; R. C. Young, Rapid River; R. W. Seward, Stephenson; G. T. Werline, Escanaba; Roger M. Andrews, Menominee; Norman H. Hill, Sault Ste. Marie; W. N. McPhail, J. A. Auny, August Wallen and C. R. McCormick, Ewen; Lawrence Sharkey and George Zeach, Munising; M. E. Beurman, Newberry; M. Hoban, St. Ignace; Benjamin Gero, Manistique and C. C. Mason, Gladstone.

WARNING TO USERS OF HAIR REMOVERS

Don't Experiment With So-called Superfluous Hair Removers.

If you use a simple toilet preparation and it proves to be worthless you only lose money. It is a very serious matter, however, when you use a doubtful hair remover, because it will either result in permanent disfigurement or cost you many dollars and take months or possibly years to gain control of the growth after it has been stimulated by the use of such preparations.

It is a waste of time to use pastes and rub-on preparations which merely remove hair from the surface of the skin. To rob hair of its life-sustaining force you must devitalize it by attacking it under the skin as well as on the skin. Nothing but DeMiracle the original liquid depilatory, can accomplish this result.

Imitations of DeMiracle are as worthless as pastes and rub-on preparations because they lack certain ingredients that DeMiracle alone contains which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality. DeMiracle works equally well for removing hair from face, neck, arms and under arms or from limbs to prevent it from showing through stockings.

Remember, DeMiracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package which entitles you to your money if it fails. Insist on the genuine DeMiracle and you will get the original liquid hair remover. Others are worthless imitations—refuse them.

DeMiracle is sold in 50c, $1.00 and $2.00 bottles. The larger sizes are the most economical for dermatologists and large users to buy. If your dealer will not supply you, buy a bottle from I. Freimuth or order direct from us. The truth about the treatment of superfluous hair mailed in plain sealed envelope on request. DeMiracle Chemical company, Dept. 14-F, Park Ave. and 129th St., New York.

HINCKLEY BUSINESS PLACES CHANGED

Hinckley, Minn., April 21.—Several changes in business locations have been made in the past few days. Bert Bailey has moved into the property just west of the Hinckley Hardware store. James Brennen has moved into the property vacated by Bailey near the livery barn, and Mr. Wiener, the blacksmith, has moved into the property vacated by James Brennen. John White moved to the west side of town on Monday, and will occupy the house formerly occupied by Harl Bassett.

TAXATION TEST CASE BEGUN BY FARGOANS

Bismarck, N. D., April 21.—On motion of Aubrey Lawrence of Fargo, attorney for H. C. Plumley of that city, sovereign inspector Scottish Rite bodies of North Dakota, Chief Justice Fiske of the supreme court issued an order directed to the North Dakota tax commission and W. R. Tucker, county auditor of Cass county, to show cause why they should not be restrained from proceeding to list for taxation the Masonic temple at Fargo and other Masonic property.

The order is returnable May 1. This action will involve the right of the state to tax property belonging to fraternal orders amounting to $1,000,000.

GARBAGE PILE PATRON GIVEN FORCIBLE BATH

Milwaukee, Wis., April 21.—To be forcibly given a bath at a public sanatorium before being taken to jail after his arrest was the experience of Ferdinand Nuremberg, who was sentenced Thursday to the workhouse for ninety days on a vagrancy charge.

Nuremberg lived in a dugout near the garbage plant and depended for sustenance upon refuse taken from garbage piles.

EAST GRAND FORKS SALOON KEEPER FAILS

Fergus Falls, Minn., April 21.—Rolland E. Hatch, a former liquor dealer of East Grand Forks, has filed a bankruptcy petition in the United States court here, placing his assets at $3,991.66, of which $2,275 is exempt, and his liabilities at $11,750.06.

MISS COUTU'S FUNERAL IS HELD AT BRAINERD

Brainerd, Minn., April 21.—The funeral of Miss Ruth Coutu, who died of pneumonia in Duluth, was held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. Stacey officiating. A simple, impressive service was held and at the church many of the friends and relatives of the girl were present. From Duluth came her sister, Miss Edith Coutu, and Mr. and Mrs. P. B. McTague and from Minneapolis Mrs. Bert Fowler.

SEED CORN SCARCE.

North Dakota Farmers Having Trouble Getting Good Quality.

Fargo, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The securing of suitable home-grown seed corn is bothering the farmers of this state. The short crop of last summer, coupled with the fact that a sufficient supply had not been laid up looking to a possible poor crop, is responsible for this shortage and the farmer with good seed corn to sell is getting fancy prices for it.

In some instances corn that had been gathered for commercial clubs, fairs and the like has been broken up and distributed to the farmers and in some instances premiums have been offered for the best ten ears grown from this corn in order to induce the farmers to make a special effort with the seed and for the purpose of getting the displays replaced.

It will only be a short time now until the farmers will begin getting ready for corn planting and seed is being sought.

IRONTON SCHOOL HAS CLOSED FOR HOLIDAY

Ironton, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—School closed Thursday and will reopen Monday, May 1. Most of the teachers will spend their vacations out of town: Mr. Kirk in St. Cloud; Miss Dickinson, Duluth; Miss Stuart, Westport; Miss Schnabel, Duluth; Miss Hamilton, Mountain Iron, and Miss Dolan, Duluth.

TO ENCOURAGE DAIRYING AROUND WINTER, WIS.

Couderay, Wis., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dairying will make strides around Winter this spring. The Hines Land company, which is bringing settlers into that section, will shortly ship in four carloads of milch cows, to be sold to the settlers on long time and at actual cost. All arrangements for the building of a creamery in Winter have also been made, the building and equipment to be modern, and ready for occupation during the early part of the summer, work having already commenced on the building.

MYERS ALLEGES HE IS BEING "JOBBED"

Fargo, N. D., April 21.—George Myers, a former Fargo hotel employe, who is under arrest at Cooperstown charged with murdering Ed Lundmark of Aitkin, Minn., and wounding John Sande of Eau Claire, Wis., stoutly maintains his innocence.

Myers, in conversation late yesterday with the state's attorney of Griggs county, insisted he is "being jobbed."

SHIELDS NOT CANDIDATE.

Houghton Man Will Not Seek Michigan Governorship.

Houghton, Mich., April 21.—Robert H. Shields of this village, well known Michigan Republican, who has been mentioned for the governorship, has issued a statement to the effect that he is not a candidate, although he highly appreciates the kindness of his friends in proposing his name. In the course of his statement Mr. Shields says:

"I have considered the matter from all points of view, from that of my duty to my family, my duty to my business interests, the expense involved, the arduous labor of making a campaign in the small time involved when I realize that a number of other strong and able candidates have devoted a year already to the same task. It is a great honor to be even mentioned without solicitation in this connection but I have decided I cannot be a candidate. Someone else must be the candidate of the Republicans in the coming gubernatorial election. Whoever that man may be he will have my hearty support because I am for the party candidate. There has been too much division in the party in the past. Such a division gave Michigan a Democratic governor, gave the United States a Democratic president. United we will stand, divided we must fall and I feel now that a united party next fall will give us victory in the nation, the state and the county."

County Treasurer Dies.

Litchfield, Minn., April 21.—I. M. Littell, county treasurer, died Wednesday night of heart trouble. He is survived by his wife.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—Miss Adda Eldredge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Eldredge of this city, is the only woman to receive honors in the law department at the University of Chicago this year, according to a statement given out by the school authorities.

Ishpeming—James Adams has taken a position as the third trick operator at the South Shore station here. He formerly held a similar position at Eagle Mills.

Negaunee—Matches in pockets of clothes of miners hanging near steam pipes in the Breitung hematite dryhouse ignited and set the clothes on fire Wednesday noon. The members of the Negaunee fire department responded to a call and extinguished the fire before much damage was done.

Houghton—St. Clair Willson, county game warden, was advised by the superintendent of the Duluth fish hatchery that a full carload of lake trout fry will be shipped from the Duluth station to Keweenaw bay in the near future, the date depending upon advices from the county warden.

Negaunee—A. R. Anderson, an employe of the Webber Chimney company of Chicago, has started work on the completion of the reinforced concrete smokestack for the city at the water works station. The stack is now up seventy-two feet and when finished will be 135 feet high.

Ahmeek—Cyril Fak of Ahmeek has received patent papers for a safety clutch device for skips in inclined shafts. Heretofore the only safety grips in use were in skips in vertical shafts. Mr. Fak's device has so appealed to prominent mining men that he has had several attractive offers to dispose of his rights.

Hancock—Committees will be named soon by Hancock and Calumet lodges of Elks to submit recommendations on arrangements for attending the state convention of the order at Sault Ste. Marie next June.

Houghton—Judge C. H. O'Brien took the case of of the People vs. William Gross of Allouez from the hands of the attorneys and directed a verdict of not guilty and Gross was released. He was charged with violating the liquor law by selling liquor without a license.

WOMAN GIVEN TWO DAYS

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I only took four doses before I felt a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. Thos. McGonigal, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Pierre, S. D.—The supreme court has issued an order calling upon H. O. Webb of Doland to come into court May 3 and show cause why the court should not issue an order disbarring him from practice in the state.

Wahpeton, N. D.—The Richland county Fair association has refused to accept the resignation of B. F. Lounsberry, secretary, and he will again serve in that capacity. Mr. Lounsberry has been connected with the association during the past ten years as president and secretary, and the directors were unwilling to dispense with his services.

Montrose, S. D.—R. P. Kruger, while operating a disc on the Gavin farm, near town, received serious injuries and had a narrow escape from death when the colts attached to the machine became frightened and ran away. Kruger was thrown from the seat and fell in front of the machine, which was dragged over him. He was badly cut and gashed by the discs.

Glen Ullin, N. D.—Regents were selected by the Missouri River Association of Congregational churches as its next annual meeting place, the choice being made during the concluding session of the convention just adjourned here. Rev. J. Bosworth of Regent was made moderator for the coming year; Rev. A. C. Hacke continues as chairman of the executive committee, and John Orchard of Dickinson was made a member of the business committee.

Devils Lake, N. D.—John Walrath, formerly of this city, has been appointed assistant trainmaster of the Minot division of the Great Northern railroad to fill the place made vacant by the injury of W. F. Benton of Minot.

Grand Forks, N. D. — Mrs. Pearl Blough was nominated for the position of police matron of Grand Forks by Mayor James A. Dinnie, and the nomination was confirmed by the city council. Mrs. Blough has held the position for some time.

Wolford, N. D.—Edward Norris, a resident of Wolford for some time, is under arrest at Scobey, Mont., charged with the murder of James Chapin, who was shot and killed as the outcome of a quarrel. Norris, while he resided here, was the owner of a pool hall.

Fort Yates, N. D.—Ben Gilland, Jr., was run over and killed by a train at Thunderhawk, according to reports received here.

Bismarck, N. D.—Governor L. B. Hanna went to Hazen, Mercer county, Wednesday, and that evening delivered an address on his trip to Europe and what he saw while in the warring countries.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Bemidji—The mothers' pensions in Beltrami county have decreased six since the first of the year, according to the probate judge. Five of the women who formerly received pensions have been married and one has died. There are thirty-seven in the county receiving mothers' pensions.

Big Falls—The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Solberg received the scarlet fever quarantine tag Monday, their daughter, Elias, being the victim.

Breckenridge—Work has been started by the contractor on the Great Northern round house improvements. A crew of twenty arrived from Superior and commenced tearing down the old house and at least fifty more men will come a little later.

Crookston—The police killed several dogs Wednesday that were not claimed by their owners. The dog catcher is picking up all dogs running loose, and if the fines are not paid by the owners they will be shot by the police.

Thief River Falls—With fair weather, seeding will be in progress on several farms in Pennington county within a week, and general in less than two weeks according to reports from the country. The ground is drying out rapidly and the water disappearing amazingly, considering the enormous quanaity that covered the fields but a few days ago.

Brainerd—Mrs. Carl Zapffe went to Duluth Wednesday to attend a double funeral of her uncle, Andrew Johnson and cousin, Miss Ruby Johnson, who died within a few hours of each other. The wife of Mr. Johnson is a sister of the late A. E. Moberg, father of Mrs. Zapffe.

St. Cloud—Oliver Wootan, charged with an attempt to secure $150 from his mother-in-law by blackmail, was taken before the district court Wednesday after having spent several months in the county jail and pleaded guilty. Sentence was suspended on the condition that he refrain from writing threatening letters to his wife or mother-in-law and that he stay away from Melrose, where they are now located. Wootan must also pay $60 to the county to assist in defraying the expenses of the arrest and trials.

Fergus Falls—The county commissioners, Tuesday conferred with bond house representatives and decided to issue bonds to the extent of $50,000 for ditch construction in case certain ditches now under consideration are ordered. The commissioners approved of the establishment of county ditch No. 52, in St. Olaf, and this will cost perhaps $8,000.

St. Cloud—After twenty-eight years merchandising in this city, John J. Leisen will dispose of his store interests and retire from active business. Mr. Leisen started in business with his father, the late John J. Leisen, over a quarter of a century ago and during that time has been identified with the local and commercial interests.

Cambridge—A mass meeting will be held in the village hall Monday evening, April 24, to consider ways and means of beautifying the village and to consider any other questions which may come before the meeting.

Aila—Hugh Bosworth has constructed a "parlor car" boarding house to be used in connection with his ditch work in Norman county this year. Mr. Bosworth recently purchased a new dredge which he expects to receive soon and will put in a busy season doing ditch work here this summer.

St. Paul—The state board of control will ask the next legislature for a new chapel for the insane hospital at Anoka.

Brookpark—C. C. Reed, a resident of Pomroy township, Kanabec county, died last Sunday at the age of 74 years, 7 months and 5 days. He was a soldier in the Union army during the Civil war, having served in a New York regiment. The funeral services were held Monday, Rev. Voris conducting the services, and burial here. He leaves an aged wife and one married daughter, Mrs. Tripp of Pomroy township.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee—The Milwaukee Associated Charities will become an institutional member of the National Red Cross society as a result of action taken at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday afternoon.

Madison—Edward J. Samp, a former star athlete of the University of Wisconsin and a graduate of that institution, was elected secretary of the board of commerce of Madison. He succeeds Prof. A. H. Melville, who recently resigned to resume his work in the university.

Grand Rapids—The new city council has taken reins with the newly elected mayor, E. W. Ellis, in charge. John J. Jeffrey has been appointed city attorney. Joseph Wheir is city clerk. Dr. J. J. Looze was appointed health officer and Peter McCamley city poor commissioner.

Green Bay—A branch recruiting office will be opened within the next few days in this city by the United States army. Corporal George E. Davidson will be in charge.

Oconomowoc—At the first meeting of the new city council H. E. Welch was elected president of the council. T. T. Cronin was unanimously reelected as city attorney. Mayor Ernst appointed E. L. Palmer as a member of the fire and police commission and H. E. Welch and Henry Bolson as members of the board of public works.

West Allis—Mayor David Love, the first Socialist mayor of West Allis, has inaugurated with the aldermen who will serve with him during the next two years. Mayor Love's inaugural speech was short. He said he will do all in his power to give West Allis a clean, businesslike administration.

Ashland—Mrs. A. E. Bonneville received a message from Topeka, Kan., announcing the death of her father, A. E. Hanson. Mr. Hanson was a resident of Ashland for a number of years before going to Green Bay and later to Topeka. While here Mr. Hanson was roadmaster for the Northwestern railroad and held a similar position at Topeka with the Santa Fe railroad.

Madison—The officers of the state conservation commission have sent out notices to the twenty-five wardens that are to use motorcycles during the coming season to report in Madison as soon as possible to receive instructions on how to run the machines.

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

Yale Oarsmen Will Use English Stroke Against "Pennsy"—McGraw Says He Is Through With Indians—Canada Refuses Entry to Cubans—Bluhm Makes Good in South.

Yale's varsity crew will put plenty of English on its stroke when it lines up with the University of Pennsylvania's eight on the Schuylkill Saturday afternoon—in fact, the Blue's system will be as thoroughly Oxford as a low-cut shoe. Coach Guy Nickalls has settled upon the English stroke without even the slightest Yankee modifications, and he believes the tiff with Penn, which will depend on the shorter, swifter American stroke, will justify his selection of the system.

Nickalls has encountered considerable opposition to the English university stroke—the long reach forward and the far back finish—but, after considering all things, he believes his men are fitted to employ the Oxford stroke.

Some of the rowing experts in the East familiar with the English system are inclined to doubt the ability of the Blue oarsmen to keep up the strenuous lick over a four-mile course, and the argument with Penn Saturday will not afford much of a line on the efficiency of the stroke, as the race will be a short distance affair. Nickalls has one of the sturdiest crews he has ever handled, and he seems confident that the men will be able to endure the terrific strain of the Oxford stroke over a four-mile course.

Yale undergrads are trusting implicitly in Nickalls' judgment, figuring that the coach would not adopt the system if he had any reasonable doubt as to the ability of his men to master the stroke to the best possible advantage. In practice the Blue crew has been giving a good account of itself, the oarsmen individually grasping easily the principles of the English stroke, which gives them an opportunity to get a full body swing with less strain on the legs than other systems cause. Collectively the crew has not smoothed out the rough spots, but Nickalls says diligent practice will bring about the rhythm he seeks.

The Penn first eight is said to be employing a longer body swing this year, but the swing falls considerably short of the English movement. Hopes at Penn are high and the undergrads are counting on a victory over Yale. They believe their crew is sufficiently advanced to give any eight in the country a tussle over a short distance at this time.

McGraw Off Indians.

John McGraw is through with the Indians, red, white or blue. Not even another Sockalexis could get a contract with the New York club, said Secretary John Foster, for his experience with the original Americans has impressed the manager of the Giants with the undesirability of having any of that temperamental clan on the team.

The subject of Indians came up when Foster was asked what the New York club proposed to do with Jim Bluejacket, the pitcher, whose unconditional release by the Brooklyn Federals will send him to the Giants.

The Giants bought Bluejacket from the Bloomington club of the Three I league, and instead of reporting to McGraw, Jim hopped to the Brookfeds. The New York club refused to pay Bloomington, but the national commission decided in avor of the minor leaguers. This decision will make the Indian revert to the Giants by terms of the peace agreement.

Bluejacket has asked to be taken back, but he has been offered no contract by the New York club. He spends his time repairing wagons. As a Federal leaguer, Bluejacket was more or less of a bloomer. Miner Brown once said that the redskin had the makings of a great hurler—he had all the stuff in the world, but tried to put it over every time and did not use his head.

Foster denied that the story from Pittsburgh that Bunny Hearne, the pitcher who jumped to the Pittsburgh Federals and got his unconditional release, reverted to the Giants. Hearne jumped while he was playing with Toronto as a Giant farmhand.

May Return to Brewers.

John Beall, the famous swatsmith, who was drafted from the Brewers by Cincinnati last fall, will be put on the market by Manager Herzog of the Reds in the near future, according to a telegram received from the Rhine on Tuesday. The signing of Hal Chase by the Cincy club has more than filled the Red roster, and in order to get within the limit Herzog will have to release some one, and it looks as though Homerun Jawn would be the one.

Beall, it is understood, will be offered to the Brewers, but whether the Milwaukee club will purchase his release is a question. Beall would undoubtedly strengthen the team, and it is altogether likely that President Timme would grab the big outfielder if he can be obtained for a reasonable figure.

Canada Bars Cubans.

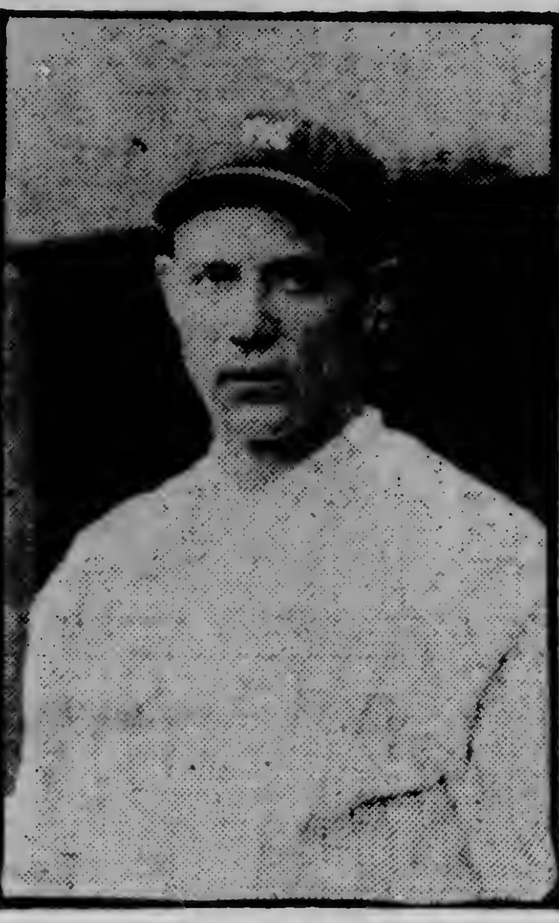
Two Cuban ball players, J. Acosta, a pitcher, and Jacques Calvo, an outfielder, have been refused permission to enter Canada to join the Vancouver club of the Northwest league because they lack passports from the Cuban government. Appeal has been made to the Canadian immigration department at Ottawa, it was announced today, to overrule the decision of the Vancouver authorities. Acosta played with a semi-professional team in the East last year.

Bluhm Is Favorite.

Harvey ("Red") Bluhm, former Duluth White Sox first baseman, is making good like a house afire in the Southern league. Speaking of him, the New Orleans Times says:

"Bluhm, the sensational fielding first baseman of the Southern league for several seasons, was given opposition for the initial sack for a while this spring by Miller, but the latter could not compete against him. He has been with the Pels three years. He finished the 1915 season with a fielding average of .987, hitting at a clip of .293."

CLEVER THIRD BASEMAN SENT TO OUTFIELD



FRITZ MAISEL.

Fritz Maisel, who played third for the Yankees last year, is out in center now, Frank Baker having taken his place on the third bag. There is going to be keen competition between Maisel and Baker in batting this year. Baker got a good start on the opening day by making two hits, while Maisel failed to score one.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants Win at Home.

New York, April 21.—New York Nationals opened their home season yesterday before a large crowd, losing to the Philadelphia champions in an exciting twelve-inning game, 7 to 6. The visitors bunched hits and drives in the second and fifth innings when they made eight hits for six earned runs. The Giants also bunched eight hits in the second and sixth innings, scoring six runs and driving Chalmers from the game. From then on came a pitchers duel between Palmero for New York and McQuillen. The Philadelphia team won in the twelfth inning on Paskert's double and Cravath's single. The all round playing of Kauff, former Federal league batting champion, featured. Score: R. H. E.

New York .....030 003 000 000—6 11 0

Batteries—Chalmers, McQuillen and E. Burns; Stroud, Palmero and Rariden.

Saier Saves the Game.

Chicago, April 21.—A slashing single by Victor Saier sent over the run yesterday that gave Chicago its opening game on the North side grounds in an eleven-inning battle with Cincinnati, 7 to 6.

Thirty men took part in the contest, seventeen Cubs and thirteen Reds, and the last few innings saw pinch hitters and pitchers changed about two to the round. Each side used four pitchers. The Cubs went into the eighth, three runs behind and counted two. In the ninth inning, hits by Flack and Zimmerman, tied the score, and Williams double and Saier's timely single made after Schulz purposely passed Zimmerman, scored the winning run in the eleventh. The game was a lively exhibition of batting by both teams. Fischer led for Chicago with four hits and was robbed of a fifth by a spectacular one-handed catch by Griffith. Beall's home run in the sixth was his third hit and put Cincinnati in the lead.

A crowd that overflowed into the field saw the game, and included August Hermann and other followers of the Feds. Score: R. H. E.

Braves Shut Out Dodgers.

Boston, Mass., April 21.—The Boston Nationals opened their season at Braves field yesterday with an 8 to 0 victory over Brooklyn. The Harvard college class of 1899 of which President P. D. Haughton was a member, attended in a body and gave him a floral piece. The game was an exhibition of remarkable fielding by the Boston team, and of good pitching promise by Barnes, a youngster. Cutshaw, the Brooklyn second baseman, made three successive errors in the second inning, letting two grounders by him and throwing wildly to the plate. Boston batted Coombs hard in connection with passes and gained an early lead. Score: R. H. E.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Tigers Nose Out Victory.

Detroit, Mich., April 21.—Hellmann's two-base drive into the crowd in left field sent Veach home in the ninth inning with the run that gave Detroit a 2-to-1 victory over Chicago in the first home game of the season. After two were out in Chicago's half of the eighth, Felsch knocked the ball over the left field fence for the White Sox's only run. Opening the ninth for Detroit, Vitt singled, advanced on Cobb's out and scored on Veach's single. Veach went to second on the throwin and then came Hellmann's hit. Covaleskie pitched great ball until the eighth and Wolfgang never was in danger until the final inning. Score: R. H. E.

Yankees Get Trimming.

Washington, April 21.—Washington defeated New York 12 to 4 yesterday in the first game of the season here. President Wilson tossed out the first ball, kept his own score, and stayed until the last player was put out. More than 12,000 persons saw the game. Both Keating and Love were hammered hard, Washington scoring in every inning but the third. Johnson loafed after the third inning, the visitors' runs practically being gifts. Score: R. H. E.

Boston Wins Easily.

Philadelphia, April 21.—Boston had an easy time winning the opening game of the American league season here yesterday, the score being 7 to 1. Bad fielding by Oldring, who made a fumble and misjudged a fly by Shotten in the first inning, gave Boston a lead of four runs. Ruth had no difficulty in preventing the home team from scoring, except in one inning. Score: R. H. E.

Hoosiers Defeat Saints.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 21.—Playing in the rain, Indianapolis won its first game of the season, defeating St. Paul 3 to 1. Two Indianapolis runs were scored after Third Baseman Smith missed a chance to retire the side. Three fast double plays by the locals helped Carter out of ticklish situations. Score: R. H. E.

St. Paul ....0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 7 2

YALE LUCK ON DECK.

Philadelphia, April 21.—Yale won the choice of position for the varsity and junior races which would be rowed against the University of Pennsylvania here Saturday. Captain Low called the turn in both tosses of the coin here yesterday. The Yale leader chose the outside course for both races.

The visiting oarsmen had a two-mile workout yesterday morning and late in the afternoon went over the mile and a half course in fast time. The Pennsylvania crews also took their customary spin on the Schuylkill.

BURMEISTER BREAKS LEG WHILE CRANKING AUTO

Duluth baseball fans learned with regret today that John Burmeister of Minneapolis, president of the Northern Baseball league, broke his leg in three places yesterday while cranking his automobile in the Mill City. The fractures are serious and will, undoubtedly, confine the league head to his bed for several weeks.

Mr. Burmeister intended to come to Duluth on May 4 to be present at the Superior-Duluth game which will open the league season at the Head of the Lakes.

SOX TAKE TO INDOOR WORK

Duluth, Superior and Virginia Ball Teams Rain and Snow Bound.

Spring Training in North Country Has Proven a Huge Fizzle.

Just what will be the condition of the Northern league baseball teams when they answer the opening bell on May 4 is a problem that fans all over the circuit are figuring on. This is the first year that the teams have foregone the benefits of a spring training trip. It was believed that conditioning of the players could be perfected right at home, and this was attempted.

Spring weather in the North is great for physicians and the drug stores, but not for ball players. History repeats itself every season as regards the stability of the spring atmosphere in this league. Each spring it rains, snows and blows.

Superior, Duluth and Virginia, the three cities on this side of the wheel that have Northern league teams, have been in the throes of a wild rain, snow and wind storm for three days, and at noon today there is no sign of abatement. It is safe to say there will be no outdoor baseball in this section until next week at least.

In the hope of giving his men some work that might help their physical condition, Darby O'Brien has encamped his White Sox recruits in the old armory building, corner of Second avenue east and First street, where indoor ball is being played each afternoon. Throwing the medicine ball is another feature of the training. This form of exercise is great for prize fighters, wrestlers and weight-lifters, but not very valuable for athletes who throw a baseball.

All of the Sox pitchers are warming up daily in the armory, and each reports that his arm feels great. Easy work, however, is all that is being taken, as a real warm whip in weather like this is very liable to get sore and remain so indefinitely.

The Sox will continue their indoor work until there is a decided change in the weather.

NOTIFIED OF INELIGIBILITY.

Golf Association Serves Notice on Ouimet's Club.

Boston, Mass., April 21.—Formal notification that the "business activities" of Francis Ouimet, former national amateur and open golf champion; Paul Tewksbury and J. H. Sullivan, Jr., rendered them ineligible longer to compete as amateurs, was served yesterday on the Woodland Golf club, of which they are members, by H. F. Whitney, secretary of the United States Golf association. Although Tewksbury and Sullivan received personal notice of their suspension from the national body some time ago they competed Wednesday in amateur tournaments.

The executive committee of the Woodland club will be called upon to consider the matter.

NEW YORK SPORT LETTER

College Coaching System—Yale Will Have Player-Coaches Next Fall—Inter-City Revolver Scores.

New York, April 21.—Final details of the Yale football coaching system for the coming season have been completed after some months of conference and consideration, with the result that the Eli gridiron machine will make a new start next fall under the direction of experienced player-coaches. What the outcome will be only time can demonstrate. New coaches and systems are no longer a novelty at Yale and in recent years the changes have not lifted the play of the elevens to the heights reached by the teams of past decades.

The personnel of the new coaching group promises well for in Tad Jones, Mike Sweeny, Dr. Billy Bull, Arthur McBride and Clarence Olcutt, the Blue has brought together five men who know football both from the playing and coaching standpoint. With Walter Camp in an advisory capacity and William Marting as freshman coach, the circle is well rounded out and should produce results from the very beginning. Yale has the material for a representative eleven this autumn and with co-operation among the candidates, undergraduates and alumni, should prove more formidable throughout the entire season than was the case a year ago.

It must not be forgotten, however, that Harvard will have Haughton back to direct a coaching policy which is now firmly established at Cambridge and that "Speedy" Rush at Princeton is well advanced along the same lines. Eastern college football has reached the point where it is little short of complicated science and success against well developed systems cannot be achieved in a few months.

Many close observers hold to the opinion that the new group of coaches will not attempt radical changes but rather revert, to some extent, to the system in vogue before the slump of the past few years. While such changes as are necessary to bring the play up to date will, of course, be installed, the coaches are likely to go back over the past few seasons and pick up the broken threads, as Yale has had a coaching system since 1888.

Previous to that date there was no coaching policy. From 1889 to 1895 the captains did the chief coaching, advised by Walter Camp, and assisted by returning graduate players. Then ensued a period of ups and downs, during which all-season head coaches were in charge and no particular graduate was at the helm. But strong graduate support was given the captains, and Brink Thorne's and Jim Rodgers' teams won striking successes. A third period then came in, of ten years, beginning with McBride's 1899 team, during which the now traditional Yale football coaching system was developed.

Under this system the captain had full power. Generally the preceding captain was head of field coach. Camp was chief adviser, and each year everybody came back and was assigned special position-coaching to do. During this period Yale won both from Harvard and Princeton sight times, tied once, and lost twice—sixteen victories, two ties and four defeats. From 1910 to 1913, the old system wavered or was regained year by year, each captain making attempts to stem the tide of disaster due to a diversity of causes (not the least of which was the rise of stronger competitors) and trying out new coaching systems. The last two years have seen a still more radical effort made to reorganize, but without success.

Following a number of shoot-offs the final standing of the various teams in the Inter-City tournament of the United States Revolver association has been announced as follows: Class A, Olympic club of San Francisco; Class B, Boston; Class C, Rifle and Revolver Club of New York; Class D, Youngstown; Class E, Citizens club, Rochester, N. Y. Special prizes will be awarded to the Seattle and Baltimore club members for their sportsmanship in the shoot-offs where their high scores carried them from first places in lower classes into last places in higher classes, thus depriving them of all chances to win trophies in their regular classification.

The final standing in all classes, with due allowances for the results in the shoot-off of ties is as follows: Class A, matches won and lost, Olympic club, San Francisco, 16, 2; Pittsburgh, 16, 2; Spokane, 16, 2; Portland, Or., 15, 3; Class B, Boston, 14, 4; Springfield, Mass., 13, 5; Cincinnati, 12, 6; Seattle, 10, 8; Class C, Rifle and Revolver club, New York, 10, 8; St. Louis, 10, 8; Man-

The End of a Perfect Day

Eventide is one of the sweetest words in our language. To the laborer it means relief from the day's toil; to the man of affairs it means respite from the keen strife of business. It means the return to that haven of rest—the home.

To the housewife it means her hour of triumph when she may gather around her those for whom she has made home a place of contentment. The evening meal is to her an occasion of cheer. How well she has planned if a part of that meal is a bottle of

WINS BOAT RACE BY HALF SECOND

Princeton and Harvard Have Heart-Breaking Finish in Annual.

Princeton, N. J., April 21.—Princeton's varsity crew defeated Harvard's eight on Lake Carnegie late yesterday by about a half foot. The junior varsity race was won by Harvard by two lengths.

The Princeton seniors, after a spirited struggle at the start, took the lead, which they had increased to three-quarters of a length at the three-quarter mile post. Harvard moved up her stroke and gradually narrowed the distance between the two boats until they passed into the final sprint almost even. Both crews made thirty-six strokes to the minute, but the last pull was with Princeton.

Captain Cocrehan of the winning crew stroked his men beautifully. At the three-quarter mile post he had dropped his stroke to thirty, increasing it to thirty-two, thirty-four and thirty-six as the Harvard crew crept up. Lund, the veteran, who led the Harvard eight, made a magnificent spurt after the mile and a half post had been passed, and was rapidly overhauling the Princeton boat when the finish line was reached.

The Harvard juniors easily defeated the Princeton second crew, taking the lead at the start and finishing the race two and a quarter lenghts ahead. The Princeton boat was guilty of ragged work after the first mile.

Time of races:

Princeton varsity, 9:12½ seconds; Harvard, 9:13.

Harvard juniors, 9:46; Princeton, 9:55.

BOAT CREWS BACK IN GYM

Heavy Weather Forces Oarsmen to Desert Work on the Bay.

Secretary Ames Opens Offices in Board of Trade Building.

Since old man Pluvius started on a rampage with his celebrated sprinkling can, Secretary Albert Ames and Coach E. H. Ten Eyck of the Duluth Boat club have been forced to take to shelter. The recruits for the various crews that will represent Duluth at the national regatta to be held here next August, had begun work on the bay when the storm broke and they had to call off outdoor work and return to the Y. M. C. A. gym to prosecute further conditioning.

To better handle the immense amount of work which will devolve upon his office from now until the date of the regatta, Secretary Ames has taken up his headquarters in the Barnes-Ames suite of rooms in the Board of Trade building. All of the publicity work will be done there.

Next Monday morning Julius Barnes, guardian angel of the boat club, will arrive from New York city, when a campaign for membership will be opened, and conducted in a vigorous manner for several weeks. Little difficulty will be experienced, it is believed, in securing all of the members desired in a short space of time.

Work of remodeling the old shell house into a dormitory and refectory quarters for the members of the boat crews is going forward rapidly, and construction work on the new shell house, which will be erected on the site of the tennis courts, immediately adjacent to the main building, will begin as soon as the skies clear.

RED SOX WORKING IN OLD GYMNASIUM

Superior Team Is Nearly Intact—Catcher Erickson Signs Contract.

Members of the Red Sox Northern league team of Superior started indoor practice today in the old Superior Athletic club rooms under the United States National bank building.

Manager Brautigan says the pitchers are keeping their arms in working order. He announced that he had signed Erickson, a catcher. Erickson played semi-pro ball in Chicago last year and the year previous was with Rockford in the Wisconsin-Illinois league.

Al Swalm and Tiffany have not arrived but are expected to reach Superior late today. A catcher and a couple of other players are also expected. Those who are here now include: Pitchers, Donaldson, Heath, Smith, Burden, Bailey; catcher, Schulz; infielders, Brautigan, Ted Burgwald, Pencold; outfielders, Maloney, McGraw, Ostrum, Wilkinson.

College Baseball Thursday.

Withdraws From Contest.

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—Washington university will not be represented in the relay games at Drake university, Des Moines, Iowa, next Saturday, it is announced. Bad weather of the last few days, has so interfered with training that Coach Edmunds decided to withdraw his entries.

Leonard Outfights Bloom.

New York, April 21.—Bennie Leonard of this city, outfought Phil Bloom of Brooklyn in a 10-round bout here last night. Leonard weighed 136 pounds and Bloom 134½.

Magee Breaks Wrist.

Boston, Mass., April 21.—An X-ray examination of Sherwood Magee's left forearm showed that the Boston National's left fielder suffered a wrist fracture in the game Wednesday at Philadelphia. Magee was hit by a ball pitched by Bender in the ninth inning, but the seriousness of the injury was not discovered until yesterday. He will be out of the game for at least a month.

ACTIVITIES OF VON DER GOLTZ MADE PUBLIC

London, April 21.—The government last night issued a lengthy sworn statement by Horst von der Goltz, the secret agent of the German government who is now in the United States in custody, giving full details of his activity in America.

The statement bristles with dates and names of places, and of persons associated with him. The government prefaces it with a memorandum relating to von der Goltz's identity and the manner of his arrest in England. The memorandum says that when von der Goltz was shown a check signed by von Papen, the former military attache of the German embassy at Washington, which had been seized at Falmouth, he admitted his indorsement, and asked to be allowed to make a voluntary statement. He was thereupon given writing materials and spent the night of Jan. 31 in compiling a statement to which he afterward swore.

PEACE PACT WITH DRIVERS

Commissioner Silberstein Changes His Mind on Jitney Ordinance.

"Gentlemen's Agreement" Arranged Pending Supreme Court Decision.

Commissioner Silberstein's jitney ordinance is to be enforced, but—

Early in the week the commissioner said there were no "buts" about it this time, and that the ordinance was going to be enforced to the letter.

After a conference between City Attorney J. E. Samuelson and Attorney A. E. McManus for the jitneurs, yesterday afternoon, the announcement went forth that a "peace" pact had been signed, and that the enforcement plan was off temporarily.

Drivers of jitney buses will not be required to file an indemnity bond, or to purchase a license from the city, but they are under a "gentlemen's agreement" to observe all other provisions of the ordinance.

When he revoked his order to the police, telling them to halt any war on the jitneys they might have been considering, he explained the case.

Await Court Decision.

"It merely means," he said, "that we shall not compel the drivers to file bonds and take out licenses until after the supreme court has passed on the validity of the ordinance.

"The drivers are not excused from violation of the provisions requiring them to carry route signs, carry only as many passengers as their machines will accommodate without crowding, etc."

This peace pact, as it is called, will be in force until the supreme court hands down a ruling in the appeal taken by the jitney men. It is set for a hearing May 10.

Drivers made an offer Monday to observe all but the bond requirements of the ordinance, pending supreme court action, but this was refused by the safety commissioner. On Tuesday the police arrested one jitneur, alleged ordinance violator, but he was released a few moments later.

BRAGDON DENIES SERIOUS CHARGES

Minneapolis, Minn., April 21.—Joseph W. Bragdon, the "Uncle Ned" of vice investigation, who was called as a witness in his own defense yesterday, branded as false the revolting stories which were told against him on the stand.

Bragdon sketched briefly the story of his life, admitted having taken various girls in the case on automobile rides during 1913, and denied emphatically and in detail the stories of two of those girls, that liberties were taken with them on these rides.

Bragdon testified that he had all his life taken an active interest in charitable work, especially in the interest of juveniles, and that he had innocently taken young girls riding in his car.

Through the principal witness for the state known as Marjorie, he met two girls known as Irene and Ellen. He was introduced to them as "Uncle Ned," but denied that he had ever adopted any nieces.

Took Girls to Carnival.

He admitted taking the three girls to a carnival on Lake street in May, 1913, and also admitted taking them to the vicinity of Minnehaha Falls in August, 1913, along with a girl known as Della. He flatly denied the story of Della the 12-year-old witness for the state, who said that, while on the Minnehaha trip, Bragdon had left the automobile standing by the roadside and carrying a blanket had taken the two older girls one at a time into the woods some distance from the car and remained there some considerable time.

Bragdon said that alone he had gone into the woods a short distance from the car. While he was gone, no less than eight automobiles passed his machine which was standing by the side of the road. When he returned the girls were engaged in picking flowers. He said that on all his trips, with the girls, nothing of a questionable nature had occurred.

TO ALLOW UNITED STATES DYESTUFFS

Germany Will Permit the Exportation of 15,000 Tons.

Washington, April 21.—The German government has agreed to permit exportation to the United States of 15,000 tons of dyestuffs, lack of which seriously has affected American textile manufacturers. Notification to this effect was contained in a note delivered yesterday by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to Secretary Lansing.

The communication explains that while Germany refused at first to permit exportation of dyestuffs unless they be exchanged for American goods now excluded from Germany by the British blockade, after careful consideration of the situation it has been seen that this blockade has resulted in serious embarrassment to those American industries which are in need of dyestuffs" and the imperial German government is prepared to make "a single exception" in permitting exportation in this instance. It is required only that the dyestuffs shall be consumed by American manufacturers and not re-exported to Great Britain or her allies.

It is expected that the state department immediately will make representations to Great Britain to insure the safe arrival of the dyestuffs in this country.

CHINESE GIRLS OFFER SERVICES AS SOLDIERS

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Hankow, March 10.—Fifteen girl students of the girls' agricultural school in Yunnan, under leadership of Miss Mou Chi-cheng, offered their services to the revolutionary government as soldiers in the ranks. Tang Chi-yao, the revolutionary leader who is directing recruiting at Yunnanfu, praised the patriotism of the young women, but refused to enlist them as soldiers. He placed them on the reserve list of the nurse corps for service when occasion requires.

MINING LAW TO BE EFFECTIVE SOON

Will Discourage Large Holdings in Mexico for Exploration.

Mexico City, April 21.—It was officially announced yesterday that Mexico's new mining law will be made effective within the next few days by a decree to be issued by General Carranza.

The most striking feature of the new law will be its discouragement of large holdings of undeveloped claims for purposes of exploration or exploitation. The present law does not limit the number of claims which may be denounced, and some of the larger mining companies have as many as 1,500, each claim representing two-fourteenths of an acre.

The present government believes that denouncements of excessive size in the case of precious metals to be detrimental to its interests and it is expected that it consequently will put what is believed to be a prohibitory tax on such holdings.

The new schedule of taxes for regions bearing precious metals will be based on minimum and maximum holdings. The first clan will represent the small mine owners holding ten or less claims, who will be called upon to pay an annual tax of $6 Mexican gold for each claim. The second clan represents the average company holding from ten to fifty claims, from which an annual tax of $12 Mexican gold on each claim will be collected. The third clan represents the large companies holding fifty to 100 claims, for which the new law provides a tax of $18 a claim, only in Mexican gold. Larger holdings than this being against the wish of the government, it will collect an annual tax of $24 Mexican gold, for each claim on all over 100 claims.

Divided As to Merits.

Mining men are divided in opinion as to the merits of the new law. Many pronounce it eminently fair, and say they will pay the tax at pleasure. Others declare that thousands of claims now held by foreign corporations will be given up and that as a consequence the government will lose a large amount of revenue, and that the mining industry which is by far the most important in the country, will receive a serious setback.

It is estimated here that the foreign holdings affected by the law are valued at more than $1,000,000,000 in gold, the bulk of the holdings being American, with large British, French and Belgian properties. The new law also will increase the export tax on bullion from 7½ to 10 per cent.

The law will extend more liberal treatment to holdings in non-precious metals, the minimum clan allowing fifty claims of two and a half acres each, the medium clan 100 claims and the maximum 200 claims. Holdings above this amount will be considered undesirable by the government.

AMERICAN TEACHERS OF JOURNALISM MEET

Lawrence, Kan., April 21.—Teachers of journalism from forty-two universities assembled at the University of Kansas today for the annual convention of the Association of American Teachers of Journalism. The conference will remain in session today and tomorrow. Merle Thorpe, president of the association, in his opening address characterized the development of journalism teaching in universities as remarkable in the annals of American education.

RIVERS ARE RISING AROUND FLOODWOOD

Floodwood, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. A. Perrine, who has the contract to construct the one mile of State Highway No. 4, across Aitkin county, reports the work will be completed within a very short time. Only several culverts are to be put in and the approaches to the railroad crossing to be built. Ditching and most of the surfacing has been completed, and those who went over this piece of road say Mr. Perrine has done a good job on it. With the completion of this short stretch of road, Duluth automobilists will be able to go through to Grand Rapids via Floodwood and return via Hibbing and Virginia.

The state highway east of Floodwood is in frightful condition now. County Commissioner Kauppi has several teams and men working on this highway west of Floodwood, repairing a bad washout which occurred last week. The Savanna and Floodwood rivers are rapidly rising every day, and water got into several houses already. The bridges across these streams are guarded by members of the village council, as they are liable to be carried away any time. Several school wagons failed to bring pupils to school on account of washouts in the roads.

Guaranteed raincoats only $5. "3 Winners" removal sale.

MAIL CARRIER AND SLED THROUGH ICE

Warroad, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jess Ramstad, while carrying the south shore mail, broke through the ice, Wednesday about a mile from the mouth of the Warroad river. Mr. Ramsted had a hand sled loaded with mail and when he went through the sleigh piled on top of him. He had a narrow escape from drowning.

The Warroad river has set new high water marks far above any previous time, and considerable damage has been done.

MILLIONS MORE IN PAYROLLS

Increase Includes Minnesota and Oliver Employes, Says House.

Iron Range Road Will Move 11,000,000 Tons This Season.

The 10 per cent increase in wages announced by the United States Steel corporation at its recent annual meeting to go into effect on May 1 will result in the disbursement of $16,000,000 to $20,000,000 additional annually, and that action is regarded as reflecting the prosperity at present existing in trade, according to F. H. House, president of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, who returned from New York today.

Employes of the Minnesota Steel company and of the Oliver Iron Mining company will be benefited materially in the addition to their pay envelopes. The men engaged upon the corporation's two railroads will not participate, he averred.

"As a general proposition, everyone at our meetings appeared to be optimistic regarding the prospects of the iron and steel trade during the present year, and hopes are entertained that the present activity will continue for some time ahead," said Mr. House. "Arrangements have been made for large productions by every subsidiary of the Steel corporation, and it looks as if the iron range districts are going to share in the general prosperity.

"The estimates now are that over 11,000,000 tons of ore will be handled at the Duluth & Iron Range docks at Two Harbors during the present season, as compared with 8,700,000 tons last year."

The overhauling of No. 6 dock there has been completed, he said, and the hauling of ore to it from some of the mines has begun. The old hand spouts have been replaced by electrically operated hoists, and the pockets have been rearranged so as to admit of the more rapid handling of ore. No. 2 dock is being rebuilt at a heavy outlay, and it is unlikely that it will be ready to operate before the end of the present season.

More than 1,800 men are likely to be employed by the Duluth & Iron Range railroad in its various departments at Two Harbors this season, meaning the disbursement of a heavy payroll at that point, Mr. House said.

MAIL CARRIER FINDS BODY

Autopsy Will Be Held By Coroner to Learn Cause of Death.

Handkerchief Marked "T. J." and Memorandum Book Give Clews.

When a mail carrier was driving along the Howard-Gnesen road about five miles north of the Catholic cemetery last night, he discovered the body of a young man, which police have been unable to identify.

Partially clothed and showing indications that life had been exttinct for at least a month, and probably three or four months, the body was lying but a few feet from the highway, which is heavily traveled.

Foul play theories have not been given much consideration by police, who believe that the man was overcome in one of last winter's blizzards and died before he could reach any of the neighboring farmhouses.

Coroner C. F. McComb, with Police Chief R. D. McKercher and Sergt. John Englert, made a trip to the spot where the body was found, this morning. After a short investigation, undertakers took charge of the body. An autopsy will be held this afternoon or tomorrow, although Coroner McComb believes heart failure was the cause of death.

The laundry marks "T. J." on a handkerchief may prove the only means of identification, although police think they will be able to find someone who will recognize the dead man. In his pocket was found a memorandum book issued by the Farmers' State Bank of Denham, Minn.

He wore a black mackinaw and a black sweater, and probably was between 28 and 33 years of age. He was about 6 feet tall, with black hair and a dark complexion. A black hat, black trousers and black shoes also were worn. He was heavily built.

GRAND FORKS MAN IS POOR TRAVELER

Grand Forks, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. P. Braseth, 76 years old, and for thirty-four years a resident of Grand Forks, did not leave this city for twenty years until this week, when he went to Fargo to visit his daughter, Mrs. M. J. Ohlin. On numerous occasions, Mrs. Ohlin endeavored to have her father visit her in Fargo, but he declared that inasmuch as she came to Grand Forks several times each year there was no need of him going to her home city.

CASS LAKE SHORE PROPERTY OFFERED

Many Choice Building Sites Along Lake to Be Sold.

Cass Lake, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The increasing demand for lake shore property here has led to a movement among the people interested in the development of the summer business to place on the market some choice shore property. Hartley's Point will be platted this spring and the lots will be sold only to people who will build summer homes and occupy them. The Sunset Bay location will be another point of interest this summer and the owner, Frank Suitor, is planning a number of improvements. The Commercial club has decided to offer for sale the shoreline part of the park purchased two years ago from an Indian, reserving a sufficient roadway to the lake.

Park Beautifully Situated.

The park is beautifully situated about twenty-eight feet above the lake with a 300-foot wide level lake plain in front. This location will be desirable to people who prefer to be on the main land and near town. There will be about twelve or thirteen lots and reservations are already being made. On account of the many golf players who spend the summer in Cass Lake, the need of a golf course has been keenly felt and the local golf enthusiasts are doing much toward securing a location for one. One or two locations in the National park are under consideration.

ASHLANDITE VERY ILL.

Fred O. Tarbox, Former Railroad and Steamboat Man, Has Stroke.

Ashland, Wis., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred O. Tarbox, one of the best known men in Northern Wisconsin, was stricken with apoplexy at his home here Wednesday night, and has been unconscious since, and a fatal termination is expected. Mr. Tarbox was formerly a train dispatcher, but became division superintendent, and on his resignation in 1904 he was the guest of honor at a largely attended meeting of railroad men from all parts of Wisconsin, State Senator Dan Rierdon of Eagle River making the presentation speech of a watch, given by the railroad men. Mr. Tarbox was the nominee of the stalwart or Spooner ticket, for state railroad commissioner of Wisconsin in 1904, but was defeated with the rest of his ticket, following the ruling of the supreme court against the regularity of his ticket. Mr. Tarbox organized the Chequamegon Bay Transportation company and became its president, operating the steamer Skater, formerly a Cleveland passenger boat, between Ashland and the Apostle islands. The steamer Chequamegon, first operated by the company, now runs between Milwaukee and Whitefish Bay. Three years ago Mr. Tarbox, with Gus Johnson, opened the new Majestic theater here, running it until recently. With A. A. McDonnell he has been in the retail coal business for several years.

AUTO CLUB PLANS SOCIABILITY TOURS

Runs Will Be Arranged to and From Range and Twin Cities.

Plans for sociability tours from the Twin Cities to Duluth and from this city to the range towns, extensive road improvements throughout Northern Minnesota and a city-wide membership campaign were made at a meeting of the Duluth Automobile club held last evening at the Commercial club.

Negotiations will be begun at once with officials of the Minneapolis and St. Paul automobile clubs, it was decided, and arrangements made to hold these sociability tours during the coming summer months. If they are successful, similar tours will be arranged with the automobile clubs on the range and social runs staged to and from this city.

As soon as road travel is possible, officials of the local club plan to take a trip over all the main highways leading out of Duluth for the purpose of obtaining a complete report on road conditions. A special effort will also be made to improve several stretches along the Duluth-Twin City highway.

An extensive membership campaign will be started about May 1, according to the plans made last evening.

Dr. J. D. Park, president of the club, presided at the meeting last evening. He left this afternoon for Philadelphia, where he will visit for about a week. On his return to Duluth the membership campaign will begin.

"COPS" PUT THROUGH MILITARY STEPS

Bluecoats Make Excellent Showing in Drill Under Sergt. Gasper.

"Column right, 'arch!" Forty odd bluecoats swung into column formation and started around the drill floor of the armory, Thirteenth avenue east and London road, yesterday afternoon.

It was the first time since the weekly drills for policemen began that a military man was in charge of affairs, and Sergt. Albert Gasper of Company C, Third Infantry, M. N. G., gave the "cops" a thorough workout.

For more than an hour the bluecoats marched and counter-marched at the bidding of Sergt. Gasper, and when the troop was turned over to Detective E. H. Barber, who is the regular drillmaster, they had made an excellent impression.

"We'll soon be able to show the militiamen what we police 'rookies' can do in the way of drill," said Detective Barber in the report he made to Chief R. D. McKercher.

It was the best turnout since the Thursday afternoon drills began, he said.

LONG WRANGLE OVER BRIDGE APPROACH ENDS

Secretary of War Approves Plan Favored By Duluthians.

Only One Superior Faction Held Out Against Compromise.

Will Mean Early Construction of Fond du Lac Bridge.

Eight years ago congress granted the Interstate Railway company, steel corporation subsidiary, permission to construct a bridge over the St. Louis river at New Duluth.

The bill neither specified what sort of an approach should be constructed on the Minnesota side nor clearly defined the obligations of the steel corporation in the matter of constructing a highway leading to the approaches.

Duluth and Superior interests failed to agree on what should be required in the way of an approach to the bridge from the Minnesota side and there began a quarrel which lasted for eight years. The end of the long and bitter controversy came yesterday afternoon when it was announced that a compromise plan which had been agreed upon had been approved by Secretary of War Baker.

Numerous hearings on the bridge approach controversy have been held in Washington and the subject has been one which has furnished many bitter disputes. The matter has been reviewed by the chief of army engineers, the judge-advocate general, the interstate and foreign commerce committees of the lower house of congress and finally by Secretary of War Baker.

Hearing By Kingman.

About a month ago, Gen. Kingman, chief of the army engineers, conducted a hearing which was attended by City Engineer Lyonel Ayres of Duluth, Col. H. V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club; W. A. McGonagle, president of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company, and those representing Superior interests, at which the plan known as plan "D" for completing the approach and highway to the bridge was practically agreed upon by all of the Duluth and Superior interests, except those represented by Attorney John Brennan of Superior.

Plan "D" was one of the plans approved by Maj. E. D. Peek, United States army engineer stationed in Duluth, as meeting the requirements of the original bridge bill passed by congress. This plan was finally approved by the chief of army engineers, the judge-advocate general and by Congressman Lenroot of Superior and Congressman Clarence B. Miller of Duluth as satisfactory to their constituents.

Senators Object.

The plan went to Secretary of War Baker for final approval. Senators La Follette and Hustings of Wisconsin appeared before Secretary Baker and obtained a further hearing on the matter, which took place on April 8. Congressman Miller of this city also appeared at the hearing on behalf of the Duluth interests and contended strongly for the secretary's sanction of the plan as finally approved by the chief of army engineers.

Late yesterday afternoon Secretary of War Baker signed an order giving his final approval to plan "D," which ends the long and bitter controversy as to what sort of an approach and highway was required by the original bridge bill passed by congress in 1908. The bill simply required that the Interstate Transfer Railway company should maintain the bridge with suitable approaches for public travel.

Plan "D."

Plan "D" requires that the steel trestle running from the bridge westerly for about a quarter of a mile shall be planked for public travel on the lower deck, and that at the westerly end of this trestle a ramp shall extend down to the level of the ground, where a standard roadway shall be graded and improved over to the Northern Pacific Fond du Lac branch, which will be crossed by an overhead bridge. From this point the highway will extend to McCuen street in New Duluth. The city of Duluth established this highway as a public street late in 1915.

This adjustment of the controversy as to where the highway should run and connect with Duluth streets is understood to be entirely satisfactory to the city officials of Duluth. It is probable that work will be commenced at once by the steel company to construct the highway and open the bridge to public travel.

Have Traction Franchise.

It is probable that the controversy between Superior and Duluth interests over this bridge matter would have been adjusted a number of months ago had it not been for the opposition made by Attorney John Brennan and associates from Superior, who, it was admitted at the hearings, had a street railway franchise from the township of Superior extending to the Wisconsin end of the steel company's bridge.

Mr. Brennan's plan demanded that the steel company should extend the highway parallel with that company's railway tracks from the end of the steel trestle on the Minnesota side clear over to the Minnesoaa Steel company's plant. This would necessitate the construction of a roadway on the company's railroad right-of-way for more than a half a mile farther than the plan which has been adopted. By this plan it would be possible to obtain an entrance into the city of Duluth and to the steel company's grounds without making it necessary to obtain a franchise from the city of Duluth.

Fond du Lac Bridge.

The settlement of this controversy will be of much interest to people in West Duluth and to county officials who have been working for the passage of a bill through congress permitting the county of St. Louis to construct a steel bridge over the St. Louis river at Fond du Lac, connecting with the old military road running to Wrenshall. The opposition of Congressman Lenroot and his friends in congress has prevented the passage of this bill, but it is understood that with the approval of the plan for completing the bridge at New Duluth that Congressman Lenroot will now co-operate with Congressman Miller in getting an early passage of the Fond du Lac bridge bill.

If this bill is passed this season it is probable that the county commissioners of St. Louis county will provide for the construction of a suitable steel bridge with approaches across the St. Louis river at Fond du Lac as a part of its 1917 road budget, if not before.

HIGHWAY WILL BE IMPROVED SOON

Quick Action Is Proposed on Road Leading to Proctor.

The Proctor road between Bay View Heights and the Proctor village will be the first thoroughfare out of the city to be placed in condition as soon as the weather permits, according to Commissioners Charles Kauppi of the Fifth district and W. A. Swanstrom of the Third district. This road has been out of commission and impassable for nearly a week.

The commissioners propose to spend about $9,000 on the highway. This will include filling in spots that have been washed out, as well as graveling the entire roadway. In places the road is boggy and it is probable that piles will be driven and heavy stone and concrete used in making it solid.

Traffic between West Duluth and Proctor has been virtually suspended since last Saturday. During the last two days no vehicles have attempted to go over the road. Up to yesterday morning the bus which has been carrying passengers between the points attempted to operate on schedule, but had to give up.

Autos that attempted to go over the road yesterday became stuck in the mud, the wheels in many instances sinking over the hubs. Teams had to be used to haul automobiles out, and in some cases the heavier machines had to be abandoned.

The worst part of the roadway is said to be a few hundred feet west of the old incline power station and near the vicinity of the water tank, situated about half way between the power station and Proctor. These places are said to be a sea of deep mud.

The money will be spent in completing the Getchell road from its connection with the end of the Highland street paving to the junction of the Proctor road, and the Proctor road into the village. Commissioner Swanstrom will furnish $4,100 from his district's appropriation, Commissioner Kauppi $1,900 and the sum of $3,000 is to be furnished by Commissioner J. A. Farrell from the city funds.

Van Tips Into Bay.

A heavy dray belonging to the West Duluth Transfer company tipped over and went into the bay while crossing a narrow strip of land between Oneota street and the Duluth-Superior Dredging company's dock at Forty-fifth avenue west this morning. The wagon had been driven off the road slightly and when the wheels struck the soft part of the roadway it sagged. The driver and horses did not go in.

Early Morning Service.

Young people's societies and Christian Endeavor organizations of West Duluth churches will join in an early Easter morning service to be held at 6:10 o'clock at the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street, Sunday morning. The societies of the Westminster, Hazelwood, West Duluth Baptist, Asbury M. E., Swedish Mission and Swedish Baptist churches will take part.

Mrs. Byron W. Brooks will preside. The program will include a vocal duet by Misses Edith and Lillian Lundin, accompanied by Mrs. K. A. Lundin, and selections by the Asbury quartet, accompanied by Miss Mildred McLyman.

W. C. T. U. WILL HELP IN "DRY" FIGHT

Temperance Union Will Co-operate With Other Organizations.

The West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union will co-operate with other temperance organizations and the central committee in the campaign this spring to make Duluth "dry." The action was taken yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the society held at the West Duluth public library.

Interesting papers on the effects of prohibition were read by Mrs. C. R. Keyes and Mrs. B. H. Smith. The subject under discussion was "Labor Conditions." The papers read by the leaders showed that in dry communities labor conditions had fared better under prohibition than in other communities.

Mrs. Smith stated in her paper that all business had prospered in "dry" Kansas, and that people in general throughout the state were well off financially.

SPINAL MENINGITIS ATTACK.

One Child Dies, Two Others in Same Family Afflicted.

Theodore, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Reneaud of Proctor, died at 3 o'clock this morning from spinal meningitis. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock with interment in Calvary cemetery.

Two other children in the Reneaud home are seriously ill with the same disease, and the father expressed fear for their recovery. There were eight children in the family.

Close Revival Services.

The closing meeting of a series of revival services which has been held during the last two weeks, will take place this evening at the Bethany Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Sixty-fifth avenue west and Polk street. The speakers tonight will be Rev. K. A. Lundin, pastor of the Third Swedish Baptist church; Rev. G. O. Haugland of Canby, Minn., and Ensign Benson of the Scandinavian Salvation Army. A special musical program has also been planned for this evening.

New Directors Organize.

The newly elected school board for the village of Proctor organized at a meeting held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. building.

P. J. Paulu was elected president; C. O. Ellefson, vice president; H. J. Barncard, secretary, and Le Grand Pace, treasurer. Little but routine business was taken up. Another meeting will be held within a short time, when the books of the old board will be turned over after auditing.

TROUT FRY COMING.

West Duluth Fishermen Will Take Charge of Shipment.

A consignment of brook trout fry will be received by West Duluth fishermen this evening from the Minnesota game and fish commission. The train will be met by a number of West Duluthians, who will take the fry at once to nearby streams, where the cans will be emptied.

Dr. E. W. F. Boerner received word this morning from the commission requesting that the train be met. Among those who will assist in distributing the fry will be Emil J. Zauft, Dr. W. E. Judson, Frank M. Ashley, Ed Roach, William Nettleton and several others.

Requests for trout fry for restocking streams in this vicinity were sent in several weeks ago. Consignments to other points on the range and Proctor will also be on this train.

Win Bowling Title.

By winning by a total score of 2,463 to 2,346 last night on the Zenith alleys the T. B. bowling team claims the championship of West Duluth. High scores of 204 and 205, respectively, were made by M. Engberg of the T. B. team.

The score follows:

Will Build Garage.

M. J. Filiatrault will begin the construction of a garage building at 5407 Ramsey street early next week. The building will be of brick and cover a frontage of 25 feet with a depth of 50 feet. It will be one story high and cost about $2,500.

Burial of Fire Victim.

The funeral of Ora Howard McDonald, the 8-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lena McDonald, 320 Twenty-fourth avenue west, who died Wednesday at St. Mary's hospital, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the St. Jean Baptiste French Catholic church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery. The child died from burns received while playing several days ago around a bonfire.

West Duluth Briefs.

The final definite plans for the entertainment of guests at the annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club to be held next Thursday evening will be made at the meeting of the club this evening. A committee of the members will entertain Governor J. A. A. Burnquist during the entire day visiting various schools in West Duluth and the steel and cement plants.

Judge H. W. Lanners of the West Duluth municipal court left yesterday afternoon for a short business trip to the Twin Cities and Stillwater. He is expected to return home tomorrow evening.

Watch repairing. Hurst. West Duluth.

Mrs. R. J. Elseth, 4123 West Fourth street and Mrs. Walter Bickford, 4018 West Third street, left this afternoon to spend the week-end visiting relatives at Cloquet.

The Citizens' State bank is open for all banking business from 6 to 8 p. m. Saturdays.

The degree team of West Duluth Tent No. 2, K. O. T. M., will entertain at a dancing party to be given at the Moose hall on April 28.

R. L. Kitch of Proctor is spending Easter vacation visiting friends in Minneapolis.

Mrs. Fred Miller, 318 North Fifty-third avenue west, entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Herbert McKay. The affair was attended by ten guests. Mrs. McKay will leave tomorrow for her home in Cincinnati, Ohio.

HAVE HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF MEN

Russia Will Send Many She Cannot Use to Help France.

Marseilles, April 21.—The coming of Russian troops to the western front has been talked of by military people for two or three months. The reason as now explained is that it is easier for Russia to arm and supply fighting material to Russian troops on the western front than on the eastern.

Russia still has many hundred thousand more men under training than she can use on her fighting lines because the Russian problem continues to be not how to get men, but munitions. The allies can obviously provide complete equipment for Russians more easily in France than by shipping to Russia. Possibly a quarter of a million men will be sent into France this spring.

EMPLOYES BENEFIT BY PROSPERITY

Youngstown, Pa., Steel Concerns Increase Scale 10 Per Cent.

Following the example of the United States Steel corporation, the three leading independent steel companies in the Youngstown district, Pennsylvania, have announced an increase of 10 per cent in wages to take effect after May 1.

This will make the rate of wages of common labor of those companies $243 a day, the highest in the history of the steel industry. This action is denominated as a profit-sharing plan made possible by the war conditions prevailing in the industry. Employes of these companies, with the exception of those paid salaries, will receive each month, 10 per cent of their earnings for the previous month, and that will be continued as long as conditions warrant it.

In addition, the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company will continue its profit-sharing plan, under which its employes were paid 5 per cent of their earnings for 1915. This 5 per cent will be paid positively on the earnings for the first quarter, but the rate for the remainder of the year will depend upon the profits of the company during 1916.

Osborn Diegnan Dead.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 21.—Word reached here today of the death at Canon City, Colo., of Osborn W. Diegnan, well known throughout Iowa as a member of the volunteer crew, who accompanied Richmond P. Hobson, when he engineered the sinking of the collier Merrimac at the mouth of Santiago harbor during the Spanish-American war.

"HONEST AUGUST" CONVICTED.

Carefully Guarded Reputation for Honesty Is Beclouded.

August Anderson, 58, is a ruined man, he thinks, because he has lost a carefully guarded reputation for honesty.

Anderson has been a habitue of West Michigan street saloons for several years and is well known to police. He has never been in trouble, and although many a man has been arrested while he looked on, "Honest August" never has been caught.

Last night Nels E. Laine reported the theft of a watch and chain, value $20. It looked bad for "Honest August" and after a short investigation Patrolmen Seglem and Le Beau brought him to headquarters.

Today Judge F. H. Cutting pronounced August guilty of petit larceny and sentenced him to sixty days at the work farm.

Everywoman is Responsible for Her Husband's Efficiency and Her Children's Health

The digestive machinery rebels against all animal-fats such as lard, suet and cow-butter. A man's efficiency depends upon his digestion. So does a child's health. If their foods be prepared with indigestible fats, energy and vitality are taxed heavily to rid the system of the undigested, fermenting mass.

SAWTAY Confections for Children

SAWTAY SPREAD FOR CRACKERS, BUSCUIT OR BREAD

½ cupful of SAWTAY, 1 cupful powdered sugar, white of one egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, cream the SAWTAY and sugar, add white of egg unbeaten and the vanilla, beat together thoroughly, then spread on cracker, ginger snaps, saltines, biscuits or bread.

STUFFED DATES

Cream together 1 cup of confectioner's sugar with 2 tablespoonfuls SAWTAY. Add ¼ teaspoon vanilla and beat until a creamy consistency. Wash dates and cut the entire length, removing stones. Fill cavities with above mixture. Garnish each date with a long slice of candied cherry or a small nut.

SAWTAY FUDGE

2 sq. chocolate	1 cup milk
¼ cup Sawtay	pinch salt
2 cups sugar	1 teaspoonful vanilla

Melt chocolate and SAWTAY carefully. Add sugar, milk and salt. Stir over a low heat until sugar is completely dissolved. Then boil until a drop in cold water forms a soft ball. Remove from fire and set fudge in a pan of cold water. When bottom of pan is cold, heat until creamy. Pour on a buttered pan. Garnish with walnuts., Mark in squares.

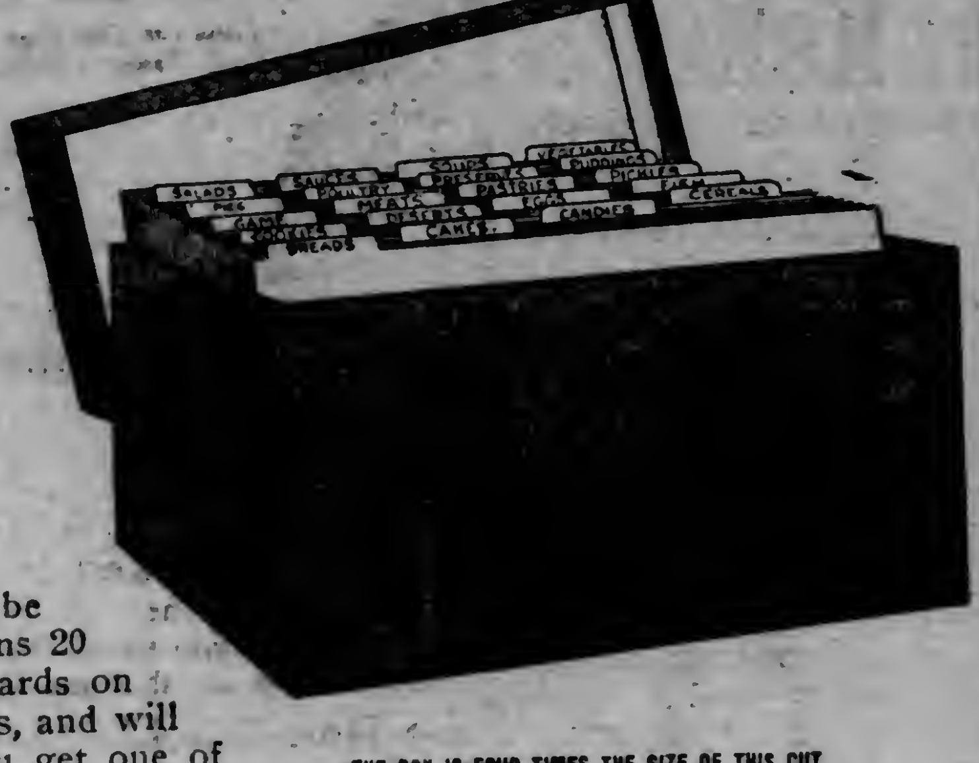
RECIPE FILE BOX FREE!



THE BOX IS FOUR TIMES THE SIZE OF THIS CUT

This file is something that should be in every modern kitchen. It contains 20 index cards and plenty of blank cards on which to paste or write your recipes, and will hold hundreds of them. When you get one of these files, cut out your favorite recipes from the various cook books, that have accumulated, and from papers, magazines, etc., paste or write them on the blank cards and file away under their proper headings. With your recipes kept in this file you can find any recipe quickly when you want it. Its daily use will save time and annoyance and make cooking a real pleasure. It is really worth your while to try Cream-O-Cereal in order to get this recipe file free. It is no cheap affair and we have already distributed thousands of them throughout the country during the past season. To duplicate it in any of the retail stores you would have to pay at least 25c, and it serves the purpose just as well as the more expensive ones you see advertised in women's magazines at $1.00 or more.

We feel so confident that Cream-O-Cereal will please you that we make this exceptional offer to induce you to try your first package. A package of 28 ounces costs but 15c and contains from 40 to 50 servings. Most grocers can supply you now. If yours cannot he can get it in a hurry.

☛ Be sure and use this coupon yourself and remind your friends to use theirs.

BUILDERS ACTIVE DURING APRIL

Present Month Expected to Rank Third in Duluth's History.

April promises to rank as Duluth's third best building month, according to figures already available in the office of Building Inspector Kielley.

Up to the close of business last night the total cost of building construction authorized since April 1 had risen to $565,000, and with ten days remaining, it is believed that the $700,000 mark will be reached before the month is gone.

The record month in the city's history was August, 1910, when the United States Steel company took out a $10,000,000 permit for the construction of the steel plant, while the second best month was in the spring of 1911, when the D., M. & N. took out a permit for its $2,000,000 concrete dock in the West end.

Plans for the boys' Y. M. C. A., the Hugo Manufacturing company's plant, and the garage at Fourth avenue east are now being examined and permits for the construction of these buildings, to cost approximately $100,000, will be issued before May 1, it was announced this morning.

From Jan. 1 of this year to 6 o'clock last evening, the cost of construction work authorized totaled $1,074,060, as compared with $679,105 for the entire first four months of last year.

SUPERIOR

"Raise" for Policemen.

Policemen of Superior will get an average raise of $5 a month, according to action taken this morning at the meeting of the city commissioners. The present maximum wage now being paid patrolmen is $85 per month. This maximum was raised to $90. Every man of the Superior force is affected by the change. The raise will be effective for the month of May.

McKinnon Reappointed.

Edward McKinnon, present member of the Wisconsin grain and warehouse commission, was reappointed for a term of three years. The announcement of the appointment by Governor Philipp was made this morning.

MUCH OF 1915 APPLE CROP IS NOT SOLD

Washington, April 21.—Much of the 1915 apple crop has not been sold, said a statement issued today by the department of agriculture, which also declared the condition of the apple market was giving growers and dealers grave concern. Thirty per cent of the apples put in cold storage by December, 1915, it said, are still waiting to be consumed.

A backward spring alone, the department explained, can start a free movement of the remainder of the crop.

RED RIVER VALLEY RAIN HAS CEASED

Crookston, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The drizzling rain ceased during the night. Snow fell five miles east of here but none fell in the Red river valley counties. There is a good drying wind today and if it continues there will be some seeding Monday.

Wilton, on the Cass Lake line, reports three inches of snow during the night in the timber country between there and Bemidji.

LUMBERMAN BUYS BAUDETTE BONDS

Baudette, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. A. Engler, president of the Engler Lumber company, bought the school bonds this week from the district. The bonds are worth $40,000.

Cloquet Man Buried.

Cloquet, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Max Bruner was held this afternoon from the church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart and interment made in the Calvary cemetery. Max Brunner has been a resident of Cloquet for the past eighteen years having been a millwright in the mills until two years ago.

OPERATORS ARE BULLISH

Higher Prices Predicted for Wheat—Seeding Operations Retarded.

Today being Good Friday there were no sessions of the Duluth board of trade or of the Boston and New York stock exchanges.

Local grain men are looking forward to an active market tomorrow, with a generally higher range of prices in wheat and oats. Considerable concern is expressed regarding the effect of the general rains over the Northwest during the last few days in retarding plowing and seeding. Fears are entertained that the preparation of the soil will be further retarded and that the area sown to wheat will be materially curtailed. Reports have been received by Duluth operators from some sections of the Red river valley, North Dakota, placing the reduction in wheat acreage at as high as 50 per cent.

In consequence of this information coming out together with discouraging news from wide areas of the winter wheat territory, it is believed in some quarters that wheat prices will be advanced 10 points on the present market movement.

Good Copper Outlook.

Brokers are optimistic regarding the outlook in mining stocks on the Boston and New York exchanges. In consequence of the high prices prevailing for copper metal, it is conceded that the earnings of the companies are enormous, and that the effect is likely to be still further reflected in quotations of the leading stocks.

*—Inches and hundredths. †—Highest yesterday, lowest last night. ‡—Not included in the averages.

NOTE—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitations from the number of stations reporting 0.10 or more.

General summary, received from Chicago: Excessive rains over Kentucky and middle and lower Ohio valley. Twenty stations exceeding one inch, much less to the north and west to include extreme Northeast Oklahoma and eastern portion of Nebraska and Kansas. Frost in Kansas and rather cool in middle states but not unseasonable. H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, April 21.—Supplies of hogs today including 8,000 left over unsold from last night, were more than buyers had need of. Cattle were scarce. Demand for sheep and lambs was only fair.

FLOODS AT FOND DU LAC

River Higher Than It Has Been in Twenty-Five Years.

Reaches Top of Dock; Pavilion Surrounded By Water.

Fond du Lac is being flooded by the St. Louis river, which is rising rapidly and which is from four to five feet above its normal level.

Reports from the western suburb are to the effect that its inhabitants are experiencing the worst flood in the last twenty-five years and it is feared that the property damage will run very high, as the waters are spreading to the fields and gardens.

Yesterday afternoon City Engineer Ayres and Otto Brownell, chief draughtsman in the works division, motored out to Fond du Lac for the purpose of investigating the reported floods and on their return last night declared that the conditions are even worse than reported. The cause of the flood, they believe, is the heavy gale backing up the waters and coming on top of the extraordinary snowfall and recent rains. An examination of the new Mission creek bridge showed that it is in fine shape and withstanding the heavy flow of water.

Late yesterday afternoon the rising water had reached the top of the public dock, while the Clow pavilion in the park is entirely surrounded by water. Several of the store basements are reported filled with the water, while the gardens and fields near the shore are fast becoming inundated.

Nothing can be done to stop the flood, according to the city engineer, who made his report to Commissioner Farrell on his return last evening. It is believed that the waters will recede as soon as the gale shifts to the west or northwest.

Some of the old residents of Fond du Lac declared yesterday that the flood is the worst in the history of the suburb, although they have experienced many in the last twenty-five or thirty years.

CROSS-EXAMINATION OF LORIMER ENDS

Chicago, April 21.—Cross-examination of William Lorimer, witness in his own defense, was concluded today and he left the stand after seven days of testifying concerning his part in the affairs of the La Salle Street Trust & Savings bank.

He is being tried on charges of conspiracy to defraud and embezzlement from the La Salle Street bank, of which he was the president.

His testimony was a denial of wrong doing and while on the witness stand he frequently contradicted the testimony of witnesses for the state. One of his principal contentions was that opposition of big bankers and the injection of political difficulties militated against the success of the La Salle Street bank.

Responsibility for some of the transactions objected to by bank examiners and the state he laid to C. P. Munday, vice president of the bank.

Closing his testimony, Mr. Lorimer told of giving sums of $50 or $100 to several depositors who appealed to him after the bank closed and they were unable to get their money.

"These people were most of them personal friends, nearly all of them were poor," said Mr. Lorimer.

FITZGERALD IS LIKELY TO SUCCEED ERICKSON

Madison, Wis., April 21.—All things indicate that when the resignation of Ralford Erickson as a member of the Wisconsin railroad commission is finally accepted that W. E. Fitzgerald, Milwaukee, will be appointed as his successor.

"Mr. Fitzgerald has been around the executive office for the last two days and it is admitted by those who know that he will probably be appointed. It is said here that the appointment would go to Senator George B. Hudnall of Superior, if he desired it, but it is declared that Senator Hudnall does not care for the position. Fitzgerald has recently made a survey of the financial conditions of the charitable and penal institutions of the state.

PRISONERS CAUGHT TRYING TO ESCAPE

La Crosse, Wis., April 21.—Harold Johnson and Jack Lloyd, who were in jail at Mauston, charged with a series of car robberies, were captured last night just as they were about to escape. The prisoners dug a hole in the wall of the county jail.

Johnson and Lloyd escaped from prison at Portage three weeks ago and after an exciting chase were caught at Elroy and taken to jail at Mauston.

WOULD GROOM OWEN TO OPPOSE PHILIPP

Madison, Wis., April 21.—A strong movement is on foot here to bring out Attorney General Walter C. Owen as a compromise candidate for governor to oppose the nomination of Governor Phillipp. It is said that the McGovern faction and the Bosshard men have been conferring and that for the sake of party harmony some third man may be selected. Another name that is frequently mentioned as a possible compromise candidate is that of Senator A. W. Sanborn of Ashland.

Wisconsin River High.

Wausau, Wis., April 21.—The Wisconsin river is just three inches below the ten-foot flood stage. Heavy rains last night and showers today increased the danger of a severe flood. Part of the railway track is flooded. Owners of property in low-lying districts are taking protective measures. There is possibility of severe damage.

Motorcycles for Game Wardens.

Madison, Wis., April 21.—Twenty-five game wardens of the state after being given two days' instructions in the operation of motorcycles, were today loaned new motorcycles by the state to be used by them on the enforcement of game laws. Before leaving for their homes they had their pictures taken in front of the capitol with their machines.

Want Universal Nine-Hour Day.

Paterson, N. J., April 21.—Announcement of a campaign for a universal nine-hour day in the silk manufacturing centers in Pennsylvania and New York was made here today by representatives of the American Federation of Labor. A nine-hour day was granted recently by most of the silk employers in Paterson.

No Official Protest Made.

Detroit, Mich., April 21.—William Livingston of Detroit, president of the Lake Carriers' association, declared today that the association had not made an official protest to Washington regarding a report that the Canadian government intended to remove sailors of belligerent nations from Great Lakes steamers touching Canadian ports. He said some vessel owners may have protested.

WOULD MARRY BUT BRIDE WAS MISSING

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Verdun, France, April 6.—The mayor of Verdun spent the early days of the bombardment in the cellars of the town hall, where he conducted official business as usual, undeterred by the roar of heavy guns and the noise of falling masonry. The mayor was assisted by seven of the municipal officials, and the chief customs agent did the cooking for the party.

The mayor's favorite story of those trying days is an incident of a would-be bridegroom and his wedding feast.

"It was on Feb. 26," says the mayor, "that a railway worker who had been mobilized in the Vosges came to us in the town hall cellar while the bombardment was proceeding at its highest pitch.

"'Well, my friend,' I asked, 'what can we do for you?'

"'I have come to get married,' he replied.

"'Married,' I asked in amazement, looking out of a grating at a cloud of dust just thrown up by a small shell.

"'Certainly,' he went on. 'The bans have been published, the date fixed for today, and I have obtained permission from the military authorities to get married. But I cannot find my fiancee.'

"We made inquiries and learned that the young woman had fled with the rest of the population. The future husband had brought a fine supply of provisions and wine for the wedding feast. As the shells continued to fall, we prevailed upon him to remain with us for three days while he shared all his good things with us."

HIGH WATER STOPS MILLS AT CLOQUET

Cloquet, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The flood situation here is no better this afternoon. None of the mills are running because of the high water in the St. Louis river. There is about twenty-nine feet of water above the dam in the Cloquet river, above here, and if the water gets much higher it may be necessary to open the gates to save the dam, which would swell the water in the St. Louis river here. It is said the river is higher here than in the memory of the oldest residents.

Cars Holding Bridge.

Water has reached the steel girders under the D. & N. E. railroad and the company has loaded the bridge with spare engines and carloads of logs to protect it from the pressure.

The northern half of Dunlap island, which is low, is almost covered with water, and some residents have moved off. Booms have been stretched across the river in front of the landings to prevent the logs from breaking out and every precaution is being taken to avoid a jam.

DENEEN DEPOSED AS PARTY LEADER

Peoria, Ill., April 21.—Former Governor Charles S. Deneen of Chicago, party leader for twelve years, was displaced by the new combination which organized the state central committee and controlled the Republican state convention.

Senator L. Y. Sherman was indorsed for president.

The convention shortly after noon organized by electing Medill McCormick of Chicago temporary chairman.

Senator Sherman, addressing the delegates, charged President Wilson with playing politics in the present submarine controversy, and said if diplomatic relations with Germany were to be broken off, it should have been done when the Lusitania was sunk.

"No matter what the exigencies of the Democratic party may be, refuse to assist in furnishing it with a battle-scarred hero as a candidate for president," Senator Sherman said.

Congressman William B. McKinley of Champaign was chosen permanent chairman of the convention.

The convention then nominated twenty-nine presidential electors.

INVESTIGATE RUMORS OF WIRELESS LEAKAGE

Chicago, April 21.—Results of a department of justice investigation into reports that contents of government wireless messages were reaching representatives of foreign governments through leakage at the wireless station at the Lake Bluff naval training school near here were forwarded to Washington today.

Hinton G. Clabaugh, chief of the local bureau of the department of justice who made the investigation, declined to say what it disclosed.

"Complaint was made," said Mr. Clabaugh, "that Hugh W. Fischer, chief clerk to the command at the training school, where the wireless is located, was living in the same house with Hugo Silvestri Austro-Hungarian consul. I did not find them living at the same house, but I cannot say more as to my investigation."

"I'm no spy," Mr. Silvestri said today. "I welcome an investigation."

Mr. Fischer denied a story that there was a telegraph instrument in his home.

ACTION ON BRANDEIS IS AGAIN POSTPONED

Washington, April 21.—For two hours today the senate judiciary committee considered the nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the supreme court without reaching a vote. The nomination will be considered further Monday.

NO CONFIRMATION OF DEATH OF VILLA

Field Headquarters of Gen. Pershing, by wireless to Columbus, N. M., April 21.—American military authorities detailed to investigate the report that the body recently disinterred at San Francisco Borja was that of Francisco Villa, reported today they were unable to obtain confirmation. No details were given which would tend to throw light on the situation.

"PREPAREDNESS" IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 21.—"Preparedness" in elementary schools, secondary schools and universities, was the subject of chief interest discussed at the third day's session of the annual convention of the American Physical Education association here today. Among those who participated in the discussion was George W. Ehler of the University of Wisconsin.

Members at large to the national council were elected as follows: C. B. Powtery of Montreal, and Edith Moodie of the University of Iowa.

Twenty Killed By Explosion.

Bordeaux, April 21.—An explosion in the powder branch of a grenade factory here today resulted in the killing of twenty persons and injury to a number of others.

Loss to University, $250,000.

Iowa City, Iowa, April 21.—Insurance adjusters who today checked over the damage done by the fire which destroyed the Iowa Union, the dormitory home of University of Iowa students, early today fixed the loss at approximately $250,000. Several of the students had narrow escapes, but none sustained severe injury.

To Be Minister to Siam.

Washington, April 21.—Joseph Morris-Meliffok, first secretary of the Russian embassy here, today received notice of his promotion to be Russian minister to Siam.

Albert L. Hazer Dead.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Albert L. Hazer, one-time prominent hotel man and a leader in fraternal circles here, died today. For the last two years he had been manager of the Elks' club.

Mr. Hazer was born at Little Falls, N. Y., Aug. 24, 1859. He came to Minneapolis in 1890.

MUCH TIMBER LOST AROUND BAUDETTE

Swollen Rivers Play Havoc With Lumbermen's Holdings.

Baudette, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—On account of the Little Fork and Rapid rivers, which have gone a rampage, the timber dealers who owned booms in the Rainy river have suffered much damage. A swift current and ice tore up the booms and scattered logs in all directions. The National Pole company, Partridge-Dyer Lumber company and B. S. Miller are heavy losers. The boom at Clementson went out, but with a great deal of work the Engler boom is still intact. Boats and launches have crews of men at work day and night, but with the swift current it is thought that much will be lost, as it will soon get to the lake. The Baudette river is open and higher than it has ever been.

PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF GUARDIAN AD LITEM—

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—ss.

District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.

Adams Mining Company,
Plaintiff,
vs.
George H. Mann, Minnie Maxfield, George B. Williams, Floyd D. Williams, Perly Williams, Fay Williams, Minnie Williams MacAdam, Roy Williams, John J. Rupp, Christian Rupp, Eva Graham Swartwout, Ella Graham, Ella Kerr Stewart, Cora Kerr Stewart, Hannah Kerr, Homer A. Day, William Kerr, Emma Cooney, Emma Tope, Jennie Profrock, Manson A. Kerr, Linnie Miles, Ada Black and all other persons unknown having or claiming an interest in the property described in the complaint herein, Defendants.

To the District Court of the Eleventh Judicial District of the State of Minnesota, in and for the County of St. Louis:

That the above entitled action has been commenced, and is now pending, in said court, for the purpose of partitioning the land described in the complaint herein; that the above named defendant, Roy Williams, is a proper party defendant in said action, and is an insane person; that said defendant, Roy Williams, has no guardian of any kind within this State, and is not a resident of or within this State, but is a resident of the State of Michigan, and is, as affiant is informed and believes, confined in the State Asylum for the Insane in the City of Pontiac, in said State.

That no appearance by or on behalf of said insane party defendant has been made in this action; that no application for the appointment of a guardian ad litem for him has been made, to the best of deponent's knowledge and belief; that summons in this action has been duly served on said defendant, and that more than twenty (20) days have elapsed since the service of the summons upon the above named defendant.

That on the 6th day of May, 1916, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, at the Court House in the City of Duluth, in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, this application will be presented to the said court, or to one of the Judges thereof, for the purpose of securing the appointment of a guardian ad litem for said insane defendant.

Affiant further deposes and says, that the subject of this action is real property in the State of Minnesota, and that said defendant claims to have an interest therein or lien thereon; that the plaintiff asks to have the same partitioned according to the respective rights or interests of the parties interested therein; or for the sale of such property, or a part thereof, if it appears that a partition cannot be had without great prejudice to the owners.

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that Arthur W. Hunter of Duluth, Minnesota, who is a competent and responsible and disinterested person, be appointed guardian ad litem for said insane defendant, Roy Williams, for the purposes of the above entitled action.

Dated April 14th, 1916.

ADAMS MINING COMPANY,
By CRASSWELLER, CRASSWELLER & BLU, Its Attorneys.

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—ss.

Arthur H. Crassweller, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

That he is one of the attorneys for the applicant above named; that he has read the foregoing petition and knows the contents thereof; that the same is true, except as to matters therein stated on information and belief, and as to such matters he believes it to be true.

ARTHUR H. CRASSWELLER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of April, 1916.

A. J. ROTH,
Notary Public,
St. Louis County, Minnesota.

My commission expires June 21, 1920.

ORDER TO EXAMINE FINAL ACCOUNT—

State of Minnesota,
County of St. Louis—ss.

In Probate Court. In the Matter of the Estate of Amanda W. Foster, Decedent.

The petition of W. S. Foster, as representative of the above named decedent, together with his final account of administration of said estate, having been filed in this court, representing, among other things that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that said final account of said administration be examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, and that the Court make and enter its final decree of distribution of the residue of the estate of said decedent to the persons entitled thereto, and for the discharge of the representative and the sureties on his bond. It is ordered, That said petition be heard, and said final account examined, adjusted, and if correct, allowed by the Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in the City of Duluth in said County, on Monday the 8th day of May, 1916, at ten o'clock A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted. Ordered further, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., April 14th, 1916.

By the Court,
S. W. GILPIN, Judge of Probate.
Attest: A. R. MORTON,
Clerk of Probate.

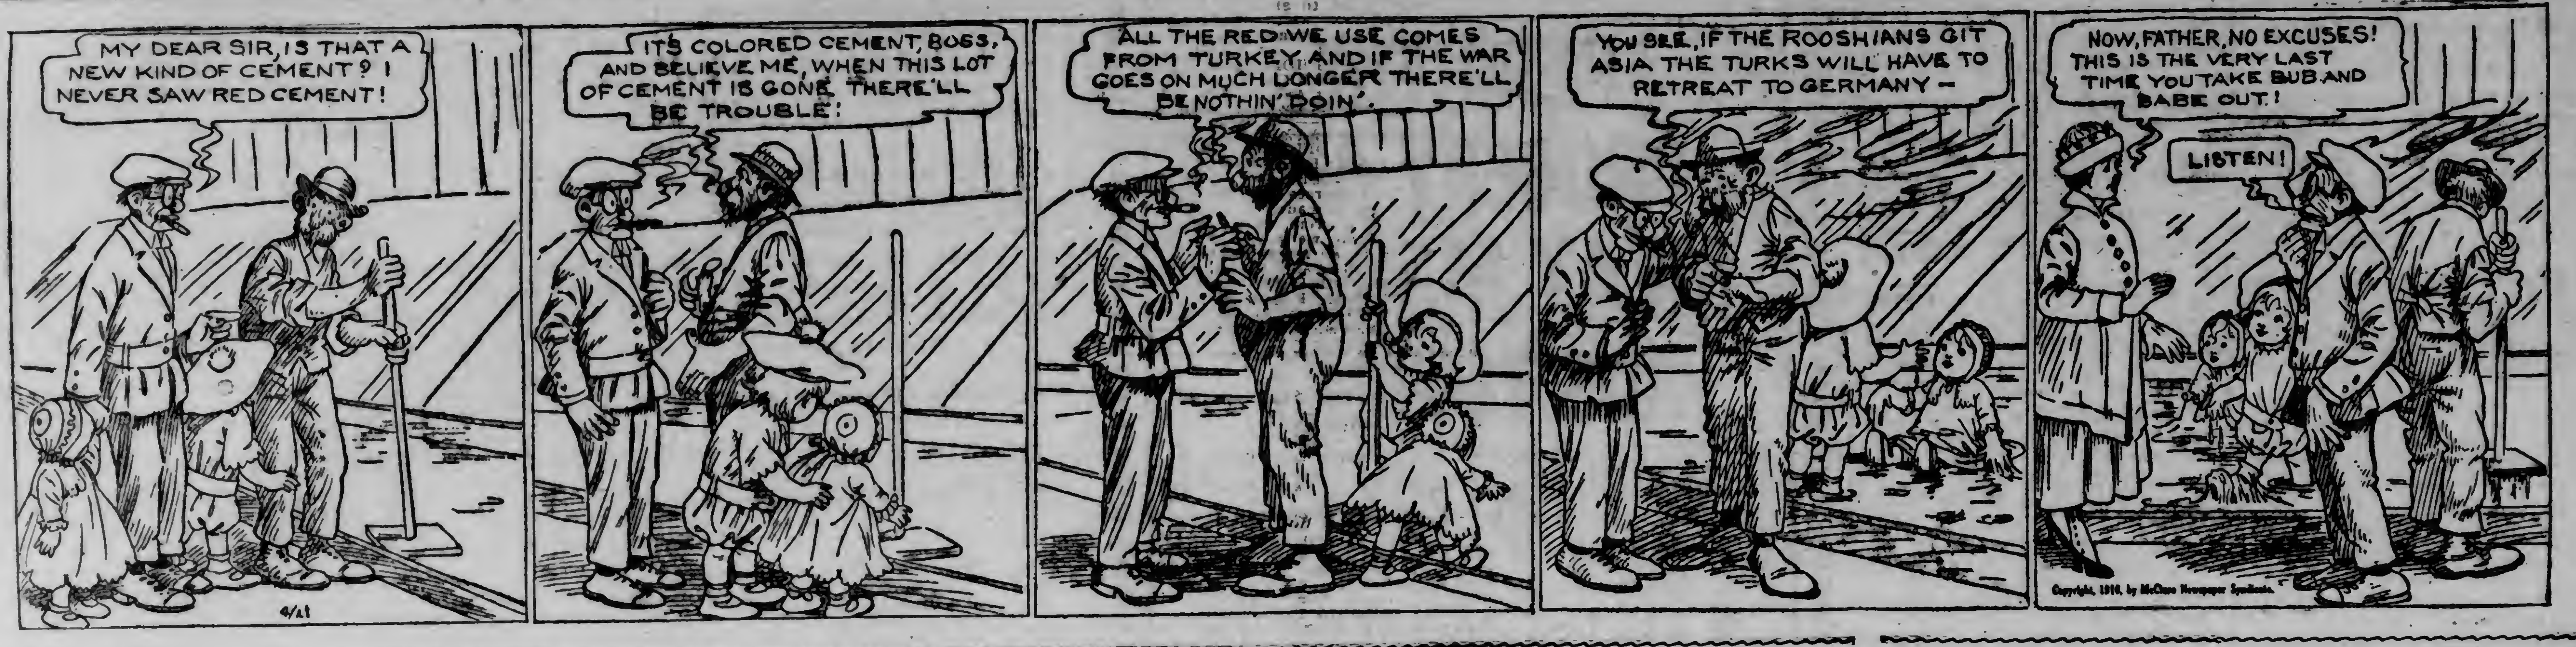
ABSENT-MINDED ABNER—He Is Expected to Be On Guard Every Minute

By Walt McDougall



MY DEAR SIR, IS THAT A NEW KIND OF CEMENT? I NEVER SAW RED CEMENT!
IT'S COLORED CEMENT, BOSS, AND BELIEVE ME, WHEN THIS LOT OF CEMENT IS GONE, THERE'LL BE TROUBLE!
ALL THE RED WE USE COMES FROM TURKEY, AND IF THE WAR GOES ON MUCH LONGER THERE'LL BE NOTHIN' DOIN'.
YOU SEE, IF THE ROOSHIANS GIT ASIA THE TURKS WILL HAVE TO RETREAT TO GERMANY—
NOW, FATHER, NO EXCUSES! THIS IS THE VERY LAST TIME YOU TAKE BUB AND BABE OUT!
LISTEN!
